

Mr Smith 381

Chapter 381: We Don't Owe Each Other

0 4 minutes read

"Mr. White, we don't owe each other now. Please go back to your White Group, and control your mother. I don't want to be bothered by her again!"

"By the way, marrying Sean is something I did willingly. It has nothing to do with you and the White family."

After that, Amber got into the car. There were a few cars on the road at night.

She drove back to the hospital.

After she left, Cindy clamored for her.

"Dad, I want mom!"

Sean sat on the hospital bed with a mocking smile.

She wanted Amber?

Amber was probably anxious at this time. Even if he took Cindy to find her, she wouldn't have time to talk to her.

Sean kept silent. Cindy was a little anxious. She leaned forward, and encircled Sean's neck. She looked as if she wanted to laugh as well as cry.

She swayed left and right, being clingy.

Sean was in a fret. He threw her onto the bed.

"You want to find your mom?"

"Your mom took my car. How should I take you to find her?"

Cindy's eyes were red. She grabbed the hem of Sean's shirt and asked in a low voice, "When will mom be back?"

She looked a little pitiful. Sean pressed the corner of his lips, and Cindy continued, "Dad, let's wait for mom at the hospital gate, okay?"

Five minutes later, Sean sat on the edge of the flower bed at the entrance of the hospital with Cindy in his arms.

His field of vision was surprisingly wide here. Sean could see the license plates of every car that entered the hospital. He could even see the face of the person sitting in the co-driver's seat.

The hospital was located in the city center. The huge screen hung on the opposite shopping mall sent out several bars of lights which came through the green plants above Sean's head and landed under his feet.

Sean raised his hand and killed a mosquito. He looked impatient.

It was so late. Why was Amber still not back?

Could it be that she was hiding from him because she didn't want to take care of her child or because she was afraid that he would look down on her after Yolanda embarrassed her?

He got a little impatient and took out his phone.

At this time, Cindy sensed the dim light of his phone. She reached out and grabbed Sean's arm.

"Dad, are you going to call mom? Mom is driving. It's dangerous to answer phones."

Sean was amused, "You care about your mom, but does she care about you?"

"You might get mosquito bites in vain."

Cindy curled her lips, without saying a word.

Cindy was sitting on his lap. Sean glanced at the opposite mall and saw a car across the road.

It was his Maserati.

One of his favorite cars.

When did Amber come back, and why wasn't she upstairs?

With this doubt in his mind, Sean picked up Cindy and strode across the road.

He walked around the car, and there was no one in it.

Sean pressed his lips and glanced at the mall behind him.

With a glimpse, he saw Amber sitting by the window in a coffee shop.

His face was clouded instantly.

Her "severely ill" daughter would have surgery tomorrow, but Amber was still in the mood to drink coffee!

He took a step forward, and then saw the person sitting opposite Amber.

She was wearing a black dress and sitting opposite Amber.

Lin Man?

Why was Lin Man here in the middle of the night?

Sean was only puzzled for a moment.

Amber got Lin Man here. He almost forgot that Amber wanted to put the blame on Lin Man.

She wanted to drive Lin Man away again!

Amber said that she didn't covet the Smith Group's property. Then why did she do these bad things? For getting him?

No one would believe this.

Sean was worried that Amber would bully Lin Man. He took Cindy and strode towards the cafe.

When Amber reached the door of the hospital, she received a call from Lin Man, then turned around and went to the coffee shop.

After being friends with her for several years, Lin Man knew her taste very well and ordered a glass of Blue Mountain for her.

Amber didn't move, sat opposite Lin Man, and looked more pretty than her.

"Miss Lin, you got me here just to have coffee with me?"

Lin Man blinked, took a sip of coffee, and whispered, "No, I got you here to relive the past."

Amber smiled, squinted and her thick eyelashes covered all the emotions in her eyes.

"Miss Lin, there are no outsiders here. You don't have to be nice hypocritically."

Lin Man was not angry, but even smiled.

"I heard that Mrs. White made a scene in the hospital. What happened to her son?"

"Is there anything I can help him with?"

Amber's mood remained unchanged. She tapped the cup with the spoon and whispered, "This is what you got me here for?"

"Lin Man, you came to me in such a hurry, which made me suspect that the parasites in Cindy are directly related to you."

The corner of Lin Man's mouth twitched, "Amber, stop being ridiculous."

"Mr. White came out of the police station, which was like proving that he was the one who harmed Cindy."

She stretched out the tip of her tongue and licked the corner of her lips, "Three years ago, Sherman admitted personally at the White Group's anniversary ceremony, saying that your private life was indiscreet, you fooled around with men, had abortions, and always made trouble after getting drunk."

"But you were not ruined. You became Mrs. Smith in a blink of an eye. In the last three years, your position in the Smith Group became more and more stable. Mr. White returned home, worried that you would retaliate against the White Group, so he hurt your daughter to bluff you."

Lin Man's tone was soft and mild.

Amber's eyebrows were knitted slightly.

Lin Man kept looking at Amber. When Sean appeared, she saw him immediately.

The woman on the opposite side was invulnerable. Lin Man's clear eyes turned. She leaned forward, and then a gentle smile appeared on her pretty face, but her tone was vicious.

“But Amber, you are right.”

“Three years ago you took Sean from me, so I indeed hold the grudge. Do you know how I got your little bastard to contract the parasites?”

Chapter 382: The Really Interesting Part of the Show Is Yet to Come

0 4 minutes read

“The first time I saw her after I came back, I fed her the well-developed larvae of toxoplasma in Hai Wan Xiang Xie.”

“It’s a shame that you found out so soon! But the really interesting part of the show is yet to come. Next time, I will do it more secretly!”

Amber’s brain went blank. She stared at Lin Man, “What did you say?”

“Cindy is your only family in this world, right?”

“If she is disabled or dead...”

Before Lin Man finished speaking, Amber stood up abruptly, took the coffee on the table and splashed it on Lin Man’s face.

The atmosphere froze instantly, “Lin Man, if you hurt Cindy again, I will make you wish you were dead.”

Sean had just found the location of Lin Man and Amber. Before he approached them, he saw Amber splashing coffee on Lin Man’s face.

He froze and then heard Amber warning Lin Man.

He strode to the table with a cold tone, “How will you do that? Director White, can you show me?”

Amber turned her head and saw the man standing by the table.

He was holding Cindy in his arms whose eyes couldn’t focus.

A fit of anger flashed across Amber’s eyes.

If it weren’t for Lin Man, how could her three-year-old daughter have to undergo surgery at such a young age?

Amber bit the tip of her tongue hard, and the smell of blood filled her mouth.

She stretched out to snatch Cindy over, cast a glare at Lin Man, and turned to leave.

“Amber!”

Lin Man stopped her, “I admit I’m the one who harmed Cindy. I apologize to you. I’m sorry, okay? You’ve splashed coffee on me. What should I do to relieve your anger?”

