

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 81 - Tips

“Today we are going to celebrate a special birthday of a person we all love and respect. This is not just a birthday party. So many wonderful things are yet to happen. So many good pieces of news are yet to be heard... Therefore without wasting your precious time, I am going to invite the person of the evening... Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome our country’s future and the leader of our hearts, Victor McMiller!!!” Don Sherman, our host for the evening announced.

With everyone’s applause, a middle-aged man came to the stage.

Have you seen a middle-aged man who has a great personality that makes you think he is smarter and handsome than most of the young men? Well... He is that kind of person. I have seen him on television and in newspapers. But when I see him live for the first time, he looks so familiar.

I am not interested in politics at all, but as far as I know, he is a prominent politician in the country. He is also a wealthy businessman. Above everything, he is going to run for the next presidential election, and everyone predicts that he is going to be our next president.

So, it is his birthday! I was staring at the way he waved at everyone while thinking why he looks so familiar.

“Good evening everyone... It is so much a pleasure for me to see you all this evening. Thank you very much for accepting my invitation to your busy schedules.” Victor McMiller began to speak.

Even the way he speaks simply showed his great personality. He is indeed cut out for the leadership, there is no doubt.

“As you all know, I am not a person who celebrates events in my personal life. But today, it is different because it is not just my birthday. I have to make an announcement as well...”

“Sarah...” I was listening to Vicor McMiller, giving my full focus when Mr. Patterson whispered to my ear.

I looked at him.

“Let’s go to the front,” he whispered again.

“Why? This place is good.” I objected.

“Please let’s go...” he said again.

I wanted to just listen to Victor McMiller’s talk. If I keep on objecting to what Mr. Patterson asked from me, he won’t let me concentrate on the speech. So I agreed.

We walked near to the stage. Victor McMiller looks even more handsome when you see him closely.

“I know people spread many gossips about my family because I keep information about my family as a secret. I honestly don’t like crossing my private life with my political carrier. But today, I am going to introduce my loving family to you all. There is a reason for that, but we are yet to know that.” Victor McMiller said, smiling.

His smile looks so familiar, even more than his face!

“This is my beautiful wife, Maya...” he announced, and a beautiful lady came to the stage from the small room behind the curtains.

She looks so classy, but she was in a wheelchair!

I have seen her somewhere... Her face looks even more familiar!

“She is a leading lawyer, and I think most of you know her, though you didn’t know her as my wife,” he said, smiling.

I was still staring at his gorgeous, kind-looking wife. God! why these two people look so familiar to me... Like I have met them before, which has never happened for sure... Is it just because I have seen both of them on the TV?

“You all may know I have only one son. Please welcome my son, Jacob McMiller.” he then announced.

Jacob McMiller!!! Jacob...

I forgot to breathe as I saw who came to the stage next.

It was Jake!!! My Jake in flesh and bl00d!!!

He was dress in a tuxedo, and he looked handsome than ever. He was glowing like a star!!!

Now I know, why I felt Victor and Maya so familiar... Jake's look is a combination of both of their looks.

Am I dreaming? I pinched my self to make sure I am not dreaming.

How this can be possible? Is my Jake really Victor McMiller's only son? The only son of the next president in our country!

Victor McMiller was speaking somethings more, but I didn't hear any of those.

Jake didn't see me. He was just smiling while holding his mom's hand.

I knew his family is a wealthy and high class, but not even in my weirdest dreams, I imagined something like this.

Who am I compare to him? His dad is going to be the first person in our country. His mother is already the most successful lawyer in the country. My parents barely make enough money to survive. I was not even capable of conceding how wealthy and respectable his family really is...

Who am I compare to him? His dad is going to be the first person in our country. His mother is already the most successful lawyer in the country. My parents barely make enough money to survive. I was not even capable of conceding how wealthy and respectable his family really is...

Is that why he hides every single detail about his family from me? He has just told me that he is the only child, and his family is a wealthy business family. I didn't try to dig into details as well... Even when I got to know the relationship between him and Mr. Patterson's family, I didn't try to discover more. Just because I trust him with my life. I always believed he has a fair reason to hide everything from me. I love him so deeply. So I never even thought of questioning about his secret life...

But this... This feels too much for me...when I think back, it doesn't even feel real that a guy from such a big family obsessed over me. God! It is like I am going crazy!!!

“Sarah... Stay focused, the best thing is yet to happen...” Mr. Patterson’s whisper took me back to the real world.

When I look at the stage there was another man. He is the current president of our country. I didn’t even notice when he came to the stage.

“Our current president is the real reason for who I am today. He is my mentor and my guardian in my political carrier. He is indeed like a father to me. He always treated me like his own son. However, I think it is high time that we build a real relationship between our families. ” Victor McMiller was saying.

“To accomplish that, I have to invite another special person to this stage. It is our current president’s only granddaughter, Merina!” as he announced that a beautiful young lady came to the stage, and stood beside the current president, holding his hand.

She looked sophisticated, it was even hard to say that she is a real person. She looked more like a carefully sculpted statue! Though I am wearing an elegant designer-made dress with expensive jewelry and I look my perfect self, I don’t think I am even suitable to stand next to her... She is that beautiful!

“I hereby proposing my only son to this gorgeous young lady Merina!” when Victor McMiller announced everyone started applauding

I felt like my heart stopped. My whole body felt lifeless... I will surely fell down, if not Mr. Patterson holds me from my waist, putting his arm around me.

“It is a great delight and an honor to have such a brilliant young man like your son in our family. Merina and Jacob please come forward...” the current president David Watsons said.

Jake and that girl came forward... Then David Watsons took Jake’s hand and that girl’s hand. He kept the girl’s hand on Jake’s hand.

“You were friends since childhood. So I have no doubts that you two can lead a life with lots of love and happiness... Since you two are still studying we are not going to discuss your marriage, but let’s have your engagement soon.” David Watsons said.

This is impossible! There is no way Jake agreeing to engage with anyone else. He would just storm off, scolding everyone. Please, Jake, tell them that you are loving someone else. So you can't get engaged to this girl, no matter how beautiful and powerful she is.

I forgive you for hiding about your family. I promise I won't even mention any of these... Please, tell them that you are mine... Tell them that you have sworn to love me until our last breath... Please, Jake... All these people don't know about me. That's why they make you engage with someone else... Let them know, Jake... Let them know how much we love each other, and we are inseparable no matter what happened.

While tears were running down my cheeks, I was staring at my Jake, without even blinking... But he didn't storm off or try to object... Instead, he was smiling, holding that girl's hand... His unique smile that I am willing to die for, he is giving it to her in front of my eyes...

David Watsons was speaking a few more things, but I couldn't hear any of those...

I was just thinking why Jake didn't object to this stupid drama... This is the 21st century. Who proposes their child to someone in front of a crowd like this. This is totally ridiculous!!! Their parents are insane!!!

Please, Jake... Please walk away from this stupidity...

Victor McMiller cut his birthday cake. All the people who were on the stage seemed so happy. They were all wishing him a happy birthday. Jake was no different. He hugged his father and wished. His face was filled with happiness... He looked so divine! Like he was just sent from heaven!

How much I love to see this happiness in your face? I am willing to sacrifice anything to see this happiness. Your happiness always made me happy and satisfied. But today, I am crying right in front of you, my love... My heart feels like it shattered to a million tiny pieces... My whole body is burning... But you don't even see me, babe... You, who saw me from wherever I sit during your football match among thousands of other spectators, can't see me right now... Though I am right in front of you. Am I that invisible in the presence of your great family and your future wife?

Even though I hate Mr. Patterson so much, I was so glad that he was with me during that moment. If he was not there, holding me, I may have kissed the ground so much earlier...

"I warmly invite the beautiful couple of the day to start the celebration with the first dance..." it was Don Sherman...

Then without hesitation, Jake took that girl, Merina's hand, and they started dancing when everyone was clapping for them...

I have gone through so much pain and heartbreaks in my life, but nothing can compare to what I was experiencing right now... The person who said that he loves me more than anything, who asked me to believe him with my life... He is dancing with his pretty future wife, so happily... His hands were wrapped around her waist the same way he wrapped his arms around me... She was having one of her arms on his shoulder, and her other hand was on his chest, right in front of his heart, which he said beats just for me...

All the guests were whispering what a matching couple they are... Some women said it is a match made in heaven!

Yeah... They are right! Both of them look perfect with each other... The way their bodies move with the music, clearly showed the sync between them... No wonder they are friends since childhood...

But Jake... How could you cheat me like this? Who am I for you? Just a girl to play with while you are at the university? Why did you choose an innocent girl like me to play your game? Don't you even have sympathy?

When the music stopped, they stop their dance...

The next second, Jake bend towards the girl, and kissed her !!!

He kissed her !!! The same way he kissed me with those warm !!!

I have seen enough!!! More than enough!!!

I should leave before my head explode... I should leave... Not just from this big, sophisticated party, but from my pathetic life also... There is no one I can trust or I can love! My life is a complete joke for everyone!!!

I escaped from Mr. Patterson's hands and tried to walk away. But I was so weak and nervous!!! Also, I was wearing these stupid high heels...

I couldn't even take three steps... I was going to fell down, and I just hold the table cloth of the table in front of me!

All the glasses on the table started to fall off, making a huge sound!

If it was some other time, I would feel really ashamed. It was such an embarrassing situation. But I didn't feel any embarrassment right then... I just wanted to leave... That's all...

Totally ignoring what has just happened, I looked up, trying to walk away...

When I look up, Jake was staring at me...

Then for the first time in the evening, our eyes met each other!

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 82 - Tips

When I look up, Jake was staring at me...

Then for the first time in the evening, our eyes met each other!

His eyes widened with wonder. He never expected to see me here.

That happy smile vanished from his face in a split second. His face turned white, like even the last drop of blood was drained out from his handsome face.

My eyes were flooded with tears. My vision was blurred, but I could still see the panic in his eyes.

"Why you cheated me, Jake?" I wanted to run to him and scream. I wanted to ask him how he made up his mind to kiss someone else. But at that moment I didn't want to ruin their beautiful evening. You can call me a fool. But I have never hurt anyone because they have hurt me. So how can I hurt the very person I love more than my life, though he cheated me?

Ignoring those eyes, I ran away from him.

"Please forgive us for the interruption. My friend is not well... I will go and take care of her... Please continue the celebration... We are so sorry..." I heard Mr. Patterson was apologizing...

