

Chapter 731

"Mom, how is Black Rose?"

Chuck regretted it. If he hadn't forced his way to Sabina, Black Rose wouldn't have gotten shot!

But it was useless to dwell in remorse now. The most important thing now was to save Black Rose!

"Black Rose's injury is very close to her heart. I'll need to perform another surgery on her." Karen sighed. She had just removed the bullet from Black Rose, but there was still some debris that needed to be cleaned up.

This process could not be done on the jet.

Betty had ordered the people to get ready. The jet was now flying directly to Karen's company.

Chuck was astonished.

Karen's words meant that Black Rose could die at any time!

Yvette and Willa were also very fond of Black Rose. Their relationship developed from the conflict.

All three of them were women, and they were considered empathetic.

Now that Black Rose was unconscious, they naturally felt extremely sad.

Chuck didn't know how he got off the plane.

The emergency surgery took a long time. Only someone as professional and attentive as Karen could carry out this surgery.

There was no problem with the surgical technique.

The problem was, Karen needed a kind of medicine!

A bullet injury like Black Rose's, which was near the heart, required a special medicine Karen had recently discovered.

So...

After Karen's explanation, Chuck understood. "Mom, what medicine do you need? I'll go get it now. This time, I'm the one who did this to Black Rose! I'm going to save her!"

Chuck felt extremely guilty.

Black Rose protected him without any complaints. She knew that it would be dangerous, but she still followed him and protected Chuck the whole time.

How could Chuck bear to let her die?

His heart ached!

Karen was relieved. Chuck realized he was wrong and reflected on it. "There are two places carrying this medicine..."

"Which two places?" Chuck asked.

Willa knew about this. Her beautiful eyes flickered and she roughly knew which were the places that Karen mentioned.

"The first place is in a doctor's hands, but this doctor has recently disappeared. It's not easy to find him," Karen said.

"What about the second one?"

Willa sighed. Yvette was surprised. She also understood who had the medicine.

"Adriana. Whitlock family has a special medical team."

"Her?"

Chuck was shocked. How could it be in her hands?

Soon, Chuck understood. Whitlock family was the top family in the world. They must have developed various medicines for their family members. Their medical team development had probably lasted for dozens of generations. God knew how much manpower and material resources they had!

After being shocked for a while, Chuck finally understood what was going on.

"Yes, but I won't let you go to her." Karen shook her head.

Look for Adriana? Bow down to her?

This was something Karen would never do!

"Chucky, go and pack your things. Betty will prepare a plane for you. Find the doctor within three days and get the medicine back! This is your chance to save Black Rose!" Karen was extremely serious.

"I understand, Mom." Chuck nodded. Looking at the unconscious Black Rose, his heart ached.

Once Black Rose wakes up, Chuck would not ask her to protect him anymore.

It was too dangerous!

"I will go," Yvette said.

"Me too," Willa interrupted.

How could the two of them trust Chuck to go alone?

"Let Chucky go alone. Won't you have to bear the consequences if you did something wrong?" For the first time, Karen looked so serious.

Yvette and Willa were speechless!

There was only anxiety in their hearts.

"Chucky, pack your things!" Karen ordered.

"Got it," Chuck said as he ran out of the room.

Betty also went to prepare the plane.

"Isn't it too dangerous to let Chucky go alone?" Willa could not control herself.

She was worried about Chuck.

"Isn't that what you, me and Yvette are doing? If you make a mistake, you have to fix it! Otherwise, how can you grow up?" Karen had no room for negotiation this time.

Yvette's eyes were red, but she couldn't resist Karen's authority.

Karen said to Yvette, "Loomis is the next head of the family. You two have something to do."

Yvette and Willa nodded.

The situation suddenly changed, but it was still under Karen's control. After all, Karen planned to let Loomis take the position of the family head.

Now that Loomis was sitting on it, the plan would be made ahead of time.

After Karen detailed her plan to Willa and Yvette, they left.

Through the glass, Karen saw Chuck running towards the plane. She sighed. "Don't blame me, Chuck. Growing up can be cruel. If you make a mistake, you should make up for it! That's the rule. You need to understand... I hope you come back safely."

Chuck got on the plane. As Betty prepared for takeoff, Chuck heard Yvette's voice.

As soon as Chuck ran out, Yvette hugged him.

"Hubby, don't get in trouble. Please stay safe," Yvette frowned in concern.

Why was she worried?

This time, Chuck went out without the protection of the top killer, Black Rose. One could imagine how many dangers Chuck would face.

"Yes, I'll be back," Chuck said confidently.

Black Rose was still waiting for the medicine. He would definitely come back in three days.

