

Chapter 252

Fade took a step forward and took Klaude's hand first. He patted him on the shoulders and greeted him politely, "Hello!"

While talking and laughing, he deliberately moved his face closer to Klaude's as though ready to give him a greeting kiss.

Klaude took a step back and quickly rejected. Then, he reached out his arm and welcomed Fade and Quin into the venue with a smile on his face.

The minute they walked in, the smile on his face quickly disappeared. His skin on his right hand had turned an abnormal shade of red. He bent down and squealed in pain while clasping his swollen hand.

A servant quickly came over and said, "Mr. Klaude, do you need me to call a doctor?"

Klaude shook his head and said, "There's no need. Watch out for Fade Chen and Quin Lin. I don't want to drag the Life Elixir Wine project for too long."

"Understood. I'll act according to plan," the servant said as he left the room.

Klaude turned and watched coldly as Fade and Quin slowly disappeared from his sight.

As they walked into the hall, Quin could not help herself but gently pinch Fade's arm while chastizing, "Why did you use so much force while shaking your hand just now? Klaude's hand must be burning with pain now."

"No I didn't, I just used a little strength," Fade tried to give an excuse.

Quin sighed but her hands were tied, so she could only softly remind him, "There are a lot of international businessmen at the party today. Control yourself please and don't do anything stupid."

"Yes, dear, I'll definitely keep that in mind." Fade Chen tipped his head in salutation to Quin, turning the heads of many guests around them.

Quin blushed in response. She quickly took hold of Fade's hand, pulled him aside and said, "Stop fooling around. I've run into some friends and I'm going to have a chat with them. Do you want to come along?"

"No, I'll go grab something to eat there." He shook his head in a hurry.

He was pretty sure that whatever his wife was going to talk about was related to business, something he had zero interest in. Therefore, he escaped as soon as he saw the chance and started enjoying some food aside.

From time to time, he looked at his wife and saw her talking and laughing with the businessmen, seemingly having a wonderful discussion. Fade was glad since Klaude wasn't making a move, not even appearing in front of them. He was relieved.

At this moment, the clock struck eight and the lights in the hall were dimmed. The main stage was lit by a spotlight, and Klaude walked out with a smile. Immediately, the hall was filled with applause.

After giving a short welcoming speech, the banquet officially started.

Fade had no interest in these cumbersome procedures and was ready to hide in a corner to enjoy some personal time with himself. But just at this moment, he saw a man in his thirties with a pair of gold-rimmed glasses standing next to Klaude.

"Isn't this Boris Song? Why is he here?" Fade was shocked as he recognized the man as Mindy Wu's ex-husband, Boris Song.

Moreover, Boris was accompanied by a woman about in her early twenties. He was chatting softly with the woman with a broad smile on his face, even pointing towards the crowd as though he was showing her off proudly.

Seeing this, Fade couldn't help but mutter under his breath, "Boris Song is really a hypocritical guy. Yesterday, he came tumbling back to Mindy and even pleaded to start things over with her. Yet, he's already cheated on her with other women."

Since Mindy was already completely over this guy, Fade was too lazy to bother.

The official start to the banquet left everyone in an even more heated up. Everyone seemed to be a good mood as they were chatting away politely, some seemingly indoctrinated from the excitement and already signing contracts to collaborate.

Fade remained uninterested as he grabbed a plate of food and headed towards the balcony. He had preferred to eat by himself whilst enjoying the cool evening breeze.

Just as he was going to dig in, he suddenly heard a woman's voice cry out, "No, don't, let go of me."

"Is there someone who's already making their move impatiently?" He immediately frowned and walked quietly towards the sound.

The Western-style balcony was specifically designed to be large and luxurious, huge stone pillars adorning the sides of the balcony.

When Fade walked past the stone pillar, he could see the whole scene unfold in front of him clearly.

A foreigner in his fifties was beetred and had forced a petite Chinese woman to a dark corner. At the moment, he had his big, furry arm out and was trying to grope the poor woman.

The woman's face was full of anxiety as she desperately tried to break free of the foreigner's iron grasp. Her effort was of no avail as he was much stronger and larger than her. He lunged towards her despite her resistance, and she looked troubled while she cried out, "Let me go, I don't want this!"

"Beauty, it's okay. If you follow me, I will give you whatever you want, be it money, jobs, or the green card to the Micovia. I can help you." The foreigner scootched closer to the woman and tempted her.

However, she resisted fiercely and continued to sob, "No, I don't want any of those. Mr. Mike, I'm not that kind of woman. Please let me go, I don't want this."

Seeing as he was about to succeed, the foreigner didn't let go of the woman and leaned towards her, one hand slowly reaching for her clothes.

The woman was visibly terrified as she tried to shout for help, "Senior Song, I don't want this, please ask Mr. Mike to stop. Senior Song, help me!"

It was only then that Fade noticed that this woman was the one who came with Boris Song. Boris had been standing at the other side of the pillar and silently watching everything.

From his angle, he could obviously see what the foreigner was trying to do, but he made no effort to stop him. Upon hearing the woman's desperate cries for help, not only did he not help, instead he tried to persuade her sneakily, "Willa, don't you understand? I'm giving you an opportunity! You have to cherish it!"

"No, senior, I don't want it!" The woman continued to cry out.

Boris chuckled and said, "Willa, everything's fine, you just have to accompany Mr. Mike for a while. Don't you know how much authority he has in Micovia? To be with him like this is a blessing in disguise for you!"

"Beauty, just give in to me. If you do, I'll give you a job in Micovia and even help you process the green card documents to live in Micovia permanently." Mike began to tempt her with all kinds of conditions.

However, she continued to resist fiercely and said, "No, I'm not going to Micovia. I don't want a green card. I don't..."

Hearing this, Boris was annoyed and snapped, "Willa, don't be ungrateful. Mr. Mike is a Micovian, and you should be grateful to be able to sleep with him. Do you understand?"

Chapter 253

The girl could only attempt to struggle, but her efforts were futile.

Boris Song sneered and said, "Willa, yes, that's it. Treat Mr. Mike properly and I'll be sure to reward your efforts later."

As he spoke, a cold smirk appeared on the corner of his face and he leisurely stood aside, seemingly prepared to keep all this under the table.

Upon seeing this, Fade's gaze sharpened and he unleashed the fury within. He stormed towards them and grabbed Mike by the collar, pulling him away from the vulnerable woman. Before anyone could react, he whipped his hand out and started slapping Mike's face multiple times.

"Slap, slap, slap!"

A series of loud slaps rung in the air and Mike's face was swollen.

Boris muttered to himself upon hearing the sounds behind him.

"I never expected that a fifty-year old person like Mike would be so aggressive... That's such a loud ruckus he's making, could it be that he's on some sort of drug?"

