Chapter 341: File a Lawsuit Against Amber

0 4 minutes read

“Mom, are you going to file a lawsuit against Amber?”

Sean asked tentatively.

“What kind of lawsuit?”

Mrs. Smith’s eyes turned cold slightly, “Yes, I want to sue Amber for murder. Besides, I’m going to get judges to grant you a divorce!”

Sean’s pupils contracted abruptly, and his nonchalant expression changed.

“Murder?”

“Divorce?”

What exactly did Amber do that his mother said such things regardless of his father’s cold face?

“Mom, you don’t have evidence. If it is a serious false accusation, you will go to jail!”

Amber stopped Tomas who wanted to talk and spoke in a low voice.

Mrs. Smith squinted at Amber, “Are you threatening me?”

“You think I can’t find evidence and can’t win you at the court?”

“The wife of the dean of Tong City’s Court is my best friend. I must win the case.”

Amber smiled, “The presiding judge of the court is honest and fair, and would never wrong anyone! Mom, you don’t have to bluff me.”

“If you want to sue me, you won’t win at all.”

“Because I’m innocent!”

“If you have to do that, the only one who will be affected was the Smith Group!”

Mrs. Smith, “...”

What a bitch!

Amber took a step forward and stared at Sean with burning eyes, “Sean, I have almost never been away from you these days. You know best if it was me. If you believe me, please tell mom clearly! “

Sean’s eyes dimmed.

She had almost never been away from me?

In the afternoon, he didn’t follow her and Lu Xiangxiang to Disney Land!

Moreover, he didn’t trust her at all!

She wanted him dead. She wanted him to give his position to Cindy!

He didn't believe his allergy had nothing to do with her!

Sean licked his lip, "Mom, Amber wouldn't do such a stupid thing, and it won't do her any good if I die."

"You overthink it!"

"Furthermore, the turmoil of the paternity test has not subsided, and our Smith Group's stock has finally stabilized. If Amber and I really get a divorce, our Smith Group's image will be ruined, and the loss will be even greater!"

After that, Sean's mood was a bit complicated.

He said these things, not because he trusted Amber!

What he feared most was that Amber would think that he did not want to divorce her and that he was very affectionate toward her.

He raised his head slightly and looked at Amber who was looking straight ahead in a daze. She was obviously distracted and didn't pay attention to his answer at all.

In other words, Amber didn't care about his answer at all.

Even if he didn't speak for her, she would be okay with that.

He frowned, and Mrs. Smith misread his expression.

She blinked, "Sean, you don't have to put up with that. I only have you. I can't watch you swallow grievance because of the company!"

"I don't believe our Smith Group will collapse if you really divorce Amber!"

Amber was motionless.

Mrs. Smith sounded resolute, but Amber didn't react at all.

Sean suddenly felt that it was very boring.

So he closed his eyes.

Anyway, no matter what his mother did, his father wouldn't allow him to divorce Amber!

No matter how much he explained, it would be pointless.

"If Sean divorces Amber, the Smith Group indeed won't collapse!"

"But the people on the board of directors will think that the people of our Smith family are unreliable and ungrateful!"

"Any one director who sells his shares is a huge loss to our Smith Group."

Tomas took a deep breath and said bitterly, "Besides, you think no one knows the real reason you wanted Amber to marry Sean three years ago?"

“Do you think the earth revolves around you? Sean didn’t suffer from blood cancer in the last three years, so you want him to divorce Amber?”

“Aren’t you afraid of retribution?”

The ward fell silent because of Tomas’s sudden anger.

Mrs. Smith stared at Tomas with wide-opened eyes. He changed his previous speaking style. Then he turned around, and left a word, “I won’t interfere with what you are going to do, but you’d better not regret it!”

After that, Tomas went out of the ward.

Mrs. Smith called him anxiously, “Your son is sick. Where are you going?!”

“Can I help if I stay?”

Mrs. Smith stomped angrily. She turned her head and glared at Amber viciously, “Amber, don’t be smug. I won’t let the matter go at that!”

Then, she chased Tomas and left.

After the ward quieted down, Amber slumped on the sofa.

She rubbed her temples and said nothing.

“Where is Cindy?”

Sean suddenly asked, breaking the silence in the ward.

Amber raised her eyes and looked at Sean, “You care about her?”

“Come on. I’m afraid that your daughter will be lost again and that you will blame me for that!”

Sean suddenly regretted asking this.

Amber wouldn’t answer his question. Maybe she would even use it as a sarcastic way to get at him.

“The driver took her back.”

Sean, “...”

After that, the two fell silent again. Sean was in a position for too long, so he moved and turned over.

The drawer was not closed tightly, and Sean saw the ointment through the slit.

He reached out and took the ointment out of it.

This ointment was not the one he could use.

Sean suddenly held the ointment in his palm tightly. When did Amber change it?

Was it true that she harmed him? His mother didn’t misunderstand her?

What a sinister woman!

After cursing, Sean suddenly reacted.

No, this ointment had been taken out by Amber when she was about to apply it for him at noon.

At that time, he took a look at it.

There was no one who knew the seriousness of the drug allergy better than him, so he paid extra attention to it.

There was no problem with the ointment at that time.

Moreover, Amber went out with Lu Xiangxiang at that time.

Sean took a cold breath.

Therefore, there was only one person who probably changed his ointment.

He subconsciously raised his head and looked at Amber who was sitting in the light. She fell down earlier. So, her shirt was covered with a layer of wrinkles, and her skirt was dirty and messy.

She was covered with dust, and the stars seemed to have shattered in her eyes.

Sean's eyes dimmed. He lifted open the quilt and got out of the bed.

Chapter 342: Why Did You Run Away?

0 4 minutes read

His movement attracted Amber's attention. She turned her head to look at him, and asked in a low voice, "Sean, where are you going?"

Sean didn't move, and whispered, "I'll go for a walk!"

Amber walked to him, "Your allergy is severe. The doctor doesn't allow you out!"

Hearing this, Sean frowned with impatience, but he didn't insist on going out, "Fine, I want Meat Dumplings. Buy some for me."

Amber didn't suspect and nodded.

"Then while I'm away, if the doctor has any medicine for you, don't accept it until I come back and check it."

"Do you really think you're a doctor? If you want to be my personal doctor, give up Mrs. Smith's position first!"

Sean suddenly sneered, "Amber, I won't marry my personal doctor!"

She smiled, "So, you married your nanny?"

"What do you mean?" "What do you mean?"

His eyebrows were knitted slightly, and his intense black eyes were like two bottomless cold pools.

Amber was not afraid at all, walked up to him straight, and whispered, "Take care of your diet and daily life, do what you want me to do, and bear your anger. What I am if I'm not a nanny?"

Sean's pupils contracted!

Taking care of him was a grievance in her eyes?

She thought he wanted to be taken care of by her? Did she know that countless women in Tong City lined up to take care of him?

He pinched the palm of his hand and forcibly suppressed his anger, "Oh? You do what I want you to do? They why did you run away when I said I wanted you to have sex with me this morning?"

Shit!

Sean gritted his teeth. He must not give Amber a chance to ridicule him, in case she would be smugger!

Before Amber could speak, Sean suddenly turned his head, looked at her, and said, "What are you doing here? Buy me Meat dumplings. Are you waiting for me to have sex with you?"

"You think I really want to do that?"

After he finished speaking, he tilted his head and his dark hair blocked the emotion in his eyes.

Amber blinked and said, "Sean, I lost my wallet in Paramount, and I didn't bring my phone back."

The implication was that you had to pay for what you wanted to eat.

Sean opened the drawer, took out his wallet, and threw it into Amber's arms.

Amber saw the thing in the drawer at a glance. She raised her long eyelashes and reached out to touch the express box, "What is this?"

