

Chapter 2367

“Father, I don’t quite follow you.”

Tyrell Hamilton slightly frowned.

“We, the Hamiltons, have been setting these up for many years to get back all the six casino licenses. Now, there is a chance, but why...”

Fabian Hamilton replied indifferently, “Once all the six casino licenses are gathered, our status in Hong Kong and Las Vegas will surpass even the four top families of Hong Kong. We even have the right to be on par with the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas...”

“Do you think the Yorks will allow a family who could compete with them to survive in both Hong Kong and Las Vegas?”

Fabian held the teacup and took a sip after speaking.

Tyrell was stunned, and he suddenly realized and said, “Understand, I understand. If Father wants to gather all the six casino licenses, you could have done it many years ago.

“Not getting the two remaining casino licenses is nothing more just to expose our weakness to others!

“But if that’s the case, why did you interfere in today’s matter and let people raid St. Hope?”

“When did I ever send someone to raid St. Hope?”

Fabian looked indifferent.

“I’m old and drunk, and I don’t even know that I was being eavesdropped on. I accidentally leaked some news, and people used St. Hope to poke the Yates family of America. What does it have to do with me?

“After all, even my precious second son went to jail because of this.

“No matter how you view this, I’m the real victim here, right?”

The corner of Fabian’s mouth twitched. Soon, he sighed and said, “Then, should we get Christian Hamilton out now?”

“Why should we bail him out?” Fabian slightly squinted his eyes. “One isn’t allowed to set up a private casino in Las Vegas. That’s not my rule, but the rule of Las Vegas.

“Since Christian has violated the rules, he should accept the punishment as he should have.

“Go and hold a press conference, stating that the Hamiltons were unaware that Christian has done such a treacherous thing.

“Starting today, the Hamiltons has nothing to do with that unfilial son.”

Half an hour later, the Hamiltons of Las Vegas announced it.

Christian Hamilton was driven out of the Hamiltons and what he did had nothing to do with the Hamiltons.

Regarding the St. Hope incident, the Hamiltons fully supported the operation of the government of Las Vegas. They would fully cooperate as needed.

This was like proclaiming the rules of Las Vegas to the world.

At the government of Las Vegas in the office of the first-in-command.

Paul Mendoza was drinking tea when Harvey

York opened the door and came in.

When he saw Harvey walking in, he made a gesture, inviting Harvey to sit over and have a cup of tea.

After taking a sip of Yogi, which was unique to the South Light region and cost nearly thirty-one thousand dollars per kilogram, Harvey smiled lightly and said, "Since you invited me over, is there anything I can help you with, Mr. Mendoza?"

"I don't dare to order you around. I just want to have a chat with you, CEO York." Paul was not being that courteous either. "You should also know about St. Hope.

"Moreover, the Hamiltons of Las Vegas have just backstabbed the government again. Hence, some things must be handled according to the procedures.

"Christian is from Las Vegas. He violated the rule, and he is also the major shareholder of St. Hope. So, I'm afraid he has to go to jail for a few years.

“Furthermore, he has been banished from the Hamiltons. So, the possibility of him bailing out is close to zero.

“Although Harrison Yates is also a major shareholder, he has the American Green Card and has criminal immunity. So, he is exempted from punishment.

“But the government has to confiscate St. Hope and all the gambling money searched on the spot.

“Also, the reputation of the Yates family of America has taken a huge blow after the news of what happened last night was spread out.”

Chapter 2368

“In short, this matter seems to be handled impartially, but in truth, I have to deal with it this way.

“This is because of the press conference that was held by the Hamiltons. I don't even have time to reinvestigate.

“There is too much pressure from the international public's opinion!

“Especially the opponents of the Yates family of America, all of them can't wait to pounce on them. Do you know how many calls I have received from those big bosses today?

“Thus, regarding the Yates family of America, they'll have to suffer this loss even if they...

“And the most troublesome thing is...”

Paul sighed when he said this.

“This matter is probably set up by the King of Gambling, Fabian Hamilton, but the person who bears the consequences is most probably you, CEO York.

“Because in the eyes of the outsiders, we, the Mendoza family, is just a first-class family after all. We’re just doing things for others.

“And also, your identity as Prince York and Branch Leader York makes it easier for you to attract hatred.

“So, you’d better be careful these days.”

