Chapter 211 Be My Woman

After Sylvia received the orders, she brought five elite soldiers with her. They took three SUVs. and headed to the hotel Avon was at.

Meanwhile, the situation at the hotel was getting out of control.

Avon returned to Stephanie's side after hanging up the phone.

The situation at the hotel was getting out of control, and the hotel manager reported it to their employer.

After the phone call, Jeremy felt much better. He then yelled at Avon, "Hey, bastard. You're going to die today. My dad will bring his men over. I dare you to stay!"

Jeremy was feeling smug. He wanted to see Stephanie kneel before him and beg.

Who knew, he might be able to have some fun with Stephanie later that night?

"Don't worry, I won't run. Can you please ask your dad to hurry? I don't have the patience for this," Avon said nonchalantly.

However, when Stephanie and her family heard that Belvin was going to get involved in this matter, they felt frightened.

"Dr. Long, I think we should leave first, Belvin's too powerful. We can't possibly challenge. him!" Stephanie's mother said anxiously "Mrs. Wildman, I'm sure of this. As long as Caspian has our backs, we don't have to be afraid of these people." Avon remained collected and stood his ground.

When Danson heard the news that the son of the fourth-in-command of Southlake City was getting beaten up in his hotel, he called for reinforcements from security.

"Mr. Lincoln, are you alright?" Danson was shocked to see Jeremy lying on the floor with his mouth full of blood.

The son of the fourth-in-command was beaten up so badly on his home turf. If he were to offend a big shot like Belvin, it would be the end of him.

"Mr. Baker, it took you ages to come! Hurry up and have those people surrounded. Don't let them get away. I'm going to punish them to my heart's content today!" Jeremy ordered.

He had to get his revenge!

"Why are you all just standing there? Surround them and make sure nobody leaves!" Danson instructed his security guards.

All 30 to 40 security personnel complied, surrounding Avon and his group in no time.

The situation frightened Stephanie and her family.

All they wanted was to have a meal, but things had turned out like this! They were petrified and did not know what to do.

As for Avon, he did not falter one bit. Having been born and raised in South Aridlands meant that he had been through thick and thin.

He might be a doctor, but he had also killed people with his two hands before.

The situation before his eyes was relatively trivial.

It was nothing to him.

When he heard that Belvin was coming, Avon planned to have both father and son captured.

If he wanted to attack, the security guards would have already been overpowered.

To qualify as one of the Diatoranian God of War's soldiers, one must be an elite warrior. This meant that Avon was one of these elite fighters.

His combat skills might not be as good as Sylvia's and Macy's, but they were ample for this kind of situation.

"Ms. Wildman, if you become my woman, I'll let you all go. As long as you satisfy me tonight, I'll forget that any of this ever happened." Jeremy was silent for a while. He then stood.

up and began shouting again.

"How shameless of you, Jeremy! I'm your teacher. You'd better show me some respect!" Stephanie said angrily.

"I'd love to do that too, but you leave me no choice! It's your fault for having such a pretty face and that smokin' hot body.

"Whenever I look at you, I just can't stop my imagination from running wild. I'll do anything. as long as I can have you," Jeremy mocked as he leered at Stephanie.

He had imagined having fun with her a thousand times before.

Stephanie was livid after hearing what Jeremy had just said. How could someone this young utter something so immoral and repulsive!

“Your crude and shameless ways will come back and bite you someday!” Stephanie said.

“Ms. Wildman, you think that’d scare me? I’ve done many bad things in the past, and they haven’t caught up to me yet.

“Whatever. I don’t feel like wasting any more time. Do you want to be my woman? Don’t forget, your parents are here. You have to think about them.”

Jeremy was starting to lose his patience and started to threaten Stephanie.
+15 BONUS

Stephanie was stunned. She felt that Avon had messed up big time. Even her parents were there with them. Jeremy could hurt them if he wanted to.

While Stephanie was struggling with her dilemma, Avon suddenly came forward and said, Dream on. Believe me when I say I can beat the shit out of you right now!”

Jeremy was taken aback. He did not expect Avon to be more arrogant than him!

“Oh really? You’d better not come and beg me later!” Jeremy said fiercely.

“Mr. Lincoln, I’ll have my man give him a beating now!” Danson said. He wanted to curry favor with Jeremy.

“Patience. It can wait. Besides, they have no way to run anyway,” Jeremy smirked.

Danson could only comply.

Jeremy was the son of Southlake City’s fourth-in-command. Danson naturally knew whose side to take.

If he could flatter both father and son of the Lincoln family, his future in Southlake City would be secured.

“Move aside! You have no right to keep us here! I can just call the inspector over!” Stephanie suddenly thought of this method to scare Jeremy.

Unfortunately, she miscalculated as Jeremy did not buy it. Instead, he started laughing out loud and said, “The inspector? You should know that my father is untouchable!”

“I don’t believe that you’re as invincible as you think. I’ll report it to the inspector now!” Stephanie said as she held her phone up, ready to make a call to the inspector.

She was confident because the inspector general was now Joey Sanders, and Chief Sanders was a righteous person.

Avon stopped Stephanie from making the call.

“Ms. Wildman, there’s no need to. It’ll just complicate things. Just wait a little more. Don’t and let me handle this.” Avon knew that Macy was already on her way. If the inspector was to be involved, they would not be able to deal with the Lincoln father and son.

“Do you think we can get out of this situation?” Stephanie asked anxiously.

“Don’t worry about it. I’ve already given Caspian a call. Help will come very soon!” Avon said. It was at this moment th aggressive nature.

that Belvin showed up with some men, their stance showing their

Chapter 212 Useless Status

When Belvin walked into the hotel, he saw that everything was in a mess.

His son had blood on the corner of his mouth, and there were people lying on the floor.

“Dad! You’re finally here!” Jeremy was excited to see his father show up.

Belvin brought five bodyguards with him. When the security guards saw them, they made way for the bodyguards.

Stephanie and her family grew even more anxious when they saw Belvin.

“Who’s the punk who dares to hit my son?” Belvin was furious to see his son’s injury.

“Mr. Lincoln, it’s him. But don’t worry, my men have him restrained. He won’t be able to run away. He’s all yours now!” Danson came forward and pointed at Avon.

hands

“Who are you? Why did you lay your hands on my son?” Belvin asked furiously.

“Your son’s an arrogant bully. He even dares to disrespect his teacher. Tell me, how could I not punish him?

“When a child misbehaves, it’s always the parent’s fault. Judging from your son’s trashy character, I’m pretty sure the apple doesn’t fall far from the tree,” Avon rebuked.

“This is ridiculous! Do you know who I am?” Belvin asked, enraged.

“The fourth-in-command of Southlake City. What about it?” Avon said.

He had the backing of the Diatoranian God of war. Even if it was the regional chief of Two Lakes, he would not be intimidated.

What was a mere fourth-in-command of Southlake City going to do?

Stephanie and her family were dumbfounded.

They never expected Avon to be so fearless in the face of influential power. “I can’t believe this shit! Give him a good beating. Break his fucking legs!” Belvin said to his bodyguards.

“All of you, help them give this punk a lesson and beat the shit out of him!” Danson yelled for his security guards to join Belvin’s bodyguards.

He was desperate to bootlick Belvin as it could help him out in the future. After hearing the command, all the bodyguards and security guards charged toward Avon.

This scene got Stephanie and her parents terror-stricken. They froze on the spot, not able to move an inch.

Avon, on the other hand, remained as calm as he always had been. He knew that he could easily defeat these people on his own.

He just needed to restrain the father and son duo and wait for Macy to arrive. It was at this critical moment that a gorgeous lady showed up. Behind her were five majestic men.

This beautiful lady was none other than Macy!

