

Chapter 1901

At the same time, at the Walker Mansion...

Inside the extremely magnificent hall of the family villa, around thirty people had taken their seats.

Men and women were there, both young and old. Every single one of them looked glamorous and refined.

There were members of Mordu's Walker family.

Although the Walker family was not one of the top ten families, they were still a top rated family with an immense background within Mordu.

Justin's bloodline was only one out of five within the family.

On this day, Justin requested his father, senior of the Walker family, Anton

Walker, to come to the family residence as a statement for Kait.

Anton seemed quite young, though his hair was completely white. He was dressed in traditional clothing and sat on a wooden armchair in the middle of the hall. His temperament seemed rather fierce.

Right next to him, Justin was steadily pinching his cigar and slowly lighting it up. He blew up several puffs of smoke, completely poker-faced.

Everyone present were all from Justin's bloodline. Right at this moment, they were glaring at Kait with a judgemental gaze.

Kait now owned shares of the Walker Corporation, and possessed both the position of CEO and chairman at once. From this alone, she would definitely earn envy and hatred.

But Kait was not that bothered by that.

From the moment she was born into a top rated family, she knew how cold and hostile that members of such families could be toward each other.

Kait ignored everyone and took a deep breath, then turned to look sharply at Justin.

“Father. Now that everyone’s here, shouldn’t you be explaining everything to me?”

“Why did my mother turn into a vegetable?”

“What exactly happened back then?”

“I do hope you’ll tell me everything. It’s better if you provide proof of your statements.”

Slam!

Before Kait could finish her words, an elegant man seemingly in his forties slammed his armrest.

“Unscrupulous!”

“You’ve crossed the line this time, Kait!”

“This is a family meeting! Even the senior’s here! How can you simply question your father like that?!”

“Don’t you know humility or seniority now that you’ve become powerful?!”

“The Walker family has rules! If you’re going to act this way, then you need to be disciplined!”

“Come!”

“Get me the whip!”

The man issuing the order was Kait’s uncle. With a wave of his hand, a few Walker family guards came forward with a whip.

Kait’s uncle was usually in charge of enforcing the Walker family rules. The other members of the family subconsciously trembled after hearing his demands.

“Brother, there’s no need for that. I’m the one who promised to give Kait a statement,” Justin said, blowing a puff of smoke.

“I asked you all to come here along with my father to act as witnesses.”

Kait’s eyes twitched when she saw her father’s warm smile. A cold chill ran down her spine as she stared at him.

She took another deep breath and said quietly, “Let’s get started, then.”

“There’s no rush.”

Justin waved his hand, grinning brightly.

“This is quite an important event, so how can there be no witness?”

“Rest assured, Kait. For the sake of fairness, I've requested a powerful man in Mordu to act as a witness."

"I wouldn't want outsiders saying that I'm bullying my own daughter."

Kait could sense that there was something wrong. She subconsciously asked, "Who?"

"Me."

A joyful tone sounded from behind her.

Chapter 1902

In a blink of an eye, several strong men in suits appeared everywhere. They were not part of the Walker family. As soon as they showed up, they had already blocked every single exit from the hall.

The other members of the family were quite unphased when Kait's expression changed slightly, as if everything that was happening was nothing out of the ordinary.

In just a moment, the hall had turned into an extremely dangerous place. If anyone were to enter or exit the place, they would have to pay a huge price.

Kait turned around, her face frantic.

Lucas, dressed in a suit, crossed his arms as he walked in steadily through the hall entrance.

Although the handsome and talented

Lucas was wearing a warm smile, an unspeakable aloofness lingered around him.

It was as if he was a venomous snake, ready to strike at any moment.

Behind him, two other people followed.

One of them was the hall manager of Paramount, Lenny Thompson. After Lucas's most trusted subordinate died, Lenny took his place. His status and identity was completely different from before.

The other person was Macy Howard. Not only was she Lucas's personal secretary, but she was also his extremely skilled bodyguard.

