The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3421

Lucretia looked at the man before her eyes in horror. She was mind blown.

The two lords earlier were outstanding existences on the ninth floor of hell. Previously, they lived together in harmony when she built the stronghold here. The two lords dared not harass her. However, it was unknown what had happened in the past few days.

A commotion occurred on the ninth floor of hell, and a mysterious force swept over, causing every individual living in hell to have an exponential increment in strength. She also became much stronger in a short time. Nonetheless, the young man before her eyes just used two strange lotuses to instantly take away the two lords who had significantly increased strength.

“You are...” asked Lucretia.

However, her heart was fear-stricken. This young man’s strength was unfathomable. Since he appeared with her son, he was probably an ally rather than an enemy.

As though presenting a treasure, Blaze immediately said, “Mom, he is my brother-in-law, Alex Rockefeller!”

“Your brother-in-law? Of which sister?”

Lucretia was clearly startled.

Blaze ranked the eldest in the family and had many younger brothers and sisters. The number of his sisters reached several dozens. It could not be helped as Emperor Rowan had become a heartbreaker for 108 generations. Finally, those 108 women gathered in this life to pester him. He was destined to have 108 wives. When he had many wives, he naturally had many children.

“He is Phoenix Rowan’s husband!”

“Huh? Phoenix’s husband?!” Lucretia clearly looked shocked.

Phoenix was the daughter of Emperor Rowan and the Phoenix Empress. Both of them were supreme kings of gods with earth-shattering talents. Phoenix inherited all the advantages of the two people and thus became the most powerful junior among the children of the Rowan family.

Time had changed. Even Phoenix had a husband!

At that moment, King Sandros and Shelly arrived. Shelly was carefree, whereas King Sandros was scared witless. He came forward and asked, "What's going on? Has the ninth floor of the Hell Tower become so dangerous? The lords here can even set up a force field? It's bizarre. Why is this place giving me a vibe of reaching the eighteenth floor of hell?"

Shelly said, "So, you felt that too."

At that moment, Blaze introduced them to his mom and took out the Nature's Book.

Swoosh!

A ray of golden light rushed out of Nature's Book. The golden light rushing to the sky displayed someone's name and birth date.

It was about Lucretia.

Eventually, this information rushed into Lucretia's body and disappeared.

King Sandros said, "Alright. Your mother's soul has regained freedom. You can take her and leave now. Since you're done with Nature's Book, you can return it to me, right?"

Blaze looked at Alex.

Alex snatched the Nature's Book, so, Blaze had to ask him whether it should be returned.

Alex did not care about it. Since they were done with Nature's Book, and it was an indispensable tool for the nether realm, he did not want to take it for himself. He nodded and said, "Return it to him!"

It was a weight off King Sandros' mind as soon as he received Nature's Book.

"Alright! My mission is complete! I'll take my leave first! Blaze Rowan, you brat has to treat Kathy better in the future. If you dare to let her down, I will hook your soul with the Nature's Book. Got it?" shouted King Sandros.

Lucretia asked, "Who is Kathy?"

Blaze hurriedly said, "She is his god-granddaughter."

He did not know what his mother would think if she were to find out that he had stolen King Sandros' concubine. It would be bad for Kathy, either.

As soon as Lucretia heard that, she exclaimed, "Amazing. You even managed to find a wife in the nether realm."

When she met Blaze last time, she knew that her son and Xienna jumped into the Pool of Reincarnation due to a conspiracy. In private, there was no love affair between the two of them. However, they also did not know who pushed them at that time.

King Sandros really ran away. Using Nature's Book, he raised a beam of light and rushed to the sky.

"Do you wish to join?" Lucretia asked while looking at the toad.

The toad said, "There is something wrong with the Hell Tower now. Who knows when a catastrophe will happen. All of us are poor people trapped here without freedom, but your son found you the Nature's Book. This is everyone's hope."

When Lucretia thought about it, it was indeed true. If it were her, she would have done the same too.

She then said to Alex, "How about we let it join? It is also a combat force."

Alex said, "Aunt Lucretia, you decide!"

He did not know what had appeared on the eighteenth floor of hell, so he wanted to get there as soon as possible. He did not mind if another few more lords joined on the way.

