

Married At First Sight Chapter 3529

Married At First Sight Chapter 3529 – Callum asked, “Evan, if you keep pursuing her like this, can you get her? If you can’t, you might as well go after Abby according to Grandma’s arrangement. Grandma chose Abby for you, which means she is the right one for you. You have pursued her for only two or three months, and you haven’t developed any feelings for each other. I guess none of us brothers will fall in love with a woman at first sight. We all have to fall in love over time.

Just like when I approached Camryn, did I fall in love with her? No, it was just that Grandma arranged her for me, and I was curious, so I approached her to see what attracted Grandma and made her fall in love with her.

Do you want to know what makes her suitable for me? Because I approached her with curiosity, I paid more and more attention to her, and gradually I discovered her good points, and then my heart fell for her unknowingly. Kevin is the same. Even our eldest brother slowly fell in love with your eldest sister-in-law after he got married and spent a long time with her.”

Evan said helplessly, “Brother, you don’t have to persuade me. I have fallen in love with Fox. No matter how long it takes, I will pursue her. If I can’t catch her, I will never marry. Abby is very good, but what’s the use if I don’t love her? I don’t want to waste other people’s youth. If I don’t love her, I should tell her so that she can let it go as soon as possible and find a man who is better and more suitable for her than me.

Brother, the education we received since childhood and the influence of the environment have made us all very loyal in our feelings. Loyalty means loving only one person and never changing your mind for the rest of your life.

I just fell in love with Fox. No matter what her identity is or where she comes from, I don’t care about those things, and I won’t change my mind. If I can marry her, I will spoil her for the rest of my life. If I can’t marry her and she marries someone else, I will bless her for the rest of her life.”

Callum sighed, “Okay, love is indeed something that can’t be forced. I’ll tell Camryn and ask her to help you invite Miss Bianca to our house for two days. You can observe her carefully.”

“Thank you, brother.”

Evan thanked Callum.

Evan said, “Brother, don’t let Bianca know that I’m going back. I always think that girl is very good at acting and very cunning.”

Even if he didn't find that some of Bianca's little movements were very similar to Fox's, he still thought Bianca was very good at acting.

"Don't thank me so quickly. Senior Silver Fox has left Wiltspoon today. Once his family leaves, Miss Bianca may also leave Wiltspoon. She is still staying here to accompany her master."

It was still unknown whether Bianca would go to FC Manor with him.

Camryn had to contact Bianca to find out.

Evan said, "Brother, talk to my second sister-in-law now. I will help you with the documents. Brother, you sit over there and be intimate with my sister-in-law. If we can't meet, it's no use being intimate. If you want to be intimate, you have to meet. Since you are so bored, just help me with the documents for a day. I will go back to accompany your sister-in-law. By the way, I will mention it to her and see if I can help you."

After Callum finished speaking, he stood up and walked away with a smile.

Evan was speechless.

Wasn't he temporary?

He still had to work for another day!

These brothers of his were really getting better and better at conscripting men. As long as they were caught, they couldn't get away without being exhausted.

However, it also showed how hard the brothers worked and how much they supported their younger brothers.

After Callum went out, he said to the secretary, "All my work today will be done by Evan. If you have anything, just find him."

The secretary was not surprised by this.