Sean’s eyes darkened.

What else should she do to relieve Amber's anger?

Slapping Lin Man a few times?

She had been making things difficult for Lin Man. Was it really because she loved him?

After Lin Man asked, Amber didn't say anything. She took a step forward. Sean also took a step to block her way.

"She is asking you."

"Are you deaf?"

Sean's eyes were as dark as the sea, in which the waves were surging. Amber was not afraid. After they stared at each other for a few seconds, she smiled coldly.

Sean was instantly enraged.

"You splashed coffee on Lin Man, and you are leaving without even apologizing?"

Amber stopped and suddenly stuffed Cindy into Sean's arms.

Amber seemed to have used all her strength to do this. Sean staggered.

He subconsciously held the child, "What are you doing?"

"You want me to apologize to Lin Man, don't you?"

Sean was stunned. Apologize?

Amber really loved him that much?

So she did whatever he wanted her to do?

He asked Amber to apologize, so she would do that without hesitation?

Although he was suspicious, his expression softened.

After hesitating, Sean stepped aside.

Amber strode to Lin Man. Lin Man took a half step back with a stiff smile.

"Amber, you... don't need to apologize..."

"You did nothing wrong."

Sean's expression remained unchanged. He didn't doubt Lin Man at all. He knew what kind of person she was.

She was kind and gentle. The toxoplasma thing had nothing to do with her. She was framed by Amber!

Amber must apologize even she didn't want to...

"Pop!"

Amber slapped Lin Man hard across the face.

Sudden pain came from the cheek, and Lin Man's pupils contracted sharply.

Amber grabbed Lin Man by the collar and leaned to her. She warned with a cold light in her eyes, "Lin Man, stay away from my daughter!"

Sean was shocked.

He thought Amber would really apologize.

Not long after they were together, he knew that Amber was very tough. Many times, she looked patient and soft, but in fact, she was decisive and aggressive.

A moment ago, Sean believed that she would apologize.

He was curious about how Amber would apologize. Would she lower her voice and stifle her anger?

However...

Sean took a deep breath and forcedly suppressed the anger spreading in his chest.

How dare Amber slap Lin Man and splash coffee on her in front of him!

When he was not around, wouldn't Amber go even further?

Sean held Cindy's strength tightly.

Amber approached, took Cindy back calmly, and then said with a shallow and cheerful smile.

"Mr. Smith, are you satisfied with my apology?"

Sean's eyes were gloomy, "Good! Good for you, Amber!"

"Mr. Smith, please also stay away from my daughter!"

Sean paused as if he heard something incredible, "What?"

He must have misheard.

If Amber loved him and coveted the property of the Smith Group, she would definitely not say such a thing.

Besides, Cindy was going to have the surgery. She needed him. How could Amber ask him to keep a distance from her?

Sean fixedly looked at Amber, waiting for her to say it was just a slip of the tongue.

"I said, I want you to keep a distance from my daughter!"

Sean was speechless, and the sarcastic words he was going to say was tuck in his throat.

Amber bit the corner of her lips, and her tone was ironic, "You were right. You will have your own children one day, and you don't need to waste your time on Cindy and me."

After speaking, she turned around, bypassed Sean, and left the cafe.

There were not many people in the cafe, and Lin Man was the only one left by the window.

She was whimpering, lying prone on the table so pitifully.

Sean stood in situ, and his face was clouded.

He paused for a while before walking to Lin Man and comforting her.

“Lin Man, stop crying. I will not let the matter go at that.”

Lin Man’s eyes were blurred with tears, and her cheek was a little swollen, “What are you going to do?”

“Don’t... don’t do anything stupid.”

Sean pressed his thin lips tightly.

“Don’t worry, I just want Amber to apologize to you.”

After that, Sean pulled Lin Man up from her seat, “Let’s go. I will drive you back to the hotel.”

Lin Man’s eyes brightened, “Are you not going to the hospital?”

“Amber told me to keep a distance from her and her daughter. Why should I invite cold shoulders?”

Chapter 383: Is It True That My Illness Has Something to Do with Aunt Lin

0 4 minutes read

Lin Man followed Sean who looked cold.

Keeping a distance and not waste time on her and Cindy?

He arranged for a nice ward for Cindy and hired experts for Cindy’s operation. After he did what he could help, Amber kicked him away!

What an ungrateful woman!

Sean walked in front with one hand in his pocket. Lin Man was behind him. His tall figure drew a sinister shadow in the light.

He took out his cell phone and made a call. His tone was particularly cold.

“Secretary Xu, help me make an appointment with the dean of Tong City Central Hospital. I’ll eat with him.”

...

Coming out of the cafe, Amber walked to the gate of the hospital with Cindy in her arms.

Cindy was silent on the way. Amber stopped, panting, and Cindy asked.

“Mom, is it true that my illness has something to do with aunt Lin?”

“Is she the wicked queen from the fairy tale, poisoning me with the apple?”

The words “wicked queen” and “poisoning” instantly amused Amber. She removed all her spikes and gently rubbed Cindy’s head.

“You think that you are a princess in a fairy tale?”

“Oh, you indeed are!”

Cindy laughed. Her dark eyes, which were set off by the light, had several more colors.

“Mom, put me down. You lead me.”

“Your eyes are uncomfortable. Mom should hold you. When your eyes recover, you can walk by yourself.”

Cindy pouted. She was there when Sean and Amber were arguing, but she didn’t ask anything about it.

“Mom, I’m not afraid. You won’t watch me stumble over. I know.”

She insisted. Amber could only put her down.

She was short, but holding her little hand, Amber felt at ease.

After Amber led Cindy back to the ward, the ward had been cleaned up. After Amber helped Cindy up and lay on the bed, it was already more than one o’clock in the morning.

Sean didn’t follow them back. Amber didn’t know where he was.

“Mom, will dad be back tonight?”

Amber froze.

She didn’t answer. Since Cindy and Sean spent more time together, she knew that the beautiful family story she made up for Cindy would be shattered one day.

But when the day really came, Amber found that it was not that difficult to accept it.

After she kept silent for a while, the door of the ward was knocked on suddenly, and then the nurse walked in.

“Mrs. Smith, please get ready and move out of the ward. The mayor’s wife is unwell and will move in later.”

Amber was stunned.

Mayor’s wife?

She pressed the corner of her lips and looked at the nurse, “Why do we have to move out? Is there no other ward in the hospital?”

“There are general wards. Well...”

Amber instantly understood.

She licked the corner of her mouth, nodded, and whispered, “I’ll pack up and move out later.”

Upon hearing this, the nurse withdrew directly from the SVIP ward.

Amber took out her phone and called Sean. Sean directly hung up on her.

She called again. The phone kept ringing for a long time. When Amber thought Sean would not answer it, he suddenly did.

