

Chapter 179

Jason Smith was going to the hospital to look for Leah Fang.

He said that he would help her to check on her brother's condition.

On the way to the hospital, Jason decided to buy some fruit. It seemed that it would not be appropriate for him to go there empty-handed.

When he arrived the hospital it was almost three o'clock in the afternoon. Leah saw Jason coming but she was still a little shy. 'Brother Smith, you really don't have to concern yourself with my problems. I feel bad for you've come here personally.'

Jason smiled, 'It's not a big deal. This is just between you and me. Don't tell sister Cindy. Let's go. Bring me to see your brother.'

Leah was a head shorter than Jason. Although she was a good-looking girl, her face was a little gaunt. She must have been very tired.

This kind of girl would make anyone feel bitter for her.

Leah took Jason to the hospital's sixth floor. Most of the patients on this floor had leukemia, including adults and children.

After looking around, Jason saw that many of the patients' family members looked worried. Most of them were crying in the corners while making phone calls.

Ah, reality.

When they arrived at Leah's younger brother's ward, they looked around but they could not see him.

Leah was anxious. She still could not find him after she had asked several nurses.

Suddenly her expression changed and she rushed to a distant corner.

Jason chased after her in a hurry.

Leah squatted down in front of a little bald boy who was hiding behind a pillar and said anxiously, 'Why did you come out again? Didn't I tell you? Before I came over, you had to wait for me in the ward.'

The little boy cried but he still smiled firmly, 'Sister, I don't want to see doctors anymore. I want to be cured. I want to go home.'

Leah took a deep breath and tears welled up in her eyes. She held the little boy tightly and shook her head, 'Trust your sister. I will cure you, okay?'

The little boy touched Leah's face and shook his head. 'Sister, I really don't want to see doctors anymore. We don't have anymore money. I don't want to see you working so hard for me every day. You must be very tired. I want to go back. I don't want to have the treatment anymore.'

The words came out of the little boy's really broke everyone's heart.

He was young but so mature.

'Little boy, you don't have to worry about money. Just carry on with your treatment. Your sister has a way.'

Jason came over with a smile, waving the gift of fruits in his hand.

The little boy glanced at Jason and Leah in confusio. It was as if he wanted to ask who Jason was.

Jason grinned, 'I'm your sister's good friend.'

The little boy was cheeky. He pulled Leah to the side, lowered his voice and whispered in Leah's ear, 'Sister, is he your boyfriend? He's a little old.'

Leah's pretty face turned red. She looked at Jason, 'No, don't say that. He is the brother Jason who has treated me very well. I always tell you about him.'

The little boy was a little disappointed when he heard this. 'I thought he was your boyfriend. When I'm gone, someone has to take care of you.'

Leah shook her head and her eyes turned red. She held the little boy, 'Silly, I will never find a boyfriend. I will always be with you.'

The little boy smiled and immediately ran over. He bowed to Jason, 'Thank you, big brother. My sister has told me that you are very good to her. When I'm better, I'll repay your kindness.'

Jason did not expect the little boy to be so mature. He laughed, 'Okay, I'll wait. But before that, you have to listen to your sister and the doctors so they can cure your disease.'

The little boy shook his head and looked at the ward. He felt sad. He held Leah's hand and walked out, 'Sister, let's go home. I miss home.'

At this moment, an impatient voice came from beside them. 'It's better for you to leave. You've been here for a long time. Please don't stay if you don't have money for the treatment.'

Jason's expression slightly changed when he heard this. He turned his head and looked at the man with an unfriendly look. 'What did you say?'

The man glanced at Jason, looked him up and down and said impatiently, 'It's none of your business what I said. What's wrong? Trying to get a girlfriend? Get out of here immediately if you don't have money for the treatment. I had let you out of the ward but you're still squatting here. Such a trouble makers!'

Jason's face became extremely pale.

No wonder Myles Fang was so desperate to leave. It turned out that he had been driven out of the ward.

Was it because Leah did not have money to pay for the treatment?

Jason suddenly remembered when he was in the hospital last time and had no money. Angela was almost being kicked out as well.

