

Married at First Sight Chapter 4346

Father Zhou said, "After all, she is Yangyang's aunt. It's okay if we don't know her, but now that we know her, we have to come and see her. No matter whether she welcomes us or not, we have to come."

"Haitong treats Yangyang so well and treats her like her own child. We all want to come here just for Yangyang."

Mother Zhou curled her lips and stopped talking.

After a while, she suddenly said, "Haitong has a son now, her own biological son. Will she still love our Yangyang in the future?"

Father Zhou said: "Haitong is not that kind of person. She has a deep sisterly love, so how could she not love Yangyang?"

"Besides, Liberty is no longer the same as before. Even if Hai Tong doesn't treat Yang Yang as well as before, there is no need to worry about Yang Yang's future."

"Haitong giving birth to a child actually has no impact on Yangyang. A son and a nephew are different."

"If the sea spirit regenerates, it will have a great impact on Yangyang."

Father Zhou sighed again when he said this.

The Zhou family is not blessed.

If they had known that the Liberty sisters would have such a fate today, they would never have let Hong Lin and Liberty divorce, and would have forced Hong Lin and Ye Jiani to break up.

I didn't know this earlier.

In the past, their Zhou family bullied Liberty's family because they were helpless and had only one younger sister.

They never expected that their mother-in-law was born into wealth, and even after her death, there were still people looking for her whereabouts, which brought good luck to her two daughters.

Now, no matter whether it is Haitong or Liberty, they are out of their reach.

"Liberty...will she give birth again?"

Mother Zhou frowned, “Yangyang is already this big, she still wants to have another baby?”

“Liberty is still young, only in her thirties. Although President Lu is a few years older than her, he is still under forty. If she wants to have a baby, of course she can still have one, and she can even have several babies.”

Father Zhou said, “Since the second and third child policy was relaxed, many people in their forties are still trying to have children. Liberty is only in her thirties, not old. Yangyang is only a few years old. Even if Liberty has a second child, the interval will not be ten years.”

Father Zhou said, “Since the second and third child policy was relaxed, many people in their forties are still trying to have children. Liberty is only in her thirties, not old. Yangyang is only a few years old. Even if Liberty has a second child, the interval will not be ten years.”

“Some people have a gap of more than ten years between their first and second births.”

Zhou Honglin drove in silence without saying a word.

Father Zhou continued, “I heard that Liberty changed her surname to Feng. She is now called Feng Liberty. She has taken over the Feng family in Jiangcheng and is now the head of the Feng family. The Feng family is headed by a woman.”

“Liberty must have a second child to try for a daughter, so that a daughter can take over her business.”

Mother Zhou muttered, “What kind of family is that? The daughter takes over, but the son can’t? There is no such rule. Our Yangyang can take over his mother’s job.”

“Yangyang is always a member of our Zhou family. Because of Yangyang, our Zhou family will be able to cross the social class and become a new wealthy family.”

“Old Zhou, we must be well and live a long life. We must live until our Yangyang becomes a wealthy new noble and takes us to his home to live in his old age. We will live in a big villa, and we will be accompanied by drivers and bodyguards when we go out, and we will have nannies and servants to take care of us at home.”

“Live the life of an old lady or old master.”

Just thinking about it made Zhou’s mother feel happy.

Father Zhou tilted his head and looked at his old wife.

“What are you looking at me for? Am I wrong?”

“No matter who Yangyang lives with, he is still my grandson and I am his grandmother. When he grows up and becomes successful, won’t he recognize me as his grandmother?”

“Normally, we treat him well. We visit him every now and then and buy him whatever he wants to eat and play with.”

“He can’t disown us just because we’re poor, right? The Liberty sisters won’t teach anyone to be ungrateful. Yangyang will definitely be a filial and grateful child.”

No matter how dissatisfied she was, Zhou’s mother had to admit that the Liberty sisters were better than all of them when it came to educating children.

Look at what the three grandchildren they raised have become.

Nowadays, Zhou’s mother is disgusted with her own grandson and is becoming more and more outrageous.
