

Genius 3041

Chapter 3041

After Wen Qiang understood, he stood up directly and came to Zat Wanliu's side with a warm smile.

"Greetings, Lord Zaat!"

"It is because the Treasurer General was suddenly physically ill after drinking from His Excellency's side.

According to what the subordinates said, it seems that the excessive drinking has caused paralysis in the lower half of his life!"

Speaking at this point, Wen Qiang stopped speaking, his eyes staring intently at Zat Wanliu's expression, as if he wanted to see something.

However, after Zat Wanliu heard this news, his expression suddenly froze, his eyes full of astonishment.

At the same time, he secretly spat in his heart, "This old fox is also acting too much.

He would do anything to avoid this dispute over the throne.

Of course, while he thought this in his heart, his expression was full of self-blame: "I'm to blame for this!"

"If I hadn't been pouring wine, Lord Coffett wouldn't have known it was so."

At this point, Zatvanliu was close to beating his chest.

"Your Highness, I would like to go and see to it, after all, this is because of me."

That genuine look was as anxious as if he had heard that his brother-in-arms was ill.

When the Grand Prince heard this, his arm, which had been propping up his chin, suddenly tilted and almost knocked against the armrest.

You old foxes, I haven't even asked you a question yet, and you're thinking of running away.

"Uncle Zat, there is no hurry first."

"My king has sent the great witch doctor to visit, and now the treasurer-general is bedridden, in sooth not to endanger his life.

Later the king will accompany you."

Want to slip away?

Do you think the king is a child?

Zatvanliu's heart was bitter, the original excuse to run away was not only blocked, but he even had to take the Grand Prince with him.

Brother Coffett, you can't blame me for this!

After Zatvanliu silently thought in his heart, the originally tense expression on his face also instantly relaxed a lot.

“So, that’s good!”

Taking advantage of this break in conversation, Wen Qiang at the side once again side-stepped the conversation and asked, “Lord Zaat, the Lord Treasurer, nowadays, is physically ill.”

“His Highness is also worried, so he wants to ask what the two lords have been drinking today, so that we can tell the Great Witch Doctor to prescribe the right medicine.”

Although Wen Qiang had a smile on his face, his words had already driven Zatwanliu to the brink.

Both sides were wise, and Zatwanliu knew that the Grand Prince only wanted to know what the two of them had been talking about over drinks.

After all, it was rare for the Treasurer to visit anyone on his own initiative.

Seeing that he couldn’t avoid it, Zatvanliu didn’t hide it, after all, he couldn’t hide it if he wanted to.

“It’s just some ordinary wine!”

“Rather, it was the Lord Treasurer who said some inexplicable things to the old minister.”

Here it comes!

At these words, the Grand Prince and Wen Qiang instantly straightened their expressions.

The Grand Prince asked in confusion, “Inexplicable words?”

“Yes!”

Zat Wanliu nodded, “He sent word that Lin Mo’s side is preparing funds for a financial war against our Wanxiang Kingdom in the near future.”

“So a general manager of the Wanxiang Bank, Qiao Ba, was introduced with the intention of having this person work with my old minister’s youngest son against Lin Mo.

When the time comes, we will take the opportunity to merge all the a*sets under Lin Mo’s name and completely cut off his financial path.”

As he unfolded the story.

The interest on the Grand Prince’s face grew stronger and stronger, especially after learning of the 50 billion yuan start-up capital, his eyes shone brightly and all his thoughts were focused on this huge sum of money.

On the contrary, Wen Qiang, who was at the side, frowned slightly: “Such a good thing, it is enviable!”

Zat Wanliu’s expression did not change as he casually explained.

“This Treasurer General also sees the future form, so he wants to leave a way back with me.

Most probably because he is afraid, after all, after the funds reach a certain point, it is just a pile of numbers.”

Chapter 3042

At Zat Wanliu’s explanation, the Grand Prince and Wen Qiang both looked at each other and nodded secretly.

The Grand Prince faked sleep and closed his eyes as he lazily said, “This Chief Financial Officer is quite sensible.”

That the Minister of Border Affairs was one of his own was open news throughout the Wanxiang Kingdom.

And this Coffett’s intention to leave a way out on Zatvanliu’s side was a hint of a tilt to his own side, wasn’t it?