Sean reached out and patted the back of her hand. The back of her hand instantly became red.

"Director White, don't you know a saying?"

Amber stared straight at Sean who narrowed his eyes and said word by word, "Curiosity kills the cat!"

"You'd better not touch my stuff!"

Amber nodded and whispered, "Sorry."

With his wallet, she went straight out of the ward.

Sean stared at the view of her back, being in a daze for a while. After waiting for two minutes, he took out the phone with the broken screen and called Lin Man.

The phone rang twice and then it was connected.

Lin Man's voice was as pleasant as usual, "Sean?"

Sean responded, and Lin Man said, "It's so late. What's the matter?"

"Lin Man, I was allergic to drugs tonight and went into the emergency room."

There was a slight worry in Lin Man's voice, "What happened? Are you okay?"

"Where's Amber? Is anyone taking care of you?"

"Why are you allergic to drugs? Have you found out why?"

Sean licked the corner of his lips.

Lin Man's voice was full of concern. After being with her for so many years, Sean thought he knew Lin Man and believed that she was kind.

Sean felt guilty.

He was really confused by Amber, and even started to guard against Lin Man!

"I'm already out of danger."

"The cause of my allergy is the ointment."

There was a silence on the other side of the phone.

Sean blinked, "Lin Man, did you change the ointment? Where is the one Amber gave you?"

Lin Man didn't speak. Sean was waiting for her answer patiently.

After a while, Lin Man said, "I threw that ointment into the trash can."

Sean, "Huh?"

"Why?"

Lin Man paused, "Sean, I'm sorry. I just wanted to do something for you, so I bought a new ointment. I didn't know you would be allergic."

Lin Man gave a kind of sob as she said the words. She suppressed it, as if afraid that Sean would notice it, "Sean, did I get you hurt again?"

Sean paused and didn't answer.

"Sean, after I came back, I rarely saw you. Even the only meal you had with me was accompanied by others."

"I wanted to do something for you. In Paramount, when you rushed in to save Amber, I was really scared. I was afraid you would die there!"

"Sean, you love each other. I should be happy for you..."

"Are you blaming me?"

Sean whispered, "No, I'm not!"

"I'm calling you because I'm worried you're being used."

"When I'm healed, I'll take you to something delicious."

“Didn’t you tell me that you want to visit our old school with me? I’ll take you there by then.”

Outside the ward, Amber held Sean’s wallet tightly. The light in her eyes disappeared little by little.

She stood for a while, then turned and walked towards the end of the corridor.

She felt bad and that she was quite dirty.

She actually eavesdropped on Sean.

The main reason was that Sean behaved strangely tonight. She thought that he found something wrong or knew something.

Amber pressed her lips tightly.

She had thought of all the reasons why Sean would be allergic, but she didn’t expect that it was really because of the ointment as Sean’s mother said.

It was Lin Man who changed the ointment.

Amber packed the Meat dumplings. When she came out of the restaurant, it was raining heavily. It was summer, and the weather would change at any time.

Amber didn’t bring an umbrella.

Carrying the Meat Dumplings, she ran back to the hospital.

“Amber!”

Hearing a familiar voice, Amber stopped, and an umbrella appeared over her head.

“Lu Yi?”

“Why are you here?”

Lu Yi smiled, “You and Sean are not in the company, so the public relations department is a bit busy. I just got off work and heard from my aunt that Sean has an allergy!”

Amber blinked and did not answer.

Lu Yi saw the packed Meat Dumplings in her hand, and his eyes flickered. He smiled softly, “You bought this for Sean?”

Chapter 343: He Looked Gloomy

0 5 minutes read

Amber nodded.

“The doctor said that you had a slight concussion. Anyway, you should not do anything strenuous like this.”

“If Sean wants to eat anything, you can order takeouts.”

Amber nodded.

Actually, Sean didn't want to eat Meat Dumplings. His main purpose was to send her away and give Lin Man a call.

"Let's go. I'll see Sean!"

"And send you back by the way."

...

In the hospital.

After Sean hung up, it rained outside.

The rain came quickly and heavy. Sean waited for a while, but Amber still hadn't come back.

He snorted. Wasn't she very capable? It was just rain, and she wouldn't die because of it.

Maybe she was flirting with some kind of handsome guy!

Sean held the thin quilt, looking impatient.

Two minutes later, he suddenly sat up from the bed, found an umbrella in the ward, and was about to walk directly out.

He was going to ask Amber what took her so long to buy the Meat Dumplings.

Just after he took a step, the door of the ward was suddenly pushed open from the outside. Sean's eyelid jerked, and he threw the umbrella in his hand into the trash can.

Amber entered the door and saw that the umbrella in the trash can rolled to Lu Yi's feet after the trash can spun around.

"..."

Lu Yi leaned over, picked up the umbrella, and smiled at Sean, "Sean, are you going out?"

Sean turned around and sat on the bed with a sullen face.

He shouldn't have worried about Amber having an accident.

What he should worry about most was when would Amber cheat on him!

The more Sean thought about it, the overcast his expression became.

"Where's my Meat Dumplings?"

Amber handed the takeaway box in her hand to him. Its outer packaging had been wet by rain, and there were some raindrops on its eaves.

Sean's eyelid twitched harder. He frowned, and his eyes were cold, "This is the meal you bought for me?"

Amber smiled, "Sean, you really wanted to eat Meat Dumplings?"

Sean suddenly felt a little guilty.

“There are only Meat Dumplings in Spicy Sauce in the restaurant across the street! But you can’t eat spicy food because of your injuries.”

The look in Sean’s eyes changed.

Did Amber know that he called Lin Man?

He glanced up and down at Amber, looked at her shoulders wet with rain, and licked his lip.

He actually felt a hint of guilt towards Amber.

Almost as soon as this emotion developed, it was drove away by him.

Wasn’t Amber very capable? She must have a good way to deal with his mother!

Sean held the disposable chopsticks tightly and glared at her.

Three years ago, she took away the marriage that belonged to Lin Man. At the time, it was reasonable for her to take the consequences for Lin Man!

Sean threw the chopsticks on the table, looked up at Lu Yi indifferently, and asked, “Cousin, what brings you here?”

“I’m here to see you. I heard from my aunt that you have an allergy.”

“Sean, Amber knows your physical condition. You should trust her.”

Sean sneered, “You know much about us?”

“Director White told you that?”

“What did she tell you? Did she tell you something private?”

Lu Yi smiled and glanced at Amber without answering.

Amber lowered her eyes slightly, reached out, and picked up a document. After she read it for a while, Lu Yi suddenly said, “Have you read the White Group’s document?”

Amber paused and turned her head to look at Lu Yi, “It was you who asked Xiaoshen to bring it over?”

“Yes.”

“Why?”

Lu Yi lowered his eyes and buttoned up the buttons on his sleeves. His side face was gentle, “Even if you don’t read it, someone from the White Group will come to you another day!”

“I mean, I want you to have a mental preparation.”

He was right.

Her father was a profit-oriented person. Since he had known that she had some power in the Smith Group, he would spare no efforts to contact her and get the cooperation of the Smith Group!

Thinking about it, Amber nodded.

Seeing the familiarity between the two, Sean looked more gloomy.

Look, in his presence, Amber not only exchanged amorous glances with another man, but also openly discussed pulling a few strings for her father.

He looked in Lu Yi's direction. After entering the door, Lu Yi took off his suit jacket and put it on the chair.

His coat was soaked, and the water droplets kept falling from it, converging into a water stain under the chair.

Amber, on the other hand, only got wet on her shoulders.

Lu Yi shielded the rain for her!

He was probably here to see Amber, not him.

"Director White, do you usually take advantage of the convenience of work to handle personal affairs?"

Lu Yi smiled, "Mr. Smith, if it wasn't for you, she should be the company and have seen this document!"

