

The Schoolgirl Secret Agent

Chapter 31: Joining The Basketball Team. Yun Jian Is Tailed

It was not just Li Xiangyi, Wu Kui, and their friends, even Lu Feiyan's eyes as wide as saucers. She stared at Yun Jian in an earth-shattering shock.

Wu Kui who spoke brashly just before felt like he was slapped hard on the face; despite being the one considering the betterment of the team.

Having just witnessed this scene, no one could speak a word. There was no doubt that an ordinary person could shoot a basket from thirty to forty meters away.

"Sorry, my tone was too harsh just now." Wu Kui was cooperative as he apologized to Yun Jian with an embarrassed chortle.

He then sincerely continued. "I'll formally introduce myself. I'm the school basketball team's vice captain, Wu Kui. The captain isn't around but I can represent the team in inviting you to join us. Would you honor us the pleasure?"

Wu Kui's attitude took a full turn at once.

Everyone saw Yun Jian's performance just now. The members who had vehemently opposed Li Xiangyi's invitation to Yun Jian had a change of mind now.

Yun Jian met his gaze and beamed. "Sure, I'll join."

She had missed living like an ordinary person in her previous life; now that she was reborn into school life, she wanted to savor the experience.

The basketball team members were relieved when Yun Jian agreed to be a part of the team.

They did not expect the girl who Li Xiangyi knew was so capable.

Coming up to this a greeting, the worrisome issue of being unable to participate in the basketball competition as they were short one player was now solved.

Wu Kui's impression of Yun Jian switched as well. He spoke to the girl so rudely just now but she had been easygoing instead of purposely making the situation hard for him.

Such a girl was different from the rest.

“Welcome!” Wu Kui expressed his sincere pleasure on behalf of the basketball team.

“Mm.” Yun Jian smiled with her eyes turning into crescents.

...

Yun Jian did not expect to have joined a basketball team in a mere period of PE.

Lu Feiyan looked more delighted than Yun Jian, chattering on and on beside her for the whole day with excitement that was hard to contain.

“Xiao Jian, you’re awesome! You’ll be representing our school for a basketball tournament! If the match is on a holiday, I’ll surely be there to cheer you on!”

Lu Feiyan had repeated similar lines to Yun Jian for the entire afternoon. While the latter thought it was noisy and annoying, she was also glad.

She had friends now. She was no longer the organization’s killing machine.

It was just a pity that her younger brother was not ever coming back when she got to live a peaceful life like this.

By 8pm, the evening self-study session ended and school was dismissed on time.

Yun Jian picked up her schoolbag and took the opposite direction from where Lu Feiyan was headed.

She was going to Qin Yirou who was in the hospital, located opposite from where Lu Feiyan and her house were.

After bidding goodbye with Lu Feiyan, Yun Jian walked in the dark alley alone.

The alley was the shortest route to the hospital but it was also the darkest. Usually, no one dared to walk the alleyway alone.

Yun Jian’s steady steps were quite lighthearted, however.

When she came to the intersection of the alley, Yun Jian stopped out of the blue and leaned her back against the wall of a hut. She chuckled towards the darker end of where she came from. “Come on out. How long do you plan to follow me?”

Someone was tailing after her and that someone’s skill was honestly rather lousy.

At the very least, she had realized it from the start.

This level of stalking was basically telling Yun Jian out loud that “I’m following you. Catch me quickly.”

Chapter 32: The Sound Of A Silencer Pistol

The few people in hiding panicked, not expecting Yun Jian to have been found so effortlessly.

They came out at once since hiding was now meaningless.

Yun Jian spotted Mu Xiang who still looked tall among the group of crooks.

So it was her! – Yun Jian squinted.

“Hmph! Yun Jian, you didn’t expect it was me, huh? How dare you talk about me like that this morning. If I don’t teach you a lesson today, I’ll remove my family name Mu!” Mu Xiang’s hands were on her hips; the more she looked at Yun Jian’s pretty face, the more jealous she grew.

Turning her head, Mu Xiang spoke to the man beside her who was in his thirties. She was close to pressing herself on the man. “Brother Hu, it’s her. She bullied me in the morning. You must take revenge for your Baby Xiang.”

Goosebumps racked through Yun Jian when she heard Mu Xiang calling herself “Baby Xiang”. Crossing her arms in front of her chest, she would like to see what the crooks planned to do to her.

The man who was addressed as Brother Hu wrapped his arm around Mu Xiang, his plump hand slapping the girl’s buttocks twice, as he grinned maliciously. “We’ll listen to you, okay? We’ll do what you want today!”

With Brother Hu’s promise, Mu Xiang looked at Yun Jian even more smugly raising her chin.

Brother Hu was from Xinjiang Town’s black market and was an influential big gun in the town. He was one of the members of the Longmen Gang in Longmen City’s black market too!

After involving herself with Brother Hu, Mu Xiang felt that her vibe was now completely different from her past self.

“Really?” Mu Xiang’s rhetorical question was sweet and silky in tone. After that, her gaze at Yun Jian switched as she spoke brutally, “Then I want to destroy her innocence. She’s been as stuck-up as usual, seducing the boys in our school every day with her looks. Brother Hu, let your bros take turns with her. I'd love to see how vain she can still be in the future!"

Mu Xiang was more ruthless than Lin Mengyu. The corner of Yun Jian's lips tugged upward icily.

If she were an ordinary girl today, Mu Xiang's ulterior motive would have succeeded.

Ruining her innocence. – If an ordinary junior high schoolgirl's innocence were ruined, she would probably live her entire life in trauma in addition to facing discrimination from people around her. Her whole life would basically be doomed.

It was too bad that Yun Jian was no average girl.

Mu Xiang's little plan would have to go down the drain.

"Heh heh, it's a good idea." Brother Hu chuckled and pushed Mu Xiang aside to make his way toward Yun Jian. "Then let me be the first!"

How could he let his lackeys go first when he had an advantage like this? Furthermore, the girl was much prettier than Mu Xiang. Maybe she was still a virgin!

Being pushed away without a care, Mu Xiang's hatred for Yun Jian escalated. Nonetheless, once she thought about how wretched Yun Jian would be later, joy bubbled within her.

Yun Jian's gaze turned colder as she watched Brother Hu's plump self approach her. As she planned to beat the thugs down, her sharp senses suddenly caught an oddity.

A soft "tss" was heard.

It was immensely soft. If she had not been a secret agent, a sound like this would go unnoticed by normal people.

In spite of it, this was a sound Yun Jian was very familiar with. – It was the sound of a pistol silencer!

There were other people around them!

Yun Jian abruptly sprinted to the left of the alley's intersection where the sound of the silencer pistol came from.

Brother Hu and the gang were going to encircle Yun Jian when the girl ran, causing them to think that Yun Jian was escaping.

“She’s running away. Chase after her! Quick!” Mu Xiang shouted, pointing at the direction Yun Jian had run.

The gang foolishly obeyed and pursued Yun Jian.