He felt bad for Leah and Myles.

However, Jason was not only angry about this. He was also angry with the humiliation and reproach of the man next to him.

He frowned and sneered, 'Does this hospital belong to you? Why do you care where the boy is? You're an adult after all, don't you feel ashamed when you speak like this?'

The man crossed his legs and sat on the chair with an unfriendly look. He immediately sneered, 'What's wrong? Are you not satisfied? A poor boy with no money came here for treatment. Isn't this a waste of the hospital's resources and doctors? Making the rich people wait?'

Fk!

Who was this man? He looked like a loser at first glance. How dared he quarrel with him?

His brother-in-law was director of the hospital department!

Jason laughed. 'Who says that he can't have treatment if he doesn't have money? Who set the rules? You? Are you the director? Who do you think you are? If you keep talking nonsense, I'll beat you up!

The man got angry when he heard this. He suddenly got up gnashing his teeth, 'All right dude, do you have the guts to beat me? I'll get someone to kill you!'

After that, the man rolled up his sleeves and was ready to fight. He swore, 'My brother-in-law is the hospital's director. Believe it or not, it'll take just one phone call and I can send this sick boy out of here immediately!'

Jason did not give in. This kind of person was really worth beating!

The director?

Haha.

'What are you quarreling about? This is hospital, not your home!'

The nurse who passed by glared at the two of them!

Jason stopped. He turned to look at the nurse, 'I want to ask you a question. What's wrong with Myles's bed?'

The nurse glanced at Myles, who was next to her and said in distress, 'He has been in debt for a long time and the hospital has already delayed his payment for half a month. However, he still hasn't paid the money. We can't do anything about it. There are many patients and this hospital bed can't always be reserved for him.'

The man next to him sneered, 'Don't come for treatment if you're poor!'

Jason was burning with anger. He kicked the man on the waist and immediately sent him flying. He roared, 'What the hell! The poor don't deserve to see doctors? Try say it again!'

The man suddenly got angry and stood up in an instant. He stared at Jason and roared, 'F*ck! How dare you kick me? Well, well, well, you're dead! And this sick boy must leave the hospital immediately!'

Jason was too lazy to answer him. He turned to look at the nurse, 'Are there any empty beds in the hospital? I need a bed now. I'll pay for it.'

The nurse shook her head, 'Sorry, there's nothing left. Please give way. I'm going in to check on the patients' conditions.'

When the man who had just been beaten heard this, he immediately sneered, 'I wouldn't be wrong in saying that you are poor right? Who do you think you are? Are you playing dumb here? How much money do you have? This sick boy has leukemia. It couldn't be cured even if you had one million dollars. Go home and waiting for death!'

Leah pulled Jason with tears of grievance in her eyes. She shook her head, 'Forget it, let's go. Let's go to another hospital.'

She felt helpless. There was nothing she could do when there were no more beds available. They could only leave.

Moreover, she really did not have any more money.

Even if she knew that Jason was very rich, she did not want to use his money.

She had self respect.

Jason turned to look at Leah, 'Don't worry, I have a way. Just wait here.'

With this, Jason walked aside and called Joe Qiao.

The man who had a sarcastic glance on Myles, shook his head, 'Poor boy, he's going to die at such a young age.'

Leah held the pale-faced Myles in her arms and glared at the man with tears in her eyes.

She had never heard such humiliation.

All her relatives had basically disowned her.

This was because no one was willing to borrow money to them, since it was an unescapable pit.

Unexpectedly, the disgusting fat man was excited. He said with a smile, 'Girl, no matter how much you glare at me, I can't cure your younger brother. He can only wait for death.'

After that, he came over, handed Leah a business card and said, 'Well, if you need anything, come to me. I can help you. I think you're quite promising. Come to my company and be my secretary.'

The fat man was shameless and disgusting.

Then, Jason came back. The man sneered, 'F*cker, have you found your help! Were you in despair when you found out that no one can cure him? Let me tell you, my brother-in-law is the director of this hospital. Even if you find someone to help you, I will not let the sick boy have treatment here!

Jason was not annoyed at all. He looked at Leah, 'Let's wait for a few more minutes.'

