The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1731

“Are your clothes dirty yet? I’ll wash it for you!”

The Fairy Doctor’s voice was booming, like thunder rolling in the sky, and it felt like the ground shook from its volume. The Seven Star Residence and the teaching buildings around the area, countless people, could hear it.

Suddenly, it was like thousands of waves came crashing down.

Countless students were dumbfounded because the Fairy Doctor’s voice was quite distinctive, and those who heard it would be able to identify it instantly. In addition, there were already rumors going around that the Fairy Doctor had competed with a new student in alchemy and had lost, and she had to wash the new student’s clothes due to it

This rumor had not subsided even after a week of going around the campus. Especially for the Fairy Doctor’s supporters, some felt that the Fairy Doctor must be furious and would privately want to look for the new student to teach him a lesson.

However, forget about looking for Alex. They didn’t even know what his actual name was.

In the end, everyone was shocked.

“What’s going on with the Fairy Doctor?”

Gabby looked at Alex. “The Fairy Doctor wants to wash someone’s clothes, is the person she’s calling out for, you?”

Owain instead said, “Master? It can’t be that you’ve claimed the Fairy Doctor, right? That woman is incredible, and she’s also Principal Henderson’s godsister. She’s unparalleled in alchemy, and you’ve managed to claim her? Hehe, your future’s so bright right now, you can get any kind of medicinal pill you want, eh?”

Alex rolled his eyes and thought on the inside, ‘Are the pills she refined rarer than what I can do?’

He frowned and said, "This woman is crazy, screaming and making a ruckus out there, as though she fears everyone else doesn't know about this matter!"

Dewey said, "Master, you've changed the formation in the bamboo forest, and Owain and I were trapped for a week, unable to get out. The Fairy Doctor doesn't know anything about formations, so it's only natural that she doesn't know how to come out, and she was probably at her wit's end, and that's why she's calling out for you like that."

Alex pointed at the two formation patterns on the ground. "You're to study the content of these overlapping formations. If you can't figure it out, then you shouldn't bother coming out in the future! I'll go and meet the Fairy Doctor!"

Gabby grabbed him. "I want to go out too. I've been trapped in here for a week already. I don't have any change of clothes anymore, and if I don't get out soon, I'm going to smell."

Alex sniffed the air and nodded. "It does seem to have a sour smell."

"Y-You... You b*stard! "

Dewey, who stood to the side, immediately opened his mouth and said, "Gabby, don't be rude! Before this, I even intended to give you to Master to be his bed warmer, so he's your master. You have to be obedient and not go against his words. Do you understand?"

"What did you just say?!"

When Gabby heard that, she almost fainted on the spot. She couldn't believe her ears.

Alex calmly said, "You don't have to be so alarmed. I have a wife, and she's the most beautiful woman in the world. You're just a little girl. You don't interest me at all!"

What did that mean?

It meant that even if Gabby had been given to him to warm his bed, he didn't want her either.

Gabby felt anguished immediately. Her self confidence was completely trampled on the ground. It was as though her entire life was a failure to the extent that she didn't even have the qualifications to be a bed warmer.

Alex didn't care about where her thoughts were going, and he grabbed Gabby, pulling her out of the bamboo forest.

In the next second, they were outside.

Gabby was stunned. Wasn't this too fast?

"Why does it seem like the formation is gone? It took at least ten minutes to walk through it, no matter how it was before!"

Alex was dumbfounded by this and said, "The purpose of setting up a formation in front of the entrance is to inconvenience others and make it convenient for yourself! You guys are really something else, putting up a formation to trouble yourself. I don't get what you guys were thinking."

Gabby opened her mouth, just about to say something. However, once she raised her head, she found that many people had gathered in front of her, all squeezing together like sardines in a can.

Then, a figure rushed forward, and once it reached the front, it turned out to be the Fairy Doctor.

She looked at Alex. "You're finally out."

Alex's gaze scanned the crowd that had gathered. "What is the meaning of this? You've lost the bet, and you still want to deny it? Aren't you embarrassed to make such a spectacle like this?"

A young man was standing at the side whose cultivation level was relatively high. He jumped forward with his blade unsheathed. "Brat, how dare you talk to the Fairy Doctor like that? Are you tired of living? I have long thought you to be an eyesore, and I will teach you a lesson today. If you're a man, accept my challenge! I won't blame you no matter if I end up living or dying..."

Just as he said that, the Fairy Doctor suddenly delivered a slap to the young man and coldly said, "Who are you? How dare you speak to Alex? Are you tired of living?"