It was me who should apologize. But how could I?

I was running without even knowing where I was going. Avoiding all the people, I was running like a fool in that gigantic hotel premises.

I don't even know how many times I fell down, but I didn't care...

Finally, I came to a small garden space. No one was there... Continuous crying and running have drained my energy. I felt like I can't take another step forward. I sat on the green grass, panting my heart out...

I heard a footstep... Someone is coming to me...

It must be Jake! No matter what he did, he cannot just neglect me after seeing me like that. Yes... He is coming for me... Walking away from all those big people, he is coming for his poor girlfriend...

Those footsteps stopped behind me. I didn't turn around to see... You owe me a big explanation for all of this, Jake.

"Sarah..." a deep voice raised behind me. Well... I am so stupid and naive to hope for the impossible. That voice did not belong to the person I wished for.

Mr. Patterson kneeled down beside me.

"Where is him?" there is no limitation for my stupidity. So I asked that from Mr. Patterson.

"Who... Jake? He is at the party, Sarah..." he replied.

"Didn't he come after me?" I asked again.

"How can he come after you? He is needed there..." he said gently.

I know that. But don't he need to be here more than that. They are not going to die if he leaves them for a few minutes! But those few minutes with him could make a huge change in my life. Why the hell he can't understand it?

Maybe he values his family more than me... Well... I don't blame him... He may have a loving family, not like mine. I don't want him to treat me, keeping me above his family. But at this time... After everything, I have seen and heard... I need him more than his family, right?

But it seems he doesn't care about it... Maybe everything he said to me is just a big fat lie! I am just a toy for him to play with...

“Sarah... You wanna go in?” Mr. Patterson asked, sympathetically.

Go in? To see what? To see how the person I love kiss another girl right in front of my eyes? No, thank you.

“Please take me home...” I said.

“Are sure?” he asked.

“Of course!” I wanted to go home more than ever.

“Okay...” he replied. Then he stood up and gave his hand for me to stand up.

I took his hand for the support and stood up. Then he started walking with me, having his arm around my waist. I didn't object. I was exhausted... Actually, I was grateful to him in a way, for taking care of me.

I took his hand for the support and stood up. Then he started walking with me, having his arm around my waist. I didn't object. I was exhausted... Actually, I was grateful to him in a way, for taking care of me.

We had to walk by the outdoor space where the party was held. I wanted to keep my eyes down and not even have a look at what is going on in the function. But my eyes were out of control.

I saw Jake... He was talking with his dad and the current president. He looked calm and happy. Even after seeing me, he managed to stay like that...

I looked down immediately. Don't be so stupid Sarah... Haven't you seen enough?

Mr. Patterson took me near the lobby.

“Sarah... Wait here... I will come quickly,” he told me and then left...

I was just walking here and there without any aim when suddenly someone grabbed me from my arm and pulled me to a corner...

I should be frightened, right? I should have shouted. But honestly, I didn't feel anything. I don't think even if someone stabs me right now, I would care.

That person closed my mouth with his palm, so I couldn't shout even if I wanted.

My favorite cologne smell filled my lungs...

Yeah... You guessed it right. It was Jake!

"Sarah... It is me... Don't shout..." he whispered to my ear... I know it is you... You don't have to tell that specifically...

He removed his palm from my mouth and made me face him.

"Sarah... Please... Don't misunderstand anything... I know I owe you a big explanation, and I know I am pretty late for that already. But please trust me..." he said in a pleading voice.

"Trust you?" I chuckled.

"It is easier to ask someone to trust you. But it is really hard to trust anyone after getting betrayed by the person you love most..." I said.

"I didn't betray you, Sarah... I have not cheated you either..." he said sadly.

"If kissing another girl and agreeing to marry her soon, right in front of my eyes, is not cheating what can possibly call as cheating, Jake..." I asked sarcastically.

"Princess..." he began to tell something.

"Don't fu**ing call me princess..." I yelled at him. He stared at me with shock.

His eyes were turned to red like he was about to cry... But why should I care? I have already cried until I have no tears left...

"Sarah... All of this is just a drama... But my love for you is not... My love for you is pure and eternal... I know I should have told you about my family much earlier, but I have reasons to hide everything...I have a reason for all these things that happened today..." he said in a broken voice.

"So tell me, Jake... Tell me what are the goddamn reason you have to do something like this?" I screamed.

"Sarah... Please don't shout..." he said.

“Why, Jake? Are you scared that your high-class friends will get to know about me?”

“Sarah... Please... I beg you...I can't tell you everything right now... I should be at the party... Please give me some time, I will tell all the truth... I promise you...” he pleaded.

“If you want to give me an explanation of everything, you can do it now, Jake... Else you can keep your stupid explanation to yourself...” I said in a voice I never expected to talk to him with.

“I wish I could do it now... But please try to understand me... My father may already be looking for me... I came to talk to you here not because I could. But because I couldn't even breathe properly after seeing you crying like that.” he said, trying to touch my face.

I slapped his hand without even thinking twice.

“Really... You couldn't even breathe properly? I saw you happily smile with your father and your future in-laws...” I said.

“People have to pretend things no matter what they feel inside...” he said in a totally broken voice...

“Then go and pretend... Like you did all the time... You know what, Jacob McMiller... You are pretty good at hiding things and pretending something totally different...” I said.

“Sarah... Please... Don't you believe in our love... Please don't hurt me like this... I am already in hell... Please, you are the only comfort I have...” he pleaded.

“I thought the same about you, Jake... But you just made my life worse than hell...” I said in an emotionless tone.

“Sarah...” Mr. Patterson's voice raised behind us.

I turned around to face him.

“If you are ready we can leave now,” he said.

“Yes, Mr. Patterson, we can leave now... I have nothing to do here...” I said, looking at Jake...

“Sarah... Please don’t leave like that... At least please tell me that you still love me...” I have never seen Jake being this vulnerable in front of anyone. It hurts me... But... He deserves it...

“If you want her to love you, you shouldn’t have agreed to marry Merina in the first place, brother.” Mr. Patterson said.

“Who the fu** gave you permission to intervene in our problems... You took her here purposely to let her witness all these, didn’t you? You filthy animal!!!” Jake ran to Mr. Patterson and grabbed him from his shirt collar.

“Jake!!! Stop this madness...” I said firmly.

But he was still holding Mr. Patterson’s collar.

“So it is his fault now? For taking me here and made me see things that I should have known much earlier... If he didn’t take me here, I would be just waiting in my cold room, thinking about you and holding my phone until you call me after you get some free time from your father’s business work... You wanted to keep me like that, right, Jake? Like a frog in the well...” I asked.

He then removed his hands from Mr. Patterson’s collar and looked at me... This time his eyes were not just red... They were truly filled with tears... There was a time I would run to you and wipe those tears from your eyes, Jake... But now, I don’t even know if I will feel like that ever again...

“Let’s go, Mr. Patterson,” I said, walking towards Mr. Patterson.

He looked at Jake one more time and put his arm around my waist to support me.

Then we started walking away...

From the mirror in front of us, I saw Jake was staring at us with tear full eyes...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 83 - Tips

You know how hard it is to just ignore the tears in the eyes of the person you love most. Well... If you don’t have that kind of experience, believe me, it hurts a lot more than crying on your own.

No matter how Jake behaved today, my heart couldn't stand seeing him in tears. I was so close to break down and run back to him and wipe those tears from his handsome eyes. Fortunately, Mr. Patterson was with me. He didn't let me act that stupid and weak. He made me get into the car and drove away fast... I wanted to look back at Jake... I wanted to see his face again, but I couldn't.

Both I and Mr. Patterson were extremely silent until we get into the helicopter. Tears were running down from my eyes without any rest, but I was totally silent.

When the helicopter started to fly, my temper got suddenly changed.

We have already driven a few miles away from Jake. But after start flying, I felt like I am getting away from him forever. It felt like I am losing him forever...

This made me cry loud... I was screaming and crying... Totally ignoring the outer world. Everything that has happened between me and Jake, since the very first day I saw him came to my mind. Especially those few romantic moments we shared. The first day he gave me a real kiss, how much panicked I got? After that day, how many times he has kissed me. Sure, there were heat and desire in those kisses, but more than that those kisses were filled with love... So much love...

How the hell he managed to kiss another girl like that when we share something so pure between us.

You could kill me, Jake, without letting me go through this pain... I can't let you be someone else's. I can endure anything in my life, I am strong. But I am not strong enough to lose you...

What do I have, Jake, to fight with her to win you? She is so beautiful and wealthy... A perfect match for you in every way... I will never be able to win this battle, Jake... I will lose you...

I don't think even you will support me winning this, right, Jake? You couldn't just spare some time for me to explain everything. You had to run back to your big family when the girl who loves you more than her life is in such a situation.

You will just forget me, won't you, Jake? Our love story will be just another story of the difference between wealth and poverty...

But, I can't live without you, Jake... How can I even think of my life without you?

Suddenly, I felt really difficult to breathe with all the crying, and it made me cough like hell... My lungs were totally out of the air...I felt like I was going to die...

"Sarah..." Mr. Patterson's panicked voice raised beside me. For all this time, he didn't talk to me or try to comfort me. He let me grieve in my own way.

But now he was holding me and screaming at me panicky.

"Breathe!!! Breathe!!! Sarah..." he screamed while trying to loosen up my dress.

I knew I should support him to save my life... But I had no energy left within me...

However, he managed to get the oxygen mask and put it. Then he reached for the back zipper of my dress and made my dress a bit loose.

"Breathe... Breathe... Angel... You are all I have. I can't lose you..." I heard him screaming just before everything blackout.

Andrew Patterson's POV

Everything worked just as I planned.

I got to know about Uncle Victor's idea to propose Jake to Merina on his birthday even before Jake got to know about that. I planned for this since then...

When Jake got himself in the trouble after getting to a fight with those idiots, I got the perfect opportunity to execute my plan...

I knew that Sarah knows nothing about Jake's family. I knew, getting to know how big his family really is could make Sarah bothered... She is a simple girl, but she is smart... I was sure that she will understand how it will be to deal with such a big family.

While she is concerned like that she gets the most shocking news of Jake's dad proposing Jake to another girl... Not just another girl... The granddaughter of the current president. A girl who is extremely beautiful and classy. A perfect match for Jake and his family.

I knew how she will feel by then... She will feel betrayed... She will start to hate him.

I also knew that Jake is not capable of running after her and explain everything to her. His dad just recovered from a heart attack... He does not dare to do anything against his dad...