"Oh?"

"Mr. Smith, it was you who insisted on doing the paternity test!"

Sean's eyes turned gloomy, and he looked at Lu Yi firmly.

His good cousin firmly believed that he would not tell Amber that he entered Paramount to save her?

He curled the corner of his mouth in disdain and whispered, "She's my wife. She should be in the hospital to take care of me."

"Cousin, don't always think about other people's wives!"

"You'll get retribution!"

Amber raised her eyes and glanced at Sean, not in the mood to correct him.

She had told him many times that she and Lu Yi were just colleagues, but he kept turning a deaf ear to it!

She didn't want to waste her breath on him.

Lu Yi smiled.

After sitting for a while, Amber took out an ointment from her jacket pocket, "Sean, it's time to apply the medicine."

Almost as soon as Amber moved, Sean looked at her, and when his gaze touched the ointment in her palm, his pupils contracted.

It hadn't been opened yet. She might buy it when she was out!

This ointment was sold in a few places in Tong City. It was expensive and ordinary families cannot afford it.

“You came back so late because you were away to buy the ointment?”

Amber nodded.

When she came out of the drugstore, it rained.

Later it was heavy.

Sean licked the corner of his lips uneasily, “Where is the one I used?”

Amber gave him a meaningful look, and her eyes were full of tenderness.

Sean’s guilty conscience reappeared.

He felt that Amber seemed to know something.

Amber stuffed the ointment into Lu Yi’s hand and whispered, “Lu Yi, I’ll wait outside the ward. Please apply the medicine for Sean!”

“He is allergic. Please be gentle and careful!”

Chapter 344: I Don’t Agree!

0 4 minutes read

Sean didn’t agree, “No!”

Amber turned a blind ear to his words and said in a low voice, “Thank you!”

Lu Yi took the ointment and nodded with a smile, “No worries.”

After that, Amber left the ward without looking back, and closed the door.

Sean stared at Amber’s back.

Was Lu Yi so important in her heart?

He was so important that she was not willing to even apply medicine for him!

Was she afraid that Lu Yi would misunderstand her?

A fit of anger flashed across Sean’s eyes.

Lu Yi smiled and rolled up his sleeves, unpacking the ointment box, and said, “Sean, come on, I’ll apply the medicine for you!”

Sean didn’t move.

“Call Amber back. I want my wife to do that, not my rival in love!”

Lu Yi stood in situ, “Rival in love? Why?”

Sean sneered and was a little disgusted with Lu Yi's pretense.

He really thought he didn't know he was trying to hook up with Amber?

"Get out of here!"

Sean snorted.

Lu Yi was not angry and even smiled, "Sean, you know that I won't call Amber back. If you don't want to apply the medicine, I won't force you!"

He meant he wanted him to die in the hospital?

Sean looked at Lu Yi.

Lu Yi took out the phone from his pocket, "Miss Lin is one of the costume designers hired by the company. If you don't mind. I can call her and ask her to take care of you!"

Sean chuckled, "Lu Yi, you know what. You are really like a clown!"

"Call her. Anyway, you would never get what you want!"

The smile on Lu Yi's face froze and then disappeared.

They were both speechless as if they were just a cloud of air to each other.

After a while, Lu Yi called Amber back.

She held two bottles of IV drip in her hands.

Sean pressed the corners of his lips and heard Lu Yi's voice, "Amber, Sean has a problem with me. He didn't want me to apply the medicine for him!"

"I'm sorry!"

Sean's eyes widened when he heard the words.

He looked at Lu Yi incredulously. Why was there such a shameless person in this world?

Hearing this, Amber took two steps towards Sean. The corners of Sean's mouth twitched, but he didn't speak.

Should he explain?

Should he tell her that he only warned Lu Yi not to think about his wife rather than had a problem with him?

He wouldn't say such disgusting words!

Moreover, Amber was not worthy at all, not worthy of getting his explanation!

Sean snorted. Amber squatted down in front of him, holding the cotton swab and applying iodophor on the back of his hand, and gave him the drip.

Then she stood up straight and said in a low voice, "I'll call a male nurse over and apply the medicine for you!"

Sean froze.

The corner of his mouth was stiff.

She was trying to distance herself from him in front of Lu Yi!

"I want you to do that!"

"Aren't you quite good at that? Didn't you take off my clothes in the middle of the night? Huh?"

Amber frowned slightly.

"But I didn't finish applying the medicine. You didn't want me to touch you. I'm doing this for your good."

For his good?

Or she was afraid that Lu Yi would misunderstand her!

She really thought that the drug allergy could kill him?

Sean clenched his fists. Then he directly pulled the transfusion needle out!

The blood came out suddenly and splashed on his face, casting a dark cloud over his face.

Amber, this shameless woman, seduced him when Lu Yi was away. When Lu Yi was here, she pretended to be a chaste woman!

Was he a fool in her eyes?

Amber was frightened by Sean's sudden move. She hurriedly picked up the cotton swab and pressed it on Sean's pinhole.

"What are you doing?"

Sean withdrew his hand abruptly. His strength was so strong that Amber staggered.

"Director White, I don't want you to touch me!"

"I feel sick when I see you. I can't even recover from illness. I'm begging you. Don't be an eyesore in front of me!"

"Get out of here!"

Amber steadied herself, stroked her hair, glanced at Sean, turned back to Lu Yi and said, "Lu Yi, it's late. You have to get up early tomorrow morning. You'd better go back now!"

Lu Yi nodded, stood up, and picked up the suit jacket on the chair.

He took a step and looked back, "Sean, Amber has a slight concussion. She is already tired because of taking care of you. If you can, I hope you don't torment her again."

After that, he glanced at him meaningfully, "If it Miss Lin were her, she may not have such a good temper!"

Sean turned his head to look at Lu Yi.

Amber had a good temper?

Lin Man was a woman with emotions, but Amber was a very insensitive and artful woman!

Lu Yi finished speaking and left the ward directly.

Then only Amber and Sean were in the ward. She stood in the light, and her eyes were full of dust.

Sean thought that Amber would apply the medicine for him even if she was angry and then talked to him gently.

A light mockery flashed in Sean's eyes. Before he could react, a dim light flashed in front of him, and the ointment fell in his arms.

He looked up and met Amber's gaze. Her face was covered with a layer of frost. She whispered, "If you don't want me and nurses to touch you, apply the medicine yourself. I'll call Miss Lin and ask her to help you tomorrow!"

Amber finished speaking and turned around.

"Where are you going?"

His voice was cold, and Amber didn't stop, "Sean, you are not the only one who is injured. I also need a checkup!"

Sean frowned.

What nonsense!

The truth was that she was going to walk Lu Yi out, wasn't it?

Sean squeezed the ointment in his palm fiercely, and it was instantly out of shape.

As soon as Amber left, Sean got out of the bed, took a step forward, and stopped.

What if he followed her out like this and Amber misunderstood that he was worried about her?

That woman was already so greedy. If she misunderstood that he loved her, wouldn't her greed be further intensified?

Chapter 345: You Mean Mrs. Smith?

0 5 minutes read

With that in mind, Sean sat back to the bed. The air conditioning temperature was set very low, but could not suppress his anger.

No!

He didn't care what would Amber think. He had to find the evidence of her infidelity and then get a divorce with her!

Then he could marry Lin Man!

This idea had been rooted in his heart for three years and finally came true. He should announce it to the world!

Sean stood up suddenly, opened the door of the ward and rushed out.

Amber was no longer in the hallway. The SVIP floor was dim and extremely quiet. Sean glanced at the safety exit, then walked to the nurse's station and asked, "The woman who came out of my ward just now. Where did she go?"

The nurse raised her head and saw that it was Sean. Her eyes brightened, and her face turned a little red.

"Mr... Mr. Smith, you mean your wife?"