"After making Mike satisfied, my job and status is basically more secure than ever. Things will only get better for me here onwards, haha!"

He was deeply immersed in his imagination for his bright future that he didn't notice Fade. It was only until he heard the screams of Mike calling for help did he realize that something was wrong.

"Does Mike have some sort of fetish?" Boris thought to himself and secretly turned around to see what was going on.

The scene that was imprinted on his eyes left him dumbfounded.

Mike wasn't the one playing around, he was the one being played instead. He was lifted off his feet and was dangling in the air helplessly while being slapped simultaneously across his face. His cheeks were already swollen beyond recognition, and the rest of his body was no better either. The woman who barely managed to escape had turned on him and started kicking him furiously, leaving footprints and small holes from her high heels on his clothes.

After being shocked momentarily, Boris returned to his senses and rushed towards the trio angrily while shouting at the top of his lungs, "What are you doing? Put Mr. Mike down."

Fade snorted coldly and glared at Boris. Then, he said, "I'm the one who's supposed to ask questions here. What the hell are you doing? Not only are you trying to use your junior as a bargaining chip, you even watched as she was being violated with no intent to help! What kind of human being are you?"

His words were like an alarm bell that woke Boris up and rung in his ears wildly.

In particular, he was utterly shook when he saw that the assailant was Fade Chen. His eyes widened and he mumbled, "It's you? How can this..."

Fade just snorted and gave Boris a kick that sent him sprawling on the ground. Then he asked coldly, "I'll ask you again, what are you doing?"

Judging by his current situation, he knew that he didn't stand a chance against Fade, especially when Mike was already half conscious. An idea popped up in his head and he quickly shouted, "Help! There's a physical brawl going on here, somebody come help!"

In truth, the initial sounds had already alarmed everyone on top of Boris' screams. Everyone rushed to see what was going on.

The scene of the one-sided fight caused a heated discussion and left fingers pointing judgementally at Fade.

Mike and Boris were both recognized names amongst the crowd. However, not many people knew of Fade Chen and Willa Lu, which led people to think that they were the ones who started the fight.

"Someone's fighting? Mr. Mike was badly beaten."

"Who is that young man? Fighting in such an occasion, doesn't he know that this will lead to diplomatic problems!"

"Annoying. I can't believe he interrupted me in the middle of important business. Damn it."

.....

Amidst the discussion, Quin Lin and Klaude also walked over.

The minute Boris saw Klaude, he quickly ran over and knelt in front of Klaude while telling on Fade, "Mr. Klaude, you have to help me!"

"Mr. Mike was beaten by this guy for no reason, and he even attacked me. Please do something, Mr. Klaude!"

The half-conscious Mike who heard Klaude's name added in weakly, "Klaude, avenge me."

Klaude's gaze fell upon Fade while the focus of the crowd was on him. Evidently, he was the main star of the show tonight.

At this time, Quin Lin, who had a puzzled look on her face, also nudged secretively at Fade.

She glanced at him and her mouth moved as she was about to ask what had happened. But when she saw the angry and serious expression on Fade's face, she said nothing but knew that she trusted him completely. She nodded and said, "I support your decision."

Fade was relieved and felt thankful that Quin was so supportive of him. Then, he beckoned Willa, who was already scared out of her wits.

Klaude was momentarily silent as he tried to think of excuses to put the blame on Fade. After a while, he looked towards Fade and said, "Mr. Chen, Mr. Boris Song is my subordinate and he is also my friend. On the other hand, Mr. Mike is an important business partner that I specially invited from Micovia. I would like to ask you to give me an explanation for why you beat him up for no reason."

Fade sneered and said, "No reason? When have you ever seen me beat someone up for no reason?"

Klaude was taken aback. His expression was slightly stifled but he still restrained himself and said, "If it isn't for no reason, then I hope to hear a reasonable explanation from Mr. Chen."

"Reasonable explanation! How about rape and assault? Is that a reasonable explanation?" Fade's eyes darkened and he shouted coldly.

His words caused a scene as many people started chattering and glancing at Willa.

Klaude's expression wasn't looking very good. He couldn't say anything to refute Fade, so he winked at Boris.

Boris understood his signal and started to complain, "Nonsense, this is completely nonsense. Mr. Mike and I would never do such vulgar things. You're accusing us of something we would never do. What are you up to?"

Mike also added in and denied, "Yes, it's impossible for me to do such a thing. I'm from Micovia, how could I stoop so low and attempt to rape her?"

Willa listened to the shameless remarks of the two men and was infuriated. Eyes swollen red from the crying, she said, "You, you both are shameless. You tricked me here just now and assaulted me yet now you deny any of it."

"Willa, although I am your senior, if you continue to accuse us, I will sue you." Boris threatened menacingly.

"I'll sue too!" said Mike immediately.

Klaude also chose this moment to add on, "Miss Lu, you'd better think about it clearly. Mr. Mike is the director of the biggest flour processing company in Micovia, Marleen Company. His reputation is very important."

"Mr. Song is also a green card holder of Micovia. At the same time, he also represents the Keele Corporation's reputation. If you lie, Miss Lu, the Marleen Company and Keele Corporation will retain the right to press further charges."

Chapter 254

"I didn't, you..." Willa Lu was so agitated at their shameless behavior that she burst into tears.

Fade Chen patted her shoulder gently as a sign of comfort before turning to glare at Boris Song and Mike. His sharp gaze passed over them then landed on Klaude while he sighed heavily in disappointment, saying, "Well, I finally see your true colours today."

"First, there were two scumbags who didn't dare to admit their mistakes and even tried to talk their way out of it. To make matters worse, I can't believe that there's someone who's worse than them. Even before the matter has been cleared up, this person has been trying to find excuses for his companions to get away with it! How despicable." Fade didn't hold back and started criticizing them sharply.

Upon hearing this, the three men's expressions darkened and they were visibly upset.

Klaude cleared his throat and remarked unhappily, "Mr. Chen, I will remember what you said. If this was brought to court, you will be convicted of intentional slander and will have to pay the price for it."

"Trying to use legal terms on me?" Fade sneered. Following that, he took out his phone and showed everyone the video that he had recorded beforehand, "Why don't you enlighten me on the legal responsibilities you will have to bear after seeing this?"

As soon as the video was shown, everyone's eyes widened in disbelief and disgust. Particularly, Boris and Mike's faces immediately turned deathly pale.

Klaude remained silent. Even though he had just arrived here, he knew that such behaviour was unacceptable and would be severely punished.

If they really chose to bring this matter to court, Mike and Boris would stand no chance to escape free-of-charge. The Keele Corporation's reputation would also be heavily damaged.

The guests couldn't help but judge them heavily. Many who once thought positively of Mike and Boris were now covering their mouths in shock. They had never expected the two of them to commit such atrocities.