Poor Sarah doesn't know anything about these things... She may think that Jake completely ignored her. I know it will make her totally break. It will pierce her little heart... I hate to hurt her like that... But what can I do? I want to make Jake suffer, and I want to make you mine too, my little angel...

Did you see how Jake's face distorted with pain when I hold you and walked you to the car? That's the pain I want to see in his face... I will make sure he is having that pain forever with him...

Actually, everything was under my control until we get to the helicopter... Everything happened just as I wanted... But when you started suffocating, that made me panicked, my little angel... I didn't think you will come to a status like this... If I knew, I promise I won't take you there. I value your life more than anything. You are all I have...

I was so panicked... It took me a while to get the oxygen mask for her. While screaming at the pilot to get us to the nearest hospital, I tried to lose her dress a bit to make her ease. That was not an easy task. That dress perfectly clung to her body. However, I found the zipper in the back of her dress and opened it a bit, and loosen her dress.

This made her a bit relaxed, and with the aid of the oxygen mask, her breathing also got steady.

I was still holding her in my arms after landed and going to the hospital in a car.

I could see half of her chest... The beginning of her perfect bosoms... How much I have dreamt of holding her like this and... You know, see her in the way I desired... Though she has an affair with Jake, I hope she is still a virgin.

I wanted to be the person who took away that from her... Now I have all the opportunities to do whatever I want with her body. I could make all my dreams come true...

She was not conscious... She can't protest...

I thought while looking at her half-naked breasts... But do you really think, I am that kind of person? No... I am not...

I am not going to make her mine when she is not conscious to embrace my touch... I want her sound awake when I communicate with her beautiful body as I crave... I will make her totally forget Jake... I know I am capable of that... If she wishes, I can just hypnotize her and make all her memories of Jake completely wipe out. Then she has nothing to worry about...

Jake can rot in the hell as he deserves, and my little angel can lead a happy, comfortable life with me...

Sarah's POV

My head was aching like hell. I slowly opened my eyes.

This is not my bed... This is not a place I am familiar with.... Where the hell am I? Looking at the white wall in front of me, I tried to recall...

"Sarah..." a familiar voice raised, and someone gently touched my arm.

"Mr. Patterson..." I managed to say. But it came out as just a whisper...

"How are you feeling now, Sarah?" he asked kindly.

"I... don't know... My head is aching... Where am I?" I asked.

"You got difficult to breathe when we were in the helicopter. I took you here... We are now in hospital. Don't worry, you just had a panic attack." He said.

"Mm..." I replied.

I closed my eyes again... Everything that has happened last night started to replay in my mind. Those memories began to wet my eyes once again...

“Sarah... I can't ask you not to worry. I know that is impossible to do. But I beg you, please try your best to stay calm...” Mr. Patterson said. His voice was filled with concern.

I didn't say anything. I never thought I would feel like this, but at that moment, I was so glad that he is with me and taking care of me. On the other hand, I should be thankful to him for taking me there. Otherwise, I don't know anything. I would always stay in the dark.

Jake has no right to hide all these from me. It is not like that he got to know about this proposal at the function. He didn't look surprised at all, that means he already knew about his dad's plan. So, he has the responsibility of telling me. Don't I deserve to know?

When Jake acts like this, I felt like what if Mr. Patterson told me the truth? What if Jake and his family are truly behind Mr. Patterson's girlfriend's death? No... That is not possible! Though he hid things from me and cheated me, I don't think he is capable of doing something like that.

But do I really know Jake after all? The Jake I knew is not capable of cheating me either. The Jake I knew didn't even let other girls come near him... So, I doubt if I know him right...

God! I think I am really going insane! I can't understand what is the truth and what is not anymore.

Mr. Patterson was gently caressing my head... If this is any other time, I would just slap him hard. But now, I actually felt it is comforting for my aching head...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 84 - Tips

Mr. Patterson took me home the next day morning. There was no one when I come home. For a moment, I was happy that my family doesn't worry about me, otherwise, I would have to give them an explanation for not coming home yesterday.

I directly went to my room and dropped myself to the bed. I was feeling a bit dizzy because of the medicine. So I close my eyes, trying to get some sleep. After all, I can forget everything at least when I am sleeping.

I don't know how long I have been sleeping, I woke up with someone knocking on my door.

I didn't feel strong enough to even get up from the bed. Then only I remembered that I didn't eat anything after I come home. Mr. Patterson tried his best to take me somewhere to eat, but I kindly refused. Who can care about food when you are feeling dead inside?

Whoever the person at my door knocked again.

"Sarah..." Shane's voice raised from the outside.

He even tried to open the door, but I had it locked from inside.

"Wait... I am coming..." I said. Then I managed to go and opened the door. I had to walk holding to the wall and the furniture to not fell down.

"Sarah..." Shane started to saying something as soon as I opened the door, but he paused after seeing my face, he stared at me for a few seconds like he saw a ghost.

Then he continued speaking.

"You have a visitor..." he said.

"Visitor!!!" my heart began to beat faster. Is it Jake? Maybe he came to apologize.

But my expectation just died as I saw the person came behind Shane...

I didn't expect to see him at this time at all...

"Luke!!!" I screamed involuntarily.

Luke smiled worriedly.

"Aren't you supposed to stay in bed rest?" I asked.

"He said he has something very urgent to discuss with you..." Shane said. His voice clearly said how confused he has got with Luke's sudden appearance.

Luke smiled weakly at him.

“I will stay downstairs...” Sahne said, looking at both of us suspiciously. Then he went down the stairs.

Luke entered my room without even asking my permission. Then he sat on my bed.

I closed the door, and leaned to the wall, staring at him.

“Your phone is not working,” he complained.

My eyes moved to the small pouch I carried to the celebration. My phone must be still in it. I think it was switched off automatically due to a low battery. I didn't remember about it until Luke asked about it. I used to keep my phone switch on all the time because I didn't want Jake to worry about me. He should be able to reach me anytime he wants. But now, I don't think he genuinely worries about me anymore. I released a sigh...

“Jake and I both tried to reach you a lot. we both were worried so much,” he said again since I was silent.

Worried... I chuckled.

“Don't laugh like that, Sarah...” he said painfully.

“Jake called Andrew as well, but he refused to tell us anything about you. Jake wanted to come here looking for you.”

“Then why didn't he come? Couldn't he leave her loving future wife?” I asked sarcastically.

“Sarah... Please, don't talk like this. You know exactly what kind of a guy Jake really is?”

“Do I really know about him, Luke? I highly doubt I know anything about him.”

“Sarah... I am not saying Jake is a hundred percent right. He should have told you about all these much earlier. But that doesn't mean his love for you is not real...” Luke said.

“Luke, I don't even want to talk about him anymore. He had the chance to tell me everything before things get this serious. But he didn't even care to give me an explanation even after I saw everything. Even now, he sent you, looking for me. If his love is real, I don't think he will treat me like this." I said angrily.

"He didn't send me, Sarah... I volunteered to come because he is not in a position to come right now."

"Wow! Luke... Even now, after everything, you are still trying to protect him. I really wish I have someone like you to love me."

"I am not trying to protect him, Sarah... I am here to help you to get rid of this misunderstanding. I just want to tell you everything. "

"Really... After I witnessed everything from my own eyes, you think I have misunderstood things. So that's my fault now? How can I trust whatever the thing you are going to tell me when you act like a devoted, loyal slave to Jacob McMiller, Luke?"

"I know, Sarah... You are angry with me too. I indeed hid everything about Jake from you, but I have never lied to you..." he said in a painful voice.

"You both have told me nothing but lies, Luke!!!" letting my anger out, I screamed at him.

"Can you tell me when did I lie to you?" he asked, staring to my eyes.

"You lied to me the moment you told me it is Shane you love when you are truly in love with Jake! " I didn't expect to tell him about it in this way. But certain scenarios make us helpless to do things we didn't plan at all..."

Luke's face turned pale like he saw a ghost! He stared at me for some time without saying anything.

Luke has done nothing but helps me all this time. How the hell I became this cruel to hurt him like this when I exactly know he lied to me because he didn't want to hurt me. I couldn't stand his gaze anymore... I looked down.

"I am so sorry for lying to you, Sarah... I always want you two to be happy. I didn't want to ruin it by telling you about my feelings, that's why I lied. Otherwise, I had no intention of lying to you." he said in a broken voice.

Please forgive me, Luke... I didn't want to hurt you like this. I don't even know what am I thinking and what am I doing anymore. I thought, but I didn't convert them to words.

"Jake and I grew up together, Sarah... Jake's dad is very strict about the friends he has. So Jake literally had no long term friends other than me. It may be the reason why we became so close to each other. I have never been close to any guy or a girl than I have been close to Jake. So I think it is natural for me to fell in love with him. My love for him grows up each and every day, Sarah... There is no limit to it. "

"When I first got to know about his feelings towards you, it made me wanted to k!!l myself. I couldn't even think of sharing him with someone else. You know how I made up my mind and decided that I should help you two with my life?" he asked.

I didn't say anything. I don't really know the answer to it as well. If I were in his position, will I be able to make up my mind like that?

"Jake is not a very emotional guy, Sarah... Other than his parents and me, I have never seen him paying any special consideration to anyone. But how he changed after he got feelings for you actually surprised me. He just wanted to be at every place where he could predict that you may go. Even at a football match, among thousands of spectators, he could see where you were, and your mere presence made him confident about himself. Though he didn't even talk to you face to face, he spent hours talking to your photos on his phone. So day by day, I realized how much he loves you... I understood that he can't think of anyone in that special way other than about you. So I decided to make up my mind and support him. " he said.

His words made my eyes we.t. No matter what I felt in a haste, deep down my heart I believe that Jake still loves me.

"Come sit here..." I was sobbing, closing my face from both of my palms when Luke called me.

He walked to me and put his hand around my walst as I didn't move. He walked me to the bed and made me sit. Then he sat beside me and took my hand in his.

"He knew that one day, you would have to face this type of an unpleasant situation, and it will hurt you so much... That is one of the major reasons he didn't want to let you know about his feelings earlier." Luke said, caressing my hand.