Sean, "..."

He didn't answer, which was considered as a yes. The nurse smiled and pointed to the doctor on duty's office.

"Mr. Smith, your wife will have a checkup tonight."

"She has a slight concussion. When she was rescued from Paramount, it was me who escorted her to the hospital."

Sean frowned.

He turned his head and looked at the office.

The nurse was not particularly good-looking, but her face was round, making people feel kind.

He remembered very clearly that on the day of the fire, he searched all the boxes on the second floor, but he couldn't find Amber.

He even suspected if Amber was not inside, if she had escaped if she had done it on purpose and wanted him to die there.

But the nurse suddenly said this...

"You escorted her?"

His tone was cold, and the nurse looked at him with a little fear and nodded hesitantly.

"Do you know who rescued her? Do you know where she was rescued from?"

The nurse paused, "The bathroom on the second floor."

"She was taken out by the gentleman who came to visit you just now."

Saying that, the nurse looked at Sean suspiciously, “The situation was chaotic at the time, and Mrs. Smith was seriously injured and unconscious!”

“Mr. Smith, didn’t you know that?”

“When I got in the ambulance with your wife, I clearly saw you talk to that gentleman!”

Sean’s heart contracted sharply.

Amber was rescued by Lu Yi. The Ambulance. Lu Yi talked to him.

It dawned on him.

But at that time, Lu Yi told him that Amber was still not in Paramount!

Firemen rescued Amber? He needed to go in and look for Amber?

Sean almost laughed.

He even made a harsh statement at that time, telling Lu Yi to go away!

How foolish he was!

The thin lips of Sean were pursed into two sharp blades, and his eyes were sullen.

He took out the phone, walked aside, and called Gu Jinyan.

He was still somewhat confused!

As soon as the phone was connected, the deafening noise on the other end of the phone came, “Sean? You are still up? You are quite energetic!”

“There are some new pretty girls in Ye Se. Meet me here!”

Sean’s eyebrows were knitted, “Don’t you know my physical condition? Be serious. I have something to ask you!”

“What is it?”

Sean licked the corner of his mouth and asked, “Why did you tell me to be careful of Lu Yi?”

“I told you before. Lu Yi and your wife showed up together when you were in the hospital for resuscitation.”

“I heard from the people in the hospital that your wife was brought to the emergency room!”

“Don’t you find it ridiculous? You were in danger, but your cousin showed up with your wife?”

Gu Jinyan suddenly changed his tone, “But there is no evidence. I might have overthought it.”

“Anyway, it’s not wrong to keep vigilance against others. We all know at a glance that Lu Yi is interested in your wife.”

Sean hung up the phone blankly.

He put his phone away, and walked directly towards the office the nurse pointed to.

As soon as he arrived, Amber came out with the medical record sheet, and he snatched it.

Amber was startled. When she saw it was him, her eyebrows smoothed, "Have you finished applying the medicine?"

Sean didn't answer, but read carefully the case sheet. There were a lot of professional terms on it. He couldn't understand them, but he knew some words.

As the nurse said, Amber had a slight concussion.

He snorted coldly, crumpled the case sheet into a ball, and threw it in the trash can in the corridor.

Who knows if Amber bought the doctor and deliberately made fake cases.

He turned back to the ward, and Amber followed, "Mr. Smith, are you worried about me?"

"Don't flatter yourself!"

"Then why did you follow me out?"

Sean narrowed his eyes, and gave a low laugh, "I was worried that you would cheat on me."

Amber pressed the corner of her lips and looked up at Sean.

The man with the light on his back, carrying the wounds he suffered for another woman, was the only light that had ever appeared in her life.

But it was... fleeting.

...

Amber thought that since the White Group could submit the cooperation project to the marketing department, they would definitely send someone to talk to her, but she never thought that they would move so quickly.

Moreover, it was Marcus who came.

Cindy came to the hospital that day. Amber brought her to buy lunch. On the way back, she was stopped by Marcus.

"Amber!"

He was very tall, more than a head taller than Amber, standing in front of her, like a mountain that could not be crossed.

Amber needed to raise her head when she looked at him.

Marcus should be about the same height as Sean, but Marcus made her feel pressured every time.

Marcus was different. He had a smile on his face, sunny, almost without a trace of haze, and looked a little stupid.

This was the first time Amber saw him. In the past, her father was always worried that she would disturb his new life and never let her come back.

But she was familiar with his name.

In the year when her mother died, the headlines of various newspapers in Tong City were all about the new marriage of the person in charge of the White Group.

After her father married the mistress, Amber had a brother who was six years younger than her.

She went to see her father, but his father did not want to see her. That year, her mother died and so did her father.

“Sorry, I don’t know you!”

Amber took Cindy, bypassed Sean, and was about to walk into the hospital.

Amber had no affection for him, because his mother took away her father not long after her mother died.

But Marcus was obviously not easy to dismiss. He reached out and grabbed her, “Sister, I know you!”

“I am your brother!”

Marcus grinned, looked down at Cindy, and asked with a smile, “This is my nephew? She looks so good! But sister, she doesn’t look like you!”

Amber’s eyes became a little cold. The sunlight shined through her eyelashes, casting heavy shadows on her lower eyelids.

“Get your hand off me. You are not here to claim a family connection, are you? What is it?”

Marcus smiled brightly and said in a low voice, “Have you read the cooperation plan the White Group submitted to the Smith Group?”

“Cooperating with the White Group is a win-win situation for your company. Sister, you are the marketing director. As long you agree, we’ll make the deal.”

Amber laughed.

Her smile was cold, “Sherman asked you to come?”

Sherman was their father.

Seeing her name call their father’s name directly, Marcus paused and nodded.

“Yes..., but it was me who made the cooperation plan. I hope...”

“Bring a word to Sherman for me. I am very vindictive. Even if your cooperation plan is amazing, the Smith Group will not cooperate with your company, let alone your plan is lousy!”

Marcus was dumbfounded.

The most innocent person in that past was Marcus.

“Sister, why are you doing this...”

Amber sneered.

“Go back and ask your dad!”

Amber finished speaking, pushed him away, and took Cindy into the hospital with the takeouts.

Cindy was very good. Although she was only three years old, she seldom interrupted when adults were talking.

As soon as she entered the hospital, she blinked, looked at Amber, and asked, “Mom, is that man really my uncle?”

Amber did not answer.

From the day her mother died of illness, she not only lost her mother but also her father.

“Mom?”

“Mom has no relatives, so you have no uncle!”

Cindy blinked. That man looked good. She kind of liked him.

“I see.”

Marcus didn’t follow. He was about to leave when he received a call from Sherman.

“Have you seen your sister?”

Marcus replied in a sullen voice, “Dad, but my sister refused to recognize me and said that she didn’t know me.”

“I asked her why, but she told me to ask you...”

Sherman, who had always been tough, kept silent for a while, “Your sister will be softhearted. Meet her a few more times and you’ll convince her.”

Marcus nodded.

Hanging up the phone, he was about to leave, and a girl in a red dress walked towards him.

She looked pretty, but comparing with Amber, she was average. Marcus didn’t notice her at all, but she suddenly blocked his way.

“You are Amber’s younger brother?”

Marcus paused, and he looked down at the woman, “Who are you?”

"I am your sister's friend. My name is Lin Man."

"Lin Man?" Marcus murmured, "I haven't heard of you. I checked before I came. My sister only had a friend whose name is Lu Xiangxiang!"

"You eavesdropped on my conversation with my sister. You are not a good person."

Lin Man's expression remained gentle.

She never showed her mood on her face. She stood there like a clean and pure flower.

"It doesn't matter if you don't believe me. Just assume I never showed up. Mr. White, goodbye!"

Marcus glanced at Lin Man, and then ran over to his sports car.