After that, three lords came over directly. Almost all the lord-level powerhouses on the ninth floor had arrived.

King Sandros frowned. "This isn't a good idea, is it? They are all super ghost kings that are trapped in the Hell Tower. If they are released together later, great chaos will befall the mortal realm, and Emperor Ghastr will kill me."

The toad said sarcastically, "What's a super ghost king? I've been imprisoned here as soon as I was born. Was I in the wrong? You kings of hell neglected your duties. That sh*tty Emperor Ghastr is also a coward. If she is capable, tell her to come down to the Hell Tower by herself!"

Lucretia said, "It's just these few of them. Everyone knows each other through and through. There is no one else."

Alex said, "Let's set off as soon as possible then!"

Blaze hurriedly said, "Mom, where is your physical body? Brother-in-law has the Cleansing Vase that can store living people. Your physical body can be stored inside."

It turned out that Lucretia's current body was not her original body. Instead, she reconstituted it with the law elements in the Hell Tower.

"Guys, wait here for a moment!"

Lucretia was still concerned about her physical body. She probably would hide it.

After a full twenty minutes, she walked back while holding someone that looked exactly like her in her hands.

Alex took out the Cleansing Vase and put that person into it.

"Let's go! Sandros, you should know more about the directions of the Hell Tower, right? You will lead the way ahead. Don't worry. We won't let you die." Shelly said to King Sandros.

Like the kings of hell, he naturally had a stronger understanding of hell than others. He knew there were a total of eighteenth floors of hell and entrances and exits on each floor. Alex and Shelly were in the first echelon. They were walking behind King Sandros and were ready to make a move.

From the ninth floor to the tenth floor... Then, it was the eleventh floor, twelfth floor...

When they arrived on the thirteenth floor, a huge vibration suddenly occurred in the Hell Tower. The ground and the mountains shook. The entire thirteenth floor was shaking. No, the whole Hell Tower was constantly trembling and shaking.

“What’s wrong? The Hell Tower isn’t going to explode, right?” Blaze complained.

Consequently, it really exploded right after he said that.

A loud boom rang out. A large light pillar was shot down from the sky, penetrating the entire Hell Tower right away. Even though they were standing here, they could clearly see from the first floor to the eighteenth floor.

The broken area was enormous. They could see the edge case of each floor.

King Sandros paled. “We’re done for! We’re done for! Something big is about to happen! The Hell Tower is damaged, and the nether realm will be in chaos...”

The toad and the few lords were amazed. “This crappy Hell Tower should have been destroyed a long time ago. Why are we staying here? All kinds of horrific punishments await you inside. People die like extinguished lights. Death ends all troubles of one. What’s the point of the torture?!”

“That’s right. If we’re talking about guilt, you ten kings of hell aren’t decent people either. You should enter hell and experience it!”

The group of people sped up toward the edge of the light pillar. It was the location of the breakage. Right after they reached a nearby area, they looked down.

As a result, they heard a chant of the Buddha’s name.

“Amitabha!”

Immediately afterward, an old monk rose from the eighteenth floor.

“It’s Revealer Maha!” Shelly exclaimed.

After a pause, she continued, “But again, no!”

She just saw a huge lotus throne under Revealer Maha’s feet, but that lotus throne’s color was different from what it had always been in Buddhism, it was black!

“A black lotus throne! It’s the black evil Buddha!”

Shelly lightly sighed. “Revealer Maha is no longer the original Revealer Maha, but he has become a puppet corrupted by the evil Buddhism.”

Alex still remembered what Revealer Maha had done, “Why did he steal Emperor Ghast’s undergarment?”

“That’s all you remember.” Shelly rolled her eyes.

Alex said, “I understand it now. He deliberately angered Emperor Ghast, but he didn’t do anything more extreme. Hence, Emperor Ghast suppressed him on the eighteenth floor of Hell Tower instead of killing him and turning him into ashes! Revealer Maha wanted to do something on the eighteenth floor of hell. It’s for the sake of blowing up the Hell Tower today.”

Once Alex said that everyone seemed to have understood him.

“It seems to be the case.”

“However, what will he do after blowing up the Hell Tower?”

Just as the crowd was caught up in another doubt, an anomaly occurred again. It was unknown where that golden pillar led, but it was definitely not as simple as rushing down from that volcanic crater in the nether realm. At that moment, lines were hanging down from above.