“Stop right there!” Macy direction.

ried out as she witnessed a group of men charging in Avon’s

Every single one of them stopped in their tracks and looked over to the main entrance of the hotel.

Avon was relieved to see that Macy had brought reinforcements with her. He could have easily defeated the enemies on his own, but protecting Stephanie and her family at the same time would have been rather difficult.

Macy made an imposing entrance.

Jeremy had his eyes fixated on Macy.

He found Macy to be more attractive than Stephanie. Perhaps they were different types of Women.

Stephanie was gentle and charming while Macy was young and hot!

Even Belvin was bewitched by Macy.

Having been in Southlake City for so many years, he had seen many beautiful women before. However, Macy was one of a kind.

While the father and son duo were still deep in their trance, Macy shouted, “Capture both Belvin and Jeremy!”

The five elite soldiers charged forward with lightning speed and restrained the Lincolns on the ground!

This scene caught everyone off guard. Macy brought these men with her and just casually trampled over the fourth-in-command of Southlake City!

Where did this blind courage come from?

Who was this audacious woman? Could she not know that Belvin was the fourth-in-command of Southlake City?

Danson and his security guards did not even have time to react. Everything happened too fast.

+15 BONUS

Jeremy's men were all shocked by what they were seeing.

The few men that this beautiful lady brought with her were no average men! Even their presence was extraordinary!

The only calm one at the scene was Avon. This sort of situation was nothing new to him.

Stephanie was shocked to see Macy. She knew who Macy was. She had seen her with Caspian before.

What surprised her was that Macy attacked Belvin right away after arriving at the hotel.

Considering that she had only brought five men with her, it felt like such a pompous move to capture the fourth-in-command of Southlake City!

"What on earth is this? Release me now! You fools, don't you know what my identity is? You think I'll let this matter go easily?"

Belvin shouted while still being restrained on the floor.

He momentarily suspected that Macy might have gotten the wrong person.

"Belvin, you're the one I want to catch!" Macy had done her homework before. She recognized him easily.

"I'm the fourth-in-command of Southlake City! How dare you lay a finger on me? Do you have a death wish?" Belvin shouted.

"So what if you're the fourth-in-command of Southlake City? You're the one I want to capture today!" Macy said in a serious tone..

"So you do know who I am, and you still dare to attack me? Let me go now. If not, I'll make sure you regret your actions today!"

Belvin yelled.

Even now, Belvin was still puzzled as to why Macy wanted to capture him.

"Take them away!" Macy said as she waved her hands. She could not be bothered to have this conversation with him.

The elite soldiers lifted the Lincolns and were preparing to leave the hotel.

“Mr. Baker, why are you just standing there? Come and rescue me! These men must be planning something and want to kidnap me! If you get me out of this, I’ll surely have your back in Southlake City next time!” Belvin said anxiously.

Danson recollected himself after hearing this. These people must be outlaws to dare to capture Belvin!

As long as he could save the Lincolns today, his future in Southlake City would be promising!

This opportunity was hard to come by! To have the fourth-in-command owe a favor was a dream for many.

+15 BONUS

Following this, Danson yelled his commands to the security guards on both sides, “Don’t just stand there! Go and rescue Mr.

Lincoln! He’s our city’s fourth-in-command!”

The security guards had also begun to calculate in their hearts after learning who Belvin was. If they managed to rescue him, they would also benefit from this! Right away, the guards eagerly charged toward Macy and her group.

Chapter 213 Your End Has Come

When Macy saw them charging toward her, she sprung into action.

The security guards were blindsided. The next thing they knew, they were already on the ground.

Her skills were impeccable! No average person could defend against her!

The five soldiers who came with Macy did not even need to help her. They left the hotel right away.

They were familiar with Macy’s ability. Dealing with these security guards was a walk in the park for her.

Avon had been protecting Stephanie and her family the entire time by standing in front of them. He did this to make sure nobody could come close and hurt them.

The guards were all brought down by Macy. One by one, they fell to the floor.

The security guards landed on Jeremy’s men as they were being thrown around. All of them were crying out in pain from being injured.

Everybody else in the hotel scurried into hiding as they were afraid of being collateral damage.

Macy’s combat skills were too strong. Even a dozen men could not hold a candle to her.

Danson could not believe that a mere woman like Macy could be so good at fighting.

While the Lincolns were exiting the hotel, they heard wailings. They could not help but turn their heads back to see what was happening.

Witnessing the extent of Macy's skills rendered them speechless.

Who would have known that this graceful woman would be such a great fighter!

Stephanie and her family were equally stunned by Macy. At first, when they saw that Macy had brought only five people with her, they were worried that they would not be able to go against the security guards.

Macy proved them wrong. They had nothing to worry about.

"What are you looking at? Move it!" the elite soldiers yelled when the Lincolns stopped moving to look behind them.

After she was done with the security guards, Macy walked over to Danson right away.

When he saw her coming toward him, he was scared witless. His knees gave out, and he knelt to the ground.

+15 BONUS

"Have mercy! Spare me!" Danson pleaded.

He had never met a woman like Macy who could fight this well. It was terrifying!

"You're mistaken. I'm not planning on hurting you. We damaged some of the hotel's furniture and would like to compensate. Let me know how much it is," Macy asked.

Her target was the Lincolns, not the hotel's owner.

"T-There's no need," Danson stuttered.

It was fortunate that he could still be alive. He dared not ask Macy for compensation.

All he wanted was for Macy to leave his hotel, along with the people she had brought.

After hearing what Danson said, Macy could not bother wasting a second more.

Now that they finally had the Lincolns captured, the father and son had to be dealt with as soon as possible.

Macy left the hotel in one of the SUVs.

Danson finally heaved a sigh of relief.

“Call the Inspector General’s office now. Tell them there was a kidnapping here!” Danson yelled at his security guards when he finally recollected himself.

The guards were stunned momentarily before finally springing into action. When Joey received the report, she was shocked.

Belvin was one of the high–ranking officials of Southlake City. What kind of scoundrel would be audacious enough to abduct the Lincolns in broad daylight?

Joey had been investigating Belvin lately. She had discovered the many crimes he had committed in the past. However, nothing could be done due to lack of evidence.

And because of that, she could not arrest him.

The abduction of the Lincolns had already made a negative impact.

If news got out, the people of Southlake City would panic.

Joey immediately gathered her team. She had decided to investigate this case herself.

There were surveillance cameras on the road outside the hotel. From the footage, she only managed to find three SUVs leaving.

Once she had her targets locked, she began her chase with the real–time tracking information provided by the Inspector General’s office.

Meanwhile, the situation was surprisingly calm in the SUV.

Jeremy was still oblivious to the danger he was in. When he saw Macy sitting next to him, he started to flirt with her.

“Hey pretty lady, you have such a great body. Are you a celebrity? You smell so good too!” he said.

Macy remained indifferent. She could not even bother to look at Jeremy. What use was there in talking to someone who was about to die?

“Do you already have a boyfriend? Why don’t you be my girlfriend? My dad’s really powerful in the city. I can give you whatever you want,” Jeremy said.

He was confident that they would be rescued.

Macy could not stand it any longer. How could this jerk still be so shameless when he was about to be executed?

“Shut your mouth!” Macy said coldly.

“There’s no need to be so unapproachable, pretty lady. I know that you’re still single. You look the part. You’re probably still a virgin, right? I'm good in bed. Why don't you let me go?

"Just tell me your price. If you become my girlfriend, I can give you as much as you want. I'll even forget about this abduction.

Just be with me. I'll make you happy!" Jeremy was relentless.

Macy slapped Jeremy in the face.

"Shut your trap!" Macy said.

Jeremy held a hand to his cheek that was now throbbing. He did not dare to utter a word more. His entire face had become really swollen.

Caspian rushed back to Southlake City.

He had managed to find something about Willow's biological mother.

