

Substitute wife: mysterious husband, good evening

Chapter 9

That dense moisture, lingering in his side, now half estranged eyes, like sleeping, quiet like a sleeping beauty.

I have to say that this side face looks perfect, and those male stars outside can't match him.

It's just that there is a deep scar on his back, like the one stabbed by a knife, which is very similar to the scar on his face. It seems that it has the same effect.

"Who?"

"It's me, master Feng."

Su Xiaowan blinked, suddenly looked at the figure, stood up and splashed a lot of water. He forgot to react for a moment. Through the water mist, he looked at the man coming. His black eyes were like staring at the prey. Under the light, it seemed that the face was not particularly ugly. The whole person revealed a sense of dignity. He was very tall, Su Xiaowan is a half head taller than her. She has a strong body and eight abdominal muscles. She can't look down any more.

It seems that the man noticed her sight and suddenly turned to her eyes, which made Su Xiaowan tremble at the bottom of his heart. It was too aggressive, as if he wanted to peel her inch by inch.

Su Xiaowan shivered and looked away. The sense of suffocation was finally eliminated. She took a breath. It was really uncomfortable, like she was seen through.

In an instant, she was pressed, the soles of her feet suddenly slipped, and people jumped on him.

"So active?"

His body was dripping with water, and the breath of mint disturbed her mind. His body was very hot, because the distance was too close, as if she could feel his heartbeat.

Su Xiaowan's heart beat disorderly. She said goodbye, pushed his chest and stood firmly in front of him. Then she presented her clothes with her hands and did not dare to lift her head.

"Master Feng, I'm here to send you clothes."

Feng Yan took a look at the clothes in her hand and saw that her face was red and her ears were red. It was like an angry rabbit who would catch you at any time. In fact, he couldn't see through the woman's character.

Sometimes Wenwen is weak, sometimes it's like a rabbit biting at any time, but he knows that she disguises herself to be cute.

"Come and wait for me to take a bath."

The sound was loud and it hit Su Xiaowan's heart.

"Ah... Master Feng, wait for me. I'll find someone to help you."

Su Xiaowan feels that her face is going to be red and bleeding. Where can she wait for someone to take a bath? She has never been in contact with a man so much. Her mind is full of the white body of a man. The more she thinks about it, the more shy she feels. She can't blush.

The corner of the man's lips with a smile of evil spirit, ready for leisure, condescending looking at Su Xiaowan that half of the foot is about to step out, "disobey my end, do you want to try?"

Su Xiaowan was shocked by the loud words.

"I dare not."

Su Xiaowan is biting her lips. The words she whispered yesterday are echoing in her head. She wants to meet all the requirements of Feng Yan when she marries him. Feng Yan is grumpy and hates others' disobedience. If she is thrown out at that time, how can she know the whereabouts of her younger brother.

She frowned, thinking about her purpose, as if she were not afraid of anything.

"I can't, but I will learn. Master Feng, but I'm a novice. Don't give up."