"Don't blame your mom. She has many things to do," Yvette said.

"I know," Chuck replied. Of course, he knew what Karen was doing. She was too busy to spare time.

As for Loomis, now that Sabina had escaped, he naturally would become the head of the Yeager family. Next, Loomis would go for Karen and Chuck like a madman!

Karen had to face it.

Therefore, during these three days, Chuck needed to come back as soon as possible to help Karen deal with Loomis.

According to Karen's plan, there shouldn't be any problems.

Chuck also believed in Karen. There would definitely be zero problems with Karen's plan.

"Alright. Be careful on the way. Call me if something happens." Yvette was really unwilling to separate with Chuck.

But she also knew that she could not waste any more time!

She kissed Chuck and left the plane.

"Young Master, we're going to leave now," Betty said.

Chuck took his seat, and the plane took off.

Chuck looked away from Karen's company. "Black Rose, you have to wait for me. I'll wake you up and apologize to you," he thought.

The plane flew fast into a direction.

Staring at the plane, Willa's face was full of worry. But when she saw Yvette, Willa couldn't help but lower her head.

"Auntie Logan, let's go," Yvette said.

"Okay."

The two of them drove out.

Karen continued to take care of Black Rose. At the same time, she began to deal with the Yeager family, who was under Loomis' control.

"Young Master, here is the doctor's information." Betty gave Chuck the information.

Chuck took a closer look. Dr. Darwin was a young, talented doctor who specialized in various complicated diseases. He also developed some medicines together with his team. The medicine that Black Rose needed was within his research and development.

However, Dr. Darwin had disappeared a few months ago. Chuck's eyes flickered. It was fine for him to go missing. In three days, he would definitely find him and wake Black Rose up!

Chapter 732

"Young Master, we have arrived," Betty pointed below and said.

It didn't take long for the plane to take Chuck there. The journey was around two hours.

"Where is this place?" Chuck was not quite sure. Either way, they had already left the United States.

"This is a small country, and it's also yours..." Betty introduced.

Karen had bought the whole country. Although there was no such address of king, Chuck could be considered a prince here.

"My mom bought this country?" Chuck was startled.

Chuck had heard that Karen bought several small countries, but he didn't expect this place to be one of them.

"Yes, President Lee bought this place ten years ago. It's all yours, Young Master," Betty said.

Chuck couldn't help but cast a few more glances at the country. Karen really had a good sense of it. She bought it ten years ago.

"That's the airport. When you arrive, you have to go find Dr. Darwin by yourself! Three days later, I'll come and pick you up." Betty actually wanted to accompany Chuck to look for Darwin.

But everything down there belonged to Chuck, he didn't need to be afraid of anything.

"This is something that will prove your identity, Young Master. The president here will help you with everything if necessary. There is a car outside the airport, and this is the key to it," Betty reminded.

"Okay," Chuck said as he took it.

Just as he was feeling excited, the plane had landed.

Chuck got off the plane, carrying his backpack.

"Young Master." Betty was worried.

"It's okay. You can come and pick me up three days later..." Chuck had already run out.

Betty's beautiful eyes looked worried, and she sighed. "Young Master... you must be careful..."

Betty stayed for a while before she reluctantly flew back.

When Chuck came out of the airport, he found the car that Betty had mentioned to him. It was just an ordinary car. Chuck didn't want to make too much of a scene when he came here.

This car was just right!

Chuck drove to Darwin's house.

Seeing the houses, roads, and even the land, Chuck had an indescribable feeling in his heart. Those were all his.

However, now was not the time for him to have messy thoughts. In fact, it was nothing, just like going to his own plaza.

When he arrived at Darwin's house, Chuck grasped for clues. The information Betty gave him showed that Darwin was focused on pharmaceutical research and development, so he was either at the company or at home.

Darwin was not at home, and certainly not at the office. Otherwise, Karen would not have said that Darwin was missing. So, where could he have gone?

Chuck had been searching in Darwin's house for a long time. Finally, he found some clues.

Darwin hinted that he had developed a new medicine, but it was discovered by someone. He decided to hide somewhere else.

Otherwise, the unknown party would kidnap him to specially produce this type of new medicine. For the sake of his own life, he had to go into hiding.

Well, he couldn't say that the doctor wanted to hide. Chuck read through the clues to find out Darwin's determination. Darwin wanted to meet the man who wanted his new medicine.

Because Darwin knew that he had been hiding and running all the time, it was useless. He would fall apart sooner or later!

Darwin chose to lay the cards on the table.

Chuck also found out the man behind the scene. His eyes lit up. After such a long time, had Darwin gone to find this man to show his cards?

While Chuck was thinking, he walked out of Darwin's house.