“They are...”

“Space-time Lines!” The Peacock Heavenly King finally had the opportunity to show her talent. “Something is descending through these Space-time Lines. Be careful. It’s usually an evil demon from the foreign realm!”

Shortly afterward, something really came down from the Space-time Lines. It was not an evil demon from the foreign realm, but it turned out to be a bald man.

Alex knew at once. “These are evil Buddhas that came down from Dairaionji Temple. The master of Dairaionji Temple must have broken the Hell Tower to release all the vicious ghosts inside so that they will become their henchmen and thus take search control of the nether realm.”

After those evil Buddhas descended, they suspended in mid-air.

A total of eighteen people descended.

The lines varied in length. Each evil Buddha corresponded to the location of each floor. Then, they began to unleash evil Buddhist energy.

“Ah!”

Those lords behind Alex screamed as if they were affected by the psychic power of the evil Buddhas. They were going to be controlled by the psychic power of the evil Buddhas. Lucretia was also among them, let alone those lords.

“Mom, what’s wrong with you?” Blaze hugged his mother.

“Alex, use the Requiem Clock!” said Shelly.

Alex nodded. He immediately summoned the Requiem Clock. Similarly, it was also a supreme treasure of Buddhism that Ksitigarbha had given him. Now, Alex threw it into the air, emitting a loud bang. The showdown between authentic Buddhism and evil Buddhism began here.

Bong! Bong! Bong!

The Requiem Clock rang non-stop, interfering with the eighteen evil Buddhas as they assimilated hell.

Alex’s action had startled them.

The next second, more Space-time Lines hung down. A large number of evil Buddhas descended to the opening on the thirteenth floor of hell.

“Kill!”

Just then, a cold snort was heard in the world. The space tumbled with an overwhelming murderous intent.

A woman dressed in purple seemed to have walked out of the void and landed a slash with her sword. The environment instantly changed with surging Sword Intent.

Half of the evil Buddhas were killed with a sword slash.

“Emperor Ghast!” King Sandros exclaimed.

“What? She is Emperor Ghast?”

“She’s so powerful! She’s so huge!”

“Tsk! I know a man like you too well! You only focus on women’s breasts when you look at them!” Shelly snorted disdainfully as she scolded Alex.

Alex squinted at her. “You are a woman too, aren’t you? Did I look at your breasts? You don’t even have any!”

At that, Shelly went through the roof. “You b*stard! I’m going to castrate you into a eunuch so you can’t sleep any more women!”

However, the current Shelly was no match for Alex. He then took out the Cleansing Vase and contained her.

“D *mn! Son of a b*tch! How dare you contain me with this dilapidated vase?! Do you believe I’ll burst it with a kick?!”

She flew into a rage when he said that she had no breasts. She really kicked it.

The Cleansing Vase naturally did not burst, but something else exploded.

“Huh? What is this?”

At the same time, after Emperor Ghast killed a large number of evil Buddhas, it seemed that she could not use her sword consecutively. Such a superbly ultimate move probably required energy accumulation. Alex took out the Immortal Butcher and planned to help her.

To his surprise, Emperor Ghast did not appreciate it at all. After turning around, she glared at him and said, "Why is a human stirring up trouble? Just ring your bell! I'll deal with these guys!"

'How dare she say I'm a human who steps in and stirs up trouble. Alright. It's your territory. You call the shots!'

Alex put the Immortal Butcher back again and concentrated on shaking the Requiem Clock, slowing down those evil Buddhas' movements. However, Emperor Ghast's energy accumulation seemed to take a really long time. That sword in her hand kept charging energy.

Helpless, she said to King Sandros, "King Sandros, come here and block them for a while!"

"What?!" King Sandros paled with fright. "Emperor, I can't! These evil Buddhas are too powerful. A lord can't even Withstand them. Besides, there are so many of them!"

"Enough of your nonsense! Go! I'll revive you if you're dead!"

Only then did the timid King Sandros remember it.

Emperor Ghast did seem to have such an ability in the Hell Tower. As long as she was willing, she could resurrect kings of hell infinitely... Of course, she had to pay some price.

