

Substitute Bride's Husband Is An Invisible Rich Man

Chapter 121: Kidnapping

Sighing helplessly, Mo Yan handed him the camera, she said, "The photos are of things that the clients may find issues about. As a sales person, when facing customers, they will ask a lot of unexpected questions. We can't wait for them to ask questions before going to the site to investigate, right! If we do that, people will think that we are not professional and don't understand what we are selling."

"You're talking about the problems that will arise during sales. Hasn't Lin Group not chosen a partner yet?" The young man looked at the photos in confusion.

"Yes." Mo Yan nodded, then, she chuckled and said, "I feel that only when I treat the project as my own can I think of all the problems. When I think of all the customers' concerns, then I can look back at my proposal and improve it."

After that, Mo Yan pulled out photos one by one and told the young man about the questions that she had previously encountered from clients.

The young man was a good listener. He did not say much, but he would respond when Mo Yan needed it. This also made Mo Yan not be able to stop talking. Before she knew it, it was already seven o'clock.

It was not until Li Guoguo called her that she suddenly reacted.

The two of them walked out of the villa. Mo Yan looked at the completely dark sky and could not help but feel depressed.

"I don't know if there are any more buses," Mo Yan muttered. Then, she turned to the youth and asked, "Where do you live? How did you get here?"

Actually, she was a little suspicious of the youth's identity. He attended the banquet and came here today. Did he have something to do with the Lin family?

The young man looked at her and replied with two words: My car.

These two simple words instantly made Mo Yan's eyes widen. He was not talking about taking a taxi, but taking a car. In other words, she might be able to get a ride home tonight!

However, before Mo Yan could even react, she suddenly felt someone rapidly approaching. Following that, a handkerchief with a pungent smell was placed over her mouth.

"Wu!"

Mo Yan struggled with all her might, but she was unable to break free. Before she fainted, Mo Yan saw from the corner of her eye that the young man's nose and mouth was also being covered by someone...

After an unknown amount of time, Mo Yan felt a splitting headache. The dizziness and nausea forced her to open her eyes.

For a moment, Mo Yan wondered if she was blind. Why was it so dark?

She blinked twice. When Mo Yan's eyes gradually adapted to the darkness, she confirmed that she was in a dark environment.

Recalling the situation before she fainted, Mo Yan was almost certain that she had been kidnapped.

"Cough."

Suddenly, a light cough entered Mo Yan's ear, making her pleasantly surprised.

"Hey!" Mo Yan knew that this was the youth she was with. She still didn't know his name.

“Miss Mo?”

The youth’s voice was a little hoarse, as if he had just woken up.

“Yes, it’s me. We seem to have been kidnapped.”

Slowly, Mo Yan regained her sight. They seemed to be locked in an iron box. The distance between the two sides was very narrow but it was pretty long.

“Hey, what’s wrong? Are you not feeling well?” Seeing that the youth had not answered, Mo Yan asked.

The reason why Mo Yan asked this was because she was also not feeling well. The pungent smell from before still gave her a headache.

The youth still did not reply to Mo Yan’s question, which gave Mo Yan a bad feeling.

“Are you not feeling well? If you’re feeling unwell, say something.”

As she spoke, Mo Yan tried to look for the youth, but she bumped into a wall. Mo Yan changed directions and continued walking. This time, she successfully bumped into the youth, but...

“What’s wrong with you?”

Mo Yan squatted down. Only when she got close did she see the youth hugging his legs and trembling non-stop.

“Are you afraid? Don’t be afraid, I’m here!” Mo Yan patted the youth’s shoulder gently to comfort him.

Actually, Mo Yan was also afraid. Being in a dark and narrow environment, she did not know who the person who kidnapped them was, nor did she know the purpose of kidnapping them. However, she had to calm down before she could think of a way to save herself.

Mo Yan patted the youth with one hand and touched the surroundings with the other to see if there were any tools.

Mo Yan did not speak, leaving only the breathing sounds of the two of them in the air. Gradually, the breathing sounds of the youth beside Mo Yan's ear became softer and softer.

"You, what's wrong with you? Don't scare me."

Once again, Mo Yan pressed her body close to him. She did not care about anything else and forcefully pushed away the arms that the youth was hugging tightly.

At this moment, the young man had already lost all his strength. His arms that had been pushed away fell to the ground.

