

Chapter 777

"Who the fool is has not been decided yet!" Chuck shrugged.

Chuck called his mother and asked if she had any knowledge in gemstone investment.

His mother's first reaction was astonishment.

Chuck knew that his mother must have some knowledge of it.

While they were talking to each other via video call, Karen asked Chuck to zoom in onto the stone, and within seconds, she asked him to buy it.

Since his mother was so certain, why would Chuck not listen to his mother?

He just bid for it!

His mother said that even if he bought it with one hundred million, they would still profit from it.

He only bought it with eighty million, so who was the fool?

It was clear.

"You are surely going to lose money!" Nancy said coldly.

All the wealthy bosses were experienced in that field. They all felt that it was not necessary to bid higher. Since Chuck continued to bid higher for the stone, what did it mean?

It meant that Chuck was a fool!

"Profit or loss is not determined by your words!" Chuck said with a smile.

"Humph!" Nancy was fuming with anger!

She was being kind to him, but he dared to make those remarks to her!

He just didn't know how to appreciate her kindness.

"Alright, this one was bought by guest number 20!" Everyone showed a mocking expression.

When they were auctioning the items, there were professionals who had estimated that the stone was worth up to 70 million!

Chuck actually spent 80 million on it, and gave them a profit of ten million. What was the point?

He was a fool!

Chuck shrugged.

He was too lazy to argue with those people. Those people who thought of themselves as experienced were nothing compared to his mother.

The next piece was up for auction.

Chuck secretly made a video call with his mother and zoomed into the stone. Since his mother was making comments, Chuck listened to her seriously.

He didn't expect that his mother was such an expert. Once he was done here, he was going to ask his mother to teach him more about gemstone investments.

In fact, Karen didn't expect that Chuck would suddenly take an interest in gemstone investments!

"Chuck, Nancy is also an expert. You can learn from her first," Karen said.

She glanced at Nancy and felt that she was not bad. She was young, yet she was experienced.

"Got it, Mom."

Nancy had already made her bid, but the stone was bidding for higher since everyone had their eyes on it.

Nancy was getting anxious!

It was all Chuck's fault. He had just spent 80 million on a piece of garbage. It was going to cause them a loss. Otherwise, she would have been more confident!

"200 million! Guest number 1 bids for 200 million!"

The auctioneer was shouting.

Nancy sighed. If things went on like that, she would return empty-handed that night!

"Three hundred million!" Chuck raised his sign!

Yolanda was stunned!

The guests who were bidding all looked at each other in dismay!

"What's going on? Why did this young man still bid for it? How can he directly raise the price to 300 million? Is he a fool?"

"I think that he is really a fool. Is he here to make trouble?"

"The stone is at most worth 250 million, but this fool bid 300 million?"

People had different opinions on Chuck and they all sneered at him.

"Chuck, what are you doing?" Nancy was furious. The last piece had not been auctioned yet. If he spent all of their money so quickly, what were they going to do when the last piece was auctioned?

"Nothing, I'm just bidding." Chuck was speechless.

"I'm warning you, you are going to pay the 300 million yourself. Don't use my money!" Nancy uttered coldly.

What was that amount to him?

Using her money to buy a stone that wasn't worth much? Didn't it mean that they were going to lose money?

"Don't worry. I'm not short on money. I won't use your money," Chuck said.

"You better not go back on your words!"

Nancy was fuming. Chuck had probably already used up all of his money, so why did she have to continue to work with him?

Nancy was even more furious.

Why did Yolanda introduce him to her?

It was not good for her not to cooperate with him. She could only cooperate with him this time, and never again in the future!

Nancy felt that it was the worst partnership in her entire career!

It seemed that she had to be more careful with who she partnered with next time!

Chuck's bid was ridiculed by everyone. No one continued to bid because it was not worth it!

If he bought it with 300 million, he would definitely lose money!

They wouldn't compete with a fool!

Everyone laughed out loud. He was going to cry once he got his hands on that stone.

The final item finally appeared in front of them!

The stone was the size of a bucket.

"The starting price of it is one hundred million! Let's bid! It's absolutely worth it!" The auctioneer did not even need to introduce it, but the atmosphere was chaotic!

They all knew that the last item was an absolutely rare stone.

Nancy let out a sigh. She definitely wouldn't be able to bid for it.

Alas!

She didn't want to bid anymore!

Nancy was not in the mood at all. All the wealthy bosses had their eyes on the stone. How could she stand a chance against them!

Chuck had just spent 380 million. At most, they could only afford another 100 million.

What was that little money going to do?

Even with her two hundred million, they would not even stand a chance.