Kait's expression grew a touch colder when she saw Lucas.

“How did you get here? Who let you in?”

“I did,” Justin, who was sitting on the top seat, replied with a smile.

“I requested Prince Jean to come here and act as the witness today.”

Kait had a bad feeling about the whole situation. She exclaimed icily, “There’s no need. I don’t want him to be involved with my matters!”

Without waiting for Justin to say anything, Lucas narrowed his eyes and spoke first.

“Kait, stop fooling around.”

“Today’s a good day for my dear mother-in-law to reclaim her justice.”

“Of course I, her future son-in-law, have to be here to bear witness.”

“Rest assured, I’ll get a fair statement for you no matter who’s responsible for harming my mother-in-law!”

After he was finished talking, Lucas clapped his hands. A few people carried i n a wooden chair and set it right next to Kait.

Lucas sat down without care and crossed his legs, then said calmly, “Father-In-Law, please forgive me for being late.”

“I did not know of Mother-In-Law’s past. But now that I do, I hope that you’ll be able to give me and my wife a fair statement.”

“I’ll consider this a gift for us newlyweds as well!”

Lucas’s words were quite frivolous and playful, but the hostility that could be felt from him made everyone tremble with fear.

The title of Six Princes of Mordu was not just for show.

Even Anton, who was on his seat, narrowed his eyes coldly at Lucas. Then, he nodded.

These old people were quite content with a man like Lucas.

He was truly a formidable man!

This was Anton's evaluation toward Lucas.

“Shut your mouth, Lucas!”

Kait's expression was as cold as ice.

“When did I ever turn into your woman?!”

“Stop spouting nonsense in front of my family!”

“I have absolutely nothing to do with you!”

“There are other people trying to claim justice for my mother! When was it ever your turn?”

“Besides, I'd rather marry a dog than you!”

“I don’t need you here to be a witness, either!”

“Please see yourself out!”

“Right now! Immediately!”

When Kait insulted Lucas, Macy and Lenny walked forward, their faces as dark as night.

Lucas smiled and waved his hand.

“You belong to me, no matter what you think. Not a single person from Mordu or even Country H can change this fact!”

Chapter 1903

“There are two reasons why I’m here today.”

“Number one: I’m here to be a witness for you and reclaim justice for my mother-in-law.”

“Number two: I’m here to complete our wedding. Your grandfather, your father, your aunt, your uncle—every single member of your family agreed that you’ll be marrying me today.”

“Marry you?!”

In her rage, Kait found herself chuckling.

“Lucas, did you not hear what I just said?!”

“I’d rather die and slam my head on the floor right now than marry you!”

But Lucas remained calm. “Even if you did that, you’d have to marry me no matter what.”

“You’ll be a part of the Jean family.”

“Whether you’re dead or alive.”

“After all, you have to obey your parents’ orders!”

“Your matchmakers’ orders!”

“You’re going to marry me...”

“Whether you like it or not!”

Kait’s tone was ice. “Why don’t you try it, then? I guarantee that even my corpse won’t end up with you!”

But Lucas was not enraged by those words. Instead, he responded to her with a warm smile.

“So you’re saying that you won’t marry me no matter what?”

“Do you really look down on me that much?”

“Yes!”

Kait did not hesitate to reply to Lucas.

“Can my place in your heart not even compare to that outsider, Harvey York?”

“That’s right!”

“Alright.”

Lucas clapped his hands.

“Very straightforward! I like you more and more already!”

Lucas’s lips curved into a twisted smile.

“Maybe you don’t understand, Kait. For us men, we like things that are hard to get.”

“The more you look down on me, the more I want you.”

“Even though I, Lucas Jean, have committed all sorts of misdeeds, there’s still one good thing about me: I do not go back on my word.”

“Let’s delay our wedding for the time being and talk about my mother-in-law.”

“What do you say, Father-In-Law?”