Harvey sighed and said, “I’ve already figured it out at noon. Everything is interlinked, and they are just targeting me in the end.

“It’s just that they go with their plan, and I also go with mine.

“Mr. Mendoza, I have a matter that needs your assistance.”

Paul nodded and said apologetically, “This time, it’s my children who implicated you, CEO York. So, if you need help, feel free to speak up.

“I’ll certainly go all out as long as it’s within my ability.”

“It’s just a small matter.” Harvey slightly smiled. “I want to ask, among the people who were arrested, can I meet up with the person named Freya Goddard?”

“Freya Goddard?”

Paul was taken aback for a moment. He then picked up his phone and made a few calls. He slightly frowned and said.

“This person is not among those who were arrested.

“But she was indeed a socialite of St. Hope, but she only worked for three days.

“Moreover, when Yoana Mendoza and others got on the gambling cruise yesterday, she just resigned and left.

“Thus, she has nothing to do with this matter. So, she wasn't arrested.”

“Really?” Harvey smiled. “Do you have her past records?”

Paul made another call again and said, “Freya came back from Country J six months ago. It is said that she is a top student of Koguryeo College.

“She has previously been working as a secretary in a trading company in Hong Kong but left because she was harassed by her boss. Thus, she resigned and came to Las Vegas to make a living.

“She is beautiful and capable. But she has no channels and eventually got on the gambling cruise, St. Hope.

“It’s just that she decisively resigned after she found out that there was a problem with St. Hope. Thus, we don’t have any reasons to arrest her.”

After roughly telling her background, Paul asked curiously, “CEO York, she’s just a minor character. Why do you care so much about her?”

Harvey smiled and said, “It’s nothing. I heard that she’s a pretty woman. So, I want to get to know her.

“It would be a pity if I missed the opportunity.”

After walking out of the government building, Harvey sat in the car but did not leave immediately. Instead, he turned on his mobile phone, searched for Freya’s photo, and looked at it.

He had to admit that she was a stunning beauty with the typical plastic face look, but it looked extremely comfortable.

However, Harvey still had an indescribable sense of familiarity when he saw the photo. It was as if he had seen her somewhere.

Harvey then dialed a number from Country J after a moment of silence. "May Lee, help me look up a person real quick.

"I want all her movements in Country J, including her past records, her network, and how she looked before undergoing plastic surgery..."

Chapter 2369

Ding!

An hour later, May Lee called when Harvey York returned to the villa at Arcburn Mountain.

Although they were talking through the phone, May still spoke respectfully, “CEO York, I have already looked up the person you asked me to.

“Not only did she have plastic surgery, but she also spent a lot of money to whitewash her identity.

“However, Country J is the territory of Star Chaebol, after all. Thus, I could still find out some clues.

“I think you will be surprised when I tell you about her identity.”

Harvey looked calm and said, “Who is it?”

“The socialite of Hong Kong, the black widow that everyone fears, Faye Goddard, also known as Princess Goddard.”

At four o'clock in the afternoon, in the VIP Lounge at the Las Vegas International Airport.

Harvey pushed open the door, feeling the coldness around him. He then walked to a seat in the corner and sat down after looking around.

There was a woman with delicate makeup on the opposite sofa. She was wearing a pair of sunglasses, holding a plane ticket heading to Country J and a mobile phone in her hand. She occasionally glanced at the watch on her wrist, apparently in a hurry.

“She has changed, and her body is different. However, her temperament is still the same.”

Harvey sat down in front of the other party. He smiled and said, "You know what? I still like the black widow I met the first time. She is domineering and arrogant.

"The current Freya Goddard doesn't have the charm of Faye Goddard from before.

"It's a pity! What a waste!"

Harvey picked up the cup of black tea on the table that was just brought by the waiter and took a sip as he spoke. He was very obnoxious and dashing.

The delicate woman seemed to tremble slightly. After she took a deep breath, she unconsciously looked up at Harvey and said, "Sir, I don't know you.

"I think you mistook me for someone else."

Harvey shook the cup of black tea in his hand and spoke frankly, “Princess Goddard, although there is a little grudge between the two of us, but that’s nothing really.

“You’re just a minor character in my eyes. Do you think I will remember a nobody?”

“For me, it doesn’t matter if you’re dead, alive or what you’ve become. That’s not important.