Amber kept silent, and didn't know how to plead with him.

Sean's sarcastic voice sounded, "Director White, what's the matter?"

"Didn't you say that you want me to keep a distance from you and your daughter? Why, you regret it?"

Amber's eyes were empty, "Sean, the nurse told us to move out of the ward..."

Did this have anything to do with you...

Sean suddenly interrupted Amber with a laugh, "Oh? Are you asking me for help?"

"What makes you think I will help you after you hit Lin Man and embarrassed me in front of her?"

The summer night, because of Sean's words, became extremely cold.

Amber asked, "Will the operation tomorrow morning start as scheduled?"

She knew Sean well. He was doing this to get back at her for Lin Man.

But she didn't know how deep the relationship between Sean and Lin Man was and how far he would go for Lin Man.

There was silence on the phone.

Sean held the cigarette and took a drag. Thick white smoke floated from his lips, drawing his gloomy face clearly.

He squinted. Amber's tone was soft. He paused and couldn't help thinking.

Was Amber trying to admit her mistake?

Without him, Amber was nothing.

He hired so many experts for Cindy. Could Lu Yi do that?

Amber was the director of the Smith Group's marketing department, which meant she was smart and judicious. She would probably plead with him, admit her mistakes, and beg him to go back.

Without his permission, who would dare to give Amber the ward on the SVIP floor?

Sean relaxed, leaning back in his chair, and said sarcastically, "What do you mean? I'm not the dean. How can I know that?"

Amber was silent.

Sean was very proud.

Amber hadn't figured out how to apologize to him, for fear that her wording was not sincere enough to get his forgiveness?

Sean sneered.

She was quite judicious.

A few seconds later, a busy tone suddenly came from the phone.

Sean thought he misheard, so he took a look at his phone. The screen was pitch black. Amber had hung up on him.

His pupils contracted.

His first reaction was that Amber pressed the hung up button by mistake.

She was counting on him to arrange for someone to perform the surgery on Cindy. How could she hang up on him?

Sean's chest was heaving in anger. Since Amber dared to hang up on him, he would never answer if she called him again!

Amber only had one chance to apologize.

Thinking about this, he suddenly threw the mobile phone in his hand on the desk with a bang. The person across the desk was startled.

"Mr... Mr. Smith?"

Sean raised his eyes and glared at the person who was the dean of Tong City Central Hospital.

"What?"

"Cindy's operation..."

Sean's eyes fell fixedly on the phone. A few minutes passed, it didn't ring.

Quietly, Sean put out the cigarette between his fingertips with a gloomy face.

He pressed the corner of his lips without saying a word.

The show in Ye Se just started. The music started, and on the stage, the models writhed and danced sensually.

He looked outside firmly and was lost in his thought.

Chapter 384: It Was a Photo

0 4 minutes read

The dean didn't dare to bother him. Half an hour later, Sean suddenly stood up, opened the door of the box, and strode out.

The dean was dumbfounded, stood up abruptly, and followed Sean, "Mr. Smith... Mr. Smith?"

Sean suddenly stopped, and the dean said carefully, "Mr. Smith, you haven't told me whether we should give your daughter the operation."

Sean raised his eyebrow and said in a stern voice, "What do you mean?"

"She is my daughter. Are you worried that the Smith family can't afford the operation fee?"

The dean almost broke out in a sweat on his forehead.

He knew Sean was not someone who could get along with easily, but this was the first time he saw his temperamental side.

"No... no..."

Sean glanced at the dean who then fell silent.

He turned and strode out of Ye Se and found his car.

After getting in the car, Sean took a cigarette from the cigarette case and lit it.

He threw the lighter onto the seat beside, and saw the coat on it.

There was something under it.

Sean sat up straight abruptly. Was it Amber's purse?

He lifted the jacket up and picked up the purse.

Amber didn't find it?

He was smoking. The flickering spark reflected his cold eyes.

He then went through Amber's card protector. Her ID and bank cards were all here.

Sean looked at the ID card which was applied for a long time ago.

Amber looked immature and youthful, and smiled sweetly.

Sean stretched out his thumb, rubbed Amber's picture, and pressed the tip of his tongue against his lip.

Tsk, Amber was like being untouched by the aging process.

The bottom of his eyes was tinged with a hint of a smile. Then he turned it to the next page.

His pupils contracted!

His hand, holding the card protector, shook.

It was a small photo.

What shocked Sean was that it was a photo of him and Amber.

It seemed to be ten years ago.

Sean couldn't see it clearly. He reached out and turned on the lights in the car.

Both of them looked youthful and shy. He looked at it carefully and recognized the clothes he was wearing.

It was a school uniform.

The school uniform of Tong City No. 1 Middle School.

He indeed went to Tong City No. 1 Middle School, but the photo looked fake.

Or in other words, Sean couldn't believe it was a photo of him and Amber.

He lay on the grass, holding Amber, who was also in school uniform, and turned his head to kiss her...

They were like taking a selfie.

Ten years ago...

He knew Amber?

Almost as soon as this thought came up, Sean ruled it out.

It was impossible.

His first love was Lin Man. When he was in Tong City No. 1 Middle School, he was in a relationship with Lin Man.

Although his memory was not complete, he was sure that he wouldn't be so unfaithful.

Sean pressed the corner of his lips.

Amber must have found her purse and deliberately put her own photo in it.

He had a morbid fear of getting dirty since the age of three. How could he lay on the ground with her?

Sean felt a little flustered. In the photo, he looked relaxed, and his eyes were filled with tender love.

His brain hurt a little, and he seemed to be familiar with this photo.

When the cigarette burned out, Sean extinguished it, and threw it out of the car window.

He stared at the photo with burning eyes and then called Gu Jinyan.

Gu Jinyan seemed to be sleeping, and his tone was not very nice, "What's the matter?"

Sean lowered his eyes, "Jinyan, do me a favor."

"What is it?"

His tone was a bit solemn. Gu Jinyan's sleepiness instantly disappeared. He asked in a low voice, "What's wrong?"

"I need you to help me to verify the authenticity of a photo."

Gu Jinyan was stunned for a moment, "I'm not good at this..."

“I have a friend who is an expert in this, but he is not in the country and will be back in a few days.”

“When will he come back?”

Gu Jinyan pressed the corner of his lips, “Four or five days later.”

“Let me know when he comes back.”

Gu Jinyan asked, “What kind of photo is it?”

Sean shook his head and chuckled, “Forget it, maybe I’m overthinking it.”

Sean knew Amber well.

This photo cannot be true.

Sean’s eyebrows were slightly knitted. Gu Jinyan suddenly smiled, “Is it related to Amber again?”

“Sean, it’s not shameful to love your own wife!”

“Can’t you admit that you love her?”

Gu Jinyan teased him.

Sean frowned, sneered, and said, “I love Amber? It’s less likely than the sun rose from the west!”