His sister said his plan was not good. He needed to revise it carefully.

...

Amber carried the takeaway into the ward. Cindy took off her shoes and climbed onto the bed.

Sean raised his eyes, "Director White, what took you so long? Why, the waiter at the restaurant also fell in love with you!"

Cindy answered, "My mother is so good-looking. If someone likes her, it proves that they have a good vision!"

"Those who dislike my mother are all morons!"

Sean, "..."

Amber glanced at her, "Cindy, watch your language!"

Watch your language?

The corner of Sean's mouth twitched. Did that mean she admitted what Cindy said was right?

She was really confident!

Did she think he had a bad vision?

Sean glared at Amber. Amber took out the chopsticks, handed them to him, and whispered, "After eating, go check your injuries."

Sean took them and stirred the food that Amber packed for him, and looked at the porridge in front of him, "Amber, these are what you give me?"

She had a light smile on her face, "Yeah."

"You are seriously injured. The doctor specifically told you to eat something mild."

"I spare a thought for your health."

What nonsense!

If she spared a thought for his health, why was she unwilling to apply the medicine for him?

If she spared a thought for his health, why did she try to get him killed?

Amber obviously used the doctor's words as an excuse to upset him!

Sean took a deep breath, threw his chopsticks away, and said coldly, "I don't want these! Buy me another meal!"

Amber lowered her eyes slightly, "The mean wouldn't change."

Sean squinted his eyes, and looked at Amber firmly.

The atmosphere became extremely cold in an instant.

"Dad, you are so old. Why are you still a picky eater?"

"I'm not!"

Sean snorted. He didn't even see a bit of oil in the food. His food was worse than that of monks in temples every day!

"That's why you are short!"

Cindy stopped chewing, opened her eyes wide, looked at Sean, and then at Amber.

"No. Mom said that if I eat well and don't be a picky eater I will grow taller."

Sean smiled, "Then have you grown taller?"

"Besides being fat, are you taller than before?"

Sean glared at Amber.

Noticing his eyes, Amber frowned. Cindy was as picky as Sean. She had a hard time convincing her not to be picky eaters and eat everything. After Sean said that, Cindy's idea was shaken.

"Sean, only these, I won't let you eat anything else!"

She was righteous and confident. Sean laughed angrily, "This is the way you take care of me?"

"Yes, so what?"

"I have to bear the consequences no matter what happens to your health!"

"You know your mother's temper. I won't invite trouble!"

"Since you have acquiesced that you wanted me to take care of you, recuperate peacefully! Otherwise, I can't guarantee that I won't leak the news of Miss Lin's return to mom and dad!"

Sean overturned the small table abruptly.

Cindy was caught off guard. She was eating the porridge. Her face was smeared by it, and she looked stunned.

She looked at Sean blankly, unable to react for a while.

The porridge mixed with the food strewn on the bed sheets and bedding. The room was a mess.

Amber rubbed her fingers, and Sean's cold voice came from behind, "Amber, you think that you can threaten me like this for the rest of your life?"

Chapter 347: Mom, I Want to Go Home

0 4 minutes read

"Why are you so despicable? In the three years, you haven't become smart but more shameless!"

"Why? You took me away from Lin Man and wanted to prevent her from returning home?"

Amber straightened her somewhat messy hair, turned her head slightly, and saw Lin Man standing at the door of the ward.

She held the corner of her clothes tightly, and looked a little flustered, like a shaky little white flower.

The feeling of being ashamed came up again and took over her chest.

Amber took out a few sheets of paper towels and said nothing. She wiped the porridge off Cindy's face.

Cindy didn't cry. Except for blinking when Amber wiped her face, she was quite like a doll.

The food was still very hot and there was some soup. After Cindy's face was wiped clean, her white face looked red and swollen.

Sean's pupils contracted, and the familiar pain spread in his heart.

In the huge ward, the atmosphere was heavy. Amber didn't quarrel with him, but he had a feeling of being overwhelmed.

Amber took the ointment used by Sean on the table, squeezed out a little, applied it on Cindy's face, then help Cindy put on shoes, got up, and walked out.

Sean didn't speak, but when Amber passed by Lin Man, she was stopped by her.

"Amber, where are you going?"

Amber didn't speak. Cindy curled in her arms, and said with a sob, "Mom, I want to go home."

Amber freed up a hand, pushed Lin Man's arm away, and stepped out of the ward.

She was wearing high heels, a white shirt and a pair of black trousers. Every step she took was like stepping on the cusp of Sean's heart.

Sean threw himself heavily into the soft pillow and closed his eyes.

Cindy's face looked badly hurt.

Sean was a little guilty. It was Amber's fault, and it had nothing to do with Cindy.

He licked the corner of his lips and said to himself in his heart. He was right!

If Amber didn't mention Lin Man, he wouldn't have been so angry!

Who knows if she did that on purpose?

Who knows if she deliberately used her daughter to play a battered-body trick?

Sean sneered.

He wouldn't be fooled by her.

Was she expecting him to apologize and coax her?

Lin Man walked in. She glanced at Sean who was lying on the messy bed, motionless, feeling a little complicated.

Sean had a morbid fear of getting dirty. When did he ever do this?

"Sean, why... why did you argue with Amber again?"

"You should let bygones be bygones!"

Sean turned his head, looked at Lin Man, and asked in a low voice, "Why are you here?"

"I'm worried about you."

Sean nodded. Lin Man smiled, and said in a low voice, "Sean, why don't you get off the bed? I'll call someone to clean it up."

Hearing this, Sean froze.

He got off the bed, and Lin Man went out to get a cleaner over. As soon as she got out of the ward, she saw Amber sitting on the plastic bench in the corridor and holding Cindy.

Amber sat quietly. People passing by couldn't help but look back at her.

Lin Man tucked her long hair behind her ears and walked to Amber. Her shadow covered Amber, and Amber looked up.

"Amber, what are you doing here?"

"Why don't you go in?"

Amber looked indifferent, "Miss Lin, let's talk."

"Amber, I'm going to get someone to clean up the mess in the ward."

"Amber, I don't think we need to talk. I have already told you that I didn't mean to disturb you and Sean's life!"

"After the designer exchange meeting is over, I will leave."

The corner of Lin Man's mouth curved slightly. She bypassed Amber and walked away.

“Lin Man, there is no one else here. Stop pretending.”

Amber put Cindy on the ground, “Cindy, go over there and play for a while. I need to talk to aunt Lin.”

Cindy walked away tamely. Amber stood up and walked to Lin Man. She was taller than Lin Man, so she lowered her eyes slightly, “I’m not interested in your purpose of coming back. If you didn’t want to disturb our life, you wouldn’t have shown up in front of Sean.”

“Amber, is that what you want to tell me?”

Lin Man smiled, “If Sean knew, he would be upset again.”

“You know how Sean feels about me. I advise you not to invite trouble.”

Amber smiled, “Sure.”

“I stopped you to give what you and Sean want.”

Lin Man was a little stunned.

Amber tilted her head, and looked at her with a serious look.

“It will take Sean a long time to recover if I take care of him. He likes you. You should stay and take care of him!”

“Amber, are you serious?”

Lin Man asked with a hint of mockery.

“Aren’t you afraid?”

Amber patted the wrinkles on her white shirt and tilted her head, “Don’t do something silly like changing the ointment again!”

“I don’t agree. If I take care of Sean, his father will know about my return...”

“Don’t worry. I won’t let him find out.”

“But if something happens to Sean, I will drive you out of the country like three years ago!”

Amber smiled and said, “You should know that time can dilute all feelings. Three years have passed. Don’t overestimate your weight in Sean’s heart!”

Lin Man kept silent.

She looked at Amber and nodded, “OK, I promise you, but I hope you won’t regret it!”