"Miss Lynch, don't you want to bid?" Chuck asked.

What on earth was Nancy thinking? Was she being overcautious?

"Bid what? This will definitely be sold for about 500 million. I only have less than 200 million. Do you have the remaining 300 million dollars?" Nancy was really helpless.

If Chuck didn't bid for the last two stones, they might be able to stand a chance. But he basically spent all of their money, what else could they do now?

"200 million!"

"Three hundred and fifty million!"

The price increased exponentially. A lot of wealthy people had their eyes on that piece. What chance did they have?

None.

"Nancy, don't be agitated. Chuck has the money," Yolanda said.

She didn't know how much Chuck had, but he definitely had billions to spare.

"He does? Yolanda, are you kidding me?" Nancy said coldly.

"No, why would I joke with you?"

While the two of them were talking, Chuck raised his sign!

"Five hundred million!"

Nancy was furious, "Five hundred million? Do you have that much money? I only have two hundred million!"

Everyone was taken aback!

Turning their heads, they saw that Chuck was the one bidding!

"Is this guy nuts? Who knows him?"

"I don't."

"I don't know him either."

"How can a young man have so much money? He just spent 380 million and now he is still bidding for 500 million? He has that much money?"

"Yeah, do you have that much money? If you don't, don't make trouble!"

The guests were enraged.

What the hell? How many items did he want?

"Yes, I do!" Chuck said flatly.

The auctioneer was taken aback. He had been an auctioneer for so long, but he had never seen Chuck before!

"I bid for 500 million. If no one else bids higher, then this stone belongs to me," Chuck said loudly.

The crowd was furious!

Chapter 778

"I would like to see how much money you have! I bid six hundred million!"

One of the wealthy bosses said!

"I'll bid too! Six hundred and thirty million!" A bald man said coldly.

"I'll bid too. Six hundred and fifty million!"

At the auction, several big bosses were irritated by Chuck.

Nancy was furious. There was no chance for them.

The price had sky-rocketed to almost seven hundred million!

There won't be the slightest bit of chance!

Nancy was so furious that she wanted to curse!

"The guy must be frightened now. It's six hundred and fifty million. How could he bid more?"

"Of course he can't! He just spent three hundred and eighty million a moment ago! How can he have the money? It's impossible!"

The guests were making their own assumptions that Chuck didn't have the money to bid anymore.

Everyone there was wealthy. How could Chuck be in the same league as them?

Yolanda glanced at Chuck without saying a word.

She could feel the change in Chuck since his return. He was calm and composed.

Meanwhile, Chuck remained calm!

However, in Nancy's eyes, Chuck's expression only made her mad!!

He didn't have the money. Why was he so calm?

"It's no fun bidding in tens of millions! One billion!" Chuck said as he raised the sign.

The audience burst into an uproar!

"One billion? Is he serious?"

"He raised it by 350 million!"

"Could it be that this guy comes from some super wealthy family?"

"Who knows?"

All the people in the room burst into an uproar because of Chuck's sudden remark.

Yolanda was dumbfounded. One billion?

She knew that it was nothing to Chuck. His calm and composed expression clearly showed that she had underestimated how rich he was!

Nancy was stunned, frozen!

He actually bid one billion? Did he have that much money?

The auctioneer's jaw dropped. One billion?

He had presided over so many auctions and never had he seen such a high bid before!

It was really a sky-high price!

"Alright, this guest bids for one billion. Is there anyone else who will bid higher than this guest?" The auctioneer roared excitedly!

The people who had just bid were furious at that moment!

Chuck had insulted them!

How could they be insulted by a reckless young man who didn't even have the slightest experience in gemstone investment?

"Boy, do you even have that much money?" The bald man said coldly.

It was challenging even for them to come up with a lump sum of 1.4 billion, let alone for Chuck!

"It's none of your business if I have the money. If you want to buy it, just bid for it. If not, then shut up," Chuck said coldly.

"F*ck!" The bald man was fuming.

Everyone was clamoring!

Was Chuck looking for death? Didn't he know how powerful that bald man was?

He dared to humiliate the bald man in public. Did he really want to die?

As expected, a reckless fool would always be a reckless fool!

It was not a pity at all for him to die!

"No one is bidding. Auctioneer, why don't you sound your hammer?" Chuck said.

"Yes, sir!"

The auctioneer was so excited that he wanted to slam the hammer!

It was really his first time seeing someone bidding for one billion!

They were all furious. Chuck appeared out of nowhere and took all the three stones away. They were upset that they were going to leave empty-handed.

"F*ck, you are going to suffer a hell of a loss!"

"I've roughly estimated that the last item is only worth seven hundred million at most. He is going to suffer a huge loss!"

