

Chapter 626

Black Rose was stunned. What was the meaning of Alexandrina's words?

Could it be that something had happened between her and Chuck last night?

Black Rose had always been an innocent person deep down, so she didn't think too much of what happened last night. However, Alexandrina was giving her a warning. That obviously meant that something had happened, right?

She looked inside and found that Chuck was lying on the sofa, deep in sleep. He was still perfectly clad in his clothes.

So what exactly was going on?

"Boss, did you sleep together with Chuck last night?" Black Rose was really surprised.

How could this have happened?

How could Chuck have slept with Alexandrina?

Black Rose was extremely observant and noticed that the way Alexandrina was walking was odd. Were her legs numb?

Black Rose instantly figured out how Chuck managed to sleep last night. Nothing had happened between them, but he had leaned against Alexandrina's legs and fallen asleep.

Yes, that was probably what had happened.

However, would someone like Alexandrina allow Chuck to lean against her?

Black Rose found it hard to believe.

"What are you thinking? I didn't let him touch me," Alexandrina's face was expressionless.

Black Rose was at a loss for words. She grumbled silently. Since Alexandrina and Chuck had spent the night in the room, Alexandrina couldn't blame her if she was overthinking things.

"Alright, I got it. I won't tell Karen," Black Rose agreed.

Alexandrina took out a card and gave it to Black Rose, bribing, "Don't say a single word to Karen. You should know the consequences."

In fact, she did not want to let Karen know. After all, she used to be Karen's boss. However, she ended up with Chuck now!

Alexandrina felt slightly thrilled by the turn of events. Indeed, Chuck was Karen's son, but he was also her lover now...

However, no matter how happy she was, she still had other things to consider.

It wouldn't be a good time to let Karen know.

Hence, she decided to keep her mouth shut about it.

"Uh, it's fine," Black Rose replied as she awkwardly returned the card to Alexandrina.

Even though Black Rose wasn't as wealthy as Alexandrina, she had already been working for so long. She had earned a remarkable amount of money from that alone. In addition, she had also saved everything up as she didn't spend much.

It was not necessary for her to take the money. She didn't do anything to deserve it after all.

"If you don't accept it, does it mean that you will tell Karen about it?" Alexandrina snapped.

"That's not... Well, fine. I'll take it," Black Rose sighed as she reluctantly accepted the card.

She looked at Chuck who was still asleep inside and asked, "Shall I wake him up?"

"What for? He can sleep as long as he pleases. Why would you wake him up?" Alexandrina questioned.

Black Rose was speechless.

"But boss, it's not good to get up too late, right?"

Black Rose always woke up at six o'clock in the morning. She was someone who could get up when she wanted to, and she never stayed in bed for longer than she needed to.

"I'll allow him to do as he pleases when he's here with me. Are you trying to control him now?" Alexandrina snorted.

"Fine," Black Rose shrugged. Of course, she would not continue to offend her boss.

"Don't peek, or I'll gouge your eyes out," Alexandrina went in and closed the door.

Black Rose fell speechless as she felt a headache coming on. She wasn't a stalker, so why would she peek inside?

"Chuck, aren't you going to get up?" Alexandrina shook Chuck by the shoulders.

He rubbed his eyes, looked at the time and immediately thought of going back. Yvette must be anxious since he didn't return home last night. As expected, she had called him a few times. However, he was deep in sleep and didn't manage to hear his phone ringing.

For the whole night, Yvette had been really worried. When she couldn't reach Chuck, she immediately called Black Rose. Yvette was relieved after Black Rose gave her a brief explanation.

After all, Yvette was worried that Chuck would do something impulsive.

Fortunately, he didn't.

"Who allowed you to leave? You leaned on me for the entire night. My legs are numb now because of that," Alexandrina grunted in discomfort.

Chuck could only turn around and give her a massage.

Then again, he slept soundly last night. He didn't expect that he could find such a feeling being with Alexandrina besides Willa.

However, there was still a huge difference.

The biggest difference between them was their body scent. Willa had a light scent that smelled particularly pleasant.