Amber blinked, turned her head, and crooked her finger at Cindy. The little girl ran over. Amber leaned down and picked her up, then turned and walked towards the end of the corridor.

Lin Man stood behind her, blinked slightly, and the corner of her lips curved slightly.

The ward was cleaned up. Sean also changed his clothes, and Xu Lin had bought him a new phone.

Lying on the hospital bed, he was waiting for Amber while playing on his mobile phone.

A male nurse walked into the ward. Lin Man arranged her dress and whispered, "Sean, the nurse will apply the medicine for you."

Sean didn't lift his head, and whispered, "No, Amber will do that for me after coming back!"

Lin Man didn't stop. She stood up, made room for the nurse, and said, "Amber will not be back today."

Chapter 348: Amber Won't Come Back

0 4 minutes read

"Amber will not come back today."

Lin Man smiled, "Sean, Amber said she wanted me to take care of you instead of her."

Sean's eyelashes fluttered, and his expression was sullen.

Amber asked Lin Man to stay and take care of him?

Sean laughed angrily. Amber was so generous!

She was really worthy of being his wife!

Sean licked his lip. She did that probably because he delayed her going out and fooling around with other men, right?

Sean took out his phone.

He was injured for saving her. How could she cheat on him?

How could he let her do whatever she wanted!

With that in mind, Sean took out his phone and called Amber.

It was switched off.

He suddenly remembered that Amber's cell phone and wallet were all with him!

Sean was so angry that he smashed the phone in his hand again.

Shit!

It was Amber who kept saying that they should be careful of reporters and be together all the time!

Why did he believe her?

It turned out that whether this matter could be over depended on Amber's mood!

...

The next day.

In the Smith Group.

Amber appeared in the marketing department on time, and Xu Lin walked in almost as soon as she sat down in her office.

With a wistful smile on his face, he put down a large stack of files on Amber's desk, "Miss Qin..."

Amber squinted and glanced at Xu Lin, slightly poked the documents with the pen in her hand, "What's the matter?"

"Mr. Smith asked me to send this to you."

"Huh?" Amber raised his eyebrow unexpectedly, "What did exactly he say?"

"Mr... Mr. Smith said that he was doing very well in the hospital every day. He wasn't in the mood to deal with documents. Since you couldn't wait to come back to work, he wanted you to deal with his work."

Amber signed the document she had read and whispered, "Take them back."

"I can take them back, but I can't report on my mission."

Xu Lin was a little hesitant, "You know Mr. Smith's temper. I..."

"I can help Sean deal with them, but I am not the president of the Smith Group. Even the board of directors will not approve my signature, let alone the clients!"

"Secretary Xu, why are you being unreasonable with him?"

Amber pointed to the office door, "Should I ask Xiaoshen to walk you out?"

Xu Lin, "..."

Why was he so unlucky? Each of his superiors was harder to be dealt with than the one before!

The office door rang. Xiaoshen walked in from outside, saw Xu Lin, and frowned.

"What's the matter?"

"Director White, Mr. White from the White Group is here."

Amber's hand, holding the pen, froze and she glanced at Xiaoshen who said, "He wishes to see you."

"Does he have an appointment?"

"Yes."

Amber, "..."

"Free up the small conference room. I'm going to have a meeting. I will see him when I am free!"

Xiaoshen nodded, "Okay."

Xu Lin, "... Director White, I'm going back."

"Wait."

“Since Mr. Smith is not in the mood to handle the documents, don’t send them to the hospital to disturb him!”

Xu Lin nodded and followed out.

In the small meeting room, Marcus had been waiting for two hours. He had drunk no less than ten glasses of water. All he was told was that Amber was still in the meeting.

Marcus understood. Amber didn’t want to see him!

He pressed his lips, said goodbye to Xiaoshen, and went directly out of the Smith Group.

After getting in the car, Marcus took out his cell phone and dialed a phone number.

“Hello?”

“It’s me!” Marcus whispered, “Last time at the entrance of the hospital, you talked to me.”

Lin Man paused. She subconsciously glanced at Sean who was sleeping, stood up, and took a step outside.

“Marcus?”

“Yes.”

“You don’t believe me, do you?”

Marcus paused and said in a low voice, “I didn’t say that. My sister didn’t want to see me. You seem to know her very well. I want to ask you...”

Lin Man smiled, “Where did you get my phone number?”

“Why? is your phone number a state secret?”

“of course not.”

Lin Man smiled again, and Marcus asked impatiently, “Do you have any way to get my sister to see me?”

“Doesn’t Amber have a daughter? There is no woman in this world who does not love her daughter.”

Marcus didn’t say anything else, and hung up the phone.

As Lin Man listened to the busy tone in the phone, a cunning look flashed quickly in her eyes.

Although Marcus and Amber were biological siblings, obviously, Marcus’s IQ was not even a quarter of Amber’s!

After Lin Man answered the call, Sean was already awake. He was making a call.

“Sean, do you want to eat anything?”

Sean hung up the phone and shook his head.

“No, if you are hungry, get something for yourself!”

Lin Man smiled.

“You made a call just now?”

“Yes, did I wake you up?”

Sean shook his head and whispered, “Lin Man, you can go back and get some rest. I’ll get Amber here later.”

The smile on her face disappeared, “What do you mean?”

“You don’t want me to take care of you?”

“Or, you think I can’t take care of you? Did I do something wrong?”

Lin Man was about to cry. Sean paused, and said, “No, it’s not like that. How can I dislike you?”

“I’m just worried that it will be too tired for you to take care of me.”

The tears in Lin Man’s eyes froze.

“Should I?”

Sean nodded, “Moreover, you are going to participate in the designer exchange meeting, right? You should spend some time to get ready.”

“I don’t want you to waste your time on me.”

Lin Man pressed her lips, and her beautiful eyes were filled with sparkling tears, “Sean, I don’t feel tired. When we were together before, you always took care of me!”

“I really want to do something for you. Just let me stay here to take care of you!”

“Okay?”

Sean pressed the corner of his lips and tilted his head, “Lin Man, I can’t bear seeing you tired!”

He was injured because of Amber!

Why could Amber leave him to Lin Man directly?

Why could she be footloose and fool around while he was suffering in the hospital?

He wouldn’t make it easy for Amber!

“I’m not tired! Moreover, I and Amber are good friends. I’m glad that I can help her take care of you. It’s really good to see you two living a happy life. Sean, just let me stay.”

Chapter 349: It Has Nothing to Do With You

0 4 minutes read

Sean took a deep breath.

Lin Man continued, "She specially told me not to make any mistakes when I take care of you. What if she blames me after I go?"

"Lin Man, don't overthink. It's not about you."

Although Sean's tone was flat, Lin Man subconsciously fell silent.

After being with Sean for so many years, she knew he had a resolute character.

She pressed her lips, and Sean said casually while being on his phone, "Be prepared and shine at the exchange meeting. Staying in the Smith Group will be your gift for my discharge."

"Okay?"

Lin Man paused and nodded.

The corners of his mouth curved, but he doesn't look like smiling. He curled in under the quilt, held the phone and typed the message to Amber word by word.

[Come to the hospital tonight!]

Xu Lin gave him Amber's cell phone number.

After sending it, he left his phone aside, not worrying that Amber would say no.

He knew that Amber would not turn a blind eye to his message.

Within a minute, his phone rang.

Sean raised his eyebrow, his tongue pressed against the corner of his lips, and a trace of contempt flashed in his eyes.

She replied so fast. Was she waiting for his message?

Hump! She was quite judicious.

Sean stretched out his long arm, took his phone and unlocked it.

It was not Amber's text message, but spam.

Sean's eyes turned a little gloomy. She was so cocky that she didn't read the text message he sent her?

Half an hour later, Amber called him.

Sean paused for a while before reaching out and answering it. The first sound that came over was the sound of paper rubbing.

