

Married At First Sight Chapter 3504

Married At First Sight Chapter 3504-After Carrie went in, the fake Carrie, the stand-in, drove in.

A few minutes later, they were the only two women in the luxurious hall. They sat on the opulent sofa, staring at each other.

“Do I look ugly now? I feel like my face is swollen like a fermented steamed bun.”

The stand-in touched both sides of her face, which were red, swollen, and painful.

The York family bodyguards were really strong.

Carrie couldn't help laughing, “You do look ugly, haha, like a pig's head.”

The stand-in glared at her.

“You still have the nerve to laugh. I'm suffering for you. Go, get me some ice for my face. It hurts so much.”

Carrie said, “You want me to get you some ice?” Her eyes widened, “I'm the hostess now; you have to understand.”

“I'm just imitating you. It's only been a few days. Do you think I can learn it perfectly? I need more practice to become more like you, so I won't reveal any flaws in front of them.” The stand-in spoke confidently. She just couldn't help but order Carrie around.

She wasn't a proper Mrs. Labbe.

What was she doing in front of her?

They were both pawns Mr. Labbe wanted to use.

Carrie was speechless.

Seeing the other person's red and swollen face, she thought that she had suffered for her, so she decided to help her get some ice cubes.

So, Carrie got up, walked away, and brought back a bag of ice cubes for the stand-in.

“Here, the ice cubes are for you.”

After handing the ice cubes to the stand-in, she sat down opposite her, crossing her legs, not looking like a lady from a noble family at all.

“Who told you not to leave then? I told you that as long as I showed up and let Camryn see that you and I are different people, you could leave. You refused to go and kept arguing. You deserved to be beaten.”

The stand-in said unhappily, “I wanted to act longer to make your sister believe we are two people. Who would have thought her husband would hear it? He came, and you saw him but didn’t warn me.”

Carrie: “...”

She hadn’t seen Callum at that time. When she did, Callum had already spoken.

The stand-in said, “By the way, your brother-in-law, Callum, is really handsome. Rumor has it all the young masters of the York family are very good-looking. It’s true. Callum is so handsome. Isn’t Zachary even more handsome?”

Everyone considered Zachary the young master.

“They’re almost the same, but Callum is gentler than Zachary. If you see Zachary, you’ll know how scary he is. My legs tremble when I see him, and I wish I could find a hole to crawl into so he wouldn’t see me. By the way, you must remember that next time you see Zachary, act very scared. Don’t be like today, acting like a fangirl when you saw Callum.”

Carrie reminded the stand-in.

The fake Carrie applied ice to her face and said, “I don’t know what Zachary looks like. When can I see him? If Callum hadn’t spoken first today, I wouldn’t have known he was Second Young Master York.”

Carrie said, “I’ll ask the bodyguard to find a photo of Zachary and show it to you later. You should remember the appearances of the young masters of the York family; otherwise, you won’t recognize them and could be exposed. I’m the second young lady of the Newman family, after all. I used to attend banquets often. I know all the young ladies and young masters in wealthy families.

Before the young masters of the York family enter society, their information is undisclosed. Except for their relatives and friends, outsiders can’t see them. It’s normal not to recognize them when you meet them.”
