

Chapter 41 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

(WARNING: BAD LANGUAGE AND SEXUAL CONTENT AHEAD!!)

Leo carried me to an elevator. “You have an elevator in the pack house?” I asked, raising an eyebrow. Leo smirked at me in his arms. “Of course we do. Our room is on the top floor and with three mates, Princess. You are not going to want to walk up and down all those flights of steps.” he said. Zero blew me a kiss over Leo’s shoulder and Hero winked at me over the other one. I wrapped my arms around Leo’s neck and pulled him down for a deep kiss as Hero pushed the button for the top floor. Leo groaned against my lips as I tangled my hands in his silky hair, kissing him deeper. I pulled away from Leo as soon as the doors opened on our floor.

“I need a shower first before we go any further boys. I still feel that man's breath on my neck.” I said, as Zero growled as he opened up the double doors to a huge bedroom. I looked around and it was big. The whole floor was decked out like a penthouse, but you could like fit a whole apartment in the bedroom alone. “This is our room.” Hero said “Have you boys always shared a room?” I asked sarcastically. They laughed. “No sweetheart. We had this room made because we knew once we found our mate we wouldn’t want our separate rooms anymore. Our old rooms will be converted more into offices, just with beds if we get too tired from work or you're not here. They are down the hall on this floor along with another room that will be your office.” Zero said, I nod then make a dash for the bathroom.

I locked the door before Hero could try and put his foot in the way. “Honey!” he whined. I giggled. “Just go shower quickly and come back.” I said through the door and hopped in the shower. I know Hero will get me back later, but I was going to still tease my mates as much as possible. In the shower I shaved and cleaned every inch of my body. I dried off and blow dried my hair. It was going to be a while before I got used to it being so short now. I wrapped myself in a towel and went back to the bedroom. My triplets were not back yet, so I decided to wait on the soft bed. The silk sheets felt nice and cool. I thought I was going to fall asleep when I heard a knock on the door. “You ready, honey?” Hero’s voice came.

I smirked to myself and told them to come in. They all came in with only towels wrapped around their waists. ‘Looks like they were just as eager to complete the bond like we are little one.’ Midnight purred in my head. They growled when they saw me in only a towel too. Zero used his wolf speed to zoom towards me and kissed me deeply. I moaned against his lips as he slipped the towel off me. I felt Leo kissing my neck while Hero rubbed and kneaded my ass while gently biting my shoulder.

Zero pulled back from our kiss and gently pushed me towards the bed. I laid down on my back. Leo claimed my lips, Hero began playing with and sucking my breast, and Zero spread my legs and shoved his face into my pussy. I ached my back and groaned against Leo’s lips in pleasure. I never had anyone touch me there, much less eat me out. Zero gently nipped at my clit as he pushed a finger into me. Leo moved down my neck with kisses and found a spot he wanted to leave a hickey. My moans seemed to get them a bit more excited each time they heard me they got a little rougher. Hero was gently biting my breast and pinching my nipples, making them really really hard. Zero slipped two more fingers inside me as he continued licking and sucking on my clit.

“Oh, Zero. I’m gonna...” I felt the pressure build up as Zero fingers and mouth worked me into a frenzy. “Let go princess. Cum for us.” Leo whispered in my ear, then he gently bit down on my earlobe. Zero moved his fingers, knuckle deep, faster and faster. I felt a surge of pleasure course through me as my body released and I squirted all over Zero’s sexy face. He groaned and lapped up the fluids from my core, then he switched with Leo and gave me a wet french kiss making sure I could taste myself on his lips.

Leo went to my breast and Hero wanted to eat me out next. “Stand up for a minute baby. I want you to ride my face.” he said. I broke away from Zero’s kiss and the two older alphas helped me stand up on the bed. Hero laid on his back and his brothers lowered me onto his face. Hero latched onto my wet folds more aggressively than Zero, but it felt so good. I moaned as Zero showed me how to moved my hips to rub against Hero’s face. Leo used one hand to gently squeeze my neck and the other slapped my ass every now and then. The pain mixed with pleasure was something I never thought I liked, but at the hands of my triplet alphas it couldn’t feel any better than that.

They were gentle but rough at the same time. It excited me and Midnight both. Hero was showing my wet folds no mercy. He plunged his tongue in and out of me and shoved four fingers inside me. “Hero!” I screamed as Hero drove me over the edge. I came all over his face. I heard him purr as he licked up my juices. I felt tired, but I still had one more alpha to please me. Leo switched with his younger brother and pressed on my clit with his finger. “Princess you’re so wet and you smell even more delicious than before.” he said in an almost animalistic voice. “Leo, please.” I whimpered out.

I wanted more from my alphas. I never felt anything like this. My triplets all smirked at me, eyes black with lust. Leo latched onto my pussy, that was already so sensitive from his brothers, and Hero parted my ass. “Ah, Hero what are you doing?” I asked while Leo eats my pussy and Zero is rubbing and sucking on my breast. “Just relax honey. You will feel even more pleasure with what I wanna do.” Hero said in a deep voice. Their voices sent shivers down my spine. Hero stuck his fingers in my pussy then pulled them out and started rubbing around my anus.

Using the juices from my pussy, Hero stuck his finger in my ass and started pumping in and out. As Leo was doing the same to my pussy. “Ah Oh my god!” I screamed, I could feel Leo smirk and Hero let out a growl of approval. Zero purred and he lick and sucked on my breast like they were candy. “I love you all so much!” I screamed as I came again, this time wetting the eldest alpha’s face. Zero held me up easily while I caught my breath. “We love you too Princess, now who do you want first?” Leo said. I looked at them as they removed the towels from their waists. Their thick huge cocks were standing at attention. I was in for a long night.

I didn't want any of my alphas to get upset because only one of them can be my first. "Zero" I said as I placed a hand on his face. He smiled sweetly, his eyes still black as night. He laid me down on my back and hovered over me with his body. He lined his thick long cock against the entrance to my pussy. "I'll be as gentle as I can, but it will still hurt." he whispered. I nodded at him and kissed him. Zero thrust into me quickly, but as gently as he could breaking my hymen. I moaned into Zero's lips. He stayed still for a bit letting me adjust to his size. "Are you doing ok Princess?" Leo asked. Zero pulled back from my lips so I could answer. "Yes Leo. I am more than ok." I looked at Zero to let him know he can start moving. He rocked his hips into me and the pain quickly turned into pleasure. "You're so tight baby. It feels so good." Zero growled in my ear. His growl was so deep I was surprise it wasn't his wolf fucking me. Midnight was so happy. She could talk and connect with Zero's wolf, Lucifer. She purred in delight when Zero started going faster and faster.

"Move your hips honey." Hero whispered in my ear as he placed his hands on my hips to show me how to move and meet Zeros thrust. I wrapped my arms around Zero's neck as he sat up. Moving his hands to my ass and started bouncing me on his cock. "May I mark you sweetheart, and make you my forever?" Zero asked in a husky ear right in my ear. "Yes." Zero growled as he started to fuck me faster. "ZERO!!" Just as Zero made me reach my peak. Zero bared his canines and bit me in the neck deeply, marking me as his forever. I felt my pussy contract around him, with another animalistic growl he released his seed deep inside me. Zero let go of my neck and licked his mark to seal it.

Zero pulled out and switched places with Leo. Leo laid against the headboard and I climbed on top of his lap, kissing him, lifting me up effortlessly and slid me down on his huge cock. I moaned as I felt full again. I moved my hips like I did with Zero, until I felt a cold sensation on my ass. I looked back and Hero was squirting some lube on me. He smirked as he then started to use his fingers to stretch my anus. It felt a bit painful, but so good. Once Hero was satisfied he poked my ass with his thick cock. Zero whispered sweet nothings in my ear as Hero entered my ass as gently as he could. Leo was still fucking my pussy. With Hero in my ass and Leo in my pussy I felt so full.

Both of them were working me into a frenzy. "You belong to us baby girl. You are ours!" Hero growled as he became rougher with my ass. Leo started fucking me faster and harder. "You are ours to love, ours to worship, ours to fuck and to see you bear our pups." Leo said as he bared his canines and sunk them into my neck, right next to Zero's mark. Hero sunk his canines into the other side of my neck. My eyes rolled in the back of my head as I squirted all over Leo with my orgasm. They both growled, like animals, as they filled both holes with their seed. I laid on Leo's chest with Zero and Hero on either side of me. "I love you, my Leo, my Zero, and my Hero" I said as I started falling asleep. "We love you too, our little luna" they said in unison.

Story Telling At Breakfast.