"Also another disaster happened during those days. Most of the people didn't know anything about Jake's dad's family life. He always kept it a secret because he knew he got so many enemies. He wanted to protect his family. However, Jake's mom faced that tragic accident when we were in high school. It was kind of a turning point in their lives. Jake's dad wanted them to be extra careful because he suspected that the accident is one of his enemy's work. His intelligence team warns that there can be a risk to Jake's life as well. Jake's dad sent him to a high school here because he wanted to keep Jake away from all this political drama. However, after that incident, Jake couldn't even visit his home whenever he needs. Sometimes he didn't go home for months. Jake was so afraid that people around him would get into trouble because of him. So he even asked me to stay away from him as much as possible. Little by little, he started to spend a lonely life than ever. In that type of situation, he didn't want to start an affair with you put your life into danger..." Luke kept on saying.

God! That is really pitiful. I don't know how Jake managed to stay like that. Stay away from his family, friends, and everyone... It must be very hard and frustrating for him.

"He suffered a lot... Seeing you and not being able to express his feelings. I tried to tell you about him a few times. But he stopped me saying he just wants to see you live happily, and he didn't want to make you his, and put your life into danger."

"However, as written on our fate, you came to the same university as us. On the very first day, we saw you at the faculty, Jake got really upset because he knew that seeing you every day for four years will be torture he can't undergo... He even tried to change the university. But his dad insisted he should be here. When we were in high school, we didn't know that you were getting bullied and treated that badly by everyone. Jake was furious, seeing you were treated like that. He asked me to be a member of Shane's gang, and try my best to protect you. He found all the information about you. After knowing how miserable and frustrating your life is he decided that he should tell you about his feelings. "

"I still remember the day he told me about his decision. I know that I am putting her life also in danger, but I will protect her with my life. I can't let her suffer alone like this. At least now she will have me to share everything. Those are the exact words he said to me. “

My heart melted down with unbearable love for my Jake...

Oh! Jake!!! My sweet Jake...I remembered the very first note he kept for me along with a hot chocolate.

“Drink and Smile” that’s what the note said. I also got the first message from him on that day. How much my life changed since then. I was an ugly, useless bi**h everyone hates. But with his love, I am not getting bullied anymore. I have started making friends... Even my brother started treats me much better than earlier. I am started to getting the attention of people... He changed my life from a miserable hell to joyful heaven...

How much he cared for me during this time... How much he loved me... How could I act that silly at that party? Didn’t he always ask me to trust him and his love... Didn’t I promise him to trust him no matter what? So how could I break that promise so quickly...

Then the way he k!ssed that girl started to flashback on my mind... How he holds her... How their l!ps met each other... How their eyes were closed, embracing the sensation...

There can be a fair reason for everything. But why did he k!ss her like that... What is the rationale behind that...

I felt like I was in hotplate...

What should I do...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 85 - Tips

I was staring at the blank wall, fighting with my mind.

“Sarah...” Luke said in a gentle voice after some time.

I looked at him... He looked exhausted. He should be on a bed, resting, isn’t he? Yet, he is here in my tiny room with me, trying to cover up for the person he loves most. What a selfless and committed love it is?

However, he should not get a burden for us. This problem is between me and Jake, we are the people who should take responsibility and solve it.

“Luke... I think you must go home now.” I said.

“No... I want to tell you everything, Sarah... I want to clear this misunderstanding. I want you two to be happy together. ” he replied.

“I know that, Luke... I know you really mean it, and I know how much you love both of us... But I think it should be Jake, not anyone else who should give me an explanation for all of this. All these problems happened because he didn't trust me enough to share these with me. ” I said in a determined voice.

“But Sarah... As I said, he can't come now. I can't let you two suffer like this until he comes and give you the deserved explanation.” he said.

“I can understand what you are trying to say. But, Luke, I am certain about this. If he takes a week or a month to come back and talk to me, then let it be like that. I want to hear everything from him, just from him.” I stated.

“I don't know how to explain this to you, Sarah...” Luke said worriedly.

“You don't have to explain anything to me, Luke... You look utterly exhausted. I want you to go home now and take a good rest. Anyway, I need some alone time too.” I said.

“Are you sure about that, Sarah... You don't look like you enjoyed the alone time you already had. If you don't want to listen to me, that's okay. At least let me get you something to eat. ” he said, looking at my face.

I smiled weakly.

“I know I look like a total mess. But I will take a wash and eat something, I promise. Now go home like a good boy and take some rest. You are still not fully recovered, Luke...” I insisted.

“Okay then, I will go, but please at least switch on your phone. Can you do that for me, Sarah...” he asked in a pleading voice.

“Okay, Luke, I will switch on it, I promise. My promises are not like those false promises Jake made.” I said. Actually, the last part just slipped through my tongue.

Luke gave me a worrying look.

“It hurt me a lot when you talk about him in this way, Sarah... He doesn't deserve these... I hope you realize it soon....” he said in a heavy voice, and he left my room, closing the door behind him.

For a moment, I couldn't figure out what to do. Then I thought of going after him. He came all this way without even thinking about his own health, I have no right to hurt him. So I opened the door to follow him, but he was already in the downstairs by then.

“Are you feeling alright, Luke? You look worn.” I heard Shane said. His voice was filled with concern.

Without going downstairs, I stopped. I could see both of them from here.

“I am a bit tired, that's all...” Luke replied, smiling.

“Where are you going now? If you want, I can drive you anywhere you want.” Shane offered. I felt really bad about my brother. He loves Luke so much. But will he be able to get any positive response from Luke when he is totally, madly in love with Jake...

“If you can, that's really great...” Luke said, making me surprised.

I think it is not just me who got surprised. I could see how Shane's face also changed with surprise.

Then they both left the house.

It seems like Luke's attitude towards Shane has changed after the terrible incident he had to go through. Otherwise, he would never agree to let Shane drive him. May be Luke would grow feelings towards Shane one day, then they will be able to have a happy life together...

*****

I took a wash and changed clothes. When I came back to my room, I remembered I promised Luke that I will switch on my phone. So I connected it to the charger and switched on. Without waiting to check the phone, I went to the kitchen to prepare something to eat.

I was going to open the refrigerator to get some milk first because I was feeling starved.

There was a small note stuck to the refrigerator door.

“I have kept some food for you – Shane.” the note said. Is this a note for me? Well... Both mom and dad were not at home. So it must be for me, right?

I opened the door quickly and found a plate full of cheesy pasta with roasted chicken. Without bothering to heat it, I took a fork and tasted it. God! It was delicious, just the way I love it.

Never even in my most unusual dreams, I expected Shane to give me this kind of a surprise.

He had never prepared any food for me, not even a coffee.

I was still not sure if this is for me or not... If it is not for me, I would have to go through hell if I eat it now.

Holding the plate, I was thinking about what should I do now.

I can worry about that later... I put the plate in the microwave and heat it.

I didn't even know Shane can cook this well... The pasta was exactly like how I like it. I wonder how he knows about my preferences... Usually, he doesn't even care if I eat or not. Most of the time, he preferred to keep me starving. He sometimes put all the food to the dustbin without letting me eat.

It is truly a miracle how much he has changed after Luke's incident. Shane has started to act more compassionate and humane after all...

I went back to my room after eating.

I heard my phone was vibrating. I had put it to vibrate when I was in the function.

I felt like my heart stopped when I see the caller Id. It was from Jake...

I know, I said I need an explanation from Jake. But it must be in person, not over the phone. So I didn't answer the call.

After his call cut, I saw the list of notifications on my screen.

My God!!!! There were 68 missed calls and 122 messages.

With shaking fingers, I picked up the phone and opened the notifications.

There were many calls from Mr. Patterson, Luke, and Jake...

Then I opened the messages.

Mr.Patterson has sent me three messages. Fifteen messages from Luke and all the rest of the texts were from Jake...

I sent a message to Mr. Patterson saying I am doing fine and asking him not to be worried. He has done so much for me, so I owed him that.

I went through the messages Luke sent me.

All of them were asking me where am I, why my phone is not working, and asking me to call him right away.

Then I opened the message thread sent by Jake...

There were loads of texts, and I don't even know I want to read them or not. I don't think anything he said over a message could make my heart anymore. I remembered how eagerly I was waiting for him to text me in the past... His texts gave me a reason to smile and feel confident even before I know it was him who sent those texts.

I sighed, thinking about how much time has changed everything.

I wanted to put the phone aside without reading any of his texts. But do you think I can make my mind up to that?

I started reading his texts.

"Sarah... I beg you, please trust me. None of these are real, all these are just a drama..." it was his first text.

"You have all the right to hate me, princess. But promise me, you won't do anything that you would regret. "

"Sarah, it is okay if you don't reply to me. I deserve it. But stay away from that jerk, Andrew. He just wants to steal you from me. Don't let him do that, princess..."

“Where are you, princess... Please, answer the phone...”

“Please, send me a text saying you are doing fine....”

“Don’t hurt me like this, princess... You know how much I love you and how much I care about you...”

“If anything happens to you, I will k!!! that bastard and k!!! myself too...”

There were so many other messages like these... Each and every text simply explained how much he suffered.

I didn’t even feel time pass while reading his texts. When I finish reading all of his messages, I started to re-read them. After reading them for the third time, I opened the photo gallery and started looking at his photos. I was smiling like crazy, looking at some of his photos. I was sighing and crying, looking at some of his other photos...

While I was spending time like a total i***t, my phone rang. This time it was Luke.

I answered the phone.

“Sarah...” I could barely hear his voice.

“Luke, are you okay?” I asked panicked.

“Sarah... I... I am not... feeling well...” he managed to say.

“What? Luke, should I call the doctor?”

“No... Shane... also went to practices...Can you... Please come over to my place...”

“Luke, you sound so unwell... I must call the doctor...” I said scaredly.

“No... I... have medicine... Can you come?” he asked again.

“Yes... Yes... I can... Give me 10 minutes... Call me anytime if you need it, okay?” I said.

I don’t know how I managed to get dressed that fast.

Within like 5 minutes, I was in a taxi to go to Luke's place...

It was getting darker, though it was still 6 in the evening. I think it is going to rain pretty soon.

I tried to call him, but his phone went straight to the voice mail. This made me go crazy...

"Go faster!!!" I yelled at the driver and got scolded too...

I didn't know if I should call Shane. But if he is at the practice, there is no point in calling him.

When I got down near his house, it was in the complete darkness. Why he hasn't switched on any lights?

I went to his front door and rang the doorbell. But there was no response.

Fortunately, I remembered to bring the spare key I had.

I opened the door and entered.

"Luke!!!!" screaming his name, I switched on the lights with the aid of my phone light.

