

Chapter 2091 Mona Gets Angry

After she moved into the sanatorium, Sonia began to take care of Mona every day

Sonia provided Mona meals, helped her bathe, joined her for walks, read newspapers alongside her, and even supported her in using the bathroom.

Initially, the sanatorium's nursing staff were unaware of who Sonia was. After some conversations, they were astonished to learn she was Mona's daughter.

One day, two nurses casually observed Sonia caring for Mona and started to talk.

"Mona is truly fortunate; her daughter is exceptionally devoted, caring for her at all times," said the slightly chubby nurse.

The slimmer nurse nodded in agreement. "It's really heartwarming to see such devotion. Mona can be quite troubled mentally. She sometimes acts out violently, but Sonia never leaves her side and calms her down."

"By the way, wasn't Mona's daughter killed?" The chubby nurse tried to recall the details from an old entertainment news report, looking puzzled.

The slimmer nurse also appeared baffled upon hearing this. "Perhaps she has another daughter?"

"The entertainment news never mentioned that she had two daughters," the chubby nurse said.

The slimmer nurse dismissed the thought with a wave of her hand. "Well, just because it wasn't public doesn't mean it's not true. Celebrities often keep things to themselves."

After finishing their chat, both nurses resumed their duties.

Meanwhile, Sonia and Mona were just getting back from their walk.

Sonia assisted Mona onto the bed. Just then, her phone began to ring on the bedside table.

Sonia glanced at the caller ID.

It was Alexandra.

Without thinking, Sonia frowned. She didn't feel like answering, so she let the phone keep ringing.

If Alexandra asked about it later, she could always say Janet was with her as an excuse.

At that moment, Mona sat up straight.

Just as Sonia was about to ask what was wrong, Mona unexpectedly pressed the answer button on the phone and handed it to her.

Sonia's eyes widened. It was unclear whether her reaction was due to Mona's behavior or because Mona had just handed her the phone willingly.

Before Sonia could process what was happening, Alexandra's angry voice erupted from the phone, sounding as if she might jump out of the screen and confront Sonia.

Alexandra scolded Sonia for more than two minutes.

Sonia soon discovered why Alexandra was so upset. It seemed that Brandon had been targeting Alexandra,

Because of this, Alexandra faced significant pressure from the Barton family.

He was even involved in a car accident.

Alexandra's injury worsened during his loud outcry, causing him to inhale sharply in pain while on the phone.

He deserved it.

Upon hearing his voice, Sonia couldn't help but curse silently. She managed to suppress her grin and feigned shock. "What? How could he suddenly treat you this way? Brandon has seemed quite normal lately."

"Are you asking me? I want to ask you!"

Alexandra shouted again.

'He was convinced that Sonia's mistake had caused Brandon to target him. He continued to threaten Sonia over the phone, saying, "Let me tell you, if Brandon comes after me again, I'll kill you!"

Sonia just rolled her eyes at this.

It was typical of Alexandra to unleash his anger on her when he couldn't handle Brandon.

While Sonia remained cool, Mona's expression changed dramatically.

From her initial confused and disturbed state due to her mental illness, Mona became angry and assertive, like a lioness protecting her cub.