Quin glanced at the video and knew why Fade was so angry. She couldn't imagine what he had felt upon witnessing the monstrosity that was about to happen; she herself was already extremely disgusted by them. Her rationale was the only thing holding her back from beating Boris and Mike up.

She turned to look at Willa, who was still shaking from the fear. Quin put her hand around her shoulders and gently comforted her, "Don't be scared, we'll do anything we can to help you expose those bastards. They won't be able to escape the sanctions of law anytime soon."

Klaude who looked deep in thought secretly winked at Boris and Mike.

Like an exceptional drama queen, Boris' expression changed and he knelt on the ground begging for mercy, "I'm sorry, it's all our fault. Mr. Mike and I drank too much and we got a little drunk. That's why something like this happened."

Mike quickly nodded and agreed, "Yes, yes. We drank too much and couldn't think straight, that's why we accidentally hurt Miss Lu."

The two of them apologized and begged for mercy. Klaude took this moment to stand up as though he was trying to mediate the argument and said, "Miss Lu, Boris and Mr. Mike made a mistake, but I believe that they didn't mean it. Miss Lu, can you give them another chance?"

"If Miss Lu is so willing to forgive us, I am willing to offer you a chance to work at the Keele Corporation's headquarters in Micovia. Please think about it."

Hearing what Klaude said, Mike quickly added, "The Marleen Company is also willing to provide compensations. Miss Lu, we really didn't mean it."

As the truth had been exposed with no way to cover it up properly, they tried to buy Willa's silence by offering her fame and fortune.

She bit her lip, shook her head and said firmly, "I don't want your compensation. I want to sue them and let them pay the price they deserve."

As soon as she said this, the trio's expression didn't look well and their fists clenched tightly in frustration.

Klaude took a deep breath, forced a smile and tried to bargain, "Miss Lu, if you are unhappy with the conditions we have offered, we are willing to negotiate them. Such a small issue..."

"Small issue?" Fade scoffed as he interrupted Klaude rudely. He glared sharply at them as though he was trying to prick their conscience and said, "When Willa had told the truth just now, you guys didn't admit it and even tried to accuse her of lying and tarnishing your reputation. After being exposed and caught red-handed, you try to dismiss the assault and attempted rape as a "small issue"?"

"Mr. Klaude, is this your so-called "work ethics" in Micovia?" Fade questioned.

Klaude could feel everyone's eyes on his every move. He gulped and clenched his teeth while dismissing Fade's claim, "This has nothing to do with my company or my country. I'm just trying to help my friends Boris and Mike obtain forgiveness from Miss Lu."

"Forgiveness?" Fade snorted. "However, Miss Lu has expressed no intention of forgiving them and wants to sue them in court instead. What are you going to do now?"

Klaude's face darkened, anger flashing through his eyes.

Mike held a position that was similar to his own. He had come to China on behalf of Klaude's invitation. If anything happened to him, Keele Corporation and Marleen corporation would definitely be affected greatly.

Thus, in any case, he had to keep Mike safe.

As for Boris, although he was only Klaude's subordinate, he was fundamentally Chinese. Therefore, he was well equipped with knowledge regarding Bay City, and was going to play a big part in his business schemes here in Bay City. Hence, he had to ensure Boris' safety as well.

The thought of this made Klaude frown and he snorted as he announced his decision, "Since you are unwilling to come to a truce, I will have no choice but turn to my legal administrators for help."

As he spoke, he looked and Boris and Mike then back at Fade, "I will have my family send out the Keele Corporation's exclusive and top notch lawyers to be in charge of this case."

"To them, this would be a piece of cake. After all, someone probably seduced them and tried to push the blame to them now."

As soon as Klaude said that, Willa started to sob again out of the anger and frustration.

Even Quin who was quite close to Klaude looked at him in disbelief. She pointed at him angrily and said, "Klaude, how could you? You're just trying to cover the truth up now!"

Klaude smiled apologetically and bowed to Quin while replying, "Quin, I'm really sorry. This matter concerns my pride as a Micovian, so I have to treat this seriously. Moreover, there may be more than meets the eye. We can't just come to a conclusion easily just by looking at a video."

"Klaude, you..." At this moment, Quin was more speechless towards his shamelessness. Never would she expect him to be so brazen.

Boris and Mike were reminded by Klaude and immediately started to argue back.

"Mr. Klaude is right. We were wrongly accused."

"This whole thing was set up by that woman."

The two of them pointed at Willa and started to accuse her of various things.

Chapter 255

Klaude asked in surprise, "Boris, Mike, what's going on?"

Boris Song thought of something and he began to spout nonsense, "Willa is actually a graduate student of Bay City University. She majored in food science and technology, and she is my junior."

"This afternoon, I went to my university to visit my former teacher and discussed about my current situation. This woman was envious when she heard that I worked for Keele Corporation and received the Green Card from Micovia, so she tried to get close to me."

"Later, she heard that I would come to this dinner, so she pestered me and asked me to bring her here. I didn't want to agree at first, but my teacher asked me to bring her. I couldn't refuse, so I brought her here."

"After the party started, I introduced her to Mike. When she heard that he was an executive working for the Mar's Company, she wanted to work for his company and follow him to Micovia."

As he spoke to this point, Boris glanced at Mike.

Mike said immediately, "Yes, he's right. At first, I greeted her politely. I didn't expect her to pester me."

She said that she wanted to inquire about Micovia, and she told me that she was preparing to study there next year."

"She asked me to come to the balcony. When I was distracted, she threw herself directly into my arms and shouted for help. She was trying to slander me," Mike said.

At this moment, when Willa Lu heard their words, she was anxious and angry. She cried and said, "No, that's not the truth, I didn't..."

Klaude did not give Willa any chance to speak at all. He said coldly, "Miss Lu, we shall wait for the lawyers of Keele Corporation to arrive. Then, you can explain your side of the story to them."

Willa was instantly frightened. She was just a student who was still in school. Boris had returned to the university, and she had attended the banquet because of him.

However, it was Boris who had taken the initiative to bring her here. Mike was inappropriate to her as soon as she came to the balcony.

Now, they had completely jumbled up the facts and even blamed her for the situation. They had status and authority, so she was completely panicked and didn't know what to do.

Witnessing this, Klaude's eyes flashed in satisfaction. He leaned his body slightly to one side and discreetly gave a look to the people around him. Immediately, many guests and businessmen who surrounded them stood up at the moment. Many of them were Chinese.

They began to give advice to Willa, acting like they were concerned.

"Willa, the lawyers working for Keele Corporation are not to be messed with. You'd better not lie, otherwise, you'll be in trouble."

