

MY ACCIDENTAL HUSBAND IS A BILLIONAIRE !

529 Chapter 528

In the photo, Susan threw her arms around the man's waist, and their faces pressed together while smiling joyfully at the camera.

Keira had been keeping her head down in silence just now because she had been hacking Susan's phone.

Since Susan could delete the video in the mall without any trace, it proved that she definitely had her own hacking methods.

If that was the case, then her phone surely contained secrets.

When Keira first invaded Susan's phone, she indeed encountered a strong firewall, which caused some delay.

Moreover, after hacking into the phone, she found Susan's photo album to be immaculate, except for a hidden file.

Keira sneered and immediately opened it.

As expected, she saw their intimate photos.

People who liked to cheat usually enjoyed keeping evidence for their own pleasure, which psychologically was a bit perverse.

She looked at Susan, who had turned pale.

James immediately stood up and cursed at Susan. "So, what my Keira said was all true! You actually have a man on the side behind Peter's back!"

Charles also looked at her in shock. "Aren't you deeply in love with Peter? How could you do such a thing?"

The rest of the brothers frowned and turned their gazes toward Susan.

Keira passed her phone to the people around and finally looked at Susan. "What do you have to say for yourself now?"

Susan clenched her fists tightly.

She seemed as if she was about to collapse, but in the next moment, she turned her head to Peter. "Peter, it seems Keira really doesn't like me. She even hacked into my phone, but I won't blame her. I know she is just concerned and confused."

Susan lowered her head, wiping away her tears.

When Keira saw this, she was immediately stunned. She then saw Peter's face darken. "The person in this photo is Susan's brother! Keira, how can you hack into someone's phone without any clear evidence?"

Keira was dumbfounded.

Her pupils shrank suddenly as she exchanged a glance with Lewis.

That day in the mall, she clearly saw this man being intimate with Susan. Although they weren't undressed, the kissing and the touching couldn't possibly be normal interactions between siblings!

She frowned. "Your own brother?"

Susan, with red eyes, looked at Keira. "Yes, my brother! Keira, I really don't know what I did wrong to make you hate me so much! The first time we met, you slandered me for having an affair... and today it's even worse..." She bit her lip hard, then turned to Peter. "Peter, maybe we shouldn't go ahead with the wedding! I feel like a thief in this family. Will I even have any privacy if I live here?"

She bowed her head and silently began to cry.

Peter looked at Keira with a dark expression. "Keira, you've gone too far this time! I need you to apologize to Susan!"

Keira's jaw tensed.

Charles and James coughed, exchanged a glance, then couldn't help saying, "Well, actually, this matter isn't that serious; Keira was just afraid you were being deceived... I don't think there's a need for an apology, right?"

Peter took a deep breath and hesitated for a moment.

Susan nodded. "Peter, you don't have to worry about how I feel. Since Keira just got back to us, she must have her own thoughts. She probably doesn't want her brothers to focus on someone else... That's why she wasn't eager about our marriage, and she has shown such animosity toward me... I understand. It's because she lacked family love for so many years. I won't blame her..."

But the more she said, the angrier Peter became. He turned directly to Keira. "Is that really what you think? We've all treated you as a true sister. How can you treat us like this? Even if you don't like Susan, you shouldn't spread these rumors and slander her!"

James suddenly said, "Keira, actually, Peter is right. When Mary was slandered by Austin, it caused a conflict between Mary and Ellis was created that hasn't been resolved to this day. In the future, you should be careful about what you say about such matters, especially concerning a woman's reputation..." Charles nodded. "Keera, you really didn't think this through."

James coughed and looked at Susan, "Well, let me apologize to you on behalf of Keera."

Susan turned her head away.

Peter immediately said with a cold face, "Keera, this matter is very serious. You must apologize to Susan today!"

530 Chapter 529

Keira knew hacking into someone else's phone was an unethical act.