Lucas shifted his gaze toward the top seat.

Justin stood up, narrowing his eyes.

“You truly are a genuine person, my fine son-in-law.”

“Since you’ve asked, I’ll give Kait’s mother a fair statement as per the agreement.”

Kait instantly calmed down after hearing Justin’s words. The most important thing that day was to get justice for her mother.

But Anton, who had stayed silent all this while, sat up straight and exclaimed coldly, “Hold it!”

“Before you get your explanation, aren’t you supposed to give us one as well?”

Kait froze. She didn’t know why her grandfather would suddenly say something like this after being quiet for so long.

“I heard that you gave an outsider half of your shares without your father’s permission!”

“Don’t you know that the shares belong to the Walker family?! No outsider can have this, and neither can a woman who’s going to be married to another family!”

“I don’t care how you do it, but you have to get all the shares back and give them to your father!”

“You have to do this today!”

“If not, I’ll make a phone call to sever your mother’s medical fees and kill her where she lies before you can even get your statement. Do you think I won’t do it?”

Kait trembled. She was in disbelief.

“You’re going too far, Grandfather!”

“Too far? I can go even further!”

Anton stood up and turned around.

“Let’s go, everyone. Leave everything to my grandson-in-law.”

“Please have fun today.”

“I hope the thirty percent shares will be returned to the Walker family soon!”

Every one of the Walkers turned and walked away, laughing coldly. Soon, only Lucas and his men were left.

Lucas respectfully bowed at Anton's back.

“Grandfather-In-Law, Father-In-Law, rest assured.”

“I'll make sure Kait has a fun time today ...”

Chapter 1904

As the Walkers left, Lucas waved his right hand. His subordinates brought out a traditional wooden bed from the corner of the hall.

Colorful lights and decorations were placed soon after, lighting up the hall with a joyful ambience.

The sight shocked Kait. Subconsciously, she tried to leave.

Tap!

However, Macy spread out her hands and blocked Kait's path. She smiled at Kait.

“I'm afraid you won't be able to leave today, Madame.”

“What did you say?”

Kait threw a scornful glare at Lucas, gritting her teeth.

“What are you trying to do, Lucas?”

“What am I trying to do?”

Lucas chuckled.

“I wanted to see the statement that the Walker family would give you.”

“But your grandfather did not do that, and even gave me a mission.”

“You should know, I always respect my elders...”

“That’s why, I’m going to complete Grandfather-In-Law’s mission right now.”

“There’s no rush to get the shares back. Let’s commence with the wedding festivities for now...”

Lucas stretched out his hand and lifted Kait’s chin.

Slap!

Kait swung the back of her palm against Lucas' face. A loud and crisp slap echoed in the hall.

“Disgusting!”

“Shameless!”

“Despicable man!”

Macy and Lenny were enraged and wanted to take action, but Lucas smiled warmly at Kait.

He rubbed his injured face, then sighed and mumbled to himself, “How can there be so many people in this world who don't follow orders until they've been threatened?”

“I thought you were a smart woman, Kait.”

“But why are you this stupid?”

Slap!

Lucas swung his backhand on Kait's face.

His slap was extremely powerful, almost making Kait fall after staggering a few steps back.

“Filth!”

“Bastard!”

Kait did not cry, nor was she afraid. She kept glaring at Lucas.

“I’m lucky to have seen your true colors since the beginning!”

“I never wanted to marry you!”

“How can someone like you be one of the Six Princes of Mordu?!”

“Disgusting!”

Slap!

Tired of talking, Lucas took another step forward and slapped Kait once more. The corner of Kait’s mouth started to bleed, and her pretty face was as swollen as a pig's.

They were inside the Walker Mansion hall. Surely, the daughter of the family could only endure such humiliation.

Kait did not give in. She hissed icily, “Get out of here right now, Lucas!”

“I’ll call the cops if you don’t!”

“This is the Walker family’s turf, not some place you can act without reserve!”