Leah did not know what Jason was going to do but she could wait for two minutes.

At this moment, a group of doctors in white coats came in quickly.

The leader was an old man with white hair. He walked very fast and looked very anxious.

He had just received a phone call from the family housekeeper in the director's office.

The young master was coming to the hospital!

This was a top priority and he could not afford to make any mistakes!

The mean man suddenly stood up when he saw this person. He rushed up and shouted, 'Director Zhou, I didn't expect you to come in person. Can you help me to check on my wife's condition?'

He had come here today to find the director to treat his wife. There was no other way. Director Zhou was the top expert in the country.

Even if his brother-in-law was the director, it was not easy for him to meet him.

Therefore, he waited for him here.

Unfortunately, as soon as he rushed up, he was pushed away by the doctors around Director Zhou.

Director Zhou walked quickly to Jason and said with an apologetic smile, 'Young master, I'm sorry that I'm late.'

Chapter 180

Everyone was shocked.

The man who rushed up and asked Director Zhou to help to check on his wife's condition was completely stunned at this moment.

Director Zhou showed so much respect to this poor man.

Young master?'

'What the fk! Are you kidding me?'

This loser is the Young master?' he thought.

Jason Smith touched Myles Fang's head and said with a smile, 'If I say that you will recover, then you will.'

Myles looked at Jason curiously. His eyes were sparkled. 'This guy Jason seems to be very powerful.'

Jason looked at Director Zhou, 'Hello, Director Zhou.'

Director Zhou laughed, 'Young master, Butler Joe has contacted me. What can I do for you?'

Director Zhou looked at Myles, who was next to him and suddenly understood, 'Is this the little boy who needs the treatment?'

Jason waved his hand, 'Let's put the matter of treatment aside for the moment. Director Zhou, I won't want this person to be the patient in my hospital. Do you understand?'

Director Zhou looked at the fat man with an annoyed face.

This guy must have offended the Young master.

Director Zhou turned to the nurse beside him and asked, 'Who is he?'

The young nurse beside him said quickly, 'Director, he is Chairman Wang's brother-in-law. His wife is in the next ward.'

Director Zhou said coldly, 'Michael Wang? Our hospital won't welcome him or give his wife treatment. In addition, we will add him and his wife to our blacklist. Moreover, we will inform other hospitals not to treat them as well!'

Offending Young master was as good as offending seventy percent of the hospitals around the world!

He was asking for trouble!

As soon as he said that, the man's face immediately turned pale.

'Thump! Thump!!' He knelt on the ground, hugged Director Zhou's thigh and cried, 'Director Zhou, please don't! I was wrong, I was really wrong! Please don't do this or my wife will die!'

Before he could finish speaking, he was pulled away.

He was extremely desperate.

This was one of the top three hospitals!

Director Zhou was well-known in the country. If Director Zhou personally put him in the blacklist, then it would be extremely troublesome for him to have treatment in the future.

The worst thing was that other hospitals were to be informed not to treat his wife as well!

That was to say, he had no options. No matter where he went, no hospital would dare to give treatment to his wife!

At this moment, the fat man understood who Jason was. He kowtowed to Jason and shouted, 'I beg you to let my wife live. You can take it up with me, I beg you. You have to save my wife! If you don't, then she's finished!

Jason's eyes were cold. 'You wouldn't have been like that just now if you'd known the consequences.'

The man kept kowtowing until he almost broke his neck. 'I was wrong. I'm sorry.'

Meanwhile, a little hand pulled Jason's clothes and said softly, 'Brother, forgive him. His wife is good to me.'

Leah Fang tilted her head and glanced at Myles.

Her silly brother!

She knew Myles's attitude.

There was a lady who treated him really well, but it was not this guy's wife.

However, when she saw this person's reaction, she felt a little sorry for him and said, 'Let's forget about this.'

Jason laughed when he saw Leah and her brother pleading for him, 'You are softhearted. Since you beg for mercy for him, then I'll forget about it.'

The man was overjoyed. He frantically kowtowed, 'Thank you, Master Smith. Thank you, Master Smith.'