Alexandrina didn't have this fragrance on her, so he could easily distinguish them apart.

However, there wasn't that big of a difference between them.

"Alexandrina, can I go back now?" Chuck asked.

"No, you need to go somewhere with me today. After that, I'll let you go home," Alexandrina was enjoying Chuck's massage.

Chuck was quite professional.

"Okay," Chuck agreed since he could not reject Alexandrina.

After a while, Chuck's stomach growled. He chuckled awkwardly, "Alexandrina, I'm hungry."

"What do you want to eat?"

"It's up to you."

Alexandrina immediately asked someone to deliver some food for them. Halfway through his meal, Chuck suddenly thought of Black Rose. He ran out with a hamburger, and found that Black Rose was standing outside. She seemed like she was deep in her thoughts.

"Here you are," Chuck handed the burger over to her.

"Huh? Is this for me?" Black Rose was surprised. She was indeed hungry, but she didn't expect Chuck to share some food with her.

She even planned to buy a meal for herself later.

"Yup."

While Black Rose was still in shock, Chuck had already returned to the room.

She looked at the hamburger and then took a bite. She suddenly remembered something and murmured, "This burger isn't as delicious as the cake last time. I want to eat that..."

Soon, Chuck, Alexandrina and Black Rose had all filled their stomachs.

"Where are we going?" Chuck asked. However, Alexandrina didn't answer him. He was itching to know where they were going. More importantly, he wanted to know how long it would take before he could return home.

Chuck wanted to go to find Willa now.

"Just follow me," Alexandrina changed into some casual clothes. She looked much more innocent now.

She had a simple pair of jeans, a T-shirt and sneakers on. Chuck was shocked to find that she even resembled those friendly girl-next-door types. What was she planning to do?

Was she planning to head home?

Chuck followed her out and got into her car in a state of confusion, with Black Rose right behind them.

Two hours later.

When the car stopped, Chuck saw that they had arrived at a beautiful manor. There were a lot of cars parked inside with many people inside. Was this a family gathering?

"Alexandrina, what's going on?" Chuck was confused.

Why did she bring him home?!

"This is my family, and... today you are not my lover, but my real boyfriend," Alexandrina replied calmly.

A while ago, she had received a phone call from her family.

She knew that there would be a family gathering today.

In fact, she hadn't planned to return home.

However, when she glanced at Chuck, she felt that it was time to go home. After all, she wasn't young anymore, and her parents were rushing for her to get married. The only thing she could do now was to put on an act with Chuck.

"I have a wife," Chuck replied seriously.

"No. Today, I'm your wife," Alexandrina ignored his protests.

Chuck stared at her exasperatedly. Looking at the beautiful manor, he said hesitantly, "I'm not good at socializing."

With Willa's disappearance, Chuck was not in the mood to talk at all.

"It's okay. I'm here. What are you afraid of?" Alexandrina pinched Chuck's face.

Chuck was speechless at her behavior. Was she treating him like a child?

Chuck tried rejecting her again, but after thinking about it for a while, he finally gave in. There was no point running away since he was already here.

"Got it." Chuck agreed.

"Good. I will allow you to kiss me later if necessary."

"What if it's not necessary?" Chuck asked in his attempt to make the best out of his situation.

"Are you joking around with me? Come out," Alexandrina had already got out of the car.

Of course, Chuck followed her.

Sure enough, this manor was her home. Chuck noticed that Alexandrina's attitude had completely changed. She had suddenly become more gentle and sensible.

It seemed like her family didn't know that she was the boss of the greatest organization of assassins in the world.

"Alexandrina."

Someone came over to greet them.

"She's my mother," Alexander whispered to Chuck, who immediately recognized the similarities between them. Even though the woman was already in her fifties, she looked a lot like Alexandrina. She must've been an absolute beauty when she was younger.

Seeing that Alexandrina had arrived, all her other relatives came over.

After greeting each other, her relatives looked at Chuck.

Some people were unhappy. It was supposed to be a family gathering today, and there was not a single outsider present. Why did Alexandrina bring home an outsider?

