Chapter 571 Trampled Dignity

+15 BONUS

After hearing Robert's words, Henry finally realized that he was just a nobody in Vadesia.

Robert was right. Why would he, a commoner from Diatorian, have any significance in Vadesia?

His existence was replaceable to Vadesia.

He had thought that he could be useful to Vadesia.

It was only now that he realized how wrong he had been. In fact, he couldn't have been more wrong.

"Alicia, come here and sit on my lap. Let's have a few drinks!" Robert said to Alicia gleefully.

"Did you hear that, Alicia? Come and drink with General Valez!" Grant said.

"I, Alicia Stewart, may not be someone noble and upright, but I would never drink with the enemy's general!" Alicia said with indignance.

"Alicia, you'd better do as I say, or I'll have to be forceful with you. You'll only suffer then!" Robert said with a hardened face. He was already feeling slightly irritated.

Did this woman not know who he was?

He was the Champion of Vadesia! How could this woman disregard his flattery and even want to reject him?

“Why don’t you just kill me? I’ll never give in to you!” Alicia said coldly.

When Grant saw that Robert was about to explode from Alicia’s stubbornness, he instantly raged, saying, “Damn it! Drag that bitch over and make her serve him!”

“Yes, sir!” Grant’s men dragged Alicia over to Robert.

“Let go of me, you bastards!” Alicia struggled as hard as she could but to no avail.

She was thrown into Robert’s embrace.

“Pour some drink for her as well. I’d like to hug her as we drink!” Robert smiled.

“Let me go, you asshole!” Alicia spat. She didn’t expect Robert to be this shameless!

“Post the video of Alicia drinking in my lap onto the internet. I want everyone to Robert said excitedly.

“Yes, sir!” the Vadesian men said as they took the portable camera out and recorded the scene.

Alicia was agitated. She wanted to fight back but found herself trapped in Robert’s tight embrace.

Robert looked at the camera and said loftily, "Caspian! You see this? Your wife's cousin is already in my arms!

"I'll capture your wife in three days. When that happens, both of them will be moaning under my crotch!

Hahaha!"

"Caspian, my good cousin-in-law! Please save me. I don't want to be humiliated!" Alicia cried out desperately at the video recorder.

She was confident that Robert would definitely send the video.

"Alicia, highly'd better save energy to scream on the bed later. You must think highly of your cousin-in-law. He won't be able to save you.

"You should just stay here with me and serve me well. I promise you'll be able to enjoy endless wealth,"

Robert said with a sinister smile.

Alicia became enraged, picked up the glass, and splashed the drink on Robert, covering him in liquor.

It happened too suddenly. Robert, who was excited a second ago, was stunned.

Everyone present gulped.

Alicia was too fearless. She must have had a death wish to do this to Robert.

"Shit! Do you want to die?" Robert fumed.

The Hudsons were all frightened when they saw that Robert was angry.

“A bunch of dickheads! Why didn’t any of you keep an eye on her? Believe it or not, I’ll have all of you kicked out of here!” Grant berated.

He could only lash out at the subordinates.

The staff knelt on the ground and begged for mercy with their heads lowered.

“Mr. Hudson Senior, please spare our lives,” one of the staff said in fear.

“General Valez, I blame these staff for not keeping an eye on that bitch, Alicia. Please, tell me, how would you like to punish them?” Grant turned to Robert and asked.

+15 BONOS

Robert was originally in a good mood. Who would have thought that Alicia would throw liquor at him?

“What a bunch of trash. Since there’s no use in keeping them, why don’t you just kill them all?” Robert said nonchalantly.

Everyone from the Hudson family was shocked when they heard Robert’s request. He was such a cruel person!

The staff were all so frightened that they passed out.

A few of them had even peed in their trousers.

“General Valez, please spare us!”

“Yeah! It was a careless mistake!”

“General Valez, it’s not our fault! Why aren’t you killing that bitch instead?”

“Yeah, it has nothing to do with us. You should be punishing her instead.”

The staff were begging out of fear.

“Drag them out and shoot them!” Robert said coldly. He was unmoved.