Jason shook his head and looked at Director Zhou, 'His wife is also a patient. She can stay in here but I don't think it's right for her to be treated in the hospital.'

Director Zhou asked, 'What do you mean, young master?'

Jason said, 'We only add him into our hospital's blacklist and then tell other hospitals that they can treat his wife.'

Director Zhou nodded, 'I'll do everything according to young master's liking.'

The man knelt on the ground and kowtowed to Jason. 'Thank you, Master Smith. Thank you, Master Smith.'

Jason shook his head and said to Myles, 'Sometimes being a wicked person is more respectable than being a good person.'

Myles nodded even though he did not fully understand.

Although he could not really understand, it made a lot of sense.

Leah breathed a sigh of relief and looked at Jason gratefully.

If it were not for Jason, perhaps she would have had to swallow all the grievances she had suffered.

What did Jason want in return for doing these things?

It seemed that he did not want anything.

Her body?

If he helped her like this, so what if she gave him her body?

However, if she did this, would it disappoint Cindy?

Leah was in a dilemma.

However, Jason did not think too much at that moment. He turned to look at Director Zhou and said, 'Director Zhou, this little boy has no bed yet...'

Director Zhou chuckled, 'This is a small matter. There is a special ward on the top floor.'

Jason nodded gently and said, 'Then I'll have to trouble you, Director Zhou.'

Director Zhou smiled, 'No problem.'

Then, Director Zhou left with the doctors.

Afterwards, Jason went out to make a phone call. When he came back, he told Leah, 'The treatment team will arrive in Shang Shang Jiang City City tomorrow.'

'Tomorrow?' Leah's palm was slightly froze at the moment.

She pulled her hair and said softly, 'Thank you.'

'Don't mention it. This is what I had to do. If you really want to thank me, help me take good care of Angela.'

Jason smiled as he said this. He really liked this young lady very much and wanted her to be his sister.

The two of them stayed in the hospital for a while before they separated.

On the other hand, Amanda Yang had not slept from yesterday till now. She was so happy.

She had spent the whole day at home, looking at the jade bracelet in her hand. It was really beautiful. The more she looked at it, the better it looked.

'Charles, this bracelet must be worth a lot of money, right?'

Amanda happily put the jade bracelet on her wrist and felt so happy.

Charles Jiang put on his spectacles and looked at it carefully. He said in surprise, 'Where did you get this bracelet? It looks not ordinary. It seems to be a glass jade, should be very valuable.'

Charles looked at it for a while longer. It was a glass type jade bracelet which worth at least a few hundred thousand dollars.

Amanda was even happier when she heard this. She pulled at Charles and asked, 'How much is it worth?'

Charles thought for a while and said, 'I don't know, but at least a couple of hundred thousand dollars. I remember I saw it on TV before. There was one jade bracelet that looked exactly the same as this one. It sold for two hundred million dollars!'

'Two hundred million?!'

Amanda was so shocked that she covered her mouth and her eyes were widely open.

So expensive?

'This one must be a replica. However if this glass jade was real. It should cost at least a couple of hundred thousand dollars.'

Charles thought if it was worth two hundred million dollars, it was impossible that it belonged to Amanda. 'By the way, where did you get this bracelet?'

Amanda raised her chin happily, 'I took it from Jason. It turns out that loser hid such an amazing thing. Fortunately, I went to see their house yesterday. Otherwise, it would be such a waste if I didn't wear this bracelet.'

Amanda was really happy today. She had found this bracelet that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

So what if it belonged to Jason?

He had been a loser for three years, so he had to give his mother-in-law something good.

He should had given her this bracelet.

'Did Jason give it to you?' Charles asked.

'Do you think he'd give it to me? I took it. I also got their property ownership certificates. In the afternoon, I'll go to the real estate agency and sell the house. Then, we can buy a villa in Split Mountain.'

Amanda was so happy that she had hatched such a good plan.

As long as she lived in Split Mountain villa, she would look rich.

Charles was stunned when he heard this and said in surprise, 'You took it without asking? That's stealing!'

