

Chapter 142

However even after waiting for a while, there was no result to be shown.

Cindy frowned. She entered the password again and still got the same result.

Cindy had no choice but to call the security guard. Little did she know that the ATM was under maintenance.

'Thank you.' Cindy said politely to the security guard and walked towards the counter.

At the same time, a familiar voice called out Cindy from behind.

'Cindy, how come you are here too?' Fiona had just walked in through the bank's entrance and saw a familiar figure.

If it wasn't Cindy, who could it be?

When they met each other, both of them smiled politely and seemed to be very enthusiastic with each other.

'Fiona?' Cindy said with a smile. There was a feeling of long lost classmates are finally being reunited.

Fiona was her classmate in university. She was also her best friend.

However, after graduating, they were rarely speaking with each other anymore.

It was not because Fiona was heartless, but because this was the reality of society.

Everyone was busy with their own livelihood. They weren't like those rich ladies who could go to a cafe and sip a few cups of coffee while chatting about recent gossips, or even latest cosmetics and bags.

Fiona was also very happy to hug Cindy. She was so happy that she didn't have the realistic and money-seeking look as before.

She was a typical b*tch.

'Hey, Cindy, we haven't met each other for three years. You're getting more and more beautiful. Why haven't I seen your husband Jason?'

Fiona looked at Cindy from head to toe. She was still beautiful and elegant, so she couldn't help but be jealous, but she didn't show it at all.

However, when she asked about Jason, it seemed to be a little intentional.

Everyone knew that Jason had been in a lousy situation in recent years. It was a very wrong decision for Cindy to marry Jason.

Now, as soon as they met, she wanted to talk about Jason. Obviously, she was trying to mock Cindy.

Cindy smiled and politely replied, 'He is accompanying Angela in the hospital. Angela has just finished her operation.'

Upon hearing this, Fiona looked very surprised. Then she pulled Cindy to talk about Angela. After a while, the topic changed to Jason and she said earnestly, 'Cindy, you have to believe me. Nowadays, men are evil. There are many who look for mistresses behind their wives' backs. You have to watch Jason carefully. You can't let him have an affair. Although he is not very promising, he still loves you. You have to watch carefully. Like now, I don't want to get married. I'm enjoying the freedom.'

Fiona said this honestly, raising her eyebrows, constantly observing the changes in Cindy's expression.

Cindy smiled and said, 'I believe in Jason. He wouldn't have affair behind me.'

Hearing this, Fiona frowned and suddenly said, 'By the way, I suddenly remembered that I saw Jason on my way here. I'm not sure if I should tell you about this.'

She pretended to hesitate and caught Cindy's attention. Cindy asked suspiciously, 'What's wrong? What did you see?'

Fiona looked at the people around her, then took out her mobile phone and said, 'First, I have to warn you that I didn't shoot this on purpose. I accidentally saw it. You have to be calm.'

Then, under Cindy's suspicious eyes, Fiona clicked on the video that she had taken secretly just now.

While playing the video, she also pretended to be angry, hateful and scolded, 'Cindy, look, you have to believe me now. Nowadays, men are all evil. No matter what he is doing, he just plays with women. Look at Jason, how shameless he is to hook up with a twenty year old girl and get into that girl's car so blatantly!'

With this, she added, 'I don't know where they are now, but in my opinion, they are heading in the direction of the Hilton Hotel...'

At this point, Fiona did not say anything more.

Looking at the video, Cindy was extremely shocked and angry!

Although she believed in Jason, it was impossible for her not to be angry when such an evidence was shown to her!

The main point was that the girl in the video was really beautiful and her figure was not bad. She even took Jason's arm and pulled him into the car.

However, even if she was angry..

Cindy did not show it on her face, but pretended to be calm and said, 'Oh, this is a child of my relative. She's bringing Jason to do something. I know this.'

All of a sudden, Fiona panicked.

'You knew about this? No way.' Fiona didn't think Cindy knew it. She guessed in her heart that she was lying to save herself from embarrassment.

However, she could not see any sign of panic or anger on Cindy's face.

Until they were separated from each other, Fiona crossed her arms in front of her chest and looked at Cindy's back with suspicion. She muttered, 'Did I guess it wrongly?'

Forget it, it doesn't matter. It's more important to get the money.

'If I can, I'll ask the sugar daddy out tonight.'

Cindy left the bank without checking the bank balance.

She was very angry!

Sitting in the car, she called Jason and asked fiercely, 'Jason, where are you?'

Jason had been dragged by Melissa to the Rock Dragon Mount racing ground. It was a very spacious and high-class racing ground.

Jason also did not expect that there was such a place in Shang Jiang City.

'Cindy, I am out and about running some errands. What's wrong?' Jason walked to one side while holding his princess doll single handedly.

'With whom?' Cindy was angry.

'Nobody. Just a friend of mine.' Jason looked back at Melissa and others over there, and all of them looked at him with strange eyes.

'Is that so?'

Snap!

Cindy hung up the phone in a hurry, which has put Jason in a passive position.

'What... what's going on?'

'Why do women always suddenly have such bad tempers?'

'Hey, Jason, have you f*cking finished the call? You're a f*cking loser. Are you afraid of the race?'

In the distance, Kaiden laughed and mocked, his face full of disdain.

