

NH

Reagan didn't dare to say anything and just kept watching. Fang Yin was rather aggressive earlier, but now he seemed to have kept away his violent streak and was much more respectful towards Mr Hei now.

Reagan could sense this slight change, but couldn't put his finger on it.

Who did Mr Hei want Fang Yin to kill?

Jiang Ning?

Fang Yin probably wasn't capable of that.

That broken arm...it was so obvious that even Reagan could guess that Jiang Ning was the one who broke it.

After all, Mr Hei had purposely left the cemetery caretaker behind to draw Fang Yin out.

He suddenly shuddered and felt like he had fallen into an icy abyss. He felt cold all over. The feeling of being part of someone else's chess game but being worth less than a pawn made Reagan feel even more terrified now.

Not talking and just listening to orders was probably the best choice right now.

Meanwhile.

Donghai!

Lin Yuzhen remained at home all day and she was so bored.

NH

Her tummy was getting bigger day by day, and after the fifth month, she was beginning to see her baby bump.

She stood in the courtyard and took in the morning sun in order to increase her body's intake of calcium.

Everything she did now was for the child.

"Is Jiang Ning still at Butler Zhao's?" Lin Yuzhen made a face. "What's taking him so long? He hasn't been home for two days now."

She hoped that Jiang Ning could continue with his own work and not become preoccupied with her, since she really could take care of herself. But at the same time, she also hoped to see Jiang Ning anytime she wanted to.

And that was because seeing Jiang Ning made her feel safe.

"Silly girl, that boy is very busy," laughed Ye Shan. "You can come over and watch us play chess, you can consider it early training for the child."

"So this is good for the child?" Lin Yuzhen laughed merrily.

She walked over to watch Tan Xing and Ye Shan play chess.

During this period of time, these two old men stayed in the Lin house and didn't go anywhere at all.

Jiang Ning wasn't in Donghai, so they were responsible for Lin Yuzhen's safety, especially the child that Lin Yuzhen was carrying. That was Jiang Ning's child.

"Move the horse, the horse," said Lin Yuzhen as she sat by the side. "Moving the horse is a better choice."

"Who says?" argued Tan Xing. "If I move the horse, then I'd walk into Ye's trap."

"The baby says so," said Lin Yuzhen as she fluttered her eyes.

"The baby says so?" Tan Xing straightened himself up and moved the horse piece. "Then it's definitely the right move!"

The two of them continued playing chess while Lin Yuzhen sat and watched by the side while giving her comments from time to time.

Just then, someone walked in quickly and whispered something into Tan Xing's ear.

Tan Xing's gaze changed slightly and he looked up at Ye Shan.

"Yuzhen, go back into the house and rest, we'll stop the game here," said Tan Xing.

"Ok." Lin Yuzhen obediently nodded. She knew that it was best for her to listen to everything these two guardians of hers said.

She turned and went back into the house.

Tan Xing remained seated at the stone table and his expression became rather solemn.

“Jiang Ning guessed it right. Someone has their eye on Donghai.”

“Who’s the target?” Ye Shan frowned.

The two of them exchanged glances and turned to look towards where Lin Yuzhen had walked to. It could only be her.

“Should we tell Jiang Ning to come back?”

“Yes, we should.”

Neither of them dared to be too complacent. This was a matter of Lin Yuzhen and her child’s safety, so everyone had to be careful.

News of Jiang Ning leaving Donghai had not leaked but someone was still coming for them. That meant that this person possibly wasn’t concerned about whether Jiang Ning was around or not, and this person would probably go all out.

Tan Xing immediately called all the highly skilled fighters of Extreme Martial Arts Academy over.

The news was sent to Jiang Ning as soon as possible.

The sky over Donghai seemed to be darkening, as if a terrible storm was about to hit.

The aggressive undercurrents made the air seem especially oppressive and unbearably suffocating!

Rate the Translation to Get 2 Pearls.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!

KABOOM!

The crash of thunder was accompanied by the flash of lightning that cut through the sky.

The lightning was blinding.

Tan Xing's expression instantly grew grim.

Even the weather was changing rapidly. It was sunny just moments ago, and now the skies were darkening.

"We've already made all the preparations we could," said Ye Shan. "We're going to use all our strength to block whatever's coming out way!"

The two of them exchanged glances and didn't say anymore as they quickly entered the Lin family's bungalow.

Lin Yuzhen was sitting on the sofa as she read a book and drank a cup of fruit juice very leisurely.

She wasn't bothered by the storm outside.

She was going to listen to Jiang Ning and take good care of herself so that she could take good care of their child.

That was the most important thing right now.

"Mummy can't wait to see you, and Daddy too, and everyone else..."

Her face was filled with gentleness as she gently rubbed her tummy and felt like she could feel a little hand moving and interacting with her through her skin.

NH

That feeling was very special and it filled her heart with tenderness.

KABOOM!

The thunder continued to resound loudly outside.

The sky darkened very quickly and the winds and rain began to ravage the city.

The storm came almost without warning, and the rain came pouring down from the sky after a few minutes. It was so torrential that the falling of the rain was almost ear deafening.

Meanwhile.

There were a lot of people surrounding the Lin house now. They were all in raincoats and had a resolute look on their faces. They looked like they were even ready to die.

Rainwater dripped down Huang Yuming's hair.

“Guard the place well! Nobody is to come close to the bungalow!”

Many footsteps ran over the puddles in the ground, causing water to splash everywhere. The ripples moved swiftly outwards before slowly calming back down again.

There were around a thousand men outside the bungalow, forming three layers of men guarding every entrance and exit.

This was the first time they were on standby like this in Donghai!

This was a first for this forbidden territory!

And meanwhile.

At the Fang house in Mount Zhongnan.

Jiang Ning had already received the news.

This was the fastest it could get to him already.

He frowned slightly.

“Master, are you going back?” said Fang Qiu. “I can handle things here!”

He knew that Jiang Ning was worried about Lin Yuzhen and the baby.

Jiang Ning looked towards Donghai and furrowed his brows more deeply.

“I’m going back.” He didn’t leave Fang Qiu with any instructions and just disappeared in the blink of an eye.

Fang Qiu knew that Jiang Ning was in a hurry and everything was already arranged so that he could rush back to Donghai in the shortest time possible.

But he still felt his heart sink, and he had a bad feeling about this.

NH

That was because he had seen an expression on Jiang Ning's face that he had never seen before. There was anxiety, worry and a tinge of regret, as if he had made the wrong decision before this.

He had really never seen such an expression on Jiang Ning's face before.

"It'll be fine, everything will be just fine!" Fang Qiu took a deep breath. "I must do a good job over here too, and not let Master worry."

Both Mount Zhongnan and Donghai were important places, but Jiang Ning had to split himself and oversee both places by himself.

So Fang Qiu blamed himself for not being able to help Jiang Ning more in this aspect.

He hoped to change this situation as soon as possible.

The sky in Donghai was so dark, it was terrifying.

It had been ages since such a frightening storm hit the city.

The streets were almost empty because nobody dared to remain outside in such dire weather conditions.

Only the Lin house was covered with people standing nearly shoulder to shoulder as they formed a three layer wall and surrounded the entire estate.

Right on the inside stood the best fighters from the Extreme Martial Arts Academy and formed a barrier as well.

NH

Behind them stood Ye Shan and Tan Xing, the two advanced grandmasters who were way more powerful than they let on!

Rate the Translation to Get 2 Pearls.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!