The word "stealing" made Amanda very uncomfortable. She slapped Charles and said unhappily, 'What are you talking about? I can't enter my own daughter's house? Can't I take my daughter's things? I paid for their house. What's wrong if I took a bracelet?'

After Amanda finished, she got up angrily. She picked up her bag and said, 'You're just being honest. I'm going out!'

After that, Amanda turned around and walked out of the door with her big ass swinging from side to side.

Why did she want to go out?

Of course, she was going to show off.

That morning, she made several phone calls. She called her best friends and sister to have a afternoon tea.

Meanwhile, Jason came home from the hospital.

He returned home to pick up things and took some for clothes for Angela to change.

After entering the bedroom and taking Angela's clothes, Jason noticed that something was not right when he was about to leave. The drawer was opened.

After investigating, he thought a thief had broken into his house.

Jason immediately ran over and looked at the drawer anxiously.

Out of the blue!

The house felt as if it was filled with a presence!

Jason gritted his teeth and his eyes flashed with irrepressible anger. He was like a furious lion.

The brocade box was still there but the bracelet that had been left to him by his mother was gone!

That was the only thing his mother had left for him!

'Ah!'

He roared furiously. His voice rolled like a clap of thunder and made the whole house shake!

Who was it?!

'You're going to die!!!'

Chapter 181

Several middle-aged women gathered together. They were talking and laughing in the Blue Mountain Cafe.

Amanda Yang was very happy because she could finally show off in front of several of her old friends. She shook the jade bracelet on her wrist and said with a proud look, "It's not too bad. My son-in-law gave it to me. I heard it's a glass type jade bracelet. It cost two hundred thousand dollars."

All the middle age woman looked envious. They were attracted to the jade bracelet in Amanda's hands. They could not take their eyes off it.

"Amanda, your son-in-law is famous for being a loser, isn't he? Where did he get the money to buy this for you?"

A woman asked in confusion, with her eyes were fixed on the jade bracelet on Amanda's wrist.

"Oh! He won lottery a few days ago. He bought it to show his filial piety."

Although Amanda was lying through her teeth, she did not blush or feel ashamed.

On the other hand, Josephine Yang huffed. She did not know about the others but she knew her third sister best.

"Why are you so proud? It's just a jade bracelet. I will ask my son-in-law buy me one later."

Josephine took a sip of coffee. With an unkind look, she rolled her eyes as she said this.

"Why are you pretending? What kind of valuable thing could your useless son-in-law buy? I think it's a fake!" she thought.

The atmosphere suddenly changed.

All her best friends suddenly changed her expression and began to suck up to Josephine.

"Josephine, you also want to buy one? I think you'll get a better bracelet than her."

"Josephine's son-in-law is much more powerful than Jason. They even stay in Split Mountain's villa, don't they?"

"Hey, Amanda, didn't you say that you're going to buy a villa? Did you buy it?"

Suddenly someone changed the topic to the matter of Amanda buying a villa.

Amanda blushed and felt a little angry. She had come out to show off the jade bracelet, but these old women began to attack her because they were jealous of her.

"I bought it. I bought it."

Amanda was angry. She said and casually and took a sip of coffee.

"You really bought it? Where is it?"

"Tell me, where is it?"

"Let's go. Take us to have a look at the villa that you've bought."

At this moment, this group of women were so excited. It was as if they were on drugs. They were so excited as they were no different from busybodies.

However, Josephine sneered, "Yea, you bought one. It was the villa in Dragon City, the palace No.1. It cost two hundred million!"

Josephine could not help but laugh like a hyena after she saying this.

Amanda was so angry that her teeth clenched when she heard this. It was so obvious that her sister had deliberately said this to humiliate her.

When the other friends heard it, their excitement suddenly became quiet.

What the hell! That's the one she had bought?

Could Amanda really afford to buy a villa in Dragon City?

From Josephine's words, it was obvious that she was making fun of Amanda.

"Amanda, this is your fault. Just tell us if you didn't really buy the villa. Why are you lying to us? We won't laugh at you."

They sneered with schadenfreude. They did not laugh out loud at her but their eyes and expressions betrayed them.

