

Chapter 252 Drop A Bomb

Alayah's p.o.v.

I hear chuckles through the mind-link, as he looks at me in fear.

"I didn't do anything." Gilles says, as he tries to take a step back. Unfortunately for him, my Warriors know exactly what I expect of them and all he can do is stand there.

"Gilles, you are charged with the same crime as your Brother. The only difference is that your Mate is still alive and I have eye-witnesses to your crime." I state and I allow him the time to think of some sort of a defense.

I don't think he can come up with something that could justify what he put his Mate through, but I am willing to listen to his feeble attempt.

Just as Gilles is about to speak, a female steps next to Hondo. "Don't try to deny it, Gilles. I am more than willing to tell everyone what you and Haydu have put me through and for what. For me being of the same rank as you, I don't buy it, I never have. You are a sadistic Asshole, just like Tuold." She says.

"Gilles Terrell, you are charged with willingly cheating on your fated Mate. You put her through the pains of betrayal, every chance you got. You never hid this from her, you committed this crime in front of her, every single time. I, Alpha Alayah, sentence you to death." I say and within seconds Gilles is in cuffs too.

"Let us move on to the Parks family." I say and it takes a shove from my men for them to step forward.

I will only address the males at the moment, because I have a special surprise for Dusya. I charge both of them with the same crimes as Gilles and Tuold, both of them receiving the death penalty.

"I will return to you in a moment, Dusya. Just know that you will not escape justice." I say before I call the Hyll family forward and both Haydu and Orosz look confused at me.

"Haydu Hyll, besides helping Gilles, I also charge you with abusing Omegas. Both mentally and physically. For helping Gilles commit his crimes, I sentence you to death." I say and she looks at me, as if she can't believe what I have just said.

"Orosz Hyll, you are also charged with abusing Omegas. You are also charged with interfering with a connection, you tried to stop your Daughter, Steffy, from forging a bond with Charlie. You even made sure Charlie's parents knew that she was a Mountain Lion, their abuse of Steffy was mental of nature.

You and Haydu on the other hand resorted to physical abuse, but Charlie didn't give up on their bond and they are very happy together." I say, but I don't mention his sentence. I still have a few things to go through.

"Holly Farley, step forward." I say and a female steps forward with two young Pups. "Leo and Maja, I want the two of you to come over here. I don't want you anywhere near your Mother." Leo grabs his Sister's arm and walks towards Harper.

"Holly Farley and Orosz Hyll, I charge both of you with the death of Marcus Farley. Your cheating caused his death, because of what the two of you did he was unable to defend himself. Both of you are sentenced to death." I say and I am glad this is almost over.

"But what about my Daughter?" Holly asks and I can hear the gasps of her Pack-members. She didn't ask about her Son, she really doesn't care about him.

"I have found a family within my borders that is willing to adopt Leo and Maja. They don't care if Leo shifts into a Mountain Lion at sixteen or a Wolf at eighteen. You disgust me." I say and I turn to Noah, who is holding a bottle of water in his hand for me.

Nero and Nikolay sandwich me between them and for a moment I enjoy the warmth and comfort they offer me, but it isn't long lived.

"How can you accept them? They are your Stepbrothers, you should reject them and let better females take them as their Mate." A female to Hondo's left says and I look at the male that has an arm around her waist.

"I assume that he is your Mate?" I ask her as I walk towards them and she nods her head, as she steps closer to the male.

"How do you know one another?" I ask her, because Topaz tells me there is an interesting story there.

"Not that it is any of your business, but I have been friends with her Father since childhood." The male growls in my direction and I just stare at him, hoping someone will understand me.

"Hold on, you are saying that you watched her grow up and that you and her Father are about the same age." Janina says and he nods his head. "Did either one of you think about her Father's feelings in all this? After all you are definitely old enough to be her Father."

"That is different, there is no blood between the both of us. So this is no one's concern but ours." The female responds.

"And that is what Alpha Alayah is talking about. You think you have a right to be against her Mate-bond, but there is no blood between the five of them. So it is none of your business, just like you feel about your Mate-bond.

I didn't say anything, but the first few days were difficult for me. But I would never stand in the way of a true Mate-bond and I had hoped that I had raised you better. Alpha Alayah, I apologize for not educating my Daughter better, this shouldn't have happened." A male says and I knew the moment he stepped forward that he was her Father.

It takes a few minutes for the crowd to settle down, but it also gives the female a chance to apologize to me. She understood her Father's words and realized she had been in the wrong.

"Alpha Ivar, I am not done yet. I want you to lock up every member of these families, then we will resume after lunch. I need some fresh air." I growl, not being in one of my better moods.

"We will go to Taipo's cottage. Our Warriors can keep anyone away from it and it will give you some time to relax." Hondo says through the mind-link and we all follow him away from the Pack-house.

We spent about two hours at Taipo's cottage, I talked to each of the females they rescued and offered them a place in Blood Stone Pack. I felt that they wouldn't be comfortable remaining here and I was right. They wanted to leave, because their leadership had been difficult to their suffering.

Noah called Mom to make sure our new Pack-members would have a place to stay, to make sure that there was a job waiting for them, when they are ready to face the world again.

"Let's get this over with. I have one more bomb to drop and then we can go home with our Pups." I say as I place an arm around Nathan's waist.
