

Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 141

The girl who was scolded looked upset. "How do you know that he's Daniel Edwards? Have you met him before? How do you know that he's not a hired actor?"

Furious, the man yelled, "Of course I've met him before! I was fortunate enough to have met him once when I used to work in the pharmaceutical field. Besides, he just went upstairs to eat. You need to have at least a Platinum Card to eat upstairs.

How dare you say that he's a hired actor? The people around him are famous figures in Eastcliff's pharmaceutical industry. Even if Daniel is a just hired actor, do you think that the people around him are actors too?"

Everyone nodded in agreement. Even though most of them didn't know Daniel, they had seen the big shots of Eastcliff before. Even those big shots had to treat Daniel respectfully so there was no doubt that his identity was real. Hearing everyone's discussions, Penny looked extremely upset. She thought Sasha was lying a moment ago but Daniel's unexpected visit had proved her wrong.

"Sasha, I didn't know that your company had received so many orders. No wonder you said that you don't need the Carlson Group's business," Penny said embarrassingly.

With a smile, Sasha replied, "No matter what, I still want to thank you for the kind offer!"

Penny looked relieved after hearing this. Then, she gave Matthew a sideways glance and said, "Matthew, I was just wondering why you have such bad temper. Now I know that it's because you have support! However, let me say this again. You are just a live-in son-in-law. No matter how much money the Cunningham family earns, it has nothing to do with you! You can leech off Sasha all you like but you should at least be self-aware, understand?"

Matthew couldn't help but purse his lips. If he wasn't worried that Sasha might have a hard time being the middleman, he would've splashed a cup of water on Penny's face long ago.

Does she really think that she's better now that she has a foreign boyfriend? Just because I don't rebuke you doesn't mean that you can tell me what to do!

After chatting for a while, Penny suddenly jumped on the opportunity to change the topic.

"Oh, I forgot to mention that Carlson Group arranged a 200 square meters large flat at The Grand Pavilion for Peter. Sasha, didn't you used to say that it would be great to live in a house in The Grand Pavilion? I'll take you around the next time we meet. The environment in the area is really stunning. It's definitely the most beautiful house I've ever seen! You'll surely like it!"

Sasha's smile seemed forced. She had seen The Grand Pavilion's brochure before and really liked the houses there. She even used to dream of living there. However, even though she was the president of Cunningham Pharmaceuticals and had a net worth of hundreds of millions, most of it was in the company and she didn't have much money. It was impossible for her to be able to afford a luxurious flat in The Grand Pavilion. Seeing Sasha's expression, Penny's vanity was greatly satisfied.

She glanced at Matthew again and sneered, “If you want to visit my house, don’t bring losers that leech off other people. People who live in The Grand Pavilion are all big shots and elites in Eastcliff. Letting a loser in would desecrate such a high-end place, understand?”

Sasha slightly frowned. Hearing Penny humiliate Matthew made her angry.

“Thanks for the invite, but I don’t think we can enter such a high-end place like the Grand Pavilion so we won’t be interrupting your peace!”

Peter chuckled and said, “Miss Cunningham, you’ve misunderstood Penny. The only people we don’t welcome are reckless barbarians.

A beauty like you is warmly welcomed! I’m planning to have a party at my house this weekend and I’ll invite some of my foreign friends. They are all civilized gentlemen and some of them are wealthy and influential people. Miss Cunningham, you should join our party so that I can introduce some of them to you. I’m sure that it’ll be great for your business!”

Penny immediately nodded and chimed in. “He’s right. Sasha, you have to come! Peter knows many wealthy gentlemen from his country and many of them are descendants from wealthy families. They are all handsome and rich young men and you’re definitely their type! Don’t worry, I’ll certainly introduce the most handsome man to you!”

Sitting at the side, Matthew couldn’t help but frown. I’m still right here. What are you two trying to do?

Meanwhile, Sasha shook her head and determinedly said, “No, thank you! I’m already married so there’s no need for me to meet any more gentlemen. It’s also not suitable for me to attend parties like that!”

Hearing this, Penny started to feel anxious. She really wanted to introduce Sasha to Peter’s powerful friends because she wanted to use her to elevate her status among those people. It was possible that she would even benefit from it. In Penny’s eyes, Sasha was an important bargaining chip for her to climb up the social hierarchy ladder.

With that, she pretended to be angry and said, “Sasha, my fiancé personally invited you to his party. Are you really going to refuse and embarrass him? Besides, knowing more people will benefit your career. Who said that married people can’t attend parties? Matthew, why don’t you tell us whether you support Sasha to attend the party or not? Do you want Sasha’s career to develop further? If you still consider yourself a man, you should know what to do. Even though you can’t be of help to Sasha’s career, shouldn’t you let her work hard for her future? Don’t you want to see Sasha succeed and be happy?”