"Luke!!!" I screamed again. But there was no response at all. The whole house was in grave silence. This made me so much scared that I don't even have words to explain the feelings I had. Something has happened to him... I was so stupid to not call the doctor in the first place...

He was not fully recovered. He looked utterly exhausted when he visited me, as well...

"Luke!!!" screaming his name, I ran towards his bedroom. I didn't even remember to switch on the other lights. Holding my phone's flashlight, I ran...

Please, God... Don't let anything happen to him. Please protect him...

When I was about to enter his room, someone suddenly pulled me to himself.

"What the...." I screamed...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 86 - Tips

I couldn't see anything well in the darkness. I just had the flashlight of my phone to lighten up my way. But that was not my concern. I was frightened, thinking about what has happened to Luke. When he called me, he was not well at all. His phone is not working either. All the possibilities of bad things that could happen begun to load up in my mind.

Praying God to protect him, I managed to reach his bedroom...

"Luke!!!" screaming his name, I entered his room. All of sudden someone pulled me to himself, making me scream...

"What the..." but I stopped what I was going to scream with the familiar cologne smell that filled up my nostrils. I was getting the warm touch that always tickles my heart.

"Jake!!!" I yelled involuntarily.

Then the light was on, and my favorite handsome face was right in front of me.

"Princess..." he said with a weak smile.

"What the fu** is this, Jake? Is this a joke to you?" I yelled.

"Nothing about you is a joke for me, Sarah..." he said gently.

"Then what the hell is this? Where is Luke?" I yelled at him again.

"He is at his cousin's house, sound and safe... I thought you won't come to meet me if I ask you because you didn't answer any of my calls. So Luke came up with this whole idea," he said apologetically.

"For both of you, I am just a joke, nothing more than that. You always play with my emotions. Do you know how scared I got? I was feeling like my heart was going to stop." I screamed. I was furious. This is not a time to a joke like this. We were not in a position to do something utterly stupid like this. That moment, I was hating both of them with all I had.

"I am so sorry, princess... We didn't think much..." he apologized. His face was just an inch or two away from mine. I could see all the pain, regret, and despair that were filled in his eyes. Now only I actually clearly look at his face. He looked exhausted. His eyes were turned to red. His lips were cracked like he hasn't anything to drink for hours... It felt so hard to look at his face anymore. I hate to see him helpless like this.

"You never think much about anything, Jake, that's the problem we are having. Now release me..." I said, taking my eyes away from his face and trying to escape from his hold.

But it made him harden his grip around me.

"Please, princess... I beg you. Let me hold you like this for some more time..." he begged.

"Are you insane, Jake... Let me go!" I yelled at him and tried to get away from him.

Even though he looked exhausted and weak, he was still stronger than me.

His arms were tightly wrapped around my waist, gluing me to him...

"You have no idea how I spent the past few hours, Sarah... It was like getting stabbed right on my heart over and over again. It is just now when I have you in my arms, I feel that I have not died... When I feel your warm breath on my face, I feel that I am alive... So please, let me hold you a bit more..." he said.

"Why, didn't you feel alive when you were holding your beautiful, rich future wife and kissing her lips?" I asked sarcastically.

He looked right into my eyes, and the unbearable pain that was flashed on his eyes was hard to miss...

He released his grip on my waist, letting out a long sigh...

"I am not asking you to stop hurting me like this, princess because I deserve this. But I want to correct my mistake at least now. I want to tell you everything, can you just give me one chance?" he asked.

Can you stand it when the person you love most, begging for something? Well... I found it super hard to even see him pleading in front of me.

"I am ready to listen, Jake," I said.

He smiled weakly.

“Let’s go down to the living room... This is going to take a long time...” he said.

I nodded.

Then we both walked back to the living room. I sat on the sofa.

“Do you want anything to drink?” he asked.

I didn’t want anything else other than listening to his confession, but then I remembered his cracked lips. It seems like he didn’t have anything to drink for a long time.

“I will make some coffee...” I said, standing up.

“No, you sit here... I will get you some coffee...” he said, walking towards the kitchen.

Without saying anything, I sat back.

After a few minutes, he came with two coffee cups.

Then he sat in front of me and stared at my face for a few seconds.

“You are truly an angel, Sarah... I didn’t think you would even let me talk to you like this,” he said softly.

“I am not an angel, Jake... But I have suffered enough in my life. I am not ready to give up my only happiness without a fight.” I said.

He stared at my face again for a few seconds, then he started talking.

“My dad inherited a successful business from his family. He is also very good at doing business, and he could take our business to the top profitable level. But he always thought other than that, he has a responsibility towards his country. He always wanted to bring a change in people’s lives. that’s the main reason he came to politics. “

“He is an honest politician who is willing to spend his own money on people. So he could easily climb up the political ladder and gain recognition. But his growing fame drawn many opponents to him. You know how hard it is for an honest man to work clean in a cruel society that is filled with fake people. So he tried to keep us away from his political life as much as possible. He actually hid information about his family. “

“I know you already know about my connection to Andrew. Andrew’s father, Ronald, was working with my dad in our businesses. He even came to politics with my father’s influence. Their family and our family were so close, we always took care of each other. Actually, my father trusted uncle Ronald with his life. But later on, there was a big fraud in our business that lead to a massive loss. My dad found out it was uncle Ronald behind all these. My dad was furious, he wanted to take legal actions against him, but he loved aunty Liz, Andrew’s mom every much. Therefore, without bringing him in front of the law, he just asked uncle Ronald to stay away from all of my dad’s businesses. Dad stopped supporting the uncle’s political carrier as well. But other than our family members, no one even got to know about his dirty work because my dad kept it a secret. Anyway, instead of regretting his wrongdoing, uncle Ronald started resenting my dad. He kind of became my dad’s top enemy. Since he knew everything about our family, he was dangerous than all the other people. “

“During this time, Andrew’s girlfriend faced that accident and got killed. Uncle Ronald took the maximum out of this incident and turned Andrew against us. He could make Andrew believe that it was my dad and me who was behind that accident. No matter how hard my dad, mom, and I tried to convince Andrew that we have no connection to this accident, it was useless. This incident worst all our problems. “

“However, with that incident, my dad wanted both my mom and me to be extra careful. He even put bodyguards and detectives to protect us. But none of those could save my mom from that tragic accident. It was such a horrible incident, Sarah... We thought we would lose my mom. My dad got all the best doctors to treat her. They could save her life, but she became disabled forever... I didn’t even know how I went through those few days... I was like a dead man. “

This is like the first time he openly talks with me about his family and his feelings towards them. It was obvious how much he had suffered because of his mom’s accident.

“Mom’s accident was not just a random one, it was well planned by my dad’s rivals. This made my dad terrified. He even considered stopping me from going to high school, just to protect me. But mom was against that. She insisted that I should have a regular life like any other teenager. Finally, dad agreed to that, but with a lot of conditions. He wanted me to minimize my outside relationships as much as possible. So I had to stop seeing my friends if it is not essential. He increased the number of bodyguards and detectives. They came wherever I go. Fortunately, they were all in just casual attire, and no one could recognize them as my bodyguards. But I didn’t have any privacy to do anything I want. I didn’t care much about my safety or anything until mom’s accident. But after that, I was afraid that the threat I am facing will affect the people around me as well... I even reduced my contacts with Luke... “

“It was a short while after I saw you for the first time, and I was dreaming about you all the time. But unfortunately, I had no chance of telling you about my feelings. In that type of situation, I didn’t want to make you in trouble because of me. On the other hand, I knew how complicated my family really is, and I didn’t want an innocent, cheerful girl like you to get trapped in such complexity. I knew one day, my family would bring tears to your eyes. “

He was talking without any break. After that, he explained how hard it was for him to keep his feelings to himself without expressing them to me. Then as Luke also said to me, he told me what happened when he first saw me at the university. He explained everything until the point when he decided to make me his life no matter what happened afterward.

During this part of his confession, actually, it was emotions more than the facts that touched my heart...

“My father declared that he is going to run for the next presidential election. Everyone predicts that he will be our next president. So I thought all of these problems of living in fear would be ended after he becomes the president. That’s why I always asked you to give me some time to tell you everything. “

“I never wanted to lie to you about my family, Sarah... I wanted to tell you everything about my family every day. But I was afraid... I was afraid you would get depressed, knowing the gravity of the danger I am facing. On the other hand, I was afraid that you would leave me after knowing about my family. ” he said, without taking his eyes off me...

“Sure, I am worried about you more than ever now... Even if you go out of my sight for a minute, I would be worried about you. But now I can do something... anything... that can protect you... or at least I can try my best to keep you away from the danger because I am aware of it now...” I said.

“About the other thing you said, you are so stupid to even think of that, Jake... Your family is indeed too sophisticated and too high class for a girl like me to handle... It makes me shiver to even think of dating a guy from such a high-class family. But I know about you... I know how humble and down to the earth type of person you are. If you are sure that you are ready to spend your life with me, then I am willing for that too... I am not afraid of your family until you are with me... I am stronger than you think, Jake...” I said.

“That’s what I said, Sarah... If I tell you everything about my family on the first day we started our relationship, would you think the same way?” he asked.

His words made me think about it. No matter how much I hate him for hiding about his family from me, his logic is also right...

“You got comfortable with me, and you got to know about how much I love and care about you... So now you are not afraid of my family because you can trust me. You aren’t even able to talk to me like this if you know about my family before you got to know me this much...” he said because I was silent.

“Okay... Let’s say you had valid reasons to hide your family from me.” I was saying, but he interrupted me.

“Why you tell like that, Sarah... Don’t you truly feel I had valid reasons?” he asked in a worried voice.

I felt so bad about him. If I was in the same situation as him, maybe I would act the same way. We sometimes do things we hate just to make sure our loved ones are safe and happy. Didn’t I agree to go with Mr. Patterson to a party to protect my loved ones? It isn’t a smart move either...

“Okay, let me put it this way... I know you had valid reasons for that. I can totally understand you. But I want to know what is the valid reason you have for what happened at the function, Jake...” I said, looking at his eyes.

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 87 - Tips

I think he has fair and valid reasons to hide the details of his family from me for all this time. But I need to know what are the reasons he had to hide that his dad proposed him to another girl. I wanted to know what are the reasons he had to kiss another girl like that.

He knew it for some time, maybe for a long time, who knows. He didn't even show any hint of it either.