"Yes, I remember that two years ago, someone scolded Keele Corporation, and they sued him. Finally, he was sentenced to three years in jail!"

"The lawyers of Micovia are to be taken seriously. If you really go to court, you will be punished, and there will be no chance for you to change the outcome."

Several people threatened Willa, and others pretended to be concerned. They came to Willa's side and tried to advise her.

"Willa, you are young and you are still in school. You don't know what society is like. In fact, this is so common, and there is really nothing to it. You think too much."

"Yes, Willa, when I first started work, I also encountered this type of thing. At that time, I was frightened, but later, my boss just said that he was making fun of me. I was thinking too much about the situation."

"Speaking of that, Willa, this is a great opportunity for you! Think about it, the terms proposed by Mr. Klaude and Mr. Mike just now are absolutely generous!"

"Yeah, it's a chance to work for Keele Corporation or Mar's Company. These are large international companies! What's more, you will have the opportunity to receive the Green Card from Micovia. It's such good fortune indeed."

"Yes, yes. The Green Card of Micovia. People all over the world are fighting for it! Especially in recent years, Micovia has tightened the immigration rules. Even people like me, who have invested tens of millions of dollars there, have difficulty in applying for the Green Card. How precious that you have this opportunity now!"

"Willa, to be honest, didn't Mike fail to seduce you? It doesn't matter. Even if he had succeeded, it's still a good opportunity for you. If you really become pregnant with his child, then you can go directly to Micovia and become a permanent resident of Micovia. That will be much better than a green card!"

"So, Willa, it's not a big deal. You're just a little bit nervous because you have too little experience in socializing."

.....

Willa felt dizzy as she heard the advice of these so-called successful businessmen around her.

At this moment, Fade's face turned green with rage.

If Klaude, Mike and Boris were considered shameless and cunning, one could still argue that they had their reasons for their actions.

But this group of businessmen not only did not speak up for Willa, but they tried their best to influence her. They claimed that Micovia was amazing and that it was wonderful to receive the green card of Micovia. For them, becoming a citizen of Micovia was like entering heaven. This caused Fade to feel disgusted and angry.

"Shut up!"

With an angry roar, Fade interrupted them and said in a cold voice, "All of you love Micovia and are willing to be servants for them. If you want to sleep with someone for citizenship, it's your own business. Don't talk nonsense in a shameless manner here. Your words are insufferable."

After being scolded by Fade, these people's faces suddenly fell and they said unhappily, "Who are you? Who are you to say such things to us?"

"He's my husband!" Quin Lin stood up, and she glared at this group of people with her eyes full of anger.

Several people were stunned. They didn't expect Fade to be Quin's husband. They were instantly shocked and their expressions darkened.

But soon, a middle-aged woman retorted, "So what if he is your husband? Even you, Quin, can't talk to us in this manner!"

"That's right. Don't think so highly of yourself just because you've expanded your business recently. My company is not at Bay City, so I'm not afraid of you at all," said a merchant.

"Quin, you should apologize right now. Otherwise, the collaboration between my company and Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc will not continue in the future." A businessman threatened.

"Yes, please apologize. She needs to apologize, and also her husband! Otherwise, we will all terminate our collaborations with Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc." A businesswoman yelled.

"Yes, we shall terminate our collaborations!"

At this moment, this group of people threatened Quin in unison.

When he thought of their attitude toward Willa just now when she was bullied, he had to admit that it was an ironic situation, and it was indeed ridiculous.

They had assisted foreigners to bully their own people, and they still seemed so self-righteous!

Chapter 256

Quin Lin was so enraged by their actions that her pretty face turned red. She clenched her fists tightly and the expression on her face was icy.

Fade Chen sneered as his eyes swept over them. Then, he shouted, "Have all of you finished talking?"

His growling voice suppressed the voices of all the businessmen. The crowd was instantly silent.

"So what if we have finished talking? And what if we are not finished?" A businesswoman said, and she stood up unhappily.

"What are you trying to say?" Fade sneered, and he slapped the woman's face in lightning speed, which caused her to fall on the ground instantly.

The crowd did not expect Fade to make such a sudden move. They were shocked.

The woman who fell down after being slapped held her swollen cheeks. She felt a sense of pain and shock. "How dare you hit me. I, I'll fight against you at all cost," she said.

The woman rushed forward and was about to fight with Fade. He shouted angrily and kicked the woman again. The woman fell to the ground once more, and the excruciating pain caused her to clutch her stomach and groan in pain.

Then, Fade glanced at the businessmen behind the woman. With a cold smile on his face, he walked toward them.

Suddenly, all the businessmen felt cold, as though they had fallen into freezing water. They were stiff and could not move. They could only shudder in fear and say, "What, what do you want to do to us? Let me tell you, if you dare to take action against us, we will call the police. We..."

"What do I want to do to you?" Fade sneered, and he continued to walk forward. "Didn't you just speak about how society really was? Now I'll show you what society is truly like."

"In society, each person must suffer the consequences of their words and actions."

After saying that, Fade darted into the crowd in lightning speed, punching and kicking the group of businessmen with his fists and feet. The businessmen were beaten till they had bloody noses and swollen faces. All of them were sobbing and wailing.

Finally, they didn't even have the strength to cry or groan. They could only lie on the ground helplessly and gasp for air.

Klaude, Mike, and Boris Song, who were standing by the side, had never thought that Fade would personally launch an attack and even caused serious injuries to so many people. Was he really not afraid of offending these people? Was he not afraid that the situation would get out of hand?

Immediately, Klaude frowned and said to Quin, "Quin, I want to let you know that the behaviors of both you and your husband are definitely not acceptable. Fighting is not beneficial to either party."

Quin didn't say anything. Fade walked up to Klaude and glanced at him coldly. He squeezed his fingers so hard that they crackled. "I'm just serving them the appetizer, and now it's time for the main course. Do you have a problem with that? You have left before the main course is served," Fade said.

"You, you are going to attack us?" Mike asked. Hearing what he said, Mike was so scared that he trembled, and his fat body almost fell to the ground.

Boris's face turned pale, and he said, "Don't cause a scene. We are from Micovia. If you beat us up, you will cause an international dispute."

"International dispute! You think too highly of yourself," Fade said, and he kicked Boris's stomach, sending him flying across the room. Boris fell heavily on the ground. His facial expression became twisted from the pain, and sweat dripped down from him.

The expression on Klaude's face changed, and he said somewhat frantically, "You, don't act rashly. I've already called the police, and I've already contacted the embassy. If you dare to attack us, the consequences will be greater than what you bargained for."

"Is that so?" Fade said, and he laughed in a cold manner. He took a step forward and punched Klaude in the stomach. Klaude was immediately sent flying across the room. He fell to the ground with a loud thud.

