Chapter 691 The Meeting of the Mother-In-Law and the Daughter-In-Law
After the inspector hung up the phone, he immediately ran to the Inspector General's office.

Bad news, Mr. Zurk! the inspector said in a panic.

Xavier had just received the news that Caspian Lynch, the Diatoranian God of War, was visiting Churron. He was thinking of ways to meet Caspian when his subordinate stormed in without even knocking on the door. It angered him instantly.

You're in such a mess. What happened? Xavier asked.

Lord Caspian's subordinate, General Osborne, called, the inspector said. What? Lord Caspian's subordinate called us? Xavier asked in a surprised tone.

That's right, the inspector took a breather and said.

Isn't this good news? Why are you panicking? Xavier was just thinking of a way to meet with Caspian.

And now, Caspian's subordinate had called the Inspector General's office. This was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!

His subordinate told you to bring your men and head over to the abandoned factory to collect the corpses, the inspector said.

Collect the corpses? For whom? What's going on? Xavier asked, puzzled.

I'm not sure either. She didn't elaborate. She just told us to head over there quickly, the inspector replied.

Did she not give any other orders? Did you miss anything out? Xavier asked.

He wanted to find out what was going on as he felt that something was off.

Perhaps there were other matters and he could prepare himself accordingly.

Who knew, he could even leave a good impression on Caspian?

She didn't say anything else. Anyway, I think that Lord Caspian's probably already there at the derelict building. I've just received the news that many paratroopers have landed at the abandoned factory north of the city, the supervisor replied.

Why are you just standing there, then? Notify everyone immediately and head over to the abandoned factory north of the city to meet Lord Caspian! Xavier ordered.

It did not matter if Caspian was there or not; he wanted to go.

Yes, sir! The inspector left the office immediately.

Within a few minutes, everyone in the Inspector General's office assembled.

Xavier personally took everyone to the abandoned factory.

+15 BONOS

Caspian returned to the factory.

At this moment, Tom finally regained consciousness and woke up.

Tom, you're awake. Miranda was overjoyed when she saw Tom open his eyes.

Tom took in his surroundings and saw many Diatoran soldiers. Sherry and Cecilia were there as well. Even Caspian, the Diatoran God of War, was there.

Where's this? Tom said in a weak voice.

This is the abandoned factory north of the city, Miranda said.

It was at this moment when Tom recalled something. He had been taken to the abandoned factory before he passed out.

Oh right, where's the Jessop family? Tom asked suddenly.

They've been executed on the spot by Lord Caspian! Miranda replied.

That's good. I guess we're safe now. Thank you for saving us, Lord Caspian, Tom said.

I should be the one to thank you, Tom. If it weren't for you, my mother and sister would've been in danger. I'll be sure to keep this friendship in my heart, Caspian said.

Even though Tom also came from a rich family, he was a decent person. On top of that, Caspian was grateful for his help this time.

So I guess Madam Lynch is your birth mother, Tom said in a surprised tone.

That's right. Which is why I'm very grateful to you for saving them, Caspian said.

You're exaggerating, sir. If it weren't for Madam Lynch, Miranda and I would've been penniless when we escaped to Churron. We might not even have had food to eat, Tom said.

At that moment, the low hum of vehicles could be heard coming from outside the factory.

+15 BONOS

Why are there so many roaring sounds of vehicles? Sherry asked.

Maybe Willow is here, Caspian said.

He calculated and figured it was about time that Willow had arrived.

Is it really Willow? Sherry was slightly nervous.

We'll find out once we go and take a look, Mom, Caspian said with a smile.

Okay! Sherry nodded. Everyone headed outside.

Cecilia wanted to see what her sister-in-law looked like as well and followed suit.

Miranda followed closely behind as well.

As soon as they came outside the factory, they saw dozens of military-green SUVs parked near the factory.

The soldiers alighted from the vehicles. With their weapons in hand, they stood in a two-line formation.

One of the soldiers walked to an SUV and opened the door.

A slender and graceful woman came out.

This person was Willow, Caspian's wife.

Surrounded by people, Willow walked toward the abandoned factory.

When she saw the corpses on the ground, she did not feel much fear.

She had seen similar scenes times

many

Cecilia, who was standing outside the factory, saw Willow and marveled, Willow looks so elegant!

Yeah! Caspian, your wife's gorgeous! What should I do? I'm kind of nervous.

Sherry rubbed her hands together.

She was about to meet her daughter-in-law and was feeling a little overwhelmed.

What's there to be nervous about, Mom? She's your daughter-in-law, Caspian said.

Look at me. It's obvious that I look like some peasant from the countryside.

Will Willow scorn me? Sherry asked in a concerned tone.

You have nothing to worry about. Willow's not the kind of person to judge someone by their appearance. She's kind-hearted.

When we return to Southlake City, I'll have her buy you and Cecilia some clothes,

Caspian said.

-15 BONOS

Let us go and greet her, Sherry said.

You can just wait for her to come over, Caspian said.

Nevertheless, Sherry could not wait and took a few steps forward.

When Willow saw the woman next to Caspian, she could already guess who she was.

Willow, this is my birth mother, Caspian said to Willow as soon as she came over.

Hi, Sherry. I'm Willow, your daughter-in-law, Willow said as she smiled at Sherry.

I finally get to meet you, Willow. You're so beautiful. Caspian's really lucky! Sherry said as she hurriedly held Willow's hand.

Oh, Sherry, you're too kind. I'm the one who's lucky. Caspian's the Diatoranian God of War, after all, Willow said.

Okay, stop flattering each other. This is my sister, Cecilia, Caspian introduced Cecilia to Willow.

Hi, Willow, Cecilia said as she nodded.
Are you alright, Cecilia? Willow asked.
I m fine, thanks to my brother s timely arrival. We were just a little bit frightened, that s all, Cecilia said.
That s good. Oh right, how s Tom? Willow asked.
Before she came, she had heard that Tom had gotten seriously injured. That was why she was asking.
Tom s fine. He s already woken up, Miranda stepped forward and said.
That s good, that s good. Let s go in and see him. Willow nodded.
Everyone walked with hastened steps into the factory.
However, it was at that moment when more roars of vehicles could be heard coming from a near distance.

Chapter 692 The Inspector General Is in a Panic

When everyone turned around and looked over, they realized it was more than a dozen police cars.

Why would it be the vehicles from the Inspector General s office? Willow asked, feeling confused.

I was the one who called them over, Caspian said.

Why did you call them over? There are so many bodies here. Wouldn t it cause some misunderstanding? Willow asked, worried.

Don t worry. Do you think the inspectors would dare to go against us? They re only here to clean up the scene, Caspian said.

I see. Willow knew as well that the Inspector General s office of Churron would never go against Caspian.

From a distance, Xavier could already see that it was all soldiers outside the abandoned factory. There were about thousands of them.

The ground was filled with corpses. There were approximately hundreds of them. Xavier was stunned by this scene. Why had so many people gotten killed? What actually happened here?

Even though he had not met Caspian, Xavier was already feeling uneasy.

After the inspectors vehicles came to a halt, they headed toward the abandoned factory on foot.

The closer they got, the more Xavier could make out of the faces of the corpses. He spotted some familiar faces.

It was obvious that these people were Celian s subordinates.

Witnessing this scene had Xavier feeling panicked.

He had always known that the Jessop family and Celian were committing all kinds of evil in Churron, but the Inspector General s office could not do anything about it.

This was because Lacey, Fergus wife, was the daughter of Jerry-a high-ranking official of Diatoran. Nobody dared to offend the Jessop family.

Xavier had a clearer picture now. These people were definitely annihilated by Caspian's team.

+15 BONDS

And only Caspian had such powers.

