

Chapter 2269

However, the only top family in Las Vegas was the Hamiltons.

The Hamiltons had been managing Las Vegas so well, without any loopholes.

Moreover, there were no grudges between him and the Hamiltons. Thus, why Hong Kong?

“No!”

Harvey York suddenly understood.

It wasn't because of him but because Mandy Zimmer would surely come to Las Vegas for gambling business.

Indeed, this setup was designed for him, but their entry point was always directed toward Mandy Zimmer.

Then, the ones who arranged all that, was it the Jean family of Mordu, the Hamiltons from Las Vegas, or those old acquaintances who he had not met for a long time?

Harvey took a deep breath. His gaze then fell on the building opposite the Casino-Palace.

Some problems could be solved easily as long as he could capture the sniper who was shooting him at the moment.

Pff, pff, pfff. Just as Harvey was pondering things, several sounds came out again!

Apparently, the sniper had already spotted Harvey, and all those shots landed on the wall right beside Harvey.

The loud shockwave and the marble fragments on the wall were about to break Harvey's eardrums.

However, he still didn't make any move and continued sticking to the wall.

This was because Harvey knew full well that the staff of Sky Casino-Palace would certainly find out after such a big thing had happened. Thus, he thought of escaping when there were many people, and then he would capture the sniper instead of running out at the moment.

However, before Harvey could start his wishful thinking, the corner of his eye suddenly twitched. He instinctively sensed danger. He almost rushed out to the place where he was previously, but instead, he rushed to the fire compartment at the stairs.

Boom!

A loud sound reverberated. Someone actually used heavy weapons and instantly blew up several rooms on this floor.

This massive tremor alarmed the security personnel of Sky Casino-Palace. Soon, many security personnel rushed over, and the sniper also stopped shooting.

Harvey did not show up immediately. Instead, he waited until the security personnel was all over the place. Only then Harvey made his way from the fire compartment to the seventeenth floor. Later, he put on his clothes and left stealthily.

At a commanding height where the place could be spotted from a distance, a woman wearing a fox mask slowly put away her rifle. She then took out her mobile phone, dialed a number, and said indifferently, "The mission failed."

Her tone was indifferent, without the slightest emotion.

"Queenie York, is it that difficult to kill Harvey?"

"You are in a favorable situation. You have everything, and yet you still fail.

"I could only say that I'm very disappointed."

An indifferent voice came from the other side of the phone.

“Or, do you still have unusual feelings for your eldest brother?”

Queenie quickly threw away the fox mask on her face, slid down from the high marble column to the ground, and flipped over her coat. She instantly changed from a cold-blooded killer into a stunning beauty.

Meanwhile, she blended in among the tourists and said coldly, “Quinton York, is it necessary to say this now?”

“When he was at the Airport Road, didn’t your attack also fail?”

“If our eldest brother is so easy to kill, we wouldn’t need to hide in this turf, Hong Kong, until now! We didn’t even dare to step into the inland, okay?”

Quinton became silent on the other side of the phone. He then said solemnly, “Since we have failed two times, then we should swiftly attack the third time before he could come to his senses.

“Once he finds out our true identities, we’ll never have a chance...”

Chapter 2270

Teresa Thompson temporarily moved to another hotel and rebooked a presidential suite at the Paris Hotel next door due to the chaos at the Sky Casino-Palace.

Harvey York appeared as if nothing had happened and helped Teresa send all her luggage over.

During this period, Harvey also called Mandy Zimmer to make sure that everything was going well for her at the moment. Only then was he a little rest assured.

Harvey was almost certain that no matter who wanted to kill him, then they would aim at him. As long as he did not meet Mandy, then Mandy would not be in danger for the time being.

Moreover, Harvey also believed that the third wave of the opponent's attack would not appear too soon because they had repeatedly failed even with careful planning.

Now, he should concentrate on solving the trouble for Teresa. Only then would he have time to turn the tables and get rid of them before they could take action.

Everything was just as Harvey expected after checking in and staying in the Paris Hotel for the afternoon. Nothing major happened, and he then took this opportunity to rest for a few hours to regain his stamina.

However, Teresa's cell phone rang several times at this moment.

All of them were calls from Dale Flynn.

Except for the first call to inform Teresa that the location of dinner tonight had been changed, the rest of the calls were to tell her to be on time tonight and that she must put up with everything and not be too impulsive for the sake of business.