Lucas grinned.

“The Walker family’s turf?”

“Why are you still so naive after all this, Kait?”

“Your father needs my full support to be Mordu’s Longmen branch leader.”

“That’s why he and your entire family sold you to me. Don’t you get it?”

“You want to call the cops?”

“You can try, but I’ll be impressed if you can even get one inspector to come here!”

Kait’s body went cold. Thinking back on the past, utter despair filled her heart.

“Bastard!”

“You’re just like the rest of the Walker family. All of you are bastards!”

Lucas stood pridefully, crossing his arms.

“Let me ask you one last thing.”

“Are you going to sleep with me?”

“Or do you want me to beat you to death instead?”

Chapter 1905

Kait gritted her teeth and exclaimed firmly, “I’ll tell you one more time!”

“Even if I die, I’ll never marry you!”

Bang!

Lucas could not hold back any longer. He sent Kait flying with a kick, and she crashed right into the red wooden bed.

Kait grunted in pain, blood seeping out of her mouth. It dyed the blanket crimson.

The splash of blood spread like red winter sweets. It was a miserable sight.

“You!”

Kait raised her head up with all her might and glared at Lucas, but Lucas’s gaze was filled with twisted passion.

It seemed torturing the women he fancied was a hobby of his.

Faced with such a gaze, Kait felt a cold shiver run down her spine.

She was reminded of a rumor some time ago: Lucas was a twisted pervert.

His favorite pastime was to torture and kill women. In fact, hundreds of women had already died in his hands in recent years.

“Strip, Kait.”

Lucas took a deep breath, and wiped his fingers with tissue paper. He was holding back his immense desires.

“If you keep resisting, I might not be able to hold back and crush you!”

Pity was written across Lucas’s face, as if he was admiring a rare artifact before it went extinct.

Bang!

Cries of pain suddenly sounded from the entrance. Two men in suits flew out, slamming right onto the floor.

A cold tone from outside then followed.

“I’ll destroy the entire Jean family if you lay a finger on my woman, Lucas Jean! Do you believe me?!”

Kait’s slender body shivered. She knew he was here.

Harvey strode into the hall, emotionless. When everyone saw him marching in, the place fell into dead silence.

Everyone subconsciously looked at Harvey, all of them completely silent.

Harvey’s entrance was quite daring, but Lucas and his subordinates stared at him with a judgemental gaze.

Some looked at him with disgust, some were coldly chuckling, and some others looked amused.

In their eyes, Harvey attempting to stop Lucas was a sign that he was as good as dead.

Even though Harvey claimed that he wanted to destroy the entire Jean family, would that even be possible?

The Jeans were one of the top ten families with an immense background in Mordu and Country H itself!

People who would say something that daring were either an idiot or a madman.

“You bastard! Who are you?! How dare you talk to the prince like that?!”

“Who gave you permission to barge in here?!”

“Don't you realize that the prince is busy right now?!”

A female secretary in business attire stood up and glared at Harvey.

“You want to destroy the Jean family? Are you braindead? Who gave you the courage to speak like that?” A fighter added, laughing mockingly.

He had seen a lot of idiots, but it was his first time seeing someone this stupid.

“Get this man out of here already! What gives?! How dare you interrupt the prince’s fun?! You have a death wish!”

Several beefy men in suits stormed forward, cracking their necks.

Lucas sat on his wooden chair, opting to keep silent. He took a sip of his teacup and watched the show excitedly.

Lucas knew that the man who had suddenly barged in here was Harvey, who was constantly going against him.

Before, Harvey wasn’t accompanied by the extremely powerful Rachel. As such,

Lucas wasn't at all bothered about Harvey.

Now, he wanted to see if Harvey actually had the right to die alongside his beloved Kait.

Chapter 1906

The powerful men in suits flashed Harvey wretched grins. A shame that Harvey sent them each flying with a mighty kick before they could even do anything.

Invincible!

That man was invincible!