“Yes, sir!” The Vadesian soldiers dragged the staff out.

“It has nothing to do with us, General Valez!”

“Mr. Hudson Senior, please save me!”

The staff pleaded desperately. They didn’t want to die in vain.

All they did was not keep an eye on Alicia, yet Robert wanted to kill them off just like that.

It was such bad luck. Robert was also being too inhumane.

Grant didn’t dare to oppose. He would be the one to be killed if Robert got really offended.

Loud bangs could be heard outside the residence.

The staff were dead before they could scream.

The Hudson family, Alicia, as well as Henry were all terrified when they saw Robert killing those staff in a fit of rage.

The other staff were even more frightened now.

Very quickly, the soldiers who had just executed the staff came back inside.

+15 BONOS

“Sir, the staff had all been executed!” the leader said with a salute.

“Good!” Robert nodded. Then, he looked at Alicia and asked, “Alicia, do you still want to continue resisting?”

At this moment, Henry suddenly came back to his senses.

“Alicia, you’re really fearless. How dare you splash your drink on General Valez? Hurry up and apologize to him!”

“You want me to apologize? Over my dead body!” Alicia said.

“Alicia, are you really not afraid of being killed?” Robert asked.

“Enough with that nonsense. I’ll never apologize even if you were to kill me!” Alicia would rather be killed than to be taken advantage of by an asshole like Robert.

“What makes you think you have a say in anything? Who do you think I am? Also, you’re also Caspian’s cousin-in-law. I could still use you!” Robert teased.

“What are you planning to do?” Alicia asked.

“I want to play with you and let Caspian see how you moan under my crotch,” Robert said coldly.

Alicia was so frightened that her entire body trembled.

Henry was also shocked. It was true that he wanted to defect to Vadesia, but he didn’t want to see Alicia be degraded by a foreigner.

“Record a new video. Take the video of me fucking Alicia, and be sure to record the entire thing,”

Robert said to the soldiers who were beside him.

“Yes, sir!” The soldier holding the camera nodded before he started recording again.

“Pin her on the ground!” Robert ordered.

Chapter 572

Chapter 572 Toying with Alicia

The Vadesian soldiers lifted Alicia directly and placed her on the ground.

Alicia was so petrified that she turned pale. What was Robert planning to do?

Was he going to mess her up in front of so many people?

And he even planned to spread the video?

How would she be able to carry on living in the future?

When Hudsons saw what was happening, they assumed Robert was going to force himself on Alicia.

However, they dared not plead for Alicia. They only wanted to please Robert.

“Beat her up! Hard!” Robert said.

The Vadesian soldiers used the stock of their firearms to pound Alicia violently.

Alicia cried out in pain.

She was in so much agony from being pummeled that she couldn't fight back.

Alicia realized that Robert planned to beat her up, not force himself on her.

It didn't take long for her body to be covered in bruises. She even vomited some blood.

“Stop hitting her! Please, stop hitting her! General Valez, please let my sister go!” Henry fell to his knees before Robert and begged for mercy when he saw that Alicia was getting beaten up so badly.

“Fuck off! Do you want me to beat you up as well?” Robert spat.

The Vadesian soldiers never stopped the beating.

Richard and his family remained on the sidelines without saying anything.

Henry went to Robert and hugged the latter's thigh, begging desperately for mercy.

"General Valez, please be generous and spare my sister. She'll get beaten to death at this rate."

"Henry, don't grovel to someone like him! I'd rather die than be submissive to the enemy's general!"

Alicia proclaimed loudly.

"Continue beating the shit out of her! We'll see if she still dares to be so bold!"

+15 BONOS

He glanced at Henry and kicked him hard, saying, "Shit! Give this piece of shit a beating, too!"

Upon hearing Robert's order, the Vadesian soldiers began to shift their target toward Henry.

The pair of siblings wailed in pain as they were getting pummeled.

The soldier holding the camera recorded the entire process.

Meanwhile, countless fighter planes from West Aridlands were flying to the South Aridlands War Zone.

Caspian and the armored battalion were on these fighter jets.

Benjamin went to the airport in person to welcome Caspian when he heard that Caspian was rushing back to South Aridlands.