Caspian stood where he was, waiting for the inspectors to come over to him.

Xavier saw Caspian, the Diatoranian God of War, standing outside the abandoned factory.

He had been looking forward to meeting Caspian. However, now that they were about to meet, Xavier suddenly felt a little timid.

This was because he had not been able to stop the Jessop family from acting up on his territory.

Now, he was forced to come face-to-face with this matter.

Looking at Caspian's stern expression, Xavier knew that something was wrong.

And at the same time, Xavier saw a familiar corpse-Celian's.

He did not expect Celian to be killed as well.

Seeing this, Xavier became even more afraid.

Right after that, he saw another familiar corpse-Lacey's.

He exclaimed when he saw Lacey lying among the corpses.

He would have never thought that Lacey, someone who had always been highly intuitive, would die here.

Soon, Xavier also saw Fergus and Blake's lifeless bodies.

Xavier was full of admiration in his heart. Caspian was truly the Diatoranian God of War. His methods were really something.

At that moment, Xavier felt even more afraid. He knew that there would be phenomenal changes in Churron.

I'm Xavier Zurk of the Churron Inspector General's office. It is such a great honor for me and my subordinates to be graced with your presence, sir!

Xavier said as he came before Caspian. He forced out a hideous smile.

Xavier, the underground forces of Churron captured my family and brought them here. They nearly died. Did you know about this? Caspian asked.

I did not know that, Xavier shook his head and said.

What about the murder that occurred on the way to the station today? Did you know about that? Caspian asked again.

I did not know that, Xavier said with a guilty conscience.

+15 BONOS

In fact, someone had called to report on this incident, but he did not dare to meddle with it.

This was because he knew that the assailants were the subordinates of the Jessop family.

Xavier said this was because he was afraid Caspian would question him and make him accountable..

What do you know, then? Are you planning to ditch your career as the inspector general? Caspian fumed.

I've been careless, Lord Caspian. I'll willingly accept any punishment, Xavier said.

Punishment? Do you think it's that simple? You must have known about the evil deeds the Jessop family had committed in Churron.

As the inspector general, you turned a blind eye to those evil acts. You've committed a grave offense! Caspian said.

I didn't mean to turn a blind eye, sir. I had no choice! The Jessop family had Mr. Andrews as their backer. What could I have done? Xavier said helplessly. What about Jerry? You could've circumvented the ranks and made a report to the higher-ups. What you did was be complicit in those crimes! Caspian said angrily.

Xavier was so frightened that he trembled all over. Immediately, he knelt before Caspian and said fearfully, Sir, I wasn't their accomplice! I haven't done anything!

As he looked at the corpses on the ground, he became extremely frightened. He was afraid that Caspian would execute him as well.

If you weren't an accomplice, why did you turn a blind eye after learning about the many evil deeds of the Jessop family? Caspian asked coldly.

I had reported it to the higher-ups before. But before the news could get out, it was intercepted, Xavier replied.

Caspian scowled, suddenly feeling displeased.

My family and friends almost lost their lives. Five of my subordinates had to fight a bloody battle against hundreds of underground forces. Are you telling me that the Inspector General's office had not the slightest awareness of these incidents?

+15 BONOS

As the inspector general, you should take accountability and resign! Caspian said.

Xavier could have never imagined that the Jessop family would fearlessly lay their finger on the Diatoranian God of War's family.

It was no surprise that the entire Jessop family was killed.

I have sinned greatly. I'll willingly accept any punishment, Xavier said in fear.

Have Xavier cuffed and brought back for interrogation, Caspian said.

Things in Churron were complicated. These things did not happen overnight.

Xavier could serve as a breakthrough for this matter, allowing them to conduct an in-depth investigation.

Caspian planned to eradicate all of the evil forces under the protection of Jerry!

Yes, sir! Several soldiers stepped forward and had Xavier handcuffed. He did not dare to resist and could only be arrested.

The inspectors on the sidelines did not dare to make any moves.

Initially, Xavier had even planned to leave a good impression on Caspian.

Who knew that he would be arrested by Caspian as soon as they met?

Why are all of you just standing there? Hurry up and have all these corpses removed, Caspian said as he looked at the inspectors.

The inspectors recollected themselves and began their work.

Willow and Miranda came to the factory.

When Tom saw Willow, he was surprised and asked, What are you doing here, Willow?

I came because I heard that something happened to you and Miranda. Thank God you're both fine, Willow said.

Yes. Thankfully, all of you arrived in time, Tom said emotionally.

When Scott and Uriah heard that the entire Jessop family had been killed, they wanted to head over to the abandoned factory to watch the fun.

At this moment, the two men were driving to the abandoned factory.

It would be such a waste if Cecilia and Miranda were to be killed! They're hot, Uriah said.

+15 BONDS

No shit. If only we could have them for ourselves, how fucking amazing would that be? Scott sighed.

It would be the best. They might as well let us have fun with them first, Uriah replied again.

The two men sat in the car as Uriah sped along.

It was at this moment when an elegant-looking woman appeared in the middle of the road!

Chapter 693 The Killing of Two People

When Uriah saw this, he stepped on the brakes immediately.

The car skidded for quite a distance, leaving tire skid marks on the road. The elegant-looking woman was none other than Laina.

Her mission this time was to get rid of Scott and Uriah.

Are you fucking insane? Did you think that I wouldn't run you over with you standing in the middle of the road like that? Uriah alighted from the car and grumbled.

Are the two of you Scott Corden and Uriah Larkin? Laina asked coldly. Scott and Uriah instantly had a devious scheme in mind when they saw how curvaceous Laina's body was.

Hey there, sexy. We haven't met before. Do you know us? Uriah leered.

Were you two working for Blake before this? Laina asked again.

It was vital for her to confirm their identity.

That's right! How'd you even know about this? Blake's rich and domineering.

Of course, we should follow him, Uriah said with a hint of smugness.

Are you looking for us or Blake, babe? Scott asked.

He assumed that this beautiful woman right here was looking for Blake. After all, he was rich and domineering. He was also good-looking. There had been many women who wanted to date Blake.

If this was the case, then the two could no longer flirt with this woman.

Laina did not want to kill them on the road. There were still cars coming and going from time to time. If she were to kill them here, she would need to get rid of their corpses herself.

Just thinking about it felt troublesome.

Come with me. I'll tell you what I have in mind, Laina said this on purpose.

As soon as the words left her lips, Laina got off the road and walked toward the green belt at the side.

As long as she could lure them into the bushes and kill them there, she did not have to worry about anyone finding out.

+15 BONOS

Sure enough, after she said those words, the two men followed her with a lecherous look on their faces.

The two men thought that Laina wanted to do it with them out in the field. And so, they did not even think twice before following her.

Besides, the two men had no reason to fear Laina. When they reached a secluded area, they could also force themselves on her. Just thinking about it was exhilarating.

When they arrived at the bushes that were half the height of a person, Scott asked urgently, Hey pretty, so why did you bring us here?

Yeah. Perhaps you wanna do it with us? Uriah leered..

You're really shameless. The reason I brought you here is to kill you! Laina said as her expression suddenly darkened.

The two men were startled when they heard this.

Nonetheless, they managed to calm themselves down swiftly. After all, how would this woman be a match for the two of them?

Babe, this joke of yours isn't even funny. We don't even know you. Why would you want to kill us? Scott said nonchalantly.

He's right! Baby girl, you can't joke like this again next time. You'll scare us, Uriah chimed in.

It's true that I don't know you, but you've offended someone important! Laina said.

Someone important? Who? Scott asked, puzzled.

Caspian! The Diatoranian God of War! Laina said.

The moment the two men heard what Laina said, they were even more amused.

Oh baby girl, we're nobodies. How would we ever come in contact with the Diatoranian God of War? Scott said indifferently.

