

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1841

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1841

“Looks like someone’s in a hurry to replace me!” Jade Benmore looked at Petunia Lawrence and chuckled coldly before waving her hand. “Arrest her!”

Someone immediately ran forward to capture Petunia.

“Jade, what right do you have to arrest me? Do you have an arrest warrant? I’m the wife of the Left-wing Lieutenant. Even if I really committed a crime, the American government ought to be the ones arresting me. Who do you think you are?”

“I am the American government,” Jade said.

Everyone in the villa was restrained. Even Michael Lawrence wasn’t spared. However, just as some people were prepared to seal the cultivation of Michael and the others to tie them up, Michael went mad again.

Coincidentally, there was a large, magnificent tree nearby. Michael let out a loud cry before charging over to hug the tree.

“Fairy Doctor, I miss you so much. Did you miss me? Mwah...” he said with a smile on his face.

Michael kissed the tree.

Everyone was now shocked. “What is this guy doing? Does he think this tree is Fairy Doctor? Oh dear, it’s certainly an eye-sore!” Nora Stewart gasped while covering her mouth.

Jade recalled the hypnosis Alex Rockefeller had told her about previously.

She glared at Michael.

“Is this the result of your hypnosis on him? This explains why Colton got so angry,” she growled.

“What? You did this, Alex!” Nora exclaimed. “It’s actually hypnosis! Michael’s cultivation isn’t weak, and he has rather robust mental strength too. If you can cause him to be in this state, how strong could your hypnosis actually be?”

“I can try it on you,” Alex said.

Nora did want to give it a try, but after thinking about how powerful Alex’s medical skills were, she felt too afraid to do it. This fellow had never been fond of her. If he did something inappropriate after hypnotizing her, she’d be the one to face the loss.

“Commander Laika, stay here and watch over these people. The rest of you, come with me to find Colton,” Jade said.

Meanwhile, the high-level Flying Eagles members were having a meeting.

Colton Lawrence started to make things difficult for others. “The Flying Eagles has always followed the rule of following the strongest leader since its establishment. This is also how it is done in the martial arts realm. Only the strongest martial artist can become the commander of the Flying Eagles. The rest is just bullsh*t.”

“Hence, I suggest we have a match in the ring. Whoever wins will become the commander!” he added.

As soon as Colton said this, someone from the American government disagreed. “Flying Eagles’ commander should be someone who prioritizes the big picture and should have the ability to command troops in battle. How could we solely depend on martial arts? Having that doesn’t define what a commander is.”

Colton emitted a robust and imposing aura. Immense pressure swept over that person like a tsunami. In the next second, he spat blood out of his mouth and collapsed on the ground.

He looked at Colton with a terrified expression. “I’m an American high-level government official. In terms of ranking, you’re below me. How dare you attack me? Aren’t you afraid of instant prosecution?”

Colton laughed out loudly. “Prosecute me? You’re nothing but an ant. How are you going to kill me? You can’t even stand my glare, yet you still think of influencing the next commander of the Flying Eagles?”

Colton lifted his hand and sucked the person over. “Have you stepped through the ancient boundary before? Do you know that there are many areas inside that you’ll never enter in your lifetime? As soon as you go in, you’ll die. Please enlighten me. Can someone like this become the commander? Wouldn't it be suicidal for an amateur to lead a group of experts?"

The American government official was tossed to the ground forcefully. Blood gushed out from his mouth and nose, and he couldn't get up after a long while.

"Even if he's wrong, Colton, you didn't have to hurt him like this, did you?" a woman asked. She was Gael Dorsey, Jade's military counselor.

However, Gael too disliked the government's people interfering with who should become the commander.

Colton wasn't wrong when he said that amateurs shouldn't command the experts. It was a huge mistake in the army. Those big bosses slacking off in air conditioned rooms might give the random order, but the ones who would die were the soldiers on the battlefields.

Despite that, Colton was a cold-hearted and ambitious man. Instead of letting him become the commander, it'd be better to let someone from the American government take the position.

Colton laughed. "It's my fault then. I didn't even use much force, and he's already so badly wounded. Alright, I'll apologize for this. I'm sorry, sir. I shouldn't have looked at you with my eyes. It's because you truly are too weak. I didn't even think that you couldn't stand me looking at you. I must bow and apologize," he said.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1842

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1842

Colton Lawrence actually bowed to that person. However, in the next second, he looked as his he'd been squashed by a thousand-ton steamroller.

His entire body turned into a pulp of flesh.

"You... Colton Lawrence, you're outrageous!" someone yelled, also an American government official. However, after being glared at by Colton, he didn't dare to step forward. He backed away, cowering.

Colton started laughing loudly. He looked around at everyone in the room. Suddenly, he swept his hand, lifting the table in the center of the meeting room. A deafening boom could be heard as the table was flung out the window.

This was the thirty sixth floor. How much force did such a large table contain when it hit the ground?

It behaved practically like a bomb.

Soon, the crunching metal of a car getting crushed could be heard. Countless cars had their alarms blaring too, thanks to the remnants of the energy waves, creating a mighty cacophony in the city in the middle of the night.

“Colton, what is the meaning of this?!” Jonathan Ferris, the Right-wing Lieutenant, asked.

Colton laughed. “Aren’t we selecting the Flying Eagles’ commander? What I mean is, the stronger person will become the commander! What’s the matter? Are you a coward, Jonathan Ferris? You can choose not to fight. Just back out directly. Nobody is stopping you.”

Being at the same rank as Colton, Jonathan was also an expert in his own right.

Being provoked in such a manner at the meeting, wouldn’t he be too humiliated to lift his head after this if he didn’t respond at all? If the Right-wing troops found out their leader was behaving like a coward in front of the Left-wing Lieutenant, Jonathan could forget about becoming their leader.

Instantly provoked, Jonathan pointed his finger at Colton’s nose while yelling, “Colton, you jerk. Who’s a coward, eh? You’re the coward!”

Colton sneered and took a few steps to the center of the room. “Great! You said it. I can defeat you with a single move, Jonathan. Do you believe that?”

“That’s bullsh*t!” Jonathan retorted behaved.

“Since you don’t believe it, why don’t we make a bet? If you can’t withstand a single attack of mine, you’ll become a follower of mine from now. If you don’t stick to your words, you’ll be punished by the heavens!” exclaimed Colton.

“What?”

For people like them with this level of cultivation, swearing an oath was something to be avoided. That was because oaths were related to their future in the Void Shattering stage of cultivation.

If they didn't keep to an oath, they would very likely be engulfed by the demon in their hearts. In less severe cases, they might be badly injured. In more austere cases, they might just fail the tribulation and end up dead.

“Don't say yes to him, Jonathan. He's just trying to trigger you,” said Gael Dorsey.

“Is this how you really become a coward, Jonathan? In that case, I'll take an oath myself. If I can't defeat you with a single attack, I'll be your follower. If I can't keep to the oath, I'll be struck by lightning,” Colton proclaimed loudly.

Jonathan looked at Colton in shock, never expecting him to take such an oath.

Meanwhile, at least a few dozen people around Jonathan were all looking at him.

Could he back away?

‘D*mn it! I'm not afraid,’ Jonathan thought. “Fine. I'll make a bet with you!” he said.

In the next second, the battle began. Colton opened his eyes wide. A bloody red light flashed in his eyes, and he threw a punch at Jonathan!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1843

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1843

After Colton Lawrence threw his punch, the entire meeting room filled with bloody energy. It was as if everyone was in a sea of blood. There was an incomparably evil and extremely agitated aura.

A large shadow even appeared behind Colton.

Not everyone in the meeting room was a cultivation expert. Several were American government officials. Apart from Nash Youngblood, the man they had elected who possessed a decent level of cultivation at half-stepped Spirit Severing rank, the rest of them had cultivation levels that weren't even worth mentioning. In fact, there were two ordinary humans who didn't have a trace of cultivation on them.

How could people like them face the attack of a Tribulation Crossing expert? Nearly as soon as Colton threw his punch, these people curled up on the ground and spat large mouthfuls of blood.

Gael Dorsey started shouting. "Colton, have you gone mad? Restrain your imposing aura. Don't injure other people."

Although Gael didn't like people from the American government getting involved, America was still run by the government. Certain rules needed to be followed no matter what.

However, Colton didn't seem to care about any of this anymore.

Not only did he not weaken his imposing aura, but he even allowed it to grow stronger. It put a lot of tension on the entire room.

Gael shouted while she quickly waved her hand to protect the government officials. A half-transparent protective barrier blocked Colton's imposing aura like an umbrella. However, one of the government officials wasn't lucky enough to be protected.

Boom!!!

His entire body exploded like a watermelon.

Jonathan Ferris watched on as Colton's fist gradually got closer. "Colton, I thought you were very strong. Do you think you can defeat me with a single punch based on your evil punching technique? Get lost!" he snorted.

Jonathan had a technique specifically for his feet. It was called Seven Kicks of Absolution.

Roar!

Jonathan let out a loud cry. Spiritual power filled his legs and caused them to double in size. Even his pants tore from the expansion.

"Seven Kicks of Absolution. Get ready to die!" Jonathan yelled.

He sent repeated attacks by kicking forward.

When a few of Jonathan's subordinates saw this, they started laughing loudly. "Lieutenant Lawrence, it looks like you're going to become a disciple of our boss. You're not fated to become the commander of Flying Eagles."

After they finished speaking, Colton continued throwing his fist forward, unyielding. His fist struck the bottom of Jonathan's foot.

Boom!

A deafening explosion ensued.

Jonathan's body came to a halt. His foot gave off the sound of popping popcorn, the sound that would send chills down the spine. It was the sound of bones being crushed. Colton's punch actually crushed Jonathan's leg in its entirety. Every inch of bone had been crushed.

Boom!

Meanwhile, it was as if the entire floorboard below Colton's feet had been blown off by high-grade explosives. A large hole appeared on the floor that connected to the floor below it.

"Big brother!"

"Boss!"

Jonathan's subordinates quickly rushed over to catch him. Meanwhile, Jonathan's foot had already been destroyed. Even with his cultivation capabilities, it would be difficult for his foot to recover.

"Pfft!"

Jonathan spat out a large mouthful of blood.

Colton's punch not only broke Jonathan's foot but it also sent odd, bloody energy into Jonathan's veins. The energy rushed straight to Jonathan's heart and severely damaged its blood vessels.

Colton was preparing to kill Jonathan!

Meanwhile, Colton's mighty attack stunned everyone in the room.

When the American government officials looked at Colton, their eyes filled with fear. These people had no idea how terrifying Tribulation Crossing experts could be. Now that they had personally witnessed power that no ordinary human could possibly possess, their faces turned pale, and they started to tremble uncontrollably.

“What do you say, Jonathan? Will you submit to me?” Colton asked.

Colton’s subordinate, Philip Jules, started to gloat. “My commander has already shown mercy, or you would’ve been killed with a single strike.”

Jonathan spat out another mouthful of blood.

“You’ve been asked a question, Jonathan. Will you submit?” asked Jim Granger.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1844

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1844

Gael Dorsey stared at Colton Lawrence. “What martial arts technique did you use, Colton? It’s filled with bloody, evil energy. Is this an evil technique?”

Colton laughed loudly. “Why is it an evil technique? Why is there bloody, evil energy? How could I be using an evil technique? I’ve killed over a million demon beasts on the battlefield, and it gathered for me an unmeasurable evil aura and bloody scent. As a military counselor that gives only terrible advice behind the scenes, you wouldn’t understand it. You shouldn’t speak nonsense either. It only makes you sound ignorant.”

Gael’s heart filled with rage when she heard this. She wasn’t an ignorant woman, her background was unique. In reality, she was born during the republican era. The daughter of a military man, she decided to join the war afterward. She was, however, wounded by a traitor, where her physical body and soul were refined into some sort of battle puppet. She was only rescued after a century.

She was a profoundly knowledgeable woman. However, this was truly her first time witnessing the aura Colton emitted.

Colton didn’t look at Gael, staring at Jonathan Ferris instead. “Jonathan, do you admit defeat? You’re a grown man. Are you not going to eat your words?”

From now, you're a follower of mine! Now, I shall employ my seniority and recommend myself as the commander of the Flying Eagles. Right-wing Lieutenant, Jonathan Ferris, votes to support me. Gael Dorsey, what do you say?"

Gael looked at Jonathan.

However, she saw his head hanging low, seemingly agreeing silently to what Colton had said.

Gael then looked at Nash Youngblood.

However, Colton laughed coldly. "Gael, don't bother looking at that ant. He's just someone the government sent to get a word in. I've never considered him a candidate. If the government dares interfere with the matters at Flying Eagles, I'll kill them."

Gael wore a dark expression on her face. "Fine. Since you said the strongest person would become commander, I'll compete with you," she finally said.

As soon as she said this, her two friends stopped her. "Don't do it, counselor!"

"Colten's capabilities are far greater than we expected. He will kill you."

"My mind is made!" Gael insisted.

As the military counselor, she would never change her mind once she'd decided on something. Her friends all knew her personality well. Once they heard what she said, they could only back away and observe nervously.

Colton chuckled softly. "Alright, as you wish! Lone military counselor, why don't we make a bet as well?"

"What do you want to bet on?" Gael asked.

"If you lose, be my woman. How about that?" Colton asked.

Gael's temper instantly flared up. "Colton, you'll pay for what you said!"

Without saying anything else, Gael lashed out.

Wham!

As if piercing through space, a long whip cracked toward Colton.

Colton laughed out loud. Instead of backing away, he moved forward. “Military counselor. I never thought you like playing with whips. I like playing with whips too. Why don’t we play in the room? I even have candles. Would you like that?”

“Die!” Gael screeched.

Boom-boom-boom!

The two clashed, but it was immediately apparent who was stronger. Although Gael was already trying her best, Colton was barely putting in any effort.

Finally, Colton wanted to play no more. He grabbed at Gael’s long whip. After snatching it away, he turned the whip upon Gael’s face.

“What do you say?!”

“Will you submit?!”

“Who else wants to fight with me?”

“Is there no one else? Great. In that case, I announce that from now, I, Colton Lawrence, will be the commander of the Flying Eagles!” Colton exclaimed.

Right then, the meeting room’s door was pushed open. Jade Benmore walked in. “Have you asked me about becoming the commander?” Jade asked coldly.

“Huh?” Colton nearly bit his tongue off when he saw Jade.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1845

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1845

“Jade... Jade Benmore. Aren’t you dead?” Colton Lawrence was in complete shock. He couldn’t believe it, and he wouldn’t believe it.

How could this be?

He worked so hard to lure Jade Benmore and the rest into Myriad Demon Valley. It was a setup that guaranteed their deaths. ‘How are you not dead?’

What will I do if you're not dead? If you're not dead, won't that mean I'll be in deep trouble?' Colton thought.

"Of course, you'd wish I was dead. That's the only way you can take my place. Unfortunately, you'll have to be disappointed," Jade said.

Right then, Eleanor Curtis ran over and gazed passionately at Jade. "Commander Benmore, you've come back safely. That's great! "

Jade saw a whip mark on Eleanor's face. "I'm sorry for the pain you suffered, Military Counselor Eleanor."

It wasn't just Eleanor, but Jonathan Ferris and his brothers also came forward to greet Jade. Many Flying Eagles personnel were glad to see Jade returning safely.

It was something worth celebrating. After all, most people hoped nothing bad happened to her. People like Colton were the minority.

Nora Stewart stared at Colton while shouting coldly, "Colton, how dare you plot against Flying Eagles' Five-star Warlord? You lured us into Myriad Demon Valley, killing twenty eight war heroes of the Flying Eagles. What was your motive? How will you be punished?"

When she said this, everyone present was shocked.

"What?!"

"Colton actually plotted to kill Commander Benmore by luring her and the others into Myriad Demon Valley?"

"This guy deserves to die. How dare he harm the strongest commander in America? What else is he not afraid to do?"

"That explains his ferocious behavior. He killed someone as soon as there was dissent. Turns out he's been planning a rebellion for a long time!"

Those who were around started pointing and yelling at Colton.

Colton's character was too sinister. People like him shouldn't be allowed to stay in Flying Eagles.

Meanwhile, Colton's brows lifted in a fury. He and his two Heavenly Kings looked at each other. "Do it!" Colton suddenly shouted.

Boom!

Colton unleashed all the might of his Advanced-Tribulation Crossing rank.

That wasn't all. After letting out a loud cry, the imposing aura around his body filled the entire room with the stench of blood. It was so overpowering that it made someone feel like puking. Meanwhile, the shadow of an ancient demonic god appeared behind him.

Alex Rockefeller was shocked to see it. "Is that the demonic god, Blood Shura?" Alex asked.

This demonic god was identical to the shadow figure summoned in Kala Temple after Blood Shura possessed one of the team members.

Alex's question instantly drew Colton's attention. Colton shifted his gaze to Alex with bloodshot eyes. After that, he started laughing loudly. "Alex, it's you, after all. I don't even have to waste any effort to look for you. You came to me on your own. I'll make sure you'll never reincarnate!"

"Are you Alex Rockefeller? If you're fine, what about Spencer Queen?" Philip Jules asked.

Alex ran behind Nora and held her by the waist. "I've saved your life twice. You must protect me," he said softly.

Nora responded by nodding vigorously.

"Spencer? Of course, he's dead! Whose disciple am I? Even if there were ten Spencer Queens, they'd all die," Alex said.

His unclear message made it sound as if Jade was the one who killed Spencer Queen.

Meanwhile, Colton's aura had changed completely. He was less of a human and more like a demon. Then, after a loud cry, he charged at Alex.

However, how would he get past Jade?

“Colton Lawrence, you’ll be paying for the lives of twenty eight Flying Eagles warriors with your blood!” Jade screamed.

As she blocked Colton, she used her strongest killing techniques. Because her body had been poisoned, she needed to end this fight quickly.

Boom!

As soon as the two parties started fighting, the entire building started shaking violently. In an instant, cracks began to appear everywhere.

The American government officials were all terrified. Their faces turned pale, and their bodies trembled. This was only the beginning, though. After that, Philip and Jim Granger also unleashed their imposing aura. They sided with Colton, and both summoned shadow figures of the demonic god, Shura, behind them.

“Let’s kill them. Spare no one!” Alex shouted from behind Nora.

However, seeing how the few weren’t willing to overpower their enemies with larger numbers, he felt dejected. “These people just killed twenty eight of your comrades. They don’t care about the spirit of martial arts. Don’t you want to avenge your comrades? Was it all fake friendship?” Alex questioned.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1846

“It’s not that we don’t want to get involved in the fight, things will get messy if too many people join at once. We might accidentally hurt our own people! Your cultivation is still weak, and you can’t understand this. A single skill at our cultivation stage has tremendous destructive powers. In such circumstances, we can only take turns to fight. Don’t worry, they won’t escape,” Nora Stewart turned around and said.

Alex Rockefeller was stunned.

“I really don’t understand. Can’t we use battle formations with so many people?”

“Don’t the Flying Eagles people know how to use battle formations?” Alex asked.

As soon as Alex said this, Nora turned around to look at him with bright eyes. "Do you know battle formations?" she asked.

"Ehh... Is that difficult?" Alex asked.

"..."

Right then, Jade Benmore was actually sent flying with a single punch from Colton Lawrence. With a loud bang, she slammed against the wall. She was actually sent flying out of the building.

"D*mn!"

Everyone was dumbfounded.

'How could Jade lose?'

Alex was the only person who could clearly sense that the poison's effect on Jade's body had worsened. Previously, she was trying to suppress the toxin with her own body. Now that she was fighting Colton, who had summoned the demonic god and fused with it, there wasn't a significant difference in their capabilities. With the extra effort required to fight, Jade couldn't suppress the toxin any longer. As blood flowed through her, the poison started to take effect much quicker.

"Sister?!" Nora couldn't believe Jade would actually lose.

Soon, Jade returned. There was black blood in the corners of her mouth. It even had a pungent smell to it.

This was the poison in her body. It had become this severe.

Colton started laughing loudly. "Jade, it looks like you were indeed severely wounded. Are you poisoned? With your current condition, fighting me will only hasten your death! You are no longer a worthy opponent now. Jade Benmore, your time has passed. Now, it's my turn!"

Jade wiped the blood away from the corners of her mouth. "Don't be happy just yet. Let's go another round!"

Shuffle!

Boom!!!

Five seconds later, Jade was sent flying again. This time, she happened to crash near Nora and Alex.

The two of them held her together. Alex touched Jade's wrist, his expression dark. "Master, the poison is taking serious effect. You can't keep fighting. You'll really die if you do," Alex said.

Nora was tearing up from the panic she experienced.

Jade smiled. "I'll distract him. You guys should run!"

While Jade spoke, someone from Flying Eagles charged forward to take Jade's place in fighting against Colton. However, in the blink of an eye, that person's arms were broken. He fell to the ground while repeatedly vomiting blood. Colton even slapped his palm against that person's forehead before absorbing his powers.

Although the Flying Eagles warrior didn't die in Myriad Demon Valley, he ended up having his life sucked out of him by Colton.

"Harry!" Somebody called out his name with bulging eyes.

Just as someone was about to rush forward, Jade did it first.

However, each second Jade was in battle, the poison spread even faster. She would also be much closer to death.

'What do I do?' Alex wondered in panic. He knew that once Jade died, it would be his turn next.

Suddenly, he came up with an idea. 'Borrowed power!' Alex thought.

"Nora, do you believe in me? I have an idea right now, but I need you to lend me all your powers!" Alex yelled.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1847

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1847

"Lend you all my powers?" Nora Stewart looked at Alex Rockefeller in shock. She couldn't understand why he would think such. "I'm at Spirit Severing rank. Can your tiny body withstand all of my powers?" she asked.

“It won’t be a problem,” Alex replied.

His golden core had been modified by the forbidden spell’s twelve runes. It had become different long ago. If it could even handle the ancient forbidden spell’s energy, couldn’t it handle the powers of a Spirit Severing expert? Previously, Alex had already withstood the power of Ksitigarbha’s golden body.

This was also why he suggested that Nora should lend him her powers. After obtaining Ksitigarbha’s legacy, he acquired three supreme treasures. However, due to his insufficient cultivation and limited capabilities, he couldn’t use them.

Alex could only borrow powers.

While Nora hesitated, Colton Lawrence fended Jade Benmore off once again. This time, Jade suffered even greater injuries. Not only was she vomiting blood, but black blood now flowed out from her ears and eyes.

Such a sight left many people in a stunned state.

Jade was like the queen in Flying Eagles. She was a legend in America.

Now, she had actually been badly beaten up by Colton, her subordinate.

It was an unbearable sight!

Meanwhile, Jade relentlessly charged at Colton so that people around her could quickly get away.

“Alright, I’ll believe in you this time. At most, I’ll consider it as repaying you for saving my life!” Nora stomped her foot on the ground. After making up her mind, she pressed both hands on Alex’s chest to transfer all the powers from her body to Alex.

Fearing that Alex might not be able to take it, she controlled the amount of energy flow.

“Faster!” Alex said.

Nora added more pressure.

“Even faster!” Alex urged on. “Do it as fast as you can!” he added.

Never mind that Alex’s veins were already tough. With the techniques left behind by his ancestors, his already strong physical defense became even more robust. At this moment, Alex’s golden core was spinning rapidly to absorb Nora’s powers...

Nora’s powers fused with the twelve rune symbols inside Alex’s golden core.

“Namo Myoho Renge Kyo...” Ksitigarbha’s secret spell started echoing inside Alex’s golden core.

The Chaos Bead on the Chaos Tree inside Alex’s mind palace also started responding. The two elements seemed to have a mysterious connection... Alex couldn’t convert the powers he acquired from Nora into great power, and so he couldn’t use those three treasures.

However, he could still use Ksitigarbha’s legacy techniques.

Nora could also vaguely hear the Buddhist hymn through her ears.

“What’s that sound?” she asked.

“Don’t worry about it. Hurry up, transfer your powers. I still need a little more,” Alex said.

Triggered, Nora channeled the remaining third of her powers into Alex. Her body was now, in fact, empty, and she no longer had any powers left. She was so weak that she slumped to the ground.

This was also why she said she was repaying Alex’s deed with her life.

It was because she was now an ordinary person. Even a tiny scratch could easily kill her. She lacked the slightest ability to defend herself.

Right then, Jade was sent flying once more.

This time, the injuries she suffered were too great. The poison spread everywhere in her body. She fell to the ground and repeatedly vomited blood. Her face was ashen, and she could no longer get up.

Eleanor Curtis rushed forward to help, but she was also sent flying.

Jonathan Ferris' subordinates also sustained severe injuries when they charged forward.

It seemed as though the outcome had been determined. Colton would now take over the position as commander of the Flying Eagles. He could easily get what he wanted now. Right then, Alex let out a loud cry. A golden light emitted from his body while the Buddhist tune surrounded him.

At first, Colton wanted to suck all of Jade's powers dry. However, now that he saw Alex jumping forward, he immediately thought of his dead son, as well as his eldest son, who was still sick. Enraged, he turned around and charged toward Alex.

"I want you dead!" Colton yelled.

Alex tapped on his forehead and chanted a series of secret spells.

"Namo..."

"Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation, Seal of Noble Light!" Alex moved his hand away from his forehead and formed Ksitigarbha's spell symbol.

"A Buddhist technique?" Colton was stunned.

However, he then showed a nonchalant expression. "You're a piece of trash. So what if you know how to use Buddhist techniques? What can you do to me?"

"Break apart!"

Boom!

Waves of Sanskrit letters exploded in the air, and a Buddhist symbol the size of a mountain fell from above. Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation that symbolized merit and willpower formed a light seal that pushed downward forcefully.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1848

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1848

"Back away, Alex!" Jade Benmore exclaimed.

However, the many people around shook their heads. Jade had already been defeated, and members of the Flying Eagles were so severely wounded that they couldn't get up. Wouldn't a golden core expert like Alex Rockefeller be doomed if he charged forward?

The outcome, however, was hard to believe.

Alex actually destroyed Colton Lawrence's fist.

The shadow figure of Blood Shura, the demonic god behind Colton, had been shaken up by Alex's attacks. Even the tone of its blood had become much dimmer.

At first, Eleanor Curtis wanted to rush over to save Alex. However, her body came to a halt while she watched on in disbelief. When Jade and Colton attacked each other up to a hundred times, not only did Blood Shura not weaken, but it glowed even brighter.

Now, Colton was also dumbfounded by the attack.

Alex's strike actually surpassed Jade's standards. Could Alex be stronger than Jade? No, he wasn't strong. Instead, it was a natural counter.

Alex's Buddhist symbol was a strong counter to Colton's Blood Cult techniques.

However, after Alex used this attack, his golden core seemed to have emptied.

All the powers Nora Stewart had transferred to him had been spent.

Seeing Colton about to attack him, Alex started shouting immediately. "Stop him! My Buddhist powers have counteracted his demonic powers. Can anyone lend me some power? Hurry up!"

Military Counselor Eleanor moved the fastest.

She was already planning to save Alex. Now, she lashed out with her whip to stop Colton. In the blink of an eye, she had struck him over a dozen times. In the end, Eleanor surprisingly discovered that after Colton had been attacked by Alex. Not only did the demonic god's shadow figure behind him become dimmer, but his attack power had also weakened.

“Colton’s been weakened by the Buddhist power. Someone else, come and stop him!”

Soon, a Flying Eagles warrior went over with Eleanor to stop Colton.

Jade finally got up. She came over and pressed her hand on Alex’s body. “I can’t go on. I’ll give you all my powers!”

Jade wanted to transfer all her powers to Alex forever, but Alex stopped her. “Just lend them to me. You don’t have to give it all away for good. Your powers aren’t as pure as mine.”

Jade was a little upset to hear this, but she still did as he said.

Boom!

This time around, Jade was very obedient. Her cultivation was much stronger than Nora’s, and in the blink of an eye, Alex’s golden core filled up just as it did before. In fact, it was still expanding rapidly.

“It’s all yours now!” Jade was also very shocked. Despite how strong her powers were, Alex could actually handle it.

Meanwhile, Alex dashed forward. There was nothing fancy. The technique he used was the same as before.

“Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation Seal of Noble Light!”

Boom!

After this attack, the demonic god behind Colton became weaker yet again.

Alex backed away. This time, a Flying Eagles member was already waiting to lend him his powers.

“One isn’t enough. I need more of you!” Alex shouted. The feeling of being filled with power was awesome to Alex.

After that, not only did Jade’s subordinates come, but even Jonathan Ferris’s subordinates came over to lend Alex their powers.

One, two... A total of ten people showed up!

Roar!!!

Alex bellowed. He could finally feel his golden core getting completely filled. It felt like it was about to explode.

Alex directly charged forward!

“Colton Lawrence... Go to hell!”

“Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation, Mahayana Righteous Seal!” Alex commanded.

When Colton saw the symbol Alex made with his hand, his expressions changed drastically. Colton went all out too. He bit his tongue, and blood filled his mouth. “Oh, demonic god of the Blood Cult, I sacrifice my blood for you. Please, possess my body!” Colton stomped his foot and shouted.

A hundred golden figures appeared behind Alex. Covering the entire sky, a large symbol of a human hand forcefully came crashing down with an air of justice.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1849

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1849

Roar!

Colton Lawrence’s body became possessed by the demonic god behind him. It burrowed entirely into his body. After that, Colton’s body started expanding like a balloon.

“Divine Blood Technique, Blood Sacrifice!”

“Surging Blood, Demonic Soul Curse!”

Boom!

A shockingly loud explosion could be heard. The entire space started vibrating vigorously, and fissures began appearing like black spirits in the air. Space had been broken apart. Large portions of structures began to collapse, with the cracks on the ground the minor issue.

Everyone fled as fast as they could from the center of the battle.

Shatter!

All the windows in the buildings exploded. The doors of several houses close to the battle scene even broke into pieces, and their load-bearing walls were crushed.

This was the thirty-sixth floor, and it wasn't even the highest level yet.

A few dozen more floors were above. Presently, with the loud booming, the floors above began to sink deeply. Things fell apart. The walls on the western side came crashing down. The entire building started shaking violently. After a moment, it slowly tilted to one side.

"Ahh! The building is going to collapse!" someone yelled. The person's voice was filled with terror.

"Hurry up, let's get out of here!"

Many people in the area were experts, and jumping out from the thirty-sixth floor wouldn't be a problem. The Flying Eagles people, however, had nearly transferred all their powers to Alex Rockefeller. Now, they were completely powerless. As their bodies lay limp on the ground, they had no way of escaping.

Meanwhile, the destructive power at the center of the battle scene was even more devastating.

Alex and Colton had both disappeared.

They fought their way downstairs, breaking through countless floors on their way down.

Colton's body was covered in blood, and half of his shoulder had collapsed. Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation had completely counteracted his Blood Cult powers. Although his cultivation was at the Tribulation Crossing rank, and he was far more powerful than Alex. Alex had gathered the powers of ten supreme experts into one single attack that crushed Colton.

Colton now kneeled on one leg while large mouthfuls of blood spewed from his mouth.

Alex looked at Colton, who now looked completely different. “I didn’t expect you to be someone from the Blood Cult,” Alex said.

Colton looked up at Alex. “I didn’t think you’d actually be able to beat me either. What sort of techniques are you using? Even Buddhist techniques aren’t as powerful as yours,” Colton croaked.

Alex shook his head. “Why should I tell you? You’re already going to die anyway,” he said.

However, Colton didn’t want to die.

“Since you know about the Blood Cult, Alex, why don’t we strike a deal?”

“You want to strike a deal with me?” Alex asked. Alex chuckled. “You were already going to annihilate my entire family. What deal could we possibly make? I killed your son. Could you still be my friend?”

“Alex, do you know what comes after the Tribulation Crossing realm? It’s the Immortalization stage! You don’t know, do you? The immortalization stage, which is Void Shattering, means that you’ve fulfilled the requirements to ascend to Fairy Realm! Can you imagine what the Fairy Realm looks like? Would you like to have a look? It is, however, impossible for ordinary humans. Your master, Jade Benmore, has been at Advanced-Tribulation Crossing for many years. Yet, she still can’t complete the final step. Do you know why?” Colton asked.

“What does this have to do with the Blood Cult?” Alex asked in return.

“Of course, it does! There’s a close relation! That’s because this world’s rules are incomplete. However, if you want to reach the Immortalization stage, you’ll need the power of rules. Without rules, you can’t become a god. This is the core reason why Jade hasn’t been able to reach the Immortalization stage. However, once you cultivate the Divine Blood Technique and receive help from our demonic god, you’ll be able to reach Immortalization. You’ll be at the Void Shattering rank and can ascend to Fairy Realm,” Colton explained.

When Colton saw that Alex wasn’t showing any expression on his face, he continued to speak, “I can induct you into the Blood Cult and help you become a disciple of the demonic god. You’ll be able to improve your cultivation rapidly, so you may exceed your limits and break through to the Immortalization stage.”

Alex shook his head. He wasn't interested in these things at all.

Or rather, he didn't have to worry about the problem of getting to Void Shattering at all. Alex had the Chaos Tree in his mind palace, and the Chaos Tree possessed chaotic spiritual energy that could resolve the incomplete rules problem... Deductively speaking, what were the rules? These were all related to the ancient runes. In the Ultimate Book of Medicine, it was written that various rules in the three thousand worlds could all be explained using ancient runes. Hence, as long as Alex fully comprehended ancient runes, would he still need to worry about this?

Colton had put the car before the horse. For the sake of achieving this objective, Colton sold himself to the demonic god.

However, Alex suddenly thought of someone. He thought of his high school classmate, Hayley Hanson.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1850

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1850

Hayley Hanson's father was a member of the Blood Cult, and she was inflicted with the Blood Curse. Until now, she was still lying inside the coffin in the underground blood pool and wouldn't wake up. To save her, Alex Rockefeller needed first to unlock the Blood Curse. "Do you know about the Blood Curse?" Alex asked.

"Blood Curse? What is that?" Colton Lawrence asked.

"You don't know about the Blood Curse? In that case, you're of no use to me," Alex said while he raised his hand. Rays of Buddhist light started gathering above him. He was creating yet another hand symbol of Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation.

Meanwhile, Colton had already used up his strength. He definitely couldn't withstand this attack.

"Didn't you understand what I said?" Colton was stunned for a moment

"I understood it, but you've chosen the wrong path! I can resolve this problem by simply creating a heavenly law pill," Alex replied.

“Do you really know how to create a heavenly law pill?” Colton asked.

“That has nothing to do with you anymore,” Alex said. With that, Alex slowly lowered the hand symbol.

A terrified expression appeared on Colton’s face. He wasn’t satisfied with this outcome. He was only one step away from the Immortalization stage, and now, he was actually going to be killed by an ant. “Blood Curse. I know about the Blood Curse. There’s a Blood Witch in the Japan division. She knows all spells related to curses. I can take you to her,” Colton said.

The Ksitigarbha’s hand symbol Alex summoned halted in the air.

Colton immediately became happy.

However, in the next moment, Alex sped up and forcefully pushed the Seal of Noble Light against Colton’s head.

“I can look for the Blood Witch on my own! If you’re not dead, I can’t sleep and eat in peace!” Alex roared.

This was a golden opportunity to kill Colton. Without Jade Benmore fighting against Colton, without the distraction of the Flying Eagles members, and without the numerous experts channeling their powers into Alex’s body, Alex couldn’t have done this at all. He couldn’t even injure Colton...

Hence, whether it was for Alex himself or for the people who trusted him and willingly transferred all their powers to him, Alex needed to kill Colton.

Boom!

Colton was dead!

His soul perished!

Alex glanced at Colton’s corpse for a moment. He saw a ring on one of his fingers that vibrated gently with spatial energy. Clearly, it was a spatial ring. This object was superior to a storage purse, and the space inside was also more stable.

Now that Colton was dead, the spatial ring became a masterless object.

Alex grabbed it and scanned it with his divine consciousness. Then, he nearly cried out in shock.

This spatial ring's inner space was more than a hundred times larger than his storage purse. It was the size of a soccer field and even had a height of ten meters. All manner of resources from different categories were inside it.

Among these resources, there were up to ten thousand spiritual stones as well as countless precious and expensive herbs.

"I'm rich!"

Alex put the ring on his finger. After thinking for a moment, however, he took it off and pocketed it. He was worried that someone might recognize it, get jealous, and snatch it away from him.

After that, Alex returned to the thirty-sixth floor.

By then, Colton's two Heavenly Kings were also dead. It was a complete mess.

When everyone heard that Alex had killed Colton, they all sighed in relief. Jade Benmore, in particular, looked at Alex with surprise and approval. However, in the next second, she collapsed on the ground with a bang.

"Master!" Alex rushed over and picked her up.

Right then, a group of people rushed in from outside. "Everyone, put your hands over your head and kneel. Otherwise, you'll be killed without mercy!"