How wonderful!

When the Grand Prince thought of this, the corners of his mouth could not help but outline a faint smile, and his expression also looked a bit smug.

One hand has the military power, the other the financial power!

The future throne of the Wanxiang Kingdom was his own.

His look was naturally seen by Zat Wanliu, and with a movement of his mind, he immediately went forward to ask for instructions.

“Your Highness, your son is young and uninitiated, and it would be inappropriate for him to lead this operation.

Therefore, I think it would be more appropriate for this Qiao Ba to work with Your Highness.”

“With a strong team, that Lin Mo will definitely have no way out.”

As soon as Wen Qiang heard this, he knew that the old fox was planning to retreat in order to advance, but just as he was about to agree for the Grand Prince, the latter suddenly jumped ahead of him.

“How can this be, since it’s a piece of someone’s heart, you should accept it in peace, Uncle Zat.”

“Besides, we are all our own people, there is no need to be so calculating.”

Ever since he knew Coffett’s heart, the Grand Prince’s tail was up in the air.

Compared to the Treasurer General’s defection, fifty billion suddenly didn’t smell good.

Zatvanliu waved his hand repeatedly, “No, no!”

“My little son is incompetent and failed to do a good job in dealing with Lin Mo before.

Now if we lose again, I am afraid we will fall on His Highness’ face.”

More than 20,000 troops had been deployed to suppress the border and deter Da Qu, but to no avail.

This was originally a problem for the Grand Prince, but now he doesn't care about it at all.

"It's normal for young men to fail, it's better to know shame than courage."

"The matter is settled! Let Brother Baiha work with Qiao Ba, and tell Brother Baiha for me that the king is waiting for his good news."

Father and son are his own people anyway, theirs is not the king's!

Now that the first prince, who had been made happy, had a clear mind, the smile never fell from his face.

"Then .... Then I will take this opportunity to redeem myself on behalf of His Highness, the younger son first."

"If there is nothing else, I will retire to visit the Lord Chief."

The Grand Prince smiled broadly and waved his hand, "Go ahead, go ahead and give my regards to the Chief Financial Officer for me. Ha ha ha!"

The original intention of talking about going to visit together was also left behind him.

Since he had already established that this Treasurer General intended to defect to himself, there was no need to be so wary over there.

At the side, Wen Qiang did not have a chance to interrupt the whole time.

He could only watch as the Grand Prince was fooled by Zat Wanliu.

"Congratulations, Your Highness!"

"If there is nothing else, then I will retire first."

At this moment, the Grand Prince was still immersed in his own beautiful dream, completely unaware of Wen Qiang's contemptuous look.

After Wen Qiang returned to the room, his face instantly turned gloomy.

"Exactly a pig!"

"Stupid!"

Although the annexation plan had not been implemented, he had already predicted the solution.

Originally, he had planned to let that Grand Prince take the right to this collaboration, and when the time came, he would lay out the plan to suppress Lin Mo.

However, after the Grand Prince had been coaxed by Zat Wanliu in a deliberate and unintentional manner, he had foolishly given away this cooperation right directly.

That was 50 billion!

On the other hand, after Zat Wanliu walked out of the room, there was a look of cheerful laughter on his face.

Not only had Zat Wanliu's previous failure been forgiven by the Grand Prince, but he had even taken the right to cooperate with the General Manager of Wang's bank in a fair and square manner.

A double whammy, played to perfection by him.

Chapter 3043

After Lin Mo's side had taken care of its chores, the 50 billion yuan of start-up capital from the side of the Chinese businessmen led by Sun Wanhao Liu Qing had already arrived.

Lin Mo eventually complied with the other party's wishes and used the funds for the bank's development and construction.

This way many projects in the city of Heshan also had loans to continue development with sufficient funds.

"What you're asking me to be the president of the Hanoi Bank?"

"No no no!"

The prince refused Lin Mo's proposal repeatedly.

It was more like asking him to rob a bank, but he wouldn't do it as the president.

Lin Mo spread out his hands, and a treacherous look flashed across his eyes.

"Then what do you think if I hand over this fifty billion dollar bank to Chen Jin?"

The prince immediately shook his head, "No, this person's teaching training is okay, he's simply a layman!"