Yeah. We're not even worthy of cleaning his shoes. Also, we've never seen him before.

How could we have offended him? Scott asked.

Did you guys happen to beat up a woman named Sherry last night? Laina asked.

You mean Sherry Lynch? Isn't she a farmer? What's wrong with beating her?
+15 BONOS

This has nothing to do with the Diatoranian God of War, right? Scott said with a half chuckle.

Sherry Lynch is the Diatoranian God of War's mother. You've angered Lord Caspian, so there's only one ending for you, and that's death! Laina said coldly.

The two men guffawed upon hearing what Laina said.

Now this joke is funny. How could that farmer, Sherry, be the mother of the Diatoranian God of War? Obviously, Scott would not believe Laina's words. The only thing Sherry and Caspian had in common was their surname, but this did not mean anything.

Let me tell you something, baby girl. Sherry and her daughter might already be dead now, Uriah said.

It seems like you two still haven't got a clue on what happened. I'll let you die knowing the truth. Your buddy, Blake, is already dead, Laina said coldly.

There are still some lines you mustn't cross when you're joking, baby girl. Who in Churron would dare to lay a finger on the Jessop family? Who could harm Blake? Scott laughed heartily.

Yeah! You think we're stupid? There isn't anyone in Churron who would be able to kill Blake, okay? Uriah was even starting to think that Laina's brain was not functioning well.

She was pretty and had a great body, but how could she be so stupid?

The Jessop family was obliterated by the Diatoranian God of War's army! Laina said.

This time, the two men paid no attention to Laina's words.

They just thought that Laina was spouting nonsense.

Time s running out, baby girl. Let s just get down to the fun part. I ve never tried doing it outdoors before! Scott said eagerly.

I m sure you haven t done this in the wild either, yeah? Uriah leered.

He could not hold back anymore. He even felt the urge to pounce on her then and there.

When Laina saw the lecherous looks on the scu mbags faces, her eyes burned. with fury. Her malevolence surged.

The next second, Laina took out two guns from her waist and pointed them at the two men respectively.

+15 BONOS

When Scott and Uriah saw her take out the guns, they became startled instantly..

They had not expected this woman to have a gun on her!

Whoa, baby girl, let s just talk it out. There must be some kind of misunderstanding between us, Scott said fearfully.

Could these be fake guns, babe? Uriah asked.

They thought that the guns in Laina s hands were fake. These items were expressly prohibited in Diatoran.

You ll know after trying. Without wanting to waste more time, Laina pulled the triggers.

Two gunshot sounds were heard.

Both Scott and Uriah perished. Their eyes were wide open right before they died.

Laina put her guns away.

Then, she returned to her car and prepared to head down to the abandoned factory.

By the time Laina returned to the factory, the corpses had basically been disposed of.

I have a report, sir. I ve shot Scott and Uriah to death.

Okay, good job, Caspian said calmly. His deep gaze showed no signs of wavering.

Now that everything had basically been resolved, Caspian no longer wanted to stay in Churron.

Mom! We re heading back to Southlake City now. Is there anything you d like to bring? Caspian asked.

Nope, nothing, Sherry answered.

Let us go to the airport now, then. Let s take a flight on a fighter jet back to Southlake City, Caspian said.

Chapter 694 A Trivial Matter

What about your sister's school? She still has a lot of things to take care of at school, Sherry said.

Oh that? That's easy. I'll just let Sylvia handle it, Caspian said.

What about Tom? He's badly injured now. We can't just leave him here, can we? Sherry asked.

How could we leave our savior here? I'm planning to bring him back to Southlake City to continue his treatment, Caspian said.

But both Tom and Aria are badly injured. They might not be able to travel a long distance, can they? Sherry asked worriedly.

Don't worry, mom. With the protection of the military doctors, they'll definitely reach Southlake City safely, Caspian said.

Sherry nodded without saying a word more.

Then, Caspian turned around and said to Sylvia, Sylvia, I'll leave my sister's schooling matters to you.

Cecilia attending school was still of great importance to Caspian. Otherwise, he would not have let Sylvia handle this matter personally.

With Sylvia, a general officer, handling this matter, who would dare to disagree?

Yes, sir! Sylvia nodded and responded.

She immediately had someone investigate Cecilia's school. She personally made a call to the headmaster of that high school.

After the headmaster received the call, he was extremely shocked. He did not dare to make the slightest delay in attending to the matter regarding the Diatoranian God of War's sister.

He went through the transfer procedures for Cecilia in the shortest time possible. He also mailed all the relevant documents to Southlake City without bothering Sylvia at all.

Tom, I'm planning to take you back to Southlake City to continue your treatment. Are you okay with this arrangement? Caspian came to Tom's side and asked him.

Yes, sir, Tom answered.

+15 BONOS

Ever since he left Southlake City due to the war, Tom had been longing to return.

That's good, then. Let's go back immediately, Caspian said.

And with that, Caspian instructed Avon and the others to carry Tom out with care.

The others followed along and exited the factory.

Aria was also carried into the car.

Have this place cleaned up before you leave, Caspian said to the inspectors. Yes, sir! the inspectors answered in unison.

They did not dare to go against the Diatoranian God of War's orders.

After allocating the tasks, Caspian led everyone into the armored cars. They were prepared to leave.

Xavier, the inspector general of Churron, was also brought away.

Caspian planned to hand Xavier over to the related department in Churron for investigation.

Caspian and the others came to Churron Airport and boarded the plane.

Five fighter jet planes took off magnificently from Churron.

At this moment, the fallen soldiers had all been laid to rest at the Southlake City Memorial Hill.

Without having a break, Balthazar rushed to the airport.

He had planned to head back to Dhord City to have a discussion with the representative from Tigr.

Caspian and the others landed right then.

The moment they stepped out of the airport, they saw Balthazar surrounded by the crowd.

Caspian was rather surprised. He did not expect to bump into Balthazar.

When Sherry and Cecilia heard that the King had appeared, they were very surprised.

Why is the King and the other high-ranking officials here at the airport, Caspian? Sherry asked.

The King must be going back to Dhord City. That's why he's here at the airport,

+15 BONOS

Caspian said.

What should I do? I feel nervous about seeing the King, Sherry said as she trembled.

Don't be too nervous, Mom. I'm the Diatoranian God of War. Since we've bumped into each other, I have to go over and greet him, Caspian said.

He led everyone and walked toward Balthazar.

Willow had already met Balthazar before, so she was not really nervous.

Cecilia, on the other hand, was really nervous. After all, she was only a high-school student and she had never witnessed such a grand occasion before.

Your Majesty! Caspian said when he came over to Balthazar.

There's no need for such formalities, Caspian. Has everything been sorted out? Balthazar asked.

Thank you for your concern, Your Majesty. This is my birth mother, Caspian introduced promptly.

Your Majesty! Sherry lowered her head and greeted hurriedly.

Mrs. Lynch, there's no need for such formality. You're Caspian's mother.

There's no need to lower your status, Balthazar said.

Congratulations, Caspian. You've finally reunited with your mother!

Yeah! Congratulations, Lord Caspian!

This is a cause for joy and celebration, Lord Caspian! Several high-ranking officials began congratulating Caspian.

Thanks, everyone! Caspian said.

Everyone was enjoying themselves, except Jerry, because his daughter had died.

Lord Caspian, Lacey Jerry was still feeling slightly hopeful. He was hoping that Caspian had spared his daughter.

Mr. Andrews, you were the one who said you wanted me to help you kill your family members for justice. Hence, your daughter has passed, Caspian said indifferently.

Hearing Caspian's words, Jerry lost all hope. His entire body trembled.