“Harvey, you bastard! I’ll kill you!”

Lenny pulled out a firearm and aimed right at Harvey as he pulled the trigger.

Kait screamed, “Harvey, look out!”

Bang!

Harvey did not even pay Lenny the hall manager any mind. With just a single kick, Lenny was sent flying. The bullet from Lenny’s shot struck one of the guards who was standing on the side.

Right after that, two more men were sent rolling on the ground.

“Is this all that Mordu’s Jean family can offer?”

“No wonder you can only remain as the tenth family in the ranks.”

There was no emotion on Harvey’s face, but his words were blatantly disrespectful.

“As expected from the sixth Prince of Mordu. You can’t surprise me at all.”

Lucas and the others’ faces were utterly horrible.

Lucas was proudest of the fact that he was listed as one of the Six Princes of Mordu. He represented one of the most excelling people in Mordu’s upper social circle.

Despite how confident he was, he had the urge to choke Harvey to death after Harvey disrespected him.

“I’ll kill you!”

Lucas stood up, exploding with anger. He then swung his feet right at Harvey.

But before his kick landed, Harvey took a step forward and appeared right beside Lucas.

Lucas froze. Right as he was about to make another move, Harvey grabbed his neck and slammed his head onto a Roman pillar furiously.

Even though Lucas could be considered as an expert at fighting, his struggle was for naught.

There was a loud bang, and Lucas’s head smashed right into the pillar once more. Lucas let out a muffled grunt, bleeding all over his head.

“Bastard!”

Macy’s pretty face turned as cold as ice.

The next moment, she exclaimed loudly, “I’ll take your life for laying your hands on the prince!”

Macy moved her body and pounced right at Harvey.

Harvey, however, remained expressionless and simply swung his backhand forward.

Slap!

Macy was immediately sent flying. She landed on the floor, barely able to stand back after the blow.

There was a bright red palm print on her pale face.

The men in suits all froze at the sight. They didn’t expect Harvey to actually be this terrifying!

Even Lucas’s personal bodyguard was sent flying with a single slap!

Kait let out a long sigh of relief when she looked at Harvey.

This was a real man.

Lucas could not even compare himself to Harvey!

Harvey looked at Kait, who seemed quite down, while he was busy choking Lucas.

“Kait, are you alright?”

Kait stood up, enduring the pain.

“I’m fine.”

“Where’s Brennan?”

“The Walker family wouldn’t let Senior in, so I’m afraid that he doesn’t know about any of this...” Kait said quietly.

Harvey nodded lightly, then forwarded a message to Brennan before he continued to glare at Lucas. ¹

“Let go of the prince!”

“Bastard! You’re looking for your death!”

The men in suits quickly returned to their senses. Every single one of them pulled out their firearms and pointed the muzzles right at Harvey.

The air was tense. A fight could break out any moment.

Chapter 1907

“Drop the prince and we can still go back, Harvey. If you don’t, you’ll die without a burial place!”

Macy ignored the sting on her face and pulled out her own firearm, aiming it right at Harvey.

Slap!

Harvey gave Lucas a slap across the face, then used a little more force to choke Lucas.

About a dozen firearms were now aimed right toward Harvey, but he was still standing there calmly.

“Would you all like to see if your guns are faster than my hand?”

Harvey used a little more force to choke Lucas harder than before. Lucas’s face, which had lost all its color, immediately swelled red. There were red veins building in his eyes, which looked as if they were about to pop out of their sockets.

Macy and the others were scared witless by the sight. They wanted to shoot Harvey, but they were afraid that Lucas would get caught in the crossfire.

Brennan rushed toward the scene as soon as he got the message. He was also holding a firearm when he rushed to protect Kait.

“Drop your weapons,” Harvey commanded.

“All of us might end up badly if I accidentally choke your prince to death.”

Harvey’s words were calm, but his murderous was obvious.

Macy and the others were holding firearms, but they were scared that they would harm their prince and did not take any step forward.