The fighter jets quickly landed at the airport.

Caspian exited the airplane while getting swarmed by the crowd.

Macy and the armored battalion had been protecting him closely.

As soon as he alighted the plane, Benjamin and the South Aridlands soldiers lined up to welcome him.

"Lord Caspian! You're finally back! We've been waiting for you for a long time," Benjamin said with a smile.

“I’ve only been away from South Aridlands for two days, so how did the enemies already manage to invade Southlake City?” Caspian asked, extremely displeased.

“The enemies came prepared. Besides, the raid was too strong. We couldn’t defend ourselves against it at all!” Benjamin said rather helplessly.

“How’s the situation now?” Caspian asked.

“The enemy troops have already surrounded Southlake City. The enemy generals Robert Valez and Viktor Obrien-have also entered the city. Our soldiers are resisting progressively, but the outlook is bleak,” Benjamin reported to Caspian.

Then, both of them left the airport and entered the command center of South Aridlands.

Macy and the armored battalion stood guard outside.

+15 BONOS

Meanwhile, at the Hudson residence, Alicia was beaten up really badly to the point where she was covered in blood. It seemed like her life was hanging by a thread.

Henry was in an equally miserable state. He was only planning to defect to Vadesia. He had never imagined that he would end up like this.

It was at this moment that Henry’s phone rang.

The Filrenian soldiers were still beating him. up.

Henry took his phone out with difficulty. It was his father, Donald, who had called him.

“Dad!” Henry wailed.

“What’s the matter, Henry?” Donald asked as he heard that something was Wrong.

“Ouch! Dad! Alicia and I are getting beaten up! Ouch!” Henry wailed bitterly. Robert didn’t have his man snatch Henry’s phone away.

“What happened? Why are you getting beaten up?” Donald asked, puzzled.

“It’s the people from Vadesia! Dad! Please find a way to save me!” Henry pleaded.

Donald was very surprised to hear this. He asked, “Didn’t all of you leave Southlake City? Why would you be getting beaten up by the Vadesians?”

“Ouch! We are... still at... the Hudson residence! Ouch!” Henry answered in between the cries.

“Didn’t you say that you’re already on the road? Why would you still be at the Hudson residence?”

Donald was getting perturbed when he heard his son’s screams.

“Dad! Stop asking! We’ve been captured by Robert Valez, the Champion of Vadesia. Only Caspian can save us. Please ask him for help, or we’ll be dead!” Henry yelled.

Henry finally realized how significant Caspian’s identity was.

Caspian was also a five-star general. Only he could save him.

“What? What’s really going on? Why would all of you be captured by Robert?” Donald was taken aback to hear that his son had fallen into the hands of the enemy.

3/4

+15 BONOS

Robert was a Champion who killed without batting an eyelash!

“Robert came to the Hudson residence. He ended up taking a liking to Alicia, but she wouldn’t return the favor. Because of that, they’re going to beat us to death,” Henry said.

As soon as Henry finished his sentence, his phone was smashed to pieces.

“Henry! Henry! Hello?” Donald shouted into the phone.

Unfortunately, Henry’s phone had already been obliterated. No matter how loud he shouted, there was no use.

“What happened?” Melinda, their mother, asked.

“Henry and Alicia have been captured by the Vadesians,” Donald replied.

“What! Weren’t they already on their way here to Garthram?” Melinda asked, utterly surprised.

The other members of the Stewart family were all shocked to hear this as well.

“I’m not sure either, but Henry just told me that he and Alicia had been captured by Robert Valez, the Champion of Vadesia. The only person who can save them now is Caspian!” Donald said.

“What’s actually happening? Weren’t Henry and Alicia on their way to Garthram? Why would they be captured?” Marilyn was also really anxious now.

“Henry said that they’re still at the Hudson residence. He lied to us! He’d never intended to leave Southlake City at all!” Donald said.

“I can’t believe he lied to us! Everybody couldn’t wait to leave Southlake City. I can’t believe he was still at the Hudson residence. What on earth was he thinking?

Marilyn trembled with anger.