Perhaps he should go to that man's place and make it clear. Anyway, this country belonged to Chuck. What did he have to fear?

Chuck drove over.

.....

At the airport, a beautiful woman got off the plane while dragging her luggage. This beautiful woman had a charming temperament and a beautiful figure. When she came out of the airport, she attracted the attention of many men.

If Chuck were here, he would be surprised. Because this beautiful woman was Cheryl from the Champ family, one of the Four Greatest Households in his country!

Yes, to expand the Champ family's business and strengthen the family, Cheryl chose this place.

This place was rich in resources.

It was suitable for opening a food product company and then shipping it back to her country to sell.

When Cheryl got off the plane, she felt that this place was not bad. She was satisfied.

"Hi, beauty, do you need a cab?" A man asked.

This was Cheryl's first time here, and also her idea to bring it up with her family, so there was no one here to pick her up.

In fact, there was another reason why she came to this strange and unvisited place besides to expand the family business, and that was to clear her mind.

Why did Cheryl do so?

Because of Chuck!

Cheryl admitted that she had fallen in love with Chuck. But because of her identity, she had been depressed recently.

She went to Chuck's hotel and his plaza, but she didn't see him. After that, Cheryl finally knew that Chuck had gone to the United States.

She actually wanted to go as well, but she was not confident enough.

Therefore, Cheryl chose this place. She hoped that she could forget Chuck.

She also understood that she and Chuck couldn't have a future.

"Yes, take me here..." Cheryl said, dragging her luggage over.

The cab driver, Galen, stared at Cheryl's perfect body and smiled lewdly. What a perfect woman! A bad idea arose in his mind.

"Okay, no problem. Let's get in the car," Galen smiled and helped Cheryl to get in the car with her luggage.

Cheryl got in the car without thinking too much.

Galen drove Cheryl out of the airport. She didn't know the way, so she absentmindedly looked out the window at the unfamiliar landscape.

"This place is beautiful. I hope I can forget him..." Cheryl thought.

She remained silent, lost in her own memories. When she came back to her senses, it was because of the sound of a man laughing.

"Beauty, here is my home. Look how well I treat you! I brought you straight to my house!" Galen's mouth was watering.

He had never seen such a beautiful woman before. On this day, he must get Cheryl!

"Let me out! Let me out!" Cheryl was taken aback. She didn't expect the driver to do this at all.

The driver actually took her home in broad daylight. The main reason was that Cheryl was in a daze just now, so she was not aware at all!

Cheryl blanched in terror. She frantically pushed the door open, but it was locked. Galen crawled from the front with a lecherous grin on his face. "Beauty, stop struggling. This is my house. No one will know..."

Yes, no one would know. Galen's house was in a secluded area, which was why he dared to do such a criminal act!

There were several victims besides Cheryl before this. He had got his way.

Galen became more daring. What's more, Cheryl had a good body, and she was so beautiful. He won't let her go easily!

"Let me go. How much money do you want? I'll give you everything..." Cheryl was terrified. How could this happen?

"I don't want your money. I only want you!" Galen smiled sinisterly and stretched out his hands...

Chapter 733

Cheryl was scared out of her mind. She kicked the man frantically with her six inch high heels.

Crack!

Galen covered his sensitive spot, his face twisted in pain." Ah!"

He let out a violent scream.

Galen was going to faint. Cheryl was scared, so she kicked hard. It took all her strength. How could this poor man take it?

Another scream rang out.

Galen screamed his heart out, but suddenly, he fell limp. His face and forehead were covered with sweat, and the pain made him lose his strength.

Cheryl was so afraid that she crawled to the front. She opened the car door and ran out. She ran like a maniac, running to exhaustion. She found a place to hide. Luckily, Galen didn't come after her.

Cheryl gasped and sat down to rest. Suddenly, she realized something was wrong. She hadn't taken anything. Her phone, her money, even her luggage!

Nothing, she had no money at all!

What should she do?

In this place, she did not know anyone!

Cheryl panicked. She wanted to go back and get her things.

But she was scared. She was afraid Galen would grab her, and then she wouldn't be able to escape.

He was kicked so badly, how could he be kicked again?

Cheryl was afraid and didn't dare to go back. She continued to run. The more she ran, the more confused she became. What should she do now?

She had no money, no phone, nothing. She couldn't go back, and she couldn't contact her family.

No matter how strong Cheryl was, she crouched down and shed tears after that horrible experience. She was almost insulted just now...

She was alone in this unfamiliar place. Cheryl was extremely confused. What should she do?

She thought of Chuck, who was currently in the United States. She couldn't even get in touch with him.

Cheryl felt disappointed and desperate!