With the assurance of resurrection, King Sandros immediately became brave and invincible, as if a warrior had possessed him. He directly rushed toward those evil Buddhas.

Roar!

"You abominations, die!"

Boom!

A larger evil Buddha suddenly descended from the sky and stepped on King Sandros's head. It stomped him to death with its foot.

“Uh!”

‘Did I step on something?’

His body covered with golden light, This evil Buddha was a hundred feet tall and extremely heavy. He was only aware of it later. He looked down, only to find that it had stomped a cockroach to death. He immediately stepped on it a few more times before rushing toward Emperor Ghast.

Alex and the others could not bear to watch. That fellow died a worthless death.

“Great Resurrection Spell!”

Emperor Ghast shouted and pointed at King Sandros who had been trampled into a meat paste. A cloud of smoke suddenly arose. King Sandros, who just had an absolute death, jumped up lively again. This time, he summoned a black inkstone. It became large in the wind.

He smashed it hard on the evil Buddha's bald head.

Bong!

The baldy was hit, emitting a crisp sound. A black bump was formed on his head. Infuriated, the evil Buddha was turned around and rushed over before landing a slap...

“Ah!” Blaze screamed.

King Sandros turned out to be dead again.

Was King Sandros too weak, or the evil Buddha was too powerful?

If the previous stomp was an accident, it was too unsightly if he died after a slap. He was worse than a fly.

“Great Resurrection Spell!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3425

King Sandros was alive again. Slightly afraid, he dared not move forward.

“How about you let me do it?” Alex said.

Emperor Ghist sneered. “Don’t bite off more than you can chew. If you die, I won’t revive you. Ring your bell.”

Since when did he, Alex Rockefeller, become a bell ringer?

‘Alright!’

King Sandros stood still and dared not to move a muscle. However, a Yin beast silently appeared behind him. It was a behemoth. It was a creature from deeper hell and had been converted by the evil Buddha of Dairaionji Temple. It looked like a wolf that had three heads, with each head as big as a house.

When the crowd saw this creature, they were stunned.

“Hurry up and run!” Lucretia shouted.

Thinking that Lucretia told him to run backward, King Sandros decisively obeyed her. Consequently, he directly ran into the behemoth’s mouth.

Crunch!

He was gone!

Could he be resurrected if he was eaten?

“King Sandros is too weak, isn’t he?” Alex complained helplessly.

Blaze said, “He is a civilian king of hell. All his skills rely on Nature’s Book. He is useless without Nature’s Book.”

Lucretia said, “How can you say so? Anyhow, he is your woman’s grandfather!”

“Huh..?”

Finally, Emperor Ghast seemed to have finished charging his energy. She first lifted the sharp, glistening golden sword and slashed at that huge evil Buddha. After obliterating him with a single blow, she continued charging ahead to unleash a huge golden wave. All the affected evil Buddhas were exterminated. However, the attack range of this ultimate move was too small.

Immediately afterward, another golden Buddha appeared. This time, it was someone whom Alex was familiar with, the old monk, Revealer Maha. However, he was already corrupted. Not only was his lotus throne black, but his lips and fingernails were also black.

He lashed his palm at Emperor Ghast. The entire sky and earth were covered with black palm prints. Emperor Ghast shouted delicately. This time, she didn't recharge that golden sword. Instead, she charged forward with the sword and unleashed a flurry of bold slashes.

This series of actions stunned the spectating crowd. They thought, 'Emperor Ghast of this term is really fierce!'

Moreover, she was eye candy as they watched her fight. She was gorgeous and had a hot body. Her purple clothes bulged from her prominent bust thanks to her vigorous movements and various collisions... She was simply a super girlfriend in a geek's dream. However, the corrupted Revealer Maha was also very powerful. In addition, many evil Buddhas behind them joined the fray.

Emperor Ghast suddenly became exhausted from dealing with them.

"Are we really not going to lend a hand?" Lucretia asked.

The huge toad replied, "Emperor Ghast is clearly an aggressive and domineering woman. Other people have to listen to her. If they don't, she might beat them to death! This place is her territory. It's her home field regardless of the laws or the domain. I think we better be obedient to avoid being innocently killed by her."

Blaze nodded. "I think so too. She has a resurrection skill and can't die."

Boom!

A loud sound could be heard.