Then, Fade caught up with him and gave Klaude a good beating. He was beaten so badly that he cried and screamed. Klaude didn't seem as elegant as before.

Finally, Fade's eyes fell on Mike. His gaze became cold and ferocious.

Immediately, Mike began to tremble in fear. He kept gesturing his hands and said, "I made a mistake. I am now aware that I was wrong just now. Don't hit me, don't!"

"Hmm!" Fade snorted and he strode over, ignoring Mike's pleas. He punched and kicked Mike, which caused him to wail like a pig being slaughtered.

After that, Fade's gaze went blank. He took out a silver needle, and with a flick of his hand, he pierced the silver needle into Mike's abdomen, causing him to howl in horror. "What, what did you do to me?" he cried out.

Fade said blandly, "Aren't you a pervert? I won't allow you to use your junk again."

"What?!" Mike said, and his face turned pale with fright. Then, he felt that his body was acting abnormally. He immediately burst into tears. "No, don't!"

"Please, forgive me. I know I was wrong. I..."

"Shut up!" Fade said, and he kicked Mike away.

Then, he clapped his hands and walked back. He said to Quin and Willa Lu, "Let's go!"

Willa glanced at the people who were lying on the ground in the hall anxiously, and she said uneasily, "Mr. Chen, can we just go?"

Fade gestured his hand and smiled at Willa. He said, "Don't worry, I know what I'm doing."

"But..." Willa said, and she was still a little worried. However, when she saw Fade's confident expression, she turned to Quin and said, "President Lin, because of me, you..."

Quin smiled faintly and said, "Don't worry. They crossed the line."

Quin was actually also doubtful at the moment. She felt a little nervous and anxious. After all, the people that Fade had attacked were top businessmen and women, and there were also foreigners like Klaude. It could be possible that there would be an international dispute, like what Klaude had said.

But when she saw Fade's confident expression, Quin inexplicably felt a sense of confidence. This was the trust she had in her husband.

As he walked to the door, Fade stopped suddenly. He turned around and looked into the hall. His eyes swept over everyone on the ground and he said, "By the way, Let me remind you that you can call the police, but you don't have to call the doctor. It will be of no use."

"Also, if you want to seek vengeance personally, just come and get me. I'm at Long Enterprise," Fade said casually. Then, his tone sank and he said coldly, "However, if you want to try to do something underhanded and hurt my loved ones and my friends, don't blame me for being ruthless."

After saying that, Fade slammed his hand on the solid wooden door. The door wobbled and crumbled under Fade's hand. The debris flew into the hall, like raindrops from the sky.

Chapter 257

Those who were lying on the ground and secretly using their phones to call for help were stunned at this moment, and they had frightened expressions on their faces.

At this moment, some people suddenly came to their senses. They could not help crying out in shock. They said, "That Quin Lin's husband is the top dog! He even commands the respect of the Wei family and Long Enterprise. Isn't he the infamous Lunatic Chen of Bay City?"

"Yes, he must be Lunatic Chen, the man who destroyed the Wan family!" someone said in astonishment.

"Who, who would dare to go against him in this country? He is the most powerful man in this country!" someone said helplessly and desperately.

"Hmm, I don't believe it. He is the boss of Bay City, but I am not from Bay City. Do you think that no one from my city dares to oppose him?" A middle-aged businessman said resentfully.

"Director Liu, I would advise you not to consider revenge. Isn't South Hanover City next to Hanover City? Big Brother Qian, the top dog of Hanover City, has already recognized Lunatic Chen as his superior. The Hu family, the aristocratic family in Hanover City famed for their martial-arts skills, has been wiped out by Fade as well. Is there anyone more powerful than members of the Hu family in Hanover City?" A bald businessman said in persuasion.

"The Hu Family. The Hu Family has been completely wiped out. This, this..." Director Liu stuttered. He was stunned when he heard this news. He stopped dialing the phone number he was trying to dial.

Even though he was the most powerful man in South Hanover City, and was at Hubert Qian's level, there was no one there who could compete with the Hu family at all. Since the Hu family had been destroyed, even if Director Liu asked all the underground forces in South Hanover City to take action, it was unlikely that they would be a match for Lunatic Chen.

At the thought of this, Director Liu couldn't help but feel disappointed. He felt that he had been wronged. He said, "So, we'll just allow this Lunatic Chen to do what he wants? And we should just forget what had happened?"

These words struck a chord with everyone, causing them to fall silent for a while. They didn't want to give in and forget about the situation, and they also wanted revenge. However, anyone who knew who Lunatic Chen was would never accept their request for them to fight against him.

Just as the crowd fell silent, the woman who was slapped by Fade in the beginning said gloomily, "Since the underground forces can't deal with him, then we'll have to deal with him through the law enforcement officers."

"Fade has caused harm to so many of us. We are the top businessmen and women in the country. Even if we go to the government offices, we are treated as important guests. I don't believe that if we sue Fade together, the government and police department will sit idly by?"

Her words reminded everyone of what they should do.

"Yes, no matter how powerful Lunatic Chen is in the country, he can't have his way as he wishes. Let's go through the proper procedures, and let him have a taste of his own medicine."

"That's right. Later, let's go to the city bureau of Bay City to sue him. If we still can't solve this problem, we will go to Long City. I don't believe that Fade can dominate the whole province."

Everyone was furious. At this moment, that businesswoman cast a glance at Klaude, Mike, and the others. She said, "Mr. Klaude and his companions are legal citizens of Micovia. That Lunatic Chen has also attacked them. Let's join forces with the Micovian embassy, and cooperate with each other to put pressure on our government and the officers. I don't believe that Lunatic Chen can withstand this type of pressure."

"Good, that's a good idea. With the help of the people of Micovia, Bay City can't ignore this matter."

"Yes, this is an international dispute. No one will dare to mess around."

"Kill that Lunatic Chen. Let's see how arrogant he can be when that moment comes."

"Not only that, Quin Lin's Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc was involved. They are in the same boat, and they should both be destroyed."

The group of people discussed this matter with pained expressions but in excitement. They seemed to have caught a glimpse of the future scene where Fade was imprisoned.

At this time, the sound of sirens from police vehicles and ambulances could be heard outside. Soon, police officers and doctors rushed in. When they saw the many VIPs and foreigners lying on the ground, they were shocked and hurried to work.

This group of businessmen immediately spoke up about the whole fight. Of course, they didn't mention how Mike and the others bullied Willa Lu. They only said that Fade had beaten them violently.

After the police recorded their statements, the businessmen and women said fiercely, "Police officers, you must arrest Fade, please make sure that happens!"

"We will investigate the truth of this matter!" The police officers said flatly.

"What kind of attitude is that? Are you trying to cover up this matter for him..." Someone said discontentedly. But at this time, a shocked voice could be heard from one of the doctors. "This, this is not right!"