Matthew instantly felt speechless. This woman is really shameless. Are you seriously asking my permission to introduce my wife to other men? Your words are implying that if I stop Sasha from attending the party, I’ll be a sinner who stays in the way of Sasha’s career. What b*llshit is that?

Just when Matthew was about to rebuke her, a group of people suddenly walked in. The person leading the group was Tiger. When he was about to head upstairs, he noticed Matthew and there was a flicker in his eyes.

“Mr. Larson, fancy seeing you here! This must be your wife. Nice to meet you, Mrs. Larson!”

Tiger hurriedly ran over and bowed to greet Matthew.

Seeing this, Penny glanced at Tiger disdainfully. In her eyes, people who Matthew knew were definitely not powerful people. Furthermore, Tiger was so respectful toward Matthew so she assumed that he definitely was just a nobody!

Feeling surprised, Sasha asked, “Who is this?”

Tiger put on a smile and replied, “My name is Tiger and I’m the purchasing manager of our company’s subsidiary herbary company!”

Penny immediately sneered. He’s just a small manager working at a subsidiary company of Cunningham Pharmaceuticals. No wonder he bowed and greeted Matthew respectfully. He probably doesn’t know the Cunningham family’s situation and thinks that he can get a raise if he gets on Matthew’s good side.

Thinking of this, the way Penny looked at Tiger became even more contemptuous. After all, she had always looked down on people like him!

Wellness Herbary was doing well recently and Sasha was really satisfied.

“Oh, it’s you. The company has been doing very well recently. Thank you all for your hard work!”

Tiger was overjoyed to hear Sasha’s praise. “Mrs. Larson, you’re too kind. We are just doing our job. Well then, Mr. and Mrs. Larson, I won’t be interrupting your meal any longer. Waiter, I’ll be paying the bill for this table!”

Hearing this, Penny immediately frowned. She invited Sasha out for dinner tonight so that she could show off her fiancé.

Now that Tiger was offering to pay the bill, he ruined her plan.

With a cold expression, she slammed her fist on the table and yelled, “Who are you looking down upon? Do you think that we can’t afford a meal and need you to help pay our bill?”

Tiger was startled by Penny’s reaction. They say that a person who smiles will often get pardoned. I’m already being really polite but why is this woman so angry?

However, he couldn't figure out Penny's relationship with Matthew and Sasha so he didn't dare to rebuke her.

He was obviously embarrassed and Sasha felt embarrassed too. "Penny, Tiger is just being kind. Why are you mad at him?"

Penny had a contemptuous look on her face as she said, "How is he being kind? He's just a flatterer! If you want to flatter Matthew, go do it somewhere else. Why are you showing off in front of me? Are you qualified to show off? I can't believe you offered to pay our bill. Are you looking down on us and think that we can't even afford to pay for a meal? Do you know who my husband is? Do you know what he does for a living?"

Tiger was infuriated. He would have yelled at Penny if it weren't for Matthew's sake.

Just then, Matthew chuckled and asked, "Peter, don't you know who he is?"

Peter glanced at Tiger arrogantly and said, "I've just moved here not long ago so I've only met the upper-class locals."

It was obvious that he was implying that he didn't know lower-class people like Tiger.

Tiger almost couldn't hold back his anger. Who the f*ck do you think you are? How dare you talk to me like that?!

Matthew smiled and said, "Peter, is it possible that you just don't remember him? Are you sure that you don't know him at all?"

Peter arrogantly yelled, "Have I not made myself clear? I don't know nobodys like him!"

Hearing this, Matthew burst into laughter and said, "A nobody? Hahaha... Peter, you are working as a CEO in his cousin's company. How can you not know who he is?"

Everyone was taken aback. Surprised, Tiger asked, "Mr. Larson, what do you mean when you say that he's the CEO of my cousin's company?"

Peter was completely dumbfounded and he turned pale.

Matthew smiled and said, "According to Peter, he is the new CEO that Stanley Carlson personally hired! He's in charge of all the business affairs of the Carlson Group, including business with Cunningham Pharmaceuticals. He even said that he is going to completely cut off business with Cunningham Pharmaceuticals just now!"

Tiger was momentarily stunned before he figured out what Matthew meant and directly roared, "What a f*cking liar! My cousin personally manages the business affairs of his company. Why would he hire an outsider to be the CEO? I've never heard about this before! Hey you! Tell me, which Carlson Group are you working at?"

Peter was extremely pale and he stuttered as he spoke. “I-I don’t know what you’re talking about. I’m the CEO of Carlson Group. I-I just started working there so it’s understandable that you don’t know...”

Tiger was furious. “Are you still f*cking lying to me? Fine! My cousin will be here soon and we’ll discuss further after he arrives. Do you know the consequences of pretending to be the CEO of Carlson Group? This is a crime! I’m f*cking going to make sure that you go to jail!”

Peter was stunned.

Meanwhile, Sasha was in a daze. Tiger is Stanley’s cousin? Why is such a powerful man working as a purchasing manager in my herbarium company?
