

Chapter 9 More Answers

Gabe's P.O.V.

While we were waiting for Daniel and Aspen, Peter had taken out his phone and taken a picture of me with a sleeping Hunter in my arms. "Luna's request." He mumbled and I just smiled at him.

Hunter covers her ears as we all roar at Alpha Malcolm's words and I pull her closer to my chest, wanting to protect our Princess from harm. I hear her breathing even out and I know it won't take long before she is asleep.

"GeeGee, can we go to the Pack-house? I want to go to sleep." She asks and I get up with her in my arms. "Of course, Princess. Let's get you to bed." I say and Brent follows right behind me.

She giggles when she sees six Guards outside waiting for us and Chris and Peter are right behind us. "Just as a precaution, Princess." I whisper to her as I walk towards the Guards. One of the Guards takes off his jacket and puts it over Hunter, when he sees her shiver.

She gives him a smile as she puts her head on my shoulder and drifts off to sleep. "Daniel, maybe we should tell Aspen and Hunter what they are in for when we get home. I don't like that they will be unprepared." I tell him through the mind-link and he tells me that he was thinking the same thing.

We agree on telling them in the morning before we finalize the solution for the quarrel and head back home. I feel a lot better knowing that they will know the whole truth before we leave this Pack.

Daniel's P.O.V.

I stare at Aspen after I hear Hunter call Gabe "GeeGee" and she shrugs her shoulders. "Brent, why does she call him GeeGee?" I ask Brent as he follows Gabe out the door.

"Gamma Gabe." Is all he replies with and I still have no answer to my question. Aspen looks at me and I tell her what Brent's response was to my question. After a few minutes she starts laughing and now my confusion is complete, apparently my Mate has figured it out.

I wait for her to calm down and catch her breath before I ask her to clue me in on this mystery. "What is the first letter of Gamma and the first letter of Gabe?" She asks and I can smack myself in the face for not making that connection.

"You think she calls Brent "BeeBee." She whispers, sending me in to a fit of laughter and it takes me a few minutes before I am able to ask Brent that question through the mind-link. He confirms Aspen's suspicions and we both laugh our asses off at the expense of my Beta and Gamma.

Victor holds a straight face, but I can see the twinkle in his eyes as he listens to our conversation. I know that none of the men will call them those names to their faces, but behind their backs they sure as hell will.

I can see that Victor wants to say something, but I know that he won't, at least not without my permission. I nod my head and he says, "How is it possible that none of us ever made that connection and she makes it within two days?"

Victor smiles at Aspen as she is back at laughing her ass off again and I feel happy and content just listening to my Mate laughing. Hunter is going to light up the house, annoy the hell out of my Sons and I am going to enjoy every second of it.

Aspen tries to hide a yawn, but Victor and I both see it and Victor makes a quick exit out the backdoor as he mumbles something under his breath. I lift Aspen in my arms and make my way to her bedroom, she is asleep by the time I put her down on the bed.

After I have taken off her clothes I strip down myself and crawl into bed with a smile on my face. Joshua and I just stare at our Mate for a while and slowly my body gets taken over by the exhaustion, drifting off to sleep.

Hunter's P.O.V.

I wake up in the same room I woke up in yesterday and I slowly remember the events of the day, which left me so exhausted that I don't remember walking back to the Pack-house.

The last thing I remember is asking GeeGee to take me back here and I think someone covering me with something, but I am not to sure about that. I feel that someone is trying to link me and I slowly allow the link to open.

"Goodmorning, Princess. Are you awake?" Daniel asks and I smile widely as I hear his voice. "Goodmorning, Dad. Just opened my eyes, so give me a few minutes." I respond and he tells me that Peter and Chris are waiting for me to walk me home.

I walk in the bathroom to pee and after that I brush my teeth as I grab my bag to pull out some clothes to wear. Once I am done I pack up everything and that is when I see a jacket on the back of a chair, but I know it is not mine.

As I open the door I see Peter and Chris to my right and I ask them if they know who's jacket it is. "One of the Warriors put it over you as you were shivering in Gamma Gabe's arms." Peter says and I smile at the idea of someone doing that for me.

Peter points out the Warrior as we exit the Pack-house and I thank him as I hand him his jacket back. Some Pack-members stare at me as we walk past them and I giggle at John who is rolling his eyes.

"What is so funny, Hunter?" Peter asks and I tell him that everyone here knows not to mess with me, because I can kick all their asses. They all start laughing and I get a feeling that they don't believe me.

"Maybe you should ask Gamma Gabe, seeing the fact that he already met the underside of my boot." I say as I try to control my Lycan. The men gasp at my admission and we walk the rest of the way in silence.

Victor comes in sight and I motion the men to stop walking and to stay quiet. Daniel, Brent and Gabe are sitting on the front porch as I creep up on Victor, none of them warn him that I am approaching and when I am close enough I jump on his back.

"Goodmorning." I say as I land on his back and Victor just starts laughing as he tries to get from under me. "Hunter, behave yourself." Mom scolds me and I help Victor up, who is still laughing.

"It's okay, Luna. I think I might need to go back to Puppy training, Alpha." He says laughing and that is when everyone starts laughing. Peter and Chris shake their heads as they join the other Warriors a few feet away.

"Sorry, Victor. I didn't mean to embarrass you, but I have never been able to test if I could sneak up on a Lycan." I say to him as I walk to the front porch to get my coffee.

After we all have had some coffee and breakfast the Warriors disappear and suddenly Victor tells Daniel that the coast is clear. "Aspen, will you sit down for a moment? There is something I need to tell you and Hunter before we head home." Daniel says and the look on his face tells me that this is serious.

"Outside my Pack, no one else knows this and I like to keep it that way for now. However, Gabe pointed out that it was not fair to keep this from the two of you until we get home." I see Mom pale and I really hope it is not as bad as she thinks.

Daniel notices it as well and he says "Aspen, there is nothing to worry about. It is just that your lives will chance a lot more than what you bargained for and by telling you now, you will have time to at least ask questions and prepare yourselves."