Then, she turned to Alex and said, "I apologize. I didn't summon these people here."

The crowd present was stunned.

The young man had spoken out for the Fairy Doctor, and not only had he been slapped by her, all his words had also been thrown back at his face. The young man was really in a miserable state.

Alex's eyes flashed. "You're here to wash my clothes?"

There was finally a hint of embarrassment on the Fairy Doctor's face. "Yes, it's been seven days, and you haven't brought a single piece of clothing for me to wash. So, I came here to ask. You've worn the clothes for seven days. I'm sure it's time to wash it."

Clatter!

It was as though the jaws of many people had fallen to the ground, unable to close. Gabby's mouth was also wide open, and it looked as though three eggs were able to fit in her mouth with how wide it was.

Looking at how everything was going, Alex hurriedly said, "Instructor Fairy Doctor, just forget about the previous bet I didn't take it seriously. You're an instructor. I dare not make you wash it! Let's just forget about the whole thing!"

Unexpectedly, the Fairy Doctor shot back, "How can I just forget about it? A man is only a man when his words hold weight, and promises must be kept! From now on, all your clothes will be taken care of by me. The one you're wearing right now is quite dirty, hurry and take it off, I'll wash it for you! Well, it's not convenient to do it here. Let's go to my place!"

Having said that, she grabbed Alex and jumped. She flew across the sky toward her apartment.

Everyone present was shocked, speechless, unable to form any words.

The same thoughts ran through their minds, 'It can't be that the Fairy Doctor fancies this guy and is trying to pursue him via reverse psychology, right?'

***

At the same time, the cry the Fairy Doctor had let out earlier, "Alex, are your clothes dirty yet or not?" had led to Alex's name spreading throughout the Flying Eagles Academy. If not for that, other than a few people who were familiar with him, no one would know that his name was Alex.

In the Black Tiger Corps, several core personnels were gathered together.

One of the men slapped the table and cursed. "F*cking hell, I've been looking for seven days, and it turns out that the new student is actually Alex! That sh*tty thing can really hide well!"

"What do we do now? That kid is now with the Fairy Doctor. We won't be able to find a chance to make a move. We won't be able to explain it to Lieutenant Lawrence."

All of them were Colton Lawrence's people.

As they were talking, a call from Michael Lawrence came. "Hello, what's happening now? Have you dealt with that Rockefeller brat?"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1733

Maxwell Lawrence's death was equivalent to extinguishing the Lawrence family's greatest hope. How could they not hate Alex to the bone for that?

A few days ago, the Lawrence family was dealing with Maxwell's funeral and was temporarily unable to deal with Alex. In addition, Alex's master, Jade Benmore, was lurking around outside, so they didn't dare to act blatantly. They could only leave it to the people in the Flying Eagles Academy to deal with this matter. Michael Lawrence had initially created the Black Tiger Corps, and he was still the group leader.

"Brother Michael, I was just about to tell you about this!" The one who spoke was the vice leader of the Black Tiger Corps, Trey Linford. His cultivation was not as good as Maxwell's, but he was the same as Stan Cooley at Core Formation.

Therefore, after seeing Alex defeat Stan with just a finger, he was very frustrated. Stan's combat power was ranked thirteenth, and he was only a little better than Stan, ranking at eleventh!

Alex had defeated Stan with one finger. How many fingers would he need to defeat Trey?

Would two fingers be enough?

"Then, tell me, is he dead or not?" Michael was anxious.

Trey swallowed and said, "Brother Michael, this b*stard is very cunning. He didn't even use his real name when he came in, and even his appearance has changed. We almost couldn't recognize him at all. The more heinous thing is that we can't find a person like him in the academy's system..."

Michael was angry. "Don't tell me that after so long, you don't even know whether or not he's in the academy?"

"We have ascertained that he's definitely in the academy," Trey said. "But, we've only just been able to ascertain this fact. Brother Michael, what I want to tell you is that this kid is evil. The moment he came in, he defeated Stan Cooley, who ranked thirteenth in terms of combat power, with just a single finger! This guy is too strong. I'm afraid that I won't be able to match up to him! "

"What?!" Michael was surprised.

He was well aware of Stan's strength at Core Formation, and he was powerful in battle. He was also the leader among the young disciples of the East Flower Sect. Though he was still in the academy, Stan had already graduated. He was a reserved member of the Flying Eagles and had been on the battlefield in the ancient forcefield.

