

Substitute wife: mysterious husband, good evening

Chapter 3

Su Xiaowan's face changed greatly, and she grasped her quilt tightly. Now she had nothing on her body. The chilly wind rushed into her quilt. She just felt as if she would be lifted by this man at any time. She had no sense of security at all.

"I'm still young, so I can't stand it."

The man looked at her suddenly changed expression, suddenly, the corner of the mouth hook hook, "just said you want to sleep with me?"

Su Xiaowan screams in her heart that she just wants to chat with her quilt, which is not what he thinks.

Only feel that hot breathing in their ears, Su Xiaowan panic, men's hot breathing, "buzz" for a while, only feel that their whole body cells are stiff.

She had no way to overcome the struggle in her heart. She didn't know how hot her face was and how hot her ears were.

The man's handsome face is close to her, and the feeling of being close to her makes Su Xiaowan startled. She has never been so close to a man.

She was afraid that she would faint at once. If she really did, she was just going to pinch her thigh and want to faint, but who knows

"Lie down."

The man's voice was low and deep, coming from his side, and the hot breath came from his face and blew on her face.

Su Xiaowan's eyelids jumped fiercely, and tightly pulled the quilt in front of her. It was like her last straw to save her life. "Master Feng... I know I married you, and I want to meet all your requirements, but I....."

At that time, Feng said so, and so did the maids. She did not dare to forget.

But she... Is still full of fear. I heard that it hurts for the first time, especially for this ugly man who is eager to prove his ability. Maybe there is any special hobby. How can her thin body resist such a man's destruction? If she dies, she Instinctive repulsion of the body is close to him, but she has no way, because she has become his wife, from today on, it will take her whole life.

It's ironic to have a lifetime with someone I don't know. Before, Su Xiaowan didn't dare to think about it, but it happened.

But it's said that he won't live long, at most one year.

"It's good to have such awareness. Don't worry, I'll be a little lighter." His palm was very hot. Holding her hand, he felt numb for a moment.

A woman's body is directly pressed by a man, her brain is blank, even forgetting her reaction.

Waiting for her reaction, she pushed the man's chest in a panic to keep him away from half a minute. She said with tension and fear, "master Feng, i... I can't do it."

"No way?"

Two seconds of silence.

"That... I, I mean... This is my first time. Can you be a little lighter?" She was too scared and had an impulse to run away, but she couldn't run. Once she ran away, the Su family would be ruined.

It's as simple as killing an ant.

She has to guard the Su family, so that her brother will not be unable to find his way home.

In just a few seconds, the expression on her face was ever-changing.

Is it so terrible?

She took a deep breath and said, "master Feng, I'm... I'm ready. You move faster. I'm afraid of pain."