Thank you, Lord Caspian. As someone who had committed heinous crimes, +15 DONOS

Lacey deserved to be punished! You did the right thing! Jerry said.

Even though Jerry hated Caspian very much, he did not dare to speak indiscriminately in front of Caspian.

Mr. Andrews, you're a person of principle and discernment. I respect that! Caspian said.

I don't deserve such praise, Lord Caspian. I still have so much to learn from you!

Jerry said.

Balthazar had known all along that Caspian and Jerry were at odds with each other. Hence, he wanted to take this opportunity to ease the relationship between the two men.

Caspian personally executed his wife's brother while Jerry here also solemnly got rid of his daughter. Both of you are the role models of Diatoran! Balthazar said.

Your Majesty, are you preparing to return to Dhord City? Caspian asked.

That's right. Tigra has sent representatives over to Dhord City. I must return for the negotiation with them. I'm sure you've heard about the matter concerning Tigra, right? Balthazar asked.

Indeed, I've heard about it. Caspian nodded.

You have a far-reaching influence. After the dispatch of five planes, Tigra took the initiative and contacted me. You're really the lucky star of Diatoran!

Balthazar praised.

Your Majesty has praised me excessively. It's all because of your prestige in the international community, Caspian said.

You're too humble, Caspian. It's all thanks to you this time, Caspian, Balthazar said with a smile.

In fact, he was only acting along with Caspian.

The high-ranking officials around them did not know that Caspian did it to save his birth mother, and Balthazar was not going to expose the truth.

Our mobilization session has obtained remarkable results. However, the other countries are definitely still eyeing us, Caspian said.

That's right. There's no longer any movement coming from Estrya, Vadesia, Astronia, and Filren, Balthazar said with a stern expression on his face.

What if these countries refuse to lay down their arms and make peace?

Caspian asked.

Let's give them a few more days. If they don't come forward and show that they agree, I'll gather all the war heroes and hold a new meeting! Balthazar said.

There were many people around them. Balthazar would not reveal his plan there.

Okay. Let's wait a little longer. Caspian nodded, not questioning further.

Then, Balthazar took the other high-ranking officials with him and left on the chartered flight.

Everyone at the scene only let out a sigh of relief when they saw Balthazar leave.

Caspian brought Sherry and the others back to Riverside Villa.

He only had a few armored soldiers stay back to guard the villa while the returned to their respective posts.

Tom and Aria needed to be sent to the hospital for treatment.

In order to look after Tom, Miranda also followed him to the hospital.

Caspian and Willow arranged for Sherry and Miranda to stay in the villa.

Sherry used to live in a large villa like this before. She was no stranger to an environment like this.

It was a different story for Cecilia. She had been living in the village ever since she was little. She had never seen such a luxurious villa before.

She looked around, curious about everything around her.

Zoey also knew about the incident at Southlake City Memorial Hill. However, she stayed in the villa the entire time.

When she heard the rumbling roars of vehicles outside, she knew that

Caspian. and Willow must have returned.

Zoey hurriedly came to the hall, where she saw a middle-aged woman and a young lady who was wearing a blue and white school uniform.

Do we have guests, Willow? Why didn't you tell me earlier? Zoey asked.

I was just worried that I'd interrupt your writing. Also, they're not guests. This is Sherry, and that's Cecilia, Willow introduced.

Zoey was stunned for a moment and asked, Willow, is she your birth mother?

Oh, she's not. She's Caspian's birth mother. Willow shook her head.

At that moment, Willow felt slightly unsettled as she had not found her birth mother yet.

Zoey was very surprised and hurried over to greet Sherry and Cecilia.

Oh right. Caspian, I heard that the two of you have been married for some time now. Why haven't you had children yet? Sherry suddenly asked.

Caspian was momentarily stunned. He did not expect his mother to ask this question all of a sudden.

You'll have to ask Caspian, Sherry, Willow hurriedly said.

Hearing Willow's words, Sherry immediately sized Caspian up, thinking that there was something wrong with Caspian.

+15 BONOS

Caspian, don't you have really good doctors in your military's medical team? Have them prescribe you something to help with it! Sherry said.

It's not what you think, Mom. There's nothing wrong with me. I'm just too busy, that's all.

Which is why I don't have time for children, Caspian said rather helplessly.

Stop fooling me here. Even if you're busy, there's always time for sleeping, isn't there? Sherry asked.

Mom, let's not talk about this in public. Caspian no longer wanted to discuss this topic.

Undoubtedly, he had considered having kids with Willow. However, he was too busy and had no time to care for a child.

Besides, he always used protection every time he slept with Willow. How could they possibly have a child that way?

I'm tellin' ya, I want grandkids. So you'd better hurry and give me a healthy grandchild! Sherry said.

Caspian felt very helpless. He had just reunited with his mother, but she kept pushing him to have a child.

The two of you may go and rest first, Sherry. I'll go make something to eat, Willow quickly made up an excuse and prepared to leave the living room.

I'll make it. All you youngsters should just sit down and chat. Sherry could not bring herself to boss her daughter-in-law around.

After all, Willow came from a noble family. How could she make Willow serve her?

You're Caspian's mother. How could I let you make food for us? Willow said. That's it. Why don't the two of you rest? I'll be the one to cook today! Caspian said.

He wanted to let his mother try out his cooking.

Meanwhile, the Stewarts had just brought the body of Henry back to Stewart Residence.

The atmosphere inside was dreary and bleak.

As soon as Marilyn woke up from her coma, she immediately got discharged from the hospital and returned home.

When the Stewart family saw Marilyn return, they burst into tears once more. When Marilyn saw Henry's ice-cold body, she became utterly heartbroken. Marilyn! Henry's gone! It seems like there's no one to carry our lineage anymore! Melinda said, crying.

How heartless of Caspian to not even spare his family! We'll fight him until the end! Marilyn said menacingly.

Caspian's the Diatoranian God of War, Mom! How can we even fight him? Donald said.

Then we'll wait for the right time. I don't believe that he'll always be the Diatoranian God of War. There'll definitely be a day when he falls from grace. When that happens, we must seek our revenge! Marilyn said.

Mom, let's talk about this some other time. Let's lay Henry to rest for now, Donald said.

Okay. Marilyn nodded.

Oh right. Should we let Caspian and Willow know to have them come over and give their condolences? Donald asked.

Why should we? I don't want to see him! Marilyn fumed.

Even though Caspian was someone with a prominent status, Marilyn did not want to see him as he was the one who executed Henry.

She had already regarded Caspian as her enemy.

What about Willow? We should let her know, right? Donald asked.

Willow's still our family, after all. We must let her know. Marilyn nodded.

Okay! Donald responded.

At Riverside Villa, after everyone had finished eating, Willow suggested that everyone go pay Tom a visit.

Everyone agreed and took the car to the hospital together.

Tom and Aria happened to be inside the same hospital ward.

You're truly incredible, Ms. Lanway. I can't believe you and a few subordinates of yours could defeat hundreds of people! Miranda said.