Chapter 42 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

I woke up early the next morning, still entangled in the triplets arms. I felt a bit sore, but it was worth it and even though they were a bit rough for my first time my body loved it. I smiled as I tried to get up, but Leo pulled me back into bed. I squealed as he grabbed my sides to pull me closer to him. He chuckled as my squeal woke his brothers up. "Where do you think you are going princess?" he asked, nuzzling my neck where his mark was. Midnight was purring at the attention. "I was just going to go get a shower then get to work. I only have 3 months to master this power of mine before that monster comes for me." I said while I looked up to him. I heard a low growl erupt from the three of them.

"He will never have you, not while we breathe." Hero growled, laying his head on my stomach. I stroked his hair and craned my neck to look at Leo. "I know, but it is better to be prepared is it not?" I said while I nuzzled Leo. I got up and headed for the shower, with my triplets all following me. We showered together. Zero washed my hair, while Leo and Hero washed my body for me. Midnight was dying for me to mark them too, but I knew if I did that now, we would never make it out of the bedroom. Besides I wanted to make their marks as special as they made mine. I was going to mark each of them when I got one alone.

They got dressed, and Leo zoomed to Sasha's room for some clothes for me to wear. Since mine were still packed up. We made our way down to the dining room table and saw that someone had already made breakfast. Leo sniffed the air. "Smells good Rico." He yelled out towards the kitchen. "Rico?" I asked slightly confused, then Rico came in with a plate full of waffles and bacon. He was wearing a black apron over his gray t-shirt and tan shorts. "Good morning Luna, Alphas." he said with a smile. I was still confused. Rico was the beta. Why was he cooking? As if he read my mind already Rico said "I am the main one that cooks breakfast for those who live in the pack house. Mostly because I get up earlier than everyone and I find it to be calming before a long work day."

I nod my head slightly while my mouth shaped into an 'O' the triplets sat down and Hero pulled me into his lap. He purred in content with having me close. I nuzzled his neck and he growled lightly. I felt him harden under me. I smirked at him. 'Don't think that your teasing will go unpunished tonight Honey.' Hero said through mind link. I was almost startled at first but I remember that now they marked me and that bound the four of us together. I could mind link any of my triplets, but I wouldn't be able to mind link anyone else until I had a luna ceremony that inducted me into the Raven Moon pack fully.

Rico cleared his throat to grab my attention from Hero. "So for your training Luna, Sasha and I will be working with you on your new gifts. Your physical training you can do with Nathan and Brandon." I nod my head as he explains. Then he turned to the triplets. "It would be best to have her luna ceremony as soon as we can. She should be able to mind link with others in case William decides to strike before her birthday." Leo answered him. "I agree, but she is already going to be having a lot to deal with. Planning a luna ceremony would stress her out too much." Before anyone could say anything else The doors opened and Layla and Felix walked in. When Layla saw her son's marks on my neck she jumped and snatched me away from Hero.

"Oh how wonderful, I finally have a daughter. Oh Deary you can't imagine how happy I am to see you marked. Now I just need some grandbabies to spoil." She said with my still crushed in her embrace. “Love if you want grandchildren, then you need to let Jess go so she can breathe.” Felix said to his wife. “Oh right sorry dear. I was too excited.” I giggled and stretched after she finally let me go. “How are you so strong? Even I work out a lot to get my strength, but you look like you do more paperwork than fighting Layla.” Layla smiled at me and said. “It was because of Sabrina.” My eyes widen. “What did Angel do?” I asked her, sitting back down on Hero’s lap. Her and Felix sat next to us and she started to tell me how Sabrina saved her life when she was just a pup.

(Note: What you read in this flashback in Layla’s POV is what she is telling to Jessabella and the triplets.)

~Flashback~

Layla’s POV

I was born with a very frail body as a pup. I could hardly walk around for too long on my own. I mostly sat in bed looking out of the hospital window of the Nightmare pack hospital. My long dark brown hair blowing in the wind from the open window. When I turned 13, things only got worse. I was no longer able to even stand on my own. The doctors told me and my parents that my bones were too weak to withstand my body, and that if something was not done before I turned 18, my first shift would kill me.

No one in the hospital could find any reason why my bones were so weak. Both my mother and father were strong warriors. Then one day I caught a lemon scent in the hospital and a light knock on my door. “Come in.” I said still looking out the window. I heard the door open and close but didn’t turn to see who it was. “Hello Layla. My name is Sabrina. Your parents asked me to take a look at you to see if I can help.” I heard a soft gentle voice say. I turned my head and was met with a woman with bright yellow eyes and sea blue hair. I sniffed the air again.

“You’re not a wolf, you’re a witch.” I stated. She nodded and smiled. “What the hell is a witch doing here. There is no way my parents would trust your kind. Your kind are filthy, only doing magic for those who pay you the most no matter the outcome.” I growled. My grandparents on my father’s side were killed by a witch that was paid to clear a patch of forest. She did nothing but smile at me. I growled again “Get the hell out of here and stay away from me.” She still said nothing, just smiled. Then she walked over to me slowly and her hand reached for my face. Witches were no good, I didn’t want her touching me. I thought to myself and then as soon as her hand reached my cheek. I bit her hard and drew blood.

I heard the door open and my parents gasped. “Layla what on earth are you doing?! She is here to help you.” My mother cried out. My father growled at me. “Layla Hawkins you release her right this minute!!” Normally I did what my parents say, but they were defending a witch! My fangs still latched into her hand. I looked up at her face with my eyes. I was shocked as all hell. She was looking back at me. Her eyes remained gentle, no anger in them, and she still had a smile on her face. “There, there little one. I’m not going to harm you or anyone in this pack.” I saw her eyes glaze over. Was she mind linking someone? Did she have a mate in the pack? Then the door opened again and it was one of my father’s best friends, William Darkwood.

I was so shocked that I released her hand. She slowly took it away. Still bleeding badly, she turned and said “This is William. He is my little sister’s mate. He brought my sister and I here from the mountains. The alpha has accepted us into the pack.” she was calm and her heart rate stayed the same. I could feel she wasn’t lying, but how could she be trusted. She was a witch. I looked at William and he smiled at me and said “I know a lot of pack members are going to take time to adjust to there being two witches in the pack, but they mean you know harm. They are good people. Sabrina here is good with medical herbs and remedies.” he said patting her on the head like she was a small child.

She glared at him and gently swatted his hand away from her head. “I am older than you mister, not a child.” she said. William chuckled and started patting her head again, “Oh yea? Then why are you so short there grandma?” His laughter boomed throughout the room with his joke, next thing I know she snapped her fingers and a small wash bin landed right on William’s head. “Son of a bitch!! Sabrina!?” he roared.

Father and mother started laughing after he got hit, even I giggled at it. “That should teach you some respect.” she snapped at William. Then it hit me. Why didn’t she do that to me? I bit her and was rude to her, yet she only smiled at me. William teased her and she used her magic to hit him. She turned back to me and she still had that same gentle smile as before. “Why?” I whispered. She tilted her head in confusion. “Why what dear?” she asked me. I looked at her and asked her “Why didn’t you hit me like you did him? I bit you. I was rude to you.” I could feel the tears forming in my eyes.

She came to me again and with her non-bloody hand she stroked my hair. “One: you are only a child, compared to that doofus of a man. Two: you were also told that if something isn’t done by your 18th birthday, your first shift would kill you. It is normal to be mad at not only the world, but creatures or people that you don’t trust.” I felt ashamed of how I treated her. “I’m sorry. I’m so so sorry.” I whimpered

From then on Sabrina would visit me everyday. She would take blood samples to test with different treatments that she was working on. After a month she introduced me to her younger sister, Tasha. They almost looked alike except Tasha had red hair and Sabrina had blue. After a year of Sabrina trying different herbal treatments to heal my bones I was starting to lose hope. One day while my mom and dad were visiting me in my hospital room, Sabrina burst through the door. “Sabrina?! What's wrong?” my mom asked as Sabrina was trying to catch her breath.

After a minute to catch her breath, she turned to us and smiled wide. “I found a way!!” She said excitedly. My parents rose to their feet. “Did my research and based on the family tree info you gave me, Layla’s bones are only weak because she was born with human bones. Her wolf blood and body is too much for the human bones to support.” Sabrina said. How could I have been born with human bones? My parents were both wolves. “How can that be true? Both of my parents are wolves.” I said out loud.

Mom shook her head. “No sweetie I was human. Your father changed me after we got married.” I was shocked. I knew some wolves had human mates. “I didn’t know humans could become wolves.” I said. “Only the wolf paired with the human has a chance to turn their human mate into a wolf, but it can be pretty risky. If their mate doesn't fully trust in their bond, then the wolf DNA won't accept the change and it will tear their mate apart from the inside." dad explained. Sabrina nodded. "You must have been pregnant before the change happened, so when Layla was developing she had both human and wolf DNA that split." Sabrina said. "How can we fix that?" mom asked.