“You have secretly loved Lu Xiangxiang for so many years, but no progress has been made. I am afraid that you will be a bachelor for a lifetime!

After Sean finished speaking, he hung up the phone before Gu Jinyan could speak.

Gu Jinyan laughed and cursed at the phone, then threw the phone aside, and fell asleep again.

Sean turned his head and glanced at the photo.

After hesitating, he took the photo out of the card protector, then took out his wallet from his trouser pocket, and put the photo in it.

He had to take this photo for identification, so it would be more convenient if he brought it with him.

Sean put away his wallet, turned the car, and drove out.

Fifteen minutes later, at the entrance of the hospital.

Sean didn’t drove into the hospital. He left the car on the side of the road, and went straight to Cindy’s ward.

The lights were turned off in the ward. Sean didn’t go in. Standing at the window, he saw an old woman lying on the bed.

He paused.

It suddenly occurred to him that the dean had arranged for someone to transfer Amber and Cindy to another ward.

Sean took out his phone, and then suddenly stopped.

If he called Amber at this time, wouldn't Amber be smugger?

The reason why Amber slapped Lin Man and splashed coffee on her was that she was sure he would see that photo one day.

If he treated Amber with a kind and pleasant countenance at this time, she would probably go further and stab Lin Man.

He couldn't inflate her arrogance!

Sean sneered and walked to the nurse's station. He asked the nurse on duty, "Excuse me, which ward has Cindy White been transferred to?"

Chapter 385: My Eyes Won't Heal

0 4 minutes read

The nurse was wakened up. She looked up with a sullen face. When she saw it was Sean, she quickly replaced her sullen expression with a smile and said, "She is downstairs, room 1203, bed 37!"

"Mr. Smith, shall I take you there?"

The nurse's attitude was eagerly attentive. Sean lowered his eyes with disgust.

He shook his head and whispered, "No, I know how to get there."

Sean walked to the stairs, turned back, and whispered to the nurse who had a surprised expression, "Don't tell others that I came to the hospital today."

The nurse was stunned, then nodded.

The ward where Cindy stayed was downstairs. He went there through the safe passage.

There was only one bed in the ward. Although the bed was a little small for them, Amber slept particularly peacefully with Cindy in her arms.

The ward was spacious. Sean's eyebrows were knitted slightly.

Amber was smart. She would know that this nice ward was also his favor, right?

Last night, she warned him to stay away from her and her daughter, and in a blink of an eye, she accepted his favor.

As expected, she was cheeky enough.

Sean was upset, turned around and left the hospital.

She got into the car but didn't leave at once. He adjusted the driver's seat and lay on it, holding Amber's card protector, and paging through it.

There were other photos in the card protector, but none of them were about him.

Most of them were Cindy's pictures. The cutest one was that when Cindy was just born, she held her hand in her mouth with her eyes closed. She was fleshy and didn't look like a premature baby.

Sean pulled the picture out.

After losing the purse in Paramount, Amber never even looked for it. These things were probably not that important to her.

If Cindy acted up again, he could threaten her with this photo.

...

The next morning.

Cindy was supposed to have the operation at nine o'clock in the morning.

Amber waited until it was 9,30, but no one came.

She stopped the nurse in the round and asked about the situation.

"Miss, my daughter has an operation scheduled at 9 o'clock, but no one has come...Was the time of her operation changed?"

There was a somewhat alienated smile on the nurse's face, "Please wait. If we are going to give her the operation, we will notify you."

Amber had no choice but nodded and went back to the ward.

Cindy was sitting on the bed alone with bare feet, holding a doll in her arms.

"Mom?"

Amber responded.

Cindy rubbed her eyes. Amber was not far from her, but no matter how she rubbed her eyes, she couldn't see Amber's face clearly.

Last night, Amber had already comforted Cindy.

Cindy knew clearly what was wrong with her and even knew that the doctors might need to cut open her eyes.

But the endless waiting made Cindy panic.

"Mom, am I... already blind and can't heal?"

Amber felt sad.

She approached, reached out and rubbed Cindy's head. She asked in a low voice, "Why do you say that?"

"Didn't you say the operation will start at nine?"

"Mom, I woke up at seven o'clock, but I've waited for so long... Why haven't they come?"

Cindy's big black eyes were covered with a mist.

Amber's heart contracted.

Sean was right. Being her daughter was too pitiful.

She offended Sean, and her daughter suffered it.

She licked her dry lips, stretched out her hand and rubbed Cindy's head, "Don't be afraid. Your eyes are okay. I promise you. The operation will start half an hour later!"

"But don't cry when you take the injection."

Cindy wiped away tears and whispered, "Mom...I'm not afraid of pain."

Amber rubbed her head again.

After soothing Cindy, she went straight out of the ward. At this time, she was unexpectedly calm.

Sean was doing this for Lin Man. He canceled Cindy's operation.

She knew that as long as she apologized to Lin Man and admitted her mistake in front of him, they would stop doing this.

But Amber didn't want to do that.

If the hospital didn't perform surgery on Cindy, she would transfer Cindy to another hospital. If the experts refused to perform the surgery, she would do that for her.

On the other side.

In the car at the entrance of the hospital, Sean was awakened by a rush of ringing.

He glanced at the screen of his mobile phone. It was the dean of Tong City Central Hospital.

Sean rubbed his sore head, reached out and picked it up, "What's the matter?"

The dean's voice trembled, "Mr. Smith... Mrs. Smith has gone through the discharge procedures for Miss Smith..."

The sleepiness in Sean's eyes instantly disappeared.

He sat up straight, and asked in a cold tone, "What did you say?"

Sean raised his wrist and glanced at the time.

It was almost eleven o'clock. He thought that Cindy's operation had been completed.

A thin layer of anger covered Sean's face.

Amber was not considerate of her daughter at all. After using him, she took her out of hospital immediately!

Was she trying to get away from him?

Then why did she take great pains to marry him three years ago?

Sean's eyelids twitched suddenly. He frowned deeply and whispered to the phone, "What did the doctor who performed the operation on Cindy say? Will she recover soon after discharge?"

There was silence on the phone.

The dean shivered and was too scared to say anything.

A bad presentiment rose in Sean's heart, "Why?"

"Mr... Mr. Smith, I had a drink with you at Ye Se last night. You... You said you wanted Mrs. Smith to move out that ward..."

"I asked the doctor not to operate on Cindy until I asked him to..."

Sean's breath paused. The dean said in a choked old voice.

"I planned to tell him to operate this morning... But after I woke up... Miss. Smith has already been discharged from the hospital."

Sean was panicked.

Cindy didn't have the operation?

Why did Amber take her out of hospital? She didn't want to treat her daughter's eyes anymore?

"Mr. Smith... I..."

"If Cindy is blind, I'll gouge out your eyes!"