He seemed extremely out of place.

"Who is this man? Why is he with Alexandrina?"

"Could it be that he's her boyfriend?"

"Oh god, that's impossible. This man seems like an irresponsible coward. How could Alexandrina end up with someone like him? He even looks younger than her..."

"Hey, let's persuade Alexandrina together. There are many other men for her to choose from. She doesn't have to stick with this one."

Several relatives started complaining to Alexandrina, mocking Chuck with every word they spoke.

Chapter 627

Alexandrina's family was not as rich as Karen's, but it had been around for over 200 years. Therefore, the family members highly resented outsiders.

In the eyes of her relatives, Alexandrina was an upright woman. She was obedient, sensible, and possessed a successful career.

Such a remarkable woman should've been able to get together with better men. How could Chuck have possibly ended up with her?

He really was no match for her.

All of Alexandrina's relatives, including her mother, Miranda, were dissatisfied with Chuck.

How could the pride of the Middleton family be tainted by such a lowly man?

"Alexandrina, he..." Miranda was about to ask.

"This is Chuck Cannon. He's my boyfriend now," Alexandrina explained.

Chuck understood her words. He leaned closer to Alexandrina and greeted her relatives.

They exchanged glances with each other.

Chuck's socializing skills were terrible since he wasn't taught about this.

He didn't answer every question that was asked and only responded to them with a smile. After all, he just had to pretend to be Alexandrina's boyfriend on the surface. He really couldn't care less about anything else.

"Alexander, what's wrong with you? I told you to bring your boyfriend back, but I didn't tell you to bring back just anyone," Miranda frowned.

"Yeah, it looks like he's still very young. Is he after your money? Is he trying to live off of you?"

"Break up with him and I'll find you a new boyfriend who is ten times better than him."

Several relatives started talking non-stop.

"No, he is my boyfriend," Alexandrina glanced over at Chuck and shot him a look.

Chuck understood and kissed her right before everyone.

Everyone was shocked. Alexandrina's expression told them that she was really in love with this man. What were they to do about this?

Black Rose, who had been watching them from the very beginning, was astonished. Her eyes widened as she muttered to herself, "Chuck, why did you kiss her?"

She was wondering why Alexandrina had brought Chuck here. Now that she thought about it, maybe she wanted Chuck to pretend to be her boyfriend?

However, this was too weird.

Therefore, Black Rose turned away her head. Ignorance was bliss.

"Alexandrina..." Miranda was shocked after seeing that and was immediately disappointed, "I know you're in a hurry and that I urged you to get married soon, but please don't just randomly find a man."

"I'm serious. If you let me in today, I will do so. If not, then I will go back," Alexandrina shook her head and said in a serious tone.

"Don't do that. I only want to see you. But him... alas, whatever," Miranda sighed. With her act of giving in, her other relatives couldn't do anything.

They could only watch helplessly as Alexandrina took Chuck in.

Chuck whispered, "Your lips..."

"What's wrong with my lips? Do you know that this was my first kiss? I haven't been kissed by anyone yet, so how dare you complain about it to me? And remember to keep up your act. Otherwise, I won't let you go this easily," Alexandrina looked at him and said.

In truth, after her kiss with Chuck, she felt as if she had found her first love. It was a strange but amazing feeling.

This decision was pretty good. She would definitely make Chuck her lover.

"Got it. Also, I haven't even complained about anything, and I'm hungry. Shall we have lunch now?" Chuck really didn't mind. After all, he had benefited from this matter as well, so what did he have to lose?

Besides, they could go back after lunch.

Alexandrina brought Chuck to the dining room.

"Take whatever you like," She said.

There were many different types of food before him, but most of them weren't suited to his palate. However, he couldn't care less as he was hungry.

He picked up a doughnut and started wolfing it down.

"Slow down, don't choke on your food. What do you want to eat? Let me help you," Alexandrina smiled.

Chuck was a pretty nice man. He was obedient and sensible. Alexandrina was very pleased.

