

Chapter 676

Upon hearing this, Loomis cackled out loud. The Yeagers were a hidden family, falling just behind the Whitlock family in this world. How could a piece of trash like Chuck possibly hold a threat to them?

He could attempt to chip away at their family. Maybe that was possible.

But to take over the entire family? Hah! In his dreams!

Chuck must be out of his mind!

"You will understand my words someday. But now, it seems that you still don't understand the situation you're in!" Chuck said thoughtfully.

Loomis immediately grew infuriated. Of course, he knew what Chuck meant. He was also panicking about this!

"Chuck, just tell me what you want me to do! However, don't say that I didn't warn you! The Yeager family is not a force you can conquer easily!" Loomis got to his feet.

Carol, who was with him, was a blubbering, sobbing mess. Chuck's every word really scared her out of her wits. She didn't want to die!

"I'll tell you later!" Chuck shrugged.

However...

Loomis's expression suddenly soured as he growled, "Tell me? You really caught me off guard this time. I've only lost twice my whole life, and they're all because of you! But there won't be a third time... Tsk, you seem to have forgotten that this is my territory!"

He snickered loudly and ominously.

This was because he heard footsteps outside the door!

Hah!

His men were back. They were the best bodyguards in the entire family, and now, they were back!

So what if Chuck managed to take some photos?

It would be fine if his bodyguards just snatched it away from him!

Loomis felt that it was a pity that he couldn't kill Chuck now since Adriana had ordered him to leave Chuck's alive for her!

He was really green with envy.

Originally, he had taken a fancy to Willa, but she had left with Chuck.

Moreover, his first target was Adriana Whitlock, who actually fancied Chuck!

What was so good about this piece of trash?

"Your territory?" Chuck was startled.

"Haha, have you forgotten? Don't you think you're overdoing it? My bodyguards are back. It's time for you to beg for mercy!" Loomis laughed out loud.

The minute he finished laughing...

Three people rushed in from outside!

Indeed, three of Loomis' bodyguards had returned, while the rest continued to chase after Black Rose!

The three men were glaring at Chuck and Alexandrina.

Since Loomis was beaten, they were going to have to face the consequences. Fortunately, they came back in time, otherwise...

Upon seeing this, Chuck pulled Alexandrina and shielded her behind him. He didn't expect these people to come back so quickly. It seemed that Black Rose had already tried her best, but her best just wasn't enough!

In this situation, what Chuck could do was to leave safely with Alexandrina. Since he had already gotten what he wanted, he just had to wait for Loomis to come and beg him!

Alexandrina felt touched by Chuck's gesture of shielding her. She stood behind him and felt a sense of security!

She hadn't felt this way for a long time.

In fact, she was even slightly surprised.

All of a sudden, Alexandrina felt that it seemed that she had not been protected by a man for quite some time. This was the first in a long time. It... felt pretty good, like she was experiencing her first love all over again...

"Alexandrina, I'm bringing you out!" Chuck said.

"Well, even if you don't, I will have you protect me," In a trance, Alexandrina felt touched and that Chuck was so sweet.

He must still care about her in his heart!

"Hmph! This time, you won't be able to leave, no matter what. The three of you, get his phone for me! Then... slap him until I'm satisfied," Loomis uttered sinisterly.

Then, he looked at Alexandrina and sneered, "As for her, leave her intact for me! Now!"

"Yes, Young Master!"

The three men stared at Chuck as they struck at him, their fists heading towards him in a flurry of movements.

It was a three-against-two fight, and they were outnumbered!

How could Chuck dare to look down on them?

He no longer had any intention of hiding himself since he was aware that his strength had risen and that he could be considered a combat expert. However, he also knew that he was unlikely to be an even match for such experts. Facing one person would be fine, but if three of them were to fight him together, that would be a challenge!

However, Chuck also knew that he did not need to be afraid. There were still a few bombs in his hands. At worst, he could just throw the bombs and bring Alexandrina away.

However!