However, this matter required further investigation.

When Willow heard about this, she got really excited. She began to be hopeful.

It just so happened that Southlake Corporation had business in Easton.

Willow was prepared to go over to Easton for a visit.

Meanwhile, Macy brought the Lincolns to a secluded place.

When they arrived, the special forces soldiers kicked the father and son out of the car.

"What do you plan to do?" Belvin asked in a worried tone. He had taken a look at their surroundings and felt that something was not right.

"You're about to meet your end. This is your execution spot!" Macy said.

The Lincolns froze upon hearing this. They began to fear for their lives.

"What? Why would you want to kill us? Is it because of money? Just let me know how much!" Belvin was perplexed.

They were not kidnappers?

"I'm from the investigative team. Both of you have been going around doing things as you see fit, breaking the law for your personal gains. We have gotten orders from our higher-ups to punish you right here, right now!" Macy said.

Since they were about to die, it did not matter to let them know the truth..

"The investigative team? You must be lying. I don't believe you. You guys must be impostors! Why would I not know that the investigative team has come to Southlake City?" Belvin asked, highly suspicious of what Macy had just said.

"It doesn't matter whether you believe me or not. Execute them now!" Macy gave her men the order. She could not be bothered to explain further.

Two of the elite soldiers went and held Belvin and Jeremy on the ground. Two other soldiers pulled out their guns from their waists and held them to the Lincolns' heads.

Chapter 214 It's You Again

When Belvin saw that the elite soldiers were not playing around, he went completely blank. His face was pale, and his entire body was trembling.

"S—Stop! Even if you want to kill me, shouldn't I know why?" Jeremy pleaded. He was used to being the one who trampled over others. He never expected a day like this would come, where he was being held at gunpoint.

"You abused your father's power as a high-ranking official in Southlake City. You wanted to take advantage of Lana Thomas, which drove her to jump off a building. She almost became paralyzed!" Macy said coldly.

Only then did Jeremy realize it was because of that incident.

"Even if you're from the investigative team, what can you do about it? I'm a high-ranking official of Diatoran. It's illegal for you to execute me in private! You don't have the authority to do so!" Belvin said with a sullen expression.

"You really think so? Caspian Lynch, the Diatoranian God of War, personally gave us the order. The both of you must die today!"

Macy sneered.

"What? Caspian's the Diatoranian God of War? How's that possible?" Belvin was utterly shocked. He never expected that Caspian would be the Diatoranian God of war!

"Isn't it shocking?" Macy smirked.

"Impossible! That loser, Caspian, is a soldier at most. How could he be the Diatoranian God of War?" Belvin refused to believe any of this was true.

"No more of this nonsense. Off with their heads!" Macy instructed as she waved her hand.

"You can't lynch me!" Belvin shouted at the top of his lungs.

"Don't kill me, please! I'm begging you, please give me one more chance! I'll definitely change my ways in the future!" Jeremy pleaded as he burst into tears.

At that moment, he suddenly felt remorseful.

Right when the two elite soldiers were about to execute the Lincolns, more than a dozen vehicles from the Inspector General's office arrived at the scene.

Both Belvin and Jeremy were overjoyed to see the people from the Inspector General's office. They were going to be rescued!

In an instant, the vehicles from the Inspector General's office stopped in front of everyone.

A group of armed inspectors rushed out of the car. Joey was taking the lead!

When Joey saw that the Lincolns were held at gunpoint, she immediately took out her gun and yelled at Macy, "Stop this instance! Put down your weapons. You're completely surrounded!"

The rest of her troops had also taken their weapons out.

Macy showed no signs of backing down. She immediately drew her gun out and pointed it at Joey.

Instantly, the atmosphere became tense.

When the Lincolns witnessed this scene, they were scared witless. They wanted to escape but were unable to.

"Why are you everywhere? You're like a ghost!" Macy was frustrated when she saw Joey.

"Macy Osborne, aren't you Caspian's comrade? What happened? Did you change your profession to be a robber?" Joey asked in a playful tone

The first time they met was on the Cliff of Death. It was there that they had some minor friction with each other.

"I'm carrying out a secret mission. You'd better not interfere!" Macy warned.

"What secret mission?" Joey asked.

Macy might be an acquaintance of Caspian, but the fact that she was going to kill a high-ranking official of Southlake City made things complicated.

How could Joey just sit idly by? She had to investigate this matter.

"Are you stupid? I already said that it's a secret mission! Why are you still asking me?" Macy said coldly.

There was no need for her to report this matter to Joey.

"You have to explain yourself. Otherwise, you'll be deemed a dangerous person and get shot on the spot. I'll give you one last chance. Put your weapon down now and follow me back for further investigation!" Joey said calmly.

“Joey, I suggest that you mind your own damn business. Otherwise, you won’t even get to keep your position. Also, why would you want to rescue the Lincolns? Could it be that you have business dealings with them?” Macy could not help but be suspicious of Joey.

“Don’t make ungrounded accusations here. Even if they’ve committed wrongdoings, it’s still not up to you to punish them. I’ll further investigate this matter!” Joey countered.

Joey was well aware of the sins the Lincoln duo had committed. But this did not mean that they could be killed without a purpose.

Belvin went silent immediately after seeing how angry Joey was. He did not dare to utter at single word more.

“Joey, if you still refuse to believe me, I can make a call now. You’ll surely be asked to leave this place later,” Macy said.

Initially, Macy’s plan was flawless. She could have made the father and son disappear without a trace.

Who knew Joey would interfere? Macy did not want to get into a conflict with Joey over this matter.

She understood that Joey was just doing her job and being impartial. In the end, she had not choice but to call Sylvia.

She did not want to bother Caspian over this trivial matter.

“It’s your choice. But I hope that you won’t play any tricks with me,” Joey said. Joey had an advantage here. Her men outnumbered Macy’s. This was why she was not worried that Macy would act recklessly.

Macy called Sylvia.

“Hey, Macy. How’s everything?” Sylvia asked.

“I was about to execute Belvin and Jeremy, but Chief Sanders suddenly showed up. They insist that we stop our operation. The situation's getting complicated," Macy said.

"Hold your fire. Let's not have conflict with the people from the Inspector General's office. I'll give a call to the regional chief of Two Lakes now and have them order Joey to leave!" Sylvia said.

And with that, she hung up the phone with Macy. She then called Andrew, the new regional chief of Two Lakes.

When he saw Sylvia's call, he immediately answered the phone and asked, "Hello, General Frost. How may I help you?"

"Chief Satori, my men are carrying out a secret mission. We're about to execute the high-ranking official, Belvin, and his son, Jeremy. However, Chief Sanders is interfering with our operation. We need you to order her to leave immediately," Sylvia said.

"What? You want to execute Belvin Lincoln?" Andrew asked anxiously.

"That's right. Belvin has broken the law for his personal gain. His son is pompous and acts as he wishes. It would be unjust to let them continue living. Also, have your men arrest Bailey. I have the entire Lincoln family's criminal records here with me!" Sylvia ordered.

"Yes, yes

5, yes. I will inform Joey to have her leave immediately!" Chief Satori said. He was extremely worried. He did not dare to question further.

As for the investigative team, it would be better for him to feign ignorance. Meanwhile, things were heating up at the execution spot outside of Southlake City.

"Macy, my patience has its limits. You'd better not pull any funny tricks. If there are no updates within the next minute, I won't show you any mercy!" Joey said coldly.

"Be patient. The regional chief of Two Lakes will personally give you a call soon!" Macy said.

As soon as she finished speaking, Joey's phone started ringing.

She picked up her phone and saw that it really was a call from Chief Satori, the regional chief of Two Lakes!

"Chief Satori." Joey did not dare to neglect the phone call and answered immediately.

