Chapter 1131

Under normal circumstances, the demon snake's power would not be a match for the Sanguis Blade. However, at this moment, it had deeply rooted itself within Luna's body and was like a floating weed finding its anchor. It had a much greater influence on Luna compared to the power of the Sanguis Blade.

Now, the power of the demon snake was gaining the upper hand, driving away Luna's own thoughts and the influence of the Sanguis Blade.

Old Hagstorm knew that if this continued, not only would Luna be unable to grasp the Sanguis Blade, but she would be attacked by the demon snake's power. If that happened, things would quickly go south.

Swoosh...

The next second, Old Hagstorm arrived beside her and pulled out the stone from the rock, intending to hand it to Luna.

Whirr...

Swoosh...

However, as soon as he gripped the Sanguis Blade, he felt the dense and eerie aura within.

A powerful will instantly surged into his mind.

Despite Old Hagstorm's formidable strength, he was shaken and spat out blood on the spot. Bloodshot veins appeared in his orifices, making him a terrifying sight.

Hiss...

At the critical moment, Old Hagstorm used tremendous willpower to mobilize all his inner energy to resist the powerful will and brought the dagger in front of Luna inch by inch.

“Luna...”

Old Hagstorm felt his head spin. He could not hold on much longer. He immediately called out to Luna, but his voice was hoarse as if his throat had been scraped by the dagger.

“Master!”

Fortunately, Luna still retained some clarity in her mind and immediately grabbed the dagger. “Haa... Haa...”

Old Hagstorm immediately gasped for breath after releasing the dagger, large beads of cold sweat dripping from his forehead.

It was no wonder the old master had to be so careful when using the Sanguis Blade. It was indeed a rare and mysterious demonic weapon. In just a few seconds, it had left Old Hagstorm in such a wretched state.

However, there was no time for reflection. Old Hagstorm quickly looked at Luna.

Whirr...

With the Sanguis Blade in hand, Luna instantly received tremendous support.

The sinister aura and bloodthirsty energy immediately allowed her consciousness to take full control.

Luna gradually returned to normal.

“Master!” Luna looked at the Sanguis Blade in her hand. The chaotic mess in her mind earlier seemed to have been completely reset. She asked, “What happened to me?”

“You...” Old Hagstorm took a moment to catch his breath and explained, “The demon snake’s power inside your body attracted the attention of the Sanguis Blade and responded to its call.”

“However, the demon snake's power still remembers the Sanguis Blade clearly and tried to prevent you from pulling out the blade by taking control of your consciousness. “Fortunately, you're safe now.”

At that point, Old Hagstorm's expression became more relaxed. “With the Sanguis Blade and the demon snake's power, Andrius can be saved.”

“Really?” Luna's eyes instantly lit up at the last sentence. “Can this dagger really save my husband?” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel of the demon snake.

“Meanwhile, the demon snake's power is also extremely yin and evil. Andrius' body has no chance of recovering using conventional methods. The only possibility left is for him to learn the ultimate technique hidden in the Klein family's mural.

“However, to learn that technique, he needs a pair of opposing forces. Extreme yin and yang, and extreme heat and cold. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Before, Andrius lacked the extreme yin and yang, but not anymore.” The Klein family's ultimate technique.

Extreme righteousness and extreme yang. Extreme yin and extreme evil...

Luna did not seem to fully understand, but she knew that the dagger she held could help Andrius. That much was enough!

“However...” Old Hagstorm looked deeply at Luna and said seriously, Luna, until Andrius fully learns the Klein family's technique, you must not let go of the Sanguis Blade. It's to suppress the demon snake's power within you.

“However, you may fall into deviation at any time. Are you still willing to go ahead?”

Chapter 1132

As soon as Old Hagstorm spoke, Luna nodded without hesitation and said, "Yes, Master. I'm willing to!"

"Good!" Old Hagstorm nodded in satisfaction. "Let's go back now." Old Hagstorm and Luna returned to Valdez Village together. Luna now had the Sanguis Blade in her hand.

Andrius had not yet awakened, and Old Ophis was looking after him. When Old Ophis heard the movement outside, he walked out of Andrius' room and went to the courtyard.

When Old Ophis saw the strangely shaped dagger in Luna's hand, his eyes widened, and he said fearfully, "That's... the Sanguis Blade!"

He spoke solemnly.

This demonic weapon had an extraordinary origin and was shrouded in mystery. Even someone as powerful as the old master had almost suffered a backlash from using it. How would a mere Martial Saint like Old Ophis not feel fear?