When Chuck had just taken out the dagger given to him by Sophia and was prepared to deal with the three, someone suddenly struck from behind the bodyguards!

"Boom!" A loud noise was heard!

A fist suddenly flew in from outside the door. There was a bracelet on the person's wrist, made of special metal and was dozens of kilograms in weight!

Such a punch had gone against one of the bodyguard's fists!

The bodyguard was startled and then at a loss. Why did his fist hurt a little?

When he was thinking about this, he was flung out uncontrollably!

Thud!

His body fell on a table, which was then smashed into pieces. He twitched as he had hit his head on the ashtray by accident. When he got up and touched the back of his head, it was bleeding. After feeling dumbfounded and frightened, he closed his eyes and fell to the ground, unconscious.

There was a deafening silence in the rooms.

The remaining two bodyguards' jaws dropped to the ground!

As soon as Chuck saw who it was, he was pleasantly surprised and called out, "Mom!"

The one who threw the punch was Chuck's mother, Karen. Chuck heaved a sigh of relief. However, Alexandrina, who was still shielded behind him, subconsciously moved a little away from him. She could not let Karen know that she had fallen in love with Chuck now.

If she found out, Alexandrina felt that she would faint from the embarrassment.

Loomis was shocked and gawked, "You're... Karen Lee? ... What are you guys waiting for? Fight her!"

He was annoyed. Were his bodyguards pretending to be statues?

The remaining two bodyguards reacted and immediately flew into a rage!

Bang! Crash!

Karen's face was cold. She rushed forward and threw out two consecutive punches at them!

The two bodyguards could only grit their teeth in pain and shock. Whenever Karen punched them, the pain was terrible!

It was just like being hit by a hammer!

Amidst their shock, they had been flung backwards and crashed into the wall behind them. All the paintings hanging on the wall trembled from the impact and fell to the ground with a smack.

Meanwhile, the two of them started puking up blood in a sorry state. They couldn't even raise an arm!

The two were in a terrible state!

Each of them only took one punch, but they could no longer stand a chance. The room once again fell silent.

It was deathly quiet.

Loomis was afraid. Were his bodyguards really that useless? How could they be knocked down so easily?

Just then, Black Rose rushed in again, this time, panting heavily. She really tried her best to lure these people away just now.

At the same time, she finally realized why she could not assassinate Karen before. It turned out that she had hidden her true strength all along!

Karen slammed the door shut.

Thunk!

Loomis could feel someone punching his face as he knelt to the ground. He thought that he could subdue Chuck and then torture him, but he did not expect that the tables would be turned on him in an instant!

Carol, who was with him, was even more frightened!

"Mom, I have already gotten it," Chuck said.

Karen smiled and glanced at Alexandrina at the same time. Alexandrina only snorted softly.

Karen didn't say anything else. She certainly knew what Chuck meant.

"Let me go! Don't kill me, I beg you!" Loomis pleaded. He was truly afraid now!

After all, Karen had defeated the strongest bodyguards of his family with just two moves. He knew clearly that he couldn't escape from this situation.

Therefore, groveling and pleading was his one and only chance of survival.

Chuck didn't care. He walked over and started beating Loomis up. After all, he had ordered his bodyguards to attack them, so he deserved whatever was coming!

Chuck smiled at Loomis's howls, and Carol was even more traumatized.

After finally getting his way, Chuck returned to his mother and said, "Mom, I'm going to have Loomis do something so that he can tell us about the Yeagers at any time."

He had to ask his mother for matters like these since he knew that Karen had a plan.

"Okay," Karen nodded. In fact, her sixth sense was tingling, and she had an idea of what the Yeagers were currently up to.

"Chucky, what else do you think he can do, except for reporting the movements of the Yeager family?" Karen began to hint Chuck.

Chuck gave it a thought as he stared at Loomis for a few seconds, who was currently on the brink of fainting. Suddenly, he thought of something and whispered in his mother's ear, "Mom, why don't we give him a bomb so he can go back and blow up the Yeager family? Do you think it's a feasible plan?"