“Joey Sanders, I order you to leave immediately. Do not interfere with this matter. It’s the decision of the investigative team to execute the Lincolns. We have no jurisdiction over this matter!” said Chief Satori, the regional chief of Two Lakes.

“Investigative team? What investigative team? Why haven’t I heard about them before?” Joey asked, perplexed.

“There’s no need for you to know. Just obey the order! Get out of there immediately!” Andrew said urgently.

Andrew was a little speechless. He thought that Joey was too audacious. She had clashed with Caspian’s investigative team multiple times. She was jeopardizing her career.

“Yes, sir!” Joey obliged. The chief sounded urgent, and she did not dare to disobey his orders.

“Another thing. Belvin Lincoln’s wife has also done some illegal things. Bring your men and arrest his wife right away!” Chief Satori said.

“Yes, sir!” Joey said.

With dismay, Joey ordered her men to retreat. It was humiliating, but there was nothing she could do about it..

“Retreat immediately!” Joey said as she waved her hand.

“Chief, why do we have to retreat? We have them surrounded. You just have to give us the order. They won’t be able to escape.

This is such a great opportunity for us! We’d be the first to achieve this!” one of the inspectors said emotionally.

“Stop your nonsense and obey the order immediately!” Joey said in a frustrated tone.

When those subordinates saw how upset Joey was, they did not dare to question further and could only retreat as ordered.

When Macy saw that they were retreating, she did not say anything as well. After all, Joey was also fulfilling her duties as a fellow Diatoranian.

When Belvin and his son saw that Joey was preparing to leave, they shouted, “Chief! Chief! How could you abandon us?”

“Yeah! How could you bear to watch us get killed?” Jeremy wailed.

Joey completely ignored them and left the scene with her troops.

The Lincolns became hopeless once more. When they thought that there was still hope for them, they were let down once again.

It was such an emotional rollercoaster, and they could not accept it!

“Begin the operation,” Macy instructed.

Belvin and Jeremy fell to the floor. They were both in utter despair. It was at this moment that they finally believed Caspian to be the Diatoranian God of War. Otherwise, why would the parties from the Inspector General's office refuse to interfere?

Five elite soldiers took their guns out and pointed at the Lincolns.

"Dad! Save me! I still want to live! Aren't you the fourth-in-command in Southlake City? Surely you have a way out, right? We've been through difficult times in the past, and you were always able to get us out.

"I'm sure you can save us this time too!" Jeremy was still hoping that his father could turn the situation around.

"Punk, it's all your fault! If it wasn't because of you, why would we even be in this situation now?! At this point, nobody can save us anymore!" Belvin roared.

At that moment, he hated this useless son of his. If Jeremy had not caused trouble, he would not have been implicated.

Who would have expected Stephanie's student to be the Diatoranian God of War? If he had known about it, he would not have dared to lay a finger on Stephanie!

It was too late now. They could no longer make up for their mistakes!

"Hey, pretty lady! Save me! Please spare me! I haven't reached my 20s yet! I don't want to die! Jeremy knelt on the ground as he begged for his life.

"Do it now!" Macy ordered, completely ignoring Jeremy's pleas.

The shots were fired.

The sound of gunshots echoed in the air.

The Lincolns collapsed to the ground in a pool of blood.

The two bastards finally got the punishment they deserved!

Macy instructed for the bodies of the Lincolns to be buried in that spot. They could leave after they had finished their duties.

She revealed the result of her negotiations at Southlake Corporation to the Stewart family.

Every single one of the Stewart family members, excluding Carl, hated Willow.

They felt that she was too cruel. However, they could not come up with anything to deal with the situation.

They could only send someone over to re-sign the contract. After all, they could not afford to pay for the costs of breaching the contract. Their best option at the moment was to preserve their capital.

Meanwhile, Willow was having a discussion with Caspian at Riverside Duplex Villa.

“Hubby, now that the company has stabilized and Southlake Corporation has an upcoming project in Easton, I feel like taking this opportunity to go over. That way, I can also find out more about my biological mother,” Willow said to Caspian.

Southlake Corporation might have been stabilized, but they still needed to develop further in order to become a large enterprise in Diatoran.

Easton was the next strategic location for Southlake Corporation as it was the second largest city in Diatoran after Dhord City.

Willow planned to head down to Easton personally to see for herself.

Caspian smiled and said, “Honey, I’ll be your biggest supporter in whatever you do.”

With everything sorted out, Caspian wanted to take this opportunity to go on a honeymoon with Willow when they went to Easton.

“But I’m worried. Since I’m not familiar with Easton, I may have to put in more effort if I want to expand our business to Easton,” Willow said in a concerned tone.

“That’ll be a piece of cake! It just so happens that I have nothing to attend to for the time being. I’ll go to Easton with you!”

Caspian said as he smiled.

“Hubby, you’re the best!”

Willow threw herself into Caspian’s arms.

Ever since she knew that Caspian was a general officer, she suddenly felt that Caspian was a precious gem.

Willow had also begun to be more expressive with Caspian. She wanted to keep this amazing man on a tight leash.

Easton was pretty far away from Southlake City. Caspian could not let Willow go there on her Own.

He booked a flight immediately and was prepared to go to Easton.

He also ordered for Macy and the rest to be on standby in Southlake City for the time being.

As for Sylvia, she was to go to Easton on a different flight.

It only took them less than two hours to arrive in Easton.

“Easton is definitely much more developed than Southlake City!” Willow exclaimed as they exited the airport.

Easton was bustling with traffic. It felt livelier in Easton. Southlake City paled in comparison.

“That’s a given. After Dhord City, Easton is the next most developed city!” Caspian said.

“Let’s get to the hotel and have a rest,” Willow replied.

She had already booked a suite with a five–star hotel beforehand.

Suddenly, a woman bumped into Willow.

“I’m sorry! I’m so sorry” the woman apologized.

She kept apologizing.

“It’s fine, it’s fine,” Willow said as she waved her hand.

Caspian observed the woman. She was dressed conservatively, with a hat and a mask.

She also wore sunshades that covered half of her face. It was not possible to see her face.

However, one could tell that this woman had a good physique.

“Go after her! She’s right in front!”

It was at this moment that several men dressed in suits and ties ran over toward them.

Chapter 216 A Woman With a Hot Figure

The woman looked at Caspian and Willow in a panicked state. She pleaded with them, “Can you help me? These bad guys are after me.”

Caspian frowned. He did not want to be involved with such troublesome matters.

After all, they had just arrived in Easton. Judging from the current situation, this woman must not be someone ordinary.

Besides, the men in suits looked like seasoned fighters who could fight well.

Willow looked at Caspian and said, “Hubby, she seems to be alone and is getting chased after by those men. Why don’t we help her out?”

Caspian was in a dilemma. Being soft–hearted was the one weakness Willow had.

“You bitch, we’ll see where you can run to! I suggest that you be obedient and follow us back!” the few men said as they smirked.

Caspian observed these men and felt that they were definitely people with bad intentions.

“Don’t even think about it. I won’t let you have your way!” the woman shouted..

“Who told you to piss Mr. Billy off? There’s no place left for you to hide in Easton.”

After speaking, the men rushed toward her and tried to take her away

Out of desperation, the woman hid herself behind Caspian.

“Hey, I suggest that you mind your own business and leave!” the leader of the group said to Caspian in a fierce manner.

“And what if I refuse?” Caspian said nonchalantly.

When they heard this, the men scowled. Their expressions became menacing.

“You must have a death wish. You can go and find out if anybody dares to meddle in Mahayan Pavillion’s affairs in Easton!”

When the passersby heard this name, they immediately went into hiding and watched from a distance.

It was rumored that Mahayan Pavillion was the best in Easton!

Even those with power in Easton had to appease Mahayan Pavillion.