Revealer Maha suppressed Emperor Ghast. Then, the giant three-headed wolf smacked her onto the ground and pinned her down, such that she could not get up.

“Hey! Bell ringer and you guys, come over and help! Otherwise, everyone will be done for!”

Emperor Ghast finally opened her mouth and told Alex and the others to act.

“Jeez! You should’ve said that earlier!”

Alex swished and disappeared in place with the Immortal Butcher in his hand. When he reappeared, he cut off all the heads of the three-headed wolf with his sword.

A head fell in front of Emperor Ghast and almost crushed her.

She was slightly dumbfounded... “It’s that... Simple?”

After that, she was furious. “Sinful human. You’re so powerful. Why did you only ring the bell and stay still?”

Alex was startled for a moment. He then looked at the unreasonable Emperor Ghast. “Didn’t you forbid me?”

“You are a mega powerhouse. Why were you so obedient?”

“What..?”

‘I obeyed the command obediently, yet I was in the wrong?’

Alex pouted and rushed toward Revealer Maha. “Hey, old monk! Is your original nature still there?”

"What's this Demon's Shore?"

"Aren't you the inheritor of Ksitigarbha? How can you not know this? The blooming flowers on the other shore prove the Buddhahood. The blooming flowers on Demon's Shore indicate a decree to the demons in three realms."

Speaking of this, the empress snorted coldly, "Dairaionji Temple is ambitious. It wants to command the Hell Tower and rule the nether realm. Has it asked me, Empress Ghast? It's courting death! I'll destroy Demon's Shore right now!"

She struck out furiously, lifting the glistening golden sword and charging energy.

Alex was vigilant next to her. He immediately saw that black-clothed phantoms were shot out of pitch-black other shore flowers and landed as demons. They shouted while rushing toward Empress Ghast. Without another word, Alex turned into a golden-bodied arhat with surging divine power.

“Namo Myoho Renge Kyo!”

“Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation, Seal of Noble Light!”

“Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation, Mahayana Righteous Seal!”

He discovered that a person was insufficient to deal with many of these flower demons, so he immediately took out the Cleansing Vase and called Shelly for help.

“Shelly... Where are you? D*mn, scrooge! You’re acting like this after I said you have no boobs. If you are so concerned, I’ll make you a pair. If you’d like, I can make them as large as Empress Ghast’s. Okay?”

The empress next to him squinted her beautiful eyes and stared at him coldly.

Shelly’s voice came out of the Cleansing Vase. “I don’t want them. They’re ugly as hell.”

Empress Ghast, proud of her bust, was about to go completely mad.

The energy charging was complete at that moment. The empress drew her sword and traversed a hundred feet before swinging the sword with millions of light.

“Kill!”

Countless black flowers of Demon’s Shore withered from the massacre. However, more flowers bloomed and scattered pollen. More densely-packed black demons landed on the ground.

“Oh crap!”

With the empress suddenly uttering something like that, fear struck Alex’s heart. He hurriedly asked, “What’s wrong?”

The empress said, “It must be the bloom period on Demon’s Shore. Instead, they absorbed the energy of my sword and accelerated the blooming.”

Looking at the endless black flower bed, Alex asked, "Can we go through them directly?"

"Demon's Shore contains many negative effects. It is the best at creating illusionary realms and confusing one's mind. It's basically impossible if you want to go through it directly and find the seed! Even Ksitigarbha can't do it, let alone an amateur like you."

At that moment, Alex's Cleansing Vase shook automatically. A voice came out of it. "I can give it a try!"

It was a woman's beautiful voice, but it definitely did not belong to Shelly.

Whoosh!

A woman in a white dress rushed out, followed by a flat-chested Shelly.

The woman in white waved her hand and took the Cleansing Vase away. A willow branch floated on it.

"Goddess of Compassion?"

As the woman in white chanted ethereal melody, the Cleansing Vase dazzled, and a little fluorescence emanated from the willow branch. When those black demons saw the fluorescence, they immediately cried and fled. Even Demon's Shore was hard to resist.

Shelly looked smug as she said to Alex, "You idiot! You held the Cleansing Vase, yet you used it as a pig cage. Tidal Cave was sealed inside, and the Goddess of Compassion was in it."