"Sean, why do you want me to go to the hospital?"

Sean frowned.

What did she mean? She wouldn't come if nothing happened?

Oh, he remembered. Coming to the hospital delayed her hooking up with other men!

Sean's eyebrows were knitted, and the words flowed to his lips, stagnating. He whispered, "Of course for something!"

"What is it?"

"Lin Man likes Burberry's design style. I flipped through the magazine this morning and saw that they have released a limited edition dress!"

Amber grasped the pen in her hand tightly.

Sean slowly said, "She stayed in the hospital to take care of your husband for you. Shouldn't you buy her something to thank her?"

Amber laughed.

"Should I?"

Her tone was calm without anger. Sean paused.

Amber continued, "Why do I feel like I have been taking care of Miss Lin's husband for her for three years?"

Sean was speechless.

Amber whispered, "I'll only upset you if I'm in the hospital, so I won't come."

"If you have any needs, you can tell Miss Lin directly. I think, with the affection between you two, she will definitely be happy to satisfy you."

"By the way, Miss Lin's preference for high-end brand's design style has nothing to do with me."

"Moreover, Mr. Smith, this is the 21st century, not in ancient times. I don't think I need to worry about other people's food, clothing and housing!"

Sean's hand, holding the phone, shook in anger.

When he was about to speak, Amber hung up.

His eyebrows were knitted into a ball suddenly, and he held his phone tightly.

He fixedly looked at his phone and took a deep breath. What a cocky woman!

If she was in ancient times, would she want to be the hostess of the Smith family?

He would have divorced her long ago. Bah!

Sean threw the phone onto the bedside table with a gloomy expression. Lin Man saw Sean's expression, and kept silent for a while. She whispered, "Sean, what did Amber say?"

"Sean, Burberry's clothes are expensive. You don't need to waste money for me!"

"And taking care of you is my pleasure. I don't need any remuneration. Sean, don't mention this in the future, okay?"

The corners of Sean's lips sarcastically curved, "Expensive? How expensive they would be? Will I not be able to afford them?"

"Besides, if my money is not spent on you, should it be wasted on Amber?"

"Is there a word fool carved on my forehead?"

Sean stooped down and said in a low voice, "Don't hesitate to tell me what you like!"

Sean's eyes were filled with a thick stream of light, deep and firm. Lin Man kept silent for a while, lowered her head, and concealed the sudden joy in her eyes.

After talking a few words with Lin Man, a nurse came in and said that Sean needed a checkup.

Sean was wheeled out by the nurse while Lin Man waited in the ward.

...

It was already afternoon when Amber finished the paperwork. The summer weather was easy to make people feel sleepy.

She leaned on the back of the wide chair. As soon as she closed her eyes, her phone rang.

She opened her eyes and picked up her phone. It was Sean's attending doctor.

Amber hesitated, then answered it.

"Hello, Mrs. Smith?"

Amber paused for a moment, then replied, "Yes. Is something wrong with Sean?"

The doctor did not deny, "Mrs. Smith, we performed a check on Mr. Smith today."

"When he had the allergy, I said that you should focus on Mr. Smith's condition for 24 hours, but he used the wrong medicine again."

"However, the lady who is taking care of Mr. Smith does not know medicine. She isn't dieting Mr. Smith severely. If you are really busy, I suggest you hire a nursing assistant to take care of him..."

The doctor's voice was indifferent, and his every word was a sharp knife that stabbed Amber's eardrum hard.

If Sean's injuries worsened, his mother would not let her go easily!

But if she took care of Sean herself, she couldn't control her temper sometimes.

Amber blinked and whispered, "I'm coming to the hospital now."

"Such things will not happen again. Thank you, doctor."

With her assurance, the doctor hung up the phone without saying anything else.

Amber closed the file on the desk and went straight out of the office. She was not sure how long she would stay in the hospital, so before she went there, she went to the kindergarten and took Cindy out.

When she arrived at the hospital, it was four pm.

Lin Man was sitting in front of the hospital bed, peeling an apple for Sean.

Chapter 350: Aren't You too Busy to Come?

0 9 minutes read

When Sean saw her, a hint of surprise flashed across his dark eyes quickly.

The corner of his mouth curved, and he said with an ambiguous smile.

"Director White, didn't you say you were too busy to come?"

Amber's expression remained unchanged. She took Cindy into the ward and whispered, "Cindy, wait for mom in the ward. I will go to see dad's doctor."

"Okay."

Cindy nodded obediently.

Amber smiled. She appeared here with a light makeup. There was an unpredictable charm at the end of her eyebrows. She suddenly smiled, which was more breathtaking than rainbows after the rain.

Sean's eyes deepened. After Amber left the ward, he still stared at the door in a daze.

She was going to see his attending doctor?

For what?

Amber hadn't planned to kill him yet?

He didn't believe that his mother would ask Amber to be in charge of everything about him in the hospital!

Even if his mother believed Amber, he didn't!

Thinking about it, Sean sat up from the bed and wanted to go out.

As soon as he moved, Cindy stopped him, "Dad, where are you going?"

"Are you going to find mom?"

Sean didn't deny it.

He didn't bother to lie to a kid.

A smile flashed across Cindy's face. She tugged at the hospital gown on Sean and said with a smile, "Dad, did you miss mom?"

"There is a saying. One day apart seems like thirty years?"

Sean, "..."

It was three years, not thirty.

Amber's daughter was not as smart as her. She couldn't even remember such a simple word!

Sean snorted.

He missed Amber?

No, he thought about how to torture her every day!

"You know too much. Step aside!"

Cindy smiled and got out of his way.

She had big eyes, deep pupils, and her smile was brighter than the stars in the sky.

Sean couldn't help but gave her one more look.

This little girl was pretty cute, but she had a belly of wicked tricks!

Just like her mother!

After Sean left, Lin Man and Cindy were the only ones in the ward.

Lin Man hadn't finished peeling the apple.

When Sean was gone, the gentle smile on her face disappeared.

Her fingers, holding the fruit knife, shook slightly.

Cindy didn't notice that. She climbed onto the hospital bed, tilted her head, glanced at Lin Man, and whispered, "Aunt Lin, are you peeling this apple for dad?"

Lin Man raised her eyes, glanced at her slowly, and smiled, "Yes, do you want to eat it too?"

Cindy's eyes lit up and she whispered, "Can I?"

Lin Man held the fruit knife, peeled off the last piece of the peel, and then handed the apple to her.

"Here you are."

"You will grow faster if you eat fruit often."

Cindy took a bite. The apple was very sweet. She blinked, took out a book from her schoolbag, and ate it as she read it.

"Cindy, are your mom and your dad on good terms?"

Without looking back, Cindy nodded without hesitation, "Yes, my dad loves my mom very much!"

Lin Man was surprised. Sean loved Amber very much?

Then why were there so many gossips about them?

She didn't expose Cindy's lie, and asked in a low voice, "To what extent?"

“They often kiss.”

“Dad doesn’t kiss me, but he always kisses mom secretly.”

Cindy said, curled her lips and looked a little dissatisfied.

Lin Man’s eyes turned cold, and she pressed her lips tightly. Cindy smiled and said, “Oh, Aunt Lin, my father told me before that you were his girlfriend.”

“But he doesn’t like you anymore.”

“He likes mom.”

Lin Man smiled. Seeing her smiling, Cindy also smiled, “Aunt Lin, don’t be sad. My mother looks good, so it’s reasonable that he would like my mom.”

“I said before that I can introduce uncle Gu to you, and I’ll keep my promise!”

“I can also introduce uncle Lu to you!”

The smile on Lin Man’s face gradually crumbled.

She stared closely at Cindy’s face that resembled Sean’s. No matter whether what she said was true or not, it made her feel uncomfortable!