When Tom heard this, he felt a little unhappy.
Did that mean he was not good enough?
I m obviously better at this. After all, I m from the special forces. Tom s just an ordinary citizen, Aria said a little arrogantly.
So what if it s the special forces? I m not weak either. I can deal with hundreds. of people myself! Tom said unhappily.
Yeah, yeah. Keep bluffing. You sure are bold to exaggerate that lame skill of yours, Aria said disdainfully.
Just when the two were bickering, Caspian walked in with Willow.
When did you get here, Lord Caspian? Aria said respectfully when she saw Caspian.
I ve come to visit the two of you, Caspian said.
Thank you, Lord Caspian! Aria was extremely excited.
She was surprised that Caspian would personally come to visit her.
Willow, Sherry, you re both here as well! Tom said gleefully when he saw Sherry. He had already recovered a lot.
They left after having chatted for dozens of minutes.
Willow had originally intended for Miranda to stay at the villa.
However, Miranda wanted to stay at the hospital to take care of Tom. Hence, she did not leave with them.
Caspian, Willow, and the others left and returned to the villa.
Willow s phone rang when they had just arrived at the villa.
It turned out to be a call from Donald.
What s the matter? Willow asked.
We ll be holding a funeral for Henry tomorrow. Will you be coming? Donald asked.
I Willow did not know what to say for a while.
After all, Henry was a defector. As the wife of the Diatoranian Go d of War, it was rather inappropriate for her to attend an occasion like that.
+16 BONOS
Henry s your cousin, Willow. Are you not willing to send him away? Donald asked.
I ll think about it, Donald, Willow replied.
Okay. Give it some consideration, Donald said before hanging up the phone.
After hanging up the phone, Willow looked at Caspian and asked, Honey, the Stewart family plans to hold a funeral for Henry. They ve invited me. Should I go?

You can't go! Caspian said firmly.

Why not? Willow asked.

You're the Diatoranian God of War's wife, and Henry's a defector. You must never attend such occasions! Caspian explained.

But Henry's dead! Also, I happen to be his cousin. I should be there to send him off one last time! Willow said.

It's true that he's dead, but his reputation as a defector is still very much alive. You're the wife of the Diatoranian God of War. If news were to spread about you attending a defector's funeral, where can I go to hide my face?

You'd also be criticized! Caspian said.

Fine. I guess I'll just stay home, then. In fact, Willow also felt that it was inappropriate for her to attend Henry's funeral. She had only wanted to ask Caspian for his opinion.

Willow, you must remember that you're the wife of the Diatoranian God of War. Every move that you make may attract the people's attention. So you have to be careful in your words and deeds, Caspian said.

I understand. I'll pay attention to it next time. Willow was starting to feel the pressure of being the Diatoranian God of War's wife.

She could no longer do as she pleased like before.

Following this, Caspian and Willow sat in the living room and chatted with Sherry and Cecilia.

Caspian, Willow, I'm sure it's been a tiring day for the two of you. Get an early night's rest, Sherry said, feeling a little tired.

Yes, Sherry. Both of you must be frightened from today's incident too, so go to bed early, Willow said.

I got it. I'll go to bed after seeing the two of you go into your room, Sherry said.

She really wanted Caspian and Willow to have a child now. This way, she would not feel bored when she stayed in the villa by herself.

Why must you push this on us, Mom? Caspian said rather helplessly.

He could only bring Willow into their bedroom.

+15 BONOS

Sherry and Cecilia also went back to their bedroom for the night.

After going through a major incident like that, coupled with the long-distance traveling, both of them had been tired for some time now.

This was the first time that Cecilia was sleeping in such a nice bedroom. She slept soundly.

It was also the first time in days that Sherry could get a peaceful sleep.

In the room, Caspian and Willow had already washed up.

Willow, my mom wants a grandchild. How about we have a kid? Caspian looked at Willow affectionately and said.

But I'm not in the mood today, hubby, Willow said with a sad face.

What's wrong? Are you feeling down? Caspian asked.

Yeah, because Henry died just like that. I feel a little unsettled. Even though he became a defector, we still grew up together.

There's still some attachment there, Willow said.

Hearing this, Caspian became stunned for a moment.

I have no intention of having children now, Willow said, shaking her head.

Caspian would never force Willow. Between married couples, there should be harmony.

Oh right. Have you found out anything about my birth mother? Willow suddenly asked.

As of now, there are no updates. But I've already asked Task Force Rose to investigate. We should be able to locate her very soon, Caspian said.

That's good. I want to know what my birth mom looks like as well, Willow said thoughtfully.

Don't worry. With the help of Task Force Rose, we'll be able to find her sooner or later, Caspian comforted.

Meanwhile, at the Kline Residence in Dhord City, Jerry called his sons-Kelvin and Zane-over as soon as he returned home.

Dad, you've just returned and haven't managed to get a rest. Why have you called us over? Kelvin, the eldest son, asked.

+15 BONOS

Your sister has been executed by Caspian in Churron, Jerry said.

We already heard about this news before you came home, Dad. Caspian's a real dick. He doesn't even respect you, Zane fumed.

Dad, since the martial arts experts we're training are already powerful now, we might as well take this opportunity to launch a mutiny and kill His Majesty and Caspian. That way, we can get our revenge! Kelvin, the eldest son, said. Absolutely not. Now's not the time. We must wait patiently for an opportunity, Jerry shouted sternly.

Dad! How much longer do we have to wait? There are a lot of eternal grandmasters among the expert martial artists. Now, the King's bodyguards have been killed in West Aridlands, leaving only Lyndon as the armchair general.

This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for us! Kelvin said.

He's right. As long as we let these expert martial artists storm into the King's residence, we can definitely capture the King alive! When that time comes, the entire Diatoran will be under our control! Zane chimed in.

I guess you're all still too young. Do you really think that there are only so many people by His Majesty's side? His Majesty's guards might've been annihilated, but there are still powerful guards protecting His Majesty. Their powers are unfathomable. We must never act rashly before we're completely sure, Jerry said.

Dad, are you afraid? Our expert martial artists can definitely defeat hundreds of suonies by themselves. We might as well capture His Majesty alive! Kelvin said.

This is now the best opportunity for us to strike because the guards protecting His Majesty are scarce. If we wait any longer, His Majesty will definitely recruit new guards. When that happens, we won't have the chance to strike anymore, Zane said urgently.

Do you know what will happen once you make a move? Our entire family will embark on a journey of no return. If you want to make something happen, it must be foolproof.

Otherwise, Quinton will be the herald of our fate. We might even end up like the Archer and Hudson families of Southlake City and be obliterated! This matter requires long-term consideration.

Both of you are still too young and impulsive, Jerry advised earnestly.

The two brothers looked at each other and nodded, saying, We'll listen to you, +15 BONOS

Dad!

Oh right, we must not let the others know about our recruitment of the expert martial artists, especially Task Force Rose, Andrew ordered again.

Don't worry. We've arranged for these expert martial artists to be located in a secluded place. Their current task is to study martial arts without leaving at all, Kelvin said.

We've gotten rid of some of the elite families of the traditional martial arts who were unwilling to help our family! Zane said with a smile.

Well done. It must be kept a secret. Once anybody knows about this matter, our family will be in danger, Jerry said.

We understand. However, the son of the leader of Greenton from West City escaped from our clutches, Kelvin said.

What happened? How could you let such an important person run away? Jerry asked with a somber look on his face.

Five or six months ago, we went to Greenton in West City to try and win them over. However, the leader was not willing to join us. We had no choice but to destroy Greenton.

But the leader, Kael Forrest, had a peerless treasure blade with infinite power. He risked his life to protect his son. In the end, we managed to kill Kael after fighting for several hours.

However, his son managed to escape.

Kelvin recounted the event from a few months ago to his father.

Je rry had been busy with governmental affairs and seldom concerned himself with household affairs.

Oh right, what s the name of the kid that got away? Jer ry asked.

I think his name s Tom Forrest. I m not sure where he s escaped to, Kelvin said. Tom Forrest? The name sounds familiar. Je rry was momentarily stunned. He was rubbing his chin when he exclaimed, I remember it now! I received a call from Lacey today, and she seemed to have mentioned Tom Forrest!

What? How would she know Tom? Kelvin asked, surprised.

She said that Tom was the one who made your nephew blind. Jer ry remembered everything.

He told his two sons the details of the incident.

I guess it s true. Tom is the son of Kael Forrest, the Kael Forrest of Greenton from West City! Kelvin nodded and said.