But Susan was a sly person, and Keira only hacked into her phone to see if there would be any trace related to the South family of Fox.

Little did she know that she was digging a hole for herself.

She looked at Susan and noticed that, although the latter was crying, the occasional glance she sent Keira's way was filled with cunning!

It was intentional!

Once Keira realized this, she immediately clenched her fists.

Fox was even more cunning than she had imagined. They had predicted that she would hack into Susan's phone and foresee all of today's events!

Susan's previous concessions were nothing but the groundwork for this moment!

Keira took a deep breath, slowly put down her phone, and then looked at Susan and said, "Sorry, I've wrongfully accused you."

She indeed had no way out of today's loss.

Susan immediately said, "It's okay. After you hacked into my phone, it also clarified a few things. When my brother and I went shopping the other day, Keera probably saw us, leading her to assume our relationship incorrectly. Is that right?"

Susan looked at Peter with a very understanding gaze. "Peter, many scenes in filming are shot through forced perspective photography. The misunderstanding between me and Keera is created just like that."

James coughed. "Yeah, yeah, since things have been explained, we are all alright now! Let's consider this matter resolved!"

Charles also played the peacemaker. "Miss Simpson won't hold it against my cousin, right? She was just worried that Peter might be deceived..."

Susan lowered her head. "Don't worry. As long as Keera can clear my name and clarify things, that would be the best for me. I won't, and I wouldn't dare, to make an issue of it with her... She's the Olsen family's treasure and the darling you all waited so many years for..."

Her words carried an air of grievance.

It wasn't about not holding a grudge but not daring to.

Peter immediately felt sympathetic. "If Keera has done something wrong, there should be some gesture of apology. Look, our wedding is coming up soon; why not let Keera give her future sister-in-law a wedding gift as an apology?"

He said it casually, but Susan turned to look at Keira. "Is that okay? Actually, I still haven't found a wedding dress. When we were at the bridal shop today, we fell in love with their store's treasure, but upon inquiry, we found out that Mr. Horton had reserved it, saying it was prepared for your wedding... When are you planning to get married?"

Keira frowned.

Was Susan using the wedding dress to fish for information?

She and Lewis were indeed engaged, but the two were not going to get married, as Lewis and Keira were already legally husband and wife!

While in Oceanion, Lewis, not believing that Keira had died, hadn't deregistered her.

So, this engagement was real, and the wedding would take place in the future, but they would not go through the registration process again.

These were details unknown to outsiders.

But... her third mission was to form an alliance with Scott Martin. If she held a wedding with Lewis, she would give up that third mission.

Was Susan asking on behalf of Fox?

Keira pondered for a moment before simply replying, "We're not in a rush."

Susan immediately said, "If it's not urgent, then can I wear that wedding dress first? I love it so much! It's so dreamy! Wearing it makes me feel like a princess!"

Keira was perplexed.

Lewis ordered the wedding dress for her, so why should she let Susan wear it?

If Susan wore it first, and then what?

Would Keira wear it again for her own wedding?

Though Keira didn't mind superficial things, something that belonged to her shouldn't just be given away for nothing!

Her expression turned darker.

Seeing this, Susan immediately looked at Peter/ "Peter, did I... say something wrong again?"

Peter wanted to nod, but facing Susan's tearful appearance, he couldn't express his thoughts.

He remembered that Keira had just hacked into Susan's phone... Visit no\(v\)3lb/!n\(.\)com3lb/!n(.)com) for new novels

Peter was a man with a protective instinct toward his girlfriend...

He turned to Keira and said, "Little sister, Susan really loves that wedding dress. Could you let her have it?"

Peter knew what he was asking was too much, so he immediately added, "I will contact someone right away to customize a better one for you! Susan and I are in a hurry for our wedding. We're planning to get married in a week, and there's simply no time for haute couture... We really can't find any other suitable one... Let the wedding dress be your way of apologizing to Susan, okay? Consider it a favor that I owe you."
