

Chapter 8 I want to leave with my baby

Inside the emergency room.

The doctor spoke, "Next, we will first give you an abortion and then take out your heart. The anesthetic will make you lose all consciousness, you..."

The doctor paused but still finished his sentence, "You will not feel anything."

Elena Forbes raised her eyes, and made a request, "Can you not abort my baby?"

The doctor froze.

"I want to leave with my baby." Not being able to give him life was her biggest regret.

It's just that she doesn't want her child to feel lonely on the way to leaving the world.

The doctor sighed softly and understood what Elena Forbes meant.

Finally, there was a nod.

Elena was lying on the operating table and was pushed beside Alston Rivers.

The man's eyes were closed and seemed to be sleeping.

Elena stretched out her hand as if to touch him for one last time.

She loved him for twenty years.

She knows all his preferences, all his habits.
She thought that he would definitely see how good she was if she had enough time.

She just didn't think she couldn't wait to see that day.

It is the last thing she could do for him.

With the anesthetic flowing into her bloodstream through the syringe, everything in front of her began to blur, and Alston Rivers' face became inauthentic.

Thirteen hours.

The lights in the operating room finally went out.

Alston Rivers slowly opened his eyes.

He was confused and saw a puddle of red blood on his side.

The doctor said, looking at the clock on the wall, "Time of death, 21:52."

Then, he was pushed out of the ward.

Outside the ward, Elizabeth waited anxiously for him.

Seeing Elizabeth Taylor, his heart was empty.

His eyes, still searching for the others.

But the woman didn't come...

He was so sick, but didn't she know?
"Alston, I'm scared to death for you."
Elizabeth's eyes were red on the spot.

Alston Rivers spent a month in the hospital convalescing.

And Elizabeth took care of him in the hospital for a month.

He learned from his doctor that he had acute heart failure and happened to have a dying patient who was willing to donate her heart so he could survive.

He offered to thank the patient's family.

The doctor refused him on the grounds of patient privacy.

He had no choice but to stop.

Elizabeth Taylor said, "Everyone has their own difficulties, and since she wanted to do good deeds without leaving a name, we should respect her."

"Hmm."

One month later.

He was discharged from the hospital.

His parents, who had been living abroad,
came back.

When she saw Alston Rivers, Caroline Collin could only cry.

"Alston, I'm sorry, I'm sorry, mommy is late..."

Since the loss of her husband, Caroline had not been in good health and had been living abroad.

Not wanting to worry his mother, Alston Rivers always hid his troubles from her.

This time, someone told her about his condition, so she came back, full of sorrow.

Caroline just cried and didn't ask or say anything.

In order to make his mother feel better, he intended to ask Elena Forbes to come out and have dinner with her mother.

But he couldn't get in touch with her.

Even her position at the company was resigned a month ago.