There was as much difference as sky and earth between being in battle in school and actual war.

It was nothing to have dominated combat while in the academy. Just like those regular college students, they were called fresh graduates when they first entered society. Only a few rare ones could make a name for themselves out in society while they were still in school. And Stan was one that had been registered into Flying Eagles.

There were also rumors that several departments were vying for him to join them too.

Michael quickly became relieved after his surprise and said, "What are you making a fuss about? That sh*tty thing is Commander Benmore's disciple. He must have some defensive trump cards up his sleeves. Otherwise, how could he have caught my brother off guard and killed him?"

In the Lawrence family's eyes, Alex was a guy who had a low cultivation base, and everything good he had on him was due to Jade Benmore.

When Trey heard Jade's name, he was a little terrified. "Brother Michael, that guy is Commander Benmore's disciple, and I'm really scared. If this gets to Commander Benmore, I'll definitely die. How about... I don't get involved in this matter anymore, okay?"

"Do you want to die?!" Michael was obviously angry. "You may want to die, but you should think about your family."

This was a threat!

Soon, Trey listened obediently. Then, he told Michael everything in detail about Alex's amazing deeds while he was in the Flying Eagles Academy during this time. Michael didn't accept any of it to be true at first, but then he heard that Alex could refine a pill with 100% in nine minutes, and he was shocked.

Then, he heard that the Fairy Doctor had gotten involved with Alex and became even more stunned.

A raging fire coursed through him. For Michael liked the Fairy Doctor.

He had long fancied the Fairy Doctor and had relied on his father's position as the deputy general of Flying Eagles to confess to her before. At that time, the Fairy Doctor had said, "I'm looking for a man that has to have a higher cultivation base than me at least. You can't even beat me. What qualifications do you have to pursue me? When you've broken through Spirit Severing, then we'll talk!"

Michael took those words as a promise that the Fairy Doctor made with him. As long as he could reach Spirit Severing, he would take the Fairy Doctor as his wife.

He didn't expect...

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1734

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1734

The Fairy Doctor would actually take the initiative to wash a man's clothes, and this man was also the same man who had murdered his fellow disciple!

D*mn it!

Michael suppressed the urge to throw up blood from his rage and said, "Trey, I don't know if you're brainless or spineless. Killing someone is never about brute force, it's about using your head! When did I ask you to fight that kid face on? Do you understand what scheming is? Use schemes! I regret now making you deputy commander. Even Vivian Taylor is stronger than you!"

"Enough, just keep an eye on the kid. Don't let him get too close to the Fairy Doctor. I'm coming right now!"

"But, the Fairy Doctor brought that kid into her residence."

"What did you say? Then, hurry up and keep an eye on him! Go!"

***

Once the call was over, Michael looked at Colton and said, "Father, I want to head over to the Flying Eagles Academy for a bit."

Colton furrowed his brows. "Jade has taken people into Myriad Demon Valley now, and she may not be able to come out. Even if she did, she might be seriously injured, and there's no more than one trustable person here. You're already at this juncture. Why do you want to go to the academy?"

"I've just received news that the b*stard who killed Maxwell is a high-level alchemist that even the Fairy Doctor is inferior to him."

"What?!"

“Father, I think that’s the reason Jade wants to protect him even at the risk of death. Over the years, Jade’s cultivation has been stuck at Advanced Tribulation Crossing. If she wants to go a step further, it’s absolutely impossible with the incomplete rules and regulations in this world. If someone could help her refine a Daoist Pill, then it would be different! That’s why I need to go and kill him!”

Colton thought about it for several seconds. Then, he shook his head. “If Jade needs a Daoist Pill, are you saying I don’t need one?”

“What do you mean, Father?”

“Go to the academy, and find a way to bring him here. This has to be done cleanly. I will have Spencer assist you.”

“Then, what about avenging my brother?”

“There are many ways to get revenge, and killing him is just letting him off too easily. Locking him up and using him as a slave for a lifetime is the greatest torture.”

Alex, who was currently in the Fairy Doctor’s residence, wasn’t aware of the danger heading toward him.

He looked at the Fairy Doctor and said, “Instructor Fairy Doctor, it can’t be that you’re so bored to the point that you need to wash my clothes to pass the time? You... Want to learn about the elixir talismans, right?”

It wasn’t that hard to guess.

The Fairy Doctor nodded immediately. “You’re really smart. If you have any requests, you can raise them. As long as it’s within my capabilities, I will give it to you, as long as you’re willing to teach me about the elixir talismans.”