That s right. Lacey s death has a lot to do with Tom! J erry said menacingly. F uck! We let him get away! Tom must die! Zane looked grim.

I understand that the two of you want revenge. However, you must keep it a secret. You can t let anyone know about our recruitment of the expert martial artists, Jerr y said.

Don t worry. I ll definitely send a few experts to obliterate Tom silently! Oh right. Dad, do you know where Tom s at? Kelvin asked.

I heard that Tom was severely injured and that Caspian brought him back to a hospital in Southlake City, Je rry responded.

There must be quite a lot of soldiers near the hospital. You two must be cautious. when carrying out your tasks.

Don t worry. We have a lot of experts in Skyarch Palace. It ll be a piece of cake to get rid of Tom! Kelvin said smugly.

In recent years, the Andrews family had continuously recruited expert martial artists and established an organization called Skyarch Palace.

It s better for you to exercise prudence. Didn t you two say that Kael has a weapon called the Peerless Treasure Blade? His son seems to be very powerful as well, Je rry exhorted.

It s true that Kael is very powerful, but it was only because he had the peerless. treasure blade. Now that the blade is in our possession, there s no way that Tom would be better than his father, Kelvin said.

+15 BONDS

In any case, it's better to be vigilant in everything. Your every move should be inconspicuous. Also, Xavier must be killed as well! Jerry instructed.

Xavier? Didn't they say he's been imprisoned? Besides, he's on our side.

Why would we need to kill him? Kelvin asked, surprised.

At first, Lord Caspian planned to hand him over to the relevant departments in Churron. However, in the end, Lord Caspian unexpectedly brought him to Southlake City for trial. He might expose us, so he must be killed! Jerry said through gritted teeth.

Okay. We have our men in the Inspector General's office. We can intercept from inside and kill him! Zane said.

You'll be in charge of this task. You must deal with him as soon as possible! Jerry said.

Got it! Zane nodded.

Meanwhile, at Southlake Hospital, Miranda was too exhausted and she fell asleep on the edge of the bed.

Tom and Aria were not sleepy. They found the atmosphere strange!

Let me ask you something, Tom. You're so good at fighting. Have you ever practiced martial arts? Aria asked all of a sudden.

I've never practiced martial arts. I'm just stronger than most. Tom was stunned for a moment before answering swiftly.

Aria's sudden question caught him off guard.

Stop fooling me. How could you be so powerful if you've never learned martial arts before? Aria did not believe Tom's words.

You might not know about this, but great strength can do wonders! Tom said, with a smile.

A few months prior, Greenton was destroyed by a group of expert martial artists. Tom managed to flee to Southlake City under the protection of his father.

He had been staying with his distant relatives. He kept his identity hidden to avoid suspicion.

Do you have a powerful mentor teaching you? Aria asked again.

No. I'm self-taught. Tom shook his head.

+15 BONOS

Obviously, he could not simply expose his background.

I don't believe you. How could you possibly reach this level yourself? Aria sized Tom up.

Let's not talk about me. What about you? How did you get into Task Force Rose? Tom asked, quickly changing the topic of discussion.

This is classified information. I can't tell you. Aria shut his question down.

Everything about Task Force Rose was confidential. Earlier, she had to reveal her identity as she had no other choice.

By the way, you mustn't tell anyone that I'm a member of Task Force Rose, Aria said coldly.

Tom nodded. Then, the two had nothing else to talk about anymore.

Caspian was awoken by the ringing of his cell phone.

It was a call from Sylvia.

What's the matter? Why are you calling me so early in the morning? Caspian asked in a displeased tone.

Lord Caspian, the interrogation department called. Xavier's dead! Sylvia said.

What? He was fine, so why did he suddenly die? Caspian asked, shocked.

I heard from them that Xavier was weak and sickly. As soon as the torture started, he couldn't take it and died all of a sudden! Sylvia said.

How could this just happen randomly? Perhaps someone wanted to kill him to silence him? Have you investigated clearly? Caspian said with his brows knitted.

We're investigating, Sylvia replied.

Okay. Report to me once you have updates, Caspian said before hanging up the phone.

At this moment, Willow had also woken up.

Who's bothering you so early in the morning, hubby? Willow said drowsily.

Who would it be other than Sylvia? Caspian said.

Hearing this, Willow did not question him further. Sylvia must have some official affairs to report to Caspian.

Then, both of them got out of bed, washed up, and walked out of the bedroom.

At this moment, Sherry was already busy in the kitchen.

Why didn't you sleep in longer, Sherry? Willow asked.

I'm worried that you youngsters aren't going to have breakfast, so I got up to make you something to eat. Sherry had a happy smile plastered on her face.

You don't have to get up so early. From now on, leave breakfast to me and Caspian, Willow said.

Both of you already have so much on your plates. You two can get more rest if I'm the one to prepare the meals, Sherry said.

Willow, I'm sure Mom is bored. Since she wants to, let her be in charge of it, Caspian stepped forward to say.

Caspian felt at ease knowing that his mother and Willow had a harmonious relationship with each other.

Breakfast was ready, and everyone ate together. Cecilia and Zoey happened to have woken up as well.

Caspian, when will I be starting school in Southlake City? I've already missed several days of classes, Cecilia asked while eating.

Due to the war in Southlake City a while back, school has just resumed classes. I'll arrange it as soon as possible, Caspian replied.

That's good, then. I'm just afraid that if I waste too much time, I won't be able to keep up with my studies. Cecilia nodded.

I'll definitely help you make the arrangements for school, Caspian said.

Caspian, there are ruins everywhere in Southlake City, Southlake Corporation was also destroyed by the bombs. When can we rebuild Southlake City?

Willow asked.

There's no specific time yet. Even though Diatoran has repelled its powerful enemies, it's now surrounded by crises. It may take some time. Willow wanted to return to work at Southlake Corporation as soon as possible.

Recently, she had been bored out of her mind.

However, she also knew that some things had to be prioritized first. National affairs were definitely on top of the list now.

Let's finish that meal quickly, Cecilia. I'll be taking you to see your new class teacher later, Caspian said.

Okay! Cecilia nodded excitedly.

After breakfast, Caspian brought Willow, Sherry, and Cecilia to Stephanie's house.

Stephanie and her family were very excited to see that Caspian, the Diatoranian God of War, had come to visit them.

Caspian used to be Stephanie's student, but he was now the Diatoranian God of War. To have him come to her house was an honor!

Caspian introduced them one by one.

???

Ms. Wildman, I'll place my sister's academics in your hands, Caspian said.

I'll do my best to guide her, Stephanie said.

I'll put in the effort to make her as outstanding as you.

The delegate from Tigra had arrived in Dhord City. They were planning to meet with Balthazar to discuss some matters.

Balthazar and a few high-ranking officials met with the delegates at His Majesty's residence.

After some intense discussions, Tigra decided to reduce custom duties. They would also regularly offer items to Diatoran.

In addition, Diatoran could also send troops into Tigra to help them with their defense.

The news about Tigra's goodwill toward Diatoran spread. The entire Diatoran cheered.

Astronia, Vadesia, and Estrya, on the other hand, were bleak.

It was as if they were missing a partner.

Nobody knew who Diatoran would be targeting next.

After leaving Stephanie's house, Caspian brought everyone to visit Tom and Aria at the hospital.

Tom and Aria were overjoyed to see Caspian and the others.

Aria, especially, felt very excited to see Caspian.

Why have you come, Lord Caspian? Aria asked emotionally.

What's the matter? Am I not welcome here? Caspian asked with a smile.

Of course not! It's just that you're the Diatoranian God of War, and you must be so busy. You don't have to come all the time to visit me, Aria said with a smile.