"Definitely. Even a fool knows that this is definitely a huge loss. He thinks that he is so great just because he has bought the three stones. But in reality, he is just losing lots of his money!"

They all laughed at Chuck.

All kinds of mockery could be heard!

The auctioneer slammed his hammer.

The auction officially ended!

Chuck went backstage to make the payment!

"He really has so much money?" Nancy was taken aback. It was unimaginable!

If he could afford more than a billion, then he was definitely more wealthy than the rest of the people.

"Yes, he definitely has the money."

"But I thought that he only owns the plaza that is worth a few hundred million?" Nancy couldn't seem to understand it!

She knew that Chuck's City Square was not too bad; the business was looking good. The plaza was definitely worth more than one billion dollars.

However, that was just an asset, there was no cash before it was sold off. Rightfully, Chuck's cash flow should not be more than 300 million. But Chuck just cashed out 1.4 billion!

"Who told you that?" Yolanda was speechless.

"You! Was it not you?" Nancy was dumbfounded.

"I didn't tell you that. You only asked about the plaza. Chuck has a construction site and he has invested more than two billion dollars in it. Now, there is also a five-star hotel, which was bought for nearly four billion..." Yolanda explained in detail.

Nancy's dazzling eyes widened. Her head felt light-headed as if she had just been punched.

"What?"

"I haven't finished yet... He has invested in filmmaking..." Yolanda continued with the list of investments while Nancy sat on the chair in a daze.

How could Chuck who seemed so ordinary be wealthier than all the people there?

It was unimaginable!

"Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

Nancy couldn't stop smiling bitterly. She had just been humiliated. She was showing off in front of Chuck who had a net worth of billions.

"Well, you never asked!"

"Fine, I misjudged. He is indeed rich. However, he has paid too much for the three pieces which he will not make any profit from. Conservatively, it is estimated he may lose 400 million!"

Nancy said seriously.

She heard the analysis of the bosses, therefore she shared the same view.

If Chuck's bid was too high, he would definitely suffer a loss!

Yolanda was nervous. He could lose so much money?

Everyone was laughing at him. They all wanted to see Chuck make a fool out of himself.

Chuck came out from the backstage after settling the payment.

Nancy no longer had her doubts. She didn't expect Chuck to be no any ordinary person. He was just keeping a low profile. Who would have thought that such a person could have so much money!

"I, I'm sorry for what happened just now," Nancy said while lowering her head. She was too embarrassed to face him.

"It's okay." Chuck didn't mind.

"He really paid for it. He is really super wealthy."

"I'm certain that his family is rich. He looks like a fool, where else could he get his money from?"

"That's true!"

The mocking laughter continued. When Chuck walked over, everyone followed him. It seemed that they were going to cut the stones.

The stones were worth 1.4 billion. What kind of gems were in those stones?

They were not too surprised. They just wanted to know how much Chuck would lose!

"Open the first one." Chuck pointed at a stone.

The staff member immediately cut the stone.

Chuck was full of confidence while Nancy sighed. So what if he had the money? He didn't have a good eye for these things. He was bound to lose money!

Chapter 779

Frankly, Yolanda was also a little anxious!

It was his first time doing gemstone investments, but he seemed so confident. Where did he get the confidence from, since he didn't have much experience in that field?

Wouldn't he lose a lot of money?

Yolanda thought that she had caused him to suffer losses by bringing him there. She shouldn't have brought him there in the first place.

Alas!

There was an uproar at that moment!

"What are you guys making noise about? Let me go first. Open mine first!" The man who was the first to purchase the stone, walked over and said.

"Sir, this..." The staff member asked Chuck.

"It doesn't matter. He can go first." Chuck wasn't bothered by it.

He had never seen that before!

"Alright, I'll cut this stone for him first."

Since Chuck didn't have a problem with it, the staff member just agreed.

There was a clamor!

The sound of the cutting machine was ear-piercing as it drilled into the stone.

Everyone's eyes were fixated on the stone!

Chuck was also very intrigued about what was inside that piece of stone.

When the machine drilled deeper, a flash of green could be seen!

"Wow, there's jade!"

"Wow, you have such a good eye for jade. You can easily earn six million dollars..."

Everyone was shocked.

They did not expect that there would be jade at all in that piece of stone.

"What if I buy this from you for 15 million dollars."

"I'll pay 16 million!"

Several bosses started to quote their prices.

That ore seemed really good.

As long as they bought it, they would definitely make a lot of money. So, why wouldn't they try to buy it over?

It sounded like they were trying to snatch it away from him.

The boss was laughing while negotiating the price.