"Luna, how do you feel?" Old Ophis took a deep breath and asked with a serious expression.

"I'm..." Luna thought about it and did not feel any discomfort, so she answered truthfully, "I'm fine. There are no problems." "I'll teach you a mantra that can help suppress demonic energy," Old Ophis said and explained the essence of the mantra.

Luna knew that it was important and listened attentively.

Ten minutes passed, and she mostly mastered the mantra.

A servant in the Sentinel Tower ran over to report, "Old Ophis and Ms. Crestfall, the Wolf King has awakened!"

"Really?"

Upon hearing those words, Luna did not care about anything else and immediately ran to Andrius' room.

Sure enough, Andrius had awoken.

Although his face was pale and there was weakness evident in his eyes, he had at least regained consciousness.

"Hubby! How are you feeling?" Luna anxiously approached and sat by the bedside, holding Andrius' hand tightly.

Andrius forced out an assuring smile. "I'm fine."

"It's all my fault..." Luna looked at his weak appearance and could not help but shed tears. "I attacked you because | was under the control of the demon snake's power. I'm sorry!

"| really didn't mean to harm you. | fell into deviation at that time and couldn't control myself at all.

"Hubby..."

Luna became more upset and guilty the more she spoke.

"Deviation?" When Andrius heard those words, he recalled the times he lost control in the past and could not help but be surprised. He

"You two don't need to worry too much." Old Hagstorm was calmer than the duo and said, "Whether it's the demon snake's power in Luna's body or your current physical condition, it can all be resolved through one method."

Andrius immediately raised his head: "What do you mean, Master?"

issues, and the demon snake’s power in Luna’s body will be released too. It’s a win-win situation!” Old Hagstorm spoke with confidence and conviction.

“That’s...” Andrius looked troubled and sighed. “Master, I’ve studied that technique for a long time. I think about it whenever I have nothing to do, but I still can’t grasp the key points.

At Andrius’ words, Luna smiled and told him, “Don’t worry, Hubby. Master has a way!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Away?

Andrius asked curiously, “Master, what secrets are hidden in that mural? How can I learn it?”

“You don’t need to think too much about that.” Old Hagstorm smiled. “Just focus on recovering. In two days, we’ll set off for Kiyoto to the treasure land. I’ll answer your questions there.”

“Okay!”

With those words, Andrius stopped worrying and agreed directly.

In reality, his physical condition did not allow him to think too much. Whenever he tried, his head would ache as if something were pounding it with a sledgehammer. Thus, he had to continue lying down and avoid unnecessary thoughts. Old Ophis and Old Hagstorm exchanged a glance and prepared to leave the room.

Swoosh...

At that moment, noisy footsteps were heard outside.

The two immediately looked over.

Wade had brought experts from the Medicine Sect to block the door. He entered the room without hesitation.

“Prophets.” He looked at the two and said coldly, “Now that Andrius. and Luna’s injuries have stabilized, it’s time to give us an answer.

“Tell me. What is my elder brother’s plan, and what does he want to achieve by sending the two prophets running about for two decades?”

At those words, Andrius’ ears also perked up. He was also curious about what Old Hagstorm had been planning for all these years.

Silence fell over the scene.

Kate and Luna also looked at Old Hagstorm, waiting for his answer.

Old Hagstorm glanced at Wade, then said calmly, “All these arrangements seem complicated and lengthy, but they serve two purposes.”

Two purposes?

Everyone started to contemplate.

“First, it’s to unify the ancient martial world and have the Klein family reign supreme!

“Second, to draw out the Insect Ruler, bring him out to the open, and eventually eradicate him to prevent chaos in Florence.” Those two purposes seemed reasonable and justifiable.

After saying that, Old Hagstorm gave a meaningful look to Old Ophis and prepared to leave the room.

However, Wade was not easily fooled.

“Stop!”

He moved to block the door and stared at Old Hagstorm coldly. “I believe what you said, for now.

"Everything the family head did was for the greater good. There was nothing wrong with it!" After coldly saying those words, Old Hagstorm walked past Wade and left with Old Ophis. "Impossible!"

Wade was shocked by Old Hagstorm's words as if reminded of memories from many years ago. However, when he snapped back to his senses, Old Ophis and Old Hagstorm had already walked away.

He shouted at their receding figures, "I know very well what kind of person he is.

"He's a liar!"

Chapter 1134

However, Old Hagstorm and Old Ophis seemed not to hear and walked away until they completely disappeared. "Liar! He's a liar!"

