

Chapter 165 Kick My Ass

Unknown's p.o.v.

I have got to be dreaming, this can't be right. I close my eyes for a moment as I shake my head and when I look at the front porch again there is no one there, but I am positive I saw what I saw. However, I need to be absolutely sure before I contact my Father and tell him about what I saw. I wasn't supposed to be here today, but right now I am glad I made the decision to visit my best friend ahead of schedule and it will give me a few more days to find out everything I can.

It isn't until dinner that I get to confirm what I saw earlier, I hadn't been dreaming and I am looking at the proof right now. How is this even possible? I try to wrap my head around it, but I can't seem to put the puzzle pieces together. Something is missing from this picture, I even start to ask myself why I missed it every other time I came to visit Autumn Pack.

The whispers around me give me at least a partial answer, she isn't from Autumn Pack and that is the reason I never saw her before today. With a few well-placed questions I find out that she is from Crimson Moon Pack and that she is helping the future Alpha and future Luna with combining their bookkeeping, a task no high-ranking Lycan in either Pack wants to do.

After dinner I find a secluded place to call home, but no one is picking up their phones. Normally those damn things are glued to their hands, but when you need them to answer their damn phone it seems as if they tossed them to the bottom of the ocean. I need to keep an eye on her and find out if she has a Mate or if she is aware of who she really is, does she even know she comes from the original Alpha bloodline of Blood Stone Pack?

Noah's p.o.v.

Another day I have been feeling off and we all know where that is coming from, we didn't believe our Angel while everything in me told me she was being truthful. I am glad we were kept busy yesterday with training and learning what our new position entails, it is just a little more than what a Head Warrior does. This morning Nathan walked out of his bedroom with a smile on his face and Nikolay got really pissed off with him, not understanding what was good about another day without our Angel close by.

That was until Nathan told him he had a similar dream as Nero had the other night and the three of us were groaning when Nathan told us rather vividly what his dream was about. Leaving me with a very annoyed Lycan because we can't build on our bond with Alayah, Eiji doesn't like the fact that she isn't within the territory and I hope he will calm down when she returns on Monday morning.

With today being a Saturday we have a different day ahead of us, we still have training today and I understand why Crimson Moon Pack still has Deltas. Training is mandatory here for everyone that has turned sixteen, but even the Pups and Omegas get trained and I was surprised to see that they can defend themselves enough to relief the Warriors of that task.

"I can't wait to see how the females in Autumn Pack react, they only show up at training to ogle the males and to wear their tiny sportswear. I doubt any of them would be able to defeat one of the Omegas from this Pack, I think even the Pups could have them on their asses in no time." Eiji says as we walk to the training grounds. "You're right. Why don't we make a schedule for the females from Autumn Pack to spar with an Omega or Pup from this Pack?" I ask him and Eiji is already pairing couples together.

"What are you smiling about?" Nikolay asks and when I tell him what Eiji is doing he starts laughing his ass off. We have never understood why females refused to train, but I think what pissed us off the most is that there are males in our Pack that believe that a female can't and shouldn't train. They honestly believe that a female is too weak and could never defeat a male, whether they are trained or not.

After training we head up to the Gamma floor to take a shower and get changed in some clean clothes, planning on having a relaxing day. Nikolay has decided we don't get to relax, because when I walk into the living room I see him sitting by the coffee table with papers spread out in front of him and as I look over his shoulder I hear Eiji chuckle in my head. Nikolay is making a list of all the females from Autumn Pack, he made a schedule in which we can pair them with a member of Crimson Moon Pack.

Once we are all seated with some coffee Nikolay starts calling out names and we answer him with a name to pair to his name, quickly going through the list. We have fun as we try to imagine how those sparring moments will go and Nathan starts calling out times to add to the list, we know none of these sparring sessions will go on for minutes. A knock on the door pulls our attention away from the schedule and I smile when I see Crystal walking in, followed by Marc and Anton.

"What are you doing? You have the rest of the day off." Crystal says, but when we tell her what we are doing she joins us and Nero explains to the guys why we are making this schedule. He even explains what usually happens during training in Autumn Pack, "You have got to be kidding me?" Anton says as he looks at the schedule in front of Nikolay and we all have to confirm that Nero is telling the truth.

Within half an hour Erick has joined us as well and we are going over the schedule and our plan, trying to figure out the best way and time to pull this off. "Let's hope no one has seen Alayah train, because it might make them aware of the fact that training is mandatory here and then the males will be prepared for an ass kicking." Crystal says and we look at her in confusion. "Alayah is a Beta and she has been training with Dad for the past five years, I am still waiting for the day she thinks she can finally kick my ass." Anton states.