Sabrina looked at me straight in the eye. "There are two ways, The first one would be the most painful and that would be to take your father's wolf DNA and inject it right into all of your bones at once, but you would have the same chance of survival as your mother did when she was turned." She paused so I could absorb the information of the first option. "Ok, and the other choice?" I asked her. She brought out a small beaker with a lavender colored liquid from her satchel she always carried. "This is an elixir I made using herbs from the forest. We would mix your fathers wolf DNA in this and I would infuse it with my witch's essence. Then you would drink it. It would give you a better chance of survival, but there may be some side effects to it. it will coat your bones from the inside, making them just as strong as they need to be." Sabrina said.

My parents looked at me. It was my choice. "I trust you Sabrina. I will take the potion." I said. Sabrina nodded and with a special tool she extracted my dad's wolf DNA and mixed it in with the potion. The mixture changes color. It went from a lavender purple to a lite green. Sabrina then pulled a small vial out of her satchel and added it to the potion. It changed colors again. It went from the lite green to pure white. "Now once you drink this you may be asleep for a while. Your body will be resting while the potion does its job on your bones." Sabrina said, I nodded and took the beaker from her. I looked around the room. "Sabrina, thank you for doing this for me." I said with a smile then I threw my head back and drank the potion in one go.

~End of Flashback~

Jess's Pov

"Everything went black after I drunk the potion, the next time I woke up. My parents told me that 2 months had gone by." Layla said. I could feel my eyes widen with surprise. "The potion put you in a 2 month coma?" I asked. She smiled and nodded. "But during the 2 months I was asleep, the potion did what it needed to do. By the time I woke up I could already stand on my own." she beamed at the memory. "Though the first thing she did was try to walk and she fell flat on her face." I heard a voice come from behind us. Sabrina had walked in.

"Good morning Angel." I smiled at her. She gave me a groggy smile then waved to me as she yawned. Layla laughed and continued. "Yeah, I fell a few times, it had been so long since I could walk I was too excited." she said. I nodded then I realized something. "Layla you said you had dark brown hair before, your hair is snow white now. How?" I asked.

"Sabrina did say there would be side effects. The potion had brought out my wolf soul a lot sooner. I still couldn't shift until I was of age, but it changed my hair from brown to white and my eyes from brown to blue, just like my wolf's fur and eyes." She said. I nod "So what is it that makes you so strong?" I asked next. "The potion coated her bones and they became really strong that the extra coating soaked into her muscles. Give her incredible strength even for a wolf." Sabrina answered "Cool." I said.

Layla changed the subject back to us giving her grandkids and Hero looked at his parents and changed the subject again. "Dud you know that Nathan and Brandon found their mates while we were there?"

Training begins

Chapter 43 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Layla jumped in her seat excited. "Oh who are they?" Rico chimed in again trying to get back to our original topic. "My lady, I will tell you if you could help us with some duties that need to be taken care of first." Suddenly it was like Layla had switch mode in the middle of the conversation. "Oh I'm sorry, of course. What were you guys talking about before I entered the dining room and got a bit too excited?" Rico smiled. "I was just telling our alphas and our luna that we should hold her Luna Ceremony as soon as we can. That way she will be inducted into the pack and can mind link other pack members. With William in the wind she will need a way to call for help when she is alone. We don't want to crowd our luna with bodyguards all the time because that could stunt her training with her powers."

I tilted my head in confusion. "How would it affect my powers Rico?" I asked. "If you are under constant watch, even if you agree it is for your safety, the pressure will get to you sooner or later, and start causing strain of your gifts. Gifts like yours, Sasha's, and mine are driven by our emotions. Even if you could lie about how you're feeling, your powers will respond to what is truly inside." I nod my head, then Felix and Layla jump in. "We will handle all the preparations for the Luna Ceremony for Jessabelle. That way she can concentrate on her training and settling in her new home." Felix said. Layla nodded. They both smiled kindly at me. I smiled brightly and then I heard Rico laughing. I looked over to him and I realized that the fruit in the bowl down the table was floating and spinning around.

I started to laugh myself. "Let's try something. Lady Jessabelle, try making the fruit make a shape in the air." Rico said. I was happy to try, but a bit nervous to have an addutance. 'Midnight how would I get the fruit to go where I want it to?' 'Try thinking about the shape first and where each piece of fruit would go.' she said. Alright. I thought of a simple circle, and the fruit did what I wanted. It floated and made a circle. "Great job for a first go. Your gifts must be really strong if they are not even fully awake yet." Rico said.

"They are quite strong indeed." I hear a voice from behind. I jumped a bit and lost my concentration on the fruit. It all tumbled and fell on the table. I turned my head and saw Angel and Sasha come into the dining room with Nathan and Brandon in tow. "You did that on purpose Angel. I was getting good." I faked anger at her and she smirked in return. "Can't have you getting all too cocky now can we. I think your head is big enough." she countered. Then we both burst out laughing. Sasha stood at the end of the table far away from us. “Now Jess, try using your powers to throw an apple at me.” She said with her arms crossed in front of her.

I focused on a red apple right in front of me. I pictured it lifting up and I snapped my head in Sasha’s direction. I guess I should have just lightly tossed my head towards Sasha, because when I snapped my head the apple zoomed across the room and almost nailed her in the face. Thankfully Sasha dogged it by leaning to the side and the apple became applesauce on the wall. Everyone in the room started laughing their asses off, even Sasha. “Oops. Sorry Sasha.” I said between giggles.

“Hahaha, All good girl. At least we know you got some power in it. Now we know you need control.” She said with a smile. “If she already has enough power to throw an apple like that, we need to see what is the heaviest thing she can lift with her powers.” Rico said. I nodded and looked at Nathan and Brandon sitting in their seats. I close my eyes and picture the two of them lifting up like I did with the fruit. “Whoa!” “Hey!” I heard them shout. I opened my eyes to look at them and I got them high above the table.

Everyone was trying not to laugh, so I didn’t accidentally drop them. “Luna, I understand you need practice, but could you please not use us as guinea pigs. I don’t like the whole ‘hocus pocus’ thing.” Nathan said. I nodded and slowly lowered just my eyes. Then Nathan and Brandon were back on the ground. Sasha couldn’t help by busting out with a loud laugh as they got their bearings again. “Not funny Sasha. That shit felt weird as all hell.” Brandon glared at her. Angel then snapped her fingers and cleaned up the room.

“Neat trick Angel.” She smiled and sat down next to Brandon. Sasha then came over and sat down next to Nathan. Layla raised her eyebrows and looked between the four of them. “OH MY GODDESS!! Nathan and Sasha are matched as well as Brandon and Sabrina!?!?!?” Rico and I grinned at each other and nodded towards Layla. She went on, another girly rampaged about the other newly mated pairs while I finished my breakfast with my alphas.

After breakfast and we finally got away from Layla wanting all the dirty details about our night. Sasha and Rico lead me to the pack house training grounds out back. “These are the training grounds the triplets made for themselves. They were not willing to have pack members see their defects as warriors or as alphas.” Sasha said, as she walked over to a cage and grabbed a wooden sword. Rico pulled out a big tote of tennis balls.

“So for control, we are going to have you use your powers to throw these tennis balls at Sasha, she in turn will use her wooden sword to hit them back towards your side.” Sasha nodded and started twirling the sword in her hand. Rico continued his explanation of the training drill. “The goal is for you to aim at her. She is strong and can take it. If the balls fly past her then you are putting too much power into it. If they don’t make it across the net towards her you are not putting enough power into it.”

Ah I see now. I needed to control and get the balls to go where I wanted them in one motion, and without snapping my body like I did in the dining room. I need to see Sasha as an enemy for now and aim right at her. I nod towards them and Rico steps back. ‘Ready Midnight?’ I felt her presence increase. It felt like we were standing side by side like in that dream world. ‘I am ready, little one. Let us see how fast we can control these gifts mother has given us.’ she purred with excitement. Midnight was one to always like a challenge, and I was no different. We truly were a perfect pair.

Sasha smirked at me. “I see already I shouldn’t hold back.” Rico nodded. “What do you mean?” I asked looking between them. “Midnight has made her presence known. We can feel her aura around you as if you shifted. Plus your mark around your eye is glowing. I see that the connection between you two.” Sasha said, “That is why your powers are already so strong, even though they had just been awakened. As your birthday closes in, the stronger they will be. Both you and Midnight must keep this kind of bond to keep your powers from losing control.” Rico added.

I nodded then returned my attention back to my task. I felt the balls float around me like the fruit did this morning. ‘Let’s start off easy, little one. One ball at a time. We need to control the speed and power behind one before we divide it up between multiples.’ Midnight said through our link. Alright, since it is the first time doing this. I used my hand and gently waved it towards Sasha. A ball went, but it hit the net. I eyed the next ball and flicked my hand in Sasha’s direction. It zoomed towards her and she used the sword to deflect it, but it remained on her side of the court. “Close, but that one had a bit too much power. Going against an enemy would be ok with that, but if you were to send something to a friend it could make things worse. Keep trying Jess, Midnight.” Sasha said.