After all, such a bomb couldn't be detected and was possible to be controlled remotely. The only drawback was that there was no way to know how many people it could blow up.

This was because the bomb had no surveillance camera equipped!

They could only rely on their luck.

Karen was startled. This was actually a good idea, but the risks were very high!

"Mom, what do you think?" Chuck asked again.

Chapter 677

Karen felt that the plan was alright, but the only problem was that she couldn't control how many people were killed by the explosion.

Therefore, Karen felt that the plan shouldn't be executed. At least, not now.

"Chucky, the method you've mentioned is acceptable, but is there anything else you can do?" Karen asked.

Chuck thought about it again and replied, "Uh, Mom, I can't think of anything else."

"Alright. In this case, don't you already have dirt on Loomis? You can..." Karen's voice grew smaller. After hearing what his mother said, Chuck was shocked!

Sure enough, his mom really managed to look at the bigger picture. It seemed that he still had a long way to go!

"Ok!" Chuck nodded.

Karen didn't say anything else. She just looked at Loomis, who was pleading on the ground, and narrowed her eyes.

"I'll do whatever you ask of me! Just please, don't kill me," Loomis was desperate. Karen was too strong. The bodyguards that he had trusted so much were easy game for her.

Chuck shrugged, "How would I kill you? Just wait for my good news. Oh, by the way, don't expect me to hand over the phone to you, because when I go back, I will make dozens of copies of the video. If you threaten me, there's no telling if I will accidentally send the copy to your family's phones. Don't blame me by then!"

"No, don't do that!" Loomis was terrified.

This was what he had feared the most. He was going to be blamed by his entire family if that happened!

"It's great that you don't wish for that to happen too. Well then, you guys can continue where you left off, we won't disturb you anymore. Remember to turn on your phone. I will contact you. If you don't turn it on, I can only call your family. Bye then..." Chuck trailed off.

"Don't worry, I'll definitely turn it on. As long as you don't show it to my family and don't let them know, I'll listen to everything you say," Loomis agreed in a panic.

"Remember what you've said. Go on then," Chuck shrugged and headed outside.

Karen, Alexandrina and Black Rose went out as well.

The only ones left in the room were the three bodyguards who were wailing in pain, Loomis who was left in despair, and Carol who was crying in fear. She sobbed, "Loomis, hurry and snatch the phone! If they let them know, we're dead!"

Carol was terrified. Her makeup had been ruined by her tears.

Slap!

Loomis slapped Carol's face out of sheer rage. She immediately fell to the ground, wailing in pain.

"Shut up. After you go back, behave yourself. If you give yourself away, I'll be the first one to kill you!" Loomis threatened.

Upon hearing this, Carol nodded in fear. How could she dare to tell anyone?

"Chuck, oh, Chuck Cannon! You really have gotten me good this time!" Loomis was filled with immense regret for being caught off guard. What exactly did Chuck want him to do?

He couldn't help but feel uneasy.

The wails coming from the bodyguards further angered him. He grabbed two bottles of wine and smashed them onto their heads.

"You pieces of trash! Go to hell!"

The expression on Loomis' face was sinister. He was going to vent out his anger out on the three bodyguards.

The two bodyguards covered their heads and did not dare to resist at all. They kept on groaning in pain, while Carol grew even more frightened. Why was she ever seduced by Loomis in the first place?

She really wanted to turn back time...

Chuck was waiting in the car. In the blink of an eye, he was already at Alexandrina's house.

What was his mother and Alexandrina talking about? Chuck and Black Rose were waiting in the car and had no idea.

"You didn't get hurt, did you?" Chuck tried to make small talk.

Black Rose's expression was grim. After all, she had just distracted so many people. Of course she would be hurt!

She remained silent about her injuries and refused to admit it since she was used to it.

When she was alone, she had gotten used to nobody caring about her at all.

Which was why she wouldn't tell anyone about her pain.

"No," Black Rose replied coldly.

