

Chapter 2130 The Drug Took Effect

Sonia started pulling Mona out, but when she grabbed the door handle, Mona stopped abruptly and shook Sonia's hand off.

"Mom, what's wrong?" Sonia looked at her mother in confusion.

"I can't! I can't go to the hospital." Mona shook her head frantically, backing away. "I know those people poisoned me to threaten you. I don't want to be the reason you suffer."

Indeed, Alexandra must have poisoned Mona in order to threaten her, but Sonia couldn't say this out loud.

If she did, Mona would blame herself to no end.

So, Sonia hid her emotions and smiled at Mona. "Mom, don't overthink things. It's probably nothing. We just..."

"Stop lying to me. I'm not stupid!" Mona interrupted Sonia. "I have lived alone for so many years. I am so lucky that I got to meet you again. I would rather die than have you get threatened."

Sonia's eyes welled with tears at Mona's words. The tears quickly escaped her eyes and rolled down her cheeks.

"I will never let you die, Mom! We need to go to the hospital now!" While crying, Sonia pulled Mona out.

"No, I won't go." Mona was like a naughty and disobedient child, trying frantically to break free from Sonia's hand.

"Mom, you have to go to the hospital. Why would I live in a world without you?"

Sonia was usually a very obedient daughter, but this time, she refused to listen to Mona.

Panicked by Sonia's words, Mona shook her head like a rattle. "You can't die, Sonia! Absolutely not! You are still so young and your life has just begun. You can't ruin your life because of me."

"Then come with me to the hospital, please," Sonia pleaded.

Mona hesitated for a while, but ended up refusing. "No, I won't go!"

If they went to the hospital, Alexandra would know that Sonia knew Mona was poisoned. And if he found that out, he would definitely threaten Sonia.

Mona refused to be a burden to her daughter.

They stared at each other, no one willing to give in.

"Ah..." Mona suddenly screamed.

It was as though a needle had pierced into her brain. Screaming in pain, she rolled on the floor with a distorted face.

Sonia stood there in a daze.

The poison was finally kicking in.

Scared and angry, Sonia knelt on the floor and hugged Mona tightly to her. She took out her cell phone and dialed 911.

She knew this was exactly what Alexandra wanted, but she couldn't sit back and do nothing while her mother died in front of her. She preferred jumping into this trap of Alexandra's.

Not long after, Frank rushed into the hotel in an ambulance.

He walked into the room with a doctor and a nurse. He was alarmed by Mona's blue face. "What's going on?"

"Alexandra injected my mom with a strange drug," Sonia briefly told Frank what happened, then pleaded in a choked voice, "Please, take away this pain she's feeling..."

She had been through this kind of episode before and knew just how excruciating the pain was.

"Let's see what to do."

Frank squatted on the floor, and after checking Mona, he injected her with painkillers and sedatives.

Not long after, Mona's expression softened as the pain disappeared. Then she fell weakly in Sonia's arms.