Lin Mo suggested another person: "What about Tong Jun?"

"He's fine for bird hunting, he's a proper hunter!"

"What about Song Zhilan?"

"She has to manage the merchant alliance as well as part of the martial alliance, she can't take time off!

Besides, it's too dangerous for her to leave the mountain now."

"What about Tong Xiaohe?"

"That's even worse, he can't be trusted as an outsider!"

Under Lin Mo's recommendation and the Prince's rejection, all the available people around him were eliminated.

At this point, Lin Mo's purpose had already been achieved.

“So, this governor must be someone who can be trusted?”

Who would you say is the person I trust most?”

The prince raised his chin arrogantly, “That would naturally be this prince!”

Lin Mo twisted his head and snickered before snubbing him again, “Then who do you think is the most capable person around me?”

“That is definitely still this prince, there is no doubt about that.”

“So who would you say would be the most suitable person to be the president of your Da Qo Bank?”

At this point the hot water boiled over and the Prince jumped straight up, “No one but this Prince is suitable!”

“That’s right, isn’t it? Come on and sign it!”

After Lin Mo handed the document over, the Crown Prince signed his name directly without saying a word.

“Done!”

Lin Mo collected the Qi and blew out a breath, reached out and flicked the cover of the document, turned around and handed it over to his men.

After the prince’s feverish mind had calmed down, he suddenly realised that there was a hint of something wrong.

“Brother, have I been fooled by you?”

He always felt as if he had walked into a big pit step by step, but it felt logical, and he couldn’t find out what had gone wrong for a while.

Lin Mo, on the other hand, said in a serious and reassuring manner, “What are you thinking about, you and I are like brothers, how could I have fooled you.”

“I’m not worried until the bank is in your hands.”

“You don’t have to worry either, when the time comes, Tong Xiaohe’s side will send someone to manage it for you.

All you have to do is sign and usually go skulking around when you’re free to find a presence!”

After some hesitation, the prince finally chose to accept the result with bitterness.

“That’s right, come on let’s go and see your bank together, by the way they’ll see how valiant our governor is.”

And so it was that the two drove to the city of Ping Yuan, which is adjacent to the city of Heshan.

The two places are a hundred kilometres apart by road, but the economies are worlds apart.

As they drove into the city, tall buildings lined up, and the main road with eight lanes in both directions was not congested, but it was also full of traffic.

All kinds of commercial buildings, shopping plazas, and entertainment facilities are available.

“Eh, this Ping Yuan City is not even twenty years ahead of Heshan City in terms of development!”

The prince reached his head out the window and lamented as he looked over.

“Big brother, is this your future rivers and mountains?”

Inside the cab Lin Mo shook his head, “You’re at least Master Wu’s godson, can’t you be a bit more brilliant?”

“Making it sound like a country bumpkin entering the city.”

When he knew in his heart that for a while, they were either in Heshan City or out in the mountains.

It had indeed been a long time since they had been in a big city.

Even he himself was in a bit of a trance.

Chapter 3044

Arriving in the centre of the city of Flat Edge.

After the car stops, a western-style building stands in front of it.

Outside the building were inlaid these four big words ‘Hanoi Bank’.

This was originally a bank, but due to poor business performance, it was bought by Tong Xiaohe and renamed Hanoi Bank.

With the name of Tong Xiaohe plus the joint investment of several well-known wealthy businessmen in the industry, the reputation of Hanoi Bank was instantly established.

It had only been a few days since it opened, and the entrance was already filled with luxury cars, with all the imposing business personnel coming and going.

“It’s so grand!”

“Is this my bank?”

The prince said with emotion as he stood downstairs.

Lin Mo patted him on the shoulder, “Yes, yes, Lord Governor, this is your bank!”

“Come on, let’s go in and have a look! By the way, let Tong Xiaohe’s assistant show you around the business.”

After smashing his lips behind him, the prince’s eyes suddenly lit up.

“Big brother, since I’m the president can I change the name of this bank to the Prince’s Bank.”

Lin Mo in the front stumbled on his feet and almost fell over, black lines instantly covering his forehead.

“No!”

The odd fetish, everything wanted to carry the Prince’s name, the Prince’s ship, the Prince’s war fleet, and now there was the desire to change it to a Prince’s Bank.