“Henry’s at the Hudson residence? Does that mean the Hudson family didn’t leave Southlake City as well?” Melinda asked.

“The Hudson family must still be in Southlake City. Why else would Henry and Alicia be at their house?”

Kate said.

“Does the Hudson family have a death wish? Southlake City is on the verge of collapsing. Are they not afraid of danger?" Marilyn asked.

Chapter 573

Chapter 573 Caspian Was Livid

"There must be a reason why the Hudson family hasn't left Southlake City yet," Donald said.

"What is it?" Marilyn asked.

"The Hudson family must be thinking of joining Vadesia," Donald said.

Everyone was shocked to hear this.

"Why would they even think of joining the enemy? What if the enemy's army kills them?" Marilyn asked angrily.

"Let's not bother about that. Henry and Alicia have been captured. They may be in danger. What should we do now?" Melinda asked anxiously.

"With Southlake City surrounded by the enemy and Henry and Alicia held captive, there must be Filrenian soldiers standing guard by Robert's side. Is there any way we can rescue them?" Marilyn was at a loss as to what they could do.

"Yeah, Diatoran could not even defend itself against Vadesia's attack. We are unarmed. How are we going to rescue them?" Kate asked.

"Henry and Alicia are in danger now at the Hudson residence. Why didn't the Hudson family protect them?" Donald asked.

"It's too late to say anything now. Henry has already said that only Caspian can save him now. We might as well hurry and find Caspian. Otherwise, both of them will be beaten to death," Melinda said.

"Alicia and Henry have always been on bad terms with Caspian, so why would he even help them?"

Donald asked.

“That’s true. Caspian and Willow are no longer a part of our family. They must want to see us suffer now,” Kate said.

“Caspian is the warrior of Diatoran. Why would he be petty over these things? He’ll surely come to their rescue,” Carl said.

“Isn’t Caspian still at West Aridlands? We can’t reach him either!” Marilyn said anxiously.

“Yeah, Caspian’s a five-star general. We wouldn’t be able to find him even if he returned to Southlake City!” Kate said.

“What choice do we have? Henry and Alicia will die if we drag this out!” Melinda was worried sick.

All of the Stewart family members looked at each other. They didn’t know what they could do and were all distraught.

Meanwhile, at the Hudson residence, Alicia and Henry had been beaten up so badly that they were now covered in blood. Both of them had passed out.

“Stop. Keep them alive.” Robert quickly stopped the soldiers when he saw that the two of them had become unconscious.

The Vadesian soldiers immediately stopped.

Robert smiled at the video camera and said, “Caspian, do you see this? Alicia and Henry are dying. If you’re a man, you’d better come and save them!

“As for your wife, she’d be moaning under my crotch sooner or later!”

Robert then asked his men to stop recording and did a simple processing of the video.

“Immediately have the footage of me holding Alicia and the one where the two are getting beaten up sent out!” Robert ordered.

“Yes, sir!”

Meanwhile, Caspian and Benjamin, as well as the others, had just finished discussing the countermeasures in the South Aridlands War Zone.

It was at this moment that an intelligence officer rushed in, “I have something to report, Lord Caspian!”

“What is it?” Caspian asked.

“Robert, the Champion of Vadesia, has posted a video that seems to be intended for you!” the officer reported.

“Oh, really? What’s the video about?” Caspian asked.

“Robert has captured Lady Willow’s cousins, and they have been beaten up badly. Robert has also made bold claims that he plans to harm Lady Willow,” the intelligence officer reported.

“Is there a video? Let me see it,” Caspian said calmly.

“Yes, Lord Caspian!” The intelligence officer took a tablet out and played the video.

+15 BONOS

The video started with the footage of Robert holding Alicia in his arms while drinking.

Robert had even taunted, “Caspian, do you see this? Your wife’s cousin is in my arms. In a few days, I’ll have your wife captured as well. I’ll have a lot of fun with the two cousins!”

“Caspian! Caspian, only you can save me!” Alicia’s pleadings could also be heard coming from the video.

Caspian was already furious when he finished watching the footage.

Robert had crossed the line by committing such vile acts.