I'm just thankful to my mother's savior. Therefore, I must visit you, Caspian said.

You're welcome, sir. It's my duty, Aria said.

You should take this time to have a good rest. There might be tasks awaiting you! Caspian said.

Sir, didn't we reach a consensus with Tigra recently? After I recover, I plan to go over to Tigra, Aria said.

Let's have a discussion after your recovery, Caspian said.

At the Stewart Residence, the Stewart family held a funeral for Henry. The entire house was in low spirits.

As Henry was a defector, not one person came to send him off for the last time.

His funeral was extremely desolate.

Donald, have you told Willow? Marilyn asked when she did not see Willow show up.

I've given her a call, Mom, Donald said.

Henry's about to be buried. Is she not coming? Marilyn asked.

I don't think she's coming, Donald said disheartenedly,

Why not? Marilyn asked in confusion.

+15 BONOS

She's the wife of the Diatoranian God of War. Why would she attend a defector's funeral? Donald said.

I'm so upset! Has she become inhumane just because she's the wife of the Diatoranian God of War? Henry's her cousin, after all.

She should be here to send him off! I'm so mad! Marilyn said.

Everyone changes, Mom. Willow's no longer the person she used to be! Melinda said.

Caspian and Willow are useless scums! From now on, we have nothing to do with them! Marilyn said menacingly.

Caspian was in the hospital when he received a call from Balthazar.

Caspian, Balthazar here. Balthazar's voice came from the phone.

To what do I owe this pleasure, Your Majesty? Caspian asked.

We've reached a consensus with Tigra, Caspian. You may send some troops over to Tigra and establish a collaboration with them, Balthazar said.

That's great! This way, the west side of Diatoran will become much safer!

Caspian said.

That's right. It's all thanks to you that this matter was smooth sailing,

Balthazar praised.

Your Majesty's praising me again. It's all because of Your Majesty's good command, Caspian said.

Stop being so humble, Caspian. I have something to discuss with you. It's about the sending of the troops.

When would be the best time to send them over? Balthazar asked.

Your Majesty, we shouldn't rush this matter. Let's devise a plan first, Caspian said.

Very well. I'll summon five war heroes to discuss the important matters and send the troops to attack! Balthazar said.

What's with the sudden rush, Your Majesty? Caspian felt a little surprised.

He did not expect that Balthazar would still want to send the troops out.

It's necessary. I've said it before that those countries that have caused harm to Come over to Dhord City tomorrow. Let's have a discussion about this!

Balthazar ordered.

Yes, Your Majesty! Caspian answered immediately.

After Caspian hung up the phone, he said, Aria, Tom, I'll have to leave first.

There's something I have to do. I'll come visit you again when I'm free.

Please go and attend to your official affairs, sir. We're fine now, Aria said.

Yeah! Your schedule's packed, sir. You don't have to come visit us all the time, Tom said.

What's the matter, hubby? Why do you have to go all of a sudden? Willow asked, confused.

His Majesty called, saying that there's an important matter we need to discuss. I must leave now, Caspian explained.

Willow nodded without questioning further.

By the way, I've asked the members of Task Force Rose to stay back and take care of you two. This way, they can protect your safety as well, Caspian said. before turning and leaving the ward.

Willow, Sherry, and Cecilia followed him out as well.

Hubby, I plan to bring Sherry and Cecilia to the mall to buy them some new clothes, Willow said to Caspian.

She noticed that Sherry's and Cecilia's clothes were a little torn. The clothes they wore made them look out of place in Southlake City.

Okay. I'll leave this matter to you, then. There's something I need to do, so I have to leave now, Caspian said.

He wanted to go shopping with Willow as well, but he did not have the time.

Is it that urgent? Willow did not want Caspian to leave just yet.

Yeah. His Majesty wants me to go meet him in Dhord City. I must fly there early,

Okay. Have a safe journey, Willow said.

You take good care at home too, Caspian nagged.

Don't worry. Just go do what you have to, Willow replied.

Caspian, you can just go do what you have to do now. You don't have to worry about us, Sherry said.

Before Caspian left, he let a few armored soldiers stay back to protect Willow, Sherry, and Cecilia.

Then, he left with Macy and headed toward Dhord City.

Willow brought Sherry and Cecilia to the mall.

On the way to Dhord City, Caspian made a call to Laina.

What orders do you have for me, sir? Laina asked.

Immediately have some of the members of Task Force Rose protect Aria and Tom, Caspian ordered.

Yes, sir! Laina replied immediately.

She did not question it further. It was the duty of the soldiers to obey orders.

After Caspian arrived at the airport, he boarded the plane and headed toward Dhord City.

After Willow bought the clothes for Sherry and Cecilia, they returned to the villa.

Around 10:00 pm, Laina had nothing to do, so she went to the hospital to visit Aria.

Aria was her subordinate, after all. As the captain, she had to come to visit her.

At first, both Aria and Tom had fallen asleep.

Cynthia, the member watching over them, saw Laina and asked, Captain Laina, why are you here?

+15 BONOS

I m here to see how Aria s doing, Laina said.

They ve both fallen asleep, Cynthia said softly.

Even though she had lowered her voice, it still woke Aria and Tom up. Captain Laina! Why are you here? Aria said happily when she saw Laina.

I came to see you. I didn t expect to disturb your slumber, Laina said rather awkwardly.

It s fine. We ve been sleeping for a while now, Aria said with a smile.

They chatted for over an hour. Laina was prepared to leave the hospital.

Aria, take good care of yourself. I ll come visit you again. Laina left the ward after she finished speaking.

But as soon as she walked out of the ward, she bumped into two medical staff members in white coats.

When she passed them by, Laina could clearly feel a menacing air coming from them!

Laina s heart sk ipped a beat. She immediately stopped and stared at the two, asking, It s already midnight. What are you here for?

We re here to check on the patients and change their dressing, a doctor said.

The two of them walked directly into the ward without looking back.

Laina looked at their shoes and noticed a lot of dirt on them. Her expression immediately froze.

This was a hospital, and every corner was clean. How could there be so much dirt?

As the captain of Task Force Rose, Laina s insight was very sharp. She had already noticed the anomaly.

Cynthia, who was guarding the ward, saw the two doctors acting suspiciously. One of them even had a beard. He did not look like a doctor at all.

Stop right there! Who are you? Laina shouted loudly.

This is the hospital. Why are you making so much noise? the bearded man asked.

Where are your staff, IDs? Cynthia asked.

There was no logo on their white coats. It looked really strange.

+15 BONDS

Aria and Tom had also noticed the two doctors. They did look a bit strange.

When the two men realized that their identities had been exposed, they dropped.

the act.

The bearded man took out a bright dagger and slashed in Tom's direction. The other man aimed at Laina and Cynthia, throwing two cross-darts at them. This sudden scene shocked everyone.

However, Laina and the others were already wary in advance.

Even though Tom's injury had not fully healed, his reaction speed was still very fast.

When he saw the bearded man slashing at him, he quickly turned sideways and rolled down from the hospital bed.

Fortunately, Tom had recovered a bit. Otherwise, he might not have been able to move.

The bearded man thrust his dagger into the air.

Laina and Cynthia were also on high vigilance and easily dodged the darts.

The bearded man was momentarily stunned. Tom was covered in bandages, but he was still able to dodge his attack.

These two attackers were members of the Andrews Skyarch Palace. Their mission this time was to kill Tom.

Their powers were at the level of an eternal grandmaster, which could be considered to be elites.

Kelvin thought that since Tom had been severely injured, he could just send these two to kill him.

This way, it would not be conspicuous.

The bearded man's name was Lanson Lowe. When he saw Tom dodge his attack, he raised his arm once again and slashed at Tom, who was on the ground.