Cheryl calmed herself down. Many men were staring at her. She found a place to hide in fear. She must find a way to save herself, but she was not familiar with this place. How could she save herself?

She could speak French fluently, otherwise she would not have come to such a place alone. She tried to get help from the women, wanting to borrow their cell phones.

However, these locals were not willing. Even though they were all women, they were not willing to help her.

Cheryl stood dejectedly at a corner of the street.

She didn't know what to do. She was exhausted from all the running earlier, and now she was tired and hungry. She saw others eating and gulped. There was not a penny in her pocket.

"What happened?" Suddenly, a voice sounded.

Cheryl looked up and saw a woman. A foreign woman.

Looking at her, Cheryl was pleasantly surprised. "Can you help me? I just met a bad guy who robbed me of all my things..."

"No problem." The woman, Rebecca, smiled and said, "Are you hungry? Let's go to my house. I'll help you."

Cheryl hesitated, but Rebecca looked nice and smiled gently. She decided to trust her and nodded. "Thank you, lady. If you help me, I will repay you."

"It's okay. We're all women, we should help each other," Rebecca said kindly with a smile. "It's this way. Oh, if you don't mind, you can drink my bottle of water. I just drank it..."

She handed Cheryl a bottle of water.

Cheryl was thirsty, and she was busy opening the bottle. When Rebecca saw it, she smiled vaguely. "You must be very hungry, right? My house is right in front. You can come to my house."

"Okay, thank you," Cheryl said gratefully. She was really thirsty and hungry.

She finished all the remaining water in the bottle.

Cheryl followed Rebecca quietly. After crossing several streets, they came to a big house. Cheryl was stunned. "This is your house?"

"Yes, it's mine."

"You must be rich," Cheryl said. This house was definitely not for ordinary people to live in, which indicated that Rebecca was a rich person here.

Cheryl, of course, was not short of money herself. Her family could also rank in the top 100 families in the world.

"You're not rich?" Rebecca asked.

"Not really."

Rebecca laughed at her. "Welcome to my house. I've cooked a good meal."

"All right." Cheryl followed her in.

The door closed as soon as they entered.

When they went inside the house, Cheryl was shocked. "Can you turn on the lights? It's so dark."

"No problem!" Rebecca turned on the lights.

The room suddenly lit up. Cheryl looked around and asked, "Is this a home?"

"Yeah. Foreign women are very popular in our place, don't you know?" Rebecca laughed mockingly.

Instantly, Cheryl's face turned pale with fright!

"What, what are you going to do?" She was terrified. How could this happen?

"Well, you're so beautiful and so hot. You must be worth at least a few million. In my eyes, you're money!" Rebecca laughed.

Cheryl ran away in fear, but she felt dizzy and had no strength at all. She fell to the ground and thought about the water she had just consumed. For a moment, she turned pale and begged, "No, let me go. I'll give you money. I'll pay you tens of millions!"

"You have so much money? I can't see it. Stay here! I'll go find a buyer..." Rebecca sneered.

"No!"

Cheryl cried. Rebecca had already walked to the door, but she turned back and slapped Cheryl in the face. "Shut up, do you hear me?"

Cheryl was so frightened that she burst into tears. Once again, she felt the pitch-black despair!

"I'm looking for a buyer for you. You should thank me!" Rebecca smiled. She opened the door and went out.

Cheryl couldn't move at all, and her body was losing more and more strength. She closed her eyes with desperation...

.....

Chuck drove to the place where the guy was. In fact, this guy did not run a legal business. It was a particularly luxurious hotel.

"Hey, you can't go in with this kind of rubbish!" The security guard at the door scolded!

There were all kinds of luxury cars parked inside. How could such a poor car be allowed to be driven in?

It would ruin the hotel's image!

Chuck kept silent and stared at him. There was a stack of money in the car. He simply threw a pile of notes to him. The security guard immediately changed his face. "Oh, boss! Boss, please come in!"

The security guard picked up the cash happily and showed Chuck the way. Chuck drove in.

Inside, there were all kinds of luxury cars. Chuck's car was so out of place. But he had no choice, he had to come here. God knew if the doctor had a showdown with the guy in this hotel.

"Boss, do you need a woman? I'll introduce some to you," The security guard lowered his voice as it wasn't legal.

"No." Chuck shook his head.

"Hey, boss, don't go. We have women from all countries, " The security guard took Chuck's hand and showed him an obscene hint.

Chuck was stunned. "All countries?"

Chapter 734

"That's right! All types of women are available. As long as you have the need, we'll let them serve you. Boss, you are so handsome and rich! In fact, we have a new doll and she is so hot! You will definitely like her..." The security guard saw that he had a chance, so he started explaining passionately.