It was like that for a good two hours, by lunch time I was too exhausted to move, but really hungry at the same time. Sasha was giving me a piggyback ride to the dining room to refuel. “Is it normal for me to be this hungry? I feel like I haven’t eaten in days.” Rico chuckled before he answered me, “Yes. It is very common for special wolves to have enormous appetites because of all the energy they use up when using their gifts. The more you use your gifts, the more energy you use. So the hungrier you get when you have a break.”

“Have you ever had to use your gift of honesty on someone and then felt the munchies afterward?” Sasha asked. “Now that I think of it. I did, but it was always so light I never thought of it.” “Right, but now you are using the aura and energy around you to lift and move things in the air, that can take a lot for now. Once you learn control it will become a bit easier.” she said. Rico opened the dining room doors and once my alphas saw me on Sasha’s back they rushed over with werewolf speed and bombarded us with questions.

Too many questions that Sasha and I couldn’t even speak. It was starting to make my head spin more. Even Midnight was whimpering at how much our head was hurting. I growled loudly at them. They immediately shut their mouths. I give them all a deadpan glare and start talking. “Now that I can actually get a word in. 1) I am fine, just a bit tired from training with new powers. Something that is normal for those with common sense. 2) I have a headache and your loud mouths are not helping what so ever. 3) I am starving so if you don’t shut your mouths and go back to the table and let me eat and nurse my headache before I go back to my afternoon training. You three will be sleeping in your own rooms by yourselves.”

They looked stund, then Sasha and Layla started laughing like there was no tomorrow. Soon everyone joined in laughing at the triplet's expressions. Sasha walked past them and helped me into an empty chair. Rico had already piled a plate high with food for me and placed it in front of me. The triplet's went back to their chairs a bit embarrassed to be chewed out like pups. Layla brought a glass of fizzling liquid. "Here sweetie. This will help with the headache. It worked for me when I had three crying boys at night." She smiled. I took the glass and downed the whole thing.

"Blegh!" It was bitter. She giggled as I looked at the glass and stuck out my tongue. "Sorry I should have warned you it was bitter, but I wanted you to drink it and feel better." She was right. Even though it was bitter as hell, it did get rid of my headache like it was never there. "What was that stuff?" Layla smiled. "It is an old medical remedy that Sabrina wrote down for my parents. Since the other potion gave me my wolf early, I had headaches of my own."

"Ah no wonder the pain went away quickly. Nice one Angel, but next time make some medicine that doesn't taste like ass." Sabrina lowered her cup and smirked at me "Well I for one don't even want to know what kind of ass you've been eating that would taste as bitter as that medicine." She countered. Boy the redness on the triplets and me could stop traffic in its tracks.

After lunch and teasing each other left and right. I got up and stretched for more control training. The triplets came up to me. "You really aren't going to make us sleep in a room without you right?" Zero said with a bit of a pout. I smiled "No it was mostly so I could get by and eat. Plus my head was pounding. I love you all, but I got to go back to training and you have your own work to do." I said, then I gave each one a kiss. "I will see you after my training"

(Note: I'm so sorry for only one episode this week. Things just got busy and away from me. I hope to make it up with some more next week. Thank you for reading my book and I hope you all are enjoying it.)

An Unknown Ally

Chapter 44 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Shianna's POV

"DAMN IT ALL!! Those bastard muts took her to their pack so soon?" alpha William roared. Luna Tasha came beside him. "Don't worry my love. We will find her just like we did when she left Red Moon. Shianna will find her. She is our best tracker." I internally roll my eyes and so does my wolf, Silver. 'Of course our so called mother would pin the responsibility of finding that girl again on us. She would never want to have father's rage aimed at her.' Silver sarcastically said in my mind. I wanted to smirk and laugh, but if that happened alpha William would hit me again. It was bad enough that the alpha, my so called father, gave me a scar on my face causing my face to look ugly and distorted, back when I was 16. The scar goes across my face. From my right temple to the left side of my chin. All because I didn't want to kill anyone at the one of the packs he found a gifted wolf from. Since it happened before I got my wolf, Silver couldn't heal it.

It was before we found this girl at Red Moon. She is the only one that has really stuck in my mind. I caused her such pain. I didn't know that wolf was the Luna, but William would have killed me if I didn't take her out. 'Silver? Do you think Jessabelle could free us from William and Trisha? Parents or not I can't live like this anymore. I would rather be alone than having to fear for my life.' 'I honestly don't know Shy. We did cause her pain, and commit a serious crime by killing a Luna. Maybe since they want us to find her, we should speak to her.' 'Good plan.' I bow my head and wait for William to either give me the order to find her or wait for him to hit me some more.

"It would be an honor to find this she wolf again for you alpha. I do have both strengths of you and the Luna running through me. It should be simple to find the Raven Moon pack." I was half witch, half wolf. Even though Tasha tries to get me to use that stupid book she stole from her elder sister. I want nothing to do with blood magic. Each time Tasha uses that book to take a gifted wolf's life and give it to William, they both become more and more delusional. These rouges only follow William out of fear.

My own witch gifts were the only thing I was thankful for from my mother, because it did make me the best tracker ever. All I need is something that belonged to that person and I can find them anywhere in the world. I can connect with a living being's soul. I can see into a person's heart and soul. If I was to describe my parent's souls. They are like living muck monsters. Their souls become tainter and tainter everytime they perform blood magic. When I looked at that one girl that William has been obsessed with for the last 10 years. Her soul was a special one. The perfect amount of yin and yang.

I felt she could free me from my life of hell with these monsters, but she may also just kill me. I'm the reason she was shunned and abused from her pack. I killed the Luna and she was blamed. I was pulled from my thoughts, by William's growl. "Shianna if you fail in finding her within the next few months, I will kill you. Daughter or not. I don't need my blood to fail. I need that bitch alive and here by her 24th birthday to extract her powers. Taking her true powers the day they awake makes them easier to take since she will have no control over them." he grinned.

This monster was getting very cocky for something that is beyond his expiration date. I bite my tongue. "Yes alpha. I will not fail. I will bring her here by her birthday." "I hope so. Otherwise you know what will happen." he growled out. I bowed my head deeper and then turned to leave. 'If only Aunt Sabrina survived the poison and explosion from the Nightmare Pack. I could be with her. Truly learn to use my witch powers to the fullest. I want to be like her.'

As soon as I was out of sight of William and Tasha, I pulled out an old locket I stole from my mother's room. She still has no idea I have it or even know about Aunt Sabrina. I opened the locket and it had an old picture of my parents smiling brightly with my aunt. I stare at the woman with sea blue hair. 'She would have been a great teacher for us.' Silver commented. I closed my locket and stripped off my clothes. I shift into Silver. Her fur is a beautiful silver. She also had one yellow eye and one silver eye. Just like what mother and father's eyes use to look like. I grabbed my clothes in my mouth and I ran off to Thunder Mountain. I need to find Jessabelle before William or Trisha does.

Since she left a lot of her belongings at Red Moon it was easy to track her down to the Thunder Mountain pack, but I have no idea where the Raven Moon pack is. Usually a pack is somewhat close to a human town, but it is not like they broadcast where the pack land territory lines start. Getting caught was not something I could do right now. 'Especially after Red Moon.' Silver said through our link. 'I know. After she help us bring William and Trisha down for good, I would happily accept any punishment Jessabelle has for me.' I made her suffer for so long, just because I was too scared of William's wrath at the time.

Once I made it to the Thunder Mountain pack house. I shifted back to my human form and dressed myself. I chanted a spell that hides my scent for a couple hours. I wish I knew any invisibility spells, but with my lack of training, and concealing my own gifts from the alpha and luna. Yeah no luck with learning a lot of simple magic. Even for someone my age.

I lightened my breathing so those with good hearing, even for a werewolf, wouldn't hear my heart. I snuck into the hallway window that was left open. I sniffed around. I only knew Jessabelle's scent mainly because she has been the only one I was tracking the last 10 years.

I opened a door to some kind of office. No one was in here thank the goddess. I closed the door quietly and started looking around. Something to give me an idea of which way Raven Moon was from here. While looking I thought back to when I first saw Jessabelle.

~Flashback~ 10 years ago

After attacking Red Moon to find a new gifted wolf for father. I went to my room to be alone. I punched the wall and put a hole in it. 'Damn it all. That poor little girl.' After we pulled back I saw what that alpha did to her. That wolf I killed was the Luna, and they blamed her. 'Shit, shit, shit. How could this have happened. She looked younger than I did when father gave me this scar.' I shout in my mind to Silver. I was 21. That girl looked about 12 to 14. She couldn't even shift. I smelled no wolf on her.

