The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3351

On the other side, Alex was having quite a hard time. The great Swallow Spell was getting out of search control as if it wanted to absorb the entire universe.

The three thousand lotus flowers had already increased three levels, which meant that the three thousand Forbidden Spells could ascend to the fourth level or above in such a short amount of time. He was somewhat afraid of such a rapid improvement speed too. Moreover, as Shelly mentioned, he didn't really have a say in the twin lotus turning demonic.

She was the one who brought him into this mess, after all.

"Shelly, you have to take responsibility!"

"If I turn demonic too, you're the first one I'd go after."

"We'll just have to become demons together."

Shelly huffed coldly. "Don't compare me to you, you pervert. It's embarrassing for me."

"Then get out of my mind palace now! Why are you still in there?"

"I'm helping you."

"Thanks a lot. If it weren't for you, why would I become this way? With a whole bloody lotus flower growing out of the back of my skull, no less!"

Shelly smiled, not puffing herself in his shoes. "Looks good on you, though! I'll just go back and think of a plan for you. What are you panicking for?"

After saying that, she dashed away.

It was fortunate that the spell died down after thirty minutes. The blood lotus flower behind him faded away as well. Although the blood lotus made him worried and annoyed, he was still satisfied with the outcome of this battle. It was unfortunate that some of their old friends had self-destructed during the process.

The Flying Eagles had the most casualties from this. Both Butcher and Bunty sacrificed themselves, whereas Jade's condition was still unknown. Moreover, another hundred thirty warriors whom Alex had never paid much attention to experience the end of their lives right here.

The League of Cultivators had to deal with quite a few deaths too. Alex's mother-in-law, Metzli, had her arm cut off by one of the Dark Pixies as well. She was lucky to have received healing aid in time, or else she would've become one of the victims as well.

On the other hand, the rest of the surviving Undead immediately fled the scene.

Even animals would choose to escape, especially experiencing the mental shock of witnessing such gruesome and terrifying deaths. Hence, this was a normal reaction coming from the Undead, who were just as intelligent as humans.

Agatha approached and asked, "How far are we from the location you sensed that the White Bone Scepter was at?"

Alex used his secret spell to sense the area again, putting up a relieved smile. "It's not far, it should be just upfront!"

Since time would never wait on anyone, Alex and the team immediately rushed over to prevent any obstacles from popping up. The old man within the Martello Celia used his powers to carry Jade as well, walking side by side with Alex.

They noticed a gigantic block of white appear before their eyes in just a few moments. Upon closer look, they realized that it was the White Bone City.

The city walls and gates, along with the tall buildings, were all made from bones. There were lots of human bones and quite a few large beast bones too. From this distance, they could see figures moving within the city.

Alex pointed towards the highest tower and said, "The scepter is likely in that tower!"

Gilbert spoke up. "We have so many people here, and the target is too big. It's unrealistic to try and force our way in. The best way to handle this is to sneak in and steal the scepter."

Martiny said, "Alex's swallowing had caused too much commotion just now. The people in the city must be prepared to face us. I think it'd be very difficult to sneak in."

Agatha chimed in too. "We only have one way to go forth with this then. We have to split into two groups. One will stay here to distract the Undead, while a group of experts escorted Alex up there while providing him protection."

Alex said, "Why don't I try using the Great Swallow Spell again? I could try swallowing all the Undeads within the White Bone City."

Phoenix shook her head. "Do you think you're some swallow monster? I can tell that the blood lotus is malicious and evil. If you were to swallow them, we might have to face you instead."

After a short pause, she continued. "My body is in a very particular condition, so I will escort you up the tower. Everyone else, stay here and distract the enemies."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3352

Dorothy and Esmeralda stood forth at the same time.

"We will be going too!"

"Yeah, as his wives, we shouldn't ever separate!"

Phoenix glared at the two. "Do you think this is some kind of honeymoon vacation? We are risking our lives here!"

Dorothy replied. "That's exactly why we're going! If he were to die, we must die with him!"

"That's right, if we have to die, we will die together!" Daya approached them too.

Phoenix said, "I will be using one of my skills to make us invisible, then bring him into the city. But I can only bring one person with me, or we would be easily seen. If you all were to follow us, you would be holding us back, got it?"

Hearing this, the women fell silent but were still visibly frustrated.

Alex grabbed hold of the three women's hands.

"Don't worry, I'm a tough guy. We've survived such dangerous situations before, so even if we were to face any danger in this city, I'll just activate my Great Swallow Spell again and absorb all those Undeads! You all are the ones who have to be careful, alright?"

After some thought, he brought out the Cleansing Vase and handed it to Dorothy.

The vase was a pretty powerful treasure, so much so that it was just unnatural. When it came to urgent times, they would be able to hide inside to save themselves.

With everything decided, Phoenix activated her skill, turned her body into an illusory entity, and wrapped herself around Alex. In an instant, the two disappeared from everyone's view.

It worked similar to the Dark Pixie's Shadow Escape. However, the Dark Pixies still wouldn't be able to escape some kind of law powers. For example, they would be exposed under Agatha's red strong law power. On the contrary, Phoenix's natural skills wouldn't be exposed, and she was able to hide one more person along with her.

Wooooo...

Gilbert took out a battle horn and blew on it. Since it was made by a dragon horn, the noise was extremely loud, echoing throughout the entire plane.

The Undead within the city were anxious after hearing the noise.

"Attack!"

"Attack the city!"

"Kill the Undead!"

Agatha summoned a large Holy Rabbit, then jumped on top of it, leading the group as they hopped towards the city gates. Behind her were several phantoms shaped like carrots, slowly becoming solid...

In reality, these things weren't carrots at all. Agatha just simply made her law power attacks look like carrots. Behind her was a group of powerful human cultivators, following Agatha closely. Only a few stayed back to guard Jade, who was still unconscious. Alex and Phoenix had dashed to the other side of the city during this time frame.

Whoosh!

Alex didn't move while Phoenix was wrapped around him. He even laid as still as he could. It was like he was surrounded by something warm and soft, like he was actually in Phoenix's embrace.

The city walls of the White Bone City, but it was nothing difficult for Phoenix. She then glanced at the battle, leaping into the air and jumping over the bone wall...

Suddenly, the wall seemed to have come alive, growing a bone arm as the two were right above it. The hand then moved closer, trying to grab them as if Phoenix's skill couldn't conceal their presence from the spiritual senses of the wall.

"Ah!" Phoenix was shocked, too.

She couldn't understand how this bone wall noticed their presence.

'Could it have grown eyes?'

"Let's go!" Phoenix ran with great speed.

She then dodged the big bone hand with a cartwheel, dashing to the opposite side. After that, she ran towards the city with all her might. Unexpectedly, the bone hand came out of the walls and flew straight to them, turning into a skeleton midway. It then proceeded to chase after the two. Not just that, similar-looking skeletons started coming out of every corner of the city as well, chasing after them as if their lives depended on it.

"Sh*t. Hey niece, your skill didn't seem to work."

"What's happening here?"

Phoenix reacted angrily. "Shut up!"

She then realized that she couldn't adjust to the situation, even after trying again. Thousands of White Bone troops were gathering right behind them.

Some even appeared in front of them.

Without any other choice, Alex had to take matters into his own hands.

'The Great Mirror Spell!'

Since it was now on the fourth level, it was able to make fifty or so mirror images in one go. With this, Alex made all of them escape in different directions. More importantly, he could switch places within the mirror images as he pleased, which provided quite a lot of convenience. He could just switch places with the mirror image that escaped the furthest after all.

They were now getting closer and closer to the White Bone Tower, while the battle at the city gates was even more heated. Things were becoming rather difficult for the other team.

It was likely within the radius of White Bone Scepter, or that the White Bone City had such effects, the Undead's defense and attack power seemed to have been increased. The Undead troops inside the city were basically harder to fight and were more vicious. Moreover, there were several White Bone Cannons at the top of the city. These cannons were tremendously powerful and could blast out deadly Chi law power.

One bomb from it could destroy an entire country.

Even Agatha was yelping loudly in pain, jumping around after being hit by that type of energy... Dorothy and Esmeralda nearly fell under the same fate too. It was fortunate that Alex left the Cleansing Vase with them.

Under inescapable situations, they could just hide in the vase for safety. They could then come out of it a while later to continue fighting, over and over again. However, the others didn't have such impressive gadgets, so the number of deaths continued rising. As the defense line broke, five Undead Kings led tens of thousands of Undead troops and attacked the human groups altogether.

Just then, a woman's scream roared through the air. A very tall golden woman dashed over from the back as golden light shone through, holding a large hammer. It was Jade, who had just awakened her blood a while ago. She had regained consciousness, turning into a fifty-meter tall titan. The Martello Celia in her hands changed its size accordingly as well. Her entire body was glowing under the sun as if she was actually made of gold.

Yet now, Jade turned into a killer god, swinging her gigantic hammer in circles, killing off the Undead as if they were mere livestock.

"How strong!" Everyone was stunned.

Daya was overjoyed. "This is amazing. Jade became a powerful tank! Let's follow her and continue attacking!"

At the same time, Alex and Phoenix finally reached the bottom of the White Bone Tower. However, the tower was too tall, and they couldn't fly up there either.

"What do we do?"

"I need to be at least ten meters from the scepter to get a hold of it!"

The skeleton troops were still coming after them too. Just then, loud trampling noises came from the right passageway, as if a large group was running towards them.

The two felt their chests tighten, but a cat's meow suddenly rang in their ears...

"Meow!"

'A... Cat?'

After that, Alex noticed a large cat in armor at the frontlines. It was Whitey, whom he hadn't seen in a very long time.

It was in the White Bone City all along. Behind it was a group of large cat skeletons.

'Huh..?'

“Alex, get on me! I’ll bring you up there!” Whitey spoke in human language as it rushed towards Alex.

Without hesitation, Alex hopped onto Whitey, dragging Phoenix with him. Whitey then extended its sharp claws and pounced towards the tower in just a few seconds.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3355

During such dark times, the humans on Earth somehow still saw a bright golden light within the darkness. Many found it mystical and confusing, not knowing what the light was. As time passed, the golden ray of light became brighter and larger.

Everyone noticed that the light was coming from a golden monument with complex and unrecognizable talismans.

As that monument appeared, the entire planet started shaking vigorously, thus creating several earthquakes, tsunamis, and tornadoes... It was a disaster.

Some knew what it was, turning pale when they saw this.

“The Undead dug it out!”

“We’re done for. If they take the monument away, our Diffracted universe would be doomed. Our universe would be destroyed, and no one would be able to escape either.”

The monument’s location was, as expected, within the Undead that Juvia led. With their combined effort, they were finally able to dig the cosmic monument out. As long as they tried harder, they would be able to drag it away to the Undead Territory after digging it out entirely. Then they’d be able to refine it slowly.

Yet during such an important time, Juvia lifted her gaze as the color drained from her face.

“Oh no!” She sensed that the scepter she placed on the White Bone Tower was being meddled with.

“Who is it?”

“Who dares to take the White Bone Scepter?”

It was the foundation of the Undead tribe, the thing that guaranteed everything she had achieved up till now. Hence, she couldn't possibly let anyone take it away.

Juvia instantly used her skills in hopes of controlling the scepter from a far distance, wanting to see who was the one tampering with it. She then tried to connect her mental energy towards it in order to gain search control.

Suddenly, a man's cold voice appeared in her brain. “Are you sure you're even capable of taking my things? Remember that I am the Divine Monarch White Bone and get lost!”

Hearing this, Juvia gasped as her mental energy was cut off, leading her to vomit blood.

Noticing that the monument was just a few moments away, she gave up on the White Bone Scepter. As long as she got her hands on the monument, she couldn't care less about the Undead at that point Hence, she ordered them to quicken their pace.

Just then, a sudden wave of energy rippled throughout the void.

Juvia then watched as all the Undead stopped their movements completely, then turned into ashes instantly.

“Ah! No! No!”

“Wait, drag the cosmic monument out for me!”

However, the Undead tribe turned into ashes too quickly. In just the blink of an eye, countless of them turned into dust, flowing along space and disappearing. Every human on Earth noticed the darkness fading away as bright sunlight lightly kissed their faces once again.

Meanwhile, in the Undead Territory, several Undeads had reached the platform of the White Bone Tower. Some even managed to jump over the railings after stacking on each other. They then lunged toward Alex and Phoenix, intending to attack.

Yet with the sudden wave, all the Undead disappeared into thin air, falling to the ground as mere dust.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3356

After seeing the undying clan that had turned to ashes and died with the wind, the people of White Bone City froze for a moment and then fell to the ground.

“It worked. It worked really well!”

“The undying clan has been extinguished, completely extinguished!”

Some people shouted with glee, while others danced with glee. However, after some time, the sounds of crying could be heard.

Everyone paid too high a price for this moment, not to mention the ancestors who had sacrificed their lives for it in ancient times. To name a recent one, the great world of America, where the entire army was wiped out and was completely occupied by the undying clan.

This time it was the alliance army, and there were also many deaths and injuries. The death toll would have skyrocketed in the final stage if it hadn't been for Jade's incredible power.

On the tall tower.

Phoenix looked ahead and sobbed quietly.

The Stoermer Sect had paid too dearly for this, and her fathers and grandfathers were still stranded in the ancient path, their whereabouts unknown.

Alex received the White Bone Scepter.

After all, the White Bone God was inside the tomb of the gods and could not really come out to collect the White Bone Sceptre, but with the help of Alex's body, only this one scepter, which nearly extinguished the universe, was put away.

The White Bone Divine Monarch finally said a few words.

“Even if the White Bone Scepter is heaven-defying, it is impossible to create so many undying clans out of thin air, so the true source must be somewhere else, and the White Bone Scepter is only a medium.”

Even if there was a source, it could not turn into an undying clan without the White Bone Scepter. So, for the time being, it's a significant victory.

He simply walked out of the tower and looked down at the crowd. Suddenly, a figure pounced on him, whimpering and crying.

“Who exactly is it?”

“Uh... Niece?”

Alex was surprised to discover that it was Phoenix. What a knucklehead!

What did Phoenix want that she had jumped over to mooch by herself?

When Alex, as her uncle, heard her whimpering and crying, he was too embarrassed to push her away, so he simply picked her up and said, “Niece, did you just get hurt, come on, take off your clothes, uncle will check you out.”

“You big pervert, go to hell!”

Phoenix slammed a knee in between Alex's legs.

‘You, you blackened heart, bad niece!’

“Okay, okay, stop crying. I know why you're crying, the matter of the undying clan is resolved, next, I'll accompany you to the underworld, locate Dairaionji Temple, and then return to your parents.” Alex just finished speaking.

“Rockefeller kid, it's really you, this sinful animal, spoiling my big event. I'll kill you!” screamed a huge angry, hysterical voice in the air.

Alex looked up.

'Oh gosh!'

It was, in fact, the Undying Queen.

"It's the Undying Queen. She's still alive!"

"Oh my god, the undying clans are all dead. How come this queen is still alive?!"

"She must be stopped!"

The massive crashing hammer in Jade's hand, like a meteorite, ruthlessly slammed into the undying queen rushing over... Then everyone realized that White Bone City, which banned flying, had now recovered and was no longer banning flying.

The pattern of White Bones City was most likely broken when the White Bone Scepter was destroyed.

Roar!

"You will die!"

Undying Queen Juvia, cloaked in hair, approached Jade with ruthlessness. She was still in outer space, and she had no idea how she had arrived in such a short time, in any case, her appearance was much different from her usual one, not only cloaked but also covered in wretchedness, and her clothes all appeared to be torn. Her cultivation level, on the other hand, was frighteningly high.

When she faced the Golden Titan tribe's Jade, she kicked her and sent her flying tens of thousands of meters and then slapped the crowd below viciously. There were numerous casualties all at once.

Alex could see from a distance that Esmeralda had been slapped and had vomited blood on the spot.

She would have died if it hadn't been for Agatha's quick rescue.

Alex realized he couldn't afford to give Juvia another chance to strike against those people, so he yelled, "How about the fact that I just annihilated your undying clan and divided your soul, Juvia? I still want to murder you!"

Roar!

“The Great Swallow Spell!”

He teleported over and activated the Great Swallow Spell.

With the undying clan gone, swallowing an undead queen shouldn't be a problem, but who knew the Great Swallow Spell didn't actually work.

Alex had a sneaking suspicion that he had heard an intriguing voice. However, he was dizzy from the fall, his eyes couldn't open, he couldn't breathe properly, and his head felt heavy.

“What am I doing?”

“What's the matter with me?”

“Does it smell like seafood? Is it near the sea?”

Alex wanted to feel his head to see why it was so heavy. As a result, he came into contact with something round and elastic. He realized what was going on a few seconds later.

“Sh*t!”

“Who is it that sits on my face?!”

“It's me!” said Phoenix, her voice weak.

Alex reached out hurriedly to slap her. “Why don't you stand up and get out of my way?!”

A muffled voice could be heard. “I don't have any more strength. It hurts all over. I want to throw up. I'll take a break!”

“Then please leave me a gap; I can't breathe... That being said, is your body still showing up on those days of the month?”

“Huh?” Phoenix couldn’t understand.

Finally, she regained some strength. She stood up from Alex’s face and looked around. “What exactly is this location? Can the undying queen still pursue us?”

Alex climbed to the top and rubbed his chin, “Did you just fart on my face?”

“Nonsense!”

“Oh, you should check your pants because they might be cracked.”

Phoenix clenched her teeth and raised her hand to launch an attack. It was discovered that it could not be sent.

”Ah.”

“What’s the matter?” Alex inquired.

“My... My power has vanished, and the chi had frozen, making it impossible to push...”

“Ah? Is there still such a thing?” Alex hurriedly tried it and discovered that this was indeed the case.

Furthermore, the mind palace could not be opened, as if the three thousand lotus flowers in his body had lost their senses.

“This is what it’s like to be imprisoned in cultivation and become mortal.”

Both people had annoyed faces.

Alex only now noticed the surroundings and discovered that the whole place, with its eerie and extremely gloomy light, was like where dusk and night meet after the sun goes down, and it was a cloudy day about to rain. It made people feel very uneasy.

“Where has Whitey gone?”

“I’m not sure. Look for it”

Then, a few hundred meters away, they discovered Whitey, who had shrunk to the size of a house cat and was unconscious.

The undying queen and Jade, who were hot on her tail, could not be seen.

“Do you mean the undying queen and Jade, who was also swept away by the grey mist?” Phoenix inquired.

“I think I heard the undying queen’s voice before we all rolled over... By the way, since all the cultivations are frozen, and everyone is mortal, she must be the same as us, and it should be easiest to kill her now, with two of us and only one of her.”

“You’re right,” Phoenix said, her eyes brightening.

They both looked around again right away. This location was strange. It was like an ancient village. Large swathes of buildings were in disrepair, worn down by time. Based on the ancient traces that remained, the previous architectural style of this place seemed very unusual. The sizes were huge. For example, the house was huge, as were the doors and windows. It’s as if everyone who lived here was a giant.

They found a circle.

Two people exchanged glances and shook their heads.

“I’m exhausted. After walking so little, my legs are cramping up,” Phoenix said as she sat on a rock on her buttocks and hammered her calf.

Alex gave her a strange look, “You’re not so bad, are you? Even if the body cultivation is sealed, the physical quality remains, correct?”

“You should not mention this body to me. This body of mine is temporary. The strength is not quite enough. Here, the magic power cannot be used. I will suffer, ” Phoenix said, waving her hand.

Alex smirked.

This place was strange, and it was very inconvenient if Phoenix was in this condition.

“What are you frowning about? You wouldn’t want to get rid of me, would you?”

“Don’t worry, I’m not that immoral,” Alex added.

“My mouth is thirsty. Can you assist me in locating some water?” Phoenix said as soon as Alex replied.

There was no cultivation, no magic, and the storage ring could not even be used. What a hellhole this place was.

Alex took a look around and said, “In horror movies, the woman normally asks the man to assist her to go fetch water, and by the time the water is located, the woman has been taken away.”

Phoenix gave him a cold stare.

“The next thing you know, it’s raining.”

“You don’t have to seek it, Cheapskate, ready-made water is just here!”

However, when raindrops fell on her body. She abruptly jumped to her feet. This rain, which was raining on the body, was freezing, as if it could freeze one’s soul.

“Get into the building as soon as possible to hide!”

Alex dashed over and picked up Phoenix with one hand. Then he dashed into the nearest building.

After a few moments...

He screamed and fled into another building while holding Phoenix. This was because the ceiling of the house he had just run into had collapsed. The good news was that the second building’s ceiling did not fall, and the two of them could hide inside.

“What the heck is this place? One can freeze to death even if it rains. My toes are falling off,”

Phoenix rubbed her body urgently while stamping her feet. She was shivering from the cold.

Alex couldn't take it any longer and removed his jacket, which he placed over the woman's body.

"Are you cold?" Phoenix inquired.

"I'm alright," Alex said.

"Then give me the clothes inside as well!" she added.

"Huh? Niece, this is the only clothing I have, if I give it to you, I would be nude..."

Phoenix sneezed loudly, and seeing that Alex did not stir, she ran over, unable to endure the cold. She was not talking about grabbing clothes.

Rather...

"Hold on to me!"

A nasty blast of wind blew, and the sky darkened even more. Alex felt the chill as well. The biting cold wind reached the bone marrow. Alex clasped Phoenix's body. Although it wasn't warm and cozy enough, the soft elasticity is undeniably present. But now it was bone-chilling cold. Even if he had the urge, he was also powerless!

"Go over there to that corner."

"That stone slab is obstructing the wind."

The two shivered and huddled in the corner a little later. They hugged each other tightly. Whitey, on the other hand, was shielded in the middle.

"Hey, tighten your grip!"

"It's already very tight, we're practically a piece of conjoined flesh!"

"May I place my feet on your tummy?"

"Don't be too much."

“Then you hold my feet with your hands, I’m afraid to walk because I’m afraid I’ll freeze.”

No one would have thought of this posture.

They were in this position for a while. Suddenly, a thunderclap sounded outside. There was lightning crossing, and outside was snowy bright, but the strange thing was, during lightning, the light would normally appear as a flash, but it was now bright outside, and it did not turn dark “I’ll go to the window and look,” Alex said.

He let go of Phoenix and dashed to the window to take a look. He was taken aback

“Come and see, niece!”

“What exactly is it?”

Phoenix stomped over and ran over, pulling his hand over and looping it around her neck as a scarf, and she, too, looked stunned. Only to see the sky outside as if a hole had opened.

A massive beast’s body collapsed. It appeared to be dead.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3360

“What exactly is it?”

Phoenix was also taken aback.

The size of that demonic beast was enormous. Although they were still far from where it was, by looking at it, it was simply covering the clouds. This creature was incomparably huge; additionally, the body of this enormous beast had so many bloodstains on it, incomparably huge wounds. There was a big gash on the neck, and it looked like half of the head was about to fall off. However, it was clear that it was a corpse. Despite being separated so far away, there was still intense pressure on Alex and Phoenix

“I feel like there is a force not from our universe,” Alex said.

“Your cultivation has been scaled, you can’t exert half of it, and you can still sense the power of the rules,” Phoenix said.

“You didn’t sense it?” Alex inquired.

“No!”

“It’s cold!”

Phoenix grabbed Alex’s hand tightly. Alex snickered as he picked up her entire body and pressed it against his own, saying, “You can’t blame me for being pregnant.”

“You’re thinking nonsense, pervert!”

As she spoke...

Another massive beast fell from the far side of the sky. This one was a bit smaller. But it’s also far from simple. It was a golden dragon with clearly visible dragon scales.

“This is the five-clawed golden dragon!”

Phoenix exclaimed, surprised and perplexed, “The five-clawed golden dragon became extinct in ancient times, and there is no such large one; however, this five-clawed golden dragon is so large that it has lived for at least hundreds of thousands of years and has also died... In the end, Where did it fall from? Is this also the location of the recent gray mist?”

Just as she finished speaking. That five-clawed golden dragon actually raised its head violently and roared.

The sound was not particularly loud. However, it sounded depressing and desolate.

Roar, roar, roar!

“I’m not dead yet. I’m not dead yet...”

Roar!

It was struggling in the air.

It even wanted to return, frantically flying upwards. However, there appeared to be a powerful suction force where that pillar of light shot down so that this five-clawed golden dragon had no method of getting rid of it, plainly, it was feverishly soaring higher but continually going down, and finally, whimpering, dropped down. It let out an unwilling scream.

Alex and Phoenix were taken aback this time. They had never seen anything so strange before.

What was on the other side of the hole? What exactly was it down below?

The event they had just witnessed turned out to be a child's play. Then, they witnessed the most shocking event in their lives. Numerous corpses fell from that abyss. It was a tangle of mounds that kept falling down. The figure was breathtakingly large.

There were not just big demon animals this time, but also human corpses. They were all densely crammed together. It continued to fall for a few minutes before ultimately disappearing. It was at this point that Alex and Phoenix were shocked to discover that a hazy human form could be seen flashing above the hole through the translucent mist.

The second after that. The hole gradually closed and vanished. The rain that had been falling steadily had also ceased.

"Should we go see what's going on?" Alex inquired.

"Yes! You just hold me like this since I am letting you take advantage of me." Phoenix replied after a pause.

"Impossible!" Alex struck her on her butt.