On the other end, the rest of the buyers also walked over to cut their stones. Chuck didn't mind letting them go ahead first.

Chuck actually found that gemstone investment was rather interesting.

"Boss, it's your turn," the staff member said to Chuck.

"Okay, cut this one!" Chuck pointed at the smallest piece.

Everyone's gaze was on the stone!

They were also there to watch the show.

The staff member slowly cut in!

From the edge, one-third of the stone was cut!

"Didn't he buy it for 80 million? I think he is going to lose 20 million!"

"I'm sure it'll be more than that. I think he is going to lose 30 million!"

"I think he is going to lose half of his money!"

They were all laughing at him. Nancy was silent for a moment because she felt that what they were saying was true. Everyone there was an expert in this field.

Everyone agreed Chuck was definitely going to suffer huge losses.

Nancy felt that it should only be worth around 20 million.

A person could suffer a great loss in gemstone investment, even if they had the money.

They needed to have a keen eye!

If Chuck didn't have a keen eye, he was bound to lose money!

With how recklessly Chuck spent his money on the stones, it was better for him not to be involved in that field.

Thud!

The sound of the cutting machine was ear-piercing. Dust was all over the place.

"There's a shade of green!"

"There should be jade in it! Otherwise, he would have suffered a great loss."

"The stone is filled with jade. Based on the color, it looks like imperial jade!"

"What? Oh my gosh, it's imperial jade!"

Everyone was taken aback!

Everyone was frozen! It was just shocking!

Even the expression of the staff member changed. When he was cutting through, he became even more meticulous.

"It's really imperial jade! This will definitely be worth billions. He is going to make a huge profit by just buying it for 80 million!"

They were all astonished!

Everyone had been wrong about that stone. It was highly profitable!

Everyone could not believe it!

"It's actually imperial jade. How did he figure it out?" Nancy muttered to herself. Her beautiful eyes widened.

Yolanda was dumbfounded too.

Did Chuck have such a good eye for stones?

Chuck smirked in his heart. It was his mother who had a keen eye. Through the video call, his mother could tell how much it was worth. His mother was truly impressive.

Chuck was looking forward to the next stone. What would happen then?

"Continue!" Chuck pointed at another piece.

The staff member gulped and began to cut the second piece. He really didn't expect that the first piece would have the rare imperial jade.

What kind of vision did he have?

As the sound of the cutting machine rang out again, everyone glanced at each other.

"I don't think he would be so lucky again. At the very least he is going to suffer a loss of 50 million with an investment of 300 million!"

"I also think he is going to suffer a great loss!"

While they were making their assumptions and before they could say further, the stone revealed a dark green gem!

Everyone was shocked again!

"Oh my gosh! It's impossible!"

"Is it true? It's another imperial jade!"

They were all petrified!

Their jaws dropped. The imperial jade was rare, but getting two at once was really unimaginable!

Nancy was really dumbfounded. Her jaw dropped. Her beautiful face was filled with horror!

Both of them had imperial jade. How lucky was he?

"Oh my gosh. Such a large piece of imperial jade, it is worth at least 500 million!"

The hall was filled with exclamations of amazement!

They had expected earlier that Chuck was going to lose lots of money. However, to everyone's surprise, he was profiting from the first two stones!

He was just a newbie in that field!

"How about I buy this from you for 500 million?" One of them said hurriedly.

"I, I'll pay 530 million!"

Everyone was scrambling for it!

"Sorry, I'm not selling!" Chuck shook his head. He was going to make a necklace out of it.

"You are new to this. You can't handle such a huge thing. Sell it to me and I'll help you out!"

"I can handle it!" Chuck shrugged.

Everyone was speechless! How could he handle it by himself!

Nancy couldn't believe how Chuck made his remarks so calmly. She had the hunch that he wanted to get into that industry!

What did Chuck want to do?

Did he want to turn it into a necklace?

It required a huge amount of investment!

"Cut the last one!" Chuck's eyes twinkled. He was also a little excited.

Chuck had learned quite a lot from his mother and had gained some experience from the last two stones which were cut earlier.

Could it be imperial jade again?

Everyone held their breath!

"There were two consecutive imperial jades. He can't be so lucky to get the third piece too?"

"Absolutely impossible! If this is another imperial jade, I'm going to change my last name!"

"I don't think it's possible either. How could he be so lucky? Let's find out. He has profited 300 million from the last two pieces. He is surely going to suffer a huge loss this time. If he didn't bid for this last one, he could've still profited..."

Everyone made their assumptions again, but Chuck remained unmoved. He stared at the third stone and said, "Cut!"

Thud!

The staff member gulped hard and started cutting the stone nervously!
