Chapter 3 The Dragon's Order

"Atishoo!"

Leones sneezed suddenly and had a bad feeling. Perhaps someone was cursing him.

At this moment, the roar of the car engine suddenly came from behind.

Like a roaring beast, it was approaching rapidly.

Leones stopped and looked back.

He saw a white Audi car rushing toward him.

"Is she again?"

Leones mistakenly thought that this was another killer sent by his stepmother.

But soon, he heard a young man yelling inside the car.

"Get out of the way. The car is out of control!"

Seeing this, Leones calmly took a step forward and blocked the path of the car.

"Damn it!" The driver in the car was stunned when he saw this. "Are you crazy? Oh, no! He will die!"

In a flash, the car hit Leones heavily.

However, Leones just raised his hand lightly to hold the car, and then the car miraculously stopped.

"Huh?" The driver was surprised. He thought he would knock Leones out, but to his surprise, the car stopped at a critical moment.

"It was so close..."

The driver wiped the sweat from his head and was grateful.

The car he thought was out of control suddenly returned to normal.

But in fact, it was Leones who forced the car to stop abruptly with his great strength:

Leones had mighty strength. Not to mention a car, even a tank could not crush him.

Then, Leones lifted the car cover and took a look.

It turned out that the car had been tampered with.

Leones simply repaired it.

“Huh? Is it really fine?”

The driver also found that the siren in the car had stopped, and everything had returned to normal.

“Thanks, bro. It’s lucky to meet someone who can repair cars.”

The driver mistook Leones for an expert in car repair.

It was true. Leones was indeed an expert.

One of Leones’ the eighth masters was the best mechanical genius in the world. Because the weapon he made was too lethal, he was banned from the world, and all his technologies were destroyed. Later, he was wanted by the world for selling the aircraft carrier. He was finally arrested in Vericano and imprisoned in Zerino Prison.

Chapter 3 The Dragon's Order

Leones had learned the master's skills. Not to mention repairing a car, it was just a piece of cake for him to make tanks or airplanes.

Then, Leones directly opened the car door and got in.

"Let's go. Take me to Dragon Manor."

The driver was stunned and looked at Leones who was sitting in the passenger's seat. This guy was so weird. He didn't even ask Leones to get in.

"Mr. Timon, hurry up and drive." A young girl sitting in the back seat urged the driver. "This gentleman helped us fix the car, so we should give him a ride."

"Okay." The driver stopped thinking, stepped on the gas, and drove the car.

But a few minutes later, several black off-road vehicles suddenly followed them from behind. They attacked their car from the left and right, and the car was forced to stop again.

"It's Blackdrake's men," The driver said in surprise.

"Did they go back on their word?" The young girl was also nervous.

"Blackdrake?" Leones frowned when he heard the name and thought if it was the subordinate of one of his masters, Gordon.

The two got out of the car.

They were immediately surrounded by a group of men in black.

"Ms. Baker, you are quite lucky. The car is repaired so quickly." The baldy man in the lead sneered. "Sure enough, it's your tricks."

Gloria Baker was shocked and furious. She had suspected it was a trick. The car was fine when she came, but why did it suddenly lose control?

Sure enough, someone played tricks.

“What do you mean?” The driver asked angrily, “You dare to tamper with

I am? Do you know who my father is?”

know your identigh

ny car! Do you know who

The bald man in the lead sneered again and said, “Darius, the son of Mr. Timon, and Gloria, the daughter of the Baker family. Of course, we still dare to treat us like this. Who ordered you to do this?” The driver, Darius, became even angrier. “We just traded with Blackdrake, and we have paid him. Does he want to go back on his word?”

“Then you

“That’s right. My boss regrets it,” The baldy man said coldly, “We will keep the money, and we have to take the things back too.”

“Please give us the thing!”

Hearing this, Darius and Gloria were startled and angry. They didn’t expect Blackdrake to play such tricks.

Darius said angrily, “What if we don’t give it to you?”

“Hey, then we’ll take it ourselves.” The baldy man sneered.

Leones looked at the conflict outside and didn’t want to get involved.

But at this moment, another man in black knocked on the car window and said to him, “Hey, get out.”

“It was you who helped them fix the car, right?”

Chapter 3 The Dragon's Order

If Leones hadn't repaired the car, everything would have gone according to the plan, and they would all be able to finish the task and report this to their boss.

Leones got out of the car and asked, "Are you listening to Blackdrake of the Undrago?"

"Yo! How do you know about the Undrago?" The baldy man said arrogantly, "That's right. My boss is just the famous Blackdrake."

Leones nodded when he heard the words. It was indeed the former subordinate of the Leones' seventh master.

The baldy man continued to threaten Leones. "You ruined my plan, and I will break your hands as punishment. Let's see if you will still be able to repair cars."

As he spoke, the man approached and took out a knife.

Bang!

Leones punched the man at an amazingly high speed.

Before the man could react, he and the knife had been knocked away.

There was dead silence in an instant.

Although from an onlooker's point of view, Leones gave the man a sneak attack.

But Leones' punch sent that man flying a long distance away.

His strength was so amazing.

"He... is so strong!" Darius was stunned.

Darius had seen many strong fighters in the government. But even the four strongest guards of his father could not knock someone away for such a long distance with just one punch.

The baldy man was heavysset and muscular!

Under everyone's astonished gaze, Leones walked toward the man step by step.

"You..." The baldy man managed to get up from the ground. His mouth was covered with blood, and when he wiped it with his hand, half of his teeth fell out. He was terrified.

"Do you know this?" Leones walked up to the man and took out a small token.

Seeing that token, the man turned pale with fright, and all his anger disappeared. "Dragon... the Dragon's Order?"

"Why do you have the Dragon's Order?"

The man couldn't believe it.

After the old Dragon King disappeared, the Dragon's Order had also been lost for seven years. Now, the Undrago had been disintegrated, and several leaders built their own gangs.

They made an agreement that whoever could find the Dragon's Order would become the new Dragon King.

But nobody had expected that a young man would have the Dragon's Order.

Leones put away the Dragon's Order and said coldly, "Go back and tell Blackdrake and other leaders that your Dragon King is back!"

"Let him immediately summon other dragon followers to meet me at Dragon Building tomorrow night."