Wade vented his anger and also left the scene.

Only three people remained-Andrius, Luna, and Kate.

Andrius thought of the questions Wade asked and then asked Kate, Kate, did my grandfather really cause the deaths of many Kleins?"

“Yes.” Kate nodded firmly. “I heard that many people in the Kleins died because of him.” Andrius’ eyes twitched slightly.

Anyone who learned that their grandfather caused the deaths of many family members would probably not have a pleasant expression.

Andrius fell silent for a moment.

Then, he asked, “But earlier, Master said that the Kleins my grandfather killed were all deserving of death. It seems there are hidden reasons. Do you know the details?”

That question stumped Kate.

She paused for a moment before shaking her head. “Those events happened too long ago, and I only heard about them through hearsay.

“I don’t know the specific details either.”

Andrius fell into silence again.

More than twenty years ago...

It seemed that everything pointed to that moment in time. His childhood...

The tragedy of the Kleins...

The beginning of the plan...

However, what happened during that time was shrouded in mist and completely unclear, making it difficult to guess and causing turmoil in his heart.

“Andrius...”

Kate saw Andrius’ frown and said in distress, “Don’t think too much now. The important thing is to recover your health. There’ll be plenty of time to investigate everything in the future. The truth will come to light eventually.”

Andrius understood that, but he could not do it!

Just as he tried to sort things out, he felt a slight headache and had to lie down to quietly recover. Unknowingly, he fell into a deep sleep.

When he woke up, the sun was already high in the sky, shining brightly.

Grumble...

Andrius propped himself up with both hands, and his body suddenly made a sound.

Yesterday, his intense battles, huge consumption of energy, and injuries had brought about quite a large burden on his body, so his stomach could not help but growl. "Someone..." Andrius called out weakly.

"Wolf King!"

A servant at the door heard the call and immediately pushed the door open, responding respectfully.

"Bring me a cigarette."

"Yes! Wolf King, here is it."

The servant immediately opened a drawer in the room and took out a pack of cigarettes, handing one to Andrius.

Andrius put the cigarette in his mouth. Click!

The servant lit it with a lighter.

Just then, Luna entered the room with a lovingly prepared breakfast. "You may leave," she instructed the servant, who immediately left the room.

"Hubby..." Luna looked at the cigarette in Andrius' mouth, took it, and put it out. She said in a mildly nagging and concerned tone, "Don't smoke in your condition."

Andrius smiled wryly and nodded helplessly.

"Here." Luna smiled and handed the lovingly prepared breakfast to Andrius, saying, "Try the soup I made. It took me a long time to make this!" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The soup was horrendous!

Chapter 1135

Luna could not stand the taste and spat it out the next second. She said in embarrassment, “Hubby, I’m sorry... I-... I'm so useless. | can't do anything right...”

Luna’s voice became smaller and smaller, and she lowered her head in shame, not knowing what to say. She never needed to prepare meals in Crestfall Manor, so she had never cooked properly before.

This was the first time.

Unexpectedly, the maidenly craft she put so much effort into turned out so disastrous...

“It's okay.” Andrius smiled bitterly and said, “Luna, your health isn't good either, so don't bother. Just rest well!” The implication was that she should stay away from cooking.

Although he did not say anything negative, Luna still felt uncomfortable.

Just then, Kate also came in with a bowl of soup. “Andrius! | brewed some soup for you. Try it!”

It was the same kind of soup.

Having clashing outfits would not be awkward, but this clashing breakfast...

What a headache!

Luna wanted to take Kate's soup away, but since her own creation was inedible, she could only endure that thought and put her bowl aside.

"Here..." Kate handed it to Andrius. This time, Andrius was prepared. He carefully took a sip, and his appetite instantly surged.

Although Kate was the Maiden of the Medicine Sect, she was looked down upon because she was adopted. Thus, she developed an independent personality. She could naturally cook nourishing meals.

The soup was delicious, so Andrius enjoyed it very much.

"How is it, Andrius?" Kate asked with a smile, "Not bad, right?"

"It's good, just as I expected from you."

Andrius ate while praising generously.

Kate smiled in satisfaction.

Crack-

Seeing this scene, Luna's face turned cold. Her hand hidden under her sleeve slowly clenched into a fist, making a soft sound.

However, Kate and Andrius did not hear it.

Luna did not notice it herself. Since the demon snake's power entered her body, she had become irritable and easily angered. That was extremely dangerous. A moment later, Andrius finished the bowl of soup.

