

Amelia's subordinate didn't dare to utter a word.

It wasn't the first time Amelia mentioned this. She kept saying she underestimated Jiang Ning and reminded herself to raise her guard against him.

But Amelia surprisingly said she underestimated Jiang Ning again today.

Was Jiang Ning...that scary?

"If Lin Group gains a foothold overseas, then the Chinese Chamber of Commerce will be in trouble," said Amelia with her eyes shining.

The things Jiang Ning wanted to achieve always surprised Amelia.

"Jin."

She suddenly realized what Jiang Ning was up to.

"Yes, Miss Ceyranka!" answered her subordinate, Jin, immediately. "What are your orders?"

"Keep a close eye on them."

"On Jiang Ning?"

"On the Li family!"

A glint radiated from Amelia's eyes as she said, "Keep a close eye on the Li family's businesses. Be prepared to take them over. Since Jiang Ning dared to fool me, then I will take away the fruits of his labor!”

Jin didn't quite get it.

Why did Amelia tell Jin to keep an eye on the Li family and not Lin Group?

“Miss Ceyranka...” said her subordinate hesitantly. He wondered whether Amelia was too blinded by fury and gave the wrong instruction. “Keep an eye on the Li family?”

“If not?” asked Amelia. “When the Bao family collapsed, we didn't gain anything. Now that the Li family is on the brink of collapse, all my efforts will be wasted if you don't prepare in advance.”

Jin trembled.

Was the Li family going to collapse?

They were the most powerful family in the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

Were they going to collapse?

Simply because of Jiang Ning?

Jin's head was filled with disbelief, but he didn't dare ask and risk provoking Amelia. Then he nodded hurriedly and replied, “Okay, I'll get it arranged!”

After he got off the car, he left swiftly. Amelia sat in the car and continued feeling angry.

Amelia didn't like getting deceived, especially when she thought she had everything under control. In the end, Jiang Ning was the one who was in control of her.

"You could have fooled me or slept with me, or even cheat me of my feelings. But why did you deceive me into thinking I had seen through you?" sneered Amelia. Then she suddenly laughed and continued, "This is interesting. Quite interesting. Jiang Ning, I'm starting to like you more and more."

Then she started the engine and stepped on the gas. The engine roared into life instantly and was as explosive as this ferocious woman.

Meanwhile.

In an ordinary hotel room, a young woman lay prone on the bed as she covered her face out of both shyness and delight.

She didn't expect to experience something so dream-like.

After she was deceived into coming abroad, her life was almost ruined, but she encountered Number Five under such dire circumstances. He was a slightly awkward and woodblock of a man, but he had saved her.

"Number Five, Number Five...Why does he prefer to be called Number Five? His real name sounds good as it is," said the girl as she covered her face and shook her head shyly. Her face turned crimson when she called Number Five by his real name and sighed.

Number Five would be coming over in a minute. He said he came bearing good news, so she waited with anticipation.

BAM!

Someone suddenly kicked the room door open.

The girl got a shock and instantly panicked. Then she said, "Who...who are you? What are you doing here?"

"Is it her? Take her!"

The men who entered didn't bother talking to her at all. Then they stepped forward and yanked the woman by her hair and slapped her viciously.

"You better behave! Or else, we'll kill you!"

The woman's mouth was stuffed with cloth and was dragged away.

Number Five arrived not long after they left. When he opened the door, all he saw was the room in utter chaos. His eyes instantly turned red.

"Yu'er! Yu'er"

Number Five was murderous. He quickly searched for her as he rang Jiang Ning. His voice was filled with fury and anxiety, and it even sounded like he was crying.

“Big Boss! Someone took my woman!”

Number Five's eyes were bloodshot as he reported his location and instantly hung up.

He rushed behind the hotel to see a car starting its engine not far from him, and he charged over hysterically.

Both his eyes were filled with murder!

Meanwhile.

Jiang Ning and Lin Yuzhen had just gotten back to the hotel.

Jiang Ning received a call from Number Five, just as they were about to turn in. His expression immediately fell.

"What happened?" asked Lin Yuzhen anxiously.

She could sense how worried, anxious, and even slightly tearful Number Five was through the phone.

Number Five wasn't the sort of man who cried.

Brother Gou and the others were all courageous men. Even in the face of death, none of them would flinch. So how could Number Five cry?

"Someone took Number Five's woman."

Jiang Ning put down the phone and shouted, "Gou!"

Brother Gou and the others immediately charged in from outside.

“Number Five’s woman, the one called Yu'er, was taken captive. Number Five just sent the location. Go and search immediately!”

An insane fury surged in all their eyes when they heard him!

Although they made fun of Number Five by saying a fighter didn’t need a woman, they were delighted that he found someone he loved and gave him their blessings from the bottom of their hearts.

They were just discussing what gift to buy Number Five for his wedding. How could this have happened?

“Fuck! Who was blind enough to kidnap her? How dare he touch our brother’s girl? I will chase them down immediately. I will make the men who took her regret the day they were born! Let’s go!” shouted Brother Gou coldly. “Big Boss, we’ll go save her now!”

“We are overseas, and you aren’t familiar with the place. We should meet up with Number Five first. I will come up with something and catch up with you guys,” said Jiang Ning.

“Yes, Big Boss!”

The wolves were furious!

“What are we going to do now?” asked Lin Yuzhen worriedly.

They weren't in China and most certainly not in Donghai. They had just arrived overseas and were still unfamiliar with the territory, so it probably won't be easy to find someone.

Also, they must have dared to kidnap her because they didn't feel threatened by Jiang Ning.

She was very worried about Number Five's girlfriend, Yu'er.

“Stay in the hotel, and don't worry,” replied Jiang Ning as he reached his hand out and patted Lin Yuzhen's shoulder gently. “I'll be back soon.”

“I'll be fine,” said Lin Yuzhen as she nodded. “All of you have to be careful. You absolutely must find Number Five's girlfriend and bring her back safely!”

“Of course,” said Jiang Ning before he turned to leave.

He strode quickly to the door and halted.

“Thanks, I owe you one.”

Then his silhouette disappeared.

Meanwhile.

In a casino abroad!

It was a sleepless city and bustled with activity as though it were daylight even until the wee hours of the night.

The activity at night was even more lively than the day.

In an old apartment, the sound of people frolicking could be made out through the dim light.

A man covered his eyes with a piece of cloth as he reached his hands out and played hide and seek with the women around him.

“Here, here! I’m here! Come and get me!”

“Kent, hurry up and get me!”

The girls said something from time to time as they hid from the man while he looked for them.

“Honey, whoever I catch won’t get to leave tonight!”

Kent touched his bald head. His face was full of scars and looked frightening under the dim light. He cheekily laughed when he caught their footsteps and lunged towards the girls!

“Haha, I caught you!” said Kent as he laughed gleefully. “Baby, it’s going to be you tonight!”

Then he instantly took off his blindfold.

But all the excitement and desire in his eyes immediately froze over and dissipated instantly.

Kent sensed his throat turn hoarse!

All the other women in the room were long gone, and only Jiang Ning stood before him!