Chuck was puzzled. He did not expect such a thing to happen in this place. However, he also understood. Karen just bought this country but did not manage it, so it was normal for this place to have some loopholes!

"How beautiful is she?" Chuck asked.

"She's wonderful! I've never seen such a beautiful woman. She's tall, especially with her pretty long legs. She's young, about thirty years old," the security guard continued to introduce enthusiastically.

"Well, that's unnecessary. I'm not here to look for a woman. I have something to do." Chuck shook his head.

"Don't do that, boss. How about others?" The security guard said anxiously.

He felt disappointed. Chuck was so generous, and he must be rich. He could sell the woman he had caught to him.

Chuck walked in. No matter which country the women came from or how beautiful they were, he was not interested in them at all. He was here to find Dr. Darwin. Black Rose was waiting for the medicine!

As for the rest, Chuck was not interested.

Of course, he was also interested in catching the person that was after Darwin.

After entering the hotel, Chuck noticed that the hotel was formal. The security was extremely strict.

Since this country belonged to Chuck, why should he be afraid of it?

What's more, Chuck still had a few bombs in his hands!

Chuck shrugged.

"I want to see your boss," Chuck said to the receptionist.

Sara, the receptionist, stared at Chuck for a while and said sarcastically, "Are you friends with our boss?"

"No, but I want to see him." Chuck's expression did not change.

"Sorry, our boss won't see anyone!" Sara shook her head and snapped her fingers. A security guard came over.

For a receptionist like her, she hated foreign people very much.

Several security guards came over.

They were going to seize Chuck!

Seize Chuck? He was a standard combat expert now!

In a flash, the security guards were dealt with.

Seeing this, Sara was shocked. "What the hell are you doing?"

"As I said, I want to see your boss. Ask him to come out!" Chuck said.

Sara screamed. She had never encountered such a situation before.

This guy was causing trouble here in the daytime? Is he asking to die?

Does he know who the boss is?

"Help! Someone is making trouble!" Sara shouted.

The hotel's security system was activated, and security guards from the security room rushed out to surround Chuck!

These security guards were all burly, and their arms were as thick as a normal person's thighs. They looked like wild animals.

Chuck shook his head. These guys looked intimidating, but they were all scum.

Dealing with these people was a piece of cake for Chuck.

"What's going on here? What is this man doing?"

"Is this person making a scene?"

The guests in the hotel were dumbfounded. Chuck was so powerful that he knocked down the security guards with just a few moves.

"Hey, you over there! Get out! Don't make trouble here. I've told you that our boss won't see you!" The hotel security department came out, so Sara became confident.

What was there to be afraid of? Even if this man was good at fighting, he would be kicked out!

"Then I'll make him come out to meet me!" Chuck's voice was icy cold.

When his fist was thrown out, it represented a terrifying strength!

Dozens of bodyguards surrounded him, and the scene was a mess!

Sara sneered incessantly. This man was courting death!

It was obvious what was going to happen next. He would definitely be beaten and thrown out with blood coming out of his mouth.

Sara dialed a number. Well, she was calling her boss.

On the hotel's top floor, in a luxurious room. There were several people on the large bed. A man lazily answered the phone, "Hello..."

"Mr. Wilbert, please turn on the TV. I'll send the surveillance over. There's a man here to see you."

It was Sara's voice.

"Oh, send it over then." Wilbert was curious. He turned on the TV with the remote control and looked at the surveillance.

A man was dealing with dozens of security guards!

He didn't want to watch any further. Most of the security guards at his hotel were mercenaries. This weak man was no good at all.

Then, he turned off the TV.

"Handle it yourself. Since this man is causing trouble, you don't have to be polite. Arrest him and chop him up, then feed him to the dogs!" Wilbert said indifferently.

He got out of bed.

"Yes, Mr. Wilbert! By the way, Rebecca said that she had caught a beautiful foreign woman," Sara said.

"How beautiful is she?"

Wilbert put on his clothes and asked.

"I heard she's quite pretty. Boss, do you want her? I'll tell Rebecca."

"No, I don't like foreign women. They're too skinny, it's not nice."

"Rebecca said she has a hot figure," Sara continued.

"No. Remember to chop up the man who is making trouble at the entrance and feed him to the dogs!"

After saying that, Wilbert hung up the phone.

He walked out of the room, and there were several people standing at the door.

"Did the doctor surrender?" Wilbert asked.

"No, he is stubborn!" A man answered carefully.

"Stubborn? Let me see how stubborn he is!" Wilbert sneered, followed by several men.

They arrived at a room.