Caspian might not know what Mahayan Pavillion was, but judging from the public’s reaction, he got the idea that this organization must be similar to the Flying Dragons. They must have done bad things.

“That was before. As of today, I’ll be meddling in it!” Caspian said coldly.

“How arrogant! You must really have a death wish!” the leader raged. He turned malevolent and said, “Attack! Destroy this ignorant bastard!”

They charged toward Caspian in an instant.

Caspian also ran toward them.

The next second, Caspian had struck them with a powerful punch. The men in suits all fell to the ground and wailed non–stop.

“What a bunch of losers. You’re no match for me,” Caspian said coldly.

The woman from before was shocked to see this.

Caspian was the first person in Easton who dared to attack Mahayan Pavillion!

“Let’s go,” Caspian said as he held Willow’s hand. He was prepared to leave the scene.

"Wait!" the woman shouted.

"What now?" Caspian scowled.

"Please help me out one more time, I beg you! Please take me with you. Otherwise, I'm still dead meat after you leave!" the woman said pitifully.

Caspian was speechless. Why did they have to encounter such a troublesome matter? However, he could only relent when he saw the sympathetic look in Willow's eyes.

"Fine," Caspian said..

The three of them got into a taxi.

When they were in the car, the woman removed her hat, mask, and sunshades. She revealed her face.

Caspian got it right. This woman was beautiful, but Willow was more beautiful. When Willow saw her face, she was surprised.

wow, I didn't expect you to be so beautiful!" Willow praised.

"Oh stop, you're also really beautiful! Oh right, I'm Rebecca Barnett. Thank you for saving me!" the woman said with a smile.

"Nice to meet you. I'm Willow Stewart. This is my husband, Caspian Lynch," Willow said as she introduced herself and Caspian.

At that moment, Rebecca had a look of disappointment on her face. She expected both of them to be surprised upon hearing her name, but they were not.

How could Willow make this decision for him without even asking for his opinion?

Nevertheless, Casplan wished for Diatoran to be free from people who abused their power to trample over the weak and commit evil. He had a duty to fulfill in eradicating such negative influences. "Hubby, you'll help her, right?" Willow asked Caspian coquettishly as she held his arm. "Of course. Since my wife has promised, I definitely won't object," Caspian said in agreement. Willow grinned with satisfaction. Caspian truly loved her a lot. Rebecca could see that these two had a really good relationship. "I say we forget about it. I'm extremely grateful for your help today. Billy is someone who thinks he's above the law. Things have never ended well for anyone who has crossed him. We met by chance. I wouldn't want you to suffer because of me," Rebecca said after giving it some thought.

Rebecca could tell that Caspian and Willow were not locals. They might not even be able to help her out.

“Since my wife has promised to help you, I’ll definitely find a solution for you. You don’t have to worry about it,” Caspian said with a smile.

He could even defeat the Flying Dragons, whose evil influence was scattered all over Southlake City.

Mahayan Pavillion was nothing in his eye!

Chapter 217 Remove His Arm

“Rebecca, don’t worry about it. My husband is really powerful. He can definitely keep you safe,” Willow said with a smile.

Rebecca began to be filled with curiosity. She wanted to know just how great Caspian was.

The two women’s conversation never stopped the entire way.

Caspian was a little speechless. It was as if he was the outsider among them.

Even when they arrived at the five–star hotel, the two women were still chatting.

Both of them were very interested in each other’s field.

Caspian had initially planned for a romantic honeymoon for him and Willow.

Who would have thought that there would be another one to disrupt their plan after Zoey?

In the end, Caspian could only book another suite.

Once they were in the room, Caspian made a call to Sylvia.

“Sylvia, I need you to investigate a female celebrity called Rebecca Barnett.

Do a background check on her. Also, you have to get here by tomorrow!” Caspian instructed.

“Yes, sir!” Sylvia replied.

Once they ended the phone call, Sylvia immediately began her investigation.

The reason Caspian was being this cautious was because Rebecca’s appearance was rather sudden. He could not let a complete stranger be so close to Willow.

A few minutes later, he received a call from Sylvia.

“Caspian, I’ve already investigated. Rebecca is an artist from Starsphere Media. She has dabbled in film and music.

“She’s a really famous celebrity in the entire Diatoran. However, she recently rejected the sexual advances of Billy Jennings from Mahayan Pavilion and is currently being hunted down by them...”

Sylvia had used the information network. She managed to find information on Rebecca within a short period of time.

After hearing the report from Sylvia, Caspian felt more relieved. Rebecca turned out to be an ordinary artist. It was fine as long as she did not have any special identity.

“Mahayan Pavilion is the most powerful group in Easton. The entire Easton is under their control. Wylie Jennings, also known as Lord Jennings, is a vicious person.

“His son, Billy Jennings, is a salacious man who often targets women from good families. He particularly likes to take advantage of female celebrities and models.

“Just the mention of his name would send all the women in Easton into a rage!” Sylvia said through the phone.

Caspian’s face darkened after hearing the report.

Yet another group that preyed on the public!

“Mahayan Pavilion shall not remain!” Caspian said coldly.

He then said, “Sylvia, please tell me all there is to know about the power divisions of Mahayan Pavilion!”

“The Mahayan Pavilion has been established for decades. Wylie has been the master of Mahayan Pavilion for almost 30 years. However, he’s a mysterious man. He rarely shows his face to people!

“Also, there’s another force that’s as strong as Mahayan Pavilion. It’s called Celestial Sanctum. They’re the older force.

“However, as Mahayan Pavilion is growing stronger, Celestial Sanctum’s influence is also gradually weakening. Nonetheless, they’ve never given up on competing for hegemony with Mahayan Pavilion.

“There are also the Four Noble Lineages in Easton, and their relationship is even more complicated...”

After listening to Sylvia’s introduction of the group, Caspian became immersed deep in his thoughts.

The forces in Easton appeared to be a lot more complicated than those of Southlake City’s.

“This is our chance. When you arrive tomorrow, you’ll be in charge of Rebecca’s safety.

“She’ll be the catalyst for our mission. Mahayan Pavilion has abused their authority for far too long. Having trampled all over the people for so long, they must be eradicated!” Caspian said, with conviction.

“Yes, sir!” Sylvia responded.

Caspian came to Easton with Willow to wind down. Who would have expected that they would bump into something like this?

As the Diatoranian God of War, he simply could not sit idly by.

Starsphere Media was a company in Easton that specialized in producing artists.

Rebecca was the biggest celebrity in the company.

The news about her rejecting Billy's sexual advances had negatively impacted the company.

"Where the hell is that bitch?" Billy asked with a sinister expression. He was in an office building.

A man with a badly beaten face was kneeling on the floor as he watched Billy with fear in his eyes.

Billy's outward appearance was thin and frail. His body had become extremely weak due to the long years of him being addicted to alcohol and sex.

He had his eyes on Rebecca from the very beginning. The cocktail party he organized on this day was for him to take advantage of Rebecca.

He did not expect that Rebecca would humiliate him in public by slapping him on top of rejecting his advances.

However, what surprised him most was the fact that there was someone in Easton who dared to meddle in Mahayan Pavilion's affairs.

Not only that, the men he sent to capture Rebecca got beaten up badly on top of returning empty-handed.

Being the son of the master of Mahayan Pavilion, he could not accept the humiliation.

He had brought his men to Starsphere Media and released all his anger on the boss.

"Mr. Billy, I have no idea where she is now. If she has done anything to offend you, I'll apologize on her behalf," Keller begged while kneeling down. His full name is Keller Dolan. He was the boss of Starsphere Media.

Keller felt utterly wronged. He had never committed any mistake, yet he was still beaten to a pulp.

If he did not locate Rebecca's whereabouts, he would be dead meat.

Not a single person in Easton dared to offend Mahayan Pavilion!