The Fairy Doctor had a high level of cultivation and high status, especially when he learned that she was Principal Henderson’s godsister...

However, there was indeed something that Alex wanted from her. So, he asked, “Have you learned to draw talismans before?”

She shook her head. “No...”

“Do you know about formations?”

She shook her head again and said, “I specialize in refining pills and elixirs. Why would I learn all that for?”

Alex was speechless. “So, you come begging me for it, but you don’t know anything about this or that. I don’t know how I should teach you.”

At this moment, the Fairy Doctor felt as though she was a primary school student who didn’t understand anything.

She grabbed Alex’s hand and said, “Then, teach me. As long as you agree, I will promise you anything you want.”

Alex yawned. “I want to sleep.”

He hadn’t slept for seven days and nights, and he was sleepy right now.

The Fairy Doctor misunderstood initially, thinking that Alex wanted to bed her. Then, when she saw his appearance, she realized that he just wanted to sleep, and so she pointed to another room and said, “Alright, my bed is over there. I’ll lead you there!”

At the same time, Trey, who was hiding outside the house, was dumbfounded. Inside, he thought to himself, ‘It’s over. Brother Michael, the Fairy Doctor is about to get bedded. How can I stop this?’

Trey felt like his world was falling apart.

The Fairy Doctor was a master at Severing Spirit. What would happen if someone like him were to come out and stop them at this critical juncture? He could already imagine the result, but he didn’t dare to disobey Michael’s orders either. His entire family was under the Lawrence family’s supervision, and if Michale wanted his whole family to be destroyed, all he needed to do was say the word.

The truth was just too cruel.

Trey gritted his teeth. It didn't matter anymore, he had to stop them, no matter the cost. He would just need to find a random excuse. And so, he stood up abruptly. Just as he was about to kick the door open, the door suddenly opened at this moment.

The Fairy Doctor was suddenly in front of him.

Trey was taken aback. "F-Fairy... Doctor?"

The Fairy Doctor was wearing a veil over her face, so he wasn't able to see her expression, but her eyes were filled with anger. "You've been listening at the door for a long time, right? Did you think that I'm someone who doesn't lose their temper?"

Just as Trey was about to open his mouth to reply, the Fairy Doctor lifted her leg fiercely, kicking him in the face.

"Get lost! If you come here again, I'll kill you!"

Trey was in a pathetic state, blood poured from his nose and mouth from the kick, and he flew far away, falling heavily to the ground, passed out.

Alex really didn't want to sleep on the Fairy Doctor's bed on the inside, but he dozed off when he saw the bed. Really, it was just too exhausting for his spirit to study the Star Formation Board for seven days and nights. Then, he gave in after putting up a show of resisting and fell into the Fairy Doctor's bed.

The bed felt warm, and it was apparent that the Fairy Doctor was someone who knew how to enjoy the luxuries of life. Not only was this house beautifully decorated, but the bed was also very comfortable and beautiful. More importantly, Alex could feel a pure spiritual essence from the bed. It rushed into Alex's body and through his meridians, stimulating The Force in his body, and it slowly revolved.

"This bed is strange."

The Fairy Doctor smiled. "The material of this bed is very precious, and I found it in a certain secret realm. It's natural warm jade, and it can quickly restore energy and strength when you lie down on it. Go to sleep! I'll make some food for you. But when you wake up, remember you have to teach me!"

That was why it was said that the Fairy Doctor's EQ was not high, and she was an alchemist maniac. For the sake of alchemy, she wasn't bothered about petty things, and she didn't even care about her reputation.

Having said that, a woman of her caliber and position didn't really need to care much about fame or anything anyway.

Alex was indeed tired. The bed was also strange indeed. He quickly fell into a deep sleep, entering a dream.

The Fairy Doctor stood quietly on the side and looked at him. It wasn't a gaze filled with lust or anything of the sort but curiosity. She could tell that Alex wasn't that old, at most in his twenties. How could he have reached such a high level of alchemy?

Unless... He had received an inheritance from an ancient alchemist.

When he thought about it, her heart beat faster in her chest, a fire filling her.

She had chosen the path of being an alchemist and refining elixirs and pills to enter the path of cultivation. If she didn't improve her alchemy level, she wouldn't be able to break through her cultivation level.

"Godbrother said that my misfortune is attributed to a man. The person I've been waiting for, could it be Alex? Come to think of it, when Godbrother said this to me, it was twenty-four years ago. At that time, this guy should have just been born, right?"