Amanda was so angry and her face turned pale. She got up angrily and pointed at Josephine, "Who said I didn't buy it? I... I bought it, my son-in-law bought it!"

This Josephine was so infuriating. She had been making things difficult for Amanda since she was a child. At such an old age, she was still making things difficult for her.

Didn't she only have one good son-in-law? Why was she being so arrogant?

Amanda felt even more disgusted with Jason Smith when she thought of this.

It was all his fault that these women were laughing at her.

Damn it!

"Hey, are you still angry? Can your son-in-law, a loser afford to buy a villa? Stop joking. Do you really believe what Jason said?"

Josephine blew on her newly done nails and sneered.

The last time in the Jiang family, Jason said that he had bought a villa.

How could Amanda have believed this?

Was she really that desperate?

"Shut up! What's with my son-in-law?"

Amanda was angry. It was a fact that Jason always embarrassed her. However, it was very shameful for her to be exposed in public.

So, she immediately pointed at Josephine's nose, "Look at your Cecelia. How many men did she have to sleep with before she married Hudson? Your daughter is a slut and she sold her body for fortune! You're quite proud, hahaha!"

Pat!

In the next second!

Josephine got up angrily and slapped Amanda hard, "What's wrong with my daughter? We're still richer than Jason. Jason is a loser and a coward! He lived on a woman. He's scum among men!"

Pat!

Amanda covered her face. She was very angry too. Then she raised her hand and slapped Josephine back.

Then, the two mean sisters were completely torn up and fought in the cafe!

It was a very violent scene!

It drew a lot of onlookers's attention and they even posted videos of it to the Internet.

All of a sudden, the both of them became famous in Shang Jiang City.

When Amanda got home, her face was all covered in finger marks. It was so miserable to look at.

Charles Jiang felt helpless. He helped her to apply medicine, "You don't have to argue with your sister. See now you've been slapped this badly."

Amanda gasped, "Be kind, I'm tough. I scratched her hard and pulled her hair. Do you know that my second sister actually wears a wig. Hahaha, I laughed so hard when I saw it. Let her show off in front of me. I want to show her how powerful I can be."

Charles just sighed helplessly and shook his head. He said, "Please control your temper from now on. Have you forgotten why you were beaten last time?"

As soon as he mentioned this matter, Amanda felt guilty. She immediately took out her mobile phone, called Jason and asked, "Jason, what's happening with the incident? Did you manage to find the person who hit me?"

Jason was on the verge of losing his temper. However, after receiving the call from Amanda, he

Thinking of this, she ran to the yard and began to brew the medicine.

She had to make Cindy drink the medicine this time around.

Meanwhile Jason was in Joe Qiao's office. He was extremely angry.

Joe stood tremblingly in front of Jason, bending over and lowering his head. He did not dare to speak.

Jason was on the verge of committing a violent act.

It had been seven years since he last seen Young master get so angry. Was there something wrong with young madam?

"Young master, what happened? What do you need me to do?" Joe held his breath and asked respectfully but in panic.

Even the sweat on his forehead could not help but flow.

Jason just stood calmly in front of the floor-to-ceiling window, with his back facing Joe.

However, his cold aura had reduced the temperature in the CEO's office.

He was like a sharp sword that had been drawn out of its sheath, ready to kill!

It was so horrible!

"Search! Search the whole city! The relic my mother gave me has been stolen! I want to know who took it!"

Jason said this in a cold voice. His eyes reflected the lights of the whole city and his anger was radiating out.

At this moment, Jason was like a wild animal. He only had anger in his heart.

"What? Madam's ..."

Joe was scared and totally panicked.

This was a big news!

Jason's mother was an inviolable taboo for him.

Who was it?!

How could someone be so bold to steal the thing that had been left by madam!

This was just asking for trouble!

"Young master, I'll arrange the search right now."

Joe panicked. He must find madam's item before his young master got too angry.

Otherwise, the consequences would be unimaginable!

After that, Joe immediately dialed a few numbers and made stern orders.

Suddenly, all the forces belonging to the Smith family in the whole of Shang Jiang City were called!