Sean came out of the ward and walked directly in the direction of the doctor’s office.

The doctor’s office was not far from the ward, so he got there soon.

He took a cigarette out of his pocket and held it in his mouth. He didn’t intend to go in, but stood at the door of the office, planning to listen to what the attending doctor and Amber would talk about.

“Mrs. Smith, this is Mr. Smith’s inspection report. Please take a look.”

Amber scanned it.

“Mr. Smith is allergic severely. Yesterday we had an operation on him. He has an indwelling needle on the back of his hand.”

“We planned to remove it today, but his condition shows no signs of improvement. After the indwelling needle is removed, he will endure varying degrees of pain.”

“As for his diet. This morning, when I went to Mr. Smith’s ward, I saw his breakfast was Fried Egg in Sauce.”

Amber, “...”

“By the way, during his recuperation, Mr. Smith was still smoking.”

Amber licked the corner of her lips, “Doctor, I will restrain him. These things won’t happen again.”

The doctor nodded.

“Mrs. Smith, Miss Lin is not suitable for taking care of a patient. If it’s necessary, I can recommend a nursing worker to you!”

Sean's eyes deepened at the door of the doctor's office.

Every sentence Amber said was about his health.

Would she be so kind?

Could it be that it was just a play that she deliberately showed to him with his attending doctor?

Sean licked the corner of his lips and snorted coldly.

The two people inside were about to finish talking. Sean turned around and took two steps before being stopped.

"Sean!"

Sean's eyelid twitched. He glanced at Marcus and said, "Who are you?"

"I can't be mistaken. You are my brother-in-law. You often appear in the headlines of various newspapers. I'm not mistaken!"

"Oh, I forgot to introduce myself. Sean, I'm Marcus White!"

Marcus White?

Amber's stupid brother?

Amber asked him to be here?

Appeared on the headlines of various newspapers? Amber deliberately let his younger brother appear here and said such words to mock him?

Sean squinted and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Marcus licked the corner of his lips, "I'm here to see my sister. Last time she said that my cooperation plan was not qualified to cooperate with the Smith Group. I've revised it..."

When Sean saw her, a hint of surprise flashed across his dark eyes quickly.

The corner of his mouth curved, and he said with an ambiguous smile.

"Director White, didn't you say you were too busy to come?"

Amber's expression remained unchanged. She took Cindy into the ward and whispered, "Cindy, wait for mom in the ward. I will go to see dad's doctor."

"Okay."

Cindy nodded obediently.

Amber smiled. She appeared here with a light makeup. There was an unpredictable charm at the end of her eyebrows. She suddenly smiled, which was more breathtaking than rainbows after the rain.

Sean's eyes deepened. After Amber left the ward, he still stared at the door in a daze.

She was going to see his attending doctor?

For what?

Amber hadn't planned to kill him yet?

He didn't believe that his mother would ask Amber to be in charge of everything about him in the hospital!

Even if his mother believed Amber, he didn't!

Thinking about it, Sean sat up from the bed and wanted to go out.

As soon as he moved, Cindy stopped him, "Dad, where are you going?"

"Are you going to find mom?"

Sean didn't deny it.

He didn't bother to lie to a kid.

A smile flashed across Cindy's face. She tugged at the hospital gown on Sean and said with a smile, "Dad, did you miss mom?"

"There is a saying. One day apart seems like thirty years?"

Sean, "..."

It was three years, not thirty.

Amber's daughter was not as smart as her. She couldn't even remember such a simple word!

Sean snorted.

He missed Amber?

No, he thought about how to torture her every day!

"You know too much. Step aside!"

Cindy smiled and got out of his way.

She had big eyes, deep pupils, and her smile was brighter than the stars in the sky.

Sean couldn't help but gave her one more look.

This little girl was pretty cute, but she had a belly of wicked tricks!

Just like her mother!

After Sean left, Lin Man and Cindy were the only ones in the ward.

Lin Man hadn't finished peeling the apple.

When Sean was gone, the gentle smile on her face disappeared.

Her fingers, holding the fruit knife, shook slightly.

Cindy didn't notice that. She climbed onto the hospital bed, tilted her head, glanced at Lin Man, and whispered, "Aunt Lin, are you peeling this apple for dad?"

Lin Man raised her eyes, glanced at her slowly, and smiled, "Yes, do you want to eat it too?"

Cindy's eyes lit up and she whispered, "Can I?"

Lin Man held the fruit knife, peeled off the last piece of the peel, and then handed the apple to her.

"Here you are."

"You will grow faster if you eat fruit often."

Cindy took a bite. The apple was very sweet. She blinked, took out a book from her schoolbag, and ate it as she read it.

"Cindy, are your mom and your dad on good terms?"

Without looking back, Cindy nodded without hesitation, "Yes, my dad loves my mom very much!"

Lin Man was surprised. Sean loved Amber very much?

Then why were there so many gossips about them?

She didn't expose Cindy's lie, and asked in a low voice, "To what extent?"

"They often kiss."

"Dad doesn't kiss me, but he always kisses mom secretly."

Cindy said, curled her lips and looked a little dissatisfied.

Lin Man's eyes turned cold, and she pressed her lips tightly. Cindy smiled and said, "Oh, Aunt Lin, my father told me before that you were his girlfriend."

"But he doesn't like you anymore."

"He likes mom."

Lin Man smiled. Seeing her smiling, Cindy also smiled, "Aunt Lin, don't be sad. My mother looks good, so it's reasonable that he would like my mom."

"I said before that I can introduce uncle Gu to you, and I'll keep my promise!"

"I can also introduce uncle Lu to you!"

The smile on Lin Man's face gradually crumbled.

She stared closely at Cindy's face that resembled Sean's. No matter whether what she said was true or not, it made her feel uncomfortable!

Sean came out of the ward and walked directly in the direction of the doctor's office.

The doctor's office was not far from the ward, so he got there soon.

He took a cigarette out of his pocket and held it in his mouth. He didn't intend to go in, but stood at the door of the office, planning to listen to what the attending doctor and Amber would talk about.

"Mrs. Smith, this is Mr. Smith's inspection report. Please take a look."

Amber scanned it.

"Mr. Smith is allergic severely. Yesterday we had an operation on him. He has an indwelling needle on the back of his hand."

"We planned to remove it today, but his condition shows no signs of improvement. After the indwelling needle is removed, he will endure varying degrees of pain."

"As for his diet. This morning, when I went to Mr. Smith's ward, I saw his breakfast was Fried Egg in Sauce."

Amber, "..."

"By the way, during his recuperation, Mr. Smith was still smoking."

Amber licked the corner of her lips, "Doctor, I will restrain him. These things won't happen again."

The doctor nodded.

"Mrs. Smith, Miss Lin is not suitable for taking care of a patient. If it's necessary, I can recommend a nursing worker to you!"

Sean's eyes deepened at the door of the doctor's office.

Every sentence Amber said was about his health.

Would she be so kind?

Could it be that it was just a play that she deliberately showed to him with his attending doctor?

Sean licked the corner of his lips and snorted coldly.

The two people inside were about to finish talking. Sean turned around and took two steps before being stopped.

"Sean!"

Sean's eyelid twitched. He glanced at Marcus and said, "Who are you?"

"I can't be mistaken. You are my brother-in-law. You often appear in the headlines of various newspapers. I'm not mistaken!"

"Oh, I forgot to introduce myself. Sean, I'm Marcus White!"

Marcus White?

Amber's stupid brother?

Amber asked him to be here?

Appeared on the headlines of various newspapers? Amber deliberately let his younger brother appear here and said such words to mock him?

Sean squinted and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Marcus licked the corner of his lips, "I'm here to see my sister. Last time she said that my cooperation plan was not qualified to cooperate with the Smith Group. I've revised it..."