“It’s just that there are some things that shouldn’t be done. You have to admit it when you have done something wrong. You also have to pay the price after admitting your mistakes. Do you understand what I mean?”

Freya was stunned for a moment. She then stared at Harvey and said, “Sir, I really don’t know what you are talking about.

“If there’s nothing else, please leave.

“If you don’t, I’ll call the security and say that you are harassing me!”

Harvey replied indifferently, “Whether you admit it or not, you indeed worked as a socialite on St. Hope, and you also did invite Edwin Mendoza.

“Do you think you could leave after these things were reported to the police?”

The corner of Freya’s mouth twitched when she heard those words. She then finally said, “I’m a socialite. Inviting the guests to go onboard is part of my work scope!

“I have also left the job immediately after discovering that St. Hope had no casino license. How could this be my fault?

“As for the matter that happened last night and today, I’ve heard about it, and I’m sorry. But what does all that have to do with a minor socialite like me?

“After all, I’m just a minor character!

“I have to do everything according to the company’s instructions.

“Thus, I’m not guilty, and I’m not afraid of the police!

“Also, allow me to add one more thing. I’m not Faye Goddard or Princess Goddard. I don’t even know this person!”

Chapter 2370

Harvey York ignored Freya Goddard's denial and continued to speak with great interest.

“If I'm not mistaken, you have been working behind the scenes since you have failed your mission in Buckwood. You have undergone plastic surgery, changed your identity, and re-entered Hong Kong, all of which you need to serve one person!

“This person made you his pawn, and he must have given you a lot of benefits!

“For instance, 15.7 million dollars!”

Harvey took out his mobile phone while talking and showed a photo. There was an account number in the photo. Freya's expression suddenly changed.

“I don't know what you are talking about!” said

Freya sternly.

Harvey said with a vague smile, “I recalled what happened yesterday just before I came in.

“You should have been preparing for a long time. It’s just that there is no chance to use you in Hong Kong before this.

“I came to Hong Kong and Las Vegas a few days ago, and your time has come!

“From the day I arrived, you have been ordered to go to St. Hope, and it is also the day St. Hope is launched, off the coast of Las Vegas!

“Later, someone gave you a credit note that belonged to the son of the first-in-command of Las Vegas, Edwin Mendoza. The purpose of you giving this credit note is to approach Edwin and then use it to make his sister get onboard on St. Hope!”

“You don’t even need to persuade him or anything. You just need to tell Edwin that no one will know him on St. Hope. That's enough.

“In this case, since Edwin's debt is exposed, Yoana Mendoza will have to get involved.”

“Under this circumstance, Christian Hamilton, who has been prepared for a long time, will target Yoana!

“On one hand, it's because Yoana is pretty. On the other hand, it's because the Mendoza family has been suppressing the Hamiltons all these years. Thus, Christian has held a grudge toward them from long ago!

“And the people behind you also knew that Edwin and I are close.

“So, once Christian threatens the siblings on St. Hope, and there is no way out, I'll definitely go and help them.

“If I trampled Christian, he'll surely let Harrison

Yates come forward.

“In this way, I’ll get into trouble with the Yates family of America.

“However, you didn’t expect that I would be able to solve the matter easily. So, that’s why there is a big drama of raiding St. Hope this morning, right?”

“In this round, not only did you get the Mendoza family and me involved in this matter, but you also dragged the Hamiltons of Las Vegas and the Yates family of America together!

“The Mendoza family has to deal with this according to the law.

“The Hamiltons of Las Vegas will have to sacrifice their people, intentionally or not.

“As for the Yates family of America, they lost St. Hope and their credibility.”

“These three families would eventually put all the blame on me whether it was intentional or not.

“Using the joint forces of these three families to kill me...

“I could only say that this is a smart move. It really is brilliant.”

Harvey talked eloquently and said all kinds of things that happened on St. Hope in the past two days.

Those matters were horrifying, but they seemed uninteresting when Harvey talked about them.

“Okay, Princess Goddard. I know you have no grudge against me. We just happened to work for our master when we fought against each other back then.

“Thus, I didn’t mean to kill you today because you don't deserve it.

“I'm just asking for a name.

“Who is the person behind you, the one who planned all this?

“Tell me. Then, I'll let you pass. You can leave immediately and take the 15.7 million dollars with you.

“If you refuse to say it, then I'm sorry.”