"No matter how it is, I'll just capture him and hold onto him first, then."

Seeing that Alex was in a deep sleep, the Fairy Doctor took off his socks, as well as his top and pants. She had said that she would wash his dirty clothes, and the Fairy Doctor was not someone who broke her promise.

After an unknown amount of time had passed, Alex woke up.

Sure enough, the energy and strength in his body had been completely restored. The Force in his body was still thrumming through his veins, and the spiritual power produced from it was a little different than usual. These spiritual powers flowed through his energy core and into the golden core that formed after he had entered the Core Formation realm.

It gave him a comfortable feeling in that instant, like being in the hot springs, and his golden core was a lot more lively than usual.

He suddenly had the urge to take this bed as his own. Would he have to fear the consumption of his mental energy while he was in the Star Formation Board with this bed?

“Wait, that’s not right!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1736

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1736

‘This bed is strange!’

Alex suddenly noticed the abnormality of this bed, a piece of warm jade should not bring such an effect to him. This was the effect of a formation. There must be a very powerful formation on this bed.

He opened his eyes abruptly. Then, he jumped up and flipped the bed over.

He didn’t expect to find a piece of clothing instead.

‘Holy sh*t, an ethereal woman like the Fairy Doctor also wears this sort of clothing?’

‘It looks like something Waltz would wear.’

When he thought of Waltz, he started to miss her. Sparks had flown that day, but then he had to come straight to the Flying Eagles Academy, and the problem was that there was no signal on his phone here.

He heard from Gabby that it wasn’t that the students in Flying Eagles Academy didn’t use phones, but they required a special card. However, the card required six hundred points, which was usually impossible for an ordinary first-year student to acquire.

‘I need to think of a way!’

Alex had been distracted for a moment, and the Fairy Doctor, who heard his movements inside the room, opened the door and walked in. "You're awake?"

Then, she saw what Alex was holding in his hands.

"What..."

She jumped in surprise.

A young and bashful expression appeared on her ethereal face, and she flushed, rushing forward to grab the item from Alex.

"Don't look!"

The Fairy Doctor had been hasty, and her movements were too fast and jerky.

Alex instinctively turned his body sideways, and both of them ended up rolling on the bed.

"Ah! Seriously, I'm so embarrassed!" the Fairy Doctor yelled as she grabbed her blanket and rolled herself into a ball.

Alex was a little surprised. So, it turned out that she wasn't an ethereal, unmoving beauty all the time. When she was shy, she also looked like a normal attractive woman.

"I... I didn't do it on purpose!" Alex said awkwardly.

Unexpectedly, the door was kicked open by a man who rushed in angrily at this moment, stopping right in front of the piece of clothing.

"Ah... Oh..."

Alex was taken aback, and when he raised his head to see the person, the person had a hideous expression. Anger and jealousy on his face, and he seemed to be huffing furiously through his nose. He stared at the piece of clothing at his feet for five seconds before meeting Alex's eyes. The murderous intent in his gaze was evident, and it was impossible to hide.

This person was Michael Lawrence.

Unfortunately, Alex didn't know him.

Michael was close to going out of his mind at this moment.

What had he seen?

He saw Alex, shirtless on the bed, with the Fairy Doctor wrapped in blankets. He had also heard the Fairy Doctor shout just now that she was embarrassed!

Had he heard these kinds of words before?

He could already imagine that the Fairy Doctor was naked underneath the blankets. This drove him crazy with jealousy.

The woman he decided on, the woman he regarded as his fiancée, had slept with another man. This was a feeling that any man would not be able to bear.

“Who are you?” Alex asked aloud.

The Fairy Doctor had finally calmed down and poked her head out from the blankets. She was taken aback when she saw who it was. “Michael Lawrence? Why are you here? Who let you in? Get out!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1737

“You’re asking me to get out?”

At this moment, Michael had a feeling as though he had caught his wife red-handed in bed with another man, but the wife was confident in saying that he was nothing in her eyes and to get lost and not bother them.

“Fairy Doctor, how could you do this to me!” Michael roared as though he was going crazy right this moment. Alex blinked, a little confused about the entire situation. What was the relationship between the man in front of him and the Fairy Doctor? The most awkward thing was that the state he and the Fairy Doctor were in was just too misleading.

The Fairy Doctor instead coldly said, “I’m giving you three seconds to leave my place. Otherwise, face the consequences!”