"Don't fucking lie. Rebecca is your company's artist. How could you not know where she is? You'd better call her now and have her show up in front of me. Otherwise, I'll make Starsphere Media vanish from Easton!" Billy said viciously.

"Alright, alright. I'll call her immediately."

Keller could not refuse Billy's demands. He took out his phone and dialed Rebecca's number.

Meanwhile, Rebecca was having the time of her life chatting away with Willow at the five-star hotel when her phone rang.

When she saw the screen, her countenance fell. Her smile froze instantly.

"What happened?" Willow asked once she saw the change in Rebecca's expression.

"It's a call from my company," Rebecca said, her voice full of fear.

Nonetheless, she answered the phone.

"Rebecca! Where are you? Please come back to the company right away.

Otherwise, I'm as good as dead!" A wailing sound came out from the phone.

"Mr. Dolan, what's the matter?" Rebecca asked.

At that moment, Billy's sinister voice could be heard on the phone.

"Rebecca, you think you can escape from my clutches? If I don't see you today, this boss of yours is going to become a corpse!

I'm giving you half an hour to reach the company!"

The call ended right after he finished his sentence.

Rebecca became dejected instantly. The situation was worse than she imagined.

"Rebecca, what's the matter?" Willow asked, feeling confused.

"Billy brought his men to the company. He's forcing me to go back. Otherwise, he'll kill my boss!" Rebecca said with tears welling in her eyes.

"How terrible! These people are really cruel! I'll go and ask my husband about what we should do," Willow said urgently.

Rebecca knew very well that if she were to return to the company, Billy would definitely ravage her.

But she could not sit idly by with her boss' life at stake. Without Keller, she would not be who she was today.

In a way, Rebecca owed it to Keller for who she had become today.

Caspian walked in right at that moment.

"Hubby, you're here!" a smile appeared on Willow's face when she saw Caspian appear.

"I heard about it. Come with me to meet Billy Jennings. I'd like to see for myself just how capable this man is," Caspian said indifferently.

"There are many expert fighters around Billy. Even if you go. Never mind. I wouldn't want to drag you down with me," Rebecca said after hesitating for a moment.

"Rebecca, you can trust my husband. He'll surely be able to help you!"

Willow now trusted Caspian unconditionally.

Nodding, Rebecca accepted their kind offer.

Meanwhile, tension was rising at Starsphere Media.

A shiny short knife was being pressed against Keller's neck.

At that moment, Keller was scared out of his mind. He did not dare to utter a single word.

"You have 30 minutes left. If Rebecca still isn't here once time is up, don't blame me for being heartless!" Billy said with an evil smile.

"Please, don't! Don't kill me!"

Keller had become numb. He could only pray for Rebecca to show up as soon as possible.

Minutes flew by.

There were only two minutes left.

"I guess Rebecca isn't showing up. Hey, let's remove one of his arms first!"

Chapter 218 You're Gutsy

"Yes, sir!"

At Billy's order, a subordinate of his gripped tightly onto the short knife. He was prepared to take action.

"Have mercy! Have mercy on me! Rebecca could be on her way now!" Keller yelled hysterically.

At that critical moment, a loud noise could be heard.

The door to the office was kicked open by someone.

Caspian walked in with Rebecca.

"Mr. Dolan, are you okay?" Rebecca shouted loudly.

"Rebecca, you're finally here! I almost died!" Rebecca's arrival felt like a saving grace to Keller.

Rebecca then glared at Billy and said, "Billy, this has nothing to do with Mr. Nolan. Let him go!"

"Rebecca, you sure were ballsy when you attacked me. Today, I'm going to have you under my crotch, begging for mercy!” Billy said with a vicious smile.

When Billy’s men heard this, they got excited.

Who knew, they could be fortunate enough to join in on this feast tonight? In the past, there had been many female models and celebrities who were brutally raped by Billy and his subordinates.

Nevertheless, nobody ever dared to pick a fight with Billy.

Rebecca did not expect this bastard to be so shameless.

However, she knew very well that Billy had done many evil things before.

Previously, a female artist from the same company was raped by Billy!

Her naked body was found in a hotel. It was absolutely miserable!

However, this matter was covered up pretty quickly.

Whenever she thought about this, she would be filled with rage. If she were to find herself in a similar situation, she would rather bite her tongue off and commit suicide!

“What are you waiting for? Catch her now. I’ll just fuck her in the office!” Billy said eagerly. He could no longer suppress his sexual urge.

“Yes, Mr. Billy!”

Billy’s men started to approach Rebecca while leering at her.

“Don’t come near me!” Rebecca said, full of fear.

“Hey pretty little lady, you’d better be honest with yourself. Mr. Billy is a considerate man to his chicks!” they sneered.

Just the thought of Rebecca’s hot body moaning under them made them extremely excited.

“Leave me alone!”

When they were about to pull Rebecca away, a loud sound pierced the air. Three loud bangs filled the room.

A man emerged from behind Rebecca.

He flexed his wrists.

Every single one of Billy’s men flew out of the room.

“Ignoring my presence, I see?” Caspian said coldly.

He had been standing right behind Rebecca but was completely ignored by Billy.

“Who the hell are you? How daring of you to stick your nose in my business!” Billy said as he sized Caspian up.

“You don’t deserve to know my name,” Caspian said coldly.

He then sat down on the sofa.

“You...”

Billy was indignant that this man was showing off in front of him!

“Bastard! I’m Billy Jennings of Mahayan Pavilion. Do you want to die?” Billy said angrily.

Caspian could not be bothered to have this conversation with him. He lifted his leg and kicked the men standing next to Keller.

Keller immediately got up and ran to hide behind Caspian.

“We’re safe now, Rebecca! Did this person come with you? He’s amazing!”

Keller said as he breathed a sigh of relief.

There were only a handful of people in the entire Easton who dared to go against Billy.

“Mr. Nolan, I actually don’t know him that well,” Rebecca said,

After all, they had only met each other for the first time today.

+15 BONUS

“Hey shithead, where did you come from? If you have the balls, you’d better tell me your name!” Billy did not act right away.

He wanted to find out Caspian’s background before he acted.

After all, the forces in Easton were complicated.

Sure, Mahayan Pavilion was a powerful organization, but he would not want to be careless if he were to come face-to-face with an expert.

As the son of the master of Mahayan Pavilion, he was not entirely brainless.

“Are you deaf? I said, you don’t deserve to know my name!” Caspian said with a dark expression.

“Fuck! How dare you disrespect me!” Billy was thoroughly furious now.

He had never been wronged in his life.

“Finish him!” Billy ordered as he waved his hand.

“Yes, sir!”

At Billy’s order, his people charged toward Caspian.

Caspian, who was seated on the sofa, was unperturbed.

Just when the men were about to approach Caspian, he leaped from the sofa. With lightning speed, Caspian’s legs flung around. The men could not keep up with the speed.

All the men fell to the floor, wailing.

“A bunch of losers!”

Billy was momentarily stunned. He did not expect his men to be so useless.

Caspian then walked toward Billy.

“Don’t come near me!” Billy shouted when he saw Caspian approaching him with a menacing look Without saying a word, Caspian slapped Billy across the face. The sound that came from the slap was loud.

Billy held a hand to his sore cheek. Two of his teeth had fallen out.

“Fuck! How dare you hit me in the face!” Billy was furious.

Caspian totally ignored him.

He raised his hand again and delivered two slaps across Billy’s face.

+15 BONUS

Billy could not withstand the blows. Caspian’s slaps sent him collapsing.

He lay on the ground, unable to even move an inch.

Billy was rendered completely dispirited.

He did not even dare to make a sound anymore.

He did not expect to find someone so arrogant in Easton.

How could this person attack him even while knowing he was the Mr. Billy of Mahayan Pavilion!