What infuriated Caspian the most was that Robert had even mentioned he wanted to harm Willow.

There was no doubt that Caspian would be very angry.

Even though Willow had already severed ties with the Stewart family, it was a different story for the outsiders. They would definitely think that the cousin of Lord Caspian's wife had been degraded!

If this matter were to spread, everybody would definitely be gossiping about it.

Caspian looked dispirited.

Based on the footage, Caspian could make a guess about what went down. It was useless even though Alicia was fighting back with all her might.

Moreover, members of the Hudson family just stood there and watched without any intention to intervene.

It was obvious that the Hudson family had defected!

Why else would Robert coincidentally show up at the Hudson residence?

It seemed like the Hudson family had even prepared a banquet for Robert. They acted indifferent even when they saw that Alicia was being taken advantage of.

Indeed, Caspian didn't have a good impression of the Stewart family, but it was rare to see Alicia stand her ground.

Even without this relationship between them, Alicia could still be regarded as a good citizen of Diatoran.

There was another video.

In this footage, Alicia was surrounded and getting beaten up badly.

Henry was kneeling before Robert, begging him desperately.

+15 BONOS

“Henry, don’t grovel to someone like him! I’d rather die than be submissive to the enemy’s general!”

Alicia spoke with conviction.

Robert became furious and began asking his men to beat Alicia up.

At the end of the video was Robert’s proud face, shouting, “Caspian, do you see this? Alicia and Henry are dying. If you’re a man, you’d better come and save them!

“As for your wife, she’d be moaning under my crotch sooner or later!”

After having watched all the videos, Caspian was absolutely livid.

Robert was openly challenging him!

Caspian was the leader of the Five War Gods of Diatoran. If he couldn’t rescue his wife’s cousins, how would he still be deserving of this title?

Even though Robert had not made his move on Willow, he clearly had this intention.

Caspian would never tolerate Robert’s crimes!

While it was true that he and Willow had already severed their ties with the Stewarts, this wasn’t the case for the outsiders.

It didn’t matter if Alicia and Henry were killed. However, Robert had openly challenged him. If he did not come forward, he would definitely be ridiculed by the people of Diatoran and Robert himself.

When that time came, Caspian would completely lose everyone’s respect.

Alicia had usually rubbed shoulders with the rich and powerful and was unreasonable. She had also often targeted him. However, in the end, these were personal grudges.

The matter at hand concerned national affairs. The fact that she would rather die than surrender was touching.

If Alicia had begged Robert for mercy, then Caspian would definitely not have bothered about this matter.

However, Alicia had been very persistent in standing her ground, which was really admirable.

“Lord Caspian! How do you plan to deal with this matter?” Benjamin asked.

Chapter 575

Chapter 575 Saving the Hospital

“The enemy suddenly attacked Southlake City Hospital. Go to the hospital immediately to provide reinforcement. The hospital must be protected,” Caspian ordered.

“Yes, Caspian! I’ll head over immediately!” Sylvia replied.

After Sylvia hung up the phone, she rushed to the hospital with her subordinates.

Near the hospital, troops from both sides started a fierce battle.

The garrison at the hospital could no longer resist.

“We’d better leave quickly!” a doctor said anxiously.

“We can’t! There are a lot of injured soldiers. They’ll die if we leave!” Abel said.

“We won’t be able to escape when the enemy breaks past the defense! Are you saying we should sit and wait for death?” the doctor said.

“We’re surrounded by the enemy. Where can we go even if we were to leave the hospital? We might as well treat the wounded patients here,” Abel said.

“We’re only human. Sure, we can treat illnesses and save people, but we’d only die if we were to stay!”

the doctor said.

He no longer had the will to continue treating the wounded patients.

“Our duty as doctors is to treat illnesses and save people. The soldiers fought bloody battles to protect their families and the country. How can we give up on them?” Abel said with conviction.

The doctor felt a little ashamed. Abel was right.

“Dr. Hardison, the enemy troops are inhumane. It’s better to let the women leave. Otherwise, they will be in grave danger when they take over the hospital,” a male doctor said.

“Okay! Have all the women in the hospital leave this place! The others must stay and continue saving people,” Abel said after giving it some thought.