"It is so close to the presidential election now. So the problems, especially the threats we have, got serious day by day. My dad has a clear win in this election. So the opposition party knows that they can't fight with dad fairly and ethically. Therefore, they are willing to do any evil thing to defeat dad. They even planted a bomb in dad's personal secretary's car. Fortunately, he had to get down from the car to buy a gift for his kid. His car exploded out in front of that shop with his driver inside it." he said.

I remembered that incident. It was all over the news in those days.

"Uncle Ronald is supporting the opposition party, that is the main concern dad is having because he knows everything about dad and our family. However, things got much worse after Aunt Liz's funeral. She was the one who always stood between dad and uncle Ronald. After her death, uncle Ronald lost the last bit of humanity he had within himself. So dad needed some strong support and protection. The current president is from a very strong political background. His family is like the most powerful family in the country. No one really dares to go against them. He was already supporting dad, but dad needed something more than his support. He thought beginning a relationship with the current president's family would give him the strong ground he required..."

"What? That is ridiculous! This is the 21st century, Jake! It was when the kings were ruling the countries, they did things like this to extend their power. How the hell your dad takes decisions like we are still in that era?" "without letting him continue what he was telling, I yelled.

I was furious! How his dad could take such a decision regarding Jake's future for the sake of becoming the president. Doesn't he value his son's emotions and his preferences? Gaining power is much more important than his own son's life!

"Please, don't get him wrong, Sarah..." he said in a broken voice.

“What is there to get wrong, Jake... Don't you think your dad should value your feelings and your preferences over gaining power? I don't really know what kind of a president he is going to be if he treats his own son this way...” I said.

“I totally understand what you are saying, Sarah... It is reasonable and fair for you to think like that because you don't know much about my dad...”

“Who is to blame for that, Jake? I didn't even know he is your father until the day before yesterday, so was there a way for me to know him better?” I asked angrily...

I know that I just said I accept he had valid reasons to hide his family from me, but it made me furious even to think that Jake also accept what his dad did was right...

“I know, Sarah... If there is anyone to be blamed, that is me... It is my fault that you don't understand my dad...” he said, sadly looking at my face.

I didn't say anything. Though I wanted to blame him more, the look in his eyes made me shut my mouth.

“As I said, he came to politics not to gain wealth or power, Sarah... He already had both... He truly wanted to develop this country and make a positive change in people's lives... I know you don't follow politics much, but this time the presidential election is crucial for our country. Because of the recent discovery of oil in parts of our country, the whole world is currently looking at us. This is going to be the opportunity our country was looking for all these years. If we manage this properly, we can easily become one of the most developed countries in the world. But if we are unable to manage this, we could even lose what we currently have...”

“The candidate from the opposition is not capable of managing this situation at all... He is such a corrupted politician though people not much aware of that... So dad really wants to win this time for the sake of our country. I too strongly believe he is the one who capable of that... On the other hand, if dad loses in any case, our family also becomes unsafe than ever before...”

When he continues explaining, it made me realize that there is this big picture I was not aware of... Though he explained it simply, the real situation must be really tough and complicated...

“The opposition now even tries to dig up Lilly’s accident and attach dad’s name to it... With all these troubles winning this election is getting harder and much needed... That’s why dad thought he wanted strong support... But he never forced me to do anything, Sarah... He is not that type of a man...” he said.

“So you willingly agreed to sacrifice our love for the betterment of your family and the country... So now I should just wish you good luck with your new love and go away from you, is that what am I suppose to do, Jake?” I cried...

I know I am being ridiculous and childish... But what can I do? How can I even think that he agreed to marry another girl with his own will... Can you imagine how much it hurts? I always experienced how people chose better options over me in my whole life, I am used to it... But not with Jake... The way he loves me and cares about me has taken me to a totally different world where I believed that he will never leave me for anything...

“Princess... Please, I beg you to listen to me first before imagining anything...” he said lightly, holding my hand and placing a kiss...

I pulled my hand away from him, looking at him with tear full eyes...

“Can you remember, how I had to go to my parent’s house all of sudden after we got released from all our punishments... I was planning to celebrate our victory with you when my mom called me... She just said dad needs me urgently for some of his work... But when I got there, my dad was hospitalized with a heart attack... He was even unconscious... Can you imagine how much I got worried about him... Mom and I spent the night in the hospital, during that time only she revealed to me about dad’s idea of proposing me to Marina... She said dad had this idea for some time now, and they have discussed it with the current president as well...”

“You know how much I got furious after hearing that? I scolded my mom for the first time in my life... I even asked her, if they think that they can do anything with my life because they gave birth to me? First, she listened to everything I said without saying anything... Then she explained to me that they never want to force me for anything... She said it is totally up to me if want to marry Marina or not... As dad and the current president have proposed, they just want to announce I am going to marry Marina soon, and it will create a relationship between our families... They just want me and Marina to pretend like we are lovers... “

What? Just to pretend like they are lovers!!!

“But the current president said that the engagement will be held pretty soon...” I said, recalling the function...

“Yeah... The engagement will be held soon, but it will be just a function, nothing legal would happen...” he said assuringly.

“So you agreed...” I said involuntarily...

He was looking at me for a few seconds...

“I know I shouldn’t agree to even for that, please forgive me... But at that time, I had no option... My parents were so vulnerable, and that was the first time they asked me any favor related to dad’s political carrier... Most especially with dad’s illness, I didn’t want to go against him... Since this is just a drama, I thought there is no harm doing it...”

“What about that girl, Jake... Did She agree to something like this?” I asked jealously... She is indeed heavenly beautiful, but so is Jake... I don’t think there would be any girl who will reject a guy like him... So what if she expects something more than just pretending...

“Who Marina... She is totally ok with this, Sarah... She is a different girl...” he said.

“I don’t know anything about her either, Jake... I heard about that good friend of your childhood only at the function...” I said...

Jake smiled weakly, looking at me... It was like he knew that I am feeling envious right now...

” She is not a good friend of mine, Sarah... I just know her... We had barely spoken with each other... Believe me, there were no good female friends in my whole life other than you...” he said, making me ashamed of my self for acting so immature...

“I went to meet her the next day... First of all, I said to her about you, and I said to her that I can’t even think of any girl other than you...” he said, looking at my eyes...

“What you said to her about me!!!” I screamed with surprise...

“Of course, Princess... I told her... Do you think I will ever cheat on you? I didn’t even want any mistake to happen, that’s why I told her everything... I told her that I would never agree to even pretend something like this if my dad was not in such a status...”

“She understood me very well, Sarah... Anyway, she is not willing to get married at all... She just wants to spend her life freely without any commitment. So it was such a relief for her too because she didn’t have to worry about this drama one day turning to a real one...”

I felt like I wanted to dig a pit and bury my self... I was ashamed of my self to that degree... How the hell, even for a second, I thought my Jake cheated on me...

He always asked me to trust him no matter what happened... From the very first day of our relationship, that is the only thing, he asked me... But what did I do? The first time I got something to suspect him, I completely lost my trust in him... Though I thought he doesn’t love me much, it seems like it is me who doesn’t love him much... Otherwise, how could I think about him like that?

I am not even worthy enough to be loved by someone like him...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 88 - Tips

I was balmng my self for acting so stupid and childish. I should have trusted him way more than this.

“Sarah...” with his voice, I came back to presence.

He was looking at my face with a worried look on his eyes.

“I know you are pissed off at me, and you can’t still forgive me, I totally get it. I should have told you everything before you get to know them in a hurtful way like that,” he said sadly.

Yes, you should have told me, Jake, much earlier...I am pissed off, that is also true. But I am pissed off at myself more than with you.

“I wanted to tell you everything after I decided to go with this fake proposal thing. I even called you to tell you everything. Can you remember one day I called you at midnight?” he asked.

Yes, I remember that. He called me when I was sleeping. I was anyway expecting him to call me just to hear his voice. I was missing him so much. So when he called, I was so happy. He even said to me that he has to tell me something, but then he said he will tell me after he meets me. At that time, I didn't think about it much because for me hearing his voice was enough.

“I didn't know how to start explaining you everything, Sarah...” he began speaking since I was silent.

“Since you didn't know anything about my family, I had to tell you about them before telling you about that proposal thing. I didn't know how to start or where to start. I was afraid of how you will react when I tell you. I was far away from you, so I couldn't even comfort you if you get upset. So I thought I should tell you everything when I meet you in person. I thought I should reveal all the truth to you when I can hold your hand and cuddle you to my chest...” he said.

“Didn't you think if I got to know about this somehow, how I would feel?” I asked.

“I don't want to lie, Sarah... That never even came to my mind. I never thought you will find out about anything before I tell you. ” he said worriedly.

I chuckled.

“Because I am a poor girl from a low-class family, you thought I have no way of finding what is going on in the most powerful family in the country. ” I said.

“Don't say like that, princess...” he said sadly.

“I know you didn't mean it in the exact words, Jake. But both of us know, that's what you basically felt.” I said.

He released a long sigh...

“It was the most stupid decision I have ever taken in my life, Sarah...I was planning to come here in the morning after the party. So I thought I should ask you to meet me and tell you everything that day itself.”

“Then why didn’t you come, Jake? You took two days to come here. Even if you walk from there, you could have reached much earlier.” I said.

“After you left the hotel with Andrew, I was feeling like I was going crazy. I couldn’t even process what has happened. I tried to reach you a lot, but you didn’t answer. However, in the meantime, dad asked me to take him inside. When I took him to the hotel room, he got collapsed! I was so panicked. He was not fully recovered when he comes to the party. Doctors even asked me to cancel the party. But he insisted he should have the party. We had to take him to the hospital as soon as we could. “

God!!! My eyes widened with surprise...

“Doctors took my dad to the ICU. My mom was so shocked. She was also not in a position to handle things alone. So I had no way of leaving them. Even at the hospital, I tried to reach you a lot. I didn’t know what I should do, Sarah... I was totally out of my mind. Doctors said they need to keep dad unconscious for some time to give him complete rest. Mom was crying, and she was not even drinking anything. I knew you were so heartbroken and miserable. I didn’t even know where are you or if you are safe. Can you imagine my status of mind at that time, Sarah... I talked with doctors and other people. I tried my best to comfort my mom. But deep inside me, I was bleeding... “

“When you don’t answer my calls even the next day, I called Andrew. But he refused to tell me anything about you... I begged him, Sarah... I begged him with all I have, asking him to tell me at least you are safe. But he just laughed at me... One time, I thought you are leaving me forever... Then I got frightened, thinking what if something has happened to you. What if Andrew did something to you... I still don’t know how I didn’t go totally mad. I called Luke and told him everything. He was at home, resting, I didn’t want to bother him at all... But I didn’t know what else to do, Sarah”

“Luke volunteered to come here and take care of you until I can leave my parents. I knew I shouldn’t let him, but it was such a relief... He called me and informed that you are safe and at home... That was like the most comforting news I ever got in my life. But he also said to me that you refused to listen to anything he said. So right after my dad got conscious and he was transferred from the ICU, I left.” he said.

