

Chapter 14 The New Plan

Arielle cautiously looked around. Her father was not at home, and she had driven the maid out. Only she and Emily were all alone in the big villa.

She grabbed Emily's arm and complained, "Mom, I saw Melissa in the hospital today."

The blood on Emily's face drained in an instant. "What... How is that possible?"

"It's true. That woman looks exactly like Melissa, and her name is also very similar..."

Arielle trembled. "When Everett kicked that bitch out five years ago, we sent someone to look for her, didn't we? You said she would definitely die after the car crash, for she had plunged into the sea? But I saw her in the hospital today. I swear. She looked exactly like Melissa..."

Sensing her daughter's anxiousness, Emily comforted her, "Calm down. Don't worry."

"How can I not be worried? That woman has not only returned for good but is also working in the hospital where I go for consultations. Everett has asked her to perform an operation for me. Can you believe that? That woman will definitely kill me, and..."

She remembered the two children she saw in the villa and became more afraid. "Wasn't Melissa pregnant when Everett drove her away? I saw her kids. They are twins..."

The more she thought about it, the more frightened she became. "God, she must have come back to take revenge on me. She is using those two bastards to take away my position. This is crazy..."

"Arielle..."

Emily began realizing the magnitude of the issue. If Melissa had returned alone, they wouldn't have been afraid of her.

Back then, they had successfully tricked Everett and made him drive Melissa out. She felt they could use the same method to deal with that bitch as well.

However, the tricky part was Melissa had two kids.

Besides, the Mayfield family refused to accept Arielle because of her illness and infertility regardless of how much they pressurized them.

Being the commercial empire of Andeport, the Mayfield family would want Everett to have a successor. This meant the child would be of great importance if Arielle wanted to compete with Melissa in the future.

Emily's eyes narrowed. She clenched her fists and said, "Don't worry. Let's confirm the identity of that woman first. As for other things..."

Her lips curled up into a sneer. "Everett will soon hold a birthday party for his grandmother. I will ask your father to pressurize him at the birthday party then and ask the Mayfield family to announce your marriage to Everett as soon as possible. After you marry Everett, even if that bitch Melissa comes back with those two bastards, she wouldn't be able to do anything. The most important thing we've got to do now is to make Everett confirm his love for you. If Everett gets swayed because of that woman and her children, it will cause irreparable damage to us."

Melissa drove back to the villa after work.

The two kids obediently sat in the back seat of the car. Lindsey spotted a flower shop on the roadside and suggested, "Mommy, let's buy some flowers."

Melissa turned and looked at the flower shop and saw someone holding a bunch of chrysanthemums. She suddenly remembered that she hadn't visited her mother's grave for a long time.

She turned to the two children and said, "Merrick, Lindsey, I'm going to buy some flowers. Let's go to visit your grandma's grave, okay?"

Melissa was very young when her mother was diagnosed with a mental disease and admitted to a mental institution for treatment. Not long after that, her mother plunged to her death from the building.

After her mother's funeral, Emily and Arielle soon moved in and lived with them. Only then did Melissa find out that her father had an affair and had another family all these years.