Carmen, an intern at the hospital, was also treating the wounded patients.

During this time, the gunshots outside were getting louder and louder.

“The enemy troops are getting closer. All the nurses and female doctors, hurry

+15 BONOS

“Dr. Hardison, why are you asking us to leave the hospital?” Carmen asked, puzzled.

“The enemy troops are cruel. Once they break into the hospital, you and the other women would definitely be taken advantage of. So I need all of you to leave the hospital as soon as possible,” Abel said anxiously.

There was not much time left. The timeframe for them to escape was getting shorter. There was not much time left for them.

“We won’t leave. A lot of the wounded patients will die if we were to leave!”

“We’d rather die here. If the hospital gets taken over, we’ll kill ourselves.”

“Yeah. We’d rather die than surrender.”

“We will not retreat under any circumstances!”

“Someone might come to our rescue!”

Carmen and the other female doctors had no intention of retreating.

When Abel saw this, he was moved.

“You’re all really amazing! Since you’re reluctant to retreat, I hope you can be mentally prepared!” Abel couldn’t bring himself to persuade them after seeing how determined they were.

The female doctors and nurses nodded. Some of them were holding syringes, and some of them were holding scalpels.

If the hospital were to be taken over by the enemy troops, they would directly choose to kill themselves.

Everyone continued to treat the wounded patients.

As the Inspector General, Joey had also led her subordinates to fight against the enemy.

The people of Southlake City were now united in their hatred toward the enemy.

Even though the equipment of the inspectors wasn’t great, they wouldn’t evacuate now.

Joey was near the hospital.

“Chief Sanders, there seems to be a fight at the hospital!” said one of the inspectors.

+15 BONOS

“Let’s go! Let’s hurry over there and see what’s going on!” Joey ordered immediately after hearing gunshots.

“Yes, ma’am!” The Inspectors rushed out, following Joey,

There weren’t many troops near Southlake City Hospital. Hence, they couldn’t hold on for long.

Some of the soldiers from the enemy troops had now entered the hospital.

The doctor who was treating a wounded patient was also frightened.

The nurses and female doctors were now terrified.

When the enemy soldiers saw the nurses and doctors in their uniforms, the depraved side in them came alive.

“Keep the women and kill everyone else!” the leader of the enemy troop said.

The nurses already had their syringes prepared. If the enemy soldiers planned to do anything to them, they would end their lives on the spot.

Carmen certainly wouldn't want to be taken advantage of as well. She picked up the gun of a wounded soldier and prepared herself.

Suddenly, gunshots could be heard coming from the outside of the hospital.

Screams, one after another, could be heard as well.

A lot of the enemy soldiers in the hospital collapsed to the ground.

The doctors and nurses, who had been preparing to kill themselves, were stunned to witness this scene.

At that moment, a woman with an imposing manner rushed in with the inspectors.

This woman was Joey Sanders, the Inspector General.

Joey had already rushed over with her people during the critical moment earlier.

When she saw the enemy troops entering the hospital, she immediately ordered the inspectors to open fire without any hesitation.

“Joey, why have you come here?” Carmen was pleasantly surprised to see the inspectors.

“I was nearby when I heard that there was a fight starting near the hospital. So I rushed over with my people,” Joey said.

+15 BONOS

The enemy troops continued entering the hospital,

“Let’s fend off the enemy first!” Joey wasn’t in the mood for small talk now.

She led her men and launched an attack.

The sound of gunshots filled the air.

Joey led her subordinates and began to fight against the enemy.

The enemy soldiers who ran in didn’t expect that the inspectors would be in the ward. Before they could even prepare themselves for it, they were shot, collapsing to the ground.

When the enemy came to their senses, they began to hide behind their shield and launched their attack.

“I need all of you to leave first!” Joey said to Carmen and the others.

“It’s full of enemies outside! How are we supposed to go out?” Carmen asked.

“Look for a safe place to hide then, or hide under the bed to avoid getting hurt,” Joey also knew that it was impossible to get out of the hospital now.

The hospital was now surrounded by the enemy troops.

