

Mr Smith 411

Chapter 411: You Are Not Worthy of Me Breaking My Own Rules

0 4 minutes read

-

She had made it clear to him that she wanted them to be completely isolated from each other all their lives!

How could he go back and ask Amber if she needed him to take her to the hospital?

He was not insane!

Sean turned on the radio in the car in a restless mood.

The soft and refreshing music rang, but it couldn't ease the coldness on Sean's face.

He suddenly stepped on the brake, and the sharp sound of braking resounded in the night.

Sean turned the car, speeding up.

He was back to the road in Xingyue Bay and saw Amber from a distance.

She was walking in the darkness. Her shadow was elongated by the car lights, looking slender and lonely.

Forget it!

After all, he had something to do with Cindy's accident, and Cindy was alone in the ward. If something happened to Amber on the road, no one could take good care of Cindy!

With this in his mind, he stopped the car directly in front of Amber.

Amber frowned as she looked at the Maserati. The window of the car was rolled down, and Sean's face looked extremely cold in the night.

"Get in."

Amber didn't move.

Sean looked even colder.

He opened the car door, got out of the car, grabbed Amber's arm, opened the door of the co-driver's seat, and stuffed her into it.

"Sean, are you crazy!"

Amber wanted to get out of the car, but Sean pressed against the car door. He looked at Amber steadily, saying, "I'll take you to the hospital."

Take her to the hospital?

By force?

Amber was a little sullen, and whispered, "No, I can take a taxi!"

Sean punched the car door with a "bang".

A sort of fear appeared in her eyes.

"The divorce agreement has not been sent for notarization, and you are going to hit your ex-wife in the street?"

"Hit you?" Sean laughed angrily, "Amber, you are not worthy of me breaking my own rules!"

"I don't hit women!"

Amber was about to go crazy, "Then what do you want?"

"I said I would take you to the hospital! Is it hard to understand?"

"I don't want you to do that. Stay away from me."

Amber struggled, clenched her hands into fists and hammered on Sean several times.

Sean was like an airtight wall, tightly blocking the car door.

"Cindy is in the hospital. How long will it take you to get a taxi? You want to walk there on foot? She will be alone all night!"

Sean snapped, and the persistence in Amber's eyes wavered.

When it came to Cindy, she was always soft-hearted.

"Sean, you are not in a position to mention her. If it weren't for you, how could she have an accident and stay in hospital?"

Amber's eyes were red, which was not obvious in the night.

However, the gleaming tears in her eyes stung Sean's heart.

"What do you mean?"

"Take it literally." Amber lowered her eyes slightly and said bitterly, "I've said in the hospital. Even if Cindy dies, I won't let her use your blood!"

"Tonight, I'll say the same thing. Even if I die, I will never let you send me to the hospital!"

She raised her head slightly, not crying, but Sean felt that she seemed to have endless tears.

"You know what. You are ridiculous."

Sean didn't think so!

Amber was ridiculous. She never made right choices!

She couldn't even be single-minded to the person she loved!

How he wished he could choke her to death.

“I’m ridiculous?”

“You are the ridiculous one. I offered to take you to the hospital out of the goodness, but you think I have ulterior motives?”

“Is there anything in you valuable? Sex? I’ve seen more beautiful women than you’ve seen ordinary women! Money? My income in a day is more than yours in a year!”

“Amber, if it weren’t for Cindy, I wouldn’t even talk to you!”

Sean was so furious.

There was a pit in Amber’s mind that he couldn’t fill. Anyway, they couldn’t communicate smoothly.

If it weren’t for Cindy?

Amber raised her head and suddenly laughed. Her laughter became louder and louder, which was especially scary.

“You are not ridiculous?”

“Sean, how many times I have told you that Cindy was your daughter, but you never believed it!”

“Now you finally think Cindy is your child? Just because of someone else’s words, you believe it? Who told you that?”

“It can’t be Lin Man. She wanted you not to know the truth forever. Was it Lu Yi or Xiangxiang?”

Amber’s eyes were red, and she looked pitiful.

“Sean, you are the one who thinks others have ulterior motives.”

“Not everyone in the world is like you!”

“Lin Man is the one who likes your money, your power, and your look! You are a fool who thinks she is a treasure. You hold her in your palm and take her as the love of your life!”

“Okay, I bless you.” Amber thought for a while, biting her teeth, and said with a strong hatred, “I wish you a long and happy life, a harmonious union lasting a hundred years... Um...”

Amber’s words were blocked by Sean’s kiss.

They hadn’t got divorced and she couldn’t wait to wish him a happy marriage with other women?

Or, she liked being cheated on by him?

Sean held Amber’s waist hard, almost exhausting all his strength.

The smell of Sean enveloped her, suffocating.

The pain came from the tip of his tongue, and Sean let go of Amber subconsciously. Amber directly pushed him away, and slapped him hard across the face without hesitation.

Sean didn’t hide, but stretched out and grabbed Amber’s wrist tightly.

He frowned, staring at her slender wrist, and narrowed his eyes slightly. He whispered, "Mrs. Smith, if you do this frequently, it's domestic violence!"

Hearing he say Mrs. Smith, Amber was in a daze for a moment.

After waiting to be called Mrs. Smith for so many years, she finally had got her wish when she completely gave up.

Amber felt sad.

She couldn't get it with all her efforts before. At this moment, she got it easily, but her expectations and enthusiasm had all been exhausted.

Chapter 412: I'm Not Your Wife Anymore

0 4 minutes read

-

Heartache, sadness, bitterness, despair and other emotions flashed across her face.

At this moment, Sean suddenly believed that Amber loved him.

He even felt that he could make Amber change her mind with just the title, Mrs. Smith.

Sean's eyes dimmed. As long as she dispelled the idea of divorcing him, he would try to put down the grudge between them and get along with Amber.

But Amber must ensure that in the future marriage life, she would no longer play tricks, and they would give each other enough respect and trust!

As long as Amber was willing to change her mind...

"Let go of me."

Amber's voice was hoarse. Sean subconsciously loosening his grip on her waist.

"Sean, I'm not your wife anymore."

After saying this, Amber suddenly remembered a thing eleven years ago.

Sean left without saying goodbye and was away for many days.

At that time, she and Lin Man were still very close friends.

Sean disappeared, and Lin Man could not reach him either.

It rained heavily that day, and it was summer.

The lightning flashed and thunder crashed. Lin Man suddenly returned to the dormitory and called her out.

Amber would never forget that day.

"Amber, don't wait for Sean. He won't come back anymore."

Amber only found it ridiculous. How could that be possible?