There was a man tied up on a chair. He was badly wounded and tortured. If Chuck were here, he would be relieved because the person tied up was the doctor that he was looking for.

Ten days ago, Darwin arrived at the hotel with a full load of bombs. He laid his cards out in front of Wilbert.

What kind of situation had Wilbert not experienced before?

He asked his men to knock Darwin out with one hit.

When Darwin awoke, he was already tied up. Wilbert asked Darwin to do something for him, but he refused.

Darwin refused to tell him the ingredients of the new drug and how it was made. Wilbert tied him up and tortured him. Darwin knew that if he told them, he would surely die, so he kept his mouth shut.

"Devil! You're a devil!"

Darwin shouted at the top of his lungs.

He was just a doctor who developed drugs. Now that he was suddenly tortured like this, how could he stand it?

However, he had to endure it even if he couldn't stand it. If not, he would die!

"Why are you still so stubborn? Beat him up!" Wilbert dragged a chair over and sat in front of Darwin.

Wilbert's men gave Darwin hard punches and kicks, causing him to vomit blood then pass out.

Splash!

A bucket of water was splashed on Darwin's face.

Darwin woke up in a daze and kept yelling out, "Devil!"

Wilbert's men continued to punch and kick him.

At this time, Wilbert's cell phone rang again. He frowned and answered, "Didn't I say not to bother me if there's nothing wrong?"

"Mr. Wilbert, this man is too powerful. Half of the thirty security guards we sent out are defeated. What should we do?"

Sara was shocked. She looked at Chuck, who knocked the men down one punch after another!

Was this man going to fight all of them?

Chapter 735

Sara's words immediately enraged Wilbert. "What did you say?"

"This man is too strong, our people..."

Sara was panicking more and more. These security guards were tall and strong, but they were nothing to Chuck.

Shouldn't Chuck be on the ground, badly wounded by the security team?

"B*stards! Are they all rubbish? If they can't deal with a weak guy, why should I pay them?" Wilbert growled.

He was fuming. Dozens of security guards couldn't even beat one guy?

"Mr. Wilbert, what should we do now? Another security guard has been knocked out! He is vomiting blood! This man is crazy!" Sara was terrified. She had never been in a situation like this before.

Chuck actually defeated a dozen security guards with his bare hands. He's too good!

"D*mn it! I'll ask someone to come over!" Wilbert snorted and was pissed.

He hung up.

"You guys, send someone over. There's a man making trouble downstairs! Catch him for me, then chop him up and feed him to the dogs!" Wilbert said coldly.

"Yes!" Wilbert's subordinate immediately arranged for the men.

They went downstairs.

Wilbert had a powerful background in this country, so he was not afraid of anything.

Anybody can be summoned!

Wasn't the foreign man powerful? Let's see how many people he could fight with!

He would face endless opponents.

Looking at Darwin, who was gasping for breath, Wilbert laughed. "I'll let you talk. Later, I will show you a good show. You'll see how a man is chopped up and fed to the dogs. After you watch it, you will naturally talk."

"Devil, devil..." Darwin was in great pain. He couldn't stand it anymore, he would rather bite his tongue.

Wilbert laughed out loud, feeling proud. Devil? Not bad!

"Are you waiting for someone to save you?" Wilbert continued to laugh at him.

Darwin was forcing himself to endure it. Didn't he still have hope in his heart?

"I'm telling you, you've been chosen by me. No one can save you!" Wilbert laughed sinisterly.

This hotel was not for ordinary people to enter.

There were never any problems here, and there never will be. This was a solid bunker!

In the hotel's lobby.

Sara stared at Chuck with fear. "Don't come over. Our boss has already called for help."

She was shocked by the scene in front of her!

Dozens of people were lying on the ground. Some of them were grasping their stomachs, and some were covering their faces. All of them were wailing.

Was this a clusterf*ck?

This was obviously dozens of people being beaten up by one person!

How could this happen?

It was too terrifying.

Bang!

A man wanted to launch a sneak attack from behind, but how could Chuck not notice him?

His fist punched backwards and the man's stomach was distorted. He fell to the ground with a scream, his fierce eyes wide, and he was twitching.

"I said I want to see your boss!" Chuck's voice was cold.

He had a new understanding of his own strength. Even if dozens of people attacked him at once, they were no match for him!

"Oh, God!" Sara cried.

"Unbelievable! This guy is too awesome!"

"One punch man! This is more interesting than the movies!"

"I think he's so handsome. I have fallen for him... I want to be his girlfriend."

"Me too."

In the hotel, the onlookers were amazed!

In particular, several beautiful women were attracted by Chuck's swift movements. They felt that if they were with a man like him, they would feel safe.