She was able to rush in with her team of inspectors because she knew about the back entrance of the hospital.

Carmen and the others nodded. Some of them lay down on the ground, while some of them hid under the bed.

All the soldiers guarding the hospital had been wiped out, leaving only Joey and the inspectors.

The enemy troops came prepared. Moreover, their attacks were aggressive. Joey and the others couldn’t defend themselves against their attacks.

“Chief! Why don’t we withdraw from this place? Our entire team will be annihilated at this point,” one of the inspectors said.

“We can’t. If we leave, what will happen to these doctors and nurses?” Joey said.

“If we continue resisting, we will be devoured by them!” the inspector said anxiously.

“Even if we were to die in this battle, we must hold on until the very end!” Joey said with a determined look in her eyes.

“It seems all of us have no chance of survival,” an inspector sighed. He was a 4/5

“Don’t be discouraged yet. There will be soldiers coming to assist us. Let’s hold on for a little while longer,” Joey said.

However, she didn’t know if there would be anyone coming to their assistance.

She only said that to encourage her subordinates.

The inspectors all nodded their heads. For now, they could only give it their best.

Sylvia led the troops to the hospital. However, she had already heard gunshots coming from inside the hospital.

“Pick up the pace!” Sylvia ordered.

Chapter 576

Chapter 576 Annihilate the Enemy’s Troops

After hearing Sylvia’s orders, her subordinates began to pick up their pace and rush to the hospital at full speed.

Inside the hospital, both sides were already embroiled in a fight. The shoot-out was very intense.

Joey and the inspectors were fighting the enemies to the death.

However, many of the inspectors were shot and killed.

There were also doctors and nurses who picked up the guns of the wounded soldiers. However, since it was their first time using guns, their aim was not good. It was difficult for them to aim accurately at the enemies.

The situation had become very dangerous.

“Chief, you said that there are people coming to our rescue, but there’s no movement outside at all!”

one of the inspectors said.

“Just hold on a little while longer. They’ll arrive soon!” Joey said.

“Half of our men have already been sacrificed. If we carry on, we’ll be completely wiped out!” The inspector was distressed.

If no reinforcements were coming, it was better for them to withdraw from the place as soon as possible. This way, they could at least retain some energy.

“There’s no possibility of us retreating anymore. We can only fight to the death. Even if we are to die here, it’d be our honor!” Joey said.

Gunshots never ceased firing. Screams came and went.

The battle between the two sides kept going on.

“Fight them till the end!” Joey cried out as she saw the enemy troops drawing nearer to them. They could only fight them in close quarters.

The doctors and nurses could not do anything to help as they watched Joey and her team fight the enemies desperately.

The nurses had even prepared themselves for the worst. If Joey and the others could not hold their defense, they would choose to end their own lives.

Since she had already run out of bullets, Joey began fighting the enemies with her bare fists.

Even though she was a woman, she had extraordinary skills.

1/5

+15 BONOS

Many of the enemy soldiers were no match for her.

Back then when Joey was at the Cliff of Death, she managed to resist against thousands of Flying Dragons members for an extended period of time.

The enemy’s soldiers might be trained, but Joey would not be in the losing position that quickly.

Joey’s movements were deft and quick. She managed to snatch a short knife from the enemy’s hand.

With a sharp blade in her hand, she killed even more intensely.

When the inspectors saw how brave Joey was, they became excited.

The doctors and nurses saw a glimmer of hope when they saw Joey killing the enemy's soldiers to the point where they were unable to fight back.

Unfortunately, she was only human. She could not fight off so many soldiers. The enemy's soldiers kept increasing in number to the point where she was surrounded.

Joey was in a tight situation. The enemy troops slowly approached her.

Suddenly, gunshots were heard.

In a fleeting moment, the gunshots outside the hospital became more and more intense.

Following the gunshots were screams that came one after another.

The doctors and nurses were all frozen in their spots, not understanding what was going on.

Logically speaking, there were only enemy troops outside.

Carmen had even prepared to kill herself.

"That must be the reinforcements! Everyone, follow me and let's kill them all!" Joey cried out loudly.