The police officers went over and asked, "What's going on?"

The doctor was gazing at the businesswoman on the ground with a puzzled face. He shook his head and said, "This lady told me that she was slapped, and her stomach was kicked, and that her body was in great pain. But after inspecting her, we found no trace of any violence on her body. It doesn't look like she has been beaten at all."

"What?" The police officers said, and they frowned.

At this time, the other doctors also said, "We have the same issue here. There are no scars or marks on this gentleman's body. However, he is saying that his waist is in pain."

"Same here, and we can't find any problems at all!"

"There is not a single trace or mark on their bodies at all. It doesn't seem like they were beaten at all."

"This gentleman's body is in good condition. He is healthier than any normal person!"

The voices of doctors could be heard all around. The police officers were puzzled. After thinking for a while, they looked at the people in the room and said, "Have you really been beaten?"

"What are you talking about? Are you telling us that we are pretending to be in pain?"

"If you can't find any signs of our injuries, you can watch the surveillance tape. The violence we encountered must have been recorded."

At this point, a police officer came back to make a report after checking the surveillance tape. He said, "Team Wang, I checked the video device. There was no surveillance video tonight, and the device was turned off."

"What?" Everyone said in shock. Then, they shouted, "It must have been Fade who destroyed the device. It must be him."

The policeman who was making the report said, "Mr. Klaude has admitted to us that he was worried that everyone's privacy would be invaded, so he ordered someone to turn off the device before the gala began."

This time, the noisy businessmen didn't know what to say.

Each of them could only insist that they were telling the truth. They said, "We were just beaten up. You must deal with this situation."

The police officers's expressions became cold at this moment, and they said in an icy tone, "We will record your statements. But if you have no proof of physical injuries after undergoing the tests in the hospital, then you'll be accused of fraud in court."

"How can we be in good physical condition? I still feel a great sense of pain now!"

"Are you all blind? If we had no problems, would we lie on the ground and wail?"

"That's right. There are so many people present. How could we all be lying?"

Many people in the crowd shouted, and the police officers frowned slightly. They gestured their hands and said, "Take them all to the hospital for tests and detailed examinations!"

Then, all of them were sent to the hospital immediately. The police officers followed them as well, and recorded their statements.

Chapter 258

Soon, the medical examination results of all the people were released.

The results surprised them greatly, because the doctors could not find any trace of scars, outer marks or internal injuries. Beside their own minor illnesses, this group of people were healthy.

The doctors informed the police officers and the patients of their results, and the police officers gave them a formal warning and left directly.

As for this group of patients lying on the bed, they were all dumbfounded at this moment. They didn't know what had happened. Many of them still felt the burning pain in their bodies. The body parts where they had been beaten were indescribably uncomfortable. However, no matter how the doctors checked, they couldn't find any problems at all.

At this moment, some people suddenly remembered that Lunatic Chen was not only a great martial-artist, but also a doctor with excellent medical skills. In the beginning, he had become famous as he had cured Mr. Wu's disease at Mr. Wu's banquet.

Thinking of this, this group of people could not help but shudder in fear, and they were extremely worried.

"What should I do now? Will it continue to hurt like this?"

"This isn't good. I can't take it anymore!"

"Then what should we do? Should we go to Fade Chen and beg for mercy?"

There was a moment of silence, and everyone was speechless.

After a long pause, one of the patients sighed and said, "I really can't stand this anymore. Help me up. I'm going to apologize to Mr. Chen."

When someone took the lead, the rest of the people also followed. They quickly asked someone to help them get up and then rushed to Fade's house, ready to apologize to him.

Mike was the patient that had suffered the most from Fade's actions. Fade had pierced a needle into his lower abdomen, and his junk could not react to anything at all. This frightened Mike. He went for various tests in the hospital, but the doctor failed to find any unusual results.

Mike also sent someone to find objects or materials that could arouse him. After trying hard, he found that it was no use. His junk was completely useless.

This time, Mike was really scared out of his wits. He was sad, and he wanted to apologize to Fade for his mistakes.

But Klaude stopped him and said, "It's alright, I think it's just a little trick to fool you. Don't worry, I've already asked our family to contact doctors from Micovia. They will come over, and they will definitely cure you at that time."

"But..." Mike still wanted to say something. Klaude gestured his hand and said, "That is my decision. We definitely can't give in to that kid. Otherwise, it will affect our plans."

There was nothing Mike could do about the situation. He could only endure the discomfort and he laid on the hospital bed, groaning.

At the same time, Fade and Quin Lin slowly sent Willa Lu back to the school. Along the way, Quin tried to act like an older sister to her, constantly giving Willa all kinds of advices. She asked Willa to be more careful in the future, and not be cheated by people like Boris Song.

When Boris was mentioned, they couldn't help but think of the scene just now and they felt angry. What caused Fade to be particularly angry was not the shamelessness of Boris and Mike, but the shamelessness of all the other guys who were cheering for the foreigners after the incident.

Fade found this matter incomprehensible. What were they thinking? A foreigner was trampling on your dignity, and you were still cheering for them, allowing your compatriots to endure this suffering.

Thinking of this, Fade couldn't help but sigh and said, "I finally know why foreigners are less likely to have infections than the Chinese."

Willa and Quin were confused, and they did not understand why Fade would suddenly mention this. Quin glared at Fade, but Willa still asked curiously, "Why?"

Fade said, "Because there are too many Chinese people who are kneeling down and licking their ass!"

When these words came out, the two girls felt that it was funny. Then, they stopped laughing and their faces were a little solemn. They knew that Fade was still unhappy about what the businessmen had just done.

At the thought of those things, the two women's faces fell immediately.

Seeing this, Fade quickly gestured his hand and said, "Well, let's not talk about these unhappy events. I didn't eat much at the gala and I'm starving. Willa, is there any nice food around your school? Let's have dinner."

Willa pointed to one side and said, "That is the commercial street in the school, but there are only some small stalls. Mr. Chen and President Lin, are you used to eating at places like that?"

Fade gestured his hand and said, "We are not particular about things like that. Let's have something to eat!"

Then, the three of them came to a barbecue restaurant on the commercial street . They ordered some items and began to eat, and they drank some beer.

Perhaps the youthful atmosphere in the school had affected Quin. She usually never touched these things. But she forgot about her image for a while, ate a few kebabs and drank a large glass of beer.

After they had filled their bellies, the two of them sent Willa back to the dormitory, and they went home.

When they got home, Quin finally couldn't help grabbing Fade. She asked, "You, you've beaten up those people! If they call the police, what should we do? I know you are good at fighting, but you alone can't fight against the police."

Hearing this, Fade held Quin's hand with a smile and said, "Don't worry, honey. I won't fight against the police. And the police won't come to arrest me, either."