He hung up abruptly and then called Amber.

Chapter 386: Amber Turned to Lu Yi

0 4 minutes read

Seeing the familiar phone number, he pressed his lips and stopped.

Amber called him last night and asked him if the operation could start as scheduled.

Sean licked the corner of his lips.

She knew that he would use his power to hinder Cindy's surgery?

She would rather have her daughter be discharged than admit her mistake in front of him?

Sean had long known that Amber had a rebellious temper.

Facing Lin Man, she became more rebellious!

Sean put away his phone.

He had done everything he could to help Amber. Did he need to kneel down and beg her to take Cindy back for the operation? That was ridiculous!

Since she wanted to keep a distance from him, it was a good thing.

Amber should be the one who regretted it.

Sean started the car, turned it, and left the hospital directly.

After being injured in the Paramount, he seldom came to the company. He was restless until he reached the hall of the Smith Group.

Sean took a few steps in the direction of the exclusive elevator for the president. When passing by the employee elevator, he saw Lu Yi coming out of it.

With the car key in his hand and a thin suit jacket on his arm, he seemed to be leaving the company.

Sean squinted. Lu Yi left the company as soon as Amber took Cindy out of hospital. Wasn't that a bit too much of a coincidence?

Sean suddenly remembered that Amber said Lu Yi knew a famous ophthalmologist.

Seeing that he was unwilling to help anymore, Amber turned to Lu Yi?

Amber couldn't wait to get away from him, but was anxious to cling on to Lu Yi. What an artful woman!

No wonder she took Cindy out of hospital in such a hurry!

Sean sneered. When he was about to leave, Lu Yi suddenly stopped him.

"Sean!"

Sean paused and turned to Lu Yi. His eyes were deep, and a smile suddenly appeared on his face, "Director Lu, it's about half an hour before you leave work. Are you leaving for personal affairs?"

Lu Yi had always been gentle, and his smile was like a spring breeze, "Sean, I've asked for leave."

"Cindy's eyes are going to be operated on, but I heard from Amber that the Tong City Central Hospital is not going to perform the operation."

"Sean, you did this, right?"

He did this?

Yes!

He should be blamed for this!

Last night, he told the dean to operate on Cindy as scheduled, but the dean was negligent and did miss the operation.

"You are questioning me? In what capacity? Director White's ex-boyfriend, or Cindy's biological father?"

Sean took out a cigarette from his pants pocket and held it in his mouth.

Lu Yi smiled, shook his head and said, "I'm not questioning you."

"I just want to tell you that Amber has decided to operate on Cindy herself."

"She said it's been a long time since she performed surgery, so she wanted me to go and keep her company." The smile in Lu Yi's eyes turned into a mockery, "Sean, you've pushed Amber to such a point. Aren't you worried that she will divorce you in a fit of anger, and when your father finds out, he will be angry again?"

Sean stopped lighting the cigarette.

Amber was going to operate on Cindy herself?

Was she also planning to record a video and show it to his father?

And divorced him? Didn't Lu Yi know Amber very well? He didn't know Amber would never divorce him until she inherited the Bo family and killed him?

When he was about to speak, Lu Yi had already left the hall.

There were other people in the Smith Group's hall, but the atmosphere here became very heavy because of the conversation between Lu Yi and Sean.

The people in the hall looked at Sean in amazement. Sean glanced at them, and they all bowed their heads immediately.

Sean's bad mood became more complicated.

He walked to the elevator entrance but then turned around.

Cindy was still his daughter. What if Amber was not competent to the operation!

What if this was Amber's new trick?

He needed to stop her!

Sean walked quickly out of the company. He knew Lu Yi's car. He drove the car and followed him. They reached Tong City Second Hospital.

He raised his head and glanced at the small hospital. He knew this hospital.

The Lu family was a shareholder of it.

Sean didn't get out of the car at once. He smoked in the car.

Generally, no hospital would accept patients who had not undergone treatment in Tong City Central Hospital.

If Lu Yi was not Cindy's biological father, would he dare to take Cindy to this hospital under such a great pressure?

Sean put out the cigarette between his fingertips, took out his mobile phone, and called the dean of Tong City Central Hospital.

“Ask the doctor who was scheduled to perform the operation on Cindy to gather at the entrance of the operating room of the Second Hospital.”

“One minute late, get ready for resignation.”

...

When Lu Yi found Amber, she was holding Cindy while sitting on a plastic bench in the hospital corridor.

Cindy curled in her arms and was sleeping peacefully.

But she frowned slightly, and there were tear stains on her face.

Lu Yi’s fingers curled up, and he asked in a low voice, “Amber, why are you sitting here?”

Amber’s eyes moved slightly, “They refused to arrange ward for Cindy and perform the surgery on her.”

Although she didn’t complain, they both knew that no one would dare to perform the surgery on Cindy because of Sean.

Amber held Cindy, sitting in the corridor. Her heart was almost drying out in anxiety. In addition, it was summer, and she didn’t drink or eat much. She felt a little dizzy.

“Let’s go, I’ll tell them to arrange an operating room for Cindy.”

Amber pressed the corner of her mouth, and said in a low voice, “Lu Yi, thank you.”

She moved, and said to Lu Yi, “My arms feel like jelly. Can you hold Cindy for a while?”

Lu Yi froze.

Amber had always been strong.

She asked him to hold Cindy in such a humble attitude, which meant she was really exhausted to the extreme.

Lu Yi immediately leaned over and took Cindy over. His eyes were warm and his voice was shallow, “Amber, get a divorce with Sean.”

“It’s been three years. You’ve done what you need to do, and you’ve given what you need to give. You’ve seen the result.”

Chapter 387: The Operation Can’t Delay Anymore

Her heart was battered, and Cindy was suffering.

Amber blinked. Maybe time could really wash love away.

She forced out a smile, and whispered, “Let’s take Cindy to the operation room. Her operation can’t delay anymore.”

Lu Yi stood up straight, and saw Sean coming out of the elevator. Ridicule flashed across his eyes, then he lowered his voice and said to Amber.

“Amber, Sean followed me here.”

“He is worried about Cindy...”

Amber was too tired. She slept late last night, and got up early in the morning. She was physically and mentally fatigued, and was not in the mood to think about Lu Yi’s words carefully.

Hearing what he said, Amber paused and laughed.

“Oh, he is probably here to mock me.”

Amber rubbed her aching head with one hand, and her face was pale, “Last night, I splashed Lin Man with coffee and slapped her!”

“If I didn’t do that, Cindy’s operation may have completed in Tong City Central Hospital.”

After Amber finished speaking, Lu Yi found that Sean suddenly stood still and did not go any further.

The expression on his face was gloomy. He heard Amber’s words.

He was here to mock Amber?

He actually was such a person in Amber’s heart.

She was smart, knowing that not everyone in the world liked her.

Sean was so angry.

