

Married At First Sight Chapter 4280

Chapter

4280

Seeing that his wife didn't say anything, Mr. Ormond acquiesced.

Mr. Ormond turned on the bedside lamp again, sat up, looked at his wife, and asked in disbelief: "Elora likes Tatum? Did she tell you? This girl likes men. I thought she wouldn't love someone."

Mr. Ormond was surprised, but he was not as worried as his wife.

Instead, he breathed a sigh of relief. He felt that his daughter was normal.

He was worried that his daughter would not love others, and he was even more afraid that his daughter had problems with her sexual orientation.

Fortunately, his daughter was normal. She was in her twenties and had never been in love. That was because those bad boys out there were not capable and could not impress his daughter.

Tatum was not bad.

Mr. Ormond admired Tatum very much. When he first met the young man Tatum, he felt that this boy was not an ordinary person.

Later, it was confirmed that his vision was not bad. Tatum was the young master of a wealthy family.

Tatum's family is a wealthy family with a fortune of hundreds of billions, and Tatum himself has a lot of private property, but he remains very low-key. In order to improve his cooking skills, he gave up his status as a rich young master and traveled thousands of miles to be a chef for his daughter.

"If it's Tatum, what are you worried about? Tatum is under our noses every day, and we can see clearly what kind of person he is. Besides, Tatum is also the young master of a wealthy family. He is a good match for our family, and the family tradition of the York family is good.

We don't have to worry that Tatum is approaching Elora for money. Oh, I actually feel that except Tatum, no one is worthy of our daughter.

Tatum is a good person. He and Elora are of the same age and have common topics. He usually takes good care of Elora. Elora treats him very well. It turns out that the two of them have fallen in love with each other for a long time."

Mr. Ormond laughed as he spoke, "When Tatum first came, I saw that Tinsley admired Tatum very much. I thought Tinsley liked Tatum because Tatum was so handsome. I didn't expect that our daughter and Tatum had feelings for each other." Mr. Ormond smiled and said, "Being my son-in-law is better than being my niece's son-in-law. Tinsley shouldn't really like Tatum, right? Wife, find some time to ask Tinsley. Don't let Tatum cause the sisters to turn against each other. That would not be a good thing."

Mrs. Ormond was abacked.

She stared at her husband. Others are mothers-in-law who like their sons-in-law more and more.

Why is it just the opposite in her family?

On the contrary, her husband, who is going to be a father-in-law, is very satisfied with Tatum. The more he sees Tatum, the more he likes him.

"Wife, you haven't answered me yet. Are Elora and Tatum really together? Did Elora say so?" After being happy, Mr. Ormond hurriedly asked his wife.

He was afraid that everything was empty.

It was his wife's guess.

Mrs. Ormond was silent for a moment, then answered, "I just saw it at the stairs. Elora and Tatum were hugging each other. If they weren't in the house, I think they would have kissed. But they didn't look at each other for long, but our Elora is a man of action. After she saw clearly what she was thinking, she immediately took action to get an answer."

Mr. Ormond: "What answer?"

Mrs. Ormond told her husband that Tatum had been after her daughter from the beginning, and that the old lady of the York family had taken a liking to her daughter in advance and had brought Tatum and her daughter together.

Mr. Ormond was amazed when he heard it.

Mr. Ormond said, "The old lady of the York family is so awesome. Let's go visit her some other day. Also, let's do a field trip for Elora to see if her future in-laws are as good as the rumors say."

Mrs. Ormond was speechless.