"But, you did injure those people, and even brutally so. This..." Quin said with some concern.

Fade explained with a smile, "I did beat them up, but they can't prove that I did that."

"They can't prove that you did that? What do you mean by that? There were so many people there at that time. There are enough people that can testify to the police officers," Quin said in confusion.

Fade put his hands on Quin's shoulders, and he pressed her down on the sofa. Then, he said with a smile on his face, "They only have their own testimonies, but they have no evidence. The hospital can't detect any physical injuries from my actions. However, the pain will continue, and they have no evidence to prove that I hit them. On the contrary, it is very likely that they will come to me and beg for forgiveness because of the pain."

"Really? They can feel the pain but the doctors can't find anything wrong with them? Is there such magic?" she asked. Quin's eyes were round, which caused her to look like a cute young girl.

Fade pointed proudly to himself and said with a smile, "Of course it's possible! Don't you know who your husband is?"

"You are being too smug!" Quin said, and she rolled her eyes at Fade. She was less anxious after that, and she was ready to go upstairs and rest.

At this moment, the doorbell started to ring continuously .

"Who is here at such a late hour!" Quin muttered. She walked to the door and opened it, only to find that it was a middle- aged man. It was one of the businessman who had been at the party just now.

06:56

Instantly, Quin's face fell and she asked, "Why are you here?"

Chapter 259

The businessman clutched his belly and he begged , "President Lin, I'm really sorry. I'm here to apologize to you and Mr. Chen. May I know if Mr. Chen is at home?"

Before Quin Lin could respond, the sound of many cars could be heard, and they were coming toward this direction.

Then, many businessmen and women came out of the cars quickly with pleading looks on their faces.

"Is Mr. Chen at home? I know that I was wrong. I would like to apologize to Mr. Chen."

"Mr. Chen, I am aware of my mistakes now. Please, cure my sickness!"

"I'm dying. Mr. Chen, I'm begging you on my knees. Please, please spare my life!"

Looking at these arrogant businessmen who were crying and kneeling at the door, apologizing to Fade Chen, Quin was stunned and she couldn't come to her senses.

Then, Fade's words came to her mind. She could not help but be surprised and looked inside the house.

Fade smiled at Quin and said, "Quin, tell them, if they are here to apologize, they must show some sincerity."

Fade's voice was very loud. There was no need for Quin to tell them this as the businessmen had already heard his words. They all lowered their heads and began to think of how to convince him to heal them.

One of the businessman knelt on the ground and groveled till blood could be seen on his forehead. He said, "Mr. Chen, I realize my mistakes now. I would like to apologize to you and President Lin. This will never happen again."

This act could be considered sincere. However, Fade didn't move an inch in his room, showing no intention to help at all.

Then, a businessman came up with an idea and said, "Mr. Chen, our.. our company is willing to sell ten tons of raw materials to Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc at a low price."

As soon as the businessman said that, everyone could see that Fade, who was sitting on the sofa, seemed to react when he heard of this deal.

Immediately, other businessmen tried to make deals with Fade. "Mr. Chen, our company is also willing to sell raw materials at a low price. We'll sell fifteen tons, no... twenty tons!" they said.

The man expected Fade to agree with him, but Fade gestured his hand and said, "No! Your company produces steel and iron, but my company sells cosmetic products. We are in no use of iron and steel. We don't put iron powder on our faces, do we?"

The businessman was confused.

The other businessmen acted and quickly offered their deals.

"Mr. Chen, I'm a real estate developer. Our company is willing to give Mr. Chen and President Lin a mansion for free," a businessman in the real estate field said.

Fade rolled his eyes and said, "We are all businessmen here. You can just lower the price, we don't need a free mansion."

The businessman was stunned and he asked cautiously, " Mr. Chen, what price would you offer? Ten thousand or twenty thousand?"

"I think 100 yuan is good enough! Come on, come and take the money!" As he said this, Fade reached into his pocket and took out a stacked of crumpled small change. The largest note in value among the change was a crumpled 10 yuan note. "Ahem, I usually don't have much money. Can I write you a 90 yuan debt note?"

The real estate businessman was stunned. What was the difference between ten yuan and one hundred yuan for a mansion? The businessman took the ten yuan note with both hands and said quickly, "No, no, ten yuan is enough. That's enough."

"That won't do. I said 100 yuan, so that means 100 yuan. How can I take advantage of you?" Fade said. With that, Fade pulled out a napkin and wrote down a note regarding the debt he owed the businessman.

The businessman held the note and looked expectantly at Fade.

Fade understood what he wanted. He pointed to the other side and said, "Whoever has paid, wait in line over there. I'll treat you later."

Then, Fade waved his hand and said, "Next, what do you have for me to demonstrate your sincerity?"

"Mr. Chen, we run a fruit company. What kind of fruits do you like?" The businessman asked cautiously.

"Hmm, bananas are good, and apples too. However, I can't finish these fruits all by myself! How about this, your company will contribute fruits for the benefits of the employees of Fei Enterprises Holding Inc group for the next ten years!" Fade said.

"Okay, deal!" The businessman nodded at once.

"Oh, no, we can't accept this for free." Fade said suddenly, and his attitude surprised the businessman. "We are making a business deal. We can't take your things for free. Well, I'll pay you. I'll pay 10 yuan for ten years of fruit supplies. I'll give you the deposit for this year." Then, Fade took out one yuan and handed it to the businessman.

The businessman who sold fruit took the coin with both hands and ran to queue up behind the businessman from the real estate field.

Then, the next businessman came forward to Fade with his "sincere suggestion" and asked him to make a decision.

At his side, Quin was dumbfounded as she witnessed this scene. She could not help but shake her head. Her husband had completely taken advantage of these businessmen who had come to apologize.

Fade felt no guilt in taking advantage of these businessmen. Moreover, Fade had paid them, and he didn't take anything for free.

After a while, the change in Fade's pocket was almost used up.

In the end, Fade estimated that he had earned more than 100 million yuan. Then, he cured the pain of this group of "business partners".

In an instant, this group of people were healed. They left the mansion quickly with fearful expressions on their faces.

The next day, Fade finally had time to go to the company. Since it was not the official day to start work, not all the employees in the company were present. Only some employees who needed to come in advance were there at the company.

Therefore, Fade had a relaxed atmosphere in the medical room. He had been playing spider cards for the whole morning.

Just as Fade was about to switch off the computer and go to the canteen for lunch, a message appeared on the computer. His wife had asked him to go to the president's office.

"What's going on? My wife has asked me to meet her during this time. Does she want to have lunch together?" Fade thought, and he came to the office while humming a tune.