Andrius looked at the two, stretched his muscles, and said faintly, "You guys go and do your own thing." "Okay. Call me if you need anything. I'll make your medication now."

Kate then walked out of the room.

“Hubby...” Luna glanced at Kate’s back, a subtle coldness flashing inside, then said in displeasure, “I’ll take good care of you. I’ll learn how to cook and brew medicine now!”

Then, she also left the room.

After they both left, Andrius took out silver needles and pricked himself to promote his recovery.

mistakes, Kate prepared to start brewing the medicine.

“Til do it.”

Just then, a faint voice came from behind her. It was completely icy and devoid of life..

Kate was startled by the coldness in the voice and turned around to see that Luna had arrived at some point.

She let out a sigh of relief and casually said, “Ms. Crestfall, this is my job in the Medicine Sect. I’m adept at handling various herbs and their properties, so I’ll do it. You’re still recovering from a serious injury, so you should rest.”

However, what Luna heard was, ‘Ms. Crestfall, I’m the professional here. You’re inferior to me, so just stay aside.’

Her expression instantly turned cold. She glared at Kate and said in a frosty tone, “I said, I’ll do it!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 1136

Upon hearing those words, Kate could not help but be stunned and subconsciously turned around.

At that moment, Luna had a cold expression on her face, and her eyes were like freezing stars.

Kate felt like Luna was a completely different person now. However, she could not pinpoint exactly what the problem was. In any case, Luna was Andrius' wife, so it was indeed in her authority to do these things.

“Oh, that's... Y-you can do it then.”

Kate opened her mouth but felt an inexplicable dryness in her throat. Her speech became a bit stuttered, but she still stepped aside.

Luna went to the medicine pot, looked at the various medicinal herbs, and picked them up one by one to identify them. Although her medical skills were not as good as Andrius, she could still recognize these herbs.

Seeing this, Kate explained, “Andrius' injuries mainly involve the wounds in his chest and abdomen, as well as his internal injuries in his meridians. When brewing the medicine, you must remember Kate pointed out the separate herbs and briefly explained what Luna had to look out for.

“Mm.” Luna's face was cold as she hummed.

Kate did not know what was wrong with Luna, but she felt uncomfortable. After giving the instructions, she turned and prepared to leave.

“Wait.” Luna did not turn her head, and it was as if the words were not spoken from her own mouth. “Tell me after you finish cooking. I'll personally take the meal to my husband.”

Kate could not help but be stunned. That statement was simply amazing. “I'll cook, while you deliver... Simply amazing...” Kate muttered. casually and shook her head, then left.

When Luna heard those words, she immediately turned around. As she looked at Kate's back, her clear eyes seemed to have a layer of ice crystals.

The next few days, Kate prepared meals on time every day and informed Luna.

Then, Luna took those dishes and delivered them to Andrius. After eating the dishes brought by Luna for two consecutive days, Andrius could not help but be curious and asked, “Luna... How did your cooking skills improve so quickly? You were a beginner before, but you're as good as a master chef now.”

Luna blushed, and she casually lied, “I saw that Kate was good at cooking, so I've been learning from her these days.”

“Thanks, Luna.” Andrius did not suspect anything and spoke with emotion. Luna smiled as bright as the sun. “I'm glad you like it, hubby!” Such a radiant smile would only blossom in front of Andrius.

After three days of recuperating, Andrius had mostly recovered. It was time to set off for the treasure location. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Thus, Andrius asked, “Luna, how are you handling the demon snake's power inside your body?” The demon snake's power. It was extremely yin, extremely evil, and boundless. It would be troublesome if anything happened during cultivation. Andrius had to be cautious.

“It's fine. Master found a way to suppress the power of the demon snake. | can also cultivate the Klein family's technique with you later.” Luna's tone contained a hint of anticipation when she said the words. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

It was suppressed?

Andrius recalled the fierce and unmatched power of the demon snake that day. Even now, he felt lingering fear and asked curiously, “What did Master do?” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“The Sanguis Blade? Can | see it?” Andrius' curiosity surged.

“Sure,” Luna answered and drew a dagger from her waist, gently. placing it on the table.

“The Sanguis Blade...”

Andrius only glanced at it and felt a shock in his heart. He became even more eager to explore it.

Chapter 1137 Andrius muttered and reached out. However...

The dagger was just on the table. Andrius tried to pick it up, but he could not move it at all. Although he was injured and only had the strength of a Martial King, his physical strength was not to be underestimated.