Michael looked at Alex for two seconds. Then, he turned around and left.

As soon as the person left, the Fairy Doctor jumped out from the blankets and grabbed the clothing on the floor. With a burst of spiritual power, the item in her hand turned into dust.

Alex froze for a moment and said mournfully, "Why did you destroy it? It's branded!"

The Fairy Doctor gaze shifted to him. "You had a good look at it, didn't you? Anyway, it wasn't mine. It was someone else's."

Alex was even more surprised.

However, he could read the atmosphere, and he didn't talk more about it. He cast his eyes toward the door and said, "That guy, could he be your boyfriend?"

"Of course not," the Fairy Doctor said. "He has nothing to do with me. His name is Michael Lawrence, the eldest son of the Flying Eagles' Left-Wing Lieutenant, Colton. He got into the high position he's in by relying on his father's small authority, and he relied on some crooked ways to increase his cultivation base because he wanted to pursue me. I don't know where his confidence comes from."

When Alex heard that, he chuckled on the inside.

Colton's eldest son would be Maxwell's elder brother. It was impossible for that sh*tty thing not to recognize him. Now that old and new hatred were stacked together, it was possible that there would be some movement from him soon!

Alex glanced at the Fairy Doctor and said, "You purposely concealed yourself in the blankets just now, didn't you? And used me as a shield."

"If I didn't hide under the covers, would he not have misunderstood us either way?" the Fairy Doctor said. Alex thought about it, then shook his head.

"Where are my clothes?"

"I've washed it for you."

After a pause, she suddenly jumped up. "Oh no, the pasta!"

Sure enough, Alex could smell something burning. He watched as the Fairy Doctor jumped down from the bed, barefooted, and flew out the room like a beautiful elf.

Alex silently took out a change of clothes from the storage bag and put it on. He glanced at the messy bed and decided to ignore Michael. He pushed the blanket and pillows to the side to check the mysterious warm jade hidden in the bed, and soon, he discovered the mystery of the bed. At the front of the bed, there was an incomparably mysterious formation engraved on it, densely packed with ancient runes. Alex felt that the formation was familiar but also felt like something he had never seen before. It was much more complicated than the formation inside the Star Formation Board.

This was definitely the work of a great master in formation.

“Huh?”

The Fairy Doctor, who had turned off the fire, walked in and saw the blankets all on the floor.

“What the heck are you doing?”

“There’s a formation here. Do you understand it?”

The Fairy Doctor shook her head, not understanding it at all. “I found this in a secret realm in one of the houses. I made a lot of effort to get it out from there because lying on it can quickly restore energy and strength. All the patterns and words on this, I only can recognize a couple of words!”

She pointed at the corner of the bed where some words were engraved.

Alex leaned over and took a closer look.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1738

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1738

Yowell, and Bright!

It wasn’t runes, but words written like a signature instead. There was a tiny dot in between the names, and it looked like it was the signatures of two people instead of one.

Alex thought about it for a while and said, “This may be the people who had set up the formation and signed off on it. One of them has the name ‘Yowell’, and the other ‘Bright’.”

The Fairy Doctor nodded. “I thought so too. Is this a very advanced level formation?”

“It’s the most complicated and obscure formation I have ever seen,” Alex said. “It’s very powerful and also creative! To think that they thought of engraving formation on a warm bed, something that’s easy to come by. Lying in bed every day would also be considered to be a cultivation method.”

The Fairy Doctor looked at him and said, “It wasn’t originally a bed.”

“Huh? Then, what was it?”

The Fairy Doctor glanced at him. “It was a bathtub.”

Alex opened his mouth and didn’t close it for a long while. “That means... We’ve been lying in a bathtub?”

The Fairy Doctor nodded.

“Can you tell me in more detail the kind of place the secret realm you went to?”

“...”

“I can teach you alchemy...”

The Fairy Doctor immediately said, “Mark your words! It was a ruin, and it should have been an ancient battlefield. There were many bones in that place, and only a house inlaid on the edge of the cliff was still intact. It was inside that house that I found this bathtub.”

She paused, then continued, “This bathtub made my cultivation more effective with half the effort.”

Alex opened his mouth after all was said and done, but he didn’t mention the excessive request he had.

At the same time, after Michael had left the Fairy Doctor's house, he immediately found Trey and slapped him across the face.

His eyes were blood red, a strange aura leaking from his body. If Alex could see Michael right now, he would feel that the aura was familiar because this bloodied, tyrannical, slightly cold, and evil aura was the same as those from the Blood Cult.