He was probably insane. Why did he ask the doctor from Tong City Central Hospital to be here to perform the surgery on Amber’s daughter?

She was already sure that even if he came, he was here to mock her.

If the doctor he called really came, Amber would laugh at him.

What would she say?

Mr. Smith is really interesting. You kicked me out of the hospital, but took people here to perform surgery on Cindy?

Why? You think I can’t live without you?

Sean subconsciously wanted to turn around and leave.

He even took out his phone. He wouldn’t give Amber a chance to humiliate him.

Touching the phone screen, Sean stopped.

Amber was in front of him, less than five steps away. She looked pale. Was she going to perform the surgery in this kind of state?

She would probably make Cindy’s condition worse.

Cindy was only three years old and called him father for almost two months.

She was cute and was good at pleasing him though she would make him speechless sometimes.

Forget it, he would still help Amber!

If his father learned that he made Amber and her daughter leave Tong City Central Hospital, he could explain!

But he wouldn't show up, in case he would be humiliated by Amber.

Sean's eyes flickered. He put his phone away, entered the elevator, and returned to the car.

After Sean left, Amber followed Lu Yi to the dean's office and talked about using the Second Hospital's operating room.

The dean's surname was Yun, a middle-aged man. He looked very shrewd. After knowing the purpose of Amber and Lu Yi, he didn't agree at once.

He smiled and said to Lu Yi, "Mr. Lu, the medical conditions in our hospital are not very good. The medical equipment in Tong City Central Hospital is the most advanced. Besides, the Smith family is its biggest shareholder. Mrs. Smith, you can be taken good care of there..."

"Dean Yun, you mean you won't lend the operating room to us?"

Dean Yun was embarrassed, "Mr. Lu, you and Mr. Smith are cousins. You should know his temper better than me!"

"I dare not agree."

"The medical conditions in our hospital are not good. If something goes wrong with Miss Smith's operation, we can't take full responsibility..."

Lu Yi frowned.

What the dean said made sense.

But Cindy's operation couldn't delay anymore.

In any case, he needed to borrow the operating room of the Second Hospital.

When Lu Yi glanced at Amber and was about to speak, Dean Yun's cell phone suddenly rang.

He smiled flatteringly at Lu Yi, "Mr. Lu, I'm sorry... I have to answer the call..."

Five minutes later, Dean Yun hung up with a weird expression.

He glanced at Lu Yi and then turned to look at Amber. Lu Yi took a step forward, blocking the vision of Dean Yun, and the warmth in his eyes disappeared.

Dean Yun laughed, walked to Amber from behind the desk, and said humbly.

"Mrs. Smith, knowing that you are not willing to let your daughter have the operation in the Central Hospital, their elite doctors came here."

Amber was taken aback, and subconsciously looked at Lu Yi.

Amber saw the same astonishment in his eyes.

She frowned and asked carefully, "What did you say?"

Dean Yun smiled, "Mrs. Smith, I'll get the operating room ready right away. But Mr. Smith said you are not in good condition and cannot participate in the operation."

There were experienced doctors operating on Cindy. Of course she would not participate in it.

Amber licked the corner of her lips and nodded.

Dean Yun made a please gesture, "Mr. Lu, Mrs. Smith, please."

Lu Yi held Cindy behind Amber. Dean Yun said with a smile, "Mrs. Smith, our doctors will assist the doctor sent here by Mr. Smith."

Sean hired an expert in ophthalmology. If the doctors of the Second Hospital could watch the whole process of this operation, they might learn something, which would be good for the development of the Second Hospital.

Amber was in turmoil. No matter what Dean Yun said, she nodded.

After the operation was completed, it may be dark.

Cindy's surgery was a success. Amber was relieved. She slumped on the hospital bench with a blank expression.

The doctor was telling her some dos and don'ts and Amber listened carefully.

It wasn't until Cindy was transferred to the general ward that Amber had time to call Sean.

Seeing Amber's call, Sean was still downstairs in the Second Hospital. He was sitting in the car. The doctor had called him and said that Cindy's operation was very successful.

So when his phone rang, his first reaction was that Amber called to humiliate him.

He hung up without hesitation.

Chapter 388: Sean, Thank You

0 4 minutes read

-

The phone kept quiet for less than a minute, then rang again. It was still Amber.

Sean sneered. Amber kept calling just to humiliate him?

He helped her, but she didn't appreciate it. Since she was so ungrateful, he would talk to her about what she did to Lin Man last night!

She hadn't apologized to Lin Man!

Sean answered the phone with a sullen face.

He gritted his teeth without saying a word. On the phone, Amber was also silent.

Sean couldn't help but sarcastically said, "Director White, is it interesting to waste my time in this way?"

"My time is precious!"

Amber was silent, and suddenly said, "Sean, thank you."

The irony words that Sean was about to let out were stuck in his throat. His ears turned red.

It was abnormal. How could Amber be so polite to him?

"No, I'm here to mock you. I didn't want to help!"

Sean blurted out. Amber fell silent.

Sean was suddenly tired of bickering with Amber. He pressed his ear against his phone, staring at the flat road in front of the car.

"I sent the doctor over because I was worried that my father would know you operated on Cindy personally."

"It took me so long to recover. I don't want to have new injuries."

The bewilderment in Amber's eyes deepened, "That's it?"

What else?

She was good-looking, so he took pity on her and even treated her daughter as his own daughter?

Then he would be a scumbag.

Amber ruined his love and marriage three years ago.

Even if they were together for another three years, they would not be on good terms.

"Yes."

Amber licked the corner of her dry lips and smiled suddenly, "Don't worry. Your dad won't know Cindy had the operation in the Second Hospital."

Sean raised his eyebrow, and did not answer.

Hanging up, Sean sat in the car for a while.

Then Lin Man called. he hesitated and answered.

"Sean, I made a restaurant reservation. Shall we eat together?"

"I'm a little worried about Cindy. We can talk about her condition while eating."

Sean kept silent.

Lin Man thought Sean didn't hear clearly and called him in confusion, "Sean?"

Sean paused and said in a low voice, "Lin Man, Cindy's operation was very successful. She could leave hospital in a week or so."

"Her condition is not that serious. There is no need to have a meal together to talk about it."

Lin Man clenched her fist. She gritted her teeth, trying to make her voice sound normal.

"Sean, you don't want to have dinner with me?"

"Did I do anything wrong?"

Sean soothed her, "No, you did nothing wrong."

"It's because of me. The media is very concerned about my marriage with Amber. Eating with you will have an impact on your reputation. I don't want that to happen."

Lin Man was calm, "So, we can't even be friends after you and Amber are married?"

"It's because of the toxoplasma thing? Do you also think I harmed Cindy?"

"Lin Man, I didn't mean that."

Sean sighed and asked, "Where are you? The Ritz-Carlton? I'll pick you up and have dinner together."