I am broken from my thoughts as my mother comes bursting into my room. "Well done Shianna. You made the alpha proud. Not only did we find a very special gifted wolf, but you made our job easier. That little bitch was blamed for the death of the Luna. It will be far easier to take her powers when her wolf becomes farel. Even though we have to wait until she is 24 for the real fruit to be ripe for picking." She said, with a sickening smile. She looked proud of me for once, I was stunned.

'No Shy! William and Tasha have done this long enough! We can't let them have that girl.' Silver growls in my mind. 'I agree, but since they have to wait until she is 24, that gives us at least 10 years to figure out how to help her.' I have pretended to be loyal to my parents in hope for their love and affections, but the blood magic they used has stripped them of all emotions. They can't feel love or kindness, not even to their own child. They need peace, but how was I going to give them that? I just didn't know.

I plastered a fake smile. "I'm glad we found a strong one Luna. I will keep tabs on her so we can pick her at the right time." I felt sick to my stomach. If either found out my true intentions were to save this girl from them, they wouldn't hesitate to kill me. I mean I had to call them luna and alpha. Last time I called them mother and father was when father gave me this scar on my face. "Yes, see that her pack doesn't kill her. We need her alive until her powers come in." I nodded and she left.

~End of Flashback~

A Vow to protect

Chapter 45 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

I shook my head. 'No, we either save Jessabelle or die. No more. William and Tasha have done enough damage to the people they encounter.' I told Silver. I heard voices coming closer to the study. Damn it! I quickly place the papers I was looking into down and look for a place to hide. There was a couch that was big enough for me to hide under.

As soon as I slid under the couch, the door opened. "So we know that they need her before her powers fully become awake, how are we going to find them?" I heard a man say. I saw three sets of feet from under the couch. It must be the alpha meeting with his beta and gamma. "Ryan is right. Was it really safe for Jess to go to Raven Moon so soon? I mean that is 3 hours away from here Raphael." Another voice said. "I understand your guy's concern, but she is with her mates and the protectors that the Moon Goddess sent her way." A deeper voice said.

'Ok if Raven Moon is 3 hours away from this pack, then that narrows our search.' Silver said. 'Yea, we just need to see if they say anything more.' I listen to their conversation closer. "Plus it is only 3 hours by car. I am sure if something were to happen sooner one of the triplets would call us. Our wolves run faster than cars on the highway." the deep voice said. "Not only that, but Sabrina did give us some of those summoning sticks. If we bring her here with that, she could teleport us to Raven Moon with her magic." the 2nd voice said.

Sabrina? Magic? Was it possible that my aunt was still alive? "Yea plus with Sabrina with Jess right now, i guess she is pretty safe from William. She also is starting her training." The first voice said. "Alright, now we need to up the training of our own warriors. Just because William and Tasha are using magic to try and take Jess doesn't mean that we can't help out with physical strength." The other two agreed, then they spent the next 20 minutes talking about training. They grabbed some papers and left.

I stayed for about 10 minutes to make sure no one was coming back into the office. 'So they know about William. I wonder if this Sabrina girl with magic was actually my aunt. It would be a pretty small world if that were the case. I went back to shuffling through papers and found what looked like to be a treaty. So Thunder Mountain and Raven Moon are in a formal alliance. I kept reading. The territory borders were written on the map part of the folder. That must be so they know where their lands begin and end. I smiled. Now I knew where I was going.

I use the copier in the office to make a copy of the map. Since I was a rouge, it was not like I had a cellphone or anything. I put everything back and jumped out the window and booked it to the tree line. While glancing at the map every so often I was shifting between my wolf and human forms often to make sure I was going the right way. I will fulfill my promise I made to the Moon Goddess, Isabella, and my true father. Ever since I had that dream.

-Dream-

I felt like I was floating in the air. Then I heard someone speak to me. “Shianna, my sweet child. I wish I could have saved you from your mother’s choice all those years ago.” I snapped my eyes open. “Who are you?!” I yelled. Silver began to purr. “Silver? You never purr.” “Mother is finally here to guide us.” Mother? Then I saw a beautiful woman with long silver hair, pale blue eyes, and her skin seems to glow from the light of the moon. “Moon Goddess?!” She smiled. “That is one of many names I go by. I have important information for you and Silver, but I also have a bit of a gift.”

I finally felt like my feet were back on solid ground. The Moon Goddess stepped to the side and I saw a huge silver gray wolf coming towards me. He became clearer to see with every step he took towards me. “Hello my sweet daughter. I feel so complete to finally see you.” He said to me. Daughter?! “What do you mean daughter? Alpha William gets upset when I used to call him father, and you’re not his wolf.” The wolf growled at the name. “William is not the human he used to be. I am Archer. I was William’s original wolf. The wolf he has now is just a shell of a wolf that Tasha made with the blood magic.”

“Oh so that is why he looks nothing like you.” William’s wolf now was a brownish red wolf, but I could never speak to that wolf. Archer nodded. “I am so sorry my little pup.” He rubbed his muzzle against my face and licked me. I giggled. I never knew wolf kisses were so ticklish. He purred. “But if you are William’s wolf? What are you doing with the Moon Goddess.” The Moon Goddess stepped in and said “I will explain, but you should sit.” Archer sat down and I sat next to him. I leaned my head on his side. He purred more and placed his tail over me as if to wrap me in a hug.

The Moon Goddess explained to me how my father, William, had originally died in his old pack. How mother let her grief and sorrow consume her and she used forbidden blood magic to bring him back to life, but doing so stripped William of his original wolf, Archer, and forced them both to live cursed lives. “Now to sustain his life as it is now, they are stealing the lives and gifts from my other children. Each time they steal a life, the more they corrupt their souls. Please save them from themselves.” She asked of me.

“How? I can’t even stand up to them myself. I have kept my own gifts hidden just so they wouldn’t kill me.” I started to cry. “Jessabelle will help set them both free, but she will need your help as well.” She said. Jessabelle? “She wouldn’t help me. I killed her luna and she got punished for it. She would kill me if we ever met.” “That is not true.” I heard a new female voice. I snapped my head to it's direction. There was a woman with kind eyes, but blood on her neck.

"Hello dear. My name is Isabella. I am the luna you killed that day." I felt the life drain from my body. "I'm sorry, I'm so so sorry. I-" I started to cry. Isabella and Archer both came closer to me and hugged me. "Oh dear. I am not mad. I was informed about your life and I watched over both you and Jessabelle. I forgive you, but you promise me you will forgive yourself, help save Jessabelle, and set your parents free from this life." I nodded while sobbing. "I promise. I vowed to myself I would find a way to save her when Tasha told me that she was the next target. I have until she is 24 to find a way." They nod.

-End of Dream-

I made it to the human town close to their pack house according to the map. I had to be careful. Most wolves would kill rogues on site, but I needed to get to Jessabelle. She would be the only one that could tell I wasn't lying when I explained myself. If I had her backing up my story, since she was their luna, then they would listen to me. Now I just got to figure out how I was going to get to her.

Mediation to Invatation

Chapter 46 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Jess's POV

Sasha met me by the garden. "Where's Rico? Why are we in the garden?" I asked as she led me to the pond. "Rico is tending to some Beta business. We are going to be doing meditation. Your mind needs to be strong as well. If not your powers could consume you." Oh yea. Rico mentioned something about meditation. "Ok so how would I go about this. I have never meditated before." "Trust me it was hard for me in the beginning too. Basically you sit and connect your mind to the energy around you." She said as she showed me how she sits. Sasha was sitting crossed legs by the pond. Her arms were sitting in her lap. I miciced her as I sat down next to her. "Now all you do is close your eyes and feel the energy of everything around you. The water, the air, the birds. Let the energy connect with yours and allow it to move through your body like a gentle river."

I closed my eyes. I could hear everything, but I wasn't feeling anything. I opened my eyes and peeked over at Sasha next to me. She was breathing very quietly. She hardly moved, that she could be mistaken for dead. I tried again, closing my eyes. I felt Midnight begin to stur. 'Midnight what is wrong?' 'Jess just calm down and try again. This is our first time trying. Don't get stressed.' she said. 'Yeah your right. I guess the thought of only having 3 months just got to me a bit. Let's try again.' I took a deep breath in through my nose and out through my mouth. Claiming myself and feeling the energy around me.

I heard a voice in my mind. 'Jessabelle?' It was a girl's voice, but one I didn't recognize. 'Who are you?' I asked. 'Please I mean no harm. I wish to meet you in person. I will explain everything then.' she said. Ok vague, but Midnight wasn't growling or anything and I could hear the fear in her voice. 'Fine where do you want to meet?' I asked. 'I am in the woods, south of town. I swear I mean no harm and I would like to talk to you alone first.' I was curious, but with William anywhere. I had to be careful.