Mo Yan pressed her hand against his forehead and it felt wet and cold. His breathing was very weak and his eyes were tightly shut, as if he had fainted.

This time, Mo Yan did not have the energy to think whether the two of them had been kidnapped or whether making a noise would bring any danger to the two of them. The only thing she could do was to slap the surrounding metal sheets.

Chapter 122: Claustrophobia

"Help! Someone is dying here! Help!"

Seeing that the slapping did not work, Mo Yan immediately kicked the metal sheets. This kick caused the surroundings to tremble.

"Someone! Help!"

She kicked and shouted at the same time, yet no one came.

Mo Yan felt that the person beside her was getting colder and colder. Her heart was racing and her body was trembling.

“Say something. Don’t scare me.”

Seeing that the young man still did not answer, Mo Yan gritted her teeth and pulled him into her arms. She now suspected that the young man had claustrophobia.

“Don’t be afraid, Don’t be afraid. I’m with you. You’re not alone.”

“We’ll be out in a while. Trust me.”

“Look, I’m here. Can you say something to me?”

Mo Yan spoke in his ear over and over again as she held his cold hands.

“Do you still remember that client I didn’t finish telling you about when we were at the villa? She’s really amazing...”

As she told the story, Mo Yan used her feet to touch the metal sheet. Mo Yan didn’t know if it was because she had been speaking all this time or it was because of the youth’s willpower, but Mo Yan felt that the youth’s breathing seemed to have stabilized a little.

“Are you feeling better? Can you answer me?”

After an unknown amount of time, there seemed to be a sound coming from outside the metal sheet.

Mo Yan wanted to shout, but she realized that she could no longer do so. She could only speak in a low, hoarse voice. After using her fists to hammer the metal sheet twice, Mo Yan heard the sound outside become clearer. It was the sound of iron chains clashing.

Mo Yan hugged the youth tightly in her arms. She did not know if the people who came were there to tie them up or to save them. However, as long as they let them out, it would be enough.

When the light shone in, Mo Yan heart beat rapidly.

“Young Master!”

The door was opened and she saw an anxious old man standing outside the door looking inside.

Mo Yan’s heart instantly fell. She quickly said to the person who came, “Quickly send him to the hospital.”

After saying that, Mo Yan also fainted.

When Mo Yan woke up again, she was still a little absent-minded. The snow-white walls that entered her eyes made her eyes sting for a moment.

“Mo Yan, you’re awake!”

Hearing a familiar voice, Mo Yan turned her head and saw Li Guoguo standing by her bed.

“Mo Yan, you scared me to death! How could you encounter a kidnapping at a construction site!” Li Guoguo’s eyes were red as she looked at Mo Yan with tears in her eyes.

Mo Yan smiled at her. “I’m fine.” The moment she opened her mouth, she was shocked by her own voice, followed by a slight pain.

When she heard Mo Yan say that she was fine, Li Guoguo's eyes became even redder.

"Mo Yan, don't talk anymore. The doctor said that you used your voice too much and needed more rest. Also, all five toes on your left foot are hurt. Don't you feel any pain?"

Li Guoguo scolded her with a sobbing tone, which made Mo Yan not know whether to laugh or cry.

At that time, she had no choice but to make noises to attract people. Moreover, the state of the young man had already made her worry so much that she was numb to any pain. She was afraid that the young man would die just like that.

"Where's the person who was with me?"

Enduring the pain in her throat, Mo Yan asked. Although she was sure that the youth was alive, she did not know how he was.

"Don't talk anymore. He's fine. He's doing much better than you."

These short and cold words, Mo Yan knew immediately that it from sister Xu.

Mo Yan looked at Xu Tian with a helpless gaze. She really did not understand what had happened.

As if she knew what Mo Yan wanted to say, Xu Tian glared at Mo Yan in disappointment and said, "I think I should stay away from you. You attract too much trouble."

Mo Yan sat up and gave Xu Tian a cheeky smile. She pointed at her throat and gestured for Xu Tian to beg for mercy.

Seeing that Mo Yan could still joke around, Xu Tian rolled her eyes at Mo Yan. This was the first time Mo Yan had seen Xu Tian roll her eyes. Li Guoguo was also amused by the interaction between the two of them and burst into laughter.

Knock, knock, knock. There was a knock on the door.

Xu Tian went over to open the door and saw a man with delicate features and a slightly thin figure standing outside.

