

Quadruplet Alphas And Their Lost Ice Princess Chapter 93 - Tips

Natala (Emerald) POV:

My head was pounding, I was awake, but I couldn't get my eyes to open. As much as I tried, it felt like I had rocks on them, keeping my eyelids shut, plus the headache wasn't helping the case one bit. I could hear whispers above my head, but I couldn't make out who was who. All I remembered was intense pain, sparks and then being marked. The thought of that psychotic uncle of mine marking me hit me, making my eyes jolt open as my body jerked forward, someone held my shoulders trying to push me down, but I wasn't having it. Trisha and my Lycan were awake and on full alert at the possible threat. My Lycan pushed her aura forward as I punched whoever was holding me in the face, the audibly crunch of bones cracking could be heard, but before I could make a run for it, a pair of strong arms encircled me keeping me in place, sparks rushed over our bare skin as the exotic scent had me calming down.

"Luna calm down you're safe." I heard

Looking up I saw Ezekiel looking down at me with a small smile with so much love in his eyes it could melt the coldest of hearts. Looking around I saw my other three mates right behind him, concern and love both shining bright in their eyes. Not caring who else was there I crashed my lips against Ezekiel as tears ran down my face as I took in all three of my mates' scents. Azrael, Sam, and Zeke gathered around me, rubbing my back or my shoulders as I made out with Ezekiel as if it were the last time. When we parted, he pecked my lips and forehead. Turning around, I kissed each of my mates, savoring their taste and smell that I had longed for so many days. I kept touching them to make sure this was real, that it wasn't Edward and one of his sick tricks again. Not once did my tears stop, my mates had even stopped trying to make me stop the tears and just let me take it all out. I needed too I was strong for them, for our relationships, our pups. The thought of our pups had me jolt away from Sam, making him pout and raise his eyebrows. Before I could tell them the good news of them becoming fathers, someone spoke up.

"I know you missed them little wolf, but we helped in saving you too! Plus, I think Josiah might need jaw reconstruction with the punch you packed him." Lucas said.

My head wh!pped in their direction. Everyone was there, the triplets, twins, mommy, daddy, da, my adopted parents and even aunt Michelle. I jumped out of bed and right into mommy's arm. Our tears wetted each other's shoulders as we clung to one another like our life depended on it. When we finally pulled back, I jumped into to mom's arms. It didn't matter that I had my biological mother. Mom was the one who raised and provided for me when they had the bare minimum and loved me more than anyone in the world and for that they would always be my parents. I went around hugging everyone, listening to them scold me how I was stupid for doing what I did but at the same time treating me if I was an injured child. Tears, kisses, and smiles were passed between us all. I was apparently even grounded by Da and Daddy, which I didn't get how that was possible since they don't live here with me, and I was the Luna, but I let them have their dad's moment. As I nodded along and tried my best to stifle my laughter when they tried to be intimidating. I had missed them all so much, each and everyone. The fear of never seeing them again, burned me every day. The lingering thought that what if Edward succeeded in his plans when I was held captive, what would have happened. As much as I wanted to ask where the psychopath was, I didn't want to bring it up. I knew mentioning his name would probably kill the happy mood that was going on. Everyone had dark circle under their eyes, fatigue, I could swear that they even lost a bit of weight.

"I get you're a hybrid and strong as sh!t but you can't go breaking my jaw, Nutella. I have a date tomorrow and with your hybrid supernatural crap the bruise will last at least a day." Said Josiah as he flicked my nose when I hugged him.

I scowled and rubbed my nose. Crossing my arms over my chest, I gave him a smug smile.

"Well looks like you'll just have to deal with it. Maybe you can tell your date how your innocent, loving and amazing baby sister taught you how to pack a punch." I said.

Everyone chuckled! While Josiah huffed and rolled his eyes

"Looks like the little wolf can challenge you and Isaiah for the position of supreme alpha." Said Tristan,

"Oh yeah totally. Just give me like a few days and I'll be whooping their butts." I said, chuckling.

Everyone laughed! While Isaiah and Josiah awkwardly chuckled. There was no doubt I was stronger than them, having both supreme blood and royal blood and on top of that a hybrid. At times I even believed that I may even be stronger than the triplets. But I didn't care about all that. One, female wolves couldn't ascend to alphas, they would have to marry, and their mate would take the alpha position. But honestly, as much as a feminist I was and all about equal rights, I honestly didn't care for the power. It was nice having the power I possessed but I had first-hand witnessed the terror it could come with. I was happy with being me, the Luna of Dark Storm pack, princess of the werewolf kingdom and the mate to my quadruplet alphas. Unconsciously my eyes found my mates, in the corner by the bed, looking at me with all the love in the world as they let my family smother me. I wanted to tell everyone I was pregnant, but I wanted to tell my alphas first and as much as the love shone in their eyes, you could also see the hunger. The hunger to ravage me. Their smirks promising cranial pleasure which had me pulsing down there. Not wanting everyone to smell my arousal, I looked away and tuned into the triplets bugging the twins about how I was about to overtake their position.