'Alright I will meet you in 30 minutes.' I opened my eyes and looked towards Sasha. Knowing her she would follow me even if she trusted me. It looked like she was still in deep meditation. I quickly ran towards the woods. "Jess where are you going?" Sasha cried out. I didn't answer, just ran. Wolf speed comes in handy, but it is more effective in wolf form. After I got far enough away from Sasha and the pack house I stripped and sifted. I ran towards the south woods of the town we passed through last night.

Once we got there Midnight stopped dead in her tracks and sat down. 'Midnight?' 'Our guest is here.' she replied and turned her head to the right. Walking from behind a tree was a young woman, she looked a few years older than me. She also had a huge scar across her face, but was still beautiful with her rosy pink hair. Midnight wanted me to shift into human form. She felt no threat from this woman. Neither did I, so I shifted back and dressed myself.

"Who are you and how were you able to talk to me without a mindlink?" I asked. She smiled and sat down on a big rock beside her. "My name is Shianna. I am half witch, half wolf. As a witch, as long as I am close enough to my target, I can use my witch essence to speak to them through the energy of nature. It worked better since I caught you in the middle of meditating." I nod. "Ok and what was so important that you needed to speak with me in person, and alone?" She looked down. "I need your help in more ways than one. First I need you and your pack to know I mean you no harm whatsoever. They would believe you more than a rouge."

Ok that was ture. Most pack warriors are trained to kill any rouges caught in the pack lands. So far she is telling the truth. "Ok and what about the no harm thing?" Why would she be so big on reminding me over and over that she would not hurt me? "My full name is Shianna Darkwood. The man that is hunting you for your powers is my father, William Darkwood."

Sasha's POV

What in the hell?! Jess knows that she can't mind link anyone in the pack yet. 'Ruby, we got to find her.' I shifted and started sniffing for her. 'It will be a little longer than normal. I have not been around Jess and Midnight long enough to recognize their scent right away.' Shit! I should wait until I find her. I don't need the triplets going wild because she took off somewhere. Oh Jess, if you ditched training for something stupid, you are going to get an ass whooping.

Jess's POV

I stiffened at the name, and even if my mind was telling me that she is the daughter of the enemy, my heart and Midnight both said that she is of no threat to us. "William's daughter?! Why are you here? Be truthful I will be able to tell if you are lying to me." She gently smiled. "Oh I know, but I have nothing to hide from you. I need your help killing William and Tasha.” I was beyond stunned. Even if I hated my parents with my whole body and soul I would never wish someone to kill them. “Why do you want my help in killing your parents?”

She laughed at that. “Parents? That is a good joke. My real father died before I was born, and my mother was so consumed by her grief that she gave into dark forces. Those things in my parents bodies are nothing but corrupted souls of pain and suffering. William is the one that gave me this scar on my face. The only way I can bring them peace and let my true parents' souls freedom is if I kill them, but I am not strong enough on my own.”

“What about you killing Lady Isabella?” She was the one that killed her. I had to make sure she wasn't bloodthirsty like William. “I am truly sorry for that. I simply followed orders. If I ever disobeyed William I would get punishments like this scar. I swear I didn't know she was the luna, until I saw her mate yell at you. You have been in my mind since that day. I have racked my brains for the last 10 years trying to figure out how to save you from that monster.” She started to cry. She was filled with such pain, regret, and most of a feeling useless. She was telling the truth. I could see no evil in her eyes. She may have been born into evil, but she was conceived out of true love.

“Alright, I will get you to my alphas. No one will harm you. Follow me, before Sasha tells my mates I ditched training and ran off.” She looked confused. “I have triplets for mates and they are very very protective and possessive. If they find out I'm gone they will tear the pack lands up looking for me.” She nodded her head and mouthed an ‘Oh’. So we stripped and shifted. She followed close by me. Once we got to the pack house I saw Sasha running towards us. To say she looked pissed was an understatement. We shifted and dressed, then I caught her wrath.

“JESSABELLE!! Why would you run off like that, without saying a word, and now you came back with a rouge in tow?” Oh boy if Sasha only knew who this girl really was. “Sasha I know I shouldn't be running off like that, but this was something important. Lets go inside and get everyone together.” Sasha was still fuming, but complied. Boy everyone was in for a shock of who I brought home, especially Sabrina.

Small Family Reunion

Chapter 47 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Sabrina's POV

“I wonder what Jess did this time.” I said to Brandon while I finished cleaning up my potions. “I don't know, but Sasha said she just ran off earlier and came back with someone that had information for us. I'm sure it couldn't be that bad.” I smiled at him. Now I kind of understand what Tasha must have felt when she was with William. I don't know what I would do if I lost Brandon. Brandon must have picked up on my feelings and came up behind me. “Hey don't worry. I will always come back to you. Even if it is in a different life. I'm yours and your mine." I smiled and leaned my head onto him. "Come on. Let's go see this new guest."

As we walk to the office I take note that Brandon has made me feel more complete than I ever have in my life. We walk into the office to see Nathan, Sasha, Jess, and the triplets. Hero smirks at me as I can see the three of them are already wearing their names shirts, I had made them. I smiled back about to comment, when a soft voice called my attention. "Aunt Sabrina?"

Shianna's POV

Wow. This place was pretty cool. I felt like I could breathe better here than I ever could before. "Alright Jess, Everyone is in the main office. Except for Rico. He is on his way. He was in town so he will be here in about 15 minutes." the girl that met us at the front door said, I think her name was Sasha. I follow closely behind Jessabelle into a room full of other people. There were three men that looked exactly the same. Those must be her triplet mates.

Jessabelle went to them and gave each a kiss before she sat on one of their laps and Sasha went and sat next to a tall muscle man, with blonde hair, that draped his arm around her shoulders. They must be mates too. I never really understood this whole mate thing. How could people just fall in love with someone even if they just met. I never thought of mates, because I never knew if I would live or not. For someone like me, being my age and still only able to about 1/8 of my powers is pathetic.

Training would have helped me, but then William and Tasha would have found out about my gifts and stolen them from me. If they had my gift to see people's souls, they would be able to find gifted wolves while they were children. I rather be weak myself and protect those they could have harmed. Instead of trying to get stronger myself to protect myself. I leaned against the back wall when the doors opened. Another tall man with black hair walks in with a woman with sea blue hair.

"Aunt Sabrina?" I saw her stiffen and everyone else went silent. She slowly turned toward me. Her bright yellow eyes roamed over every inch of me. I couldn't hold back. I ran toward her and gripped her in a huge hug and started crying in her neck. "I thought you were dead. I am so happy to finally meet you" I said in between my tears. Then I heard Jessabelle's voice cut through the room. "Angel, meet your niece. Shianna Darkwood." Before anything else I heard a deep growl and felt a hand on my throat, pinning me to the wall.

"WHAT THE HELL ARE YOU DOING HERE!?" the man with the black hair growled. He stood between me and Aunt Sabrina. Just as fast as this man had grabbed me, he was pulled off me. I coughed a bit as I fell to the floor to catch my breath. When I looked up Jessabelle was between me and everyone else. She used her powers to pull him off of me. "Brandon you need to calm down. She is with me and is not to be harmed in any way." She laced her voice with full authority, but it wasn't enough to simmer him down. He growled deeper looking right at me.

Jessabelle turned her head towards her mates and one that had Zero written on his shirt bellowed out "BANDON BLACK CALM DOWN!!!" his alpha voice shook the room and I bared my neck in submission. Then a hand was held out to me. I looked up and it was another one of Jessabelle's mates, but his shirt read Hero. I took his hand and he helped me up. I looked over and Aunt Sabrina was next to the man, Brandon, that grabbed me. I focused on their souls and gasped. "You and he are mates?!" Jessabelle snapped her head towards me. "Who did you know?" she asked.

I looked down a bit. "My gift is I can see the souls of those around me, I can tell when someone is mated to someone else because in my eyes their souls would merge into the same color once the mate bond hits all parties involved." They just stared at me, so I continued. "I can also tell if a wolf is gifted, even if they are not of age. Their souls are usually stronger than a normal wolf's, but I don't know what kind of gifts they have." I saw the other male next to Sasha stiffen. "No I mean no harm to your mate, nor Jessabelle. I came here to ask for your help in killing William and Tasha."

Aunt Sabrina turned towards me. "Are you their child?" I looked down and took a deep breath before I looked up toward her. "Yes I am. Like Jessabelle said. My name is Shianna Darkwood, but the William and Tasha I was born too are nothing more than empty shells. William gave me this scar on my face." Aunt Sabrina stood and walked over to me, much to her mate's dislike. She looked me over with sadness and happiness mixed into her eyes.