Chapter 123: Your Name

Because the boy had come to see Mo Yan after he woke up yesterday, Xu Tian was able to roughly guess what had happened. This time, it was indeed not Mo Yan who had caused trouble, but the boy.

Xu Tian glanced at Li Guoguo, and Li Guoguo tactfully walked out together.

“Miss Mo, thank you for yesterday.”

The young man’s gaze fell on Mo Yan’s bandaged feet, and he spoke slowly.

Mo Yan wanted to shake her head at the young man to show that it was okay, but the young man didn’t look at her at all.

Looking around, Mo Yan noticed the bag that Xu Tian had just brought in. Taking out the rectangular paper box inside, it turned out to be a writing board commonly used by children. Mo Yan couldn’t help but chuckle at how meticulous sister Xu was.

She quickly wrote two words on the board, “You’re welcome.”

Mo Yan waved her hand in front of the youth, asking him to focus on her.

After the youth finished reading what she wrote, she quickly wiped it off and continued writing, “If I didn’t talk to you until it was so late, you wouldn’t have encountered such a thing.”

The youth shook his head and said, “Those people came for me. You saved me this time.”

“Enemies? Extortion? Your family paid for it?”

“No, they didn’t ask for money.”

The young man denied Mo Yan’s guess, which aroused Mo Yan’s curiosity.

“If it wasn’t extortion or murder, then why did they kidnap you?”

The young man lowered his eyes again and didn’t answer Mo Yan’s question.

If they didn’t want money or their lives. Why would they waste their time and energy to kidnap him?

According to Uncle Jiang, they were rescued from the back of a minivan. The car had been modified, and there was an entire piece of metal plate between the cars. If Mo Yan hadn’t kept making noises to attract the attention of others, it would have taken them even longer to rescue him.

As for the reason for this kidnapping, it was probably because they wanted him to suffer more psychological trauma. His claustrophobia wasn’t congenital. It was caused when he was kidnapped as a child and kept in a narrow wooden box for two days and two nights.

However, the person who planned this kidnapping probably didn’t realize that having Mo Yan around was a huge support for him. Hearing continuous talking and the sound of kicking on the metal board for five hours was able to help him take his mind off his claustrophobia a little.

At that time, although he was unable to speak or respond, he could vaguely hear her voice. The vibration of the metal board also helped him regain his sense of touch.

“I want to repay you. What do you want? I’ll give it to you,” the youth said calmly.

His confident words made it seem like he would give Mo Yan anything she wanted. Mo Yan raised her eyebrows slightly.

Judging from this kid's appearance, he was probably very rich. She even heard someone call him young master earlier. Could she consider getting some subsidies from him to make up for her family's expenses? It was difficult to repay a debt of gratitude, so Mo Yan felt that it was better to settle this matter as soon as possible.

After thinking for a while, Mo Yan wrote a sentence on the board, "Pay my medical fees! Then the debt you owe me will be offset."

"I've already paid it. This is what I should do, so it doesn't count," the youth said.

This kid was really something!

Mo Yan frowned and wiped off the words she had written earlier. She changed the sentence, "Tell me your name, and we won't owe each other anything anymore."

After she finished writing, she showed it to the youth. Then, she quickly wrote something else, "If you're not going to tell me, then get out! Also, I'm a married woman. Don't even think about marrying me!!!"

Mo Yan was just teasing the youth, but the youth was stunned when he saw the three exclamation marks. Then he said to Mo Yan seriously, "I don't think that way."

Seeing the youth's serious look, Mo Yan's face instantly turned red. She just wanted to make a joke to ease the atmosphere.

"Alright, are you going to tell me or not?"

The young man and Mo Yan looked at each other for a moment before he lowered his eyes and said, "My name is Lin Ye."

“Lin Ye? Are you related to the Lin family?” Mo Yan asked.

“Yes, I’m Lin Peng’s cousin,” the young man replied.

Mo Yan nodded to show that she understood.

Seeing that Mo Yan did not continue writing, Lin Ye asked, “Aren’t you going to say anything to me? Telling you my name is just a small matter. You can ask for something else.”

“For example?” Mo Yan guessed what Lin Ye meant, but she didn’t say anything.

Lin Ye looked into her eyes and said slowly, “For example, I can tell my uncle and auntie about Hong Jing.”

Looking at Lin Ye’s serious expression, Mo Yan’s eyes curved. “Tell them? What’s the use of you talking about us to them? You’re still a child!”