Sean said he only loved her in this life. Even if he was not coming back, he should tell her in person!

“You know where Sean is?”

Although Lin Man hesitated, she nodded, “Amber, Sean told me the truth. He doesn’t like you!”

“He was with you because he was into me.”

“He knew I was introverted. He was afraid to scare me, so he approached me as my best friend’s boyfriend.” Lin Man’s tears fell out, “Amber, Sean is not worth your search at all!”

Amber was stunned.

Her mother died of illness early, and her father remarried and started a new family.

The appearance of Sean finally dispelled her loneliness and fragility...

“Lin Man, what are you talking about?”

Lin Man wiped her tears, “I’m not lying. Sean bought me something.”

With that she took a Patek Philippe ladies’ watch.

It looked incredibly beautiful. It was her favorite one, and they went to see it together before he left without saying goodbye.

She said, when she saved enough money, she would buy it.

“Amber, I’m sorry.”

“I fell in love with Sean, so I accepted the watch. I also gave him a watch. Although they are not his-and-hers, they are indeed a token of love between me and him. Amber, I know this is cruel, but he doesn’t love you. You will not be happy together. I hope you can bless us.”

Amber didn’t believe it.

She didn’t believe it at all!

She kept asking Lin Man about Sean’s whereabouts.

Lin Man refused to tell her. Amber could only look for Sean by herself. Tong City was so big and the world was so big. Where could she find him?

Three years later, she returned to Tong City and met Sean again on the cruise ship. She thought it was a destined encounter. Unexpectedly, it was an abyss.

She watched Sean holding Lin Man who was soaked and taking care of her carefully.

She felt cold all over.

Lin Man said that she shouldn’t have come back.

She stayed on the deck all night, facing the endless sea. When it almost dawned, she whispered with pale lips, "Sean, I'm not your girlfriend anymore."

Amber's tears came out suddenly.

This sentence put an end to everything in the eleven years.

The one she loved so much betrayed her.

Seeing Amber like this, Sean was suddenly scared.

He let go of her and took a few steps back. Amber jumped from the co-driver's seat. She staggered, but Sean didn't dare to help.

He looked down and found that Amber was wearing a pair of slippers.

No, she was still wearing high heels before returning to Xingyue Bay. She changed into slippers after she returned to Xingyue Bay.

She had gauze wrapped around her feet. Sean suddenly remembered that when she looked for Cindy, she walked barefoot in the manor and suffered a lot of injuries.

Sean had to admit that he was really wrong.

Comparing with Amber, he was far from a good parent.

But Amber, who loved Cindy so much, was not willing to give him a chance!

"Amber, we're not getting divorced." Sean compromised, "Cindy just had the operation on her eyes, and then had the car accident. You probably have run out of your savings."

After that, Sean regretted saying such words, but he didn't like to break off in mid-sentence.

However, it was not embarrassing for a man to compromise in front of his wife.

He gritted his teeth, summoned up courage and continued, "Cindy is still young. She needs dad..."

"Enough!"

Amber interrupted him in a cold voice.

He paused and followed the light to look at Amber's face. Her eyes were impatient, "Cindy needs a father, but not a father like you!"

"With you, she got sick and feverish, almost blind, and almost died."

"Are you so sure that Cindy contracted toxoplasma when she was with me?" Sean frowned.

Growing up in a wealthy family, Sean had his own pride and couldn't stand others doubting him.

He lowered his eyes and retorted, "What if it was you who made her contract toxoplasma? Amber, are you born right?"

Of course not!

Men were not saints. How could they be free from faults?

“Fine, it was me.” Amber suddenly admitted. Sean was a little surprised.

He felt a little uneasy. This was not the reaction Amber should have.

Sure enough, she leaned closer to Sean, “But Sean, do you really know Lin Man?”

“I accuse her of putting toxoplasma in Cindy. For me, your dad went to the hotel to find Lin Man.” Amber paused and smiled helplessly, She loves her face so much, and she loves the feathers on her so much.”

“Three years ago, I broke you and her up. How could she not hate me?”

Sean was shocked.

The struggles between women were always fierce.

“You tell me, what makes you think that Lin Man will not hurt my daughter?”

“Perhaps you knew she would hurt my daughter, but you turned a blind eye to it because you also hated me and wanted to get back at me!”

Amber became more distressed, “Sean, you did it! What happened to Cindy is a great grief to me!”

“You were afraid that I and Cindy would get involved with you. Now you don’t have to be. Cindy and I will never have anything to do with you anymore!”

Chapter 413: Didn’t You Decide to Stay Away From Me

0 4 minutes read

-

She got out of the car.

After taking a step, she suddenly stopped.

Sean frowned slightly.

Seeing her suddenly stop, he was wondering.

She also realized what she said was too absolute?

Even Sean himself didn’t know how big the Smith family was. Even if Amber wanted to divorce him, she should think of Cindy.

She loved Cindy, so she certainly wouldn’t want her to bear hardships with her, right?

Sean was in agony, as if choking on fish bones.

Thinking of this, he resisted his heartache and fixedly looked at Amber.

Amber looked back as expected, and a slight smile appeared on the corner of Sean’s lips.

Amber took out a box from the handbag she was carrying.

It was a square and exquisite small gift box.

Sean's eyelid twitched.

Was Amber going to give him a small gift?

A divorce gift?

Sean panicked, and he took a step back.

Who cares?

Why would he want Amber's gift?

Amber turned back to Sean and stuffed the small box into his arms.

The corners of his mouth twitched, "Amber, what do you mean?"

"Didn't you decide to stay away from me?"

"Why are you giving your ex-husband a gift?"

Amber suddenly sneered, "You overthink. I'm not that cheeky. This is the token of love between you and Miss Lin."

"I said I would give it back to you, but as you know, I have a bad memory."

"We are divorced. The belongings of the ex-husband shouldn't stay with me. So I give this back to you."

Sean's fingers, holding the gift box, stiffened for a moment. His lips twitched, and his pupils contracted violently.

Amber walked out of the road in Xingyue Bay and turned a corner. This road was so dark that he couldn't see his hand in front of him.

Sean stood there. There was no light except for the bright car lights.

A token of love?

Sean licked the corner of his lips and opened the gift box.

How could he not recognize the watch he had been wearing?

What Amber said was right. It was the token of love between him and Lin Man.

He held the gift box tightly, looked at it for a long time, and then threw it directly into the trash can by the road.

Perhaps he was wrong all the time.

Sean got into the car and looked ahead. Amber was limping forward.

He was angry with Amber. Why was she so stubborn!

He should just drive away and leave her here!

Except for Amber, there was no one on this road. She wouldn't run into bad guys.

Even if she did, what did it have to do with him?

If they were not divorced, he still had the right to care about her, but...

Sean thought of the scene that Amber stuffed the divorce agreement into his arms without hesitation.

He should also leave her here without hesitation!

Sean gritted his teeth. Less than a second after starting the car's engine, he turned sideways and looked for his phone.

Then he called Shi Muzhou.

Shi Muzhou, who was sleeping, was woken up and scolded, "Sean, what's wrong with you? Why are you calling me in the middle of the night?"

"Come to Xingyue Bay and take Amber to the hospital."

Sean said in a commanding tone. Shi Muzhou's sleepiness was suddenly gone, "What's wrong?"

"Cindy had a car accident and is in the hospital..."

Hearing the words "car accident", Shi Muzhou was dumbfounded. He didn't want to continue talking, so he hung up directly.

Sean was upset.

He did all this for Cindy!

Maybe Cindy was really his daughter. Amber was always unlucky. What if she really ran into a pervert?

Sean kept brainwashing himself.

He drove the car, turned off the lights, and followed Amber far behind.

Driving a Maserati to follow a woman slowly, Sean looked down on himself!

He was like a psychopath.

Amber was walking wobbly, which showed that she was not lightly injured.

She would rather suffer than take his car!

She was probably not that smart!

He didn't believe Amber could make herself somebody after leaving the Smith family!

Fifteen minutes later, Sean watched Amber being carried into the car by Shi Muzhou. He couldn't help but stop and smoked on the side of the road.

It took Shi Muzhou less than 20 minutes to get here from where he lived. Did he take the plane here?

The news of their divorce had not been announced yet. Wasn't it improper for Shi Muzhou to carry Amber directly?

Were they really ordinary friends?

Why didn't he have a female friend who was willing to carry him into cars?

...

In the hospital.

Before Amber left, she asked Lu Xiangxiang to look after Cindy.

When she arrived, Cindy woke up.

The indwelling needle probably didn't work, so she woke up in pain.

Cindy looked very pale. When she saw her, she pressed her lips and called Amber, "Mom."

She didn't ask Amber to bring her father to her again.

Amber walked to the bed with a frown, and whispered, "Cindy, do your wounds hurt? It's so late, why are you still up?"

Cindy was in low spirit and pressed her lips tightly without saying a word.

Amber froze. She didn't expect that Cindy would ignore her.

"Cindy?"

"I just went home and took something. I didn't leave on purpose." Amber kissed her little cheek, "Cindy, are you angry with me?"

Cindy said in a sobbing tone, "No."

Amber was anxious, "What's wrong? You have your little secret but can't tell mom about it?"

"Amber, don't worry. Cindy is probably in too much pain. She is still young. Don't put such pressure on her."

Shi Muzhou's words made sense. Even though Amber was very anxious, she did not speak anymore.

Cindy was dazed, and after a while, she fell asleep.

It was almost dawn. Shi Muzhou had work to do, so Amber let him go.

Lu Xiangxiang was in the next ward, taking care of Feng Chen.

Chapter 414: Mr. Smith Has Done That

0 4 minutes read

-

Only Amber and Cindy were in the ward. The little girl had a low fever and kept murmuring, "Mom..."

Amber felt distressed.

She was wounded all over. Her arm was scratched on the ground and had a layer of small scabs.

Amber looked at her.

For the past three years, she protected Cindy Well.

She never thought that Cindy would be so badly injured.

Amber looked at her, took a deep breath, and went to the next ward.

Feng Chen was sleeping in the bed.

He had wounds on his head which was wrapped in gauze, but he was very alert. As soon as Amber opened the door, his eyelashes trembled, and he opened his eyes.

He squinted. Seeing it was Amber, he dispelled his vigilance.

Then he tilted his head and glanced at Lu Xiangxiang, who was resting on the sofa and sleeping peacefully.

“Mrs. Smith.”

Amber felt constrained and uneasy. Feng Chen was Cindy’s lifesaver and Lu Xiangxiang’s boss. Amber couldn’t afford to offend him.

“Xiangxiang is too tired.” Amber pressed her lips, and said in a low voice, “Mr. Feng, I’m here to thank you.”

Feng Chen paused. He lowered his eyes and said casually, “Mr. Smith has already done that.”

Amber was surprised for a moment. Feng Chen continued, “A few days ago, our Feng Group competed with the Smith Group for a piece of land. Mr. Smith was generous. After this incident, he gave it up to me directly.”

He supported his head, and then said, “You worked in the Smith Group before and probably know that the Feng Group is smaller than the Smith Group. That Land was very important to our Feng Group, but we had no chance of getting it.”

“Although I’m seriously injured, I am not at a loss. On the contrary, I took advantage of you.”

“So, you don’t have to be grateful.”

What Feng Chen said was concise.

“I’m not him.” Amber took a deep breath, “Cindy is my life. I am grateful that you saved her. But I am not Sean. I have no power and no money and can’t give you anything. But if you need help, don’t hesitate to tell me.”

Feng Chen nodded.

“Your child is alone next door. You should go back and look after her.”

Amber said okay. She hesitated, and then asked a question, "Mr. Feng, did you see anyone when you found my daughter?"

Feng Chen shook his head.

"No, I didn't see anyone."

"I went out to look for the child because Secretary Lu said that Lin Man took the child away."

"The most dangerous places in the manor are the road and the river halfway up the mountain. The river was too far away, so I tried my luck on the road."

"But even if I tell these to the police, it won't help."

Amber thanked him again before leaving the ward.

Both Cindy and Feng Chen stayed in the SVIP ward, and Cindy's ward was arranged by Tomas.

As the president of the Feng Group, Feng Chen naturally could afford it.

After a sleepless night, Amber was not in a good state. She lowered her eyes and pressed her lips slightly, sitting in front of the bed and staying by Cindy's side.

Amber was really scared by Cindy's car accident.

Although Cindy had come out of the emergency room safely, she still had lingering fear.

Amber didn't dare to think about what would happen to her if Cindy really died.

Not long after dawn, Lu Xiangxiang brought breakfast, and Cindy woke up.

She was still in low spirit. Amber could not see the emotions in her eyes through the gauze.

Amber fed the porridge to her, and she didn't open her mouth.

"Cindy?"

"Are you okay?"

Cindy pouted and said in a low voice, "Yes."

"You're lying to mom?" Amber was a little angry, "A child who lies is not a good child."

Cindy was silent.

She was just a three-year-old child. Amber didn't know why she was so silent.

After a pause, Amber reached out and touched Cindy's little cheek, and a layer of mist covered her heart, "Cindy, are you blaming mom for not saving you last night?"

"No."

Amber asked cautiously, "Then tell mom, what's wrong?"

She had always been sensible. Even if it hurt, she wouldn't just ignore people.

Cindy curled her lip and asked in a low voice, "Mom, did you and daddy get divorced?"

Amber paused. Lu Xiangxiang probably wouldn't talk about this in front of Cindy.

But why did Cindy know it?

"Who told you this?"

Cindy bit her lip and whispered, "Why didn't dad come to see me?"

Amber was silent.

"Mom, dad has left us, right?"

Amber knew she had to give Cindy an explanation from the beginning.

She made up countless false stories to fool Cindy, so Cindy became sensitive and suspicious.

She asked, "You miss dad?"

"Mom, can you call dad and ask him to see me?"

"Cindy, I'm here with you. Don't bother dad."

After Amber said these words, Cindy suddenly cried, "Mom, why can't I bother him? Isn't he my dad?"

Amber didn't know how to respond.

She also said such words before, but Cindy didn't react like this.

That weird feeling was getting stronger.

"Mom, does dad not like me because you are the other woman?"

The other woman?

These words hit Amber like a thunderbolt.

Who told Cindy this?

"Cindy, did you know who took you out last night?"

Cindy cried and didn't speak. When Amber asked, she trembled all over, "I can't tell you. She said that if I told others, she would feed me to wolfs."

Cindy's crying stabbed Amber's heart.

"Mom, wolves like children, don't they? My meat is delicious. They can eat me up in a while."

Amber reached out and hugged Cindy tightly.

Cindy did not say that she did not know that person, which meant she knew her?

It couldn't be others except for Lin Man.

She sowed discord between her and Cindy and intimidated a three-year-old child. What a vicious woman!

“Alright, I won’t force you to tell me. Can you tell me what did she say?”

Cindy sniffed and said aggrievedly, “She said you were a home wrecker and dad would divorce you.”

Chapter 415: I Would Be Abandoned by Him One Day

0 4 minutes read

-

“She said dad didn’t like me. Even if you didn’t agree to divorce dad, I would be abandoned by him one day.”

Amber trembled.

She held her daughter’s hand, and her heart seemed to be placed in a frying pan. A fit of anger came up to her.

“Mom, are these all true?”

No!

Of course not!

Sean was even going to fight her for Cindy’s custody. How could he dislike her?

Lin Man was cheeky enough to say these words.

Amber opened her mouth and said in a low voice, “Cindy, mom will not lie to you. Dad and mom are indeed divorced, but dad likes you, and I’m not a home wrecker.”

“You need to choose between me and your dad.”

...

Sean was called back to the Smiths’ mansion by Tomas.

Only Tomas and a few servants were at home.

Tomas was sitting in the living room, wearing a Chinese tunic suit, watching TV with a serious face. As soon as Sean arrived, he noticed it immediately. Obviously, he didn’t focus on the TV but was waiting for Sean intently.

“There you are.”

Tomas’s tone was very flat, but the cowhide whip placed on the side of the sofa showed his attitude!

“Um.”

Tomas pointed to the opposite chair and said, “Sit down.”

“Did you bring the divorce papers?”

As soon as Sean sat down, Tomas suddenly asked.

He looked at Tomas fixedly.

Didn't he always like Amber?

How come he looked more anxious than Amber on the divorce matter?

Being nice to Amber was just a pretense of him?

Or he misunderstood Amber before?

"I've torn it up."

Sean spoke in a flat tone and looked at Tomas casually.

Tomas was taken aback, and asked with a frown, "Why?"

"Dad, you are so anxious to see me divorce Amber? Why? You are also worried that Amber will take away the property of our Smith family?"

Tomas threw the teacup at Tomas, "Shut up!"

Sean didn't hide and then wiped the water on his face slightly.

"Why? I got you, so you are annoyed and angry?"

Tomas sneered, "If you weren't such an asshole, would Amber divorce you?"

Sean's expression changed slightly.

Tomas's face turned pale with anger. Seeing Sean keep silent, he was even angrier, and raised the whip at him.

"When Amber didn't want to get a divorce, you made a great effort to make her agree. Now that she did, why did you tear the divorce agreement up?"

"You've disgraced me totally!" Tomas gasped and said bitterly, "Go to Amber and ask for another copy of the divorce agreement, and sign it!"

The whip fell on Sean, but he ignored it.

"You want me to plead with Amber for a copy?"

Tomas's face flushed. Sean ignored it, and then said, "Besides, I've taken my hair and Cindy's for a paternity test."

"If Cindy is my child, I will find out how Amber was pregnant. And..." Sean's eyes were gloomy, "I will never let my child bear hardships with her."

Hearing this, Tomas kicked at Sean without hesitation, "You bastard!"

"Where did you get the guts to say such words? If it weren't for Amber, would you have Cindy?"

"Go to the ancestral hall and kneel there!"

Sean touched the wound on his arm. He frowned and pressed the corner of his lips. As soon as he moved, he was stopped by Tomas.

“Don’t disturb Amber anymore and fight her for the child’s custody!”

Sean turned a deaf ear to it.

“You are not a qualified father at all!”

“Dad, you seem very sure that Cindy is my child!”

Sean fixedly looked at Tomas and whispered, “Why?”

Three years ago, he had explained countless times that the child in Amber’s belly was not his!

But Tomas never doubted that, which made Sean very curious!

He lowered his eyes and whispered, “You trust Amber more than you trust me, why? I am your son. You don’t believe me but believe her?”

How could Tomas not realize Sean was trying to get the truth from him?

Tomas bit his teeth and then said, “Now it’s too late to say anything!”

“Amber wasted so much time on you. I’m glad she finally woke up to reality.”

It seemed that Tomas really knew Cindy was his daughter.

In the past three years, although he was not good to Amber, he never hurt her.

Anyway, she got what she wanted by marrying him.

Amber didn’t want the shares of the Smith Group. Was he supposed to plead with her for accepting the shares?

Sean walked out of the Smiths’ mansion.

A gust of hot wind came over, and Sean’s wound was itchy and painful.

Tomas told him not to disturb Amber but didn’t forbid him from going to the hospital for injuries.

If he didn’t beat him, he wouldn’t need to make such a trip.

He was also worried about seeing Amber. What if Amber brought trouble to him again?

Sean galloped to the hospital by car.

There were a few people standing at the registration place, but he went straight to the SVIP floor without taking a look at it.

When he reached Cindy’s ward, he stood at the door and looked inside.

Amber was not here.

The corners of Sean’s lips curved, and he found that the ward was neat and clean.

Cindy was not here either.

His heart sank instantly.

Did Amber run away with Cindy before the result of the paternity test came out?

No!

Maybe she saw him tear up the divorce agreement, fearing that he would ask her for a copy.

No matter what, he was a hot property. How could Amber be willing to divorce him?

Chapter 416: He Was Not Easy to Get Rid Of

0 4 minutes read

Sean's face grew gloomy.

No, no, he knew a little about Amber. He knew her character.

She seldom regretted her decision.

Since she had filed for divorce, there was no more room for maneuvering.

Amber hated him. Fearing that he would be short-lived and suffer blood cancer, she didn't want to donate her bone marrow to him.

Last night, what Amber said still echoed in his ears. He took a deep breath.

She said she would donate her bone marrow to him as long as he never married Lin Man.

How could she keep her word?

Sean was like being stabbed in his chest.

The weird feeling entangled his heart.

He wanted to call Xu Lin and let him find out the whereabouts of Amber.

In the beginning, it was Amber who took the initiative to approach him and intruded into his life!

He dialed the number, but suddenly heard the voice next door, "Aunt Xiangxiang, when will my mom be back?"

Sean paused.

He took two quick steps, and through the window on the door of the ward, he saw the girl sitting on Feng Chen's bed at a glance.

There was gauze on her arm. It was Cindy.

Sean licked the corner of his lips and pushed open the door. Lu Xiangxiang thought it was Amber.

She turned around with a smile, but when she saw Sean, her face instantly darkened.

"Mr. Smith, what are you doing here? You should be with your little love."

Hearing the words Mr. Smith, Cindy looked back abruptly. Feng Chen glared at Lu Xiangxiang, "Secretary Lu, watch your attitude!"

Lu Xiangxiang had to hold back her anger.

Feng Chen saved Cindy, and Sean gave up the land to Feng Chen.

She was not in any position to make things difficult for Sean.

"Mr. Smith, why are you here?"

Sean took two steps forward and looked at Cindy. She was covered in injuries, and her condition looked more serious than that of Feng Chen.

There were even scratches on her cheek.

She must know that Mr. Smith was him, but she didn't greet him.

Sean's heartbeat that finally calmed down raced again.

His eyes were stained anger. Amber must have spoken ill of him in front of Cindy.

She was jealous!

Jealous of his good relationship with Cindy!

Even if the paternity test proved that Cindy was his child, Cindy would choose Amber!

Sean was panic.

Amber was going to take his daughter away!

Sean licked the corner of his lips. He took a serious look at the injury on Cindy, then suddenly leaned down and picked Cindy up from the bed.

Cindy was thinner than children of the same age. After experiencing the toxoplasma thing and the car accident, she was more skinny.

"Sean, where are you taking Cindy?"

Lu Xiangxiang's face suddenly changed when she saw this. She chased and blocked Sean's way. "You want to get her hurt again?"

"Or you are taking Cindy to Lin Man?"

Sean looked up and glanced at Lu Xiangxiang gloomily, "Get out of my way!"

"Secretary Lu, I feel a little uncomfortable. Go and get the doctor for me."

Feng Chen's voice came from behind Lu Xiangxiang.

Lu Xiangxiang froze and said, "Mr. Feng, I'll do that later!"

"Mr. Smith is Cindy's father. It is reasonable for him to take his daughter away!" Feng Chen looked sullen, "You are my secretary. You should follow my order!"

Lu Xiangxiang gritted her teeth angrily, and glared at Sean, "Sean, you can take Cindy away, but you can't take her out of the hospital!"

"No, you can't take her out of the SVIP floor!"

Cindy encircled Sean's neck like a quiet doll.

Lu Xiangxiang knew Cindy missed Sean and had been thinking about him for a long time.

Even in her dreams, she called for her father.

"Okay."

Sean didn't quarrel with Lu Xiangxiang but went to the next door with Cindy.

He put Cindy on the bed carefully and asked in a low voice, "Cindy, why don't you talk to dad?"

Cindy lowered her head.

Sean's heart contracted, and he was a little flustered, "Cindy, it's my bad. I didn't keep a watchful eye on you last night... Are you blaming me?"

Cindy shook her head.

Sean couldn't see her eyes and didn't know what she was feeling.

"Did your mother tell you something?"

Cindy nodded, and said, "Mom said you were divorced."

Sean's heart ached.

"Dad, mom said I could only live with either of you."

He was silent. No matter how confident he was, he knew that Cindy would not choose him.

A dad who wanted to know what had happened before and left her to her mother's rival in love.

Cindy wouldn't want him!

But Sean still had a little expectation.

If Cindy chose him, Amber would still look after her, but if she chose Amber, they would rarely see each other in the future.

"Dad, I chose mom."

After Cindy finished speaking, she cried. Her tears seemed to have run into his heart.

Sean clenched his fists. Cindy rubbed her eyes through the gauze. "Mom wouldn't leave me to others!"

"I hate you!"

Sean sat in front of the bed and was shocked.

The indoor temperature was not low, but he felt very cold.

He never thought that Cindy would hate him.

“Woohoo...”

Sean’s throat was dry. He reached out and rubbed Cindy’s hair, and whispered, “Stop crying. I’m really sorry.”

Cindy got into Sean’s arms and asked aggrievedly while crying, “Dad, why are you divorcing mom?”

Why?

Because he got her hurt and Amber was angry.

Cindy was Amber’s taboo. How could Amber not be angry?

“Is it because mom is a home wrecker? Is it because mom came between you and aunt Lin?”

Cindy said while crying.

Sean was stunned.

In the past three years, Amber had been telling Cindy that he and Amber were on good terms and she even made up fairy tales about them!

Chapter 417: Who Told You This?

0 4 minutes read

-

Amber was so anxious to tell Cindy that they were divorced?

He didn’t believe that she would ruin her own image in Cindy’s heart.

Sean was not stupid. He knew Amber wouldn’t do that.

“Cindy, who told you this?”

Lin Man?

Hearing this, Cindy was like a frightened bird, trembling in his arms.

“I can’t tell you, otherwise I will be fed to wolves.”

Sean paused.

In other words, last night, Cindy wasn’t unconscious. She knew who took her to that road?

She must know that person.

Gu Jinyan and Lin Ye were with him last night, and Cindy didn’t even know Lin Ye.

Lu Xiangxiang and Feng Chen were together and had an alibi.

Amber, Lin Man, Lu Yi.

Amber wouldn't harm Cindy. Lu Yi had to pick up Amber and meet with the client. He had no time to do that...

Only Lin Man might have the chance and time to do that.

Sean was shocked

After being with Lin Man for eight years, he thought he knew her...

Holding Cindy, he pressed his lips tightly.

"No one will hurt you anymore."

Cindy pressed the corner of her lips tightly, and then choked up and asked, "Really?"

"Mom is a home wrecker, and dad doesn't like me?"

"Of course not!" Sean denied without thinking, "Cindy, you are daddy's baby. Dad can't dislike you."

"And you should believe your mom, right?"

Sean took a deep breath.

Amber was actually a home wrecker. If it weren't for her, Lin Man might not change.

He should tell Cindy.

Maybe Cindy would choose him after he told her this.

Sean's lips moved, "Your mother is so excellent. She doesn't need to be a home wrecker."

Forget it!

The result of the paternity test would come out in a few days, and he was 70-80% sure that Cindy was his daughter.

If he exposed Amber's true face, she might be sad again.

Her eyes had not yet healed. It was not good to cry too much.

Sean thought that after he said this, Cindy would stop crying. However, Cindy broke down and cried louder, "Then why are you divorcing?"

Sean was stumbled by this question.

Sean was reluctant to marry Amber three years ago, but Amber, with her own power, made herself known as Mrs. Smith in Tong City.

And Amber divorced him when she wanted to!

Did this earth revolve around her?

Sean was indignant. He patted Cindy on her small shoulder.

“Dad, I seldom saw you before. My classmates said that I’m a bastard... Please don’t divorce. I don’t want others to say that I don’t have a father... I don’t want to seldom see you.”

As she spoke, she wiped her tears. Her little face was covered with tears, and she looked really pitiful.

Sean took a deep breath. He reached out and wiped the tears from her face, and whispered, “Baby, stop crying.”

“Even if I divorce your mother, I will often see you and send you to school.”

Cindy was still very sad.

She tilted her head, and her small face turned red from crying. Sean continued, “Cindy, don’t cry, or your gauze will never be removed.”

Cindy was scared.

She nodded obediently. The gauze on her eyes was already wet by her tears. Sean closed the curtains in the ward, turned off the lights, and took it off for her.

Cindy’s eyes were red and she looked pitiful.

Sean pressed the corner of his mouth, rubbed Cindy’s head and whispered, “Where’s your mom?”

“I don’t know.”

Cindy wiped her tears. She was hurt badly. When Sean held her just now, he avoided touching the wounds on her.

“Mom said she had to run errands and asked me to stay with auntie Xianxiang.”

“She said uncle Lu will come over later.”

Lu Yi?

Sean’s eyebrows were knitted. Lu Yi was seeing Amber officially?

Or Amber was anxious to give Cindy a stepfather?

A fit of anger rushed to Sean’s heart.

He sneered and said, “Baby, you shouldn’t call him like that.”

Cindy froze, “Why? Dad, you told me that I could only choose between him and you, and you told me to call him uncle Lu.”

Did he?

A touch of embarrassment flashed across Sean’s face. He couldn’t remember it clearly. When he met Cindy’s shiny black eyes, he cleared his throat and said.

“Then I’m mistaken.” Sean thought for a while and said, “Lu Yi is my cousin. According to seniority, you should call him uncle!”

“Right, uncle Lu!”

Cindy was young, and she grew up by her mother's side.

Therefore, Cindy was not very clear about the issue of seniority in the Smith family.

Hearing Sean's words, Cindy nodded obediently.

Sean rubbed Cindy's little head, and whispered, "Good girl."

He was a little proud.

Amber had always been unruly. Before marrying him, she was notorious. Cindy was so well-behaved because she was like him.

"Cindy, do you want to eat with me at noon?"

"Good." Cindy nodded and whispered, "Mom won't come back. She has things to do."

What was Amber doing?

He no longer remembered what happened 11 years ago.

Amber didn't love him at all. Maybe she was fooling around with other men again.

Sean pinched his fingertips and said casually, "Cindy, you can ask your mom to eat with us."

"Huh?"

Cindy looked up blankly. Her eyes were foggy, and she looked confused, "Huh?"

"Don't you want to have dinner with mom and dad?" Sean took out his cell phone and whispered, "I'll call your mom. You tell her you miss her and want to have lunch with her, okay?"

Cindy looked more confused, "But I don't miss mom."

"I have to be good. Mom said she will be very busy in the future because she would raise me alone. I don't want to bring trouble to her."

Sean's face turned livid.

Amber would raise Cindy alone?

Could she give her daughter a good life with her small salary?

That was ridiculous!

Chapter 418: Dad, You Miss Mom, Doesn't You

0 4 minutes read

-

Did she leave his daughter alone when she was busy?

"What if your mom is looking for a new dad for you? Do you want someone to be your dad?"

Cindy was about to speak, but it suddenly dawned on her, "Oh, I see."

“Dad, you miss mom, right!”

“You don’t want a divorce. You want mom to come back for lunch with you, right?”

Sean almost threw his phone out. His face turned red and blue in embarrassment. He pressed his lips and said, “Anyway, let’s call mom first, okay?”

Cindy nodded.

She remembered Amber’s phone number. She entered it and then dialed.

The phone was hung up after ringing twice.

Cindy tilted her head and looked at Sean.

His expression stiffened.

Amber was probably doing something shameful. Before the divorce procedure was completed, she blatantly hung up on him, her legal husband.

Sean gasped and gritted his teeth. Cindy tugged at his shirt.

Sean lowered his head and met her big eyes.

“Dad, did you make mom angry?”

Cindy’s eyes were earnest, “Why did mom hang up on you?”

How was he supposed to know what Amber was thinking?

He...

Sean punched the bedboard and called Amber again. He dialed again and again, and Amber hung up on him again and again. Amber was not as patient as Sean and finally answered it.

“Amber, how dare you hang up on me!”

“What are you doing?”

Amber pressed her lips and said in a low voice, “Why can’t I do that? First, I have resigned. I am not an employee of the Smith Group, and your subordinate anymore.”

“Second, I am not your wife anymore!”

“We will soon become unrelated strangers. Why can’t I hang up you?”

Sean was wordless.

“I have something to do. If there is nothing urgent, please don’t bother me!”

“Wait!” Perceiving that Amber was about to hang up, he opened his mouth and stopped her, “Cindy wants to speak to you!”

No matter how aggrieved Sean felt, he knew clearly that he couldn’t reach her anymore as long as Amber hung up.

“Mom!”

Sean placed the phone in front of Cindy.

“Cindy?”

Amber’s tone was somewhat surprised, but comparing with when she was talking to Sean, her tone was extraordinarily gentle.

Sean gritted his teeth. Good for you, Amber.

She treated him with a hostile attitude on purpose!

She wanted to keep Cindy away from him!

Sean was in a trance and suddenly heard Cindy say, “Mom, can you come back for lunch?”

“Huh?”

“Dad misses you. Dad wants to have lunch with you. He doesn’t want to divorce you...”

“Cindy!”

Sean snapped at her to stop her from speaking. Cindy was scared.

He snatched the phone and hung up quickly. His handsome face was dark and overcast.

Cindy reacted with tears in her eyes and looked at Sean carefully, “Dad, are you angry?”

“Did... I say something wrong? Dad, are you blaming me?”

Cindy sniffed. Sean bit the corner of his lips, lowered his eyes, and his anger was brewing.

When Cindy cried, Sean had to dispel his anger.

He reached out and rubbed Cindy’s hair and then carefully wiped tears for, “Don’t cry, you did nothing wrong.”

“I’m sorry. My bad. I shouldn’t have yelled at you. Don’t be angry with me, okay?”

Cindy nodded.

“Dad, I don’t want others to be my dad.”

Sean felt relieved.

He didn’t care if Amber would be with other men, but he didn’t allow his baby daughter to call other men father.

He would never agree!

Sean took a deep breath, leaned to Cindy’s side, and whispered, “In this case, you should keep other men from getting close to your mom.”

“Dad, why?”

Sean paused, thinking for a moment, "Because they are unkind and want to marry your mom."

Cindy seemed to be confused. Sean continued, "If your mother is with other men, they will have children of their own!"

"Then your mother can't take care of you. Maybe your new father will beat you when your mother is not around!"

Cindy's eyes were tinged with panic, and her voice took on a sobbing tone, "What should I do?"

"I don't want to be beaten."

Cindy was aggrieved and scared, looking at Sean with fixed eyes.

"Don't let your mother marry someone else. If she doesn't get married, you won't have a new father."

Sean lied to the little girl calmly, "Cindy, you must keep a watchful eye on your mother."

"Remember, anyone who stands beside your mother within one meter has ulterior motives!"

Cindy nodded earnestly. She wiped her tears and asked, "Then what should I do?"

"Call me!"

"I'll solve this kind of thing."

Cindy answered, "Okay."

"Are there other people I should keep an eye on?"

"Yes, men who somehow give your mother money and buy you snacks and want to please you!"

"And men who spent the night in your house!"

Cindy opened her mouth slightly and looked particularly surprised, "Dad, you mean uncle Lu?"

Lu Yi?

Of course!

He had been coveting Amber for a long time. Maybe he was overjoyed after knowing that Amber was going to divorce him.

"What do you think?"

Sean didn't admit it directly. Cindy hesitated, "Uncle Lu is very good to me. I don't think he will beat me."

"Don't bet on it. When he and your mother have their own baby, your toys and your snacks are all their baby's."

After Sean hung up the phone, Amber seemed to hear Cindy cry.

Marcus sat opposite Amber and asked in a low voice, "What's the matter? Who was that?"

Amber put her phone away, "Sean. I'm going back for lunch. Leaving."

Chapter 419: Why Should I Go Back

0 4 minutes read

-

She didn't feel easy about letting Cindy stay with Sean.

Sean trusted Lin Man very much. What if he took Cindy to Lin Man again?

"Sister!"

"You haven't promised me!" Marcus stopped her.

"I don't have the makings of running a company. After divorcing Sean and leaving the Smith Group, you will raise Cindy with difficulties. I know you are competent..."

"But, sister, you will achieve more in your own company."

Marcus was very sincere. Amber glanced up at him carelessly. What he hadn't said was instantly stuck in his throat.

"You came here to see me without discussing with Sherman and Yolanda."

"The White Group is yours. I am just an outsider in their eyes. If I return, I will be restrained everywhere."

Amber sneered, "Moreover, three years ago, Sherman gave me a big gift. I'm so anxious to see other companies annex the White Group. Why should I go back?"

Marcus was speechless.

Before coming to Amber, he inquired about what happened three years ago. He found out a lot about the past of Sherman and Yolanda.

Sherman and Yolanda told Marcus that they fell in love after Amber's mother died.

He believed it at first, but after meeting Amber, he investigated it.

He was born before Amber's mother died, and Sherman was around him these years.

Much less did he know that he had a sister.

"Sister, the White Group was created by father and your mother. I just...return your things to you. I'm not as unreasonable as my parents."

Amber was stunned.

She turned her head and looked at Marcus. He was very tall, handsome, and sunny.

With seriousness in his eyes, Marcus whispered: "Sister, I'm a man. I can support myself. I asked you to return to the White Group not because I want you to be highly held back."

“And I won’t force you to forgive my parents.”

It was evident that he had given a lot of thought to it.

Amber thought he was just a rich and stupid dandy. After hearing him out, she was a little surprised.

Marcus hurriedly handed the documents on the table to Amber and whispered, “Don’t be in a hurry to refuse. Take these documents back and read them first, okay?”

“Sister, you are going back for lunch, aren’t you?” Marcus smiled shyly, “I’ll take you back.”

Marcus sent Amber to the ward. Since Cindy had the car accident, he hadn’t seen her.

He was holding a bunch of small snacks bought downstairs in his arms. When he saw Sean sitting in the ward playing with Cindy, the expression on his face changed.

“Mr. Smith, why are you here?”

Hearing this, Sean turned his head slightly and saw Amber and Marcus approaching together. He narrowed his eyes slightly.

“Mr. White, you can come, but I can’t?”

“Don’t you feel guilty? If it weren’t for you, how could Cindy suffer such a serious injury? My sister is filled with anxiety after being with you!” Marcus said angrily, “It seems being with you is really dangerous!”

Sean’s eyelid twitched.

Amber asked her family to back her up?

No one dared to speak for Amber like this. Marcus was different. He didn’t care who the person standing in front of him was. As long as he was displeased, he would teach the person a good lesson.

Sean sneered, “I’m here to see my daughter. If you don’t want to see me, the door is behind you, and you can walk yourselves out.”

Marcus, “...”

Amber put down what was in her hand. She looked at Sean in confusion, “What the hell do you want?”

“Sean, we have divorced. I hope we can keep a distance from each other!”

“I’ve told you. I only have one request, that is, you can’t disturb me and Cindy’s life.”

Sean brazenly said, “I can’t do it. I haven’t sent the divorce agreement for notarization. If you can’t stand my interruption, change your mind and pretend that the divorce thing never happened!”

Amber’s ears buzzed.

Did Sean know what he was talking about?

Only he himself knew how much he wanted to get a divorce these years.

Amber agreed to divorce him, but he didn’t agree?

Amber was exasperated. She squinted and gritted her teeth, and asked, "What do you mean?"

"Why, you are thinking about your ex-girlfriend while pestering your ex-wife? Sean, this is the 21st century, not the feudal ancient times!"

"I don't care what you think, but don't forget you are counting on me to save you."

"If I'm upset, I will never donate bone marrow to you!"

Sean's face darkened instantly.

She didn't care what he thought?

She was right. Three years ago, when She was trying desperately to marry him, she didn't care what he thought either!

Why could she do whatever she wanted?

He hadn't figured out what happened eleven years ago. He would never agree to divorce!

"Who cares about your bone marrow?"

Sean gave Amber a fixed look, and said coldly, "Even if I die, I won't plead with my ex-wife for saving me!"

Sean's expression was too serious with slight anger.

Amber was silent. After Cindy's car accident, the sweetness of eleven years ago, like a bubble, broke instantly.

Although Sean clearly expressed his unwillingness to divorce, there was no sweetness in her heart, but only pain and despair.

Sean had removed the gauze from Cindy's eyes. She took a deep breath, trying not to lose control in front of her daughter.

She made the expression on her face as gentle as possible, smiling at Cindy, then turning her head and saying to Marcus, "You should go back now."

"No!"

Marcus refused without thinking about it, "Unless Mr. Smith will leave with me!"

Sean didn't move. Amber said, "I need to talk to him!"

"What can you talk about? Aren't you going to get a divorce? It's not about the division of property. I won't leave!"

"What can you do if you stay?"

Amber was helpless, but Marcus said confidently, "Sean has violent tendencies, I'm staying to protect you!"

Chapter 420: If He Bullies You, Call me

0 4 minutes read

Facebook Twitter LinkedIn Tumblr Pinterest Reddit VKontakte Messenger Messenger WhatsApp
Telegram Viber

“Haha—“

Sean sneered and squinted with a bit of disdain that was hard to ignore.

Last night, he had already told Amber that he didn’t beat women. Amber couldn’t make him change his principles.

“Go back.”

Amber took a deep breath and spoke in a low voice.

Marcus was a little aggrieved. He took a look at Sean sullenly and said in a low voice, “I...”

“I’m leaving. If he bullies you, call me at once. I...” Marcus gritted his teeth. His voice seemed to be coming from his throat and sounded very fierce and malicious, “I’ll kill him!”

Marcus left.

Sean was still playing with Cindy. He held a peeled apple in his hand and cut off a piece of it, and sent it to Cindy.

Amber stood there and didn’t move. There was no expression on her face, and she looked like a dummy, “No one else is here. Can you tell me what you want now?”

“I want nothing. I’m here to have lunch with my daughter.”

Amber suddenly thought of the words Cindy said on the phone.

Sean knew he was wrong. Sean missed her. Sean didn’t want to divorce!

No!

Any one of these things was hard to believe.

“Sean, stop it.”

Amber sounded slightly exhausted, and she slumped on the sofa in the ward.

“You hate me. You should be happier than I am about the divorce. When I was your wife, you refused to admit that Cindy was his daughter. Now I’ve agreed to divorce, but you told me you wanted to have lunch with your daughter?”

“I really can’t understand it!” Amber gritted her teeth, and her eyes quickly became red, “You are being unreasonable and brazen!”

“If you continue pestering me, I will look down on you!”

Sean’s hand, holding the fruit knife, stiffened.

He looked up at Amber incredulously.

She was in a snow-white long dress, curling on the sofa, like a fragile doll.

She looked down on him?

She should!

Three years ago he couldn't stop her from marrying him, and at this time, he couldn't keep his daughter by his side!

Sean sneered.

She really thought he couldn't get Cindy's custody?

Sean licked his lip.

He should immediately put down the fruit knife and leave the hospital without looking back. Why should he reason with Amber?

He should sue Amber directly. Four years ago, Amber must have drugged him! That was why she was pregnant with Cindy.

In the past three years, Amber kept him from knowing that Cindy was his daughter. She should pay for it!

His eyes flickered, and he slammed the fruit knife heavily on the table. He strode to Amber, put his hands on the armrest, and leaned forward.

The two were nose-to-nose, and the bottom of their eyes was pitch black.

They were so close, but they were like being separated by mountains and seas.

The strong hormonal breath from the man filled Amber's nose.

Sean had left her for eleven years.

He took away his love and all her impressions of him.

Before signing the divorce agreement, Amber still had illusions about Sean. His approach would make her panic and shy.

However, it only made her feel uncomfortable at this time.

Amber turned sideways, avoiding Sean's gaze. She held back the tumbling emotion in her eyes and said calmly.

"Sean, please watch how you conduct yourself.."

Sean.

Amber said his name indifferently.

She loved him, didn't she?

What was love in Amber's eyes? Was it something that could be discarded at will?

She turned out to be such a ruthless person!

Good!

He finally saw clearly the true face of Amber.

Sean sneered. He held Amber's chin with one hand, forcing her to look at him.

"Amber, you think you would have Cindy without me?"

His hot and humid breath instantly covered Amber's face. Amber was like being nailed on the sofa, looking extremely upset.

She looked at Sean speechlessly.

"You..."

"What?" Sean interrupted Amber, "As Cindy's biological father, can't I eat with her!"

"Amber, I don't want to go to court with you. Don't force me to do that!"

Amber blinked. Sean thought she was going to refuse indifferently again. Unexpectedly, she nodded and whispered, "Yes, you can!"

"Go out and eat with her."

Amber lowered her head, glanced at the time, and whispered, "But, you only have two hours. Cindy will have a drip later."

"The most serious injury is on her leg. It is very deep. Be careful when you take her out. She is still very weak. If she has any more accidents, no one can save her."

Sean froze.

He looked at Amber who was lowering her head and saying in a low voice, "Wherever you take her, you have to hold her. Don't let her walk."

"You're not going to eat with us?"

Sean's emotions preceded his reason. After he asked, his face turned blue.

But Amber didn't notice that. She sneered, "Why should I eat with you?"

"You want me to serve you?"

"Then what is the point of me divorcing you? You are Cindy's father, not mine!"

Amber's words were a bit ironic.

Sean pressed his lips, strode to the bed and asked Cindy in a low voice, "Cindy, would you like to have lunch with me?"

Cindy looked at Amber. She was sitting on the sofa, like a lifeless sculpture.

Cindy couldn't empathize with Amber's distress and despair at such an age. Amber hesitated and nodded.

Sean held the gauze and wrapped it around Cindy's eyes. Then he carried her out of the ward.