I looked down to her neck and my eyes widened. The locket she wore was the same one I stole from Tasha. I pulled it out from under my shirt and it matched hers perfectly. She was even more shocked when she saw the locket, then she pulled me into a tight, tight hug. "You really are their daughter." I was confused. "Um yes, but I have no reason to lie, plus I can't lie in front of Jessabelle."

I heard her chuckle a bit. "Oh I know, but you having Tasha's locket from when we were all together is more than enough proof for me. It is a special locket. Only those in our blood line, Tasha's and mine, can wear these lockets. There is a powerful spell that our mother put on them to protect us from evil witches that wanted to kill us when we were children" Wait protect from evil witches. "That explains a lot. I stole this from Tasha. She no longer wore it, but it helped me hide my gift from her tracking spells. At first I just thought I learned to suppress it with my lack of training, but I guess the locket helped more." I said amazed.

"Lack of training?!" Aunt Sabrina shouted. "Oh honey now that you are here, you will be training with me. A witch's power is like a ticking time bomb without proper training. We will talk more one on one after this meeting." I nodded and aunt Sabrina went back to her mate. He looked a bit guilty for jumping to the wrong conclusion. "So is this everyone Jessabelle?" I asked. She smiled kindly at me. "Almost, Rico is on the way, and you can call me Jess." I just met these people today and I already feel like I lived here longer than in the rouge pack William and Tasha put together.

All of a sudden a sweet calming smell hit my nose. I heard Jess giggle at me for sniffing around the air. It was a mix of hot cocoa and gingerbread. Silver perked up and purred and howled in excitement. "Silver? Is this what I think it is?" Before I got an answer the doors behind me opened and I spun around. I was met with a tall handsome man. He had dark short hair. Short enough that it stayed out of his face, but still long enough for me to run my fingers through.

He had about a foot on me in height, and his white tee-shirt did little to hide the toned muscles he had underneath. My heart was pounding in my chest. ‘Mate!’ Silver howled. I could see her wagging her tail and jumping for joy. Next thing I knew he yanked me towards him, placed his face in the crook of my neck and inhaled deeply. “Mine!” he purred.

Finally not Alone Anymore

Chapter 48 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Rico’s POV

After lunch I went to my office to start working on some pack work. Meditation was more of Sasha’s strongest than mine, so we decided that in the afternoons Sasha would meditate with Jess while I kept up with our beta duties. Once Jess got better at it, then we would switch on and off on who trains her and who does pack work. My wolf started pacing. ‘Sebastian? Is everything ok?’ I asked him through our link. ‘For now yes. I guess since our sisters have found their mates and so have our buddies, I just feel a bit left out.’

I understand how he feels. All my friends from my alphas to Nathan and Brandon have all found their mates in the last few days. Even little Sophie has found a mate. ‘But even though we feel lonely with no mate right now. With this William Darkwood hanging around it would be unsafe for not only a mate, but any pups we plan to have with Sasha, Jess, and I all being special wolves.’ Sebastian whimpered in agreement. I got up from my desk and grabbed my keys. Running some errands in town would both get stuff finished and keep my mind from wandering to where my mate could be.

A few hours later I get a call from Sasha. I picked it up.

R: Hey sis how is training going?

S: Well it was fine until Jess bolted, leaving me to hunt for her the last hour and now she is back with some rouge that has some information on William.

R: How do we know this rogue is not a threat to Jess or a spy.

S: Bro I already thought of that, but remember no one can lie to Jess, or lie while in her presence. So Jess wants us to have a meeting with this rogue. Who knows maybe we can get rid of William sooner with the information.

R: Yeah, your right. We need any leads we can get about William. The sooner we get rid of him the better. Then everyone can relax.

S: Yeah and my big brother can take some time off to go search for his own mate.

(I rolled my eyes. I know she is teasing me, but it still felt like someone was sprinkling some salt into my wounds of the heart.)

R: Yeah, yeah. Whatever. I will be back shortly. I am in town.

S: KK, meet us in the study.

Then she ended the call without another word. ‘Well let’s go see what new information this wolf has. I make my way back to the pack house. About 45 minutes later I am walking up the hallway to the study, when I smell something fresh and salty. Like wildflowers blooming by the ocean. Sebastian started purring and running around in my mind. ‘MATE!!’ he growled in a possessive way. I walked faster to the study and opened the door.

I saw a beautiful woman with a scar across her face, but even that looked stunning to me. She had long rosy pink hair and lite yellow eyes. Her eyes widened when she saw me enter the room. I wasted no time pulling her towards me. I buried my face in the crook of her neck and inhaled her lovely scent. It had both Sebastian and I purring with delight. “Mine!” I claimed.

She seemed relaxed, but then started to squirm. “Umm are you sure you want a mate like me?” I pulled back enough to look at her. “Why would you ask that? The Moon Goddess gave you to me and I would never let you go.” Her eyes widened even more. “Umm you might not say that in a moment.” She looked down and I was confused. “My name is Shianna Darkwood.” she said in a soft voice. I was shocked as all hell. My mate was the daughter of that bastard we are trying to kill? Was she going to hate me for helping kill her family in order to keep my luna safe?

Sasha pulled me from my thoughts. “She is here to help us kill William and Tasha.” Now I was even more shocked and looked back at her. “They need to find peace, but I am not strong enough to do it on my own. I was thinking of being a spy for the alphas and keep you all updated on his plans.” Sebastian purred in my mind and said ‘Our mate is not only strong minded, but pretty clever as well.’ I had to agree with him.

Nathan cocked his head. “How are you going to become a spy?” Sasha perked up like a light bulb went off in her head. “We could say that she either saved the luna in the woods or that Jess saved her and brought her to the pack to nurse her and inducted her into the pack.” Leo nodded and chimed in “Yes that would work. William would think that she is just using this as a ploy to keep an eye on Jess, when we are using it to keep an eye on him.” I gripped Shianna a bit tighter, to pull her closer to me. “Will you be alright with this kind of plan? I worry for your safety with that man.”

Shianna looked back at me. “As long as that man thinks I am still useful to him in any way, he will keep me alive. This little ruse would keep me off his victim list for at least 3 months since he needs someone to keep an eye on his next targets. The most he would do is sack me around or maybe give me another scar or two.” She sounded so broken and used to this treatment. That shit was going to change and after this bastard was back to being 6 feet under. I was going to spend the rest of my life showing Shianna all the love she will ever need.

The Vote

Chapter 49 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Jess's POV

“Shianna, are you sure this plan is going to work?” I asked, after hours of discussing. Shianna will report to William that I saved her and took her in our pack. She will convince him to think that he has a mole in our pack to report back to him, but she will actually be a mole for us to keep an eye on his plans. Shianna nodded at me. “It will work. If William thinks he has the upper hand he will wait for his fruit to ripen. Plus if he thinks that you staying with your mates until your birthday will buy us time.”

“What do you mean by that?” Sasha asked. Shianna continued. “William will do whatever he can for Jess to go feral and unstable. So if I convince him that letting her bond deeper with her mates, then breaking it just before her birthday will guarantee those results.” Leo wrapped his arms around me a bit tighter. “Our bond would never break.” Shianna nodded. “True, but remember we would just be putting on a show for him when the time comes. Deeping your bond now will only make her much stronger.”

“How would we plan the show? I am a terrible actress because of my gift of honesty. I wouldn't be able to fake hurt or anything to William.” Shianna placed her hand in her chin and thought for a moment. “We can see if a small dose of wolfsbane or something could weaken your gifts just enough for the act to be displayed, or aunt Sabrina and I together could make someone look just like Jess with an illusion spell. Which would you prefer?” I don't want anyone to get hurt with this plan, but we need it to be convincing.

“What if someone stages as me for when we ‘break the bond’ and the real me would go where William needs me at full strength?” I suggest. If I have my full powers at my control, then I can buy some more time before backup arrives. “What?! We can't let her go with him!” Zero growled out. “I agree, it sounds a bit too risky.” Hero piped in. I looked at Leo. I could see he was just as conflicted. “I think I can handle this. Remember, I am not a little girl. I am a strong warrior that is going to become your luna.” I said looking at each one of my mates. Hero and Zero still disagree, but then Leo spoke up.

“If you think it is something you can handle Princess, then I will support your plan 100%. Even if Fang and I don't like it, and we really don't like it, we can't smother you with our protection and dominance.” He paused and turned me around so I was straddling his lap. “As you said you are our luna and you have faced a lot on your own. This time you will not be completely alone. So to be fair with my brothers as well as you princess. Everyone in this room will get a vote on the plan.”

I was happy there was a chance, but this plan would mean that everyone would have to blindly trust Shianna and that is not an easy thing to do when a new wolf enters the pack, and it is even harder since she is the daughter of the man causing all this mess. "If that is the case, then I vote yes." Sasha piped up first. She smiled at me then turned to Shianna. "Anyone that can put up with that monster all their lives and still know what is right, is ok in my book. Plus I have to give my new sister-in-law some faith." She grinned, Shianna blushed a bit.