Chuck grabbed Sara and pulled her out from the reception desk. "Call your boss!!"

"Don't!" Sara almost pissed her pants.

Chuck's eyes were scary, and so was his voice!

"Call him! I'm telling you one last time! Don't make me hit you!" Chuck said coldly.

Sara struggled with fear.

Suddenly, a lazy voice sounded, "Hey, little dwarf! Let her go!"

Whoosh!

A group of men rushed in from outside. They were wearing the same uniform. This was a real mercenary!

There were more than a hundred men!

They walked in, like a dark cloud overhead, full of majesty and oppression.

Everyone was fierce and full of mockery.

That was right, they had the advantage in numbers, Chuck was just a dwarf. Who was he? He was a nobody!

He would be dead under their feet.

The guests in the hotel were scared out of their wits and all retreated!

"There are so many of them! It's terrible!"

"The man is doomed!"

"Alas, of course, there are so many mercenaries. They are the armed forces here. Even if this man is strong, he is no match for these mercenaries. What a pity!"

Many of the onlookers felt sorry for Chuck.

It was normal for Chuck to knock down the guards with one punch just now, but the newcomers were all mercenaries. They have killed before!

It was definitely impossible for Chuck to deal with these mercenaries like how he dealt with the security guards!

They couldn't stop sighing.

It was Chuck who had hit a steel plate!

"Help! Hurry..." Sara was extremely delighted. She finally had reinforcement. Chuck had met his end!

"Hey, dwarf! Let her go! This is the last time I'll say it!" The one who spoke was Darius, a man with a scarred face.

He was tall and strong, physically imposing to a frightening degree!

Chuck's palm landed on Sara's face.

"Ah!"

Sara cried in pain.

A hint of ferocity flashed across Darius' face. He thought, "D*mn, how dare you hit someone in front of me? Interesting. I'll play with you today!"

There were more than a hundred people, and they were approaching Chuck in unison!

They carried a terrifying aura, like a pack of wolves hunting for prey.

Hundreds of vicious gazes made those who were watching shudder. They were too intimidating!

"Fu*k, you dare slap me? I'll watch you die later..."

Sara was furious.

With so many mercenaries coming through, he still dared to do that?

However!

Slap!

Before she could finish her words, Chuck slapped her in the face again.

Sara screamed, and her cheek was red and swollen. She then fainted!

Plop!

As soon as Chuck let go of Sara, she collapsed to the ground.

Darius looked ferocious. "Interesting!"

"Who are you?" Chuck asked calmly.

"You're asking me? What do you think?" Darius laughed.

Hundreds of mercenaries were all sneering at him!

In this place, they were armed, and they had the final say!

"A bunch of underlings," said Chuck with a shake of his head and a calm tone of voice.

"You're really stubborn! I'm telling you, in this place, I call the shots! If I want you to die, you will. You don't know that, do you? Look at you, you don't know what you're doing! I'll give you a chance. One on one! Hazen, this one's all yours! Can you handle it?" Darius glanced at the man next to him.

"No problem. Three moves and he'll be groaning on the ground!" Hazen stood up indifferently. He thought Chuck was just a joke. 4

Chapter 736

Hazen stepped forward.

Darius and the other mercenaries were all expressionless.

Hazen's nickname was Wolf. He was as ferocious as a wolf when he fought!

He would terrify all his opponents!

This foreign guy was not bad. But in front of Hazen, he was no match for him at all.

Three moves!

In fact, in just three seconds, one could tell the winner!

The guests in the hotel were tense. Facing a situation like this, the foreign man still remained calm?

Perhaps he knew that he was going to die, and it was useless for him to be scared, so he forced himself to calm down!

Chuck was indifferent. He raised his hand and pointed at Hazen, saying, "I won't fight with you. I want to fight you!"

He wagged his finger.

The audience burst into an uproar, and everyone laughed mockingly.

Because Chuck was pointing at Darius, the head of these hundreds of mercenaries.

He actually wanted to fight with the most powerful one?

He was completely courting death!

Did Chuck want to be killed in a second?

"My God, this man is crazy!"

"He's really mad. Perhaps he wants to die a quick death, thus he's looking for the strongest one!"

They were all exclaiming in shock!

There was a trace of ferocity on Darius' face. "You want to fight with me?"

Pfft!

He unabashedly mocked Chuck!

That's right!

Darius was nearly two meters tall and incredibly strong. It was no exaggeration to say that he was a human-sized tank!

He was unstoppable.

Such a strong figure had already driven many men subconsciously afraid!

However, this weak man dared to challenge him?

Darius was laughing.

"Yes, if I have to fight someone, it'll be you!" Chuck said coldly.