This time, Tom was not able to move. Since the opponent was an eternal grandmaster, it would be hard for Tom to dodge his attack while being severely injured.

Stop! At this moment, a delicate cry was heard.

Landon felt a gust of wind behind him.

+15 BONOS

Cynthia was right next to the hospital bed. She immediately stepped forward, took out a short dagger from her leather boots, and slashed at Lanson.

His face hardened, and he immediately turned his body to dodge Cynthia.

An ear-piercing metal sound was heard.

The other man was Wyatt Cox. When he saw that Lanson's sneak attack had failed, he wanted to make his move as well.

However, Laina already had her eyes on him!

You're fighting me!

Laina took out a short dagger and slashed at Wyatt.

Wyatt was cautious. He could sense that Laina's powers were strong. He used his elbow to repel Laina's wrist. Laina felt the pain. She was shocked. She did not expect this man to have such great strength. Wyatt waved his enormous fist at Laina. Laina was nimble, landing her kick at Wyatt's abdomen! He winced when Laina kicked him and stumbled a few steps back. As the captain of Task Force Rose, there was no doubt that Laina possessed great strength. Wyatt stumbled four or five steps backward before he managed to regain his footing. At that moment, he could feel immense pain in his abdomen. He was utterly shocked as well. He did not expect Laina to be this good. Meanwhile, Lanson was fighting with Cynthia. In the end, after more than a dozen methods, Lanson still failed to defeat Cynthia. This made Lanson really speechless. His powers in Skyarch Palace were considered above average. Now, he could not even defeat a woman. Lanson had no idea that the person standing in front of him was an elite member of Task Force Rose!

+15 BONOS

Aria and Tom were both severely injured. They could only watch the others fight without being able to help. After kicking Wyatt earlier, Laina did not stop at all. She extended her long leg and threw a kick at Wyatt's head.

Wyatt dared not be careless. He quickly used his arm to block Laina's attack. Laina's kick that landed on Wyatt's arm did not bring him any life-threatening damage. Nonetheless, Laina aimed for the right timing and swiftly threw a kick at Wyatt's abdomen once more! He cried out in pain. Then, he stumbled backward continuously and hit the wall hard. After getting kicked by Laina twice, Wyatt felt pain all over his body. Laina smirked. However, right when she was feeling smug, Wyatt threw a few more darts out. He was an eternal grandmaster, after all. He was not here to simply pass the time. When Laina saw this, she panicked.

She had just found her footing, so to dodge the sneak attack was close to impossible.

When Aria and Tom saw this, they were startled. They wanted to help, but they could not move.

Captain! Watch out! Aria shouted loudly.

At the critical moment, Laina's body leaned backward, and her palms pressed to the ground.

Her entire body formed an arch, like a bridge.

The flying darts gilded past Laina's chest, barely missing her by an inch!

They're all traditional martial artists. You must be extra vigilant! Tom reminded.

After the scuffle earlier, he had an inkling that these two were no ordinary men!

Laina and Cynthia were not surprised to hear this. After all, they were both martial artists as well! well:

The sound of the commotion in the ward attracted the attention of many people.

Some soldiers outside the hospital had already rushed over.

When Wyatt and Lanson heard rapid footsteps outside, they knew that their plan might fall through.

At first, they thought that their mission would be accomplished quickly. Who knew that they would encounter such strong opponents?

Wyatt no longer had any intention to continue fighting.

He ran into the window, shattered it, and then escaped by jumping out!

If they continued fighting, they might not be able to get away.

When Lanson saw Wyatt escape, he followed suit and made his escape as well.

At that moment, many doctors and nurses, as well as a few soldiers, had arrived.

What happened, Captain Laina? an armored soldier asked.

There was an assassination attempt! Laina said.

What? Where are they? the armored soldier asked.

They've escaped. Don't just stand there! Let's chase after them Laina said before jumping out of the window.

The armored soldiers followed suit and ran after the assailants.

When Wyatt and Lanson had just escaped outside, they saw many soldiers surrounding them.

Caspian had stationed these armored soldiers here. For the time being, they were in charge of the security here.

There had been warfare at Southlake Hospital before. Caspian did this to reassure the people in the hospital.

They're the assassins! Hurry! Catch them! Laina shouted as she ran toward them.

When the soldiers heard Laina's words, they immediately raised their guns and aimed at Lanson and Wyatt.

The two men were planning to escape the place as quickly as they could. They were planning to jump into the area behind the green belt and then make their escape.

Shoot them immediately! Laina ordered immediately after seeing the two people running away very quickly.

Just as the two men were running away at full speed, several gunshots were heard.

The soldiers did not stop. They continued opening fire.

For a moment, a hail of bullets flew toward Lanson and Wyatt.

Even though they were both eternal grandmasters, they had no power to fight back when faced with so many bullets.

Both of them were hit by the bullets!

Eventually, both the men collapsed to the ground.

Blood poured out like a stream.

When Laina saw the two men collapse onto the ground, she ran over quickly.

They had already died.

Hurry and find out who they are! Check if there's anything that can prove their identity! Laina said.

Yes!

Several soldiers frisked the bodies of Wyatt and Lanson but found nothing on them.

Laina turned around to leave. She went back to the ward.

Captain, did you capture them? Aria asked.

They've been killed! Laina answered.

That was a close call! Aria let out long sigh of relief.

Tom, it seemed like they were coming for you, Laina interrogated.

She had observed earlier that the two men had targeted Tom as soon as they entered the ward.

I've no idea what's going on, Tom said, spreading his arms.

Why did you say that they were martial artists, then? You'd better spill it now.

Are you hiding anything from us?

Otherwise, we won't be able to protect you if something like this were to happen again, Laina said aggressively.

Tom knew he could not hide it anymore. If he did not say anything, Laina would probably go mad.

Four months ago, a group of martial artists murdered my family. In the end, I was the only one who escaped. I managed to recognize one of them earlier, explained concisely and clearly.

When Laina and Aria heard Tom's words, they were beyond shocked.

They did not expect Tom to have such a past.

Why would those martial artists want to target you? Laina asked in confusion.

Tom recounted everything that had happened before.

After listening to Tom's words, Aria suddenly pieced it together. She understood now why Tom refused to share anything when she questioned him earlier.

Now that they had this information, they could even find out the reason behind Tom's strength.

You mentioned a Skyarch Palace earlier. May I know what kind of organization it is? Laina asked.

I'm not sure what it is they do, but one thing is for sure- there are many experts in Skyarch Palace! Many martial artists have joined them, Tom said.

Why didn't Greenton join Skyarch Palace? Laina asked again.

I'm not sure what actually happened. It was a discussion between them and my father. One thing's for sure, Skyarch Palace is definitely doing something shady.

That's why my father refused to be associated with them. In the end, he was brutally murdered! Tom said.

How inhumane that they would indiscriminately kill innocent people! Where's this Skyarch Palace located at? I'm bringing my men to have them obliterated! Laina fumed.

I don't know. They're very mysterious. Nobody knows their exact location! Tom said.

But Skyarch Palace must be plotting something. Otherwise, why would they silence my father by killing him? It's too counterintuitive.

It just means that no one outside the organization can know about their plan.

Anyone who doesn't agree to join them will probably be killed! Tom explained.

Skyarch Palace, huh? I'll commit it to memory. I'll definitely find out where they're at! Laina said with determination.

They're basically untraceable. How are you going to dig up on them? Tom asked.

Who said they're untraceable? They came to assassinate you. That's the clue.

Since their operation has failed, they'll definitely have a second attempt. When the time comes, we'll capture them alive, interrogate them, and find everything out! Laina said.

Ms. Barnes, are you trying to use me as bait? Tom asked, surprised.