It was clear that the Sanguis Blade was not normal.

Stubbornness rose inside Andrius’s heart. He needed to pick up the blade to see what was going on!

Whirr...

Andrius immediately channeled all his inner energy to his arm. He finally managed to pick it up.

However, at that moment, there was a terrifying change.

Rumble-

As he held the dagger, there was a sudden explosion in Andrius’ mind.

felt like he had been hit hard by a giant hammer, causing him to become muddled and leaving a buzzing sound in his head. Moreover, his once bright star-like eyes became extremely eerie, emitting flickers of sinister light.

It was clear that Andrius had lost his sanity, no thanks to the Sanguis.

Blade!

“Hubby! Hubby, what's wrong with you...”

Luna immediately sensed something wrong, stood up suddenly, and prepared to take the culprit-the Sanguis Blade-back. Swoosh-

At the critical moment, a figure rushed over and landed behind Andrius, slapping him on the shoulder with a palm.

It was none other than Old Hagstorm.

His expression was extremely solemn as he shouted, "Andrius, wake up!"

"Huh?"

With Old Hagstorm's stern shout, Andrius suddenly felt as if his mind had been cleared. The eerie look in his eyes instantly disappeared and he slowly regained his sanity.

He looked confused when Old Hagstorm appeared and asked in a puzzled manner, "What happened to me just now?" Luna was stunned and asked, "Hubby, you don't remember what happened?" Andrius shook his head in confusion.

"Just now..." Luna's eyes were filled with complex emotions, and she said with lingering fear, "After you picked up the Sanguis Blade, you underwent a frightening change. It was extremely evil and bizarre. It was like you became a different person."

Andrius was shocked at Luna's words. Before something similar Old Hagstorm paused and said, "Her overall strength should be at the level of a Martial Emperor, but if she completely controls the power of the demon snake, and her power bursts out completely...

"It'd be infinitely terrifying, an absolute powerhouse that far surpasses the strength of a Martial Saint!" Surpassing Martial Saint!

Luna subconsciously clenched her fists when she heard those words.

If she could absorb all the power of the demon snake, could s protect her husband from all hardships in the future?

She had been waiting for that day for a very long time.

Those thoughts lingered in her mind. Her gaze was fixed on Old Hagstorm, waiting for him to elaborate for them. n

Andrius was also secretly amazed. He instinctively glanced at Luna and asked curiously, "Master, what's beyond the Martial Saint realm?"

He heard from Dennis that the Martial Saint realm was the ceiling of the martial realm.

What kind of existence was one that surpassed the Martial Saint realm? It was hard to imagine.

"Andrius, that's not something you should be concerned about right now." Old Hagstorm realized that he had revealed too much and said cautiously, "Asking about that now is aiming too high and adding unnecessary troubles.

"You'll gradually understand in the future. Your current priority is to go to the treasure location and cultivate the technique there." Old Hagstorm's words were reasonable.

However, the more he spoke, the more curious Andrius became. Nevertheless, he did not press it and heeded Old Hagstorm's words. "In that case, let's go now."

Old Hagstorm nodded and looked at Luna.

Luna immediately said, "I'm ready, Master."

"Good. Then let's set off!" With that, Old Hagstorm took the lead and walked toward the door. Just as he reached the door, he stopped.

There were already people waiting outside. It was Wade, Kate, the elders of the Kleins, and some core disciples.

Wade was worried, so he rushed over on time.

"Prophet of the Left. Are you planning to go to the Klein family's treasure location?”

Old Hagstorm knew what Wade was thinking and said indifferently, “Although you're the Medicine Sect now, the blood flowing in your veins is still that of the Klein family. If you want to come, just follow me. Those words struck a chord with Wade.

The group of people immediately set off from Valdez Village to once again uncover the secrets of the Klein family's treasure. At Hertan Airport, a private plane prepared in advance had been waiting for a long time.

After the group arrived, they immediately departed.

“Let's go,” Old Hagstorm informed them and led Andrius, Luna, Wade, Kate, and the others into the mural hall. The mural remained unchanged. The sun, moon, streams, fire, and everything was the same as before. “Pheh...”

“Master...” Andrius remembered the miraculous changes in the mural after it was stained with blood last time. He recounted his understanding of the mural and the saying from the Records of Profundity.

After speaking, he frowned and said, “No matter how we cultivated, it never worked. | feel like there's something missing...”