At that moment, the Goddess of Compassion looked back. "Leave this place to me. You guys should go through the demonic land and find the seed!"

Shelly said, "I'll build the bridge! Guys, go!"

Persephone's Folly Bridge manifested!

The empress was decisive. "Go!"

Alex told Shelly, "Take care of yourself and don't die."

"Quit droning on! Hurry up and go!"

Whoosh!

Persephone's Folly Bridge could not cover the entire forest on the other shore. It came to an end halfway through it. It was then the empress said, "I see the black lotus seed! Over there!"

Alex said, "I'll go over first."

He unleashed a Buddhist lotus and tried to jump on it to cross over. The idea, although good, failed to work in reality. The Buddhist lotus was corrupted instantly. Alex hurriedly withdrew and jumped into the flowerbed of Demon's Shore.

Persephone's Folly Bridge could not cover the entire forest on the other shore. It came to an end halfway through it. It was then the empress said, "I see the black lotus seed! Over there!"

Alex said, "I'll go over first."

He unleashed a Buddhist lotus and tried to jump on it to cross over. The idea, although good, failed to work in reality. The Buddhist lotus was corrupted instantly. Alex hurriedly withdrew and jumped into the flowerbed of Demon's Shore.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3429

After Empress Ghast uttered a chant, an identical empress immediately rushed out and jumped into the lightning pool with a sword in her hand to share the damage. However, the mirror image of the empress was destroyed after lasting for less than three minutes. Then, she threw out another seven or eight magical treasures.

Even so, she never saw Alex reappear.

'Is he dead?' Empress Ghast frowned.

Both were considered comrade-in-arms. Now Alex had died in the lightning pool, she felt upset. 'Rascal, you weren't capable and liked to boast! Is this performance of not being afraid of lightning?!

However, she currently had no way to cross the lightning pool further. At a certain moment, the environment in the lightning pool suddenly changed. A huge attraction force and an enormous vortex appeared below the lightning pool, causing a massive amount of water in the lightning pool to billow and sink wildly.

'This is... The water in the lightning is decreasing? Could it be a leak down there?'

At a closer look, that inheritor of Ksitigarbha, who had opened his mouth wide, was sucking the water away from the lightning pool in a frenzy.

The empress was stunned.

Even if Alex was the inheritor of Ksitigarbha, he shouldn't possess such ability, should he?

Where did the water that he had sucked up go?

Whoosh!

After Alex sucked the lightning pool empty, the plan ted seed was completely exposed.

Empress Ghast instantly rushed over. Revealing a relaxed smile on her face, she patted Alex on the shoulder and said, “Good boy! You have a huge stomach!”

Alex burped.

“What should we do now? Do we dig out the seed directly?” He asked, “Will it have a negative impact on Revealer Maha?”

The empress said, “To be frank, I don’t know, but there’s always a price to pay. Are you ready? I’m going to stab it!”

“Stab it! Harder!”

Empress Ghast built up momentum. Then, she roared and stabbed her sword into the huge seed.

Poof!

“Argh!”

A mournful scream emanated from that giant swollen seed. The seed of Black Lotus of Nine Generations twisted wildly as if it had its own wisdom long ago. However, endless blackwater emerged. At the same time, the body of Revealer Malia, who was fighting Blaze and the others, abruptly stopped.

Alex heard the old monk’s voice. “Amitabha... Almsgiver Rockefeller, you’re finally here...”

That was the real old monk.

“How are you?”

“If I don’t sacrifice myself to save others, who will?”

The old monk’s words were fitting. He then said, “I’m running out of time. Almsgiver Rockefeller, you’re fated with Buddhism. It’s up to you whether you can stop the evil Buddha of Dairaionji Temple.”

Alex immediately said, "Old monk, Dairaionji Temple is already under my control. I'm equivalent to having the key right now, but I don't know where the keyhole is. You have to show me the way. Where can I enter Dairaionji Temple?"

The old monk quickly replied, "The way is inside the sutra. The way is inside the sutra... Om mani padme hum! Go!"

A beam of light rushed into Alex's forehead. His voice kept repeating. "The way is inside the sutra. The way is inside the sutra... Argh..!"

The voice stopped suddenly.

Empress Ghast said, "He's dead!"

At that moment, the space in this place was about to collapse.