“What? So your dad still in the hospital? What about your mom? God! You shouldn’t have left them like that...” I yelled.

“He is still in the hospital, but he is getting better. Mom also seemed fine because of that. So I told them I have an urgent matter to attend and here I am... But I have to go back soon... I can’t leave them alone for a long time...” he said.

“God! Why Luke didn’t tell me your dad is in ICU? If I knew I will never let you come here like this, Jake... I feel horrible for making you visit me in a situation like this.” I said.

“I asked Luke not to tell anything... I didn’t want to provide you more excuses... Don’t feel bad about yourself, Sarah... If there is someone to be felt horrible, that should be me... Actually, I have no words to explain how much I feel bad about my self, especially because of that k!ss...” he said, looking down.

K!ss... I totally forgot about it. I closed my eyes tightly because I felt like I was again observing how their !!ps connected together... How he held her in his arms and how their faces were glowing...

“I could listen to the proposal... I could observe how you two danced together... I could endure how perfectly you two match... But when you k!ss her... That was my breakpoint...”I said.

He raised his head and looked at me with tear-filled eyes...

“I know my beautiful princess... I know how you felt... But if you can please, believe me, k!ssing another girl hurt my heart than it has ever got hurt... I am willing to k!ss the ground you are standing on, rather than k!ssing someone else...” he said.

“Then why you did that, Jake...”

“It was a suggestion from the current president. He said if we k!ss that would make the whole thing much more realistic. Both I and Marina strongly objected to that. We said we can’t have any physical contact. But he said if we want everyone to believe us, we need something drastic like that. Finally, we agreed. Even when I was kissing her, from my whole heart, I was thinking about you... “

“Don’t tell me you didn’t enjoy it. She is divinely beautiful, and you are also a guy after all... You two were glowing with happiness. I didn’t see any regret on your face, Jake...” jealousy overtook my sense of intelligence.

He stared at my face a few seconds...

“She may be beautiful, Sarah... But I don’t give a sh!t about that. For me, you are the most beautiful girl... I have seen many beautiful girls in my life, Sarah... Some of them were literally throwing themselves at me. But I have never felt any specialty towards any girl other than you... Indeed I am also having needs like any other guy... I don’t want to just kiss lips, I want so much more... I want to kiss every inch of her body, making her moan my name... I want to touch her in a way that she will crave for my touch in every second of her life... But I don’t want them from any other girl, Sarah... I want all those things from you... Only from you... If you don’t want to give them to me, I prefer to stay away from all the girls rather than even trying to touch any other girl...” he said, looking right into my eyes. His voice was so firm, and he clearly meant every word he said.

His words along with his piercing look made me shiver...

Without even knowing, I was replaying that night at this same house with him...

“Sarah...” with his voice, I panicked looked at him.

“I have told you everything now... There are no more secrets... Please tell me, if there is a chance you will consider forgiving me for everything I did.” he asked in a pleading voice.

What can I say? I know he should not hide anything from me, but that doesn’t mean he doesn’t love me... He loves me... Even more, than I can imagine...

If you can’t forgive a person you love, then what is the purpose of your love...

“Jake... You know how miserable my life was... There was not even a single day I didn’t cry. But after you entered my life, everything got changed... You brought love and happiness to my life... Because of you, everything around me changed for my good... I was afraid that I will lose you, that’s what made me even angrier...I have no life without you, Jake... You are my everything... I can forgive you, and I am forgiving you..." I said, looking at his eyes.

"Princess..." in an eye blink he was on his knees in front of me.

Without even knowing, that made me stood up from where I was sitting.

His eyes were again filled with tears... But his face was glowing...

"I have to make a request, princess..." he said, looking at me and treating me with his signature smile...

A Girl Nobody Wanted Chapter 89 - Tips

He was kneeling down in front of me, looking at me with his beaming eyes.

God! He looks so handsome!!! The exhaustion, sadness that was dominating on his face was now nowhere to be found... It is so remarkable how one word from me changed his mood this quickly.

"I don't want to just kiss lips, I want so much more... I want to kiss every inch of her body, making her moan my name... I want to touch her in a way that she will crave for my touch in every second of her life... But I don't want them from any other girl, Sarah... I want all those things from you... Only from you..."

His words were echoing in my mind, sending an unknown shiver down my spine.

I can't even believe that a guy as handsome as he loves me this much...

"I have to make a request, princess..." he said, dragging me away from my thoughts...

A request... What is it? I couldn't even think, but it made my heart beat faster... I think even he could hear it...

"I will have an engagement with Marina, though it is just a pretending... Since I decided that I should make you mine, I dreamt of getting engaged to you, not to anyone else... So the day I had to agree for this fake engagement thing, I decide this. " he said, looking at my eyes.

It was even difficult for me to breathe with excitement. God! What is he going to request?

“That day itself, I ordered this...” he said, putting his hand to his trouser pocket.

“Before I am getting fake engaged to anyone else, I want to get my real engagement with you,” he said, opening a small jewelry box.

Oh! My God!!!!Oh! My God!!!!Oh! My God!!!!

“I know I am not perfect. You may go through a lot of trouble because of me. There may be times I am unable to be with you and comfort you. But I can promise you this... It was you, it is you, and it will always be you... I love you with all I have, and there is no limit or conditions to that. I will do everything and more to keep you safe and happy. Will you marry me, Princess? ” opening that jewel box and showing me the ring inside, he asked.

My heart stopped... I was not even breathing... This must be a dream... Yes... This must be a dream...

I pinched my self to make sure... No, this is not a dream... He is still there, kneeling down in front of me, bearing a ring and asking me to MARRY HIM!!!!

I have imagined a thousand times in my thoughts about the moment he proposes to me, and what my response should be. But when it really happens, I lost my ability to speak even...

Tears started rolling down my eyes...

“I know, this is not the fairy tale engagement you wanted... But I want to do this... I want to bind myself to you... Then no matter how many fake engagements I have to go through, I will be always bound to you... Please, my beautiful princess... Tell me you want to marry me one day when all these stupid dramas are over.” he said in a pleading voice...

“Who told you I want a fairy tale engagement, i***t? I have only one requirement related to my engagement. You know what it is, Jake?” I asked.

He looked at me with wide eyes and shook his head slightly.

“My only requirement is my engagement should be with you not with anyone else...” I said.

The relief and excitement in his shining eyes grew even further.

“Yes... Jacob McMiller, I will marry you...” I said. God! I really said that...

His whole face was glowing... Have I ever seen him this happier?

He took my hand in his and gently put the ring... Then he placed a kiss on my hand...

“I love you... I love you... I love you... I love you so damn much, my princess...” he whispered, still holding my hand to his face...

Then he got up and stood in front of me...

“I don’t have a ring for you...” I murmured.

He chuckled. Then he took another small box from his pocket and opened it.

“I knew you won’t be carrying a ring for me...” he said, smiling.

I took the ring out of the box and put it on his finger...

“I love you so damn much too, Jake... You are my everything... Take your time and solve all the problems you have. I will be patient and trust you, I promise...” I said.

He took both of my hands in his and started rubbing my finger, he just put the ring on...

“Yes, Sarah... I need some more time... We are getting so close to the election. I hope everything will be fine after that... I don’t really know how much more troubles we may have to go through before that. They are ready to do anything to defeat my dad... So I may have to do things to protect him... Your understanding and trust are crucial to me... But I promise I will make up to you for all of these things one day....” he said softly.

“All the good things happen with patience, Jake... Let’s wait and see...” I said confidently.

“Yes... But I can't be patient to finish one thing that I started... ” he said, smiling playfully. Then he put his arms around my waist and pulled me towards him.

“My beautiful princess, are you ready to finish what we started that night in this very house?” he whispered...

My face must be looked like a ripened tomato, there is no doubt...

“Now we are engaged... So we have surely bound to each other... But I want to make you mine in every way that is possible... As I said, I need a lot of things from my fiancée... Will you give them to me, princess...” he had his lips so closed to mine, and I could even feel his warm breath on my face...

“What if I say I can't?” I asked playfully...

“You can't...” he seemed so surprised.

“If I tell you I want to wait till we get married...” I said.

“It will drive me crazy, but I will respect your decision, my love... Everything that happens between us must be comfortable to both of us,” he said. He sounds serious... I was just making fun, but it seems like he took it seriously. When I see the look in his face, I got an evil sensation of making fun out of him a little more...

“What if I say I can't, even after we are married...” I asked playfully.

He gave me a surprising look. I think he understood that I was just making fun.

“Really... If you say so, you know what I will do?” he asked.

“What?”

“I will push you to the bed and tie you down... Then I will remove all the clothes that cover you from my eyes... I will kiss and feel every inch of your perfect body until you beg me to make love... But I won't listen... You will moan and beg with all you have... I will not give you what you want until I finish exploring all of your divine beauty....” he said so seductively...

My body started trembling!!!

God! Stop imagine that, you i***t!!!

“So Princess... The decision is yours... Do you want it that way or you prefer it this way...” he asked, removing the first b.utton of my blouse... His eyes were locked on mine...

I couldn't resist his seductive voice or touch anymore... He is driving me crazy... My whole body was yearning...

I locked my l!ps on his...

“Good choice, princess...” he said, breaking the k!ss...

Then he attached his l!ps to mine more intensively. We were both k!ssing like it is the end of the world...

He was rubbing my back with one of his hands while his other hand was squeezing me to him. His hand went down on my back... He cupped me through my jeans...

Then he suddenly lifted me up, I fixed my legs around his wa!st...

Without breaking the k!ss, he started walking towards the bedroom, carrying me...

He gently put me on the bed. Then he kneeled on the bed, putting his legs either side of my body...

He kept staring at me for a few seconds... Then he started unb.uttoning his shirt...

I stopped him and started unb.uttoning his shirt by myself... My fingers were shaking, so he had to help me from time to time...

Then he completely removed his shirt and throw it away.