Seeing his proposal rejected, the Prince was a little disappointed.

It was in no taste, wouldn’t the Prince’s Bank sound better and be atmospheric.

And as the two walked into the bank, the security guards at the entrance instantly leaned in.

“Greetings, two gentlemen!”

“May I ask what business you need to conduct!”

Lin Mo and the Crown Prince shook their heads at each other after glancing at each other.

“We’re just here to have a look around, we’re not doing any business.”

The guard instantly frowned, he had just seen the duo from afar.

In particular, the Prince’s look of not having seen the world was firmly in his mind.

The Hanoi Bank could be dealing with successful people from the upper cla*s, and these two hicks in front of him didn’t fit in with everything here.

“Excuse me, gentlemen, we don’t allow visitors here!

I’m sorry, gentlemen!”

Although the security guard had a smile on his face, his words were completely indifferent as he refused to let anyone in.

As he said this, he also winked at his colleagues around him, intending to drive Lin Mo and the two of them out.

Lin Mo saw this and his brows couldn’t help but frown.

“Then let’s deposit money and conduct business!”

After all, it was a bank under his own name, and it was ultimately bad to have things go too far to affect him!

Lin Mo’s originally exuberant mood had now worn off.

However, after he took a step back, the other party pressed on.

“Deposit money? Our bank will not accept business below 100,000!”

When he said this, the look of contempt in the security guard’s eyes was no longer concealed.

That look was like saying, “You two poor b*****ds, can you come up with a hundred thousand dollars?”

The prince's face turned black and he raised his right hand, intending to slap this dog-eyed security guard away.

Lin Mo's sharp eyes and quick hands immediately stopped him.

The mockery on the guard's face became even more intense as he looked at them.

"Heh, two country bumpkins, even if you don't have money, you still want to make a move.

Don't even look at what kind of place this is!"

As soon as the words fell, the security guard directly took off the batons on his waist, and several other security guards at the side also took out their batons and leaned towards this side.

It was clear that they were planning to take action.

Such a commotion naturally drew the attention of other customers in the bank, who looked at the bank with a cautious expression.

Some of them had their money bags firmly in their arms.

At that moment, a scolding voice suddenly came from the manager's office.

"What are you all doing?"

Chapter 3045

At the sound of the voice, thought a man of almost thirty or so years of age rushed over with a frown on his face.

"Manager Ding, these two country bumpkins want to make trouble."

As the security guard underestimated a few words in his ear.

Manager Ding's did not also frown deeper and deeper.

"How are you guys doing, so many customers are here."

If you cause a riot, each and every one of you will roll your backs and get out."

The security guards laughed and said yes, and then planned to vent their anger on Lin Mo.

After reprimanding the security guards, Manager Ding turned his head and skillfully replaced his smiling face.

"The two gentlemen are really sorry, the business we handle is subject to restrictions.

Why don't you two go to another bank and take a look!"

Lin Mo looked at the other party's professional fake smile and was inexplicably a little annoyed in his heart.

In all his life, it was the first time he had ever heard of a bank with a limited minimum amount of money to handle business!

“Sir?”

After Manager Ding called out again, seeing that Lin Mo was unmoved, he had obviously lost his patience as well.

“Excuse me, gentlemen, someone is extremely our Hanoi Bank, looking for someone to pick a fight.

Our bank’s security is absolutely stable and reliable, so you don’t have to worry!”

After saying that, Press muttered in the security guard’s ear again, “Hurry up and take care of it for me!”

However just as a few people were about to make their move to kick them out, Lin Mo suddenly called out to Manager Ding.

“This manager, wait for a moment.”

“We’re here to deposit money too, why shouldn’t we be allowed to conduct business.”

Manager Ding stopped and turned around, impatience was written all over his face by now.

“Are you deaf or can’t understand human language, our security officer has made it very clear.”

“The Bank will not handle business below 100,000, two hicks, give you face, will you?

Get them out of here!”

At this moment Lin Mo suddenly spoke up, “Wait!”

“I didn’t know that Hanoi Bank had this rule!”

Manager Ding puffed out a laugh, “Heh, who do you think you are? And you didn’t know!”

He said and his smile slowly turned grim.

“Kid if you make trouble again, don’t blame us for not being polite.

When the time comes you will have died for nothing, I advise you to be sensible.”

“Good, good, good!”

Lin Mo had originally thought of handling this matter in a low key manner, but this Manager Ding’s condescending tone, coupled with this arrogant and domineering attitude, caused Lin Mo to lose his patience instantly.

With a gesture from his eyes, the Crown Prince instantly understood.

After walking forward, the prince shook his head regretfully.

“Originally, I just wanted to get along with you guys as ordinary people, and all I got in return was slow malice.

I’m not pretending anymore, I’m showing my cards, I’m the president of the Hanoi Bank.”

“Surname Ding, I declare myself fired, along with a few of you security personnel.

With that kind of attitude, you are simply not fit for our Hanoi Bank, submit your resignation voluntarily.”

The words landed and Manager Ding and a few security guards in front of him froze for a while.

Even the passers-by watching the action shook unconsciously, and the young man pretended to cup without looking at the place.

A few security guards, however, instantly rang out a roar of laughter.

“Hahahaha, young man are you thinking of fart eating?”

Manager Ding was full of disgust and disdain mockingly said “also do not spill urine, look at their own virtue, if you are the governor, I am the governor his father.”

When these words came out, the Prince’s gaze instantly went cold.

“Say it again!”

“Oh, what if I am made to say it again, so what if I say it ten times, country bumpkin!”

Manager Ding mocked while still thinking of reaching out to fetch a row to the Prince’s cheek.

However, just as he raised his palm, a miserable scream suddenly rang out in the office hall.

In the midst of everyone’s horrified gaze, Manager Ding’s middle finger was rigidly broken by the Crown Prince.

“Ah, kid, you’re dead!”

Chapter 3046

Crunching, a crisp sound was clearly audible.

With ten fingers connected to his heart, Manager Ding, who had his finger broken, instantly fell to the ground, clutching his finger and crying out in heartbreaking pain.

“Get rid of him for me!”

Seeing the conflict escalate, the crowd that was still watching the scene instantly dispersed.

A dozen security guards saw Manager Ding’s finger being broken, and aggressively gathered around him directly.

The corners of the prince’s mouth were hooked, and his fists were squeezed with a crunching sound.

Fighting was his favourite thing!

Lin Mo on the other side looked on coldly and didn’t stop him, such employees were just untidy.

Just as the two sides were about to clash, the sound of a lift arriving suddenly sounded from outside the crowd.

As the iron doors parted, a man in a suit stepped out from inside, whose appearance was also seven percent familiar to Tong Xiaohe.

He hurriedly led two fierce-looking thugs out of the lift and then flew to the scene.

“Stop!”

The security guards craned their necks together as they shouted angrily, and when they saw the visitor, their expressions couldn't help but tense up.

“Hello, Chief Tong!”

Like frightened hares, several people stood quickly in two rows and bowed with a ninety-degree bend.

And although they kept their heads down, a strong look of fear surfaced on their faces.

Tong Chuan Da was one of the leaders of the underground forces in Qu Lian Province, and also Tong Xiaohe's own brother.

The security team is in awe of him not only because he is the interim general manager, but also because this man is the master of blood on his hands.

At the beginning of the bank's opening, some of his peers sent people to cause trouble, but after Tong Chuan took over the Hanoi Bank on a temporary basis, these few troublemakers were never heard from again.

Tongchuan craned his rattling neck: “Who told you to do it!”

The calm tone of his voice seemed to hide silver needles that pierced straight to the heart.

And his cold gaze was such that the lead security guard couldn't help but tremble.

“Mr. Tong, it was them, it was these two hicks who tried to make trouble and broke Manager Ding's finger.”

When he finished, the pale Manager Ding walked to Tong Chuan's side in a cold sweat.

Forcing himself to endure the huge pain of his broken finger, he spoke viciously.

“Mr. Tong... , these two are here to cause trouble.

They still dare to hurt people in our Hanoi Bank's territory, they totally don't put you in their eyes.”

“If we don't give them a show, how will we be able to gain a foothold in Da Qu in the future.”

What was originally just a small conflict was made to sound extremely serious, as if this bank was going to collapse if Lin Mo and the Crown Prince were not done with today.

And his mind was simple.

Get rid of the two people in front of him!

Now that Big Brother Tongchuan had shown up, this wish would be granted immediately.

“Is the hand injury serious?”

“Uh ..... It’s okay!”

Faced with this inexplicable question from Tong Chuan, Manager Ding was somewhat at a loss for words.

“Let me take a look!”

Tong Chuan finished with an expressionless face and tugged over Manager Ding’s palm.

The red and swollen finger had already appeared a faint purple colour, and a blood bag had even risen at the joint.

When Manager Ding saw that Tong Chuan was seriously observing his injury, he thought that he was concerned about himself.

He could not help but feel a little smug in his heart, and the gaze he gave Lin Mo and the two of them was filled with a chill.

It was as if he was saying, “You two just wait for death.

However, the crown prince and Lin Mo only looked at each other the same, without any expression fluctuation.

It was a complete expression of looking at a clown.

Not long after, Tong Chuan shook his head.

“This finger is already ruined, so I’ll have my men chop it off for you!”

Ha?

Manager Ding instantly froze in place, shouldn’t this be the time to teach these two rowdy hicks in front of him a hard lesson?

How come they still had to chop their own fingers.

“Mr. Tong, this .....”

Chapter 3047

Manager Ding was just about to speak when Tong Chuan’s knife-like gaze pa*sed by.

For a moment, Manager Ding felt his breath catch, as if his life would be in danger if he said one more word.

“Who gave you the courage to treat the head of Hanoi Bank with such an attitude?”

That murderous gaze locked onto Manager Ding with a deadly gaze.

Hmm?

The General Manager?

A few people thought they had heard wrong, after all, the crown prince's previous appearance of not having seen the world was not at all different from someone who had entered the city for the first time.

In addition, Lin Mo and the crown prince were dressed in ordinary clothes, so there was no way they could look like rich people.

After Tong Chuan finished speaking, he stopped paying attention to them and walked straight up to Lin Mo's heels.

"Young Lin you've finally come, I've been waiting for you for a long time."

The coldness of the previous second instantly transformed into a warm smile.

This scene made the crowd of security guards as well as Manager Ding directly freeze in place.

Was this still the Tong Chuan they knew?

Amidst the astonished gazes of the crowd, Lin Mo stepped forward and shook the palm of the other party's hand.

"Hello Mr. Tong, this is my brother, the Crown Prince, who is also my nominated line manager!"

He had 51% of the equity in his hand, so arranging who would be the bank president was just a matter of words.

Although Lin Mo had heard Tong Xiaohe talk about this person before, this was the first time he had seen him in person.

Although he was a member of the underground forces, he acted decisively and without artifice.

This first impression was still good.

"First time meeting! There are many people here, let's go to the VIP room and talk to each other again!"

Said Tong Chuan, and led Lin Mo together towards the lift.

"Tong .... General Manager Tong!"

At this moment, Manager Ding's heart could be described as a mixture of flavors, coupled with the burst of huge pain coming from his hand, his expression looked extremely twisted at this moment.

Who would have thought that these two country bumpkins would be the boss behind Hanoi Bank.

"Why do you have anything else?"

Tong Chuan stopped and turned around to look at Manager Ding impatiently.

Manager Ding didn't know for a moment whether he should explain or apologise.

Only when he hesitated, Tong Chuan turned even more impatient.

“Lin Shao what about these few people?”

Lin Mo did not answer, but merely raised an eyebrow towards the Crown Prince, clearly intending to let the Crown Prince make the decision.

Manager Ding looked at the other party’s playful eyes and felt bad in his heart.

As for those few security guards, they were also apprehensive, for they had offended the head of the bank before they had been at work for a few days.

The future was dark!

Surprisingly, the prince did not have a fit on the spot, instead he said generously with a smiling face.

“Those who don’t know are not guilty, besides coming we are indeed poor and have not seen the world, a country bumpkin can’t blame them.”

“Let’s just forget about this matter!”

Hearing this Lin Mo couldn’t help but be a little surprised, and at this time after he saw the wicked smile at the corner of the Prince’s mouth, he also reacted.

This was the rhythm of planning to play Manager Ding to death!

Although Manager Ding was arrogant, he wasn’t stupid enough to know that he wouldn’t have a good time after this crown prince took the throne.

For a moment, he looked at the backs of the few people leaving, and his gaze turned fierce.

After Lin Mo’s group arrived at the VIP room, as soon as he hurriedly sat down Tong Chuan frowned and reminded.

“Lin Shao for the words of this manager Ding, I personally suggest that it is better to just fire him.”

“This person is cousin uncle is the diplomatic representative of the Ding family, Ding Liang Zhu!”

“If something happens to this manager Ding, I’m afraid the Ding family won’t be able to account for it.”

Lin Mo frowned after listening and recalled some of the Ding family figures that Ding Li had spoken to himself about before.

This Ding Liang Zhu seemed to be just a marginal figure, but what was puzzling was that this person enjoyed the band going extremely well.

Rumour had it that this person seemed to be the illegitimate son of the Ding family head, which was why he was able to stay in this muddled position for twenty years or so.

Chapter 3049

The only way to bring down a bank is through a run on the bank and a ma*sive investment project.

Now that Hanoi Bank had just been established, the main thing that needed to be prevented was a run on the bank, and as long as the flow of funds was monitored well, there would not be much of a problem.

Shortly after Lin Mo finished explaining the bank's affairs, the crown prince walked into the villa with an expression of unloved life.

"This is the first time in my life that I've seen money and wanted to vomit!"

He collapsed directly onto the sofa like a pile of mud.

"Big brother you don't know, from the mountains of documents and the dense numbers and words, I can't help but be scared when I think about it."

It was almost like his scalp was tingling.

After he complained, Lin Mo didn't answer, he just stared at the coffee table with a deep frown, and the frequency of his fingers tapping the arm of the sofa became faster and faster.

The constant surge of murderous intent in his eyes caused the crown prince to shudder.

"Big brother, what's wrong with you?"

The crown prince remembered that the last time he saw his big brother looking like this was when Song Zhilan was attacked, and the crown prince had a premonition in his heart that Lin Mo was starting to lay down his killing heart this time.

At his call Lin Mo also passed out of his contemplative state and straightened his gaze extremely

"Crown Prince go contact Fei and tell him to speed up the process."

The crown prince hesitated for a few seconds and asked, "What if those people don't listen to advice?"

It was often those rubbish industries that were the most profitable, and there was bound to be a huge backlash if they were asked to suddenly give up.

"They will listen!"

Lin Mo narrowed his eyes, hostility surfacing in his gaze.

The prince's meeting nodded fiercely.

There was always a choice to be made between life and money!

"I'll contact Tong Chuan on his side, and by then there should be a unified management of the underground strength in Hanoi Province.

A sense of urgency inexplicably surged in Lin Mo's heart since he had learned that Ding Liangzhu was about to meet with the Lord of the Wanxiang Kingdom.

The Great Qu Province was an integral part of his future revenge plan.

Anyone who dared to stand in the way would be dead!

Not long after, Chen Jin also hurriedly felt this way.

“Lord Zhen Yue Ambassador!”

Lin Mo raised his hand in a gesture, “Please sit down, I’ll cut the crap if time is urgent.”

“You will oversee the side of the Great Mountain, I can’t control other places, but in half a month’s time in the Great Mountain, I don’t want to see any traces of the Night Vine Grass.”

He wore a serious face as he stared at Chen Jin, “Can you do this thing!”

Chen Jin’s body trembled and he nodded fiercely, “I will do my best!”

After saying that, his face also showed a bit of a tangle.

After hesitating, Chen Jin still chose to speak: “If .....

“No ifs, I will take care of Di Yun’s side and the martial guards that are guarding the mountains.

We need to speed up the progress now, there are some things that are not on the table that you can use.”

With this layer of assurance from Lin Mo, Chen Jin instantly had a bottom in his heart.

The crown prince at the side had also vaguely guessed something at this point.

There was a feeling in his heart that he was ready for the fight to be fought soon.

For a moment, the cells in his body beat like chicken blood, unable to stop themselves from beating wildly.

“Big brother, are we going to counterattack?”

However, Lin Mo shook his head, “There’s no talk of a counterattack.”

“But still, see to it that a stable rear is established.”

“After rectifying the Hanoi province, all the reserve Martial Alliance war guards will be deployed to guard the various key locations.”

.....

In two days’ time, many businesses were seized one after another as if they had been swept by a hurricane.

And those in charge behind the scenes were also uncovered one by one.

By the time Fei laid heaps and heaps of money in front of them, the few who were still shouting instantly shut their mouths and were meekly escorted to trial.

The merchants all over Hanoi also gradually realised that the gangsters who had been roaming around and causing trouble before seemed to have vanished into thin air.

Chapter 3050

While Lin Mo's side was in the midst of accelerated reorganization, the dark tide of the Wanxiang Kingdom was also gradually surging.

On the Sixth Prince's side, after getting the elixir, he immediately locked it up tightly in the safe like a treasure.

"Your Highness, what good thing has been obtained that you are so nervous."

Lilia asked curiously as she walked towards Teg.

The duo's beloved was also the Sixth Prince's right hand, and Tyger had no wariness towards her to directly tell her what the elixir did.

"This Lin Mo is really good at it!"

"I didn't expect that Lin Mo would be able to refine a corresponding elixir just by looking at the case for a stubborn disease that so many great witch doctors in the Wanxiang Kingdom could do nothing about."

Of course both of them knew in their hearts that any great witch doctor who had even the slightest chance of curing His Majesty the King had either been detained or buried.

On this point, several of the princes showed a surprisingly tacit understanding.

Teg immediately heard Lilia's implication beyond her words.

In an instant his originally calm face also revealed a slight gloom.

"Mr. Lin's medical skills are evident to the entire Wanxiang Kingdom, there is no need for you to doubt them."

"Besides, Mr. Lin is an important strategic partner of His Highness, watch your words."

Lilia's cheeks flushed as she seemed to realise that she had spoken too much.

It was only with some discontentment in her heart that her mood smoothed out a little as she waved a few rounds across the air towards Tag's being back.

What Tag didn't know was that when he got in the car and left the Sixth Prince's residence, he was in a very good mood.

The face that was originally embarra*sed in the original place was suddenly gloomy, and there was a bit of sarcasm between the eyebrows.

The next day.

With a face full of joy, Jiadre arrived at the royal palace, and before he could walk to the kingdom's bedchamber, he met Yin Xiao Boa directly in the face.

"Greetings, Mother!"

Although the two were of similar age, their status was still there.

“Your Highness doesn’t need to be polite!”

Yin Xiao Boa smiled gently, his own face was of the highest quality, plus these days he had been living in the palace for a long time, his noble aura had been integrated into his every move, now he became even more beautiful and attractive, and also unattainable.

“If it hadn’t been for Your Highness, I’m afraid the boa would have been buried at sea!”

As she bowed slightly, the snowy whiteness and a deep, bottomless furrow were revealed to Gadrei’s eyes.

Only the latter’s gaze was clear and unadulterated.

“You are most welcome, it is an honour for my son to save your mother.”

After a slate of politeness, Jiade Lie excused himself and directly excused himself.

“Empress Mother, get busy first, my son has some important matters to discuss in detail with Father.”

“Your Highness, please!”

Both sides exchanged words, and they both detected a different kind of deep meaning in each other’s gaze.

Although there was a life-saving sentiment mixed in.

But from the moment Yin Xiao Boa approached the King through the power of the Grand Prince, the two sides were completely on opposite sides.

When the sixth prince entered the king’s chambers, the latter was lying on his bed with a shrivelled breath, pretending to sleep.

The King was like a dying lion, and it was only a matter of time before he died.

Gadrei lightened his steps and slowly walked forward: “Father!”

Hearing the movement, Jiayuan I slowly opened his eyes, but his gaze had lost its original sharpness and had become more cloudy.

Looking at the majestic figure he had admired as a child, but now in such a state, his heart was both saddened and tinged with a little heartache.

“Lie’er!”

Jiayuan I looked at his youngest child and gave a tired smile, the deep sunken wrinkles at the corners of his pampered eyes but showed his old age and exhaustion to the fullest.

“Sit over here!”

After nodding obediently, Gadre sat down on the edge of the bed and then took his father’s palm in his hand.

“When I heard that my father was ill, I had a bottle of elixir made for him!”