"Has he not eaten in days? To eat the food without even greeting others, where are his manners? My goodness, I can't bear it," Someone smacked their lips contemptuously at Chuck's behaviour.

"That's right, he is so rude. Why does Alexandrina even like him?"

Miranda sighed helplessly.

"Look, his insolence has caused everyone to be upset, but here he is, eating away happily."

A few relatives' words made Miranda a bit angry. She felt that she should do something about it. Beyond everything, her daughter was an excellent woman. How could she let a man like that get lucky?

For example, she could ask her daughter to break up with Chuck in public.

Several relatives sneered as they started discussing it.

"Have Samantha come over and find an opportunity to lure Chuck into her room. I'll let Alexandrina witness the whole spectacle. I want her to see what kind of a man he is! Surely she'd break up with him after that," Miranda stated in delight.

After all, it was not the first time that she had done such a thing. She had plenty of experience with it.

Although she felt a prick in her conscience for doing so, as Alexandrina's mother, she felt that she had to save her own daughter from this mess!

"Okay," Someone went to call for Samantha.

Samantha was a young and beautiful girl. She would definitely captivate Chuck. Then, when Alexandrina saw this, she would definitely slap Chuck and break up with him in front of everyone.

After a while, a beautiful girl walked over. She was adorable and beautiful, and her skin was as fair as snow.

"That's him, his name is Chuck," Miranda said as she pointed towards Chuck.

Samantha looked over in his direction and grinned, "Got it. It looks like he's heading to the washroom. I'll follow him in, so just leave it to me. Just remember to save me if Alexandrina tries to beat me up."

"No. She'll appreciate your kindness if you manage to help her discover the truth. How could she be angry at you?" Miranda comforted her.

"You're right. I'll get going then," Samantha walked over.

The rest of them started walking towards Alexandrina, trying to look for an opportunity to distract her and lead her to the washroom. They wanted her to see for herself Chuck's true appearance as the dirty man he was!

"Do you want me to take you there?" Alexandrina wanted to show him the way. Ultimately, she thought that since Chuck was her lover, she could not let him feel wronged.

"No. I can go by myself," Chuck shook his head and said. He followed Alexandrina's instruction and left for the washroom.

Chuck went in and gave Black Rose a call.

"Hey, what's up?" Black Rose was astonished as she replied in a cold voice.

She was slightly reluctant to answer him. How could he just kiss anyone as he pleased?

"I'll bring you something to eat later. What do you want?" Chuck felt that he should treat Black Rose better, especially when it came to her diet.

"There's no need to."

When the phone was hung up, Chuck was stunned. What was going on?

Why was she angry?

How baffling.

Chuck silently put away his mobile phone. After he was finished with his business, Samantha came in as soon as he opened the door. Chuck nodded and politely greeted her.

Samantha was pretty, almost as beautiful as Elise from the Lawrence family.

However, she didn't appear to be as bossy and rude as Elise.

She seemed to be quite a decent person.

Chuck wanted to leave. What was she looking at in the washroom?

"Hello, I'm Alexandrina's cousin," Samantha flashed a bright smile at him.

Chuck heaved a sigh of relief. He had felt a sense of hostility from all of Alexandrina's other relatives, and he had finally gotten to meet a nice girl who was friendly to him.

"Nice to meet you. I'm Chuck."

"I've seen you and Alexandrina together. I think that you two look cute together," Samantha said with a grin, her pretty eyes staring straight at him.

Chuck smiled in return. So she thought that they were cute together. How sweet!

"Thank you," He replied.

"To be honest, you look a bit like my boyfriend, but you look more adorable than him," Samantha leaned closer to him.

Chuck was embarrassed, "Really?"

"Yes, I met him in the bathroom as well. You remind me of him," Samantha continued.

"But you're much better than him. I think I like you, do you like me too?" Samantha asked.

Chuck was confused. What on earth was going on?

"Uh, did you make a mistake?" Chuck was baffled. Was such a beautiful girl really saying this to him?

Was he really that charming? Chuck stared at her. It wasn't a bad feeling being confessed to by such a beautiful woman.