Pressing his bare c.hest to mine, he started k!ssing my l!ps once again... But this time he was not ready to stop from my l!ps... He started going down... His l!ps were tracing down my neck... God! This is so wonderful...

While he was still k!ssing and s.ucking on my neck, leaving sure hickeys on my flesh, he started unb.uttoning the rest of my blouse...

Didn't he says he has to go to his parents soon... But now I don't think he is in a hurry at all... He is taking his time, exploring me...

He removed his l!ps from me and stared at me...

Then he tried to remove the blouse and I helped him...

I was not even wearing a good b.ra... I had to get ready in a hurry, so I didn't have time to think of those. Anyway, I came to look after my sick friend not to get engaged to my boyfriend and have se.x...

But I don't think he gave a sh*t about what I was wearing. He just wants to remove them all...

His l!ps were exploring my shoulders and c.hest... His hands were cupping my b.reasts over the b.ra...

If you believe me or not, I have never watched any adult movies. Other than the few intense scenes in the normal movies I have watched, all the experience I have about making love is from books.

I have read how deliciously they explain about making love... I knew it would feel good... But I have never thought it would be this amazing, and we have not even reach actual lovemaking yet...

His l!ps... Those are indeed God-given gifts... He can make me out of this world with those l!ps...

He gently k!ssed each of my b.reasts over the b.ra, and then putting his hand down my body, he unclasped my b.ra...

For the first time in my life, I am going to get n.aked in front of a guy... I am so happy and relieved because that guy is none other than my loving Jake...

Andrew Patterson's POV

I tried to reach my angel a lot after dropping her home... But I couldn't... Her phone was switched off...

In the afternoon, I got a message from her... That was a relief... I didn't try to disturb her after that. She needs rest after everything that happened.

In the evening, I got the message that Jake is here... He is staying in Luke's house. I didn't think he will come at all because uncle Victor is again in the hospital. After all, Jake is not ready to give up either. That is understandable. Who is willing to give up on a girl like her...

I knew he will do something to make her meet him.

That's why I stayed near her house, observing her moves.

In the evening, she came out of the house in a hurry. I followed her. As I predicted she went inside Luke's house.

Luke is not at home. That means my angel is alone with that rascal...

I was waiting and waiting...

She was inside that house for a long time now... What is really happening there...

Could he talks to her and wins her back... No, that is not possible... Her heart was fully broken...

Then why she stays there this long... Is he doing something to my angel...

Is he forcing himself on my angel when she rejected him and his lies...

What should I do? Should I go inside and see... I can't let anything happen to my angel...

"Princess..." I woke up with someone, k!ssing my face...

I slowly opened my eyes to see my Jake hovering over me, k!ssing my face...

With the sweetest touch of his l!ps, I recalled everything that happened last night... How we two explored an unknown territory of our love... How we were connected to each other mentally and physically...How we shared things that none us have ever shared with anyone else...

Raising my hand, I gently touched his face.

“Good morning....” when he felt that I was awake, he said kissing my lips smoothly...

How many times did he kiss my lips last night... Why do I crave it more and more now... God! His touch is so addictive... I don't think any drug in this world can be that addictive...

He lifted his face from mine and stared at me...

“God! Sarah... You don't know how beautiful you look right now... I could just eat you...” he said, chuckling and pinching both of my cheeks.

“I want nothing but waking up every morning to see this beautiful princess...” he then whispered seductively...

“I too want nothing but waking up every morning and feel your warm lips on me, Jake...” I replied in the same tone... Earlier, most of the time, I felt shy to say something like that to him directly... But since last night, I don't think I will feel shy in front of him at all... We have passed that line now... He has seen and explored me both mentally and physically...

Then he slowly removed the sheet that was covering both of our bodies...

He was totally naked! So was I!

His eyes roamed all over my body...

Then he lied down beside me and made me turned to him...

His fingers started caressing my face gently... Then they moved to my breasts...

Putting one of his legs over me, he pulled me even closer and started kissing my lips again... His fingers were still caressing my breasts... No matter how much dearly my breasts got treated last night, they are still responding so promptly and happily to his touch...

“I have a little time left before I leave... Would you like to go for another round, princess...” breaking the kiss, he whispered...

Another round! How many rounds we had last night, Jake...

“Don’t you feel enough, Jake... I think we had too many rounds as the first-timers... I am even feeling sore down there... ” I said, chuckling...

His face changed a bit...

“I will never ever feel enough of this, Sarah... The more you give, the more I crave for... I asked you, princess, before each and every round, if you are okay to go... I didn’t want to hurt you...No matter how much I want to have you, you know I think about your comfort and your preference more than anything...” he said, gloomily...

His eyes looked hurt... He took it seriously...

“Hey, babe...” I caressed his face gently...

“I was just joking, why did you get it serious... Even I don’t feel enough about having this wonderful adventure with you...” I said, rubbing his bare chest and letting my hand go further down...

“You said you are feeling sore... I don’t want to hurt you... ” he said, removing my hand.

“But I didn’t say I don’t want to do it...” I said, putting one of my legs over his body...

“Then what about...” he was trying to say...

I kept my finger on his lips and made him silent...

“We are wasting the little time we have...” I whispered...

He smiled... That signature smile which always makes my heart beat faster...

The next second, he was on top of me and kissing me like this the end of the world...

After another heated yet romantic few minutes, we both went to the bathroom together...

He applied body wash all over my body and rubbed gently... He was acting like he has all the time in the world... Taking his time with my body...

“Jake... You are going to be late...” though I wanted him to continue this to the eternity, I told him. I can’t act that irresponsible after all. His dad is still in the hospital...

He looked at me sadly...

“I know, Princess... But I want to remember every inch of you... I don’t know when we will be able to get a time like this again...” he said...

He is right... Though we had such an amazing time together, we have a lot of challenges in our lives... We have to go back to our lives filled with troubles...

We may not be able to have a wonderful time like this for a long time...

I felt like my heart was crushing with sadness...

I hugged him tightly... He also put his hands around me and hugged me back...

Letting water runs down our naked bodies, we spent some quiet time under the shower... Though we didn’t utter even a word, I am sure that both of us had a lot of things going on in our minds...

After that, we came back to the room and got dressed...

When I combed my hair and turned around, Jake was staring at the bed...

I followed his eyes to see the red patch on the white sheets... I felt a shiver ran down my spine...

That is my pureness... All the wealth I had as a girl to give him...

Then his eyes shifted to me...

Those eyes were filled with tears... His whole face has turned red...

“There are no words to explain how much I love you, my princess... You have trusted me to give me everything you had...” he said emotionally. His eyes moved to the red patch on the sheets once again...

“Now you are not just my girlfriend... We are engaged... You are mine from all the possible ways... I promise to protect you and keep you happy until my last breath...” he cuddled me to his chest and said...

Without saying anything, I let myself embrace his warmth...

When girls talked about how amazing it is to have se.x and how free they feel after losing their v!rginity, I always wanted to serve myself for the right person...

I felt so happy and relieved because I found that right person... Who deserves to receive everything I saved for him...

After a few minutes, we both went downstairs...

“Good morning, love birds...” I was startled with a familiar voice came from the living room.

“What the hell you are doing here?” Jake asked in a surprised voice from smiling Luke, who was standing in front of us...

I also got really shocked and embarrassed at the same time... Was he here the whole night? What if he heard us... I am sure we were quite noisy last night...

“See, Sarah... How selfish is this man? After taking all the support from me, now he is asking what am I doing in my own house...” Luke said with a fit of fake anger...

“I just asked because you said you are spending the night at your cousin’s house...” Jake said, smiling.

“If I spent the night relaxing at my cousin’s house, you two won’t have such a wonderful night after all...” Luke replied, winking at me...

“What you mean?” Jake asked.

“I will tell you, but before that tell me you did it...” Luke said.

“Did what?” I asked, turning red...

“I know you did something else too, sweetheart... But I am asking about this engagement thing...” Luke said, laughing...

God! What an embarrassment... Why you couldn't keep your stupid fu**ing mouth shut, Sarah...

"Yeah... Yeah... We did that..." Jake said, laughing and showing Luke the ring on his finger...

"Finally... My congratulations!!!!" Luke hugged Jake and wished him.

"Congratulations, Sarah... I don't even have words to say how happy I am I." he then hugged me...

I felt sad about Luke... He loves Jake with his life... Now when he knows that Jake got engaged and probably had sex with a girl for the first time, he can still smile with all his heart and wish us...

Can there be more selfless love than this... Without expecting anything in return from Jake, he loves him and does everything for him...

"Now tell us what did you mean earlier..." Jake asked.

"Ah, that..." Luke said... His face turned to a serious mood.

"Yesterday night, I felt like I should come to this area and checked a bit... I don't really know why I felt like that... But now I am so glad I follow my instincts..."

What is he trying to say?

"I saw Andrew's car was parked near the house..." he said.

"What? Andrew's car?" Jake asked panicked.

What the hell Mr. Patterson was doing here...

"Andrew was right in front of the gate... I stopped the car in front of the gate and talked to him... I asked him what is he doing here... You don't know how much panicked he got after seeing me... I think he couldn't find any reason to give me... He just said that he heard I came back, and he wanted to meet me... I could understand he was just lying..."

"Then why he really came here?" I asked.

"I think he followed you here..." Luke said.

“What? Followed me, but why?”

“Because he loves you, and he doesn’t want you anywhere near Jake...” Luke said in an indifferent voice.

“He loves me, that’s impossible...” I said, looking at Jake for his opinion...

“Luke is right, Sarah... Everything he does not just because he hates me. He does them because he loves you, and he knows that taking you away from me is the best way to get revenge from me... He wants to k!!! two birds with one stone...” Jake said...

Getting revenge from Jake, that I can understand, but I couldn’t even believe he has feelings for me...

“How are you so sure...” I asked.

“Sarah, I am a guy too... I can sense it from the way he looks at you... I felt this strongly on that night at the party....” Jake said.

“So what happened after that?” Jake then asked Luke...

“He said he wanted to talk to me, so I asked him to go for dinner with me...” Luke replied, laughing.

“Dinner?” Jake asked...

“Yes, I can’t invite him to my house because I have rent it out for two love birds, no? So I invited him for dinner, without disturbing you both...” Luke said, laughing...

“So he agreed?” Jake asked...

“Do you think he agreed that easily?” Luke asked...

“Then...” both I and Jake asked at the same time...