Suddenly, the cries of the enemy's soldiers could be heard coming from outside. It was obvious that someone was killing them.

The inspectors who were fighting became invigorated when they heard Joey's voice.

Gunshots and screams could be heard.

Joey was right. There were really reinforcements coming to them.

The gunshots coming from outside the hospital came from Sylvia's troops.

Sylvia led her men to the hospital and immediately began fighting the enemies.

The enemies did not expect to be ambushed in the end.

It was hard for them to defend themselves. When they finally realized what was going on, half of them were already dead.

"Destroy all of them! Avenge our soldiers!" Sylvia roared when she saw the corpses of Diatoranian soldiers on the ground.

They opened fire intensely.

Sylvia's subordinates attacked the enemy violently.

Within a few minutes, the enemy troops were wiped out.

When Sylvia saw this, the first thing she did was rush into the hospital.

As soon as she entered the hospital, she could see that the enemies had Joey surrounded.

Since there were many doctors and nurses around, Sylvia did not dare to shoot randomly in order to avoid accidentally injuring the others.

She took out the dagger from her leather boots and charged forward.

As a general officer, Sylvia had experienced hundreds of battles. Her strength far exceeded that of Joey's.

Sylvia's men were not idle either. They started fighting with the enemy.

The enemy's troops had now become confused.

Joey also cheered up when she saw a general officer like Sylvia coming to their assistance.

The two worked together in perfect harmony and killed the enemy to the point where they could not fight back.

It only took a few minutes for Sylvia and Macy to obliterate all the enemy troops that had invaded the hospital.

"Joey, why are you here?" Sylvia asked.

"I was nearby when I heard gunshots coming from the hospital. That's why I led my subordinates here,"

Joey said.

"I see. Thankfully, you came over and held them off. Otherwise, the hospital would've definitely been taken over by the time we arrived," Sylvia said.

"What about you? Why did you come?" Joey asked out of curiosity.

It was a coincidence. She did not know that reinforcements would come.

“Lord Caspian ordered us to come over,” Sylvia said.

“Lord Caspian? Do you mean Caspian Lynch?” Joey asked.

Previously, Caspian had appeared in Southlake City in an armored vehicle.

Almost everyone had come to know that Caspian was not an ordinary person.

“Yes, that’s him. Nobody would dare to call themselves Lord,” Sylvia said with a smile.

“Is Caspian still at West Aridlands?” Joey asked.

“He has just rushed back to the South Aridlands War Zone. He needs to command the battle here,” Sylvia answered.

“I didn’t expect Caspian to be this brilliant. I can’t believe he’s the God of War. So why did he want to be the Stewart family’s son-in-law?” Joey asked, slightly baffled.

When the nurses and doctors saw it was no longer dangerous, they began to resume their treatment of the wounded patients.

Many of the nurses cried when they saw many soldiers had gotten injured.

“Everyone, keep your chin up. Wars are cruel. We must now be united and stand against the enemies!”

Joey said with a look of determination in her eyes.

“Chief Sanders, now that the enemies have entered Southlake City, do you really think that we can fight them off?" Carmen asked.

"For now, I can't say for sure how things will pan out. One thing is for sure, though-the final victory will definitely belong to us." Joey might be giving encouragement, but deep down, she was also feeling unsettled.

The enemy troops moved very quickly and inundated Southlake City within a very short period of time.

The battle had become complicated and confusing.

"Let's not be discouraged, everyone. Caspian, our Diatoranian God of War, has already rushed back to the South Aridlands War Zone. As long as he is in charge, victory will definitely be ours!" Sylvia said this to encourage the people when she saw that they were feeling down.

When Carmen heard Sylvia's words, her admiration for Caspian grew even more.

Even though she had not met Caspian many times before, she had long been

When she learned that Caspian was the Diatoranian God of War, she completely fell for him.

At this moment, Sylvia's phone rang. It was Caspian.

"Do you have any orders for us, Lord Caspian?" Sylvia answered the phone immediately, not daring to be lax about it.

“How’s the situation over there at your side?” Caspian called, wanting to know if the hospital was safe.

He had been worried about the situation at the hospital.