“Get out of here! If you let me see you again, I’ll hit you every time I see you!”

Caspian said fiercely.

“You cheeky bastard. Just you wait, I’ll never let you go!”

Billy then left the office with his men.

Both Rebecca and Keller were stunned by Caspian.

Who was this man? How could he have the audacity to lay a finger on Billy Jennings?

“I’m truly thankful for you and Willow. I don’t even know how I can repay your kindness,” Rebecca said emotionally.

She thought that she would definitely be ruined by Billy this time. She had even prepared herself for death.

She did not expect Willow and Caspian to help her.

“It’s no big deal, Rebecca. From now on, we’re friends,” Willow said as she held Rebecca’s hand.

“Hey, Rebecca, you should find your path elsewhere, I’ve decided to shut the company down tomorrow. I’m prepared to leave Easton for good,” Keller said with a long sigh.

“What? Why? Isn’t our company growing rapidly now?” Rebecca asked in shock.

“We’ve offended Billy Jennings. He’ll definitely not let this go. I know that I have no power to fight someone like him. He’s way too brutal. I think it’s best for me to leave Easton as soon as possible,” Keller said with dismay..

Starsphere Media Corporation was the result of his blood, sweat, and tears. He could never bring himself to give this company up, but if he lose his life.

Continued to stay in Easton, he could even

Chapter 219 A Frustrated Father and His Useless Son

Keller was frightened out of his wits after the entire incident.

He no longer dared to remain in Easton.

“But...” Rebecca hesitated.

If Starsphere Media Corporation was to close down, she would have nowhere to go.

If the news of her offending Billy got out, no company would want to take her in.

She might even fall to the bottom and become a nobody. She could even be ostracized by the entire entertainment industry.

“Why don’t you sell the company to my wife?” Caspian suddenly said.

“What?” Keller asked in shock.

Even Willow did not expect Caspian to suggest this idea.

“My wife is the president of Southlake Corporation. She’s planning to expand to Easton. It just so happens that she’s in need of a subsidiary company!” Caspian said.

“But

...” Keller hesitated..

“You’ve offended Billy. He’ll definitely not let this go so easily. This company is doomed,” he continued.

“You mean that loser from earlier? If he dares to show up in front of me, I’ll definitely end him!” Caspian said with a smile.

Keller was startled to hear this. Other than Caspian, nobody else would dare to belittle Mr. Billy of Mahayan Pavilion like this.

“Is 500 million enough to acquire your company?” Caspian said as he held five fingers out.

He then looked at Willow and asked, “Honey, what do you say?”

Willow nodded. She had no objections..

Indeed, Southlake Corporation would need some development if they planned to expand their business to Easton in the future. A few million dollars was nothing to Southlake Corporation.

500 million?

When Keller heard this amount, he became dumbfounded.

In fact, Starsphere Media Corporation was not worth much. If it was not for having produced a huge star like Rebecca, their company might have even gone bankrupt.

+15 BONUS

When Caspian mentioned 500 million so casually, it came off as a shock.

“Is it too little?” Willow asked when she saw Keller staying silent.

“Oh no, it’s not!” Keller rushed to say.

He had originally planned to transfer the company. Now that someone had offered to acquire it at such a high price, he had no reason to refuse.

Following the acceptance of the offer, Willow and Keller signed the contract for the transfer. Starsphere Media Corporation was now a company under Willow’s name.

Rebecca was puzzled. She never thought that Willow would become her employer in the blink of an eye!

‘Rebecca, you’ll be one of my people from now on,’ Willow said as she smiled at Rebecca.

“Yeah,” Rebecca nodded and said.

Even though they had not known each other for long, Rebecca could feel that Willow was a kind-hearted person. She must also be a good employer.

“Now that the company has been transferred to you, I’ll get ready to leave Easton right away. There’s no place for me in this city anymore,” Keller said.

He planned to escape right after he got the money.

“There’s no need to rush. Would you consider becoming the general manager of Starsphere?” Caspian asked.

Willow may have taken over Starsphere, but she knew nothing about managing artists.

“Pardon? Did I hear wrongly?” Keller asked in disbelief.

He could not understand what Caspian was thinking.

Who would allow the ex-employer of a company to continue working in the company?

“Since I’m the president of Southlake Corporation, I won’t be in Easton often. I’ll definitely need a person in charge here. As for the remuneration part, you have nothing to worry about. You’ll definitely be satisfied,” Willow said.

She understood Caspian’s intention and fully agreed with his proposal.

Keller was a little moved by this gesture. Starsphere was his treasure. If it was not for Billy, he would never have thought of leaving.

“But... Billy...”

“You don’t have to worry about that. I can promise you, your safety won’t be in jeopardy,” Caspian said calmly.

+15 BONUS

Caspian’s unwavering confidence reassured Keller. Nodding, he said, “Alright then, you leave me no choice. I’ll take up this position of being general manager!”

“Hubby, from now on, we’ll have a place to call our own when we come to Easton next time!” Willow said excitedly.

Even though it all happened so suddenly, Caspian’s approach was right. Nobody knew that Caspian did all this with a bigger purpose in mind. He planned to eradicate all of the evil influences in Easton.

Meanwhile, Billy started throwing a tantrum once he returned home.

“Dad! Someone had the audacity to beat me up!” Billy howled upon arriving at the Jennings’ villa

Wylie was sitting on the sofa when he saw the miserable Billy walk in. He then began to rebuke him, “You punk! Whose daughter did you take advantage of again? Mahayan Pavilion may be powerful, but it’s not for you to misuse for your misdeeds! If it wasn’t for me, you would’ve already died multiple times!”

Wylie was utterly disappointed in this useless son of his. Other than going around harassing women, he was not capable of anything else.

His original intention was to have Billy inherit Mahayan Pavilion. However, it seemed like this would be impossible.

“Dad! It’s already frustrating that you aren’t planning to help me. Now, you’re even scolding me. There’s no place for me in this house anymore, huh? Fine, I’ll leave!” Billy said angrily. He then slammed the door furiously and left.

How could his own father not help him?

Billy was not going to let this go easily!

“This is so upsetting! What an unfilial son!”

Wylie was extremely upset.

Not long after, a white-haired elderly man walked in and asked, “Lord Jennings, would you like me to take action? It seems like Mr. Billy has encountered some trouble?”

“It’s fine! You don’t have to do anything for now. This kid had always misused Mahayan Pavilion’s powers to act recklessly.

“It’s a good thing that someone taught him a lesson. This will save him from provoking someone more powerful in the future. I can’t imagine the consequences that would bring,”

+15 BONUS

“Yes, sir!” the elderly nodded.

“Are there any updates about Celestial Sanctum lately?” Wylie asked.

“We’ve received some information. Celestial Sanctum seems to be having a secret operation. They seem to be actively negotiating with the Four Noble Lineages. They have also been incessantly roping in other forces. It seems they plan to compete with us for hegemony!”

Wylie let out a chuckle.

He then sneered and said, “I see that they haven’t given up yet.”

“Lord Jennings, what should we do about it? If Celestial Sanctum joins forces with the Four Noble Lineages, it would bring us great trouble!” the elderly man said.

Wylie rubbed his chin as thought about it.

He then said, “Yeven, I plan to have a dinner party. Have the invitations ready. I plan to invite all the big and small forces. Invite the Four Noble Lineages as well. I want to see for myself how many people will be on my side!” Wylie said with a menacing look.

The ones who did not attend even after receiving the invitation would effectively lose their foothold in Easton.

“Understood. I’ll have it done right away!” Yeven nodded and said.

“Lord Jennings!”

It was at this moment that The Reaper rushed in.

The Reaper had an anxious look on his face.

As soon as he came in, he knelt down in front of Wylie and asked, “Lord Jennings, how do you plan to avenge Sir Leon?”