Especially in particular situations like beating people in the morning must never occur.

This was because Third Young Master Hamilton was not someone that even the normal descendants of the Hamiltons could compare to.

Going against him might end up terribly.

Teresa did not avoid Harvey while answering the phone. She just responded lightly with a few words and then ran to help Harvey cut the watermelon.

“Mr. Dale Flynn... May I know what is his relationship with Matthew Flynn, one of the Four Young Masters of Hong Kong?”

Harvey spoke with great interest.

“This person is a little interesting. He cares so much about your affairs, but he is too conceited.”

Teresa replied softly, “Dale is the collateral member of the Flynns from Hong Kong, and he was my senior when I was in college. After graduation, he didn’t do any business but served as a broker and mediator both in Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

“He relies on this to make money. If he can help us settle Third Young Master Hamilton tonight, I’ll give him a minimum of 2.4 million dollars in gratuities. How could he not work hard?”

Harvey smiled and changed the topic. He said, “Although Third Young Master Hamilton was from the Hamiltons of Las Vegas, I heard that he prefers to do business regarding the streets and have the demeanor of the people from the streets.

“In terms of his character, this dinner tonight certainly isn’t simple. He must have come with a purpose. You have to be mentally prepared.”

Harvey knew those rich guys too well, especially those who were from the streets. They often treated people ruthlessly and cruelly.

If Teresa let her guard down tonight, she might suffer a huge loss.

Teresa took out a document, flipped through it a few times, and said solemnly, “Third Young Master Hamilton, Denver Hamilton.

“According to the information that my secretary just sent, this person is greedy for money and lustful apart from having an aura of the people from the streets.

“Because of this character, he has raised a lot of women, and many of them are young women with families. It is said that he like this type of woman the most.

“For this reason, many husbands of those young women had come to argue with him, but he had suppressed them in the end.

“Once, a young lady who is a collateral member of a top family of the country was harassed by him, but the Hamiltons managed to use money to settle this matter in the end.

“However, this incident also contributed to his increasing arrogance, making him feel that as long as he is in Las Vegas, there is nothing he can't deal with.

“So, there's certainly nothing good about the dinner tonight.”

Chapter 2271

Harvey York slightly squinted his eyes and said indifferently after a while, "Miss Thompson, since you know Dale Flynn's behavior, why would you still meet him tonight? Aren't you afraid that he would take advantage of you?"

Teresa Thompson smiled. "I have you.

"Moreover, even if I don't want to admit it, I still am a member of the Thompson family of Wolsing.

"In business, he may dare to deceive me.

"As for other things, he wouldn't dare to do it."

Harvey smiled and did not say anything more. Instead, he made up his mind that he had to go there tonight.

He might be able to find out some news from Third Young Master Hamilton.

Dinner time came soon. Harvey followed Teresa into the car, driving into the heavy traffic.

“CEO Thompson, Third Young Master Hamilton has been waiting for a long time. Why aren’t you here yet?”

At the entrance of the private manor at the bay ten kilometers away, a suave-looking man wearing golden glasses was urging Teresa.

“Teresa, I agreed to be a guarantor for you and assured Third Young Master Hamilton that you are a person who knows your place for the sake of our junior and senior relationship!

“So, you’d better don’t let me down!

“You should arrive at seven o’clock. Why didn’t you leave earlier from your house?”

“After all, Third Young Master Hamilton has always been impatient. Other than that, he really despises people who blow him off the most!

“If you make him unhappy and upset him, at that time, not only those employees of your company will be unlucky, you might not even be able to leave Las Vegas!

“After all, Las Vegas is the Hamiltons’ territory. You and I have to act carefully when we are here in this turf, do you understand?”

Dale let out a sigh of relief after telling her all that.

He then squeezed out a flattering smile and said, “Third Young Master, don’t worry, Miss Thompson will be here soon.

“She is very sincere tonight. I’m sure you will be satisfied.”

There were more than ten men and women in Chinese costume trailing not too far behind Dale.

Moreover, there were also eight foreign bodyguards, all dressed in black, surrounding the hall. All of them were tall and terrifying.

Among those people, there was a man with long hair whose face was so pale as if he was about to faint any moment. He was sitting casually on the Italian sofa with a playful look on his face.