"B*stard, trash!"

"What did I order you to do? I asked you to keep your eye on Alex and the Fairy Doctor, and what happened? They already f*cking slept with each other, and you're f*cking around over here. What's the point of having a waste of space like you around?"

Michael vented all his rage from seeing Alex and the Fairy Doctor together on Trey's body, punching and kicking him as though Trey was Alex.

Once Michael finally had enough, Trey's body was covered in bruises, and he had lost two teeth.

"From now on, you're no longer deputy leader. Just a regular member!" Michael left angrily after those parting words.

Trey lay on the ground, watching Michael retreating, his face was filled with anger and hatred!

After that, Michael found Spencer, the master that Colton had sent to assist him.

"Uncle Spencer, that Rockefeller kid is with the Fairy Doctor. They slept together, and they're constantly together. There's no chance to do anything! Is there any way to separate them and catch him once he's alone? I don't want to wait for a second more."

Spencer was smoking a cigarette, sitting by a flower bed, and said, "I heard that Rockefeller brat has entered the Formation Department and is very interested in formations."

Michael was taken aback. "Why are you bringing this up?"

“The Fairy Doctor doesn’t know anything about formations,” Spencer said. “This is a weakness of hers that everyone is aware of. But, there is one place that is like a holy place to the people in the Formation Department. If we release this information, they will come out and head over to that place.”

Michael froze. “You’re talking about... That place?”

“That’s right. As long as we plan an ambush ahead of time, it’s a simple thing to catch one person! And since the place is not within the Flying Eagles Academy, those people won’t be able to find out about it either.”

“Alright, let’s do that!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1739

The next day, rumors spread throughout the Flying Eagles Academy. The Fairy Doctor and the new student, Alex Rockefeller, had slept together!

Needless to say, the rumor was spread by Michael Lawrence. His father was Colton Lawrence, the left-wing lieutenant of Flying Eagles. There was naturally no need to worry that the Fairy Doctor would find him for revenge or this debt.

In fact, he had done this so that the Fairy Doctor would take into account her reputation and stay away from Alex in the academy. Otherwise, if the rumor was confirmed, then she would be embarrassed as an instructor.

However, he wasn’t aware that the Fairy Doctor was studying alchemy with Alex right now and treating him as the man who would deal with the catastrophe she faced. She didn’t care about the rumors at all.

Yet, once the rumors came out, the entire academy, students and instructors alike, were stunned, their jaws dropped. Many male students and instructors were so heartbroken. They felt like they couldn’t breathe.

The top goddess of the academy, Principal Henderson’s godsister, the dream partner of countless people, had slept with a first-year student.

Good heavens, the god must be blind. Had the Fairy Doctor gone out of her mind?!

“That Alex must have drugged the Fairy Doctor!”

“Yes, that’s right! He’s an alchemist, and the first-grade pill that he refined was good. He must have deceived the Fairy Doctor and took advantage of her favor and drugged her. Once he slept with her, it isn’t like anything can be done now. What a b*stard, what a schemer!”

As soon as this remark came out, everyone snapped out of it.

“Yeah! That Rockefeller kid! Hadn’t he been able to refine just a Blood Energy Pill? Anyone from the Elixir Department could do it. Who couldn’t? He must have used some tricks and won the competition with the Fairy Doctor, and then...”

Countless people were sad and regretful, but there was more envy, jealousy, and hatred within them.

Some of them were so emotional. They went directly to the Fairy Doctor’s residence.

When Holly heard the news, she was taken aback. She shook her head. This really was her brother’s style. He really was just too good with women, and women flocked to him like flies wherever he went.

Phoebe Larsen... Or rather, Yuno was utterly unaffected by this wave of things. Her mind was focused entirely on the Biology Department during this period, not doing research but stealing the refined essence from the blood of the monsters for her use.

In just a few days, her cultivation level had risen by a lot.

As for Alex, at this moment, he was having a long conversation with the Fairy Doctor in the house. They had been talking from the day before till present... The room was filled with heavy spiritual energy from the rain and mist, and the two of them sat on the bed together as though they were a young couple.

The bed was great!

The Fairy Doctor had underestimated the power of the formation on the bed before this. She hadn’t understood the formation engraved on it and could only accept the benefits of the passive effect from the formation. However,

Alex was different. Although he didn't understand the layout of this complex and obscure formation, it didn't prevent him from manipulating it.

It was similar to how everyone could play with a mobile phone, but few people could understand the chips and components.