“What if my words have impact?” Lin Ye continued to ask.

Chapter 124: I Promise You One Thing

Mo Yan scribbled down a row of words. “Even so, don’t mention us. I beg you, please don’t mention us.”

“Why? This should be beneficial to you, right? Your company will give you a promotion and a raise if you win this project.”

Mo Yan shook her head like a rattle-drum. “I want to win the project on my own.”

During the day of the banquet, Mo Yan had a few conversations with Xu Tian about connecting with the higher-ups.

Mo Yan asked Xu Tian, "Do you want to connect with the higher-ups so that they will have a good impression of Hong Jing and choose us?" Xu Tian answered no. She wanted them to connect with the higher-ups so that they could understand the leaders' views on the project and their thoughts on real estate. People with different backgrounds had different needs, and the villa complex project was aimed at the upper-income group, so they needed to get to know those people.

It was only then that Mo Yan realized that her thoughts were too narrow-minded. Sister Xu really wanted to win this project, but she never planned to use underhanded methods.

Lin Ye stared at Mo Yan for a long time and said, "Okay, I won't say much."

"I can agree to one request of yours. Even if you can't think of it now, you can bring it up in the future. Whatever it is, I'll do it for you."

Cough! Cough cough cough! Cough cough!

Mo Yan, who was drinking water, choked after hearing Lin Ye's words. Didn't they agree that they didn't owe each other anything?

Mo Yan put down the cup and wrote on the board, "I already said that if you tell me your name, we don't owe each other anything! If you don't accept this, then I'll treat you as a stranger from now on!"

To be honest, they didn't even know each other very well. Including today, it was only the third time they had met.

Lin Ye saw her serious expression. It seemed that she really didn't want him to feel indebted, so he could only give up.

Before leaving, Lin Ye told Mo Yan to rest well and said that he would come to see her tomorrow.

Mo Yan nodded quickly. She couldn't wait for him to leave as soon as possible.

After sending Lin Ye off, Mo Yan let out a long sigh. She wasn't good at dealing with people who felt indebted to her,

"Mo Yan, has he left?" Li Guoguo poked her little head out from the door and looked inside.

Mo Yan found it funny and waved her hand to let her in.

"Mo Yan, that boy is quite handsome. You saved him. Did he come to give himself to you?"

Li Guoguo chuckled. Seeing that Mo Yan was in good spirits, she joked with Mo Yan.

She and Xu Tian had just gone to ask the doctor about Mo Yan's condition. The doctor said that she would be fine after two days of rest.

Mo Yan tapped her head with her finger and wrote, "What are you thinking? He's just here to thank me. Giving himself to me? You've read too many novels."

"Sigh, I also want to save a handsome boy. Mo Yan, you're married, and I'm still single! I really want to find a handsome boy to have a sweet love affair with."

Mo Yan thought that she was funny.

"You have a brother-in-law! Your brother-in-law is more handsome than him!"

Li Guoguo saw Mo Yan's words and instantly pouted, "I haven't even met your husband yet."

"I'll bring him to meet you guys when we get back."

Mo Yan showed the board to Li Guoguo.

Lin Ye did not return to his ward and directly left the hospital. The old man who rescued the two of them yesterday was already waiting by the car.

“Young master, are you going straight home? Sir heard that you had an accident and rushed back from abroad by plane overnight. He just landed. Sir is very worried about you.”

Lin Ye was silent for a moment and answered, “I’ll give him a call in a while. Let’s go to the psychologist first!”

Hearing Lin Ye’s words, the driver turned around at the intersection and drove in the opposite direction of the Lin residence.

“I remember that claustrophobia can be treated, right, Uncle Jiang?”

Lin Ye was fiddling with a bracelet made of Buddhist beads in his hand. His long eyelashes covered his eyes, making it impossible to see his expression clearly.

Uncle Jiang did not expect Lin Ye to bring up this matter and was momentarily stunned. He originally thought that the young master’s claustrophobia would be even more severe after the kidnapping, but he did not expect the young master to take the initiative to ask for treatment.

After a long time, Uncle Jiang sighed and replied, “Yes, young master, it can be treated.”

Uncle Jiang had watched Lin Ye grow up, so he knew the cause of Lin Ye’s claustrophobia.

