

Mr Hei didn't say anymore. Everything was going according to plan, so he was just short of one step before he could open the mountain gate and go back in!

He turned to leave and Fang Yin followed behind him.

Both of them disappeared in a flash.

After they both left, Reagan finally breathed a sigh of relief. The terrifying pressure he felt in front of Mr Hei made his stomach churn.

"I can finally breathe normally again."

He walked to the door and looked out. He wanted to look at the scenery outside and breathe in some fresh air.

He was going to gain a lot in the near future, and it would be even more than anything he had imagined!

But all of a sudden, he saw a red spot on his heart that slowly moved to his face and stopped at his forehead.

Reagan froze. What was this thing?

An infrared beam?

Was someone aiming a gun at him?

He looked out into the distance and saw a black barrel aimed at him. Horror immediately spread across his face, but before he could run, he ended up collapsing instead.

BAM!

Blood spurted everywhere.

A bloodied hole appeared in Reagan's forehead.

His eyes were wide and even until he died, he still had no idea how this happened and who had come to kill him.

He had made sure that the area around his own estate was cleared out, so anyone who wanted to ambush him like this had to be at least two kilometers away. But someone had actually still managed to take him down at this distance!

Fresh blood dyed the floor red. Reagan's eyes were still open, but he was no longer breathing.

There was a terrible shriek and the entire Salo clan went into a panic.

More than two kilometers away.

Fei kept his weapon away with a cold look in his eyes. "I'm going to make sure every single member of the Salo clan dies!"

Meanwhile.

Mount Zhongnan.

The Fang house.

All of them had heard about what happened in Donghai and they also sent their best doctors to Donghai in hope of helping Lin Yuzhen.

“Master, I’ve already arranged everything you told me to the last time,” said Fang Qiu. “We’re just one step short of completely unravelling the secret behind the Extreme Fist Technique Manual.”

“How’s the cemetery caretaker doing?” asked Jiang Ning after nodding his head.

“Not too good. He’s slipped into a coma again and will still need some time.”

Fang Qiu frowned.

If the cemetery caretaker died, then their entire plan would fall apart.

He didn’t know if Jiang Ning had any other backup plans, but the information that the cemetery caretaker had was especially important, so he couldn’t let the cemetery caretaker die.

“Got it, just continue with what I told you to do.”

“Master, what about you?”

“I’m going into the deep mountains,” said Jiang Ning.

He was going alone.

Fang Qiu immediately panicked.

“Alone?! That won’t do!!” he said anxiously. “The deep mountains are very dangerous, and on top of that, that mysterious man is the one who wants to meet you there. Since he's all prepared, he'll definitely try to attack you."

"I know," said Jiang Ning.

"I'll go with you! Even if I can't help, at least I can take a knife or two for you!"

"I've already explained to your mission to you." Jiang Ning shook his head. "Enough, just listen to me and do what you need to."

Fang Qiu wanted to say more, but since Jiang Ning was already decided, he could only nod.

Jiang Ning left the Fang house alone and walked towards the deep section of the mountains. He followed the same route that the wolves took the last time, but he walked even more quickly. His speed was astonishing.

He walked as though the mountainous paths were straight and smooth pavements, while his body emanated a terrifying murderous air, so no wild beasts dared to come close to him.

In fact, they remained far away and all the birds flew away!

SWOOSH!

SWOOSH!

At almost the same time, two other figures were also making their way to the deep mountains swiftly. They came from different directions, but they were headed for the same place.

The three men seemed to be able to see each other, and they could see that crazed and violent sort of murderous intent in each other's eyes...

The deep section of Mount Zhongnan was overgrown with thorny shrubs and bushes.

But to a strong and powerful fighter like Jiang Ning, this was nothing.

Back when he was carrying out his missions, he had gone deep into tropical rainforests, and the conditions were even worse there.

Jiang Ning went through the mountain forests to suddenly arrive at a vast patch of grass.

There were two other figures at the end of the field.

One of them was familiar to him – Fang Yin.

The other one was obviously the man who attacked Donghai and poisoned Lin Yuzhen and the rest.

“You’re fast.” Mr Hei turned and the mask on his face made Jiang Ning narrow his eyes slightly.

This mask seemed to be smiling, yet not quite. It reminded Jiang Ning of the mask that his Master wore when he was His Lordship. It looked rather similar to this one.

“What do you want me to do?” Jiang Ning went straight to the point.

Mr Hei laughed.

“You’re not going to ask who I am?”

“You’re not going to ask what motives I have?”

He stared at Jiang Ning and tried to read Jiang Ning from his facial expression, but he couldn’t tell at all.

There was no furious nor murderous expression look on Jiang Ning’s face, and it was completely expressionless.

Only his eyes remained sharp!

They were as sharp as a knife!

“It looks like the rumor is true. You listen to everything your woman says and she’s your weakness,” Mr Hei’s tone of voice was somewhat mocking.

To him, a martial artist should not have a woman, and should not have any obligations or ties.

Once one became emotionally attached, then that would become a weakness that could prove to be fatal!

Otherwise, why else would a powerful man like Jiang Ning listen to him?

“Enough of your nonsense. Go straight to the point.” Jiang Ning didn’t want to waste time talking.

He turned and glanced at Fang Yin. “I’ll help you complete the task, you give me the antidote.”

“Excellent.” Mr Hei nodded.

“I’m a man of my word, so as long as you complete the mission I give you properly, I will definitely give you the antidote. I don’t intend to make enemies with you either.”

But he knew that from the moment he attacked Lin Yuzhen, they were destined to be enemies for life!

Fang Yin narrowed his eyes. He had exchanged blows with Jiang Ning several times and knew him pretty well.

Jiang Ning was very different from the past. His posture, his expression and even his gaze didn’t seem normal.

“Be careful of this boy,” reminded Fang Yin. “This fellow is very scheming and has a lot of tricks up his sleeve, so don’t trust him too easily.”

“No worries.” Mr Hei shook his head gently. Everything was within his control.

The poison in Lin Yuzhen’s body was very special, so if Jiang Ning couldn’t get the antidote, then both his wife and child would die. No matter how powerful Jiang Ning was, he had to become a tool once someone caught hold of his weakness.

“You’ve brought all the pages, right?” he looked at Jiang Ning.

Jiang Ning didn’t say anything and just pulled out all seven pages of the manual.

Mr Hei nodded and turned to Fang Yin. Fang Yin didn't say anything and carefully fished out the one page he had.

"Excellent," said Mr Hei. "I need you to bring your pages and place them in a particular position. You don't have a lot of time, and you must place them in the correct positions before the sun sets.

He picked up a twig and started drawing a map on the ground.

Jiang Ning had a photographic memory, so he could remember every stroke that he made accurately. Even though there was no official map of this region, Mr Hei was still able to mark out a proper route.

This man was very familiar with this place. That was the first thing Jiang Ning observed.

Mr Hei pointed out seven locations for Jiang Ning and told Jiang Ning which page went to which location.

He marked a different location out for Fang Yin and told him to put his page there.

"Once you're done, come back here. Once I open the mountain gate, I'll give you the antidote. I'm a man of my word," said Mr Hei.