Shelly and the Goddess of Compassion also rushed over. Looking at Alex's forehead, the Goddess of Compassion said, "Buddha's Life Wheel? You are the current Buddha?"

Alex rubbed his forehead. "The space here is going to perish! Hurry up and leave!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3430

Empress Ghast lifted the sword and slashed downward. What appeared ahead wasn't a crack but an entire rift. This was because the foundation of the Black Lotus of Nine Generations had been broken. The space of black lotus in front of them was also on the brink of destruction and would collapse at any time. Thus, there was no longer a way to form stable law.

"Go!"

The group rushed out of the space.

When they returned to the outside world, Blaze, Lucretia, and the others were engaged in a tough battle with the evil Buddhas. There were many evil Buddhas. However, Blaze and the others were not fighting alone. Many lords in the Hell Tower had come to help them. This was not a matter of protecting their homeland, but the evil Buddhas wanted to assimilate and turn them into cannon fodder on their side.

Who would be willing to do so?

“Great Resurrection Spell!” Emperor Ghast cast the Great Resurrection Spell again, summoning King Sandros from the death state.

Then, she grabbed the Nature’s Book in Shelly’s hand and returned it to King Sandros.

Emperor Ghast naturally had another ultimate move as the supreme queen of the nether realm.

“Rockefeller brat, you guys go and block them for a while! I’ll set up a formation and charge an ultimate move!”

Alex nodded. They were comrade-in-arms right now, so he said nothing and immediately rushed forward with the Immortal Butcher... He had just swallowed the entire lightning pool in the space of black lotus, and it was just right to use it to deal with the evil Buddhas of Dairaionji Temple. In addition, the combat power of Shelly and the Goddess of Compassion was not weak either.

The few joined forces and almost pushed their way ahead.

Shortly afterward, Empress Ghast formed her ultimate move. She directly opened up a spatial door and summoned all the other kings of hell as well as the 108 reserve kings of hell in the nether realm. Besides that, she also erased the restriction inside Nature’s Book and set all the lords in the Hell Tower free.

“Once you defeat these evil Buddhas, you will be completely pardoned!”

“Kill them!”

Once that had been done, Empress Ghast rushed back and regrouped with Alex and the others. The golden pillar of light was present in the sky all the time.

Meanwhile, a series of Buddhist texts were moving rhythmically in the pillar of light. They were Dairaionji Temple’s support to get through the Hell Tower.

“If the golden pillar of light from Dairaionji Temple is not destroyed, these evil Buddhas will keep coming down. They can absorb the energy of Dairaionji Temple, live endlessly, and come back to life,” the Goddess of Compassion said to the crowd while looking at the golden pillar of light.

Alex thought about Revealer Maha’s last word. “The way is in the sutra... What on earth did the old monk’s last word mean? Do we still have to find some sutra? Miss Goddess of Compassion, do you know what sutra is?”

The Goddess of Compassion looked at Alex. “You have the Buddha’s Life Wheel. You are the Buddha. That’s a question you have to ask your heart.”

Shelly said, “He is a philanderer. It’s useless even with the Buddha’s Life Wheel. You ask him to find the sutra, but he only has eyes for the Fair Maiden’s Heart Sutra.”

Alex said, “The flat-chested Shelly understands me!”

The Goddess of Compassion asked, “What does ‘flat-chested’ mean?”

Alex said, “Oh, it means a rich person... Argh! Why are you biting me?!”

Shelly bit Alex’s waist hard. The immense pain caused him to unleash automatic defense, forcing out Ksitigarbha’s Buddhist texts.

“Ah! I understand it!”

“Those Buddhist texts inside the golden pillar of light... Aren’t Buddhist texts part of a sutra? A sutra contains Buddhist texts. If we want to enter Dairaionji Temple, we have to blaze the trail with those golden Buddhist texts!” A whim struck Alex.

He thought of this way. It was just a guess. Although it was hard to tell whether it was right, he could give it a try.

“Empress, help me!”

Empress Ghast’s strength was probably the strongest among the women present. He initially thought the Peacock Heavenly King was a true king, but later discovered that she was an amateur who acted completely as a bystander.

Her role was not as good as... King Sandros!

“Don’t worry! My long sword is unrivaled!”