Lucas finally came back to his senses after being dumbfounded for a long while. A cold smile made its way to his lips as he said, “You’re Harvey York?”

“What do you think?”

“You’ve got guts, kid. Not only did you cuck me, you even disrespected the Jean family in public. Aren’t you afraid of death?”

Lucas glared at Harvey, his eyes showing utter disdain.

“Kill me now if you can. If not, I’ll end your entire family!”

Harvey shook his head, then tightly squeezed Lucas’s left hand. His face was cold.

There was a loud crack, and Lucas’s hand was completely shattered.

An immense pain struck Lucas, so agonizing that he almost passed out because of it.

He was still quite the character, though. He did not scream, and instead was smiling wretchedly.

“Harvey York, do you know what the consequences are for treating me like this?”

Slap!

Harvey swung his backhand across Lucas’s face.

“Tell me, what exactly are the consequences?”

Slap!

“You want to kill my entire family? Are you even worthy?”

Slap!

“In my eyes, you’re just a prince who’s been falsely labeled. Do you even know who I am?”

“You dare threaten me before you even got my identity straight? Go ask your father and see if he dares to even lay a finger on me.”

Harvey swung his palm against Lucas’ face about a dozen more times. Soon after, Lucas’s face became as swollen as a pig’s.

After spending quite a long time beating up Lucas, Harvey exclaimed coldly, “If you don’t want to die, tell the others to back off.”

Macy and the others felt resentful at the sight.

They had confidence that they could end Harvey’s life in an instant, but they could only watch as he tortured their master.

“Bastard!”

“Who do you think you are?!”

“You dare threaten me?!”

Lucas was boiling with rage, but he dared not do anything rash. He was scared that Harvey would actually kill him.

“Who are you, kid? A prince, or a young master?”

“Do you really think you can get out of here unscathed after treating the prince like that?!”

Macy’s expression had lost all color. Murderous intent was seeping out of her.

“We have about thirty guns pointed right at you. How many of us can you dodge? You’re even dragging an anchor along with you!”

“Do you really think you can get Kait out of here alive?”

“Let me tell you right now, it’s too late for you to kneel in apology!”

Chapter 1908

Slap!

Harvey slapped Lucas's face again and spat, "Try yapping one more time."

"Every time you spout nonsense, I'll hit your master."

"We can see if your yapping's better than my slapping if you want."

Macy clenched her teeth in anger. She wanted to skin Harvey alive so badly, but she dared not say anything more.

She could tell that the man in front of him was a ruthless one. If he were to go all out, only God would know the things that could happen.

"Kait. You two go ahead."

"Wait for me in the villa."

Harvey glanced at Kait and Brennan.

Kait trembled and replied quietly, “No, Harvey. What’s going to happen to you if I leave?”

Harvey smiled.

“Don’t worry, I’ll be fine.”

“I wouldn’t be able to do much with you here, anyway. We might not be able to leave if that happens.”

Before Kait could say anything, Harvey shot Brennan a look.

Brennan understood, and then began to drag Kait away by force.

Several men in suits blocked their path, having no intention to let Kait leave.

Slap!

“Let Kait go.”

“Do you hear me?”

Harvey slapped Lucas again, his face devoid of any emotion.

Lucas was showing a wretched expression. He let out a sigh before he gave the order.

“Make way.”

Naturally, Lucas had to give in against Harvey’s dominance.

Macy gritted her teeth and slowly stepped away. The moment she moved back, she swiftly sent the men in suits a look.

Fwoosh!

While Brennan was still protecting Kait, two men in suits pounced right at them.

Bang!

Harvey grabbed Lucas’s head and slammed it onto the pillar again. This time, he used a lot more force than before, almost cracking Lucas’s head open.

The two Kait stopped themselves. They dared not move around hastily; they did not want to gamble on Lucas' life.

Harvey did not even bother to say anything. He sent Macy a playful look as he choked Lucas harder.