"Relax you two. As much as it would be fun to kick your b.UTTS. I'll take pity on you both and not fight you. I know you gotta keep the macho up for the ladies!" I said, giggling.

Even though I was giggling my thoughts were somewhere else and the mind links coming in from my mates about how they planned to ravage me all night wasn't helping my case. I had to push them out and put a block up with all the vivid description they were projecting.

"Ahan I'm sure! You just don't want your bum kicked by us, Nutella." Said Isaiah

Before we could go back and forth, mommy's voice cut through.

"I'm sure you all would love to go back and forth but let my princess rest. You can continue this in the morning. I know the quadruplets have been itching to get some alone time with her." Said mommy.

I knew mommy wasn't one for innuendos, but why the hell did it seem that mommy had a completely different meaning to her words and with the smirk she was throwing in my direction, I knew I wasn't wrong for thinking that. Auntie Michelle and mom snickered while my brothers, Daddy, Dad and Da paled at her words before they could get a word out all the ladies grabbed them and hauled them out not before auntie Michelle and mommy left a wink in my direction. Which had my mouth hanging open in shock. Yup! I wasn't going to face my father's or brothers for the rest of my life after whatever just happened. Nope! Nada! However, my shock was short lived, when I felt my hair being brushed to the side as soft warm lips trailed kisses down my neck.

"Alone at last. Now tell us my love, why did you block your alphas out from the mind link." Said Azrael as he continued his sweet assault on my neck, stopping at his mark and nipping it, earning a moan from me.

Before I could reply, my hair was pushed to my back and another pair of soft, wet lips travelled from the base of my neck to my ear.

"Answer your alpha, angel." Said Zeke, sucking on his mark as his hand grabbed onto one of breasts, circling my areole making my nipples hard and poke out.

My panties were wet, I could feel my arousal drip out of them. It had been days and with my hormones all over the place, the craving for sex was mind-blobbing. But my dumbasses of mates were making it so hard. I knew they wanted an answer, but they weren't letting me give them one. The asshats were doing it on purpose.

"Haven't you become a defiant one, little Luna. Well, with the stunt you pulled and got yourself kidnapped and now refusing to answer to your alpha, a punishment is defiantly needed." I heard Ezekiel.

His minty breath fanned my lips, making me close my eyes. I felt his tongues swipe my lips just as I moved forward to kiss them, he moved back and pinched my nipples. Which had me moan instead of calling him out of moving away.

"So eager baby! Do you want your alphas?" I heard Sam whisper from behind me as he cupped my ass cheeks squeezing and landing a hefty slap on one which had me arch my back in pleasure, moaning.

"That wasn't the answer baby! Tell your alpha, do you want us to take care of you?" I heard Sam again as his hand went around my waist and into my panties, cupping my pussy.

"Yes alphas! Please!" I moaned out.

I heard my mates purr from all around me and I was suddenly scooped up. I was expecting them to throw me on the bed and pounce on me, I was fully prepared to tell them to be gentle and cover my stomach, but surprisingly they laid me down like I was made from glass and looked at my stomach. Did they already know? Before I could ask, I left Sam's lips to attack mine in a mind-shattering kiss.

He nipped my lower lip asking for entrance which I happily gave. His tongue ravaged my mouth as my arms wrapped around his neck, my hands sneaking up to his hair, pulling on them, making him groan as I sucked on his tongue. We didn't care our teeth were clattering with one another, or we were sucking each other's mouths all that mattered was the moment. When we finally pulled apart panting, the shirt I was wearing was ripped from the middle, leaving me in my bra and pair of spandex shorts, which not even a second later, was thrown off as well along with my bra and thong. The sting had my pussy leak out even more. Before I knew what was happening, I felt a thick, hot tongue on my labia taking a big lick from bottom to top.

"GODDESS! YES!" I moaned, my breath hitching with every lick.

"Tell us Luna, did you miss your alphas eating that tight little cunt of yours." I heard Ezekiel from my side as he fondled my breast and laid kisses all over my neck as Azrael kissed the other side of my neck, leaving open mouth kisses to my breast and then latching onto my nipple. I couldn't comprehend what was going on. All I could focus on was the incredible pleasure they were giving me. No one could make me feel like this like my alphas did.

Sam sucked my pussy, drinking up all my juices. His tongue circled my opening, he pointed it and dived right into my pussy as his thumb pressed down on my clitoris, roughly circling it. My hands grabbed onto Azrael and Ezekiel's hair, pulling so hard that I thought I'd rip a patch out. Just as I was about to cum, Sam moved away, and I was lifted in the air and not even a second later I was impaled onto his dick.