When Wylie saw The Reaper’s sudden appearance, he frowned.

The Reaper kept urging him to avenge Leonardo.

But Mahayan Pavilion was troubled both internally and externally. How could he afford to think about anything else?

“I have sent my men to investigate this matter. Please wait patiently for a few more days. I have a few important matters to deal with here,

“You don’t have to worry about Sir Leon’s matter, I’ll personally avenge him!” Wylie said as he forced a smile.

“But...”

+15 BONUS

The Reaper still had some questions he wanted to ask. Wylie had already gotten up and was ready to leave. When The Reaper saw Wylie leave, he could not do anything about it. He had been in Easton for quite some time already. He could tell that Wylie had no intention of avenging Sir Leon. The Reaper had even thought of seeking revenge on Caspian himself. However, when he remembered how skillful Caspian was, he fell into utter helplessness! Even though he felt helpless and frustrated, he could only leave Jennings Residence for the time being. Meanwhile, Billy was still throwing a tantrum as he walked out of Jennings Residence. "He's mad at me again! It's already frustrating enough that he isn't helping me. But every time there's trouble, he'll just scold me! It's not like I enjoy getting beaten up!" Billy had initially expected his father to avenge him. Who knew that he would get reprimanded instead? "Mr. Billy!" The Reaper greeted when he saw Billy as he exited Jennings Residence. Billy turned his head to find that it was The Reaper. His mood instantly improved as he suddenly thought of an idea.

Chapter 220 The Four Noble Lineages of Easton

Billy knew about The Reaper's history. He also knew that The Reaper had come to urge his dad to avenge Leonardo. However, judging from the dejected look on his face, Billy could guess how it went down. "Hey Reaper, I heard that you're a skilled fighter who has reached the peak of your inner strength. Is that true?" Billy asked with a smile. "That's right, Mr. Billy." The Reaper nodded. The Reaper was surprised that Billy was concerned about him. They were not close to each other and had only met a few times. "I'm someone who likes to make friends with heroes. How about we have some fun tonight?" Billy asked as he patted The Reaper on the shoulder. Billy brought The Reaper to Elegarden Club. It was the most upscale club in the entire city of Easton. They were seated in a luxurious cubicle. Accompanying them was another young man. He was Simon Landers, the oldest son of one of the Four Noble Lineages.

“Mr. Billy, what’s the matter? Why is your face swollen like a pig?” Simon asked when he saw how pathetic Billy looked.

“Don’t even mention it. I met a tough guy today, and he beat the shit out of me,” Billy said as he took a sip of alcohol.

“What?” Simon asked, his face full of shock.

“Who was it? They must have a death wish. How dare they disrespect you!” Billy’s status as the son of the master of Mahayan Pavilion meant that he could act as he wished.

It was baffling that someone would dare to lay a finger on Billy.

Even The Reaper was surprised. At the same time, he suddenly felt that something was not right. It seemed like this feast had come with conditions.

“Don’t even mention it. I’m pissed as hell! I organized a small cocktail party today and wanted to fuck Rebecca. Who knew she would run away? And out of nowhere came this brainless dude

Rebecca had a pretty face and a hot figure. All of his rich friends knew very well what he had been planning to do to her.

“Do you know his identity?” Simon asked.

“No. But one thing’s for sure, he’s definitely not from around here. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have been so arrogant!” Billy said as she shook his head.

Not a single person in Easton would dare to lay a finger on him. Hence, he concluded that Caspian must have come from another city.

“Our Mr. Billy wouldn’t just forget about it, would he?” Simon teased.

“Fuck! I wanted my dad to avenge me, but he ended up scolding me instead when I told him about it. I left home in a fit of rage,” Billy said as he took another sip of alcohol.

“This is easy to handle. I’ll get a few men to avenge you,” Simon said confidently.

“Thanks a bunch, buddy. Everyone! Let’s enjoy the fucking night! Bill’s on me!” Billy cheered as he clinked his glass with Simon’s.

“Oh right, this is the helper I’ve found. The Reaper’s a master of internal strength!” Billy said as he introduced The Reaper to Simon.

When he heard this, The Reaper felt annoyed.

What did Billy even mean? Did he want to make him a thug?

However, The Reaper needed the Jennings family to help him. Because of this, he could only acquiesce to his demands. "At your service, Mr. Billy."

Billy laughed and said, "Reaper, as long as you can avenge me, I'll definitely help you entreat my father. I'll have him avenge Sir Leon!" Billy said as he feigned righteousness and benevolence. He knew very well that he needed to offer something in return to The Reaper. When The Reaper heard Billy's promises, he became overjoyed. He had to avenge Sir Leon by any means whatsoever.

"Come! Let's party like there's no tomorrow!" Billy said, raising his glass.

In another part of Easton, Willow was sitting in the office of Starsphere Media. She had become the new owner of the company.

Keller was holding an invitation as he asked, "Ms. Stewart, Wylie Jennings is suddenly holding a dinner party tonight. Should we go

The scale of the invitation was grandiose. The Jennings had practically invited every single one of the forces in Easton.

The reason Starsphere Media was invited was because of Rebecca.

As Willow took the invitation from Keller's hands, she looked over to Caspian for his opinion.

She had no opinions on matters like this.

"It's so kind of them to invite us. I don't see why we shouldn't go," Caspian said with a smile.

"But because Mahayan Pavilion and Celestial Sanctum have been competing for hegemony, tonight's party may not be as simple as it sounds," Keller explained.

"It's obvious that Mahayan Pavilion's intention is to test the forces and see whose side they're on. If they choose the wrong sides, Mahayan Pavilion and Celestial Sanctum might start striking!" Caspian said. He could see through Mahayan Pavilion's true intention in holding this dinner party.

"Hubby, it's too dangerous. Why don't we just not go?" Willow asked worriedly.

"Don't worry, Willow. Be it Mahayan Pavilion or Celestial Sanctum, they're nothing to me, Caspian said confidently.

Keller was astonished to hear this. If someone else were to hear Caspian, they would think he was insane and ridiculous.

“Where the fuck is Keller and Rebecca? Come out!”

It was at this moment that a loud yelling was heard coming from outside.

The door of the office was kicked open that instant.

Billy had brought his men and barged into the office.

“Everyone’s here! Splendid. I don’t have to locate you one by one, then. Don’t even think about running away today. Your end has come!” Billy said arrogantly

When he saw that Caspian and Willow were present as well, he felt excited.

While Billy was immersed in his own little world, he failed to notice how The Reaper’s expression had become dismayed.

Once he saw Caspian, he immediately frowned.

He never expected that Billy’s enemy would be Caspian.

Just looking at him reminded The Reaper of the horrifying battle in the Two Lakes area. Thousands of soldiers had tragically died in Caspian’s hands that fateful day.

Whenever he saw Caspian, he would feel extremely uneasy. Just like right now, his entire body would not stop trembling!

Billy’s appearance surprised Caspian.

He could see that Billy was a foolish man. He had just suffered and yet he still came back for vengeance!

“Mr. Billy, so it’s just these men, huh? They don’t look that great. I thought it’d be someone more impressive!” Simon said arrogantly.

While he was speaking, his wandering eyes landed on Willow.

A woman of this quality was hard to find in Easton! Even Rebecca paled in comparison.

“Mr. Billy, can you let me have this pretty lady over here?” Simon said with an evil look on his face.

“It’s a done deal. As long as we finish off this ignorant bastard, you and I can have one each. Rebecca will be mine, and this one’s yours to have. We’ll have a grand time with these toys!” Billy said as he grinned, seemingly pleased with himself.

Billy preferred female celebrities over commoners, especially the really famous ones. It gave him a great sense of satisfaction!

At this point, both men had already started to let their minds wander away in their own lewd world.