He wanted to know the decision that this woman would make.

Seeing that the grip of Harvey's hands getting tighter, with Lucas's growing face bluer than ever, Macy's expression frantically changed. She screamed, "Let those two go!"

The men stepped away reluctantly.

Soon, Kait and Brenann were gone.

Harvey released his grip and said calmly, "Nobody better be chasing after them. Your master will get his head smashed in every time someone goes after them."

“If two go after them, he’ll get his head smashed in twice.”

“I don’t know how many times he can hold on, either. Why don’t we test it out?”

Macy continued to grit her teeth as she glared angrily at Harvey, unable to do anything else.

Sounds of a car engine came from the courtyard soon after. Brennan had safely taken Kait away.

“We’ve already let go of them, Harvey. Shouldn’t you let the prince go as well?”

Macy’s cold gaze shifted toward Harvey once again.

In everyone’s eyes, Harvey naturally had no way out of the situation.

Even if he was in control of Lucas’s life and death, what could he do?

Even if Harvey had wings, he could not escape this predicament.

Harvey wasn't phased. He said calmly, "Of course I'll let him go. But now's not the time. At least, not until I'm certain of Kait's safety."

"Heh..."

Against Harvey's calm and peaceful demeanor, Lucas screamed his throat out.

"You've already got the jackpot, so what else do you want?!"

"If you really get on my nerves, I wouldn't mind dying with you!"

Chapter 1909

“Do you want to end up dead together?”

Harvey York reached out his hand and patted Lucas Jean’s face with intrigue.

“In your eyes, you are like porcelain, fine and precious, and someone like me is like a crack, impure and low.

“Why would you want to die with me?”

“Are you out of your mind?”

Lucas frowned and said, “Then, what do you want?”

“You won’t even have a chance to regret it if you anger me.”

Lenny Thompson stood up and shouted from not too far away, “Harvey, there are some people that you can never afford to offend!

“Don’t you even begin to compare

Prince Jean with the likes of Bryan Holt!

“If you hurt the Prince, you can’t even pay with your life!”

Slap!

Harvey slapped him again. He used enough force and instantly knocked out one of Lucas’ teeth this time.

“Look, look. Isn’t your subordinate being disobedient?”

“I already mentioned it earlier. If they spout nonsense again, I will slap you, and now there are still five slaps left!”

Harvey squinted and began to slap him at his own pace.

Slap, slap, slap, slap, slap!

After those five slaps, Lucas almost spat out all his teeth. This scene made Macy Howard and the others completely terrified.

They still had many threats to say. However, they honestly dared not even to let out a peep at this moment.

“See, isn’t the entire place silent now?”

Harvey lifted Lucas’ bruised and swollen face. He chuckled. “Now that the prattling of your subordinates is gone, can we have a real chat?”

Lucas spurted a mouthful of blood. His expression changed, and he regained his composure after a while.

“Harvey, regardless of the conflicts between you and me, there is one thing that I must admit, and that is, you are very skilled and courageous. At least, you are the most formidable opponent that I met after so many years.

“You should feel honored.

“Although all this was due to my own carelessness, there is no denying that you are indeed powerful.

“Also, I heard that you quickly resolved and efficiently helped Kait Walker secure her position in Walker Corporation.

“Such skill and mind games are hard to come by.

“Even if it’s in Mordu, a place with many talents, it is rare to find someone like you.”

Harvey smiled and said, “Thanks for your compliment, Prince Jean. But your sudden praise makes me feel a little creepy.

“Don’t tell me that you are trying to win me over now?”

“Yes. You are brilliant.” Lucas had completely regained his composure. “A person like you is certainly qualified to enter the upper circle of Mordu.

“Of course, you’ll need a good platform and enough power. Otherwise, if you are only good at fighting, you will just be a thug for the rest of your life.

“Even though Kait is from a wealthy family, the Walker family is not a big deal in Mordu.