Although it could be treated, Lin Ye didn’t want others to tease him, so he could only let him grow up with it. Now that the young master was willing to get treatment, it was a blessing.

Chapter 125: Meeting Began

As Mo Yan needed to stay in the hospital, Xu Tian and Li Guoguo brought their work to the hospital. Of course, this was Mo Yan's request. Seeing that the meeting date was close, she didn't want to be a burden on her teammates. At midnight on the 9th, Mo Yan and her team finally finished their work.

Mo Yan looked at the time and it was already 11 o'clock. After thinking for a while, Mo Yan decided to send Luo Tao a text message.

[I'm done with my work! When do you plan to come to Jing City? I'll book the tickets for you.]

For the past three days, Mo Yan and Luo Tao had used text messages to contact each other. When Luo Tao called Mo Yan, he was rejected by Mo Yan on the pretext that it was too late, that she was busy, or that her colleagues were resting.

This time, she was accidentally implicated. The doctor said that she was fine. Therefore, she did not want Luo Tao to worry, so she did not tell him about the matter.

Luo Tao, who was listening to Wen Ze's report, looked at his phone and smiled gently.

"Brother Huo, a message from your wife?"

When Wen Ze saw Huo Zhen's expression, he knew who the message was from. He was surprised to see his cold-blooded boss act like this.

"Yes."

Seeing Huo Zhen start typing a reply, Wen Ze paused his reporting. At the same time, Wen Ze's phone rang..

[I will arrive at 11:30 p.m. tomorrow. Send me your address, and I will look for you.]

Huo Zhen's plane would arrive at 11:30 p.m., but not from C City. Instead, he was coming from abroad. Huo Zhen had secretly gone abroad mainly to lure out the person behind third uncle.

[You will come look for me?]

Mo Yan's eyes lit up as she lay under the blanket. As tomorrow was the scheduled date of Lin Group's meeting, Mo Yan had returned to the hotel to sleep tonight so that she could set off with the two of them the next day.

[Okay, let's have lunch together.]

Luo Tao replied very quickly.

[Okay! Then I'll wait for you. Call me when you arrive.]

Thinking that if she could win the project tomorrow and her husband came to pick her up, Mo Yan felt that tomorrow would be a great day.

Mo Yan was very confident in their proposal. Because she had worked on this proposal with two other people, Mo Yan felt that it was much better than the project proposal she had previously worked on.

The more Mo Yan thought about it, the happier she became. In the end, she slowly fell asleep...

Seeing that Mo Yan had not replied for a long time, Luo Tao knew that she had fallen asleep.

These few days, Mo Yan would often send him text messages at noon. It was noon in M Country and midnight in Z Country. It seemed that Mo Yan had been working very hard during this period of time.

Luo Tao sighed. Previously, he had missed the opportunity to tell Mo Yan about his identity. After that, he had flown to M Country, so he did not have the opportunity to explain.

However, the most important thing was that he hoped that when Mo Yan found out about his identity, she would feel pleasantly surprised and not scared or think that he was joking. He also did not want Mo Yan to distance herself from him because of his identity.

Just as Luo Tao was deep in thought, Wen Ze walked back to the office and said to Luo Tao with a serious expression, "Brother Huo, the Lin family's project has been investigated..."

Mo Yan felt refreshed the next day when she woke up, as if she had endless strength to conquer the presentation.

Xu Tian glanced at Mo Yan and said, "What? Did you talk to your husband all night again last night?"

"I didn't." Mo Yan stuck her tongue at Xu Tian with a smile on her face.

"I don't believe you. Why else would you be so happy?" Li Guoguo said to Mo Yan.

Mo Yan's eyes curved, revealing a row of little white teeth. "We didn't talk all night, but he's coming to Jing City today! After our presentation, I'll ask CEO Song for a leave of absence and stay in Jing City for another two days."

"Brother-in-law is coming? Wow! Mo Yan, you can't be serious! This time, you're going to do a show and tell with your husband?"

Li Guoguo's exaggerated expression made Mo Yan smile even more, so she didn't say anything more.

The three of them arrived at the Lin Group building at 7:30 a.m. The meeting would start at 8 p.m., and the reception staff brought them to the meeting hall on the tenth floor.

Rows of seats were arranged in the meeting hall, and in front of them was a huge curtain, which provided a display space for the teams from various companies.

At this time, there were already many people sitting in the meeting hall, so the three of them randomly sat in the middle.