"Nobody has dared to talk to me like that in all these years! You're the first." Darius laughed.

"I should also be the last." Chuck shrugged.

"Why? Do you mean that no one would dare to challenge me again in the future?" Darius was not interested in fighting with Chuck at all.

"No, because you're going to die. There will be no one to challenge you anymore."

The crowd roared.

The mercenaries behind Darius all burst into laughter.

It was a mockery!

To Chuck.

"What did this guy say? He said that he wanted to kill the boss? Is this a joke? I'm going to die of laughter..."

Darius had once fought against a hundred people alone!

How could a random guy be able to kill him?

Staring at Chuck, Darius laughed loudly. He was really amused by Chuck's words. "Shorty, you're not qualified to fight with me. I'm not interested in fighting with trash!"

"Are you afraid?" Chuck asked.

Darius's face instantly fell. "Hazen, I don't want to see him anymore. Kill him for me!"

"Yes, boss!"

Hazen took a step forward with killing intent in his eyes!

Chuck shook his head and said, "Well then, come one by one. I'll kill you first!"

"You're courting death!" Hazen snarled.

In his opinion, what Chuck just said was to buy some time and keep himself alive.

He should have killed Chuck just now. He actually let him live for such a long time!

Whoosh!

Hazen rushed out like a wolf!

His speed was enough to shock the guests on the spot!

What lightning speed!

It was over. Let alone to challenge Darius, Chuck couldn't even defeat Hazen!

"You overconfident man. Hazen can kill you in three seconds!" Darius didn't bother to watch.

What was the point?

What was there to see when there won't be any suspense at all?

Chuck would die. This was decided!

However, something unexpected happened.

The moment Hazen rushed out...

He stopped!

The crowd was dumbfounded.

What was going on?

"Oh, I saw it. The foreign guy suddenly attacked. He pulled out a knife and threw it. Is that a throwing knife?"

An onlooker's eyes lit up.

His face was filled with shock!

What?

A throwing knife?

Dead silence befell the hotel lobby!

Everyone looked at the scene in disbelief. No one expected that the battle would end as soon as it started!

"Ah..."

Hazen touched his chest blankly. There was a knife buried in his chest!

It had been deeply penetrated in his heart.

He felt a sharp pain, and it was hard for him to breathe.

"How could this happen? How did this happen?" He shook his head in bewilderment. Even though his eyelids were getting heavy, he couldn't believe what was happening.

"You gave me the chance, three seconds. Well, didn't you say you could kill me in three moves? Now, I've killed you in one second! Are you surprised?" Chuck slowly walked over, looking as calm as if he was taking a stroll.

He reached out and grabbed the knife in Hazen's chest, and pulled it out!

Hassan felt dazed, and then fear began to spread through his heart.

"No, it's not real..."

Plop!

The powerful man fell to the ground. He never woke up again.

Darius suddenly opened his eyes. He was stunned and then furious.

"You killed Hazen?"

The sound was deafening.

His subordinates and the onlookers were all shocked!

"Illusion? Is it an illusion?"

"No, he really did kill Hazen!"

"How could he be so fast?"

The mercenaries who were familiar with Hazen had blank expressions on their faces.

They couldn't figure out what just happened.

How did Chuck manage to kill Hazen with a single slash?

The audience was shocked!

Only Chuck's face was expressionless. "Yes, it was simple. He stopped me from fighting you, so of course I had to get rid of him as soon as possible. Now, am I qualified to fight you?"

There was a ferocious look on Darius' scarred face. Everyone was watching him.

Guests, including his subordinates.

Everyone's attention was focused on him.

Darius gave a menacing grin. "Interesting. You actually killed one of my subordinates. Looks like I'll have to do something about it!"

He strode out.

This was his battle for dignity. Chuck killed his subordinate, he was challenging Darius' own dignity!

The only way to salvage his dignity was with blood!

"Dwarf, you don't know who you are facing. But I'll tell you!" Darius was extremely sinister!

His men were excited!

Why was that so?

As the leader of the mercenaries, Darius had not fought with anyone for three years. No one was qualified to fight him!

As the subordinates, they hoped to see their boss make a move!

"You don't know who you're dealing with right now." Chuck shook his head with a cold expression.

"Oh, isn't it just a dwarf? I know who you are! Now, you will know what you have done wrong!"

His aura burst out.

As far as he was concerned, Chuck had nothing. He was just an ordinary man. Even if he had some tricks up his sleeve, it would be useless here. He was the boss in this place!

"I'll let you know what you've done as well!" Chuck had an expressionless face.

The tension broke out.

The battle was on!

The crowd knew that a great battle was about to begin.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers