

Chapter 168

Cindy vomited in the bathroom for a while. She washed her face and walked out looking very uncomfortable. 'It's okay. It must be the lunch that made me sick.' Cindy forced a smile.

Jason nodded and accompanied Cindy into the ward.

Angela was elated, as her parents were there together.

Cindy played with Angela and talked with Jason about the company. 'Let's treat Randy to a meal one day soon.'

'Why?' Jason asked doubtfully.

'He asked someone to help with my company's problem. He told me there will be a new pharmaceutical factory cooperating with us soon.'

Cindy was reluctant. But she had to treat Randy. Randy did help her.

Jason's face darkened.

Randy helped her?

"How dare this fool take credit for my work? What does this have to do with him?" Jason thought.

'Do you really think it was Randy who helped you?' Jason asked.

Cindy was stunned, 'Who else could it be? Our company is short six hundred million yuan. Many pharmaceutical factories have stopped cooperating with us. Earlier, I received news that Randy's pharmacy, Healer Pharmaceutical is going to cooperate with us.'

Jason frowned. Healer Pharmaceutical's help was arranged by him. The pharmaceutical factories were all part of Jason's family business.

'No. I helped,' Jason said.

Cindy was stunned and looked at Jason suspiciously. She controlled herself, 'Okay already, Jason. I know you really want to help me, but this time, you can't.'

Jason's look changed. Cindy said immediately, 'Forget it, let's not talk about it.'

Jason couldn't explain it. He resigned to his position. 'Fine. I'll make the arrangements.'

Cindy nodded in agreement. She did not want to compare Jason with Randy.

Although Jason had changed a lot recently, he was still not on Randy's level.

Jason was obviously not mature enough.

Was it that important about who helped her?

Even if he couldn't help, Cindy wouldn't blame him.

Suddenly she saw Jason in a different light. 'Jason, I know you have some money now, but you can't solve everything. I don't blame you. I just hope you can be honest with me. I know you have a beef with Randy. But after all, he helped me. Please forgive him, okay?'

Jason felt very annoyed. He suspected Cindy was defending Randy.

With a snort, Jason stood up, 'Why? Do you feel sorry for your high school boyfriend? If you want to go back to that sweet, sweet time, I don't mind, Go back to him. If you believe that he was the one who helped you.'

'What do you mean, Jason?'

Cindy's face darkened and her eyebrows furrowed. She was angry.

'Jason isn't believing me.'

'Is it that important?' Cindy thought.

'What did I mean?'

Jason sneered, 'Your mother wanted us to divorce for a long time now. Now Randy has come along. And look how crazy your mother is about him. She wants him to be her son-in-law. He came back for you. How nice! Your mother likes him, and he helped you out. To your family, I, Jason Smith, am just a loser.'

After that, Jason turned around and stormed out the ward.

Cindy was also frutious, but she was in no mood to chase after him.

That evening, Jason and Cindy went back to the Jiang family old house seperately. These past few days, they would have dinner there.

Everyone could see the couple was giving each other the silent treatment.

Amanda was elated to see this. She pulled Cindy into the bedroom and whispered, 'Cindy, are you and Jason quarreling?'

Cindy was very annoyed, 'Mother, it's none of your business.'

Amanda knew what Cindy was thinking. Cindy was her daughter after all. She fanned the flames between Cindy and Jason. "My dear, listen to me. You and Jason don't belong together. It has been three years since your marriage. Look at him. He's still a loser. I think Randy's a decent guy. And he came back for you. You have to seize this chance. The He family is wealthy. If you marry Randy, you'll be Mrs. He. Your father and I can live a better life too."

Cindy was irritated, 'Mom, can you stop talking about this all the time? Jason and I aren't getting divorced. I have nothing to do with Randy. Can you stop thinking about this?'

'You disobedient child! What's so good about Jason? He's a loser. Can you have a good future with him? Look at Randy's family. His home is a detached villa and he has so many luxury cars. You have missed a good opportunity. Listen to me, you must divorce Jason. Don't be afraid. While I'm here, I will kick him out and take everything he has!

Amanda had already made up her mind. Even if they got divorced, she would make Jason leave the house with nothing but the clothes he was wearing.

This boy must have a lot of money stashed away.

'Enough, mom, I won't get divorced. Stop talking about it.'

Cindy left the bedroom.

In the living room, Jason was chatting with Charles. They were talking about his collection hobby. They had a nice conversation.

Charles had changed his attitude toward Jason.

As soon as Amanda came out and saw this scene, she immediately slapped Charles a few times, 'Why are you talking so enthusiastically with this loser? Go back to sleep.'