"OH YES! YES! HEAVEN!" I moaned.

I heard my mate's snicker around me.

"If you're gonna cum, baby, it's going to be on my dick. I'm milk that pussy of yours for all it has." He said as slowly increased his thrusting from below.

Azrael and Ezekiel latched on to my nipples, sucking them for all they had as their hands roamed over my stomach, caressing it.

I was pushed down on Sam's chest, I didn't need to know who it was Zeke's intoxicating scent wafted through my nose, he placed a kiss on my anus, licking it and probing it with his tongue as Sam slowed down his delicious assault on my pussy. I opened my eyes that were closed from the utter bliss to see Azrael and Ezekiel on the side of the bed now stroking their enormous penises in their hands. I licked my lips, wanting nothing more to taste them which had them chuckle.

"All in good time, Luna." Ezekiel said.

Just as I was about to protest, I felt Zeke's tip on my anus, slowly pushing in. I hissed at the slight sting of pain I felt which had Sam under me pound me faster. Zeke's hand snaked around me and rubbed my breasts in rough circles. The sting of my anal walls stretching was long forgotten as I closed my eyes again, giving myself to the feeling of Sam's penis inside me and Zeke's fingers on my breasts. I was stuffed from both top and bottom. The fullness had my vagina pulse in ecstasy, the walls tightening around Sam's penis which had him hiss.

They slowly found their rhythm. Zeke grabbed a handful of my hair, making me arch my back as he pounded me from above as his other hand gripped my waist. While Sam held onto my thighs slamming me down.

"fvck baby! You're perfection!" hissed Sam.

Trisha and my Lycan purred at the compliment from their mate.

"cum for us, angel. cum for your alphas." Purred Zeke in my ear and biting the lobe.

They both pounded into me ruthlessly, alternating between their movements. Just as I was about to reach my peak, I felt their breaths on my neck and the most intoxicating feeling when they remarked me. Making me cream on Sam's dick as I felt their cum spurt in me.

They both slowly pulled out of me, the burn making me hiss, which had them still for a bit and then slowing taking their penises out of me.

“My baby! My forever and always.” Said Sam, kissing me forehead, stroking my cheek.

“You’ll be the only one for me, my angel.” Said Zeke coming and pecking my lips.

I smiled, my eyes fluttering close.

“Not yet Luna. You may not be getting punished tonight. But you still have two of your alphas to state.” I heard Ezekiel say from the side.

My eyes instantly opened, my head whipping in his direction. His eye black as coal, ps at attention, on his side was Azrael with the same black eyes. The sight of their erect ps had my once dried up p.ussy leaking out again. Preparing itself for its alphas. Both my alphas’ noses flared, taking in the scent of my arousal, both growled in appreciation and not even a second later, I was picked up and backed up against Ezekiel’s chest.

Ezekiel’s hand came around and cupped breast as he squeezed them and pinched my nipples, making me throw my head back into his chest in ecstasy. I felt both of their ps at my entrance. My breath hitched, the thought of taking them together was thrilling but the thought it may hurt the pups, swirled in my mind. But before I could say anything, Azrael pushed in making me moan, my claws unintentionally came out, digging into his skin making him hiss in pleasure. Just as I thought Ezekiel would push into my p.ussy as well, I felt his ps tip at my anus and he pushed in, in one swift thrust. The position made me claw down both my alphas in ecstasy. The tip of Azrael’s ps grazing my g-spot while Ezekiel’s thick shaft grazed my anal walls.

Their alternation in their movement with Ezekiel holding me by my thighs from the back keeping me open for his brother while Azrael’s spread my butt cheeks as they bounced me in-between.

“Goddess! Alphas!” I moaned

I was exhausted, spent, but the feeling was of utter bliss. My claws raked down Azrael’s back as they pounded me into oblivion until I saw stars. Just as I was close, I felt Ezekiel fingers on my clit rubbing and pinching it. It was like the last piece of the puzzle; my orgasm came rushing down. I could feel the cum drip out of my sore p.ussy. I felt their ps twitch. Just like their brothers just as they were about to cum, they bit down on their marks, remarking me. I fell limp in their arms, all energy drained as their c.um coated my inside, over filling me.

I felt myself being gently placed on the bed while someone cleaned me and dressed me. My eyes were barely open but before I could fall asleep, I told them the one thing I'd wanted to since I found out.

"You're all going to be daddies." I whispered.

I felt all four my mates k!ss me on my stomach. The last few words I heard before sleep overtook me were.

"We know, Luna. Thank you so much."

"You have made us the happiest men in this universe, my love."

"Thank you, my angel."

"You're our world, baby!"