Chapter 1139

“We might not have fully understood the part about the ‘coexistence of yin and yang’ in the mural.” Andrius asked, “Master, what secrets does this mural hide?”

At his words, everyone in the hall turned toward Old Hagstorm.

“Haha...” Old Hagstorm laughed and praised, “Not bad, Andrius.

You've almost comprehended this painting. However, that's only one- third of it.”

One third?

Andrius and Kate exchanged a look, both feeling puzzled. If they had almost comprehended it, why was it only a third? “Master, what do you mean?”

Old Hagstorm smiled but did not respond and instead prov answer through action. He went to the intersection of the two diagonals in the hall, which was the central point, and crouched down. Then, he shattered the lines on the floor.

A mechanism was revealed.

Andrius and Kate could not help but exchange glances. Old Hagstorm pressed the button.

Crack...

There was a rumble, and dust started to scatter in the air.

Asquare platform suddenly rose in the hall. It was marked with bright red lines that outlined a certain area, but no one knew what it meant.

“This is the second layer of concealment.” Old Hagstorm explained, The platform is also a large mechanism, and the area marked by the red lines is the range of the mechanism. As long as you take a step. within this range, a dart will be shot out from the four launchers at the corners.”

Andrius and the others immediately looked at the four corners. Sure enough, devices resembling crossbows had emerged.

“The darts cannot be avoided.” Old Hagstorm continued, “They must all be shot down with not a single one missed. Only then will it unlock this layer, which is also the final lock.”

In fact, Old Hagstorm had one more thing to say. The one attempting the challenge must be a direct bloodline of the Kleins! That was the most important part.

The Klein family’s treasure was filled with layers of mechanism, all intricately connected. If one of them were not met, the final treasure could not be obtained. “Andrius!” Old Hagstorm took out a knife and threw it to Old Hagstorm, “Use the Dragon Tiger Swordplay that I taught you to pass this level. Make sure you make sure to shoot down every dart!”

“Alright!”

It was no wonder that when Old Hagstorm taught him this technique, he emphasized that it must be mastered thoroughly and could not be forgotten.

Chapter 1140

This news instantly shocked Wade even more.

Several decades ago...

That meant that his brother already knew everything even before he separated from the Kleins. That was terrifying!

However, Wade soon thought of something strange.

Since his brother had already seen through everything, why did he still need to plan all of this? It was like a monk combing his hair- it was pointless.

Wade was not the only one.

Kate and Luna were also astonished.

Then, he asked, "Since my brother has unraveled everything he set up such a grand scheme? What is his motive?"

Motive?

Old Hagstorm pursed his lips, appearing extremely disdainful, and said coldly, "That's Master's secret. I cannot reveal it now. You'll naturally find out in the future."

Wade fell silent.

Clang-

With the last crisp sound, Andrius completed the technique, and not a single dart was left.

Creak!

Clack, clack...

After Andrius cleared the trial, after a brief delay, murals appeared on the walls on both sides. They were all equally obscure and incomprehensible.

Wade, Kate, and Kate glanced at them and felt overwhelmed. Whoosh...

Andrius jumped down from the platform and was struck by realization when he saw the murals on both sides.

The murals consisted of three parts. It was no wonder that he could not figure it out no matter how much he and Kate studied and attempted the cultivation technique. It would be strange if should actually figure it out.

use his blood to stain the mural and discover its secrets.

“Andrius, come back.” Old Hagstorm saw his action and immediate stopped him.

Andrius did not understand, but he returned.

Bam-

The next moment, Old Hagstorm glanced at the terrain and suddenly slapped a floorboard.

In an instant, not only did the whole hall drop by half a meter, but a surging force swept in all directions. It struck the walls on several sides in the blink of an eye and then affected the murals above. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Amidst everyone's puzzled gazes, the three murals separated from the walls and fell intact on the ground, connecting perfectly at the edges.

Fwoosh...

At the same time, as if triggering an underground mechanism, water from the underground river gushed out, completely submerging the three murals. The mysterious events continued.

The underground river water had a warm and hot aura. After coming into contact with the three murals, it immediately bubbled and caused Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel a hissing sound.

During the boiling process, the surface of the murals began to change. Protrusions were smoothed, depressions were filled, everything including the figures, scenes, light, and shadow, c

Hiss...

After a while of boiling, the river water gradually evaporated.

What appeared in front of everyone was a completely new mural that was different from before.

"What... | didn't expect this change!" Wade shook his head, sighing. "I would never have believed it if | didn't see it with my own eyes." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel
