The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3191

She had witnessed her father's misery with her own eyes. Back then, the members of the Witch Cult ordered her father to kill Jennifer, which was equivalent to killing his own mother. He naturally refused to obey the order, so he ended up dying in pain.

Cecilia saw what happened with her own eyes. And so did Jennifer. As a matter of fact, Jennifer couldn't have joined the Witch Cult after witnessing her son being murdered like that. Moreover, he had to live through the pain because he did not want to kill his mother. Jennifer should have despised the Witch Cult very much.

Hence...

Lena was lost in thought. Then, she turned around and went to find Jennifer's corpse before she scrutinized it...

"Miss Peach, your grandmother was under the Witch Cult too! Moreover, there are two curses on her. One is on the back of her neck, whereas the other one is on her chest. Two Witch Curses appeared on a person at the same time."

The crowd could not understand its meaning, but clearly, Jennifer was targeted deliberately by the Witch Cult

"Miss Peach, my condolences!"

"Now, we can confirm that the members of the Witch Cult must have done something to your grandmother. The Witch Cult must have influenced her to become like that later."

"Therefore, don't blame yourself anymore. Instead, think about how to avenge your grandmother."

The enemy, naturally, was the Witch Cult. As for the Crazy Crone, she was not considered an enemy, was she?

Even though she wanted to take revenge on someone like the Crazy Crone, she lacked the ability.

Alex took out Jennifer's storage ring. He wanted to keep it for himself at first, but now... His hatred for the old hag had subsided. A dead human was like an extinguished candle. Furthermore, she was a pitiful woman, a puppet controlled by someone else.

Frostine said, "Do you guys think the members of the Witch Cult are nearby?"

As soon as she said that, everyone tensed up. If that were really the case, Alex would be in danger.

Alex took out that book titled Witch Blood Curse inside the ring and asked Cecilia, "Have you studied the book's content?"

Cecilia shook her head. "It's my first time seeing this."

Serene said, "I wonder if we can use this secret manual to deduce a method to dispel the curse."

After that, everyone read the book together for a long while. They recognized most of the texts on it. However, they were completely unrecognizable when they were linked together. This was a different system. People who had not practiced curses specifically could not understand the profound doctrine.

"Why don't you let me take a look?!" The Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens inside Alex's mind palace sent a telepathic message to him.

Alex was delighted. "Can you understand it?"

The Mystic Maiden said, "I used to read many miscellaneous books and learn multifarious stuff. I occasionally learned about curses. I may be able to understand it."

There was nothing special about this book.

He had no means to put it into the mind palace.

Alex took out the Cleansing Vase and stored the secret manual inside. He then told the Mystic Maiden to enter it and study that manual. At the same time, when Alex took out the Cleansing Vase, he suddenly heard a woman shouting.

It was the princess of the Nine Tails tribe, Sion Rowan!

He scratched his head, he really had a bit of a headache dealing with this woman, and he did not know what to do. It just so happened that Serene and his senior, Frostine, from the Plenilune Sect and especially the granddaughter of the Rowan family, Lena, were in front of him. It was the time for him to face reality.

Thud!

Alex released Sion.

Then, he fixed his eyes on the woman. Her clothes were ragged and barely covered her body. As soon as she appeared, she lunged at Alex.

“Lecher bast*rd! Demon! Did you release me just to torment me? I’ll fight it out with you! Kill me if you can!”

Sion simply went through the roof.

How long had she been trapped in the Cleansing Vase?

She had lost count of the days. Nonetheless, her hatred for Alex accumulated over time, such that it could not be quenched at all costs...

The search Olympus tribe captured her. In the worst-case scenario, that guy would take her virginity away. However, what about now?

Nominally, she had been released. Even so, she had also lost her virginity because of this man, albeit by her own hand.

“Argh! I’ll bite you to death!” Sion pounced on Alex, but she noticed his body was so strong that she simply couldn’t harm him with her little trick.

Hence, she bit down on him. Consequently, she discovered that the force bouncing off Alex’s body almost broke her teeth.

At that moment, Frostine abruptly stepped in. She grabbed Sion’s hair with one hand and forcefully pulled her off Alex.

“Who are you?”

Sion became more annoyed as her scalp hurt. She turned around and stared at Frostine. The next second, their eyes met, and they both saw the turbulent Nine Tails bloodline in each other’s bodies.

Were they of the same kind?

“You are...”

“You are also from the Nine Tails tribe?” Similarly, Serene discovered the condition of Sion’s bloodline. Moreover, she even sensed an aura of royalty in her bloodline.

In that instant, Serene was totally stunned. The next second, she abruptly knelt down and said respectfully, “Serene Coufal from the Nine Tails tribe pays her respects to Your Highness!”

‘Huh?’ Alex’s heart immediately skipped a beat.

Did this woman have such a noble status?

Frostine was motionless. She had just grabbed Sion’s hair and was at odds with her, so how could she have the audacity to bow her head right away?

Consequently, Sion immediately pointed at Frostine. “You are also from the Nine Tails tribe. Why aren’t you kneeling upon meeting me?”

Frostine frowned. The next second, she directly refused. “I’m not a pure Nine Tails! I am a human! Who says I have to kneel when I meet you? Besides, I think your bloodline is not nobler than mine. Who knows if you are an impostor?”

“Impudent!”

A half white half purple tail popped out of her back with a swish.

She said arrogantly, “Do you see it? My bloodline is half-purple. Only we, the noble Nine Tails royalties, will possess such a bloodline among the Nine Tails tribe. Open your eyes wide. Can you see it clearly? Why don’t you immediately kneel down and pay respects to me after taking a clear look? Do you understand?! Otherwise, I’ll sever your tail!”

Frostine frowned. She was hesitant. Among the Nine Tails tribe, the ones with this half-purple bloodline were indeed royalties. Meanwhile, she had awakened the Nine Tails bloodline and acquired the Legacy coupled with the fact that she was currently the sect leader of the Plenilune Sect. As she came to think of it, she had indeed received the blessing of the Nine Tails tribe, so reasonably, she had to kneel. However, she resisted Sion's attitude.

Just then, Alex suddenly stepped in. He grabbed Sion's half-purple fox tail and lifted it up. Then, he landed a hard slap on Sion's buttock with a crisp smack.

Smack! Smack! Smack!

He did not stop after the first hit. Furious, Alex directly smacked her a few times. The tactile sensation felt great. The bounciness was decent. The effect was also excellent.

The previously high and mighty Sion was instantly beaten until her face was flushed and the area from her tail to her head turned reddish. Embarrassed yet furious, she pointed at Serene and shouted, "You there, stand up! As Your Highness, I command you to kill this despicable and disgusting lecher!"

Her tail was still in Alex's hand. Her buttocks were also in front of Alex.

"How dare you be so arrogant by now? Haven't you been hit hard enough?"

Alex was furious this time. He directly tore off Sion's slightly torn trousers. A pair of snow-white buttocks were displayed perfectly before Alex's eyes.

Smack!

When Alex's smack landed on them, Sion's entire body straightened up. She felt excruciating pain. Her fair and soft skin was instantly swollen with a blood-red area from the smack.

"You were trying to kill me, weren't you? There aren't many Nine Tails left, so why are you still pretending to be some kind of big-tailed wolf here? Is having a tail something incredible? Why don't you find out if I can sever your foxtail first?"

Smack! Smack!

“You called me a lecher. What did I do to you? If I hadn’t saved you from the search Olympus tribe, you would’ve become a tool for venting sexual frustration. What was the result? Right after I saved you, you cast a charm on me. Unfortunately, you were unskilled, and I countered you. I was giving you a taste of your own medicine!”

Smack! Smack!

He landed ten or so smacks.

Tears streamed down Sion’s cheeks due to the immense pain. She felt as if her buttocks were going to break from the smacks. She bawled and cursed loudly. Finally, she begged for mercy.

Serene also interceded for her. “Alex, she is royalty, a noble Highness of our Nine Tails tribe no matter what. Just let her off the hook and show the Nine Tails tribe some decency.”

Smack!

Alex landed another smack. Only then did he release Sion.

She shouted in pain, covered in snot and tears. “Why did you hit me again?”

Alex said, “I’m having a blast! I’m telling you, my senior is currently the sect leader of the Plenilune Sect. A useless Nine Tails like you shall become a maid to my senior!”

“What did you say? You’re telling me, a royal princess, to become her maid? I think she’s unqualified if she wants to become my maid!”

“Do you still want to take a beating? Or, do you want to be imprisoned again?”

“Ahh! I... I won’t speak anymore! Alright?!”

Alex asked Serene to keep an eye on Sion. After leaving Pompeii Fairyland, he would set her free. Then, he went back to find the real hub of the great spell formation. He had an inkling of it previously, but he hurriedly came back after sensing the eruption of Frostine’s Nine Tails bloodline. Now that he continued looking for it, he quickly found that place. If he took search control of the hub, he would genuinely search control Pompeii.

At that moment, he saw several groups of people storming various Pompeii Fairyland areas.

These groups of people from the universe who had come to seek opportunities were like monsters entering a village. Wherever they went, not a blade of grass grew! The beautiful scenery was destroyed, all the buildings were combed, and none of the places they had passed was intact.

This was shameful destruction. And this was their way of destroying the spell formation.

They destroyed everything related to the spell formation... In the past, they might have destroyed the arrangement of the spell formation. At least, it would become complicated if Alex wanted to move the spell formation of this place completely into the Genbu space.

“Guys!” Alex transmitted his voice to everyone’s ears via the hub of the spell formation.

“Who’s there?”

“Who is speaking?”

Everyone was startled for a moment, especially some people facing a perilous situation seemed more anxious.

Alex appeared in front of everyone on every immortal mountain. Someone was instantly shocked after recognizing Alex.

“Is it you, Alex Rockefeller, the aborigine from the Wasteland? Why are you here? Weren’t you in Yukon?”

“Alex Rockefeller...”

When countless people in various major spell formations of Pompeii Fairyland saw Alex’s phantom popping up, they were dumbfounded.

Nobody was a stranger to Alex. A man capable of securing Yukon firmly despite the joint forces of the experts from various sects couldn't have been an incompetent person. Moreover, everyone knew about Alex's "glorious" achievement by word of mouth. He had scammed everyone's storage rings in the Underworld and demanded those people be grateful to him.

That guy was conniving! However, there were exceptions.

For instance, a peerlessly beautiful woman in a white trench coat was in a daze while looking at Alex's phantom.

She was Luneth, with Alex through thick and thin in the Underworld.

'So, you're Alex Rockefeller!'

Just like Cecilia, she only saw Alex's bones previously and had never seen his true appearance. Currently, it was her first time seeing his true appearance.

As expected, he looked extremely similar in terms of form and demeanor.

'This guy really hid well! Before the parting, I even invited him to go to the Wasteland together, but he ended up being a Wastelander! He has really surprised me greatly! You're alone, yet you managed to block so many experts from the universe. Just how... How many more miracles you can create?' At that thought, Luneth was slightly dazed.

An imposing young man next to Luneth looked at her as he said, "Luneth, what's wrong? Don't you feel like killing this guy upon seeing him? This conniving guy scammed your ring when you were in the Underworld, didn't he?! Never mind! I'll capture him and trample him to avenge you later!"

The man's eyes emanated a deep affection as he looked at Luneth. He was clearly her suitor.

Luneth did not say anything. Although she was not interested in that man, he dared not express it obviously because his identity was very unusual. He was a prince of a kingdom of God.

Wasn't it strange?

The immortal realm and the god's realm had long transcended the mundane realm.

Various forces based on sects and the concept of a country had long been weakened. However, there were exceptions.

For example, there were three kings and five emperors in the universe. Each emperor controlled a kingdom of God. It was not measured in terms of the amount of land, but the number of planets and worlds were used as a statistical unit.

A kingdom of God often contained several thousand planets. The ones that contained human settlements of humans and living beings were known as worlds. At least a dozen worlds were ruled in a kingdom of God, and the sects within them were even countless.

The young man next to Luneth was the first son of East Emperor Mooncrate among the three kings and five emperors-Patroclus Mooncrate. Meanwhile, the Great Northern where Luneth hailed from was located within the range of the kingdom of god of East Emperor Mooncrate. The Great Northern was also the most important galaxy in the kingdom of God of the East Emperor.

It was then that Alex spoke again, "A master has already owned Pompeii Fairyland. I'll open a passage for you guys to leave. I'll give you guys three minutes to leave through the passage right away, or else you shall bear the consequences!"

Alex's statement immediately caused great dissatisfaction.

"By what right?"

"Rockefeller, you've controlled Yukon. Are you trying to take search control of Pompeii as well? You are so greedy. Can you bite more than you can chew?"

"Why should we care about him? Let's find our treasures. Does he even dare to come here in person? According to our pace of breaking the spell formation, we can certainly break through this place."

"That's right. This guy just knows a bit of spell formation. Without the spell formation's help, he would be a worthless fellow and I would've killed him with a smack."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3196

The Genbu dungeon at the Endless Sea was made by the Great Genbu's body, used to block out the Undead's invasion. Hence, apart from the Naga tribe and a limited number of people, others wouldn't know either way. It was simply natural that Patroclus and his group didn't know this, despite being trapped inside this very dungeon at the Endless Sea.

These people then teamed up to attack the formation harshly. It didn't matter if what Alex said was true. They knew that they shouldn't just sit there while being trapped inside.

Boom! Boom!

Several attacks landed on the formation, causing a great commotion emitting an earth-shattering noise. However, the ones who suffered the most in this were those attacking the formation. Due to the close proximity, the shockwave of their attacks couldn't go through the formation barrier, ricocheting back to them.

Lena stood next to Alex. "What a good idea, my love. You spared them by having them guard the Endless Sea. As long as they don't die when the Undead crosses the boundary, they have hope in surviving."

Alex smiled. "We still have to give them a second chance to be better people."

If the people within the formation could hear their conversation, they would indeed flip out and sarcastically praise how great of a man Alex was. If the Undead were to enter the boundary, they would certainly crowd it up with their large groups. It was nearly impossible to ever survive that.

Watching as the people attacked harder, Alex decided not to wait any longer. Instead, he headed to the axis of the formation, using the sword heart to search control it.

"All directions, merge!"

Whoosh!

As Alex took search control, the large formation over Pompeii Fairyland started shaking. People within the formation noticed this almost immediately. Thanks to the divine floating mountain that now vibrated, it was now like an earthquake. From a distance, people could see some divine mountains moving around in the air, going further and further away. However, the mountains seemed to become bigger regardless, which was odd. Normally, the further something was, the smaller it would seem after all.

'Why are they becoming bigger?'

After that, one of Patroclus' female subordinates, sharper and more observant than most, realized that something had gone horribly wrong. "Your highness, the mountains aren't moving. We're just shrinking!"

"What?!"

"We're... Are we shrinking?"

"This is just too weird."

"How could something like this happen?"

Despite this, they realized that she was, in fact, telling the truth. They and the divine mountain they were at were really shrinking in size. In reality, every mountain and island within the Pompeii formation was shrinking. Yet everything outside of the formation remained the same.

Seeing this, Lena, Frostine, Serene, Cecilia, and the self-proclaimed Nine-Tails princess Sion, were all extremely shocked. They were very much surprised by both the visuals and senses.

The people trapped within finally realized what situation they were in. They were no longer as calm as before. The color drained from everyone's faces.

"We can't just let him continue doing this, or we'll die in his hands."

"Quick, everyone, bring out all your ultimate skills. This is not the time to be stingy. We have to break out of this boundary!"

Boom, boom, boom!

Boom!

It was futile, though. They couldn't break it at all. Although the boundary moved when they attacked it a while ago, it simply wouldn't budge one bit now.

"How is this possible?"

“Why won’t it move?”

“It’s useless. I’ve given you all a second chance before, which was a one-time thing. I’ve thanked you for being selfless and courageous. Wouldn’t you be humiliated?”

It was Alex.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3197

He appeared in front of them, in a way that made everyone in the formation stressed out.

His hand was now bigger than a mountain to them. This indicated that they had shrunk to an unimaginable size... It was just too much of a difference after all. They were in a very large space just a while ago, yet now it was almost the size of a tiny box. All of them were now trapped in this very ‘box’.

Thinking about this made them shiver in fear.

Alex’s hands were now holding this boundary that he had shrunk. He seemed surprised himself.

‘This formation can already achieve this? This is so shocking!’

“That massive area ended up turning so small? Can I touch it?” Sion dashed over and looked at the ‘box’, ever so intrigued.

Alex slapped her hand away. “Even if I’d allow touching, you wouldn’t be the first to do so. Step aside. Know your place as a servant.”

Sion clenched her teeth, clearly annoyed. She viewed herself as a royal, yet she was now treated with such disrespect.

Frostine touched it gently. “It feels kind of like an ice cube.”

She then squatted down, inspecting the ‘box’ closely. This only made the people inside freak out even more. From their point of view, the people were now confined in a cube that was the size of a basketball. Moreover, a person in front of this cube, putting their eyes rather close to it, blinking gently while watching them.

This was a terrifying feeling, as that eye was even larger than a mountain now. Moreover, the shrunken space was becoming more solid, even the air within was solidifying. They felt as if their bodies were being restricted in one place, let alone being able to break through this formation. It was simply impossible now.

“I am the eldest son of the East Emperor Mooncrate, the heir to the East Divine Empire, brat! Let me out of this damned formation right this instant, or else my empire will invade these Wastelands and turn it into ruins!” Patroclus yelled.

Alex froze. He didn't expect to have provoked another emperor right after he provoked the North Emperor not long ago. However, he couldn't possibly let these people go. If he did, Patroclus's father would still want to seek revenge, and it might even put him at a greater disadvantage, getting himself killed quicker.

At the same time, those who exited through the formation passage hadn't left Pompeii just yet. Instead, they were watching from a distance... As they witnessed this happening, they felt like they were in a nightmare, which also struck fear deep into their hearts.

Alex's formation powers were now simply so strong that it was hard to believe, something they had only seen in fiction. They were wondering how they'd end up just like those people if they didn't escape just a while ago. Being in that little cube would be no different from ants trapped within a matchbox.

The trapped people then started calling out to them for help, using several tempting terms in hopes that they would attack Alex and the others. They even mentioned that the people had nothing to be afraid of since the man was equivalent to a toothless tiger without the help of formations. However, no one dared to take the risk after glancing at the cube. If they were to end up getting trapped by accident, they would definitely cry from sheer regret. Moreover, Alex was no fool. He would definitely have thought of such a scenario.

After that, the crowd had dissipated, avoiding... Alex, the Wasteland monster, one after another. The only one who hadn't left was Luneth.

She called out to them from a distance. “Alex, Cecilia!”

Cecilia said, "It's Sister Luneth!"

Alex smiled brightly as he watched Luneth approach them. She turned to look at him. "So you've been hiding this from me all along!"

He continued grinning. "Long time no see, Luneth!"

After that, he gave her a warm embrace.

Patroclus, on the other hand, was absolutely shocked to witness this.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3198

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3198

Patroclus was very fond of Luneth. Firstly, he was attracted to her looks, as she was known for her beauty within the Great Northern. Not many would be able to compare to her natural gorgeousness and her porcelain-like skin. More importantly, she had a unique pair of eyes. It was as if there was a rainbow in her eyes, like the most beautiful pair of jewels. Secondly, her status came into play as well. The Muellers were an ancient, large family within the Great Northern, and they had birthed several powerful beings as well. Yet that wasn't the main reason why Patroclus was chasing after her...

As the eldest son of the East Emperor, and the heir of the East Divine Empire, he was somewhat of high status. A powerful figure like him was definitely a good match with the Mueller's. Hence, he cared about Luneth's master as well, as she was the one and only Sword Saint Guardian within the Great Northern.

Her clan was powerful, and its name was... The Sword Saint Clan. Every disciple within that clan would end up becoming Sword Saints as well.

Besides that, the clan was so strong that it had even exceeded the kingdom of God. It wasn't under the kingdom's search control, thus, not even the East Emperor would dare to provoke them. Elsewise, those Sword Saints might come for him, which wasn't a mere joke. Hence, Patroclus and the East Emperor wanted Luneth to marry into their family. Once she joined them, the Sword Saint Clan might end up merging forces with their empire.

Yet now, he was watching Alex hugging Luneth. She didn't seem to resist one bit and instead looked quite delighted. She lifted her chin gently to look at the man, her eyes filled with bashfulness, rather excited to give herself to him...

At the very least, that was what Patroclus thought after witnessing this. This made him so frustrated that he felt like vomiting blood.

"Luneth Mueller! Didn't you hate this man?"

"Didn't he lie to you? You tricked me. What is your relationship with him?!"

Patroclus was able to clearly see Alex and Luneth's actions and expressions. It was amplified for him since he was in a shrunken glass cube. This made him yell and scream loudly.

Luneth went out of Alex's embrace and stood before the shrunken boundary, staring straight inside. After quite some effort, she was able to find Patroclus.

"I never tricked you now, did I? Because I've never admitted that Alex had stolen my storage ring. In fact, he was the one who gave me all my current storage rings. Besides, without him back in the Underworld, I would've died long ago."

Patroclus grabbed his own hair, pulling on it harshly even. "So you two got together because of that? Did you have sex with him? Luneth, you witch! I've always seen you as a pure, innocent woman, yet you're actually nothing but a slut!"

"You two were still able to f*ck even when the Underworld is filled with bones. You two really are a damned couple made in hell!"

When faced with Patroclus' insults, Luneth was enraged too. She glared at him coldly. "And how is that any of your business?!"

After that, Luneth grabbed Alex and pulled him to the side, slightly anxious. "Patroclus is the eldest son of the East Emperor, and he's the heir to the East Divine Empire. He's the emperor's favorite child too. If anything were to happen to him here, the emperor wouldn't ever let this go. He would bring a strong army to take revenge on you!"

Alex stared at her, slightly dazed for a short while. She definitely lived up to her title as the Goddess of Charm within this entire universe.

“The heir of the East Divine Empire, huh..? What a big title... But this is America. Even if the East Emperor comes, he would have to grovel before us!”

Alex couldn't help but think of an extremely bold idea. 'There really aren't enough hands within the Genbu Space. It would be impossible to have their current number of people to block off the Undead. But if I include the East Emperor's army, I wonder if they could stall them a little longer.'

Luneth looked at Alex with a speechless expression.

“Alright, let's not talk about such disappointing stuff. What's with your eyes, Luneth? Are you wearing contact lenses? Or are they fake?”

Such eyes really did look like they could only come out of a dream. They were truly ethereal.

Luneth rolled her eyes. “Contact lenses? Fake? Mine are all-natural, okay? My master also told me that my eyes are both a curse and a blessing.”

“What does that mean?”

“I don't know, for now. She said that I have to wait for someone who could see through my eyes.”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3199

“See through your eyes?” Alex seemed interested. He had the primordial eye, the holy eye, and X-ray vision, after all.

‘Isn't it way too easy for me to see through her eyes then?’

He concentrated and activated his X-ray vision, fixated on Luneth's eyes. However, it was unfortunate that he couldn't look into her eyes at all, not even with his primordial eye. He really thought that he would be the one to see through them. Yet he was faced with an obstacle, the colors in her eyes gave him a pressuring and dangerous feeling.

“Looks like I'm not your destined one. Too bad. Such beauty will end up in someone's arms in the future!”

Hearing this, Luneth felt quite regretful as well. However, she was slightly embarrassed after Alex said the latter statement.

“Do you really think that the person who could see through my eyes must be my future husband?”

Alex smiled. “Most likely!”

He was just kidding, in actuality.

It was time to send the formation around Pompeii Fairyland to the Genbu dungeon now. At the very same time, the Nagas could be released as well.

Whoosh!

As the teleportation door opened, the groups of the Naga tribe walked out and entered the island’s underwater lake.

Luneth, Cecilia, and the others were stunned as well. Alex smiled and explained briefly to them.

The youngest group within the Naga tribe was the most excited amongst them. This was the first time that they had ever left the Genbu dungeon. As they headed outside, they were intrigued by every single thing, looking around as they chattered non-stop.

Alex turned to Lena. “There’s another set of formations in the core island in Pompeii. Although they’re not comparable to the Seventy-two Heavenly Immortal-slaying Formation, I altered its law power. The average person wouldn’t be able to break through it. So as long as you don’t head out by yourself, it would be quite safe.”

Lena nodded. “Are you going inside?”

Alex replied. “As soon as I can... I think the borders of the Endless Sea aren’t safe anymore!”

“I’ll go with you too.”

“Sure!”

However, a sudden rush of pressure came straight down from the skies.

Shing!

The sky was torn apart as multiple dimensional cracks flashed through. Just then, a prominent black figure sped through the dimensional cracks. It looked like the size of a car at first, then became nearly as big as a house.

After every other one had come out, an aircraft larger than Pompeii Fairyland appeared. It looked like it was the mothership. There were large groups of men in black standing up there. Their outfits were all the same, and every one of them seemed to be filled with endless malicious intent.

Many were absolutely petrified when they saw this. The average person would end up shivering, falling to the ground as their knees had turned completely weak.

“What’s that?”

“Has some kind of powerful otherworldly being?”

Many were silently observing, making their own assumptions.

Just then, a cold and rough voice came from the ship. “Alex, get your a*s out of here. Now!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3200

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3200

“That... They came for Alex.”

“My God, who did this guy Alex offend this time?”

“Those airships... Are they made with advanced technology? They look so cool, like from a sci-fi film...”

“I hope Alex can make it out safely. These otherworldly beings had never viewed us as humans. After he announced the warning, they laid down a lot. But if he gets killed now, we might get in trouble again!”

Many within America knew who Alex was and started praying for him. On the other hand, the people trapped in the formation started smiling with glee.

“It’s the North Emperor Dust!” Patroclus shouted. “Hahaha, even the North Emperor Dust is here. Looks like the young lord of the Lunula sect was killed by this Rockefeller guy too. This bastard deserves to die!”

“Yeah, the North Emperor is known to be cruel. Now that he’s here, he will definitely wreak havoc at this place. The entire Wasteland would most likely be taken down to the ground.”

“What do we do now? Sure, he’s here now, but will he save us?”

“Sir Patroclus, your father, and the North Emperor are of equal status, so you probably have had certain connections with him, right? Could you ask him to help get us out of here?”

Suddenly, Alex’s voice echoed through the air. “In my opinion, you guys don’t have to wait any longer since you’ll just be waiting forever after all. I’ll be sending all of you to where you should be. It’s your responsibility to fight the Undead now.”

The man then grabbed the shrunken formation with one hand, summoning a teleportation door with his other. In just seconds, a door that could teleport things to the Genbu Dungeon appeared right in front of him. From Patroclus and his group’s point of view, the door looked as if it were as large as a galaxy.

“Ahhh!”

“But... What’s behind that moving teleportation door?”

“Could it really be leading us to the Undead Territory?”

Alex comforted them. “Don’t be so nervous. There are no Undeads just yet. You can head in and relax for a bit. I’ll come back later and help you all return to your original size.”

However, instead of teleporting with them, he threw the tiny cube straight into the door.

Tumble!

Throwing it away as if it were a mere brick, the cube entered up, falling into a pile of mud. In an instant, everything had turned dark for the trapped people. They couldn't see or hear anything at all.

“What the f*ck, what is this place?”

“Why can't I see anything? Is this the Endless Sea? I can't even f*cking see any water around us, though.”

Everyone trapped inside felt like they were going insane at this point.

Alex, on the contrary, closed the teleportation door and looked up at the airship and the people on it.

Dusk was yelling hysterically right then. Noticing that Alex wasn't around, he was enraged. “Fine, you won't come out, will you? I have my ways to force you out! Blow this place up! I'll make sure Pompeii Fairyland will become history.”

Just then, the barrel of a massive gun extended out from the large advanced airship, aiming straight at one of the divine mountains on the island. It then charged up as law power started concentrating around it.

Even the main island of Pompeii Fairyland was able to feel the pressuring air. The fear was becoming stronger and stronger.

Cecilia was so afraid that her face turned pale. “It's the North Emperor! I really didn't expect him to come, let alone in such a short time!”

Luneth said, “Alex, just escape now. The North Emperor's powers are above average within the three kings and five emperors, and he brought along so many subordinates. All of them have been through countless battles. They're warriors who have been through several life and death situations. If you don't go now, it'd be too late!”

In actuality, Alex would be able to leave this place instantly since he had the Ancestral Bodhi Tree and could use the Earth Escape Technique.

‘But there are many Naga people in the main area of Pompeii Fairyland...’