But as soon as he saw the frowning expression of his wife who was sitting behind the desk, Fade knew that trouble was brewing. So he came forward and asked with concern, "Dear, what's wrong?"

Quin pointed at the screen of the computer and said, "Look at this!"

Fade leaned over to take a look and found that it was a page of a blog. He was confused as the content was mainly written in English. There were several pictures under the text. Fade recognized those pictures. It was the pictures of the Life Elixir Wine which he produced.

The number of people re-posting and commenting on this post had reached over 70,000 or 80,000. This person seemed to be a popular blogger.

Chapter 260

However, Fade Chen really had some difficulties in understanding the English content. He could only smile at Quin Lin and said, "Dear, you know my English..."

"Why don't you tell me that you can't understand English in the first place? You've been pretending to read it for such a long time, and in the end you still need me to translate it for you," Quin said.

She couldn't help rolling her eyes at Fade, and she said, "The name of this blogger is Liza. She is from Micovia. Two years ago, she was the head chef of the famous show, "Heavenly Kitchen". In the past two years, she had traveled around the world and had gradually become a well-known gourmet and traveling reporter."

"Oh, alright!" Fade said. He had never heard of the "Heavenly Kitchen" and this famous gourmet, but he still nodded his head.

"This Liza is quite impressive. She has many fans abroad. In China, after her blog was created for two months, she gained more than five million fans, and they are real fans. She still..." Quin explained. However, noticing Fade's puzzled expression, she knew that he did not understand what she was talking about, so she said feebly, "In short, Liza is influential both locally and internationally in the catering industry."

"Oh, so what's the matter here?" Fade asked .

When Fade asked this question, Quin could not help but get angry. She said, "Although Liza is quite impressive, there were no issues between us. However, this morning, she suddenly posted in her blog and accused our company of spreading false rumors. At the same time, she mocked the Life Elixir Wine as a low-quality fruit wine with no effect at all."

"Mocking our company and our products! Have we made a clarification regarding this issue?" Fade asked.

Quin nodded and said, "The company's official website and Weibo account have issued clarifications, but the effect is limited and we can't influence anything. Liza's words have already influenced some fans. They have already left comments and insults on our company's Weibo."

"Moreover, this morning, several media reporters called us and said that they wanted to interview us regarding this issue. Now, both the reputation of our company and the Life Elixir Wine is greatly affected," Quin said discontentedly.

At this moment, Fade finally understood the influence of this professional gourmet, Liza. He couldn't help but frown and said, "Let's issue a lawyer's letter to sue her for slander and for creating false rumors."

Quin shook her head and said, "Her criticisms are not crossing any boundaries. Even if we file a lawsuit, I'm afraid that our chances of winning will be very slim. Even so, after the lawsuit, this news would have already spread far and wide. Even if we win the lawsuit, it won't mean very much."

Fade pondered for a while and said, "Well, she says that our Life Elixir Wine is not effective, didn't she? We'll invite her to our factory and let her taste it. Then she can judge if our Life Elixir Wine is good or not."

Quin pondered over the matter for a few seconds. Then, she nodded and said, "Alright, I will immediately ask someone to contact Liza. You will be responsible for the reception at the Life Elixir Wine factory. Will that be alright with you?"

"Low-Pau-Deng!" Fade said, and he made a gesture indicating "Ok".

Quin was stunned. "What? What did you say?" she asked.

Fade laughed awkwardly and said, "I said 'no problem'. 'No problem' in English."

"No problem! Low-Pau-Deng!" Quin said, and she held her forehead. She was speechless. "It's better if you speak Mandarin in the future!" she continued.

"OK!" Fade nodded and prepared to leave.

However, only after a few steps later, Fade came back.

"Is there anything else?" Quin asked.

Fade said, "Dear, it's lunchtime. Why don't we have lunch together?"

Quin gestured her hand and said, "I've already asked my secretary to bring my lunch to the office."

"Honey, it's not a good habit to eat in the office, so let's go to the canteen to have lunch. Firstly, you can exercise while walking there, which is good for your health; next, you can build a good rapport with your employees; also, you can..." Fade listed the benefits with his fingers.

Quin was speechless. She could only raise her hand and surrender. "Alright, stop there. I will go to the canteen for lunch, stop nagging me!"

"Okay, honey. Let's go!" Fade said with a smile, and he held Quin's hand.

However, Quin wouldn't allowed Fade to hold her hand in the company.

In the end, both of them created a scene when they reached the canteen together. The employees were full of curiosity.

Thus, in the midst of their discussion, Quin and Fade finished their lunch and returned to their office.

In this moment, the president's office informed them that they had contacted Liza and invited her to come to the company to taste the Life Elixir Wine. However, Liza replied that she did not want to become the next target of the rumors Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc were spreading. Also, she believed in her taste, so she wouldn't change her judgment toward the Life Elixir Wine. She also was not willing to come to the company to do the so-called live tasting.

Upon hearing this, Quin could not help but frown.

At the same time, Quin read Liza's blog again. As expected, Liza also posted regarding the invitation from Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc. However, from her blog, it seemed that Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc wanted to bribe her to cover up this issue.

The fans were also actively giving comments and they praised Liza's rejection of the offer of Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc. At the same time, they kept cursing about their company and the Life Elixir Wine.

Seeing this, Quin couldn't help but frown. She whispered, "In this situation, we can only look for her directly. Can the president's office get us Liza's current address?"

The staff members of the president's office nodded and they were about to answer her.

In the mean time, Fade gestured his hand and said, "Don't bother about it. I promise you that she will come to the company to look for us herself."

"You have a solution? What is it?" Quin asked, and she looked curiously at Fade.

Fade smiled enigmatically and took out his cell phone, saying, "You'll find out later."

Then, Quin watched curiously as Fade fiddled with his cell phone for a while. Then, he put it away and said, "Well, if nothing goes wrong, Liza will come willingly to our company."

"That's great! What did you do?" Quin asked in shock.

At this moment, she looked at her computer and discovered that Liza had updated her blog again.

This time, Liza had reposted a message. At the end of the blog post, there was the message from a person whose nickname was "Brother Fade".

The message sent by Brother Fade was, "What kind of gourmet are you, if you can't even savor the taste of the Life Elixir Wine. Such a flamboyant layman with no experience. How dare you call yourself a famous gourmet or a food critic. What a joke! If you have the guts, come to our company and have a taste of our Life Elixir Wine. If the Life Elixir Wine does not conquer your taste buds, we will shut down our company instantly. However, if the Life Elixir Wine wins you over, I want you to apologize to the Life Elixir Wine company on the internet. Do you dare to come forward, Ms. Fraud?"

Brother Fade had also tagged Liza at the end of the message.

After reading the blog, Quin couldn't help but look at Fade in surprise. She said, "Are you the 'Brother Fade' she mentioned in her blog?"