“No matter how she struggles, no matter how capable she is, her job as a daughter is to be married. The Walker family’s wealth will have nothing to do with her.”

“Moreover, letting her marry me was initially a part of my cooperation with Justin Walker. It’s because only in this way can I go all out to support him to rise in the ranks in the branch of Longmen.

“So, Harvey, don’t be stupid. Offending the Walker family, the Jean family, and the Longmen for a woman. Do you think it’s worth it?”

“Just for a woman’s sake, it’ll be difficult for you to survive in Mordu or even the entire great Country H in the future. Do you think it’s worth it?”

He stood up straight after Lucas reminded him and slowly replied, “You are an intelligent person. You should understand that women come and go!

“If you have status and power in the future, you will have many women.”

Chapter 1910

Harvey York smiled. “Well, in that case, are you going to recruit me, Prince Jean?”

“Why don’t you tell me...”

“How will you recruit me?”

“What are you willing to offer me?”

Lucas Jean laughed and said, “You’re so straightforward. I admire someone like you the most!”

“Although you had already hit so many of my brothers today and even disgraced me!

“But, I still think highly of you!”

“As long as you kneel and succumb to me now and become my subordinate from now on, I can guarantee you the status that Denzel Washington had while he’s with me!”

“You’ll be my number one subordinate as long as you kneel.

“And the ownership of Paramount will also fall into your hands!

“This is a pretty huge thing!

“How about this condition?”

Harvey smiled and replied indifferently, “The condition is good. Even more, I really admire your acceptance for making such conditions while facing an opponent.

“Unfortunately, I can’t promise you.”

Lucas frowned and asked, “Why?”

Harvey reached out his hand, lightly patted Lucas’ face, and explained nonchalantly, “Why, you ask?

“When you acted against me, didn’t you go and investigate about my true identity, Prince Jean?

“Since you haven’t found out my true identity yet, why don’t you let me tell you personally? How about it?”

Lucas’ expression suddenly changed. He stared at Harvey carefully and then slowly said after a while, “Who the hell are you?!”

Harvey squinted and said indifferently, “I’m Harvey. There is no doubt about this.

“But I still have other identities. For instance, I’m the live-in son-in-law of the Zimmer family...

“For instance, I’m the CEO of Sky Corporation.

“Another example, I’m also called Prince York in Buckwood...”

Boom!

The atmosphere of the entire hall instantly changed as soon as Harvey said those words.

Lucas' expression also changed drastically, from arrogant and indifferent from the beginning to complete horror.

The expressions on Macy Howard, Lenny Thompson, and others also changed. The firearms in their hands were raised once more, pointing toward the direction where Harvey was.

As if they were facing a huge enemy right now!

Apparently, they never thought of Harvey having such an identity.

Prince York of South Light?!

Those who were addressed as Prince, none of them were simple characters!

Lucas' complexion changed several times. Then, he regained a little calmness. "It's you. It was you all along.

“You’re the one who defeated Matthew Flynn and Quinton York in Buckwood!

“It’s also because of you that May Lee was able to become the new representative of Star Chaebol!

“Not to mention, I also lost hundreds of millions in Buckwood because of you!”

Harvey smiled and said, “It seems that you have an excellent memory. You still remember that you also participated in the game in Buckwood that day.”

Lucas frowned and tried to reason, “Prince, if it’s regarding the incident that day, I can give you an explanation.

“We’re both respectable people. Why even bother making things complicated?”

Lucas finally realized that Harvey’s identity was on par with him, perhaps even higher than him.

There was no point in giving benefits and flattering them while facing such a person.

However, they also had a rule in their circle, and that was, they didn't care about the lives of the lower-ranked people. As for them, the higher-ranked people, they would not easily get into trouble.

Therefore, Lucas let out a sigh of relief at this moment.

Harvey said indifferently, "Lucas, didn't you ask yourself first before saying all this?"

"For example, do you deserve to die?"