"Really? Look at your hand. Is it painful? Did you get hit?" Chuck asked out of concern.

"No... Hey, what are you doing? Chuck Cannon, I swear, I'll shoot you!" Black Rose shouted angrily. Unexpectedly, Chuck was grabbing her arm and inspecting her injuries.

Just then, she had to deal with a lot of people and ended up being punched in the arm. Right now, it was already numb.

When Chuck touched it, the corners of her eyes twitched. She had obviously been injured.

"Don't move," Chuck said.

He didn't know much, but at the very least, he knew how to massage her shoulders. He could at least help to improve blood circulation around her wound so that it wouldn't cause a blood clot and a bruise.

Hopefully, Black Rose won't feel so uncomfortable!

"Stay away from me, or I'll shoot you!" Black Rose was furious.

"Just beat me to death. I don't intend to do anything else. I'll just massage you and make you feel better," Even if Chuck was held at gunpoint, he didn't stop at all. He knew that Black Rose wouldn't actually pull the trigger on him.

"You!" Black Rose was pissed. She couldn't actually shoot him!

How dare he!

He was seriously pissing her off.

"Oh, you've been hit here, haven't you? Please bear with it, I'll help you relieve the pain," Chuck noticed that her arms were swollen. She had gotten punched hard!

Willa had taught Chuck about basic first aid, so he handled Black Rose's injury according to what Willa had taught him.

"You... Ow, be gentler! Do you even know what you're doing? Stop torturing me!" Black Rose was infuriated. Chuck was simply torturing her instead of helping her. He was purposely poking at her injury!

"I will, just endure it for now. Are you afraid of pain?" Chuck asked.

Black Rose glared at Chuck. She gritted her teeth and denied, "I'm not afraid of pain."

"Then it should be fine. It will be done soon," Chuck continued to deal with the wound. She had been seriously injured there.

Black Rose closed her eyes and braced herself. This b*stard!

Was he treating her as a test subject?!

How long was it going to take? It hurt!

.....

"You..." Karen was outside the car. She wanted to ask Alexandrina something.

"What? I am going back to sleep," Alexandrina was about to head back into her own house.

"Wait, thank you," Karen said.

Alexandrina paused and turned around, asking, "Why are you thanking me?! This is not like you!"

"You don't know much about me. You're the reason why Chucky was able to catch hold of Loomis this time, so thank you," Karen looked serious.

Alexandrina fell silent for a few seconds before she said, "No need to thank me!"

"Wait, why are you in such a hurry? I have something else to say," Karen walked over.

"Then just say it!" Alexandrina snorted.

"Did you give the bomb to Chucky?" Karen asked.

Alexandrina had given him something so important...

"Yes, I did. It's up to me to give it to whoever I want to, isn't it?" Alexandrina was angry. What was this? Was she being interrogated?

How dare Karen question her?

"True, it is up to you. I hope there are no other motives though," Karen said meaningfully.

Alexandrina grew even more annoyed. She understood what Karen was trying to say. Karen was reminding her that she shouldn't have any romantic thoughts about Chuck.

"What if I do?" Alexandrina asked in annoyance.

"Well, then that's your business. I have no right to interfere with you, but I can interfere with my son," Karen had on a serious expression on her face.

Was Alexandrina really interested in Chuck? Could it be possible?

"How? Are you going to beat him or scold him? Or ground him? If you do that, I swear I'll come for you!" Alexandrina growled.

"I won't. I only need to tell him about this, then he'll know what he should do. So..." Karen trailed off.

"Stop, I got it!" Alexandrina glared at her.

Karen was dumbfounded as an odd expression formed on her face. She fell silent for a few moments before asking, "Do you actually... like Chuck? Are you serious?"

"It's none of your business whether I'm serious or not," Alexandrina turned around and stormed back home.

Karen was frozen for a good three seconds before she smiled bitterly and muttered, "Of course it has something to do with me..."