“This woman is not bad.”

Denver Hamilton held a few photos in his hand, and his face was full of admiration.

“The eldest young lady of the top family is certainly not comparable to ordinary women!

“Such beauty and temperament are the best of the best. What a remarkable quality she has!

“I like her. She’s not bad.”

Denver took a few chips from his side and threw them on the ground while speaking. He said lightly, “Dale, you did a good job. This is a reward for you.

“After it’s all said and done, I’ll give you an even bigger reward!”

Dale picked up all the chips worth tens of thousands of dollars on the ground with a shy look on his face. He then nodded and said, “Third Young Master, don’t worry. This is Las Vegas. Are there any women that you can’t handle? Are there any things that you can’t do?”

“Everyone here has to show you at least some respect!”

“The Hamiltons are the kings of Las Vegas!”

Denver laughed. If everyone were as sensible as Dale when they were in Las Vegas, then he would not need to save a lot of effort and avoid hassle at many times.

Bang!

Meanwhile, the door of the room was suddenly kicked open. A loud noise could be heard, which instantly stunned the crowd.

Several foreign bodyguards all stepped forward with serious looks on their faces. They wanted to see who had a death wish. However, a figure instantly appeared at the entrance.

Chapter 2272

Dale Flynn looked indifferent. He did not continue to speak but shifted his gaze and squinted toward the entrance.

In this turf, Las Vegas, no matter who came to challenge them, they would have to pay the price.

After the other guests reacted, they also showed sarcastic looks while holding the glass in their hands.

They had seen many people wanting to challenge Third Young Master over the years.

However, all of them were crushed by him without exception.

The more miserable ones were even thrown directly into the sea to feed the fishes.

This also enabled them to act rashly when they were in Las Vegas.

Meanwhile, the people there were anticipating, waiting to enjoy the show.

Soon, Harvey York stepped in first, followed by Teresa Thompson.

“Teresa!”

Dale recognized Teresa and heaved a sigh of relief. His task would be deemed completed as long as this beautiful junior of his show up.

However, Dale’s complexion suddenly dimmed, looking at Harvey, who was walking in front of Teresa.

“Miss Thompson, didn’t I clearly mention to you today?”

“I told you that you should only come alone. This is a matter of attitude!”

“But, you brought a lackey here. Did you bring him to scare us?”

After saying that, Dale arrogantly walked up the Harvey and pointed at his nose. He said coldly, “Get out!”

Teresa glanced at Dale coldly before Harvey could speak. Her cold gaze made Dale unconsciously retreat a few steps back.

After that, Teresa did not bother to look at this guy. Instead, she coldly stared at the only person sitting in the hall. “Are you Third Young Master Hamilton, Denver Hamilton?”

Everyone was slightly taken aback after seeing Teresa’s attitude.

Could it be that this little beauty was unaware of her current situation?

Was she not here to make amends?

Instead, you came here to accuse him?

Everyone was a little stunned, and they could not understand what right she had and where her confidence came from.

Several foreign bodyguards apparently encountered such a situation for the first time. All of them showed sarcastic smiles while having their arms crossed.

Teresa actually brought a lackey who wanted to bite right after coming in?

What was she thinking?

Denver was too lazy to answer at the moment. Instead, he crossed his legs, casually picked up a glass, and took a sip of wine.

He had already figured out how to deal with Teresa.

She was like a wild horse, but often a wild horse was more fun and interesting than the silent lamb.

At this moment, Denver looked at Teresa with playful and lustful eyes.

“Denver, are you stupid?”

Harvey also spoke indifferently in the silence of the crowd.

“Or are you too scared to talk to us, Third Young Master Hamilton?”

“B*stard!”

Before Denver could even speak, a greasy man walked out among the men and women in Chinese clothes.

He ignored Harvey, pointed at Teresa, and said with a peculiar tone, “CEO Thompson, you should come by yourself since Third Young Master asked you to come. How dare you bring a lackey along?”

“Is it because Third Young Master ordered to release your staff today? So, you think that you could bully him?”

“Believe it or not, as long as Third Young Master speaks, your staff will be tied up and thrown in front of you. I’ll be the one deciding their life and death!”

After hearing this, the group of people all had cruel smiles on their faces.

Obviously, they knew that those words were not just nonsense but could really be executed.