Mo Yan glanced around. She hadn't seen Chen Ya and the others yet.

When it was almost 7:50 a.m., Li Guoguo suddenly nudged Mo Yan and signaled her to look at the door. Mo Yan turned her head and met Chen Ya's eyes...

Chapter 126: Dirty Project

Chen Ya's expression while looking at Mo Yan made her frown slightly.

At the same time, the leaders of Lin Group had arrived one after another. The Lin family's young master sat in the middle of the first row, while Lin Ye was nowhere to be seen.

"What are you looking at? It's about to start."

Xu Tian said to Mo Yan. Mo Yan looked forward, and sure enough, there were already people standing on the podium.

The basic structure of the entire meeting was that one person from each company would present their proposal, and each company would have at most two proposals. After everyone's turn, the board of directors would make a decision after discussing.

Looking at the meeting room that was already full, Mo Yan felt a little nervous.

Before coming, she was still full of confidence in their proposal, but now she was somewhat uncertain.

The meeting officially began, and Mo Yan could only focus on the meeting.

...

After texting Mo Yan yesterday, Luo Tao boarded the plane.

/ please keep reading on MYBOXNOVEL.COM

Before boarding the plane, Wen Ze had reported to him about the Lin Group project. Just as he thought, the project was not genuine. It was just a scheme to launder money. However, what puzzled Luo Tao was that Lin Group had been working hard to clear their name in recent years. Why did they want to ruin their reputation again?

However, even though Luo Tao knew about this problem, he could not tell Mo Yan. He could only let the situation unfold for the time being.

Sighing, Luo Tao gently stroked his temples.

Whatever! Let this be a lesson for her. He would protect her if anything happened.

Luo Tao was a little tired from being busy for the past few days. He wanted to take a nap before getting off the plane, but he couldn't sleep well. He dreamt of his childhood and he dreamt of his accident.

This ruined Luo Tao mood as he got off the plane. Qin Yuan, who had come to pick him up, was shocked.

"Huo Zhen, what happened to you?"

Luo Tao glanced at him indifferently. He said calmly, "Shut up and drive. Go to the Lin Group building."

"Huh? Why do you want to go there? Are you going to put in a good word for sister-in-law?"

He didn't care about whether Luo Tao would reply him and continually babbled.

Luo Tao pinched the bridge of his nose and resisted the urge to kick Qin Yuan.

"Huo Zhen, remember when you asked me to investigate the Deputy General Manager of sister-in-law's company? I have a lead."

"Speak." Luo Tao said simply.

"The Deputy General Manager, Chen Jin has messed with Song Yun's people before. It was a project of one of the branches of Huo Group. At that time, Hong Jing also sent two teams. Chen Jin bribed the people in Song Yun's team, causing the two teams to come up with proposals that were 80% similar. In the end, Chen Jin got his team to present first, and Song Yun's team ended up being called copycats."

"I heard that the person from Song Yun's team who presented got scolded quite badly." Qin Yuan clicked his tongue as he spoke.

"One of Huo Group's branches worked with Chen Jin's people?" Luo Tao asked with a frown.

Qin Yuan saw that he was interested. Instantly, he became spirited. "Not exactly! I went to the branch to investigate. The project progressed very slowly and was even almost left uncompleted. The personnel who had chosen Chen Jin's team was suddenly transferred away. Someone must have noticed that something wasn't right!"

Luo Tao nodded. When he had time, he could get someone to investigate who was transferred and where the person who was transferred went.

Qin Yuan saw that Luo Tao's reaction was calm, he raised his eyebrows and said, "Hong Jing should have been able to expand into Jing City a long time ago. It's all because of Chen Jin that they failed. Fortunately, he didn't think properly when he messed with sister-in-law. She still had time to redo the statistics."

"I don't want her to win the project." Luo Tao calmly said as Qin Yuan's eyes widened.

“What do you mean?” Qin Yuan asked.

“Lin Group isn’t a good company.”

“Oh you were able to investigate the project? Impressive!”

“Of course I have to check on whatever she does.” Luo Tao’s long eyelashes drooped slightly.

Not only was he suspicious of Lin Peng, the investigation was so smooth that he wondered if someone had deliberately set up a trap.

If it weren’t for the fact that he was driving, Qin Yuan would have vomited. He was starting to wonder if Huo Zhen was possessed just like Du Jing said.