"Sean, this is the first time you evaded my questions."

Lin Man said in a choked voice, "Sean, are you really in love with Amber?"

No!

Sean denied it without hesitation.

He didn't love Amber.

How could that be possible? How could he love a woman who coveted his family property and frequently cuckolded him? He was not a masochist. He didn't love Amber.

"Lin Man, you overthink it."

"Wait in the hotel. I'll come right away."

After that, he hung up.

Lin Man sat in front of the mirror and knew that she was among the designers hired by the Smith Group. Sean had changed her room into a presidential suite.

Staring at the lipstick on the dressing table with complicated patterns, and the radiant self in the mirror, Lin Man felt like a fool.

Eight years.

Together with the last three years, Amber and Sean were together for eleven years. Sean lost all the memories of the time when he was with Amber, but when he met her again, he was still involuntarily attracted by her.

A touch of ruthlessness flashed across Lin Man's eyes.

...

Amber didn't eat much all day, and nor did Cindy.

When Lu Yi brought the food, it was already dark.

Amber set up a small table in the ward, feeding Cindy porridge while talking to Lu Yi.

"You told my father-in-law about Cindy's illness?"

Lu Yi didn't even blink, "Yes."

He ate the porridge calmly and whispered, "Cindy wanted her father back then. If I didn't exaggerate her illness, uncle wouldn't force Sean to see her."

Amber smiled.

Lu Yi was actually right.

She and Sean were not on good terms. Every time Cindy wanted to see her father, she had to go through all the usual contortions.

There was a saying. Everything had been written in your destiny, and you shouldn't persist in acquiring something you didn't possess.

Amber lowered her eyes.

Lu Yi suddenly fell silent. She turned her head and glanced in his direction. He was reading the news.

The table was not big. Amber and Lu Yi were sitting on the edge of the bed, so she saw what was displayed on his mobile phone clearly. The title was eye-catching.

#Sean Brought His Female Companion to a Candlelight Dinner!#

Under the title, it was a picture of Sean and Lin Man sitting in the warm light. The western restaurant had a pleasant environment and was a good place for a date.

Lin Man was good-looking, and Sean was handsome. They looked like a perfect match.

Perceiving Amber's gaze, Lu Yi put away his phone casually.

Amber smiled, "I have seen it."

Lu Yi laughed, "As the director of the Smith Group's marketing department, you should know something about paparazzi. They like to exaggerate and make up stories."

Amber blinked, as if absorbed in thought.

"Actually, Lin Man and he are quite a good match."

Lu Yi was stunned.

He didn't expect that Amber would suddenly say this, and a light flashed across his eyes.

“I’ll contact the PR department later to issue a clarification.”

Amber, “For what? Sean never clarified his scandals with other women. The media is not stupid.”

Chapter 389: Not Really

0 4 minutes read

-

After speaking, Amber said, “They found out Lin Man. Maybe past events will be dug up. It’s too early to do that.”

“The Smith Group should also report this.” Amber smiled, “It will be a big hit. It’s not bad to make a profit first.”

Lu Yi was stunned. Amber had the same attitude every time when she dealt with Sean’s scandals.

Back then, Tang Tian and Sean were invited to participate in the opening ceremony of Luoshenwan. This time, Amber wanted the Smith Group to report this.

Lu Yi suddenly laughed.

After Amber and Sean got married, Sean went to see Lin Man once.

At that time, the public criticized Lin Man and scolded her for trying to ruin the marriage of her friend. Before Sean had time to fix Lin Man up with a place to stay, she was forced to go abroad.

This matter was known to everyone that year.

There were already many rumors about Lin Man and Sean. Maybe there would be people who were interested in digging the previous story between them.

Amber was right. The news would be a hit.

“You’re right, it’s not bad to earn a PR fund through it.”

After dinner, it was late. Lu Yi said goodbye to Amber and left the hospital.

Cindy’s eyes were covered with gauzes, and she had an indwelling needle in the back of her hand. After Amber helped her wash up, she lay on the bed, and whispered, “Mom, will dad come to see me?”

Amber was silent and then asked, “You want to see him?”

Cindy was very sensitive to Amber’s mood. Hearing Amber’s words, she pressed the corner of her lips and said in a low voice, “Not really.”

“Mom, was the person you two talked about dad? He is with aunt Lin?”

Amber said in a low voice, “You just had the operation. You have to have a good rest, okay?”

Cindy licked the corner of her lips, and then asked, “Mom, will dad and aunt Lin have babies?”

Maybe they would.

When it came to this, Amber was calm.

After being with Sean for eleven years, she knew it was not easy to let him go.

“Do you want me to tell you a story?”

Cindy said no and did not continue to ask.

Cindy became more sensible after getting sick and undergoing the surgery.

The lights were turned off, and it was dark in the ward. Cindy was still not asleep. Amber reached out and patted her soft belly, and whispered, “Sleep. I will call your dad tomorrow and ask him to see you.”

The next day.

Sean received a call from Amber when he was in his office.

He raised his eyebrow, and answered the phone in a cold tone, “Director White, what’s the matter?”

“Sean, can you come to see Cindy? She wants to see you.”

Sean’s mood was destroyed. He leaned back in the soft chair, and his eyes lightened with coldness, “Have you forgotten what I said?”

He had told Amber long ago that one day he would have his own child.

But Amber’s attitude was showing that she had left what he said behind.

He knew that Amber would not let him go so easily.

“Amber, you really think I’m Cindy’s father?”

Amber’s voice was light, “Sean, I won’t waste your time. I just want you to come over and say a few words to Cindy.”

“If you mind, I can leave the ward first.”

Sean’s bad mood became even worse.

Would she come back after leaving the ward?

Amber wanted him to look after her child for her or he was not pleasing to her eye? Did she do the same when Lu Yi went to see Cindy?

Sean took a deep breath, sneered, and said, “No, I’m not coming.”

With a sullen face, he paused, and said, “Don’t worry. I will be considerate and give Director Lu a leave!”

“He is also your daughter’s dad!”

After speaking, Sean hung up the phone directly.

Why did he have to listen to Amber and do what she wanted him to do?

He had already humbled himself once for Cindy’s operation. Why would he do that again?

As soon as Sean hung up the phone, Xu Lin walked in. He pulled out the latest newspaper on the desk with one hand and threw it on the desk.

In the newspaper, he and Lin Man sat opposite each other, which was very eye-catching.

What was even more ridiculous was that the Smith Group's logo was on the top of the newspaper.

Sean looked at Xu Lin with an overcast face, and his tone was cold, "What's this all about?"

Xu Lin was also stunned, and it took him a long while to react.

"It seems to be Director White's idea."

The Smith Group's marketing department was in charge of the typesetting and sale of the newspapers.

What did Amber mean by this?

She treated Lin Man as Tang Tian and put her in the newspaper for people to judge.