'By the way, Mom, let me tell you something.'

Cindy looked at Jason and continued, 'I'm now the CEO of the company, and I have sixty percent of the shares.'

The room became quiet.

Amanda couldn't believe her ears. Her face was full of excitement and she asked anxiously, 'What CEO? Cindy, you aren't joking, are you? Your company is worth hundreds of millions of yuan!'

Cindy nodded and told them about the company's issues. After this, Charles fell silent, 'I know what's going on. Your company is in trouble now. They have to replace the CEO. Sixty percent of the shares is high, but it has no practical significance. You should think about it. I have heard from many friends that if something really happens to the company, you will be held responsible for it.'

Cindy nodded, 'I know, but this is a huge opportunity. If the company can successfully overcome these problems, I will be the biggest shareholder. I will have real power. I want to continue with it.'

As Cindy said this, she glanced at Jason, asking for his opinion.

Jason didn't say anything. He was still angry about what had happened earlier in the day.

Amanda didn't care. When she heard her daughter announcing herself as the CEO, she was in cloud nine. She said excitedly, 'Cindy, do you mean that the company is yours now?'

Cindy nodded and smiled.

Amanda was ecstatic. She hurriedly took out her mobile phone, 'Oh dear, I will call to tell your second aunt now. That bi*ch shows off her daughter and son-in-law all day long. Now, my daughter has her own company, hahaha!'

'Hey, second sister, I have something to tell you. Cindy has her own company. Haha, it's nothing big, it's just Bi Kang Pharmacy. Cindy has become the CEO and has sixty percent of the shares. It's not worth much, just a few hundred million...'

Amanda laughed so hard that she couldn't close her mouth. She kept bragging.

Finally, she could feel proud of herself.

After that, Amanda called and texted her all her friends. She was on the phone the whole night. She called almost every one her relatives and friends. She made a decision to invite them all to dinner. She said it was a celebration.

Cindy knew trouble was coming. If she had known this was going to happen, she wouldn't have said it.

A few days later, Cindy was busy solving the company's problems. Healer Pharmaceutical was the first factory to cooperate with Bi Kang Pharmacy.

After that, several top pharmaceutical factories in China enquired. They said that they were going to cooperate with Bi Kang Pharmacy.

This freaked Cindy out. They were the top ten pharmaceutical factories in the country, with immeasurable financial resources and strength.

Also, there was a financial group behind them. It was the Smith Group from the capital city.

If they cooperated with them, Bi Kang Pharmacy would definitely overcome this difficulty.

At the same time, The Smith Group in the capital city said in a press conference that they had invested one billion yuan in Bi Kang, It shook Shang Jiang City.

The whole city was in an uproar.

Many citizens saw the multitude of luxury cars stopping in front of Bi Kang's building.

The people getting out of the cars were all big shots in China's pharmaceutical industry. A single sentence from them could shake the industry.

It was terrifying!

Someone also dug up the news of Bi Kang changing its CEO.

Cindy was now the center of attention. She was an iron lady in the eyes of many people. She even got the nickname "Golden Beauty of Business" in Shang Jiang City!

She had made a big name for herself.

Countless people were watching Bi Kang Pharmacy. If Bi Kang could cooperate with the Smith Group in the capital city, their potential would be immeasurable!

Many local pharmaceutical companies were frustrated. They wanted to the opportunity to cooperate with these big shots in the industry.

Cindy was busy these days. She didn't expect that her luck would change like this. All of a sudden, so many big shots from the pharmaceutical industry appeared. They had come to visit and wanted to talk about a cooperation in person.

Each of these big shots had a net worth of more than ten billion yuan!

The Smith Group from the capital city?

Cindy just sent a big boss away. She breathed a sigh of relief and sat in the director's office, muttering to herself.

Why was it that so many highly-regarded pharmaceutical companies suddenly came to Bi Kang, seeking for cooperation?

'Does the Smith Group have something to do with Jason?'

'It's impossible!'

'If so, why would Jason tolerate being bullied by the Jiang family for three years?'

Cindy wracked her brains and yet she couldn't think up of any great explanation. The Smith Group of the capital was the nation's top aristocratic family.

They controlled enough financial power to dictate a small nations' economic path.

Why would such a big company invest so much in Bi Kang?

Cindy could not figure it out.

Meanwhile, her phone rang.

Yusra!

Why would she call her?

'Miss Jiang, are you curious as to why the Smith Group would invest on a small company like Bi Kang?'

Yusra said icily.

'What do you mean?' Cindy frowned. She didn't like Yusra.

Yusra smiled coldly, 'I can tell you. The Smith Group in the capital city is actually...'