Alex pinched his fingers, pushing a little spiritual energy into the formation. In the next second, the formation on the bed was activated. Light green rays surrounded them, and it felt like they were in a fairyland.

There was more than that.

The formation on the warm jade bed condensed the spiritual energy in a radius of several hundred miles. While the both of them sat on the bed, there was no deliberate need to cultivate. The spiritual energy would automatically be absorbed into their body, flowing through their meridians and replenishing their spiritual energy and strength.

The Fairy Doctor was stunned. Alex was equally stunned.

The effect was simply incredible. And then, an embarrassing scene happened.

As the essence condensed was too much, a large mist formed one meter above the formation, which covered the whole room and was denser than air. It turned into spiritual rain directly and poured down, drenching the bed.

The Fairy Doctor and Alex seemed like they were taking a bath, but neither spoke of leaving since it was such a rare opportunity. So, they continued to have long conversations in such an environment.

It was no wonder the person who wrote this formation had it designed as a bathtub. It wasn't suitable to be used as a bed.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1740

In the Flying Eagles Academy, many masters had noticed the abnormal flow of spiritual energy.

However, the essence around the academy was very dense in the first place. Although the flow was abnormal, once they saw that the concentration was focused on the residence of the Fairy Doctor, they didn't comment much about it.

Compared to Gabby, the Fairy Doctor's understanding of the Flying Eagles Academy was naturally more deep and far-reaching.

Alex hadn't come here to learn anything in the first place but to inquire about the situation within the ancient forcefield. The main thing he wanted to do was to confirm whether or not his father, William Rockefeller, had passed through the teleportation array and entered it. It was also to prepare for the catastrophe that would hit the country after listening to Nora Stewart's brief introduction about the ancient forcefield.

The Fairy Doctor had just received unique insights on alchemy from Alex, and she was in a good mood and very satisfied with Alex.

So, she seemed to be willing to answer any questions. "About thirty years ago, a meteorite fell from the sky in Oregon and smashed into the ancient forcefield!"

"At that time, no one imagined that the depths of the American sea were connected to a much larger space. Countless monsters emerged from the broken forcefield that day. Those monsters didn't have any IQ and were the same as ordinary beasts. But, they were also so much stronger than wild beasts. They bit anyone who they saw..."

The Fairy Doctor seemed sad and mournful when she spoke about this.

Seeing her expression, Alex was stunned for a moment and said, "You were also there to experience the catastrophe when it happened?"

The Fairy Doctor nodded. "My hometown is a seaside island called Keel Island. It was also the nearest human settlement to the ancient forcefield. I was only fifteen years old, then."

Alex studied her appearance. She looked to be about twenty-five years old or even younger, but in fact, she was already forty-five years old. Cough, this wasn't the important thing.

“That year, I was in middle school. I will never forget the scene at that time! Hundreds of powerful monsters rushed into the school. They looked strange and ferocious, and they bit anyone that they saw. I watched my deskmate’s head get bitten off.”

“My parents, all the teachers in the school, my mother My mother...”

Her voice trailed off, unable to speak anymore once she reached this point. Her voice trembled, and tears fell from her eyes.

It must have been a harrowing experience.

The Fairy Doctor was surrounded by fairy energy right now, but everything she experienced must have been excruciating back then.

Alex pulled out a few napkins and handed them to her. Unexpectedly, she fell into his arms, crying in his arms.

“Uh...”

Under the pouring of the spiritual rain, both were drenched thoroughly, and even the floor was wet. The white dress the Fairy Doctor was wearing was no different than if she wasn’t wearing anything at all. Everything could be clearly seen underneath the wet clothing, and now that she was lying on him, that feeling was...

“And then?”

Alex’s body was stiff, and he didn’t dare to put his arms around her.

The Fairy Doctor collected herself before she continued, “Later, my godbrother appeared. He was one of the principals of Flying Eagles Academy. His name was Gilbert Henderson! He was the one who saved my father and I... And then, there was the Flying Eagles Academy! My father was also injured with some sort of poison then. It was a strange kind of poison that even Principal Lawlor couldn’t cure. He said that only a pill called Heaven Mending Pill would be effective, and that’s why I learned alchemy. Unfortunately, though I became the best alchemist in the country, I still couldn’t cure my father.”

“Heaven Mending Pill?”

Alex closed his eyes, searching for the information on this pill in the Ultimate Book of Medicine.

Soon, he found it and asked, "Can't you refine it?"