She wanted to do what she did two years ago and drive away Lin Man without any further effort.

Sean gritted his teeth and said, "Tell Lu Yi to come up."

Xu Lin said okay, and Lu Yi came soon.

He was in a snow-white shirt with a pair of gold-rimmed glasses and a gentle smile on his face.

Sean's eyes darkened.

Men knew men. Amber actually liked such a dressed-up scumbag.

"Sean, what's the matter?"

Sean raised his eyes, glanced casually at the newspaper on the desk, and whispered, "Director Lu, are you trying to get yourself unemployed? How can you work with Amber to issue the news instead of stopping it?"

Lu Yi was not angry, but reached out for the newspaper and looked through it.

"Sean, we always handle your news of illicit love in this way."

"Everyone likes this kind of news. It's profitable. Shouldn't we make good use of it?"

Did Amber ask him to say this?

They were really birds of a feather.

Right, Lin Man was an eyesore in Amber's eyes. How could she care about Lin Man's reputation?

Sean frowned and suddenly smiled, "No matter what method you use, you have to take the news down from all the major newspapers within 24 hours."

"24 hours later, the expenses incurred will be deducted from your salary."

Lu Yi raised his eyebrow, "Sean, is Miss Lin different for you than your previous women?"

“You tell me?”

It was ridiculous.

Chapter 390: You Shouldn't Let Her Down

0 4 minutes read

-

Lu Yi was thinking about his wife while caring about his private life?

“I just think Amber is a good woman. You shouldn't let her down.”

Sean sneered suddenly.

“Director Lu, you are running out of your time to deal the news.”

Lu Yi nodded and said, “ Sean, Cindy misses you very much. If you have time, go to the hospital to see her.”

Sean ignored him.

Lu Yi held the newspaper and went directly back to the public relations department.

His secretary was holding a stack of documents, waiting at the door of his office, “Director Lu...”

Lu Yi took the documents and put the newspaper in the hands of the secretary. He said in a shallow voice, “Go to the marketing department, get a few more copies of the morning newspaper and send them to each servant of the Smith family.”

The secretary opened his mouth for a moment before he asked in a low voice, “Then Mr. Smith and Mrs. Smith will know the news.”

Lu Yi raised the corner of his mouth.

Amber's faith in her marriage had been shaken. As long as he made a little more effort, she would take the most crucial step.

The secretary took the newspaper and went to the marketing department.

However, after Lu Yi left, Sean could hardly bring himself to go into the file.

He was still thinking about Lu Yi's words.

Amber was a good woman?

Amber was really shameless, seducing his cousin. If outsiders knew, it would be a huge laughing stock.

Originally, Sean was planning to give Lu Yi a leave, but the moment he saw Lu Yi, he couldn't say anything.

In this world, no man would take the initiative to help his wife cheat on himself.

He licked the corner of his lips and stood up.

He was going to see Cindy.

He wouldn't stay there long. If he didn't go, Amber might get angry and call his father to complain about him.

Sean licked the corner of his lips, reached for his suit jacket, and left the Smith Group.

The Second Hospital was not in the city center. It took him half an hour to get there and ten minutes to get the car parked.

When he got to the ward, Amber was not there. A man was lying on the bed, wearing a gauze mask and baseball cap.

Sean could tell the man was handsome from his eyes.

He paused and found it funny.

Cindy wanted to see her father, so she got a man here at random to be Cindy's father?

Amber really had a lot of good fortune in love affairs. She could get Shi Muzhou Shi, a famous star all over the country, here so easily.

Sean raised his eyebrow. When he was about to turn around, Amber's voice sounded behind him, "Sean?"

Sean lowered his eyes. He turned around with a sneer on his lips, "Huh?"

"Why don't you go in?"

Sean turned his head and saw Shi Muzhou rubbing Cindy's head affectionately.

A fit of anger came up to him, and he said in a sarcastic tone, "Go in?"

"Won't I disturb you guys?"

Amber, "..."

"Shi Muzhou and I are just friends."

Did Amber treat him as a fool and think he would believe it?

Amber was holding a few cold drinks in her hand. She took out a glass of green mango juice and handed it to Sean, "Come on."

Sean didn't want to go in but wanted to throw the green mango juice out of his hand.

This juice was obviously for Shi Muzhou. Amber used things bought for other men to please him?

Sean only felt sick.

But Amber grabbed his sleeve. He could not help but follow her into the door.

Shi Muzhou was very popular. Amber closed the door of the ward as soon as they walked in. She walked to Shi Muzhou and handed the lemon juice in her hand to him.

“The lemon juice you want.”

Shi Muzhou took it, looked up and down Sean, and then looked at Amber, “What took you so long? I almost died of thirst.”

He was of punk style, which was cool.

Shi Muzhou took off the mask, took a sip of lemon juice, and then looked at Sean while sarcastically speaking.

“Mr. Smith, you’re a company president. Why does your news keep hitting the headlines? Can’t give the chance of being more famous to me?”

Sean held the green mango juice in his hand. His eyes moved down and landed on Shi Muzhou’s lap.

He was lying on the bed, with one of his long legs hanging in the air.

He had taken off his shoes, and the other curled up and encircled Cindy.

Sean held the green mango juice tightly. Its pack suddenly broke, and the juice splashed on Shi Muzhou’s pants and Sean’s shirt.

Amber was stunned, then pressed the corner of her lips.

“Mr. Smith?” Cindy suddenly said, “Is that dad? Mom, is dad here?”

Amber glanced at Sean, nodded, and whispered, “Dad has spilled juice on himself. He can’t hold you. Be good.”

Cindy nodded solemnly, “I’ve grown up, so I don’t need to be held anymore.”

Before she finished talking, Shi Muzhou pulled her into his arms, “My clothes are clean, so I can hold Cindy, right?”

Sean’s eyelids moved, and he glanced at Shi Muzhou, “Why? You not only like other people’s beds, but also love to take other people’s daughters as yours?”

Shi Muzhou smiled aggressively.

“No, you are wrong. I only do that to Amber.”

“Amber’s bed is my bed, and Amber’s daughter is my daughter!”

Shi Muzhou seldom thought twice before he spoke. Amber had long been used to it, but when he said this, she was still shocked.

She raised her leg and kicked Shi Muzhou.

Shi Muzhou didn’t hide. The familiarity between the two made Sean feel very uncomfortable.

Amber’s bed was his bed?

How many men Amber had slept with?

Sean's eyes deepened. He threw the half glass of green mango juice into the trash can and said to Amber.

"It's uncomfortable."

Amber pressed the corner of her lips and said, "There are your shirts in the ward. Go to the bathroom to clean it up. I'll get it to you later."

Sean said okay and turned to the bathroom.

Shi Muzhou watched them interact, and then said to Amber, "Amber, he is not worthy of being treated so nicely!"