'Haha, I don't think he even knows anything about this place. Maybe he's a coward.' The other girl, leaning against a wild Mustang, chewed on chewing gum and said this in an unruly manner.

They looked at each other, laughed out loud, and mocked him.

Melissa did not say anything. While watching Jason walking over, she walked up with a cold face and grabbed Jason's mobile phone. She said coldly, 'Have fun today. Don't think about anything else.'

Jason had a helpless look on his face. He had been dragged here by them. How was he going to have fun?

At that moment, Finn who was in a white shirt suddenly took out a large bouquet of red roses from the car trunk and kneeled down to Melissa in front of everyone. He said in a loud voice, 'Melissa, I like you very much. Promise me that you will be my girlfriend, okay?'

All of a sudden, the crowd burst into an uproar. This was a professional racing site. Not only Melissa, but there were at least hundreds of people who were have fun there. All of them were rich second generations.

'Promise him! Promise him!'

The crowd burst into an uproar. It was obvious that it was Finn had arranged this beforehand.

Especially Kaiden and other people, they were particularly excited and had already left Jason alone.

Jason was also happy. He was thinking to himself that this group of kids would finish the race quickly and then send him home.

When he got back, he had to complain to Bruce. His daughter was not good, she needed to be educated properly.

However, what happened next was beyond everyone's expectation.

Melissa looked at Finn coldly and refused, 'Finn, I'm sorry, I know you like me, but I don't like you. I already have a boyfriend.'

After that, she turned around and pretended to answer the phone. She called Jason to get in the car and said, 'Let's go.'

Jason was speechless. 'Is this f*cking over already?'

'Then why did I get dragged here?'

Have more number of people around just to build up their momentum?

'That's not right.'

Melissa was stunned. She scolded as she was staring at Jason, 'Let's go. Why are you still standing there stupidly?'

Jason nodded in a hurry, agreed and ran over.

However, Finn raised his hand to stop Melissa, grabbed her arm, and asked with a cold face, 'Melissa, don't joke around with me. Where did you find a boyfriend like this?'

With this, he smiled ferociously and looked at Jason. He pointed at him and said, 'Don't tell me that this poor loser is your boyfriend.'

All of a sudden, everyone's eyes fell on Jason, full of disgust and resentment.

Jason knew that it was going to be bad. He didn't expect such a bad taste plot was happening to him.

He shook his head and tried to explain but Melissa freed herself from Finn's arm and said, 'Yes, he's my boyfriend. How about that?'

Are you not convinced about it?'

'It's over!'

Jason's heart was filled with rage.

Melissa was obviously creating trouble for him.

'Does she not have any other male friends? Why did she have to force a stranger to be her boyfriend?'

It was not Melissa's fault. It was Bruce's fault for praising Jason so much.

Melissa thought that such a man was suitable to be her boyfriend, so she found Jason.

However, she was disappointed and it was hard for her to solve the situation.

Finn immediately set his eyes on Jason, walked to him aggressively, and said defiantly, 'Although she said so, I really don't believe that she would choose a loser like you with such bad taste on clothes! Tell me, how much money did she give you to act? I'll pay you double, and you can immediately roll down from the mountain here!'

Hahaha!

There was a burst of laughter and mocking.

Melissa couldn't stand so many people looking at her with unkind eyes. She stomped her feet in anger and shouted at Finn, 'Finn, believe it or not, he's my boyfriend. I'm leaving now. Ask them to get out of my way.'

Kaiden had already taken people with him and driven down the road to block the entrance.

'You want to go? Well, as long as he races with me for one time. If he wins, you can go at any time. If he loses, you have to promise to be my girlfriend. While for him, he has to kneel down and crawl under my crotch, and then roll all the way down the mountain from here!'

Finn said with a cold face. He looked very arrogant and domineering with provocative eyes and brows.

'Friend, who asked you to play along with her. As long as any man is close to her, I'll torture him to death!' Finn approached Jason, patted him on the shoulder, and said with a cold look in his eyes.

The others also looked at Jason disdainfully. Now, this fool must die.

Who was Finn?

The champion of the provincial racing competition!

He had won the competition of the province three times in a row!

In addition, he was going to participate in an international racing competition - the Asia Le Mans series competition in the second half of the year!

He was the first seeded racer who was most likely going to represent the country to advance to the next round!

If anyone wanted to compete with him in racing, that person would be digging his own grave!

What's worse, Finn had even qualified to participate in the so-called F1 championship, the world's first class racing competition.

This is the world's highest ranking racing competition, it was almost as important as the world's other main sports events such as the Olympics and World Cup!

Therefore, Jason had no chance of winning!

What's more, he was so poor that he didn't even know how to race a car. It was like forcing him to do things that he was not good at it.

Jason frowned and his face darkened. He didn't expect that he would be looked down upon by these several young people.

The most important thing was that their attitude was so arrogant, which made Jason very uncomfortable.

He wanted to refuse, but his restless heart made him hesitate.

Melissa also knew that Jason had no chance of beating Finn. She stomped her feet and said angrily, 'Finn, you have done this on purpose, haven't you? He doesn't know how to race. I don't agree to your request. We're leaving!'

After that, Melissa was about to drag Jason away.

To everyone's surprise, Jason showed his white teeth and said with a smile, 'Okay, let's race and do as you say. However if I win, first you have to apologize to me. Secondly, you have to give me your car!'
