

Chapter 607

Silence fell upon them.

When Chuck had entered, he saw that Elise's eyes were filled with anger, and Sophia was sighing to herself.

Both of them did not speak, and the atmosphere in the room was tense.

Chuck sat down. When he saw Sophia's expression, he raised an eyebrow.

"Chuck, what on earth do you want?" Elise couldn't help but ask him. She couldn't bear to see that kind of look in his eyes.

Especially when it was aimed towards her mother.

It was too disgusting to think about.

"What do you think?" Chuck shrugged.

"Y- you are disgusting!" Elise walked angrily towards Chuck.

Sophia sighed exasperatedly when she saw the look in his eyes.

So it had come to this!

Sophia felt sad. She was from one of the Four Greatest Households. With her power, she could get everything she wanted. However, she never thought that this day would come. How ridiculous!

Unfortunately, she was a person of her word. She would have to agree to whatever he asked for.

Alas!

Sophia felt a headache coming on.

"Are you looking for a beating again?" Chuck looked at Elise.

"So be it. Hit me as much as you'd like. But don't touch my mom, I beg you!" Elise relented.

There was no other way to deal with it.

"Are you begging me? The more you try, the more I want to. You can leave now," Chuck ordered.

Sophia had mixed feelings in her heart.

Elise hurriedly said, "Chuck, please don't. I know that you're a good person, otherwise, you wouldn't have saved me back then. But..."

"Not, I'm not a good person," Chuck cut her off coldly.

"Yes, you are," Elise pleaded. She had come to realize her own mistakes in the past few days. She shouldn't have looked down upon Chuck, and she shouldn't have kidnapped him.

She had also come to understand that it was a good thing that Chuck had saved her. Even though she was angry and disappointed when she found out that it was him, she had slowly begun to accept it. In any case, he was the one who had rescued her!

She wouldn't even be alive if Chuck had left by himself.

Even though Elise was reluctant to accept the truth, it was what had happened.

"No, I'm not," Chuck repeated himself.

"I will kneel down and do whatever you want me to. Please let my mother go," Elise said as she knelt down.

With a loud thud, her knees were already on the floor.

When Sophia saw her daughter kneeling down, she hurried over and said, "Elise, get up."

"I'm sorry, mom. This time, it's all my fault," Elise was crying.

Sophia sighed and shook her head, assuring her daughter, "It's okay, get up."

"Yes, hurry up and get out. Or would you prefer to look at us?" Chuck sat down lazily.

Sophia bit her lips, her expression becoming extremely complicated. Finally, she let out a heavy sigh.

She was a woman of her words. She would fulfill his request, no matter what.

It was just that...

Elise pleaded with Chuck, "If you want to do it, why don't I do it with you? I'll do it, okay?"

"No. Hey, aren't you going to ask her to leave?" Chuck turned towards Sophia.

Sophia lifted her daughter up and said, "Elise, wait for me in the car."

"Mom, please don't," Elise was in despair.

"There's nothing else we can do. Just go out and wait for me."

At the very least, she was the head of her family. However, today... She realized that she was just a woman. A woman who had to compromise to a man's demands.

Elise was on the verge of tears.

"Elise, do you want to see me cry in front of you?" Sophia's eyes had started tearing up too.

She had never encountered such a situation. She felt wronged, sad, and desperate.

Sophia had been suffering for the past few days too. It wasn't easy for her as well.

"No," Elise cried and shook her head.

"Then leave," Sophia finally said, heaving a deep sigh.

Elise stood up crying and murmured, "Mom, I'm sorry..."

With that, she ran out.

When Black Rose saw Elise running out with tears in her eyes, she was confused. What had happened inside?

Had Chuck beaten her up again?

Elise ran to the car. She closed the door and burst into tears. How could this have happened?

The silence in the private room was deafening.

At this moment, the atmosphere seemed to have changed.

Sophia was elegant. Her figure was perfect and her facial features were flawless. Meanwhile, Chuck narrowed his eyes lazily at her, scanning her from top to bottom.

The temperature in the room was rising.

Sophia's eyes fell and she looked nervous and helpless. She sighed, walked to the door, and locked it.

"I couldn't believe that you would've requested for something like this," Sophia walked calmly to Chuck. She was shocked when Elise had told her about it.

It was unbelievable.

Chuck sat on the sofa, staring at her. He said nothing.

"I understand what you young people think. I know that you just like the feeling of conquering women who are out of your league. You just want to humiliate me, right?"

Sophia continued.

Chuck shrugged.

"No matter what, I will definitely keep my word. I will not break my promise, especially to someone younger than me," Sophia looked at him with her steely eyes.

At this point, she had given up. She walked over emotionlessly.

"So, I'd like to ask you one last question before I agree," Sophia said.

"Sure," Chuck nodded.

"Is your request really to sleep with... me?" Sophia was especially calm. However, there was a hint of expectation in her voice.

Chuck suddenly laughed.

Sophia sighed and calmed down, "Fine, I agree to this request."

Chuck's smile deepened. He stood up and asked, "How old are you?"

"More than 30," Sophia replied.

"What do you think about this?"

"No opinion. I just want to keep my word. Now is the time to fulfill this promise. That's all," Sophia shook her head and answered him.

"Haha, you really surprised me. I admit that you are beautiful, even more so than Elise. You are very charming, especially your eyes. You have the calmness of someone who had gone through a lot, which would indeed entice men to attempt to conquer you..." Chuck shrugged his shoulders and remarked.

"So, I'm right. You just want to insult me and take revenge on my daughter," Sophia could not help but sigh once more.

"No."

Chuck chuckled, "I haven't finished yet. You are indeed very charming and attractive. However, I had never thought of doing so in the first place."

"Really?!" Sophia's eyes suddenly widened.

She was trembling, "Are you telling the truth? Chuck, you... didn't you want to sleep with me?"

Chuck shrugged and said, "Who said that?"

"My daughter told me," Sophia took a deep breath and revealed, "You had said that to her when you were at Amazon, right?"

"Are you reminding me to make this request?" Chuck's eyes narrowed.

Sophia shook her head in a hurry, refusing, "No, of course not. Don't get me wrong. I definitely won't do that."

"I did say that when I was in the Amazon, but of course ideas will change. However, if you really want to, I won't object to it," Chuck said.

"Phew! Looks like I misunderstood. I'm sorry," Sophia felt relieved.

She felt every single muscle in her body relax. In the end, it looked like she had tormented herself for nothing.

All of a sudden, she found Chuck much more pleasing to the eye.

"Trust me. You are really beautiful and charming. You're a standard beauty in the United States," Chuck praised honestly.

Women here usually had blue eyes and high nose bridges. As a result, their eyes looked bigger and deeper.

She was beautiful.

For the first time, Sophia felt embarrassed. She had been praised by a young man, and the most important thing was that she couldn't refute it. She felt somewhat strange.

This was the first time that a younger man had made her feel embarrassed. She had never encountered such a thing in her entire life.

Sophia let out a sigh of relief as she poured Chuck a glass of red wine, asking, "So what's your request?"