Karen looked back and saw that Chuck was treating Black Rose's wound. She was exasperated and sighed, "Chucky is trying to be nice, but he doesn't know that he needs to keep a distance from them..."

She did not know whether it was a good thing or a bad thing, and could only sigh to herself.

"I'm done! It doesn't hurt that badly now, does it?" Chuck heaved a sigh of relief.

"It's numb and I can't feel my arm. You just put me through torture," Black Rose snorted.

Chuck fell speechless. He did not explain any further and shrugged, "I've tried my best..."

"Yeah, you really did," She sneered. He had really tried his best to inflict pain on her wound.

Chuck gave a wry smile.

Just then, his mother returned. Chuck asked, "Mom, what did you say to her?"

"Nothing, let's go back first," Karen did not explain anything more and drove back.

Both Chuck and Black Rose fell silent.

Meanwhile, Alexandrina watched from inside her house.

The hope in her eyes dimmed when she saw them leaving through the window. Karen's reminder made her feel ashamed!

She also knew that she couldn't go on like this. However, it was not easy for her to find someone whom she liked!

How could this happen?

Alexandrina became absent-minded as her thoughts drifted off. She was unable to fall asleep, so she could only drink wine in frustration...

.....

After returning home, Chuck went to Yvette's room, while Black Rose hid herself near him and rested.

She was ready to protect him anytime.

In fact, Chuck wanted to ask his mother something. Now that he had something on Loomis, how much of a chance did they stand against the Yeager family?

After thinking about it for a few days, Chuck made up his mind. If he really couldn't handle the Yeager family, he would have to go to find Adriana.

After all, he couldn't drag his family down with him!

One shouldn't only live for oneself. Chuck had a lot of people whom he cared about, and he had to consider their livelihood as well.

However, he chose not to ask for now since Karen seemed worried about something.

As for what their request to Loomis would be, Karen would call the shots. There was no need for him to be anxious about that.

After all, he had a feeling that the Yeager family was about to make their move!

He sighed. He went to check up on Willa as he headed out to drink some water. When he saw that she was resting quietly, he was relieved. He then went back to the room and fell asleep with Yvette in his arms.

The next day, Chuck got up for some training, but Yvette was obviously absent-minded. She decided to head out to deal with her family affairs.

After training in the morning, he received a call from Patricia, who said that she wanted him to go and have a look at the renovation for their casino.

Chuck rejected her by saying that he didn't have time, and asked her to deal with it herself.

The casino was about to head into business. When that happened, there was going to be a grand opening ceremony for sure! Everyone would know that the casino was about to operate.

Chuck's answer delighted Patricia, and she worked even harder on the renovation of the casino.

Currently, he was thinking of choosing a good date to officially start the casino's business after the renovation was complete!

Yvette had gone out. After Chuck finished his training, he went to check on Willa and found that she was feeling much better. He wanted to take her out to relieve her of her boredom. After all, Willa had been staying in the ward for a long time. She should go out for a walk.

Willa did not refuse his offer and agreed with a smile. She was almost fully recovered.

She also looked forward to spending time with CHuck.

Of course, this was based on the premise that Yvette was not here. If she was, Willa would definitely keep her distance from Chuck.

With that, Chuck brought her out. In fact, after Willa recovered, her gentle smile appeared again. He felt comfortable being with her and wanted her accompaniment.

However, it was a pity that he had to deal with the Yeager family soon. He might suffer a crushing defeat and even have to marry Adriana. Therefore, Chuck was feeling down.

In fact, Chuck didn't know where they should go. Therefore, he suggested going to the renovated casino to have a look, just to see what was going on.

After all, he had great expectations for this casino.

Willa, of course, would not refuse him and smiled, "Okay, Chucky. We can go wherever you want to."

With that, Chuck drove the two of them there.

Black Rose followed behind him. She was expressionless since she had to follow him everywhere he went. However, when she glanced at her arm, she realized that it really wasn't as painful as the day before. She frowned and grumbled under her breath, "You really tried your best to hurt me! It was definitely on purpose! Hmph!"
