

The Alpha's Slave Mate

Chapter 52 Epilogue

Epilogue

6 months later

Daphne's Point of View

Scarlet and Theo have been back home now for a few months. I am enjoying the bond that we have developed, and life has settled down. Now the pack is getting ready for their commitment ceremony and I could not be happier for the both of them. I thank the Moon Goddess every night for blessing me with my life now. It is hard for me to even imagine my life before Caleb.

Theo has developed a rigorous training program that has helped me develop my special ability more. As it turns out it seems I have the ability to project a protective barrier of sorts around people and objects. Of course, Theo was more than happy to tell Caleb that his hunches about wolves with special abilities has not failed him yet.

I was very proud of myself for helping to develop some of my own training regimen. Theo was so impressed with my thoughts that I have taken up an active role in helping with training of our other pack members. I was overjoyed that Theo took my advice and that those of us whom have displayed special abilities have some training time together. To this day we have not heard of any other packs having unique members like ours. Although Theo suspects that Marcus's pack may have a few members with special abilities, we have not been able to confirm that suspicion yet.

I finish getting ready and head downstairs to meet Scarlet. We are going into town to hopefully get her a dress for her mating ceremony. She was adamant that she did not want a big party, but Caleb was not hearing it. As he liked to point out to her, she brought most of her previous pack with her and everyone needed a fresh start.

Things were a little crazy at first getting everyone acclimated to how different Caleb was from their previous Alpha, but our members welcomed everyone with open arms. Houses were quickly built to accommodate the newest members, and even a few destined mates found each other. Overall things have been really great for our pack.

“You ready to go?” Scarlet asks me as I hit the bottom of the stairs.

“Yeah I am all set, lets go get you a dress.” I am excited for her and to be doing this with her. She links her arm through mine and we head out. I felt a little strange on the drive into town.

“Are you alright, you look a little pale?” Scarlet asks me.

“Yeah I am just a bit queasy, I guess car sick.” I tell her. I notice that Scarlet keeps watching me out of the corner of her eye, but soon enough we make it to the first shop. I settle myself into one of the seats as the sales lady prepares dresses for Scarlet to try on.

“Excuse me where is your bathroom.” All of a sudden, I had an urgent need to use the facilities, and I asked the sales lady as she was loading more dresses into the dressing room. She points me towards the back of the store and I quickly locate the sign. When I get back Scarlet is tapping her foot waiting for me.

“You are pregnant.” She blurts out of nowhere.

“No, I am not, I just had to go to the bathroom.” I explain to her.

“Really Daphne, sick on the car ride, and I have noticed that you have been using the bathroom a lot lately. Have you and Caleb been using protection?” I feel like I am in an inquisition.

“Well no but I mean I think I would know if I were pregnant.” I tell her.

“Hmmm well I think you should go see the pack doctor and find out for sure.” Scarlet gives me a long hard look before disappearing to try on the dresses. Her words leave me to wonder if I could be pregnant. I have not noticed any weight gain, but I have also been using the bathroom more frequently. I have also never gotten car sick before. I think I will make an appointment with the doctor just to make sure. Scarlet finally finds the dress she wants, and we head home. During the car ride I think about Caleb and how far we have come. I rest a hand on my stomach and imagine what life would be like with kids.

The slave mate that became a Luna, could she also be a mother?