"Alright, that is 3 'yes' so far (Jess, Sasha, and Shianna) and 2 'no' (Zero and Hero) What do the rest of you say?" Leo asked. I guess he is going to vote last. As the eldest he could trump his brother's votes now, but he is far too respectful to do that. Nathan sighed "I will be honest I don't really trust you all that much Shianna, please don't find it offensive, but I trust my mate and my luna so if they go yes I will too." I think I earned his trust back from when we fought in the tournament. Brandon shook his head. "I'm sorry luna. I say no. It is a decent plan, but there are too many loopholes in it for me." I nodded.

The plan was not full proof, the biggest loophole would be if William would even believe that Shianna is his spy. "I say no as well. I would be completely uncomfortable with you having to return to that ass hole even for a moment." Rico said looking at Shianna. "I just finally found you, I don't want to lose you so quickly." Shianna looked more confused than anything. I think it is going to be a long while before she gets used to having someone love and cherish her the way she deserves. So that makes the vote a total of 4 to 4. We were tied with Sophie, Sabrina, and Leo left to vote.

I looked towards Sophie. She took a deep breath and shook her head. "I vote no as well." My stomach felt like it was in knots. I gripped Leo's pant leg being so nervous. He started rubbing my back. Sabrina looked deep in thought. "Before I vote. Shianna, are you 100% sure you can convince William and Tasha to buy this story of you spying on the pack from within?" Shianna looked up at Sabrina and slightly grinned. "I have fooled him for the last 10 years, 3 more months so be child's play." She looked even more determined to prove her worth to Sabrina than anyone else. "William is so far gone that he doesn't think reasonable anymore. His main obsession is keeping Jess close enough to take what he wants when the time comes."

Sabrina nodded and thought a minute longer, then she laughed to herself and smirked at us. "I will vote yes, but that will mean that you and Jess train your asses off to be ready for that bastard." Sasha and I giggled, while Shianna gave a curt warrior nod. "Girl we gotta get you to lighten up. You are not in the human's military." Sasha picked at her and again Shianna looked confused. "Umm ok?" she replied. I giggled because it was more of a question than a statement. Then I turned to Leo. He had the deciding vote. Leo looked deep into my eyes. "Princess can you promise me that you will come back to us no matter what?" he asked.

I didn't want to promise anything unless I was 100% sure I could keep it, but he needed some reassurance that I felt in myself that I could make it. I gently took his face in my hands and brought his forehead to mine. "I swear that I will never leave you or your brothers alone. You are my mates, my triplet alphas, and I love you all too much to lose you now that I finally have a family again." Leo smiled and nodded. "That means the plan goes. So Shianna, when are you going to leave to report to William?" Sasha asked. Shianna bowed to me and the triplets. "I will be leaving tonight, to make it seem like I am sneaking off to see him while keeping you all in the dark.”

“But doesn’t William know of Jess’s gift? That she can tell if you are lying.” Brandon asked. Shianna shook her head. “No, he only knows that she herself can not tell a lie. Since he has only watched from far distances, that is all he was able to pick up. Tasha on the other hand doesn’t get out often enough to see anything other than what William or I tell her.” I nod my head towards Shianna. “So what is the next step for now?” I ask her.

Shianna looked towards me and said “I will leave in the middle of the night tonight to inform him of our plan. Then he will most likely set certain times for me to ‘sneak out’ and report to him. Once that is set we can get a few warriors you all know and trust to ‘guard’ the perimeter on nights I have to go see William to keep the ruse up.” Hero tilted his head to the side. “Why would we need to set certain guards there?” Shianna slightly bowed. This whole time she never once looked my alphas in the eyes when she addressed them.

“Only to keep appearances. William may go with my plan, but in the state he is in. He trusts no one but himself. Even Tasha is untrusted when he is not around and they are still connected through the mate bond. I wouldn’t be surprised if he has a few rouges watch me from the borders coming and going for reports.” My triplets seemed satisfied with that answer for now, but I know Zero and Hero were still pissed the votes didn’t go in their favor. “Alright, then we will meet again tomorrow once Shianna is back from William’s den. For now my brothers and I will place a temporary mark on you, Shianna, so you can cross our territory lines without getting killed by patrol.” Leo said.

Zero and Hero raised. Hero brought Shianna closer to the desk and Zero pulled out a gold and silver dagger. Instead of slicing open their palms like they would to induct someone into the pack, they only pricked their fingers and each dropped one drop of blood onto Shianna’s wrist. Leo then uses his finger to connect the blood into a triangle. The blood then shifted on its own into the form of a raven and turned black on her wrist.

“Wow I didn’t know you could do that.” I said amazed. Hero smiled and said “A temporary mark like this can only be made if the bond between multiple (twins/triplet) alphas is strong.” “If one of use thought we were above the other two just because of birth right or whatever then it wouldn’t work.” Zero added “And they all have to share the title of alpha. If Zero and Hero were made beta and gamma just because they are younger than me, then it would not have worked either.” Leo said.

“So this mark will let your patrol warriors know what exactly?” Shianna asked in confusion. “Since it is too risky to induct you into the pack fully, this is like a border pass. It will let them know that you are welcomed to come and go as you please.” Hero replied. Shianna nodded. “I will report back as soon as I return. Until then, I bid you farewell, Alphas and Luna.” She said with a deep bow. And turned and left the room, with Rico following close behind. The rest went on their way as well to finish up the rest of their day. Zero and Hero each gave me a quick kiss before returning to their own offices to finish up their own paperwork for the day.

Chapter 50 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Leo's POV

Once it was just Jess and me in the room, she spun around on my lap and straddled me. "Thank you again so much for keeping it to a fair vote, and trusting me enough to go through with this plan." she said with a smile. "I will always trust you princess, and so would my brothers. It is just in our nature to be over protective with you." I told her as I ran my fingers through her hair. "I know." she said as she snuggled into my chest. Having her close like this always makes Fang purr in content.

She lifted her head and kissed me. My hands immediately started to caress her body. I would never get tired of feeling her lean muscles underneath my touch. She broke the kiss and kissed along my jawline and neck. I softly growled in her ear. "Be careful my princess. Don't start things you can't finish." She shivered and I smelt her arousal fill my senses. I licked and gently bit my mark on her neck, and she let out a soft moan. Fuck, she was truly going to be the death of me with those sexy sounds she makes.

She then grind her hips against me, making me rock hard in seconds. I growled again and she then nipped down on where my neck met my shoulder. Fang and I both growled in approval and I gripped Jess closer to me. Feeling her sweet juices start to soak through my pant fabric. Jess then looked at me with dark black eyes, filled with passion and lust. She extended her canines and bit down onto my next neck. Marking me as hers. I roared with the pleasure of her marking me.

Once she let go of my neck and licked to seal her mark. Quick as a flash, I gripped Jess and set her on my desk. In my excitement I ripped off her pants and underwear. They were now just shredded fabric on the floor. "Leo!" she squealed. I looked down at her and grinned. "Aww don't get upset my princess. I can always buy you more clothes, even if it's just for me and my brothers to rip them off you." she shivered again and her arousal thickened in the room.

She purred as she tugged the front of my shirt and crashed her lips back against mine. I slid a hand down her perfectly flat stomach, one that will soon be round with our pups on day. I slid lower and caressed her soaking wet core. She gasped and I thrust my tongue into her mouth. I could never get enough of her taste. I slipped two fingers inside her while I used my free hand to work my belt and pants down myself. Freeing my thick cock, I pulled away from her so I could lined myself with her pussy.

She whimpered when I pulled away, but moaned loudly when I filled her in one quick thrust. Being balls deep in Jess was the most amazing feeling ever. The sound of our flesh slapping together mixed with her screaming my name filled the room. Her scent became intoxicating to me like a drug. "Leo, please more." she begged. I lifted her off the desk. She wrapped her arms around my neck and her legs around my waist. I grabbed her perfect round ass and started bouncing her up and down on my dick with inhuman speed and force. She cried in pleasure as I felt her clench down on me. I roared as she and I climaxed together. I gripped her tightly and kept my dick firmly inside her to make sure my seed stayed inside.

I wanted my seed to take root and her to be big and round with my pup. Breathy heavy I gently set her down and tugged my t-shirt off. Since I ripped her pants, I needed to cover her up before someone saw her. I pulled my huge shirt over her head. It went all the way to her thighs. “Now go get changed princess. I will see you at dinner.” I said as I kissed her lips. She smiled and dashed off. ‘She has us completely whipped, you know that right?’ Fang said in my head. ‘I wouldn’t have it any other way